

Income Tax Assessment Act 1997

Act No. 38 of 1997 as amended

This compilation was prepared on 2 July 2009
taking into account amendments up to Act No. 62 of 2009

Volume 1 includes: Table of Contents
Sections 1-1 to 36-55

The text of any of those amendments not in force
on that date is appended in the Notes section

The operation of amendments that have been incorporated may be affected by application provisions that are set out in the Notes section

Volume 2 includes: Table of Contents
Sections 40-1 to 55-10

Volume 3 includes: Table of Contents
Sections 58-1 to 122-205

Volume 4 includes: Table of Contents
Sections 124-1 to 152-430

Volume 5 includes: Table of Contents
Sections 164-1 to 220-800

Volume 6 includes: Table of Contents
Sections 230-1 to 410-5

Volume 7 includes: Table of Contents
Sections 700-1 to 727-910

Volume 8 includes: Table of Contents
Sections 768-100 to 995-1

---

Volume 9 includes:      Note 1
                                    Table of Acts
                                    Act Notes
                                    Table of Amendments
                                    Notes 2 – 11
                                    Table A

Prepared by the Office of Legislative Drafting and Publishing, Attorney-General's Department, Canberra

---

Contents

Chapter 1—Introduction and core provisions	1
Part 1-1—Preliminary	1
Division 1—Preliminary	1
1-1 Short title [ see Note 1].....	1
1-2 Commencement.....	1
1-3 Differences in style not to affect meaning.....	1
1-7 Administration of this Act.....	2
Part 1-2—A Guide to this Act	3
Division 2—How to use this Act	3
Subdivision 2-A—How to find your way around	3
2-1 The design.....	3
Subdivision 2-B—How the Act is arranged	4
2-5 The pyramid.....	4
Subdivision 2-C—How to identify defined terms and find the definitions	5
2-10 When defined terms are identified.....	5
2-15 When terms are not identified.....	5
2-20 Identifying the defined term in a definition.....	6
Subdivision 2-D—The numbering system	6
2-25 Purposes.....	6
2-30 Gaps in the numbering.....	7
Subdivision 2-E—Status of Guides and other non-operative material	7
2-35 Non-operative material.....	7
2-40 Guides.....	7
2-45 Other material.....	8
Division 3—What this Act is about	9
3-1 What this Act is about.....	9
3-5 Annual income tax.....	9
3-10 Your other obligations as a taxpayer.....	10
3-15 Your obligations other than as a taxpayer.....	11
Part 1-3—Core provisions	12
Division 4—How to work out the income tax payable on your taxable income	12
4-1 Who must pay income tax.....	12
4-5 Meaning of you .....	12

---

4-10	How to work out how much income tax you must pay.....	12
4-15	How to work out your taxable income.....	14
4-25	Special provisions for working out your basic income tax liability .....	16
Division 6—Assessable income and exempt income		17
Guide to Division 6		17
6-1	Diagram showing relationships among concepts in this Division .....	17
Operative provisions		18
6-5	Income according to ordinary concepts ( ordinary income ) .....	18
6-10	Other assessable income ( statutory income ).....	19
6-15	What is not assessable income.....	19
6-20	Exempt income.....	20
6-23	Non-assessable non-exempt income.....	21
6-25	Relationships among various rules about ordinary income .....	21
Division 8—Deductions		22
8-1	General deductions .....	22
8-5	Specific deductions.....	23
8-10	No double deductions .....	23
Part 1-4—Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions		24
Division 9—Entities that must pay income tax		24
9-1A	Effect of this Division .....	24
9-1	List of entities.....	24
9-5	Entities that work out their income tax by reference to something other than taxable income .....	25
Division 10—Particular kinds of assessable income		28
10-1	Effect of this Division .....	28
10-5	List of provisions about assessable income .....	28
Division 11—Particular kinds of non-assessable income		42
Subdivision 11-A—Lists of classes of exempt income		42
11-1A	Effect of this Subdivision .....	42
11-1	Overview .....	42
11-5	Entities that are exempt, no matter what kind of ordinary or statutory income they have .....	43
11-10	Ordinary or statutory income which is exempt, no matter whose it is.....	44
11-15	Ordinary or statutory income which is exempt only if it is derived by certain entities.....	45

---

---

Subdivision 11-B—Particular kinds of non-assessable non-exempt income	52
11-50 Effect of this Subdivision .....	52
11-55 List of non-assessable non-exempt income provisions .....	53
Division 12—Particular kinds of deductions	58
12-1 Effect of this Division .....	58
12-5 List of provisions about deductions [ see Note 4].....	58
Division 13—Tax offsets	74
13-1A Effect of this Division .....	74
13-1 List of tax offsets.....	74
Chapter 2—Liability rules of general application	80
Part 2-1—Assessable income	80
Division 15—Some items of assessable income	80
Guide to Division 15	80
15-1 What this Division is about .....	80
Operative provisions	81
15-2 Allowances and other things provided in respect of employment or services .....	81
15-3 Return to work payments.....	81
15-5 Accrued leave transfer payments.....	81
15-10 Bounties and subsidies .....	82
15-15 Profit-making undertaking or plan.....	82
15-20 Royalties.....	82
15-22 Payments made to members of a copyright collecting society .....	82
15-25 Amount received for lease obligation to repair.....	83
15-30 Insurance or indemnity for loss of assessable income .....	83
15-35 Interest on overpayments and early payments of tax .....	83
15-40 Providing mining, quarrying or prospecting information .....	83
15-45 Amounts paid under forestry agreements .....	84
15-46 Amounts paid under forestry managed investment schemes .....	84
15-50 Work in progress amounts.....	84
15-55 Certain amounts paid under funeral policy.....	85
15-60 Certain amounts paid under scholarship plan .....	85
15-65 Sugar industry exit grants .....	86
15-70 Reimbursed car expenses.....	86
15-75 Bonuses .....	87
15-80 Employer FHSA contributions etc.....	87

---

---

Division 17—Effect of GST etc. on assessable income	88
Guide to Division 17	88
17-1 What this Division is about .....	88
17-5 GST and increasing adjustments .....	88
17-10 Certain decreasing adjustments .....	88
17-15 Elements in calculation of amounts .....	89
17-20 GST groups and GST joint ventures.....	89
17-30 Special credits because of indirect tax transition .....	89
17-35 Certain sections not to apply to certain assets or expenditure.....	90
Division 20—Amounts included to reverse the effect of past deductions	91
Guide to Division 20	91
20-1 What this Division is about .....	91
20-5 Other provisions that reverse the effect of deductions.....	91
Subdivision 20-A—Insurance, indemnity or other recoupment for deductible expenses	93
Guide to Subdivision 20-A	93
20-10 What this Subdivision is about .....	93
20-15 How to use this Subdivision .....	94
What is an assessable recoupment?	95
20-20 Assessable recoupments .....	95
20-25 What is recoupment ? .....	95
20-30 Tables of deductions for which recoupments are assessable .....	97
How much is included in your assessable income?	101
20-35 If the expense is deductible in a single income year .....	101
20-40 If the expense is deductible over 2 or more income years .....	102
20-45 Effect of balancing charge .....	104
20-50 If the expense is only partially deductible .....	105
20-55 Meaning of previous recoupment law .....	105
What if you can deduct a loss or outgoing incurred by another entity?	106
20-60 If you are the only entity that can deduct an amount for the loss or outgoing .....	106
20-65 If 2 or more entities can deduct amounts for the loss or outgoing.....	107
Subdivision 20-B—Disposal of a car for which lease payments have been deducted	108
Guide to Subdivision 20-B	108
20-100 What this Subdivision is about .....	108
20-105 Map of this Subdivision.....	110

---

---

The usual case	110
20-110 Disposal of a leased car for profit.....	110
20-115 Working out the profit on the disposal .....	112
20-120 Meaning of notional depreciation .....	113
The associate case	114
20-125 Disposal of a leased car for profit.....	114
Successive leases	116
20-130 Successive leases .....	116
Previous disposals of the car	116
20-135 No amount included if earlier disposal for market value .....	116
20-140 Reducing the amount to be included if there has been an earlier disposal.....	116
Miscellaneous rules	118
20-145 No amount included if you inherited the car .....	118
20-150 Reducing the amount to be included if another provision requires you to include an amount for the disposal.....	118
20-155 Exception for particular cars taken on hire .....	118
20-157 Exception for small business entities.....	118
Disposals of interests in a car: special rules apply	119
20-160 Disposal of an interest in a car.....	119
Part 2-5—Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts	120
Division 25—Some amounts you can deduct	120
Guide to Division 25	120
25-1 What this Division is about .....	120
Operative provisions	121
25-5 Tax-related expenses .....	121
25-7 Advice about family tax benefit .....	123
25-10 Repairs.....	124
25-15 Amount paid for lease obligation to repair .....	124
25-20 Lease document expenses.....	124
25-25 Borrowing expenses .....	125
25-30 Expenses of discharging a mortgage .....	127
25-35 Bad debts .....	128
25-40 Loss from profit-making undertaking or plan.....	131
25-45 Loss by theft etc. ....	131
25-47 Misappropriation where a balancing adjustment event occurs .....	132
25-50 Payments of pensions, gratuities or retiring allowances .....	133
25-55 Payments to associations .....	133

---

---

25-60	Parliament election expenses.....	134
25-65	Local government election expenses.....	134
25-70	Deduction for election expenses does not extend to entertainment.....	135
25-75	Rates and land taxes on premises used to produce mutual receipts.....	136
25-85	Certain returns in respect of debt interests.....	137
25-90	Deduction relating to foreign non-assessable non-exempt income.....	138
25-95	Deduction for work in progress amounts.....	138
25-105	Deductions for United Medical Protection Limited support payments.....	139
25-100	Travel between workplaces.....	139
25-110	Capital expenditure to terminate lease etc.....	140

Division 26—Some amounts you cannot deduct, or cannot deduct in full 142

Guide to Division 26 142

26-1	What this Division is about.....	142
------	----------------------------------	-----

Operative provisions 143

26-5	Penalties.....	143
26-10	Leave payments.....	143
26-15	Franchise fees windfall tax.....	144
26-17	Commonwealth places windfall tax.....	144
26-20	Assistance to students.....	144
26-25	Interest or royalty.....	145
26-26	Non-share distributions and dividends.....	146
26-30	Relative's travel expenses.....	146
26-35	Reducing deductions for amounts paid to related entities.....	148
26-40	Maintaining your family.....	149
26-45	Recreational club expenses.....	149
26-47	Non-business boating activities.....	150
26-50	Expenses for a leisure facility.....	153
26-52	Bribes to foreign public officials.....	154
26-53	Bribes to public officials.....	157
26-54	Expenditure relating to illegal activities.....	158
26-55	Limit on deductions.....	159
26-60	Superannuation contributions surcharge.....	159
26-65	Termination payments surcharge.....	160
26-68	Loss from disposal of eligible venture capital investments.....	160
26-70	Loss from disposal of venture capital equity.....	161
26-75	Excess contributions tax cannot be deducted.....	161
26-80	Financing costs on loans to pay superannuation contribution.....	161
26-85	Borrowing costs on loans to pay life insurance premiums.....	161

---

---

26-90	Superannuation supervisory levy.....	162
26-95	Superannuation guarantee charge.....	162
Division 27—Effect of input tax credits etc. on deductions		163
Guide to Division 27		163
27-1	What this Division is about .....	163
Subdivision 27-A—General		163
27-5	Input tax credits and decreasing adjustments.....	163
27-10	Certain increasing adjustments.....	164
27-15	GST payments.....	164
27-20	Elements in calculation of amounts.....	165
27-25	GST groups and GST joint ventures.....	165
27-35	Certain sections not to apply to certain assets or expenditure.....	165
Subdivision 27-B—Effect of input tax credits etc. on capital allowances		166
27-80	Cost or opening adjustable value of depreciating assets reduced for input tax credits.....	166
27-85	Cost or opening adjustable value of depreciating assets reduced: decreasing adjustments.....	168
27-87	Certain decreasing adjustments included in assessable income.....	169
27-90	Cost or opening adjustable value of depreciating assets increased: increasing adjustments.....	169
27-92	Certain increasing adjustments can be deducted.....	170
27-95	Balancing adjustment events.....	170
27-100	Pooling.....	171
27-105	Other Division 40 expenditure.....	175
27-110	Input tax credit etc. relating to 2 or more things.....	176
Division 28—Car expenses		177
Guide to Division 28		177
28-1	What this Division is about .....	177
28-5	Map of this Division.....	178
Subdivision 28-A—Deductions for car expenses		178
28-10	Application of Division 28.....	178
28-12	Car expenses.....	179
28-13	Meaning of car expense .....	179
Subdivision 28-B—Choosing which method to use		180
Guide to Subdivision 28-B		180
28-14	What this Subdivision is about .....	180
28-15	Choosing among the 4 methods.....	180
Operative provision		182
28-20	Rules governing choice of method.....	182

---

---

Subdivision 28-C—The “cents per kilometre” method	182
28-25 How to calculate your deduction .....	182
28-30 Capital allowances .....	183
28-35 Substantiation .....	183
Subdivision 28-D—The “12% of original value” method	183
28-45 How to calculate your deduction .....	183
28-50 Eligibility .....	184
28-55 Capital allowances .....	184
28-60 Substantiation .....	185
Subdivision 28-E—The “one-third of actual expenses” method	185
28-70 How to calculate your deduction .....	185
28-75 Eligibility .....	185
28-80 Substantiation .....	186
Subdivision 28-F—The “log book” method	186
28-90 How to calculate your deduction .....	186
28-95 Eligibility .....	188
28-100 Substantiation .....	188
Subdivision 28-G—Keeping a log book	189
Guide to Subdivision 28-G	189
28-105 What this Subdivision is about .....	189
28-110 Steps for keeping a log book .....	189
Operative provisions	189
28-115 Income years for which you need to keep a log book .....	189
28-120 Choosing the 12 week period for a log book .....	190
28-125 How to keep a log book .....	191
28-130 Replacing one car with another .....	192
Subdivision 28-H—Odometer records for a period	192
Guide to Subdivision 28-H	192
28-135 What this Subdivision is about .....	192
Operative provision	193
28-140 How to keep odometer records for a car for a period .....	193
Subdivision 28-I—Retaining the log book and odometer records	193
28-150 Retaining the log book for the retention period .....	194
28-155 Retaining odometer records .....	195
Subdivision 28-J—Situations where you cannot use, or don’t need to use, one of the 4 methods	195
Guide to Subdivision 28-J	195
28-160 What this Subdivision is about .....	195
Operative provisions	196
28-165 Exception for particular cars taken on hire .....	196

---

---

28-170	Exception for particular cars used in particular ways .....	196
28-175	Further miscellaneous exceptions .....	198
28-180	Car expenses related to award transport payments .....	199
28-185	Application of Subdivision 28-J to recipients and payers of certain withholding payments .....	199
Division 30—Gifts or contributions		201
Guide to Division 30		201
30-1	What this Division is about .....	201
30-5	How to find your way around this Division .....	202
30-10	Index .....	203
Subdivision 30-A—Deductions for gifts or contributions		203
30-15	Table of gifts or contributions that you can deduct .....	203
30-17	Requirements for certain recipients .....	217
Subdivision 30-B—Tables of recipients for deductible gifts		218
Health		220
30-20	Health .....	220
Education		222
30-25	Education .....	222
30-30	Gifts that must be for certain purposes .....	226
30-35	Gifts to a public fund established to benefit a rural school hostel building must satisfy certain requirements .....	227
30-37	Scholarship etc. funds [ see Note 5] .....	227
Research		228
30-40	Research .....	228
Welfare and rights		229
30-45	Welfare and rights .....	229
30-45A	Australian disaster relief funds—declarations by Minister .....	233
30-46	Australian disaster relief funds—declarations under State and Territory law .....	234
Defence		235
30-50	Defence .....	235
Environment		237
30-55	The environment .....	237
30-60	Gifts to a National Parks body or conservation body must satisfy certain requirements .....	239
Industry, trade and design		239
30-65	Industry, trade and design .....	239
The family		240
30-70	The family .....	240
30-75	Marriage education organisations must be approved .....	241

---

---

International affairs	241
30-80 International affairs .....	241
30-85 Developing country relief funds .....	243
30-86 Developed country disaster relief funds .....	244
Sports and recreation	245
30-90 Sports and recreation .....	245
Philanthropic trusts	245
30-95 Philanthropic trusts .....	245
Cultural organisations	246
30-100 Cultural organisations .....	246
Fire and emergency services	247
30-102 Fire and emergency services .....	247
Other recipients	248
30-105 Other recipients .....	248
Subdivision 30-BA—Endorsement of deductible gift recipients	250
Guide to Subdivision 30-BA	250
30-115 What this Subdivision is about .....	250
Endorsement as a deductible gift recipient	251
30-120 Endorsement by Commissioner .....	251
30-125 Entitlement to endorsement .....	251
30-130 Maintaining a gift fund .....	253
Government entities treated like entities	254
30-180 How this Subdivision applies to government entities .....	254
Subdivision 30-C—Rules applying to particular gifts of property	255
Valuation requirements	255
30-200 Getting written valuations .....	255
30-205 Proceeds of the sale would have been assessable .....	256
30-210 Approved valuers .....	256
30-212 Valuations by the Commissioner .....	256
Working out the amount you can deduct for a gift of property	257
30-215 How much you can deduct .....	257
30-220 Reducing the amount you can deduct .....	258
Joint ownership of property	259
30-225 Gift of property by joint owners .....	259
Subdivision 30-CA—Administrative requirements relating to ABNs	259
Guide to Subdivision 30-CA	259
30-226 What this Subdivision is about .....	259

---

---

Requirements	260
30-227 Entities to which this Subdivision applies .....	260
30-228 Content of receipt for gift or contribution.....	260
30-229 Australian Business Register must show deductibility of gifts to deductible gift recipient.....	262
Subdivision 30-D—Testamentary gifts under the Cultural Bequests Program	263
30-230 Testamentary gifts of property.....	263
30-235 Getting a certificate .....	264
30-240 Limit on total value of gifts for an income year .....	265
Subdivision 30-DA—Donations to political parties and independent candidates and members	265
Guide to Subdivision 30-DA	265
30-241 What this Subdivision is about .....	265
Operative provisions	266
30-242 Deduction for political contributions and gifts .....	266
30-243 Amount of the deduction .....	267
30-244 When an individual is an independent candidate.....	267
30-245 When an individual is an independent member.....	268
Subdivision 30-DB—Spreading certain gift and covenant deductions over up to 5 income years	269
Guide to Subdivision 30-DB	269
30-246 What this Subdivision is about .....	269
Operative provisions	269
30-247 Gifts and covenants for which elections can be made .....	269
30-248 Making an election .....	270
30-249 Effect of election .....	270
30-249A Requirements—environmental property gifts.....	271
30-249B Requirements—heritage property gifts.....	271
30-249C Requirements—certain cultural property gifts.....	271
30-249D Requirements—conservation covenants.....	272
Subdivision 30-E—Register of environmental organisations	272
Guide to Subdivision 30-E	272
30-250 What this Subdivision is about .....	272
Operative provisions	273
30-255 Establishing the register.....	273
30-260 Meaning of environmental organisation .....	273
30-265 Its principal purpose must be protecting the environment .....	273
30-270 Other requirements it must satisfy .....	274
30-275 Further requirement for a body corporate or a co-operative society .....	274

---

---

30-280	What must be on the register .....	275
30-285	Removal from the register .....	275
Subdivision 30-EA—Register of harm prevention charities		275
Guide to Subdivision 30-EA		275
30-286	What this Subdivision is about .....	275
Operative provisions		276
30-287	Establishing the register.....	276
30-288	Meaning of harm prevention charity .....	276
30-289	Principal activity—promoting the prevention or control of harm or abuse .....	276
30-289A	Other requirements .....	277
30-289B	What must be on the register .....	277
30-289C	Removal from the register .....	278
Subdivision 30-F—Register of cultural organisations		278
Guide to Subdivision 30-F		278
30-290	What this Subdivision is about .....	278
Operative provisions		278
30-295	Establishing the register.....	278
30-300	Meaning of cultural organisation .....	279
30-305	What must be on the register .....	279
30-310	Removal from the register .....	280
Subdivision 30-G—Index to this Division		280
30-315	Index.....	280
30-320	Effect of this Subdivision .....	291
Division 31—Conservation covenants		292
Guide to Division 31		292
31-1	What this Division is about .....	292
Operative provisions		292
31-5	Deduction for entering into conservation covenant .....	292
31-10	Requirements for fund, authority or institution .....	294
31-15	Valuations by the Commissioner.....	294
Division 32—Entertainment expenses		295
Guide to Division 32		295
32-1	What this Division is about .....	295
Subdivision 32-A—No deduction for entertainment expenses		295
32-5	No deduction for entertainment expenses.....	295
32-10	Meaning of entertainment .....	296
32-15	No deduction for property used for providing entertainment.....	296

---

---

Subdivision 32-B—Exceptions	296
32-20 The main exception—fringe benefits .....	297
32-25 The tables set out the other exceptions .....	297
32-30 Employer expenses .....	297
32-35 Seminar expenses .....	300
32-40 Entertainment industry expenses .....	300
32-45 Promotion and advertising expenses.....	301
32-50 Other expenses .....	301
Subdivision 32-C—Definitions relevant to the exceptions	302
32-55 In-house dining facility (employer expenses table items 1.1 and 1.2).....	302
32-60 Dining facility (employer expenses table item 1.3) .....	302
32-65 Seminars (seminar expenses table item 2.1) .....	303
Subdivision 32-D—In-house dining facilities (employer expenses             table item 1.2)	304
32-70 $30 is assessable for each meal provided to non-employee in an in-house dining facility .....	304
Subdivision 32-E—Anti-avoidance	305
32-75 Commissioner may treat you as having incurred entertainment expense .....	305
Subdivision 32-F—Special rules for companies and partnerships	305
32-80 Company directors.....	306
32-85 Directors, employees and property of wholly-owned group company .....	306
32-90 Partnerships .....	307
Division 34—Non-compulsory uniforms	308
Guide to Division 34	308
34-1 What this Division is about .....	308
34-3 What you need to read.....	308
Subdivision 34-A—Application of Division 34	309
34-5 This Division applies to employees and others.....	309
34-7 This Division applies to employers and others .....	310
Subdivision 34-B—Deduction for your non-compulsory uniform	310
34-10 What you can deduct .....	310
34-15 What is a non-compulsory uniform?.....	311
34-20 What are occupation specific clothing and protective                 clothing? .....	311
Subdivision 34-C—Registering the design of a non-compulsory             uniform	312
34-25 Application to register the design .....	312
34-30 Industry Secretary’s decision on application .....	313
34-33 Written notice of decision.....	314

---

---

34-35	When uniform becomes registered .....	315
Subdivision 34-D—Appeals from Industry Secretary’s decision		315
34-40	Review of decisions by the Administrative Appeals Tribunal.....	315
Subdivision 34-E—The Register of Approved Occupational Clothing		315
34-45	Keeping of the Register .....	315
34-50	Changes to the Register .....	316
Subdivision 34-F—Approved occupational clothing guidelines		316
34-55	Approved occupational clothing guidelines.....	316
Subdivision 34-G—The Industry Secretary		317
34-60	Industry Secretary to give Commissioner information about entries .....	317
34-65	Delegation of powers by Industry Secretary .....	317
Division 35—Deferral of losses from non-commercial business activities		318
Guide to Division 35		318
35-1	What this Division is about .....	318
Operative provisions		319
35-5	Object .....	319
35-10	Deferral of deductions from non-commercial business activities .....	319
35-15	Modification if you have exempt income .....	322
35-20	Modification if you become bankrupt .....	322
35-25	Application of Division to certain partnerships .....	323
35-30	Assessable income test .....	323
35-35	Profits test.....	323
35-40	Real property test.....	324
35-45	Other assets test.....	325
35-50	Apportionment.....	326
35-55	Commissioner’s discretion .....	326
Division 36—Tax losses of earlier income years		328
Guide to Division 36		328
36-1	What this Division is about .....	328
Subdivision 36-A—Deductions for tax losses of earlier income years		328
36-10	How to calculate a tax loss for an income year.....	328
36-15	How to deduct tax losses of entities other than corporate tax entities .....	329
36-17	How to deduct tax losses of corporate tax entities.....	330
36-20	Net exempt income.....	333
36-25	Special rules about tax losses .....	334

---

---

Subdivision 36-B—Effect of you becoming bankrupt	338
Guide to Subdivision 36-B	338
36-30 What this Subdivision is about .....	338
Operative provisions	338
36-35 No deduction for tax loss incurred before bankruptcy .....	338
36-40 Deduction for amounts paid for debts incurred before bankruptcy .....	339
36-45 Limit on deductions for amounts paid .....	340
Subdivision 36-C—Excess franking offsets	341
Guide to Subdivision 36-C	341
36-50 What this Subdivision is about .....	341
Operative provision	341
36-55 Converting excess franking offsets into tax loss.....	341

---

An Act about income tax and related matters

Chapter 1—Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-1—Preliminary

Division 1—Preliminary

Table of sections

1-1	Short title
1-2	Commencement
1-3	Differences in style not to affect meaning
1-7	Administration of this Act

1-1 Short title [see Note 1]

This Act may be cited as the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

1-2 Commencement

This Act commences on 1 July 1997.

1-3 Differences in style not to affect meaning

- (1) This Act contains provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 in a rewritten form.
- (2) If:
  - (a) that Act expressed an idea in a particular form of words; and
  - (b) this Act appears to have expressed the same idea in a different form of words in order to use a clearer or simpler style;the ideas are not to be taken to be different just because different forms of words were used.

Note: A public or private ruling about a provision of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 is taken also to be a ruling about the corresponding provision of this Act, so far as the 2 provisions express the same ideas: see section 357-85 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-1 Preliminary

Division 1 Preliminary

Section 1-7

---

1-7 Administration of this Act

The Commissioner has the general administration of this Act.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Part 1-2—A Guide to this Act

Division 2—How to use this Act

Table of Subdivisions

2-A	How to find your way around
2-B	How the Act is arranged
2-C	How to identify defined terms and find the definitions
2-D	The numbering system
2-E	Status of Guides and other non-operative material

Subdivision 2-A—How to find your way around

2-1 The design

This Act is designed to help you identify accurately and quickly the provisions that are relevant to your purpose in reading the income tax law.

The Act contains tables, diagrams and signposts to help you navigate your way.

You can start at Division 3 (What this Act is about) and follow the signposts as far into the Act as you need to go. You may also encounter signposts to several areas of the law that are relevant to you. Each one should be followed.

Sometimes they will lead down through several levels of detail. At each successive level, the rules are structured in a similar way. They will often be preceded by a Guide to the rules at that level. The rules themselves will usually deal first with the general or most common case and then with the more particular or special cases.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

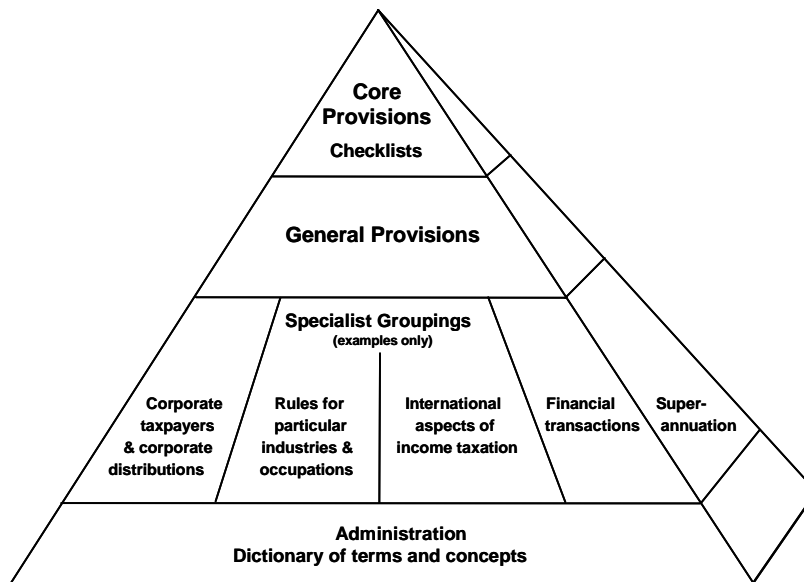

---

Subdivision 2-B—How the Act is arranged

2-5 The pyramid

This Act is arranged in a way that reflects the principle of moving from the general case to the particular.

In this respect, the conceptual structure of the Act is something like a pyramid. The pyramid shape illustrates the way the income tax law is organised, moving down from the central or core provisions at the top of the pyramid, to general rules of wide application and then to the more specialised topics.

Note: The Taxation Administration Act 1953 contains the provisions on collection and recovery of tax and provisions on administration.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 2-C—How to identify defined terms and find the definitions

Table of sections

2-10	When defined terms are identified
2-15	When terms are not identified
2-20	Identifying the defined term in a definition

2-10 When defined terms are identified

- (1) Many of the terms used in the income tax law are defined.
- (2) Most defined terms in this Act are identified by an asterisk appearing at the start of the term: as in “*business”. The footnote that goes with the asterisk contains a signpost to the Dictionary definitions starting at section 995-1.

2-15 When terms are not identified

- (1) Once a defined term has been identified by an asterisk, later occurrences of the term in the same subsection are not usually asterisked.
- (2) Terms are not asterisked in the non-operative material contained in this Act.
Note: The non-operative material is described in Subdivision 2-E.
- (3) The following basic terms used throughout the Act are not identified with an asterisk. They fall into 2 groups:

Key participants in the income tax system

Item	This term:	is defined in:
1.	Australian resident	section 995-1
2.	Commissioner	section 995-1
3.	company	section 995-1
4.	entity	section 960-100
4A.	foreign resident	section 995-1

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-2 A Guide to this Act

Division 2 How to use this Act

Section 2-20

---

Item	This term:	is defined in:
5.	individual	section 995-1
6.	partnership	section 995-1
7.	person	section 995-1
8.	trustee	section 995-1
9.	you	section 4-5

Core concepts

Item	This term:	is defined in:
1.	amount	section 995-1
2.	assessable income	Division 6
3.	assessment	section 995-1
4.	deduct, deduction	Division 8
5.	income tax	section 995-1
6.	income year	section 995-1
7.	taxable income	section 4-15
8.	this Act	section 995-1

2-20 Identifying the defined term in a definition

Within a definition, the defined term is identified by bold italics.

Subdivision 2-D—The numbering system

Table of sections

2-25	Purposes
2-30	Gaps in the numbering

2-25 Purposes

Two main purposes of the numbering system in this Act are:

- To indicate the relationship between units at different levels.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

For example, the number of Part 2-15 indicates that the Part is in Chapter 2. Similarly, the number of section 165-70 indicates that the section is in Division 165.

- To allow for future expansion of the Act. The main technique here is leaving gaps between numbers.

2-30 Gaps in the numbering

There are gaps in the numbering system to allow for the insertion of new Divisions and sections.

Subdivision 2-E—Status of Guides and other non-operative material

Table of sections

2-35	Non-operative material
2-40	Guides
2-45	Other material

2-35 Non-operative material

In addition to the operative provisions themselves, this Act contains other material to help you identify accurately and quickly the provisions that are relevant to you and to help you understand them.

This other material falls into 2 main categories.

2-40 Guides

The first is the “Guides”. A Guide consists of sections under a heading indicating that what follows is a Guide to a particular Subdivision, Division etc.

Guides form part of this Act but are kept separate from the operative provisions. In interpreting an operative provision, a Guide may only be considered for limited purposes. These are set out in section 950-150.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-2 A Guide to this Act

Division 2 How to use this Act

Section 2-45

---

2-45 Other material

The other category consists of material such as notes and examples. These also form part of the Act. They are distinguished by type size from the operative provisions, but are not kept separate from them.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 3—What this Act is about

Table of sections

3-1	What this Act is about
3-5	Annual income tax
3-10	Your other obligations as a taxpayer
3-15	Your obligations other than as a taxpayer

3-1 What this Act is about

This Act is mainly about income tax, and this Division is concerned only with income tax.

However, this Act also deals with a variety of other topics that may affect you:

Item	For a guide to this topic:	See:
1.	Medicare levy	Division 785

3-5 Annual income tax

- (1) Income tax is payable for each year by each individual and company, and by some other entities.

Note 1: Individuals who are Australian residents, and some trustees, are also liable to pay Medicare levy for each year. See Division 785.

Note 2: Income tax is imposed by the Income Tax Act 1986 and the other Acts referred to in the definition of income tax in section 995-1.

- (2) Most entities have to pay instalments of income tax before the income tax they actually have to pay can be worked out.

- (3) This Act answers these questions:

1. What instalments of income tax do you have to pay? When and how do you pay them?

See Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

2. How do you work out how much income tax you must pay?

See Division 4, starting at section 4-1.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 3-10

---

3. What happens if your income tax is more than the instalments you have paid? When and how must you pay the rest?

See sections 204, 213 and 219 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 and Part 4-15 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

4. What happens if your income tax is less than the instalments you have paid? How do you get a refund?

See Division 3A of Part IIB of the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

5. What are your other obligations as a taxpayer, besides paying instalments and the rest of your income tax?

See section 3-10.

6. Do you have any other obligations under the income tax law?

See section 3-15.

7. If a dispute between you and the Commissioner of Taxation cannot be settled by agreement, what procedures for objection, review and appeal are available?

See Part IVC (sections 14ZL to 14ZZS) of the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

3-10 Your other obligations as a taxpayer

- (1) Besides paying instalments and the rest of your income tax, your main obligations as a taxpayer are:

- (a) to keep records and provide information as required by:

- the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; and
- Division 900 (which sets out substantiation rules) of this Act; and

- (b) to lodge income tax returns as required by:

- the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Tax file numbers

- (2) Under Part VA of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, a tax file number can be issued to you. You are not obliged to apply for a tax file number. However, if you do not quote one in certain situations:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- you may become liable for instalments of income tax that would not otherwise have been payable;
- the amount of certain of your instalments of income tax may be increased.

3-15 Your obligations other than as a taxpayer

Your main obligations under the income tax law, other than as a taxpayer are:

- in certain situations, to deduct from money you owe to another person, and to remit to the Commissioner, instalments of income tax payable by that person.

See Part 4-5 (Collection of income tax instalments), starting at section 750-1.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Part 1-3—Core provisions

Division 4—How to work out the income tax payable on your taxable income

Table of sections

4-1	Who must pay income tax
4-5	Meaning of you
4-10	How to work out how much income tax you must pay
4-15	How to work out your taxable income
4-25	Special provisions for working out your basic income tax liability

4-1 Who must pay income tax

Income tax is payable by each individual and company, and by some other entities.

Note: The actual amount of income tax payable may be nil.

For a list of the entities that must pay income tax, see Division 9, starting at section 9-1.

4-5 Meaning of you

If a provision of this Act uses the expression you, it applies to entities generally, unless its application is expressly limited.

Note 1: The expression you is not used in provisions that apply only to entities that are not individuals.

Note 2: For circumstances in which the identity of an entity that is a managed investment scheme for the purposes of the Corporations Act 2001 is not affected by changes to the scheme, see Subdivision 960-E of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

4-10 How to work out how much income tax you must pay

- (1) You must pay income tax for each *financial year.
- (2) Your income tax is worked out by reference to your taxable income for the income year. The income year is the same as the *financial year, except in these cases:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) for a company, the income year is the previous financial year;
- (b) if you have an accounting period that is not the same as the financial year, each such accounting period or, for a company, each previous accounting period is an income year.

Note 1: The Commissioner can allow you to adopt an accounting period ending on a day other than 30 June. See section 18 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Note 2: An accounting period ends, and a new accounting period starts, when a partnership becomes, or ceases to be, a VCLP, an ESVCLP, an AFOF or a VCMP. See section 18A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

- (3) Work out your income tax for the *financial year as follows:

$$\text{Income tax} = \left( \text{Taxable income} \times \text{Rate} \right) - \text{Tax offsets}$$

Method statement

Step 1. Work out your taxable income for the income year.

To do this, see section 4-15.

Step 2. Work out your basic income tax liability on your taxable income using:

- (a) the income tax rate or rates that apply to you for the income year; and
- (b) any special provisions that apply to working out that liability.

See the Income Tax Rates Act 1986 and section 4-25.

Step 3. Work out your tax offsets for the income year. A tax offset reduces the amount of income tax you have to pay.

For the list of tax offsets, see section 13-1.

Step 4. Subtract your *tax offsets from your basic income tax liability. The result is how much income tax you owe for the *financial year.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-3 Core provisions

Division 4 How to work out the income tax payable on your taxable income

Section 4-15

---

Note: Division 63 explains what happens if your tax offsets exceed your basic income tax liability. How the excess is treated depends on the type of tax offset.

Income tax worked out on another basis

- (4) For some entities, some or all of their income tax for the *financial year is worked out by reference to something other than taxable income for the income year.

See section 9-5.

4-15 How to work out your taxable income

- (1) Work out your taxable income for the income year like this:

Taxable income = Assessable income – Deductions

Method statement

Step 1. Add up all your assessable income for the income year.

To find out about your assessable income, see Division 6.

Step 2. Add up your deductions for the income year.

To find out what you can deduct, see Division 8.

Step 3. Subtract your deductions from your assessable income (unless they exceed it). The result is your taxable income. (If the deductions equal or exceed the assessable income, you don't have a taxable income.)

Note: If the deductions exceed the assessable income, you may have a tax loss which you may be able to deduct in a later income year: see Division 36.

- (2) There are cases where taxable income is worked out in a special way:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Item	For this case ...	See:
1.	A company does not maintain continuity of ownership and control during the income year and does not satisfy the same business test	Subdivision 165-B
1B.	An entity is a *member of a *consolidated group at any time in the income year	Part 3-90
2.	A company becomes a PDF (pooled development fund) during the income year, and the PDF component for the income year is a nil amount	section 124ZTA of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
3.	A shipowner or charterer: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• has its principal place of business outside Australia; and</li> <li>• carries passengers, freight or mail shipped in Australia</li> </ul>	section 129 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
4.	An insurer who is a foreign resident enters into insurance contracts connected with Australia	sections 142 and 143 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
5.	The Commissioner makes a default or special assessment of taxable income	sections 167 and 168 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
6.	The Commissioner makes a determination of the amount of taxable income to prevent double taxation in certain treaty cases	section 24 of the International Tax Agreements Act 1953
Note:	A life insurance company can have a taxable income of the complying superannuation/FHSA class and/or a taxable income of the ordinary class for the purposes of working out its income tax for an income year: see Subdivision 320-D.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-3 Core provisions

Division 4 How to work out the income tax payable on your taxable income

Section 4-25

---

4-25 Special provisions for working out your basic income tax liability

Subsection 392-35(3) may increase your basic income tax liability beyond the liability worked out simply by applying the income tax rates to your taxable income.

Note: Subsection 392-35(3) increases some primary producers' tax liability by requiring them to pay extra income tax on their averaging components worked out under Subdivision 392-C.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 6—Assessable income and exempt income

Guide to Division 6

Table of sections

6-1 Diagram showing relationships among concepts in this Division

Operative provisions

6-5 Income according to ordinary concepts (ordinary income)
6-10 Other assessable income (statutory income)
6-15 What is not assessable income
6-20 Exempt income
6-23 Non-assessable non-exempt income
6-25 Relationships among various rules about ordinary income

6-1 Diagram showing relationships among concepts in this Division

(1) Assessable income consists of ordinary income and statutory income.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 6-5

---

- (2) Some ordinary income, and some statutory income, is exempt income.
- (3) Exempt income is not assessable income.
- (4) Some ordinary income, and some statutory income, is neither assessable income nor exempt income.

For the effect of the GST in working out assessable income, see Division 17.

- (5) An amount of ordinary income or statutory income can have only one status (that is, assessable income, exempt income or non-assessable non-exempt income) in the hands of a particular entity.

Operative provisions

6-5 Income according to ordinary concepts (ordinary income)

- (1) Your assessable income includes income according to ordinary concepts, which is called ordinary income.

Note: Some of the provisions about assessable income listed in section 10-5 may affect the treatment of ordinary income.

- (2) If you are an Australian resident, your assessable income includes the *ordinary income you *derived directly or indirectly from all sources, whether in or out of Australia, during the income year.
- (3) If you are a foreign resident, your assessable income includes:
  - (a) the *ordinary income you *derived directly or indirectly from all *Australian sources during the income year; and
  - (b) other *ordinary income that a provision includes in your assessable income for the income year on some basis other than having an *Australian source.
- (4) In working out whether you have derived an amount of *ordinary income, and (if so) when you derived it, you are taken to have received the amount as soon as it is applied or dealt with in any way on your behalf or as you direct.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

6-10 Other assessable income (statutory income)

- (1) Your assessable income also includes some amounts that are not *ordinary income.

Note: These are included by provisions about assessable income.
For a summary list of these provisions, see section 10-5.

- (2) Amounts that are not *ordinary income, but are included in your assessable income by provisions about assessable income, are called statutory income.

Note 1: Although an amount is statutory income because it has been included in assessable income under a provision of this Act, it may be made exempt income or non-assessable non-exempt income under another provision: see sections 6-20 and 6-23.

Note 2: Many provisions in the summary list in section 10-5 contain rules about ordinary income. These rules do not change its character as ordinary income.

- (3) If an amount would be *statutory income apart from the fact that you have not received it, it becomes statutory income as soon as it is applied or dealt with in any way on your behalf or as you direct.
- (4) If you are an Australian resident, your assessable income includes your *statutory income from all sources, whether in or out of Australia.
- (5) If you are a foreign resident, your assessable income includes:
- (a) your *statutory income from all *Australian sources; and
  - (b) other *statutory income that a provision includes in your assessable income on some basis other than having an *Australian source.

6-15 What is not assessable income

- (1) If an amount is not *ordinary income, and is not *statutory income, it is not assessable income (so you do not have to pay income tax on it).
- (2) If an amount is *exempt income, it is not assessable income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 6-20

---

- Note: If an amount is exempt income, there are other consequences besides it being exempt from income tax. For example:
- the amount may be taken into account in working out the amount of a tax loss (see section 36-10);
  - you cannot deduct as a general deduction a loss or outgoing incurred in deriving the amount (see Division 8);
  - capital gains and losses on assets used solely to produce exempt income are disregarded (see section 118-12).

- (3) If an amount is *non-assessable non-exempt income, it is not assessable income.

Note 1: You cannot deduct as a general deduction a loss or outgoing incurred in deriving an amount of non-assessable non-exempt income (see Division 8).

Note 2: Capital gains and losses on assets used to produce some types of non-assessable non-exempt income are disregarded (see section 118-12).

6-20 Exempt income

- (1) An amount of *ordinary income or *statutory income is exempt income if it is made exempt from income tax by a provision of this Act or another *Commonwealth law.

For summary lists of provisions about exempt income, see sections 11-5, 11-10 and 11-15.

- (2) *Ordinary income is also exempt income to the extent that this Act excludes it (expressly or by implication) from being assessable income.
- (3) By contrast, an amount of *statutory income is exempt income only if it is made exempt from income tax by a provision of this Act outside this Division or another *Commonwealth law.
- (4) If an amount of *ordinary income or *statutory income is *non-assessable non-exempt income, it is not exempt income.

Note: An amount of non-assessable non-exempt income is not taken into account in working out the amount of a tax loss.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

6-23 Non-assessable non-exempt income

An amount of *ordinary income or *statutory income is non-assessable non-exempt income if a provision of this Act or of another *Commonwealth law states that it is not assessable income and is not *exempt income.

Note: Capital gains and losses on assets used to produce some types of non-assessable non-exempt income are disregarded (see section 118-12).

For a summary list of provisions about non-assessable non-exempt income, see Subdivision 11-B.

6-25 Relationships among various rules about ordinary income

(1) Sometimes more than one rule includes an amount in your assessable income:

- the same amount may be *ordinary income and may also be included in your assessable income by one or more provisions about assessable income; or
- the same amount may be included in your assessable income by more than one provision about assessable income.

For a summary list of the provisions about assessable income, see section 10-5.

However, the amount is included only once in your assessable income for an income year, and is then not included in your assessable income for any other income year.

(2) Unless the contrary intention appears, the provisions of this Act (outside this Part) prevail over the rules about *ordinary income.

Note: This Act contains some specific provisions about how far the rules about ordinary income prevail over the other provisions of this Act.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 8—Deductions

Table of sections

8-1	General deductions
8-5	Specific deductions
8-10	No double deductions

8-1 General deductions

- (1) You can deduct from your assessable income any loss or outgoing to the extent that:
- (a) it is incurred in gaining or producing your assessable income; or
  - (b) it is necessarily incurred in carrying on a *business for the purpose of gaining or producing your assessable income.

Note: Division 35 prevents losses from non-commercial business activities that may contribute to a tax loss being offset against other assessable income.

- (2) However, you cannot deduct a loss or outgoing under this section to the extent that:
- (a) it is a loss or outgoing of capital, or of a capital nature; or
  - (b) it is a loss or outgoing of a private or domestic nature; or
  - (c) it is incurred in relation to gaining or producing your *exempt income or your *non-assessable non-exempt income; or
  - (d) a provision of this Act prevents you from deducting it.

For a summary list of provisions about deductions, see section 12-5.

- (3) A loss or outgoing that you can deduct under this section is called a general deduction.

For the effect of the GST in working out deductions, see Division 27.

Note If you receive an amount as insurance, indemnity or other recoupment of a loss or outgoing that you can deduct under this section, the amount may be included in your assessable income: see Subdivision 20-A.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

8-5 Specific deductions

- (1) You can also deduct from your assessable income an amount that a provision of this Act (outside this Division) allows you to deduct.
- (2) Some provisions of this Act prevent you from deducting an amount that you could otherwise deduct, or limit the amount you can deduct.
- (3) An amount that you can deduct under a provision of this Act (outside this Division) is called a specific deduction.

Note: If you receive an amount as insurance, indemnity or other recoupment of a deductible expense, the amount may be included in your assessable income: see Subdivision 20-A.

For a summary list of provisions about deductions, see section 12-5.

8-10 No double deductions

If 2 or more provisions of this Act allow you deductions in respect of the same amount (whether for the same income year or different income years), you can deduct only under the provision that is most appropriate.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 9 Entities that must pay income tax

Section 9-1A

---

Part 1-4—Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 9—Entities that must pay income tax

Table of sections

9-1A	Effect of this Division
9-1	List of entities
9-5	Entities that work out their income tax by reference to something other than taxable income

9-1A Effect of this Division

This Division is a *Guide.

9-1 List of entities

Income tax is payable by the entities listed in the table.

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 are identified in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Item	Income tax is payable by this kind of entity:	because of this provision:
1	An individual	section 4-1
2	A company, that is: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• a body corporate; or</li><li>• an unincorporated body (except a partnership)</li></ul>	section 4-1
3	A company that was a member of a wholly-owned group if a former subsidiary in the group is treated as having disposed of leased plant and does not pay all of the income tax resulting from that treatment	section 45-25

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Item	Income tax is payable by this kind of entity:	because of this provision:
4	A superannuation provider in relation to a complying superannuation fund	sections 295-5 and 295-605
5	A superannuation provider in relation to a non-complying superannuation fund	sections 295-5 and 295-605
6	A superannuation provider in relation to a complying approved deposit fund	section 295-5
7	A superannuation provider in relation to a non-complying approved deposit fund	section 295-5
8	The trustee of a pooled superannuation trust	section 295-5
8A	An FHSA provider in relation to an FHSA trust	section 345-5
9	A corporate limited partnership	section 94J
10	A mutual insurance association (as described in section 121)	section 121
11	A trustee (except one covered by another item in this table), but only in respect of some kinds of income of the trust	sections 98, 99, 99A and 102
12	The trustee of a corporate unit trust	section 102K
13	The trustee of a public trading trust	section 102S

9-5 Entities that work out their income tax by reference to something other than taxable income

- (1) For some entities, some or all of their income tax for the *financial year is worked out as described in the table. Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 are identified in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 9 Entities that must pay income tax

Section 9-5

---

Item	This kind of entity is liable to pay income tax worked out by reference to:	See:
1	A company that was a member of a wholly-owned group is jointly and severally liable to pay an amount of income tax if a former subsidiary in the group is treated as having disposed of leased plant and does not pay all of the income tax resulting from that treatment.	section 45-25
2	A superannuation provider in relation to a complying superannuation fund is to be assessed and is liable to pay income tax on no-TFN contributions income as well as on taxable income.	sections 295-5 and 295-605
3	A superannuation provider in relation to a non-complying superannuation fund is to be assessed and is liable to pay income tax on no-TFN contributions income as well as on taxable income.	sections 295-5 and 295-605
4	An RSA provider is to be assessed and is liable to pay income tax on no-TFN contributions income as well as on taxable income.	sections 295-5, 295-605 and 320-155
5	An Australian resident individual with: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• eligible foreign remuneration under section 23AF; or</li><li>• foreign earnings under section 23AG;</li></ul> (from working in a foreign country) is liable to pay income tax worked out by reference to his or her assessable income less some of his or her deductions.	section 23AF or 23AG
6	A trustee covered by item 11 in the table in section 9-1 is liable to pay income tax worked out by reference to the net income of the trust for the income year.	sections 98, 99 and 99A

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Item	This kind of entity is liable to pay income tax worked out by reference to:	See:
7	The trustee of a corporate unit trust is liable to pay income tax worked out by reference to the net income of the trust for the income year.	section 102K
8	The trustee of a public trading trust is liable to pay income tax worked out by reference to the net income of the trust for the income year.	section 102S
9	An entity that is liable to pay income tax (worked out by reference to taxable income or otherwise) is also liable to pay income tax worked out by reference to diverted income or diverted trust income for the income year.	section 121H
10	An Australian insurer that re-insures overseas can elect to pay, as agent for the re-insurer, income tax worked out by reference to the amount of the re-insurance premiums.	section 148

- (2) For entities covered by an item in the table in subsection (1), the income year is the same as the *financial year, except in these cases:
- (a) for a company, or an entity covered by item 2 or 3 in the table, the income year is the previous financial year;
  - (b) if an entity has an accounting period that is not the same as the financial year, each such accounting period or, for a company, each previous accounting period is an income year.

Note 1: The Commissioner can allow an entity to adopt an accounting period ending on a day other than 30 June. See section 18 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Note 2: An accounting period ends, and a new accounting period starts, when a partnership becomes, or ceases to be, a VCLP, an ESVCLP, an AFOF or a VCMP. See section 18A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Division 10—Particular kinds of assessable income

10-1 Effect of this Division

This Division is a *Guide.

10-5 List of provisions about assessable income

The provisions set out in the table:

- include in your assessable income amounts that are not *ordinary income; and
- vary or replace the rules that would otherwise apply for certain kinds of *ordinary income.

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 are identified in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Accrued leave transfer payments
.....	15-5
alienated personal services income
.....	86-15
allowances
see employment
annual leave
see leave payments
annuities
.....	27H
approved deposit fund (ADFs)
see superannuation
attributable income
see controlled foreign corporations and foreign investment funds

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

avoidance of tax
general .....	177F
diversion of income .....	121H
profits shifted out of Australia .....	136AD, 136AE see also transfers of income bad debts see recoupment
balancing adjustment see capital allowances, industrial property, investments, research &amp; development, scientific research and tax exempt entities banking
offshore banking activities, income from .....	121EG(1)
offshore banking unit, deemed interest on payments to by owner .....	121EK
barter transactions
.....	21, 21A, 15-2
beneficiaries see trusts
benefits
business, non-cash .....	21A
consideration, non-cash .....	21
meals you provide in an in-house dining facility .....	32-70
see also employment and superannuation bonus shares see shares
bounties
.....	15-10
capital allowances excess of termination value over adjustable value generally .....	40-285
for some cars.....	40-370
depreciating asset in low-value pool .....	40-445(2)
expenditure in software development pool.....	40-460
recovery of petroleum resource rent tax .....	40-750(3)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 10 Particular kinds of assessable income

Section 10-5

---

capital gains
.....	102-5
see also insurance
car expenses
cents per kilometres reimbursement of .....	15-70
carried interests
carried interests, not ordinary income .....	118-21
CFCs see controlled foreign corporations charters see shipping child
non-trust income of, unearned .....	102AE
trust income of, unearned .....	102AG
company see controlled foreign corporations, co-operative company, directors, dividends, liquidation, shareholders and shares compensation
live stock or trees, recoveries for loss of .....	385-130
profits or income, insurance or indemnity for loss of.....	15-30 received by lessor for lessee's non-compliance with lease obligation to repair.....	15-25
trading stock, insurance or indemnity for loss of .....	70-115
see also insurance, live stock, recoupment and scientific research consideration see benefits
consolidated groups and MEC groups
Assets in relation to Division 230 financial arrangement...	701-61(3)
controlled foreign corporations (CFCs) attributable income of .....	456 to 459A see also dividends and taxes co-operative company receipts of .....	119
credit union see co-operative company

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

currency gains
see foreign exchange
currency losses
see recoupment
death
see trusts
debt/equity swap
see shares and units defence forces allowances and benefits for service as a member of .....	15-2
depreciation
see capital allowances
directors
excessive remuneration or retirement payment from company .....	109
distributions
see dividends
dividends
benefit of LIC capital gain through a trust or partnership .....	115-280
general .....	44(1)
distribution from a controlled foreign corporation .....	47A(1)
franked dividends, credits on.....	207-20(1), 207-35(1), 207-35(3)
see also liquidation elections
local government, reimbursement of expenses of .....	25-65
see also recoupment
electricity connections
see recoupment
employees
see shares

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 10 Particular kinds of assessable income

Section 10-5

---

employment

allowances and benefits in relation to employment or rendering services .....	15-2
employment termination payment .....	82-10 82-65 82-70
other payments for employment termination .....	83-295
return to work payments .....	15-3
see accrued leave transfer payments, leave payments, superannuation and sections 82-10A and 82-10C of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997

environment

see recoupment

farm management deposits

repayments of .....	393-1 of Schedule 2G
---------------------	---------------------------------

FIFs

see foreign investment funds

films

Australian, proceeds of investment in .....	26AG
---	-------------

financial arrangements

gains from.....	230-15(1)
-----------------	-----------

first home saver accounts

employer FHSA contributions etc. ....	15-80
---------------------------------------	-------

foreign exchange

gains .....	775-15
see also recoupment

foreign investment funds (FIFs)

attributable income of .....	529 see also taxes

forestry agreement

amount where section 82KZMG of the 1936 Act applies ..	15-45
CGT event in relation to forestry interest in agreement .....	82KZMGB

forestry managed investment schemes

forestry manager's receipts under scheme.....	15-46
CGT event in relation to forestry interest in scheme for initial participant.....	394-25(2)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

CGT event in relation to forestry interest in scheme for subsequent participant.....	394-30(2)
franked dividends
see dividends
funeral policy
benefit under.....	15-55
general insurance
gross premiums.....	321-45 of Schedule 2J
reduction in value of outstanding claims liability.....	321-10 and 323-5 of Schedule 2J
reduction in value of unearned premium reserve .....	321-50 of Schedule 2J
grapevines
see recoupment
horticultural plants
see recoupment
improvements
see leases
imputation
see dividends
indemnity
see compensation and recoupment
industrial property
consideration for disposal of unit relating to copyright in Australian film.....	124P
see also intellectual property and research and development
infrastructure borrowings
see interest insurance bonuses .....	26AH, 15-75
company, demutualisation of .....	121AT
foreign life assurance policy .....	529
life insurance, transfer of contributions by superannuation fund or approved deposit fund to .....	295-260

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 10 Particular kinds of assessable income

Section 10-5

---

payments from a non-resident reinsurer in respect of a loss .....	148
premiums in respect of Australian business received by non-resident insurers .....	143 premiums paid to a non-resident for reinsurance .....	148
premiums paid to mutual insurance association .....	121
premiums payable to a non-resident for insurance of property in Australia .....	142(1)
premiums payable to a non-resident for insuring an event that can only happen in Australia .....	142(1) premiums payable to a non-resident under an insurance contract with a resident .....	142(2) rebates and premiums refunded to a superannuation fund trustee .....	295-320 (table item 4) see also compensation, life insurance companies and recoupment

interest

infrastructure borrowings, on .....	159GZZZZG
loans raised in Australia by foreign governments, on .....	27
overpaid tax, on .....	15-35
qualifying securities, on .....	159GQ, 159GW(1)

see also co-operative companies and leases

investments

non-interest bearing Commonwealth securities, gains on disposal or redemption of .....	26C prizes from investment-related lotteries .....	26AJ qualifying securities, payments to partial residents made under .....	159GW(2) qualifying securities, amount assessable to issuer of .....	159GT(1B) qualifying securities, balancing adjustment on the transfer of .....	159GS securities, variation in terms of .....	159GV(2) securities lending arrangements .....	26BC traditional securities, gains on the disposal or redemption of .....	26BB see also films and interest

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

landcare operations

see recoupment

leased plant ..... Division 45

leases

- amounts received by lessor from lessee for
  - non-compliance with lease obligation to repair ..... 15-25
- interest component of payments under non-leveraged
  - finance leases ..... 159GK
- partnership leasing property under non-leveraged
  - finance lease, new partner or contribution of capital
    - since 14 May 1985 ..... 159GO
- premiums relating to assignment of a lease granted
  - before 20 September 1985 ..... 26AB
- profit on disposal of previously leased motor vehicles ..... Subdivision 20-B

leases of luxury cars

- accrual amounts ..... Schedule 2E
(42A-35(1))
- adjustment amounts (lessee) ..... Schedule 2E
(42A-70(2))
- adjustment amounts (lessor) ..... Schedule 2E
(42A-65(2))
- profit on actual sale ..... Schedule 2E
(42A-35(3))
- profit on notional sale ..... Schedule 2E
(42A-35(2))

leave payments

- accrued leave transfer payment ..... 15-5
  - unused annual leave payment ..... 83-10
  - unused long service leave payment ..... 83-80
- see employment*

life insurance companies

Subdivision 320-B

limited recourse debt

- excessive deduction amount (debtor) ..... 243-40
- excessive deduction amount (partner) ..... 243-65

liquidation

- distribution to a shareholder in winding up a company ..... 47(1)

live stock

- death or destruction of ..... Subdivision 385-E

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 10 Particular kinds of assessable income

Section 10-5

---

departing Australia and .....	385-160, 385-163
insolvency, and .....	385-160, 385-163
profits on death or disposal of .....	Subdivision 385-E, 385-160

see also compensation and trading stock

long service leave

see leave payments

losses

see compensation

lotteries

see investments

meals

see benefits

Mining

providing mining, quarrying or prospecting information .. 15-40

minors

see child

motor vehicles

see car expenses and leases

mutual insurance

see insurance

non-cash benefits

see benefits and employment

notional sales and loans

adjustment amounts (lessee).....	240-110(2)
adjustment amounts (lessor).....	240-105(2)
notional interest.....	240-35(1)
profit on actual sale.....	240-35(3)
profit on notional sale.....	240-35(2)

offshore banking units

see banking

partnerships

net income of, partner's interest in ..... 92(1)

uncontrolled partnership income, effect of ..... 94

see also leases

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

payments to members of copyright collecting societies payments by copyright collecting societies ..... 15-22

petroleum

resource rent tax, recovery of ..... 20-30(1)

see also capital allowances

premiums

see insurance, leases and superannuation

primary production

see recoupment

prizes

see investments

profits

profit-making undertaking or plan..... 15-15

sale of property acquired before 20 September 1985 for profit-making by sale ..... 25A

see also avoidance of tax

Project pools

An amount received for the abandonment, sale or other disposal of a project ..... 40-830, 40-832

property

see profits and trusts

quarrying

see mining and recoupment rates

see recoupment

recoupment

insurance or indemnity for deductible losses or outgoings ..... Subdivision 20-A other recoupment for certain deductible losses or outgoings ..... Subdivision 20-A see also car expenses, compensation, elections and petroleum

reimbursements

see car expenses, dividends, elections, first home saver accounts, petroleum and recoupment

reinsurance

see insurance

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 10 Particular kinds of assessable income

Section 10-5

---

research & development

consideration for loss or disposal etc. of plant, assets or buildings used for .....	73B(23) to (27C), 73BF, 73BM, 73G(4) return on .....	73B(27A), (27C), 73BF(4), (6), 73BM(4), (6) transferee of property used for, effect of disposal etc. or change of use by .....	73F(10)

residual value

see industrial property

retirement payments

see directors, leave payments and shareholders rights to income

see transfers of income

roads

see timber

royalties

..... 15-20

schemes

see avoidance of tax

scholarship plan

benefit under..... 15-60

scientific research

consideration for disposal or destruction of buildings acquired for scientific research .....	73A(4)
--	---------------

securities

see investments

services

see co-operative companies, employment, loans and trusts

shareholders

excessive remuneration or retirement payment from company .....	109
loans, payments and credits from company .....	Division 7A of Part III see also dividends

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

shares

acquired in a debt/equity swap, profit on the disposal cancellation or redemption of .....	63E(4)
bonus shares, cost of .....	6BA
buy-backs .....	159GZZZJ to 159GZZZT
employee share acquisition schemes .....	26AAC, 139 to 139GH holding company shares held by a subsidiary, cancellation of .....	159GZZZC to 159GZZZI small-medium enterprise, profit on disposal of shares in ..	128TG to 128TL see also dividends

shipping

goods shipped in Australia, amounts paid to foreign shipowners and charterers for .....	129
--	------------

small-medium enterprises (SMEs)

see shares

subsidies

.....	15-10
-------	-------

sugar industry exit grants

.....	15-65
-------	-------

superannuation

benefits generally .....	Divisions 301 to 306
benefits in breach of legislative requirements .....	Division 304
benefits received from older superannuation funds .....	26AF, 26AFA complying fund becomes non-complying, effect of .....	295-320 (table item 2) contributions to an approved deposit fund .....	Subdivisions 295- C and 295-D contributions to an RSA .....	Subdivision 295-C contributions to a superannuation fund .....	Subdivisions 295- C and 295-D death benefits .....	302-75 302-85 302-90 302-145

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 10 Particular kinds of assessable income

Section 10-5

---

foreign superannuation funds and schemes, benefits from .....	305-70
member benefits .....	301-20
	301-25
	301-35
	301-40
	Subdivision 301-C
foreign fund becoming Australian, effect of .....	295-320 (table item 3)
no-TFN contributions income .....	295-605
returned contributions .....	290-100
trustee's liability to pay tax .....	295-5(2) and (3)
see insurance tax avoidance see avoidance of tax and transfers of income tax exempt entities treatment of income and gains on becoming taxable .....	Schedule 2D taxes see dividends, foreign investment funds, interest and
recoupment
termination of employment see directors, eligible termination payments, leave
payments and shareholders
theft
see recoupment
trading stock
change in interests in .....	70-100
death of trader and .....	70-105
difference between opening and closing value of .....	70-35
disposal not at arm's length.....	70-20
disposal of outside ordinary course of business .....	70-90, 70-95 see also compensation and tax exempt entities transfers of income consideration for transfer of right to income .....	102CA
payments for transfer or disposal of property .....	262
transferee, effect on of transfer of right to income .....	102C
transferor, effect on of transfer of right to income .....	102B

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

travel expenses

see car expenses

trusts

beneficiary under legal disability or with a vested and indefeasible interest in trust income .....	100
deceased estates, income of .....	101A
discretionary trusts .....	101
net income of a trust estate, your present entitlement to	97, 101 non-resident beneficiaries, liability to tax of .....	98A non-resident trust estates to which you have transferred property or services, income of .....	102AAZD property of applied for benefit of beneficiaries .....	99B trust estate includes income from another trust estate	94(5) trustees' liability to tax .....	98, 99, 99A, 102, 102K, 102S see also avoidance of tax and superannuation

unearned income

see child

units

acquired in a debt/equity swap, profit on the disposal, cancellation or redemption of .....	63E(4)
--	---------------

water conservation

see recoupment

winding-up

see insurance and liquidation

wool clips

double wool clips, treatment of .....	385-135, 385-155
---------------------------------------	------------------

work in progress

receipt of a work in progress amount .....	15-50
--	-------

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 11 Particular kinds of non-assessable income

Section 11-1A

---

Division 11—Particular kinds of non-assessable income

Table of Subdivisions

- 11-A Lists of classes of exempt income
- 11-B Particular kinds off non-assessable non-exempt income

Subdivision 11-A—Lists of classes of exempt income

Table of sections

- 11-1A Effect of this Subdivision
- 11-1 Overview
- 11-5 Entities that are exempt, no matter what kind of ordinary or statutory income they have
- 11-10 Ordinary or statutory income which is exempt, no matter whose it is
- 11-15 Ordinary or statutory income which is exempt only if it is derived by certain entities

11-1A Effect of this Subdivision

This Subdivision is a *Guide.

11-1 Overview

Ordinary income or statutory income which is exempt from income tax can be divided into 3 main classes:

- (a) ordinary or statutory income of entities that are exempt, no matter what kind of ordinary or statutory income they have (see table in section 11-5);
- (b) ordinary or statutory income which is exempt, no matter whose it is (see table in section 11-10);
- (c) ordinary or statutory income which is exempt only if it is *derived by certain entities (see table in section 11-15).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

11-5 Entities that are exempt, no matter what kind of ordinary or statutory income they have

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 are identified in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Note: Special rules apply to entities that cease to be exempt. See Schedule 2D to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

charity, education, religion or science charitable fund, public .....	50-5
charitable institution .....	50-5
educational institution, public.....	50-5 religious institution.....	50-5
scientific institution .....	50-5
scientific research fund.....	50-5
scientific society etc. ....	50-5
community service
community service society etc.....	50-10
employees and employers
employee association.....	50-15
employer association .....	50-15
trade union .....	50-15
film
Australian Film Finance Corporation .....	50-45
funds established by will or trust contributions to other funds.....	50-20
government
constitutionally protected fund .....	50-25
local governing body .....	50-25
municipal corporation.....	50-25
public authority.....	50-25
state/territory bodies .....	24AK to 24AZ
health
health benefits organisation .....	50-30
hospital .....	50-30
medical benefits organisation .....	50-30

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 11 Particular kinds of non-assessable income

Section 11-10

---

HIH rescue package

HIH Claims Support Trust .....	322-10
--------------------------------	--------

mining

British Phosphate Commissioners Banaba Contingency Fund .....	50-35
Phosphate Mining Company of Christmas Island .....	50-35

primary or secondary resources, and tourism

agricultural society etc. ....	50-40
aviation society etc. ....	50-40
horticultural society etc. ....	50-40
industrial society etc. ....	50-40
manufacturing society etc. ....	50-40
pastoral society etc. ....	50-40
tourism society etc. ....	50-40
viticultural society etc. ....	50-40

sports, culture or recreation

animal racing society etc. ....	50-45
art society etc. ....	50-45
game society etc. ....	50-45
literature society etc. ....	50-45
music society etc. ....	50-45
sport society etc. ....	50-45

11-10 Ordinary or statutory income which is exempt, no matter whose it is

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 are identified in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

dividends or shares

pooled development fund company dividend .....	124ZM
pooled development fund company shares, income from sale of .....	124ZN

financial arrangements

gains related to exempt income .....	230-30
--------------------------------------	--------

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

financial transactions infrastructure borrowings, income in relation to .....	159GZZZZE pooled development fund company dividends .....	124ZM
pooled development fund company shares, income from sale of .....	124ZN
foreign aspects of income taxation
Australian-American Education Foundation, grant from ...	51-10
interest
judgment debt, personal injury .....	51-57
non-cash benefits
business benefit .....	23L(2)
exempt fringe benefit.....	23L(1A)
prizes
Prime Minister's Prize for Australian History .....	51-60
Prime Minister's Prize for Science .....	51-60
Prime Minister's Literary Awards .....	51-60
superannuation
benefits from non-complying funds .....	305-5

11-15 Ordinary or statutory income which is exempt only if it is derived by certain entities

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 are identified in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

agricultural industry exit grants
sugar industry exit grants.....	53-10
tobacco industry exit grants.....	53-10
copyright collecting societies copyright income .....	51-43(2)(a) non-copyright income up to certain limits.....	51-43(2)(b)
credit unions interest .....	23G

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 11 Particular kinds of non-assessable income

Section 11-15

---

defence

Defence Force member, allowances .....	51-5
Defence Force member, compensation payments for loss of deployment allowance for warlike service .....	51-5
F-111 Deseal/Reseal Ex-gratia Lump Sum Payments .....	51-5
Former Reserve Defence Force member, compensation payments for loss of pay and/or allowances.....	51-5
Reserve Defence Force member, pay and allowances.....	51-5

education and training

Apprenticeship Wage Top-Up payment, recipient of .....	51-10
bursary, educational allowance etc. ....	51-10 and 51-35
Commonwealth Trade Learning Scholarship, recipient of .....	51-10
CRAFT scheme, employer's income from .....	51-10
early completion bonuses for apprentices.....	51-10 and 51-42
Endeavour Awards, research fellowship under .....	51-10
Endeavour Executive Award .....	51-10
foreign student, scholarship and bursary to .....	842-105
full-time student, income from a scholarship, bursary, other educational allowance or educational assistance .....	51-10 and 51-35 isolated child, income for the provision of education of....	51-10 and 51-40 secondary student, income for the provision of education of .....	51-10 and 51-40
Skills for Sustainability for Australian Apprentices payment, recipient of .....	51-10
Tools for Your Trade payment (under the program known as the Australian Apprenticeships Incentives Program), recipient of .....	51-10

family assistance

baby bonus.....	52-150
child care benefit .....	52-150
child care rebate.....	52-150
family tax benefit .....	52-150
maternity immunisation allowance.....	52-150
one-off payment to families .....	52-150

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

payments to families under the scheme determined under Schedule 3 to the Family Assistance Legislation Amendment (More Help for Families— One-off Payments) Act 2004 .....	52-150 economic security strategy payment to families .....	52-150
payments to families under the scheme determined under Schedule 4 to the Social Security and Other Legislation Amendment (Economic Security Strategy) Act 2008 .....	52-160 back to school bonus or single income family bonus .....	52-150
payments under the scheme determined under Schedule 4 to the Household Stimulus Package Act (No. 2) 2009 .....	52-165
foreign aspects of income taxation
approved overseas project, income from .....	23AF
Commonwealth of Nations country officer, official salary and foreign income .....	768-100
consul and official staff member, official salary and foreign income .....	768-100
Defence Force member, pay and allowances from being on eligible duty .....	23AD
Defence Force member, foreign resident, pay and allowances of .....	842-105
Defence Force member, pay and allowances from performing duties in operational areas .....	23AC defence of Australia, overseas person's income from assisting in Australia's defence .....	842-105 diplomat and official staff member, official salary and foreign income .....	768-100 educational, scientific, religious or philanthropic society, income of a visiting representative of .....	842-105 expert, foreign resident, remuneration of .....	842-105
foreign society or association representative, income of ...	842-105 government representative and members of the entourage, foreign resident, income of .....	842-105
OBU off-shore investment trusts, income to which subsection 121D(6) applies .....	121EL
OBU investment trusts for overseas charitable institutions.....	121EL(2)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 11 Particular kinds of non-assessable income

Section 11-15

---

overseas charitable institutions, income from OBUs.....	121ELA(1) overseas employment income, resident, income of .....	23AG
persecution victim, payments to .....	768-105
press representative, foreign, income of .....	842-105
resistance fighter and victim of wartime persecution, payments to .....	768-105
Territory resident, income from sources in a prescribed Territory .....	24G
Territory resident company or trust, income from sources outside Australia .....	24F
United Nations, income from service with .....	23AB
United States projects, income from approved overseas projects .....	23AA
life insurance companies	Subdivision 320-B
small business retirement exemption
payment by company or trust, arising from CGT event ....	152-310(2)
social security or like payments
ABSTUDY scheme, payment under.....	Subdivision 52-E
carer adjustment payment.....	53-10
carer supplement.....	52-10
child disability assistance .....	Subdivision 52-A
Commonwealth education or training payment.....	Subdivision 52-F
DFISA bonus and DFISA bonus bereavement payment ....	52-65
disability services payment .....	53-10
economic security strategy payment under the Social Security Act 1991 .....	52-10
economic security strategy payment under the Veterans’ Entitlements Act 1986 .....	52-65
education entry payment supplement under the Social Security Act 1991 .....	52-10
exceptional circumstances relief, payment for .....	53-10 and 53-15
farmers hardship bonus under the Social Security Act 1991 .....	52-10
farm help income support.....	53-10 and 53-15
2006 one-off payment to older Australians under the Social Security Act 1991 .....	52-10

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

payments under the scheme determined under item 1 of Schedule 2 to the Social Security and Veterans’ Entitlements Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments to Increase Assistance for Older Australians and Carers and Other Measures) Act 2006 .....	52-10
2007 one-off payment to older Australians under the Social Security Act 1991 .....	52-10
payments under a scheme determined under item 1 of Schedule 2 to the Social Security and Veterans’ Affairs Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments and Other 2007 Budget Measures) Act 2007 .....	52-10
2008 one-off payment to older Australians under the Social Security Act 1991 .....	52-10
payments under a scheme determined under item 1 of Schedule 2 to the Social Security and Veterans’ Entitlements Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments and Other Budget Measures) Act 2008 .....	52-10
payments under the scheme determined under Schedule 4 to the Household Stimulus Package Act (No. 2) 2009 .....	52-165
payments under the scheme determined under Schedule 4 to the Social Security and Other Legislation Amendment (Economic Security Strategy) Act 2008 .....	52-160
2008 one-off payment to older Australians under the Veterans’ Entitlements Act 1986 .....	52-65
payments under the scheme determined under item 2 of Schedule 2 to the Social Security and Veterans’ Entitlements Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments and Other Budget Measures) Act 2008 .....	52-65
one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related) or one-off payment to carers (carer payment related) .....	52-10
payments to carers under the scheme determined under Schedule 3 to the Family Assistance Legislation Amendment (More Help for Families—One-off Payments) Act 2004 .....	52-10
2005 one-off payment to carers (carer payment related), 2005 one-off payment to carers (carer service pension related) or 2005 one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related).....	52-10

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 11 Particular kinds of non-assessable income

Section 11-15

---

payments under the scheme determined under Schedule 2 to the Social Security Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments for Carers) Act 2005 ...	52-10
2006 one-off payment to carers (carer payment related), 2006 one-off payment to carers (wife pension related), 2006 one-off payment to carers (partner service pension related), 2006 one-off payment to carers (carer service pension related) or 2006 one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related) .....	52-10
payments under the scheme determined under Schedule 4 to the Social Security and Veterans’ Entitlements Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments to Increase Assistance for Older Australians and Carers and Other Measures) Act 2006 .....	52-10
2007 one-off payment to carers (carer payment related), 2007 one-off payment to carers (wife pension related), 2007 one-off payment to carers (partner service pension related), 2007 one-off payment to carers (carer service pension related) or 2007 one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related).....	52-10
payments under the scheme determined under Schedule 4 to the Social Security and Veterans’ Affairs Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments and Other 2007 Budget Measures) Act 2007 .....	52-10
2008 one-off payment to carers (carer payment related), 2008 one-off payment to carers (wife pension related), 2008 one-off payment to carers (partner service pension related), 2008 one-off payment to carers (carer service pension related) or 2008 one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related).....	52-10
payments under the scheme determined under Schedule 4 to the Social Security and Veterans’ Entitlements Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments and Other Budget Measures) Act 2008 .....	52-10
pension bonus and pension bonus bereavement payment...	52-10 and 52-65
persecution victim, payments to .....	768-105
private health insurance .....	52-125
resistance fighter and victim of wartime persecution, payments to .....	768-105
social security payments .....	Subdivision 52-A

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

training and learning bonus under the Social Security Act 1991 .....	52-10
travelling expenses for Australian participants in British nuclear tests .....	Subdivision 52-CB veteran, Australian and United Kingdom, payment to .....	53-20
veteran, payment to .....	Subdivisions 52-B and 52-C wounds and disability pension .....	53-10
see also welfare structured settlements and structured orders annuities and lump sums .....	Subdivisions 54-B, 54-C and 54-D
student see education and training superannuation and related business approved deposit fund, continuously complying fixed interest, income from 25 May 1988 deposits .....	295-390 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997 approved deposit fund, income from a grant of financial assistance under Part 23 of the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 .....	295-405 (table item 1) approved deposit fund, non-reversionary bonuses on policies of life assurance .....	295-335 (table item 1) pooled superannuation trust, income from constitutionally protected funds .....	295-335 (table item 2)
pooled superannuation trust, income from current pension liabilities of complying superannuation funds .....	295-400
pooled superannuation trust, non-reversionary bonuses on policies of life assurance .....	295-335 (table item 1) superannuation fund, income from other assets used to meet current pension liabilities .....	295-390
superannuation fund, income from segregated current pensions assets .....	295-385 superannuation fund, non-reversionary bonuses on policies of life assurance .....	295-335 (table item 1)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 11 Particular kinds of non-assessable income

Section 11-50

---

superannuation fund, regulated, income from a grant of financial assistance under Part 23 of the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 ..... 295-405 (table item 1)

United Nations

Australian Federal Police member in Cambodia, pay and allowance ..... 23ADA

United Nations Service, income from ..... 23AB

venture capital

eligible venture capital investments, gain or profit from realisation of ..... 51-54 eligible venture capital investments by ESVCLPs, income derived from ..... 51-52 venture capital equity, gain or profit from realisation of .... 51-55

welfare

Income Recovery Subsidy for the North Queensland floods of January and February 2009 ..... 51-30

Income Recovery Subsidy for the Victorian bushfires of January and February 2009 ..... 51-30 maintenance payment ..... 51-30 and 51-50

see also social security or like payments

Note: The following provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 give rise to notional exempt income and not exempt income. For this reason the provisions do not appear in the lists of kinds of exempt income.

The provisions are: paragraphs 384(1)(b) and 385(1)(b), subsection 402(2) and sections 403 and 404.

Subdivision 11-B—Particular kinds of non-assessable non-exempt income

Table of sections

11-50	Effect of this Subdivision
11-55	List of non-assessable non-exempt income provisions

11-50 Effect of this Subdivision

This Subdivision is a *Guide.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

11-55 List of non-assessable non-exempt income provisions

The provisions set out in the list make amounts non-assessable non-exempt income.

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 are identified in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

alienated personal services income
associate, non-deductible payment or obligation to.....	85-20(3)
entitlements to a share of net income that is personal services income already assessable to an individual .....	86-35(2) payments by personal services entity or associate of personal services income already assessable to an individual .....	86-35(1) personal services entity, amounts of personal services income assessable to an individual .....	86-30
bonds see securities
capital gains tax
payments made by an interposed entity in relation to the small business retirement exemption .....	152-310(3)
demutualisation of private health insurers market value of shares and rights at time of issue .....	315-310 payments received in exchange for cancellation or variation of interests under the demutualisation	315-310
disasters
2009 Victorian bushfires—Clean-up and Restoration Grants for primary producers .....	59-50
2009 Victorian bushfires—Clean-up and Restoration Grants for small businesses .....	59-50
dividends
demerger dividends.....	44(4)
later dividend set off against amount taken to be dividend.	109ZC(3) employment
early retirement scheme payment, tax free amount of .....	83-170

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 11 Particular kinds of non-assessable income

Section 11-55

---

employment termination payment .....	82-10 82-65 82-70
foreign termination payment .....	83-235 83-240
genuine redundancy payment, tax free amount of .....	83-170
unused long service leave payment, pre-16/8/78 period ....	83-80 see superannuation and sections 82-10A and 82-10C of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997 financial arrangements
gains related to non-assessable non-exempt income .....	230-30
firearms surrender arrangements compensation under .....	59-10
first home saver accounts credits to and payments from .....	345-50
tax paid by providers .....	345-30
foreign aspects of income taxation
attributed controlled foreign company income .....	23AI attributed foreign investment fund income .....	23AK
dividend from a foreign country, non-portfolio .....	23AJ branch profits of Australian companies .....	23AH
distributions of conduit foreign income .....	802-20
income derived by temporary residents .....	768-910
interest paid by temporary residents .....	768-980
managed investment trust withholding tax, amount subject to .....	840-815 superannuation fund, foreign, interest and dividend income of .....	128B(3)(jb) withholding tax, dividend royalty or interest subject to .....	128D
GST
GST payable on a taxable supply .....	17-5(a) increasing adjustments .....	17-5(b) and (c)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

life insurance companies .....	Subdivision 320-B
mining
withholding tax, payments to Aboriginals and distributing bodies subject to.....	59-15
mutual receipts
amounts that would be mutual receipts but for prohibition on distributions to members.....	59-35
National Rental Affordability Scheme
payments made, and non-cash benefits provided, by a State or Territory governmental body in relation to participation in the National Rental Affordability Scheme.....	380-35
non-cash benefits
fringe benefits .....	23L(1)
notional sale and loan arrangement payments a notional seller receives or is entitled to receive .....	240-40
luxury car leases, lease payments that the lessor receives or is entitled to receive .....	42A-40 in Schedule 2E deemed loan treatment for financial benefits provided for tax preferred use of asset.....	250-160
offshore banking units
assessable OB income other than eligible fraction .....	121EG
related entities amounts from, where deduction reduced for .....	26-35(4)
repayable amounts
previously assessable amounts .....	59-30
rights to acquire shares or units
market value of at time of issue .....	59-40
securities
securities acquired at a discount on or before 30 June 1982, amount received on sale or redemption of .....	23J
special bond, amount received on redemption of .....	23E
small business assets income arising from CGT event, company or trust owned asset continuously for 15 years .....	152-110(2)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 11 Particular kinds of non-assessable income

Section 11-55

---

social security or like payments

older Australians, bonus payments made to ..... 59-5

superannuation

benefits generally ..... Divisions 301 to 306

commutation of income stream, under 25 years ..... 303-5

death benefits ..... 302-60
302-65
302-70
302-140

departing Australia superannuation benefits ..... 301-175 foreign superannuation funds, lump sum benefits ..... 305-60 305-65

305-70

member benefits ..... 301-10
301-15
301-30
301-225

release authorities, payments from ..... 304-15

roll-over superannuation benefits ..... 306-5 superannuation lump sum for recipient having terminal medical condition ..... 303-10 unclaimed money payment ..... 306-20

tax bonus

payments in accordance with the Tax Bonus for Working Australians Act (No. 2) 2009 ..... 59-45

tax loss transfers

consideration received by loss company from income company, generally ..... 170-25(1)

consideration received by loss company from income company, net capital loss ..... 170-125(1)

temporary residents

see foreign aspects of income taxation

trading stock

disposal outside ordinary course of business, amounts received upon ..... 70-90(2)

trusts

attributable income, amounts representing ..... 99B(2A)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

family trust distribution tax, amounts subject to.....	271-105(3) in Schedule 2F
windfall amounts
business franchise fees, refund of when invalid .....	59-20
State tax on Commonwealth place, refund of when invalid	59-25
withholding taxes
see foreign aspects of income taxation and mining

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 12—Particular kinds of deductions

12-1 Effect of this Division

This Division is a *Guide.

12-5 List of provisions about deductions [see Note 4]

The provisions set out in the table contain rules about specific types of deduction.

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 are identified in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

accrued leave transfer payments	26-10
advance expenditure generally	82KZL to 82KZO
avoidance arrangements	82KJ
when deductible	82KZM to 82KZN
bad debts
deduction reduced because of forgiveness of debt if debtor and creditor are companies under common ownership and agree on the reduction	245-90 of Schedule 2C
general	25-35, 63F
companies	Subdivisions 165-C, 166-C and 175-C
debt/equity swaps	63E, 63F , 709-220
deduction of a debt that used to be owed to a member of a consolidated group or MEC group by an entity that used to be a member of the group	Subdivisions 709-D and 719-I money lenders, listed country branches, no deduction for	63D see also losses

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

balancing adjustment

see buildings, capital allowances, industrial property, research & development and tax exempt entities

banks

foreign banks, Australian branches of ..... 160ZZVA to 160ZZZJ

boats

deferral of deductions ..... 26-47

borrowing expenses

..... 25-25

bribes to foreign public officials ..... 26-52

bribes to public officials ..... 26-53

buildings

income producing buildings, capital allowances ..... Division 43 see also heritage conservation work

capital allowances

generally ..... Division 40

balancing adjustments ..... 40-285(2), 40-370

business related costs ..... 40-880

electricity and telephone lines ..... 40-645

environmental protection activities ..... 40-755

exploration or prospecting ..... 40-80(1), 40-730

in-house software ..... 40-335, 40-455 intellectual property ..... Subdivisions 40-B and 40-I

IRUs ..... Subdivision 40-B

landcare operations ..... 40-630

low-value and software development pools ..... Subdivision 40-E mining and quarrying ..... Subdivision 40-H and Subdivision 40-I new business investment, additional deduction ..... Division 41

Petroleum Resource Rent Tax ..... 40-750

project pools ..... 40-830, 40-832

reducing deductions ..... 40-25, 40-290 spectrum licences ..... Subdivision 40-B tax preferred use of asset..... Division 250

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 12 Particular kinds of deductions

Section 12-5

---

telecommunications site access rights .....	Subdivision 40-B trees in carbon sink forests .....	Subdivision 40-J water facilities and horticultural plants .....	Subdivision 40-F
capital gains
beneficiary whose assessable income includes share of net income of trust with net capital gain.....	115-215
no deduction for an amount that would otherwise be deductible only because a net capital gain is included in assessable income.....	51AAA see also foreign residents capital loss
net capital loss, no deduction for .....	102-10
net capital loss, transfer within company group .....	Subdivision 170-B car disposal see capital allowances
car expenses
generally .....	Division 28
“cents per kilometre” method .....	Subdivision 28-C
“log book” method .....	Subdivisions 28-F and 28-G
“one-third of actual expenses” method .....	Subdivision 28-E
substantiation of car expenses .....	Division 900
“12% of original value” method .....	Subdivision 28-D see also transport expenses car expenses of employee
employee’s car expenses where car provided by employer can be used for private purposes, no deduction for .....	51AF
carried interests
carried interests, no deduction for.....	118-21
car parking
employee’s car parking expenses, no deduction for .....	51AGA
children’s income generally .....	102AA to 102AH
taxable income of a child, deductions taken into consideration in calculating .....	102AD

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

club fees
club fees, no deduction for .....	26-45
see also subscriptions to associations Commonwealth places windfall tax
.....	26-17
companies, co-operative and mutual generally .....	117 to 121
distributions of assessable income .....	120
companies, private
excessive payments to shareholders directors and associates, reduced deduction .....	109 conservation covenants
.....	Division 31
financial arrangements
Assets in relation to Division 230 financial arrangement ...	701-61(4)
controlled foreign companies generally .....	316 to 468
bad debts .....	399A
decline in value of depreciating assets .....	398
finance share dividends .....	394
taxes paid .....	393
convertible notes see interest copyrights
expenditure in obtaining registration .....	Subdivisions 40-B and 40-I currency exchange gains and losses see foreign exchange death of timber owner see timber
debt interests
certain returns in respect of debt interests .....	25-85
depreciation see capital allowances
designs expenditure in obtaining or extending registration .....	Subdivisions 40-B and 40-I

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 12 Particular kinds of deductions

Section 12-5

---

disposal of depreciating assets

see capital allowances

dividends

dividends including LIC capital gain component .....	115-280
franking credits, companies and foreign residents .....	207-95(2), 207-95(3), 220-405(3)
franking credits, pooled development funds (PDFs) .....	124ZM non-share equity interests, no deduction for return in respect of .....	26-26
unfranked non-portfolio dividends.....	46FA

education expenses

Higher Education Contribution Scheme, no deduction unless provided as fringe benefit .....	26-20 limit on deduction .....	82A

election expenses

Federal and State Parliament election expenses .....	25-60, 25-70
local government election expenses, limited deduction for .....	25-65, 25-70

electricity connections

see capital allowances

embezzlement

see theft

employees

pensions, gratuities or retiring allowances for ex-employees .....	25-50 see also shares

entertainment

expenditure, no deduction for some .....	Division 32
meal entertainment, calculation of deductible amount .....	51AEA to 51AEC

environment

see capital allowances

excess contributions tax

no deduction .....	26-75
--------------------	-------

exploration and prospecting

see capital allowances

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

family
no deduction for maintaining spouse or child .....	26-40
family tax benefit
fee or commission for advice .....	25-7
farm management deposits see primary production
film income
Australian films .....	124ZAA to 124ZAP
see also tax losses film licensed investment companies (FLICs) see shares
financial arrangements
losses from .....	230-15(2) and (3) see also borrowing expenses, infrastructure borrowings,     interest, leases and securities foreign exchange
losses .....	775-30
foreign financial entities' Australian permanent establishments generally .....	Part IIIB
thin capitalisation .....	Subdivision 820-FB
transfer of losses .....	Subdivisions 170-A and 170-B
foreign investment funds (FIFs) generally .....	469 to 624
loss under cash surrender values method .....	533 loss under market value method .....	532
notional deductions .....	567 to 574
foreign life assurance policies see foreign investment funds forestry managed investment schemes
payments under scheme .....	394-10(1)
franchise fees windfall tax
.....	26-15

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 12 Particular kinds of deductions

Section 12-5

---

freight

freight for shipped goods ..... 135A

fringe benefits

contributions for private component, no deduction for ..... 51AJ employee's car expenses where car provided by employer can be used for private purposes, no deduction for ..... 51AF

employee's car parking expenses, no deduction for ..... 51AGA expense payment fringe benefits, reduced deduction ..... 51AH

general insurance claims paid ..... 321-25 and 323-20 of

Schedule 2J

increase in value of outstanding claims liability ..... 321-15 and 323-10 of
Schedule 2J

increase in value of unearned premium reserve ..... 321-55 of Schedule 2J

gifts

general ..... Division 30

limit on deduction ..... 26-55

see also tax avoidance schemes

horticultural plants

see capital allowances

higher education assistance ..... 26-20

illegal activities ..... 26-54

income equalisation deposits

see primary production

industrial property

unit relating to copyright in Australian film..... 124K to 124Z

see also intellectual property and research and development

infrastructure borrowings

generally ..... 159GZZZZD to 159GZZZZH

no deduction for ..... 159GZZZZE

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

insurance with non-residents generally .....	141 to 148
insurance premiums, no deduction unless arrangement to pay tax .....	145
reinsurance, no deduction for resident carrying on insurance business in Australia for reinsurance premiums paid to a non-resident .....	148
intellectual property
see capital allowances
interest
convertible notes, interest on, generally .....	82L to 82T
foreign residents, debt creation involving, generally .....	159GZY to 159GZZF foreign residents, delayed deduction for interest paid to until withholding tax payable has been paid .....	26-25 life assurance premiums, interest etc. on loans to finance, no deduction for .....	26-85
superannuation contributions, interest etc. on loans to finance, no deduction for .....	26-80
underpayment or late payment of tax, interest for .....	25-5
see also infrastructure borrowings
international agreements
see transfer pricing
international profit shifting
see transfer pricing
investment company
see shares
IRUs
see capital allowances
land degradation
see primary production
lease document expenses
.....	25-20
leases
finance leases and arrangements, use of property if end-user an exempt public body or use outside Australia to produce exempt income .....	159GE to 159GO leases of assets being put to tax preferred use.....	Division 250

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 12 Particular kinds of deductions

Section 12-5

---

leveraged arrangements, property used:

- other than to produce assessable income; or
- by a non-resident outside Australia; or
- by a previous owner

..... 51AD

payment for failure to comply with lease obligation to repair premises ..... 25-15

leases of luxury cars

accrual amounts ..... Schedule 2E
(42A-50)

adjustment amounts (lessee) ..... Schedule 2E (42A-70(1))

adjustment amounts (lessor)..... Schedule 2E
(42A-65(3))

lease payments not deductible..... Schedule 2E (42A-55)

payments to acquire car not deductible..... Schedule 2E (42A-85 and 42A-100)

leave payments

accrued leave transfer payments ..... 26-10

no deduction for leave payments until paid ..... 26-10

leisure facilities

no deduction for ..... 26-50

life insurance companies ..... Subdivision 320-C

limited recourse debt

later payments ..... 243-45

later payments (replacement debt) ..... 243-50

loans

see borrowing expenses, interest and securities

losses

foreign exchange ..... 775-30

profit-making undertaking or scheme ..... 25-40 property sale ..... 25-40

traditional securities, loss on disposal or redemption of .... 70B

see also tax losses

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

management and investment company shares
see shares
membership of associations
see subscriptions to associations
mining
see capital allowances
misappropriation
by employee or agent .....	25-47
mortgage
expenses of discharging a mortgage .....	25-30
motor vehicles
see car expenses and leases
non-cash transactions non-cash business benefits .....	51AK
non-cash consideration, money value deemed to have been paid or given .....	21 non-commercial business activities
deferral of non-commercial losses .....	Division 35
non-resident trust estates generally .....	102AAA to 102AAZG
modified application of depreciation provisions .....	102AAZ modified application of trading stock provisions .....	102AAZ
no deductions allowable under Division 36 .....	102AAZC
notional sales and loans
adjustment amounts (lessee) .....	240-110(1)
adjustment amounts (lessor).....	240-105(3)
arrangement payments, no deduction for .....	240-55
notional interest.....	240-50, 250-155
deemed loan treatment for financial benefits provided for tax preferred use of asset.....	Subdivision 250-C payments to acquire property, no deduction for.....	240-85
offshore banking units generally .....	121A to 121EL
deductions for .....	121EG

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 12 Particular kinds of deductions

Section 12-5

---

partnerships

foreign hybrid loss exposure adjustment.....	830-50 losses, partner's share of partnership loss .....	90, 92

patents

expenditure relating to grant of patents, etc. ....	Subdivisions 40-B and 40-I
---	-------------------------------

penalties

no deduction for penalties .....	26-5
----------------------------------	------

personal services income

alienated personal services income .....	Subdivision 86-B
general.....	Division 85

political parties

contributions to .....	Division 30
------------------------	-------------

pooled development funds (PDFs)

.....	124ZM to 124ZZD
-------	----------------------------

prepaid expenditure

see advance expenditure

primary production

farm management deposits.....	393-1 to 393-65 of Schedule 2G
-------------------------------	---

see also capital allowances and timber

property

arrangements relating to assets being put to tax preferred use .....	Division 250
---	--------------

arrangements relating to use of property if end-user an exempt public body or use outside Australia to produce exempt income .....	159GE to 159GO
--	-----------------------

leveraged arrangements, property used:

- other than to produce assessable income; or
- by a non-resident outside Australia; or
- by a previous owner

.....	51AD
-------	-------------

sale of property, profit or loss .....	82(2)
--	--------------

see also capital allowances and losses

public trading trusts

generally .....	102M to 102T
-----------------	---------------------

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

qualifying securities
see securities
rates and land taxes
premises used to produce mutual receipts.....	25-75
regional headquarters (RHQs)
.....	82C to 82CE
reimbursements expense payment fringe benefits, reduced deduction .....	51AH
reinsurance
see insurance with non-residents
related entities (including relatives)
reduction of deduction for payment or liability to .....	26-35, 65(1B) and (1C) repairs
general .....	25-10
repair covenants, payment for non-compliance with covenant to repair under lease .....	25-15
research &amp; development generally .....	73B to 73G
scientific research .....	73A
175% deduction .....	73P to 73Z
roads
see timber
royalties
royalty, no deduction for royalty paid to a foreign resident until the withholding tax payable has been paid.....	26-25
scientific research
see research &amp; development
securities
qualifying securities .....	159GP to 159GZ
substituted securities .....	23K traditional securities, loss on disposal or redemption of ....	70B

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 12 Particular kinds of deductions

Section 12-5

---

shares

buy-backs .....	159GZZZJ to 159GZZZT
cancellation of subsidiary's shares in holding company ....	159GZZZC to 159GZZZI employee share acquisition schemes, deduction for provider of qualifying shares or rights .....	139DC film licensed investment companies, deduction for subscription for shares in .....	Subdivision 375-H small-medium enterprise, loss on disposal of shares in .....	128TG to 128TL see also dividends and securities

small-medium enterprises (SMEs)

see shares

Software

see capital allowances

spectrum licences

see capital allowances

State or Territory bodies (STBs)

body ceasing to be STB, some deductions not allowed .....	24AW to 24AYA
---	----------------------

subscriptions to associations

.....	25-55
-------	-------

substantiation

work, travel and car expenses .....	Division 900
-------------------------------------	--------------

superannuation

see insurance and annuity business and interest

superannuation and related business

generally .....	Part 3-30
asset disposals .....	295-85
death or disability benefits, deduction for future service element .....	295-470 death or disability cover, premiums for .....	295-465 detriment payments .....	295-485
financial assistance levy .....	295-490(1) (table item 3)

superannuation contributions surcharge

no deduction .....	26-60
--------------------	-------

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

superannuation—deductibility of contributions

generally .....	Division 290
contributions for employees etc. ....	Subdivision 290-B contributions to non-complying funds .....	sections 290-10 and 290-75
limit on deduction .....	26-55
no deduction under any other provision of the Act .....	section 290-10
personal contributions .....	Subdivision 290-C

superannuation guarantee charge

no deduction for .....	26-95
late contribution offset, no deduction for .....	290-95

superannuation supervisory levy

late lodgment amount, no deduction for.....	26-90
---	-------

tax agent's fees

see tax related expenses

tax avoidance schemes

companies, use of tax losses or deductions to avoid tax ....	Division 175 diverted assessable income .....	121F to 121L dividend stripping .....	177E
gifts .....	78A
imputation, manipulation of.....	207-150(2), 207-150(3)
international profit shifting, transfer pricing .....	136AA to 136AF prepaid outgoings to avoid tax .....	82KJ
recouped expenditure .....	82KH to 82KL
tax avoidance scheme, no deduction allowable where deduction the result of .....	177A to 177G
trading stock .....	70-20, 52A

tax exempt entities

treatment of losses and outgoings on becoming taxable ....	Schedule 2D
--	--------------------

tax losses

bad debts, companies .....	165-120 change of ownership or control of a company
generally .....	Division 165
for earlier income years .....	Subdivision 165-A for income year of the change .....	Subdivision 165-B

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 12 Particular kinds of deductions

Section 12-5

---

earlier income years .....	Division 36
film losses .....	Subdivision 375-G
life insurance companies.....	Subdivision 320-D
pooled development funds .....	Subdivision 195-A transfer between companies in same wholly-owned group .....	Subdivision 170-A tax preferred asset financing
generally.....	Division 250
denial of capital allowance deductions in relation to asset being put to tax preferred use .....	250-145 reduction in capital allowance deductions in relation to asset being put to tax preferred use .....	250-150
tax related expenses
.....	25-5
telecommunications site access rights
see capital allowances
telephone lines
see primary production
termination payments surcharge
no deduction .....	26-65
theft
by employee or agent .....	25-45
thin capitalisation
disallowing of deductions .....	Division 820
timber
death of owner of land carrying trees, deduction of the part of land cost attributable to trees .....	70-120 disposal of land carrying trees, deduction of the part of land cost attributable to trees.....	70-120
felling trees, deduction of cost of land attributable to trees felled or of cost of right to fell trees.....	70-120
see also capital allowances
trading ships
see capital allowancesn
trading stock
Commissioner may determine whether consideration paid for chose in action is reasonable .....	52A

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

excess of opening stock over closing value .....	70-35(3)
expenditure deemed not to be of a capital nature .....	70-25
prepayments, when stock becomes trading stock on hand .....	70-15
see also tax avoidance schemes and timber
traditional securities
see securities
training guarantee
training guarantee charge, no deduction for .....	51(7)
transfer pricing generally .....	136AA to 136AF
adjustments to deductions .....	136AF
transport expenses
incurred in travel between workplaces .....	25-100
travel expenses
accompanying relatives, no deduction for some travel expenses .....	26-30
see also substantiation
trees in carbon sink forests
see capital allowances
trusts
trust income, deductions considered in calculating .....	95 to 102
unit trusts .....	102D to 102L
see also foreign residents, non-resident trust estates and public trading trusts uniforms
non-compulsory uniforms .....	Division 34
United Medical Protection Limited support payments
.....	25-105
uranium mining
see mining
water facilities
see capital allowances
work expenses
see substantiation
work in progress
payment of a work in progress amount .....	25-95

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Division 13—Tax offsets

13-1A Effect of this Division

This Division is a *Guide.

13-1 List of tax offsets

The provisions set out in the list allow you a tax offset.

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 are identified in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Aboriginal study assistance

see social security and other benefit payments

annual leave

see leave payments

annuity

see superannuation

approved deposit funds (ADFs)

see dividends

averaging

see primary production

bonuses

see life assurance child

child care ..... Subdivision
61-IA

first child..... Subdivision 61-I increased tax payable under Part III Division 6AA, unreasonable ..... 102AH

trust income ..... 100(2)

child/housekeeper

see dependants

corporate unit trusts

see dividends

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Cyclone Larry or Cyclone Monica income support payment
see social security and other benefit payments
defence force members serving overseas .....	79B
dependants
child of person keeping house for the person .....	159J
housekeeper, caring for child, invalid relative or disabled spouse .....	159L invalid relative .....	159J parents/parents in law .....	159J
spouse .....	159J
see also medical expenses
dividends
general .....	207-20(2), 207-45, 207-110(2)(c), 210-170(1)
education expenses
payment of .....	Subdivision 61-M
employment termination
employment termination payments .....	82-10 82-70
see leave payments, superannuation and sections 82-10A and 82-10C of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997
entrepreneurs' tax offset
see small business entities
Equine Workers Hardship Wage Supplement Payment
see social security and other benefit payments
exceptional circumstances relief
see social security and other benefit payments
farm help income support
see social security and other benefit payments
foreign income tax
foreign income tax paid, tax offset for .....	Division 770
franking deficit tax liabilities to pay .....	205-70

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 13 Tax offsets

Section 13-1

---

franked dividends
see dividends
hardship
see child
housekeeper
see dependants
housing
National Rental Affordability Scheme.....	Division 380
imputation
see dividends and franking deficit tax
inter-corporate dividends
see dividends
interest
tax paid on by company .....	127
interim income support payment
see social security and other benefit payments
invalid relative
see dependants
land transport facilities borrowings
.....	Division 396
leave payments
unused annual leave payment .....	83-15
unused long service leave payment .....	83-85
see employment termination
legal disability
see trusts
life assurance
bonus, receipt of .....	160AAB
long service leave
see leave payments
low income earner
aged beneficiary, trustee liable to be assessed for beneficiary's share of net income of trust estate .....	160AAAB aged person .....	160AAAA
general .....	159N

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

lump sum income arrears receipt of .....	159ZRA, 159ZRB, Subdivision 61-L mature age workers
.....	Subdivision 61-K
medical expenses payment of .....	159P
non-resident beneficiary
see trusts
non-resident trust estate
see trusts
overseas defence force service see defence force parent/parent-in-law see dependants partnerships see dividends, housing and small business entities pension
see social security and other benefit payments pooled superannuation trusts (PSTs) see dividends
primary production averaging of income, trustees .....	156
averaging of tax liability, individuals .....	392-35(2) exceptional circumstances relief payments see social security and other benefit payments farm help income support payments see social security and other benefit payments farm household support see social security and other benefit payments interim income support payments see social security and other benefit payments private health insurance
.....	Subdivision 61-G
public trading trust see dividends

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 1 Introduction and core provisions

Part 1-4 Checklists of what is covered by concepts used in the core provisions

Division 13 Tax offsets

Section 13-1

---

public unit trust
see dividends
research and development
.....	73I
residents of isolated areas
see zone
sickness benefits
see social security and other benefit payments
small business entities
25% entrepreneurs' tax offset.....	Subdivision 61-J
social security and other benefit payments
Aboriginal study assistance scheme .....	160AAA(3)
children, assistance for isolated .....	160AAA(3)
Cyclone Larry or Cyclone Monica income support payment .....	160AAA(3)
Equine Workers Hardship Wage Supplement Payment ....	160AAA(3) exceptional circumstances relief under the Farm     Household Support Act 1992 .....	160AAA(3)
farm help income support under the Farm Household     Support Act 1992 .....	160AAA(3) interim income support payment .....	160AAA(3) pension, social security pension and veteran's pension ....	160AAA(2) textile, clothing and footwear allowance .....	160AAA(3)
unemployment, sickness and other benefit payments under the Social Security Act 1991 .....	160AAA(3)
spouse
see dependants
superannuation
generally .....	Divisions 301 and 302
spouse contributions .....	Subdivision 290-D
death benefits .....	302-75 302-85 302-145

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 13-1

member benefits .....	301-20
	301-25
	301-35
	301-40
	301-95
	301-100
	301-105
	301-115
TFN quoted to superannuation or RSA provider after no-TFN contributions tax paid .....	295-675
termination payments
see employment termination, leave payments and superannuation
trustee
see dividends, low income earner and trusts
trusts
beneficiary in a foreign trust.....	98B
non-resident beneficiary .....	98A(2)(a)
trust income of beneficiary with legal disability .....	100(2)
see also dividends, housing and small business entities United Nations forces
salary, wages and allowances from service as a member of .....	23AB(7)
unemployment benefits
see social security and other benefit payments
unit trusts
see dividends
water
urban water tax offset .....	Subdivision 402-W
winding-up of non-resident trust estates
see trusts
zone residents of isolated areas .....	79A

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2—Liability rules of general application

Part 2-1—Assessable income

Division 15—Some items of assessable income

Guide to Division 15

15-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out some items that are included in your assessable income. Remember that the general rules about assessable income in Division 6 apply to these items.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

15-2	Allowances and other things provided in respect of employment or services
15-3	Return to work payments
15-5	Accrued leave transfer payments
15-10	Bounties and subsidies
15-15	Profit-making undertaking or plan
15-20	Royalties
15-22	Payments made to members of a copyright collecting society
15-25	Amount received for lease obligation to repair
15-30	Insurance or indemnity for loss of assessable income
15-35	Interest on overpayments and early payments of tax
15-40	Providing mining, quarrying or prospecting information
15-45	Amounts paid under forestry agreements
15-46	Amounts paid under forestry managed investment schemes
15-50	Work in progress amounts
15-55	Certain amounts paid under funeral policy
15-60	Certain amounts paid under scholarship plan
15-65	Sugar industry exit grants
15-70	Reimbursed car expenses

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- 15-75 Bonuses
15-80 Employer FHSA contributions etc.

Operative provisions

15-2 Allowances and other things provided in respect of employment or services

- (1) Your assessable income includes the value to you of all allowances, gratuities, compensation, benefits, bonuses and premiums *provided to you in respect of, or for or in relation directly or indirectly to, any employment of or services rendered by you (including any service as a member of the Defence Force).
- (2) This is so whether the things were *provided in money or in any other form.
- (3) However, the value of the following are not included in your assessable income under this section:
  - (a) a *superannuation lump sum or an *employment termination payment;
  - (b) an *unused annual leave payment or an *unused long service leave payment;
  - (c) a *dividend or *non-share dividend;
  - (d) an amount that is assessable as *ordinary income under section 6-5.

Note: Section 23L of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 provides that fringe benefits are non-assessable non-exempt income.

15-3 Return to work payments

Your assessable income includes an amount you receive under an *arrangement that an entity enters into for a purpose of inducing you to resume working for, or providing services to, any entity.

15-5 Accrued leave transfer payments

Your assessable income includes an *accrued leave transfer payment that you receive.

To find out if the payment is deductible to the payer, see section 26-10.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 15-10

---

15-10 Bounties and subsidies

Your assessable income includes a bounty or subsidy that:

- (a) you receive in relation to carrying on a *business; and
- (b) is not assessable as *ordinary income under section 6-5.

15-15 Profit-making undertaking or plan

- (1) Your assessable income includes profit arising from the carrying on or carrying out of a profit-making undertaking or plan.
- (2) This section does not apply to a profit that:
  - (a) is assessable as *ordinary income under section 6-5; or
  - (b) arises in respect of the sale of property acquired on or after 20 September 1985.

Note: If you sell property you acquired before 20 September 1985 for profit-making by sale, your assessable income includes the profit: see section 25A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

15-20 Royalties

- (1) Your assessable income includes an amount that you receive as or by way of royalty within the ordinary meaning of “royalty” (disregarding the definition of royalty in subsection 995-1(1)) if the amount is not assessable as *ordinary income under section 6-5.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to an amount of a payment to which section 15-22 applies.

15-22 Payments made to members of a copyright collecting society

- (1) This section, instead of Division 6 of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, applies to a payment that a *copyright collecting society, to which section 51-43 applies, makes to you as a *member of the society.
- (2) Your assessable income includes the amount of the payment, except to the extent that the payment represents an amount on which the directors of the society are or have been assessed, and are liable to pay tax, under section 98, 99 or 99A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Note: Section 410-5 of this Act requires a copyright collecting society to give you a notice at the time of payment.

15-25 Amount received for lease obligation to repair

Your assessable income includes an amount you receive from an entity if:

- (a) you receive it as a lessor or former lessor of premises; and
- (b) the entity pays you the amount for failing to comply with a lease obligation to make repairs to the premises; and
- (c) the entity uses or has used the premises for the *purpose of producing assessable income; and
- (d) the amount is not assessable as *ordinary income under section 6-5.

Note: The entity can deduct the amount: see section 25-15.

15-30 Insurance or indemnity for loss of assessable income

Your assessable income includes an amount you receive by way of insurance or indemnity for the loss of an amount (the lost amount) if:

- (a) the lost amount would have been included in your assessable income; and
- (b) the amount you receive is not assessable as *ordinary income under section 6-5.

15-35 Interest on overpayments and early payments of tax

Your assessable income includes interest payable to you under the Taxation (Interest on Overpayments and Early Payments) Act 1983. The interest becomes assessable when it is paid to you or applied to discharge a liability you have to the Commonwealth.

15-40 Providing mining, quarrying or prospecting information

Your assessable income includes an amount you receive for providing *mining, quarrying or prospecting information to another entity if:

- (a) you continue to *hold the information; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 15-45

---

- (b) the amount you receive is not assessable as *ordinary income under section 6-5.

15-45 Amounts paid under forestry agreements

- (1) Your assessable income includes an amount you receive under an agreement for the planting and tending of trees for felling if:
  - (a) you are the manager of the agreement as mentioned in section 82KZMG of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; and
  - (b) the amount satisfies, for the entity that paid it, the requirements of that section.

The amount is included for the income year in which the entity can claim a deduction for the amount.

- (2) No part of an amount included under subsection (1) is included in your assessable income for a later income year.

15-46 Amounts paid under forestry managed investment schemes

- (1) Your assessable income includes an amount you receive under a *forestry managed investment scheme if:
  - (a) you are the *forestry manager of the scheme, or an *associate of the forestry manager; and
  - (b) the entity that paid the amount can deduct or has deducted the amount under section 394-10 in relation to the scheme (disregarding subsection 394-10(5)).

The amount is included for the income year for which the entity that paid the amount can or has claimed a deduction for it (disregarding subsection 394-10(5)).

- (2) No part of an amount included under subsection (1) is included in your assessable income for a later income year.

15-50 Work in progress amounts

Your assessable income includes a *work in progress amount that you receive.

Note: To find out whether the amount is deductible to the payer, see section 25-95.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

15-55 Certain amounts paid under funeral policy

- (1) Your assessable income includes the amount of a benefit provided to you by a *life insurance company under a *funeral policy issued after 31 December 2002 to pay for the funeral of the insured person, reduced by:
  - (a) the amount of the premium or premiums of the policy that is reasonably related to the benefit; and
  - (b) the amount of the fees and charges included in the company's assessable income for any income year under paragraph 320-15(1)(k) that is reasonably related to the benefit.
- (2) This section does not apply if the benefit is included in your assessable income as:
  - (a) *ordinary income under section 6-5; or
  - (b) *statutory income under a section of this Act other than this section.

15-60 Certain amounts paid under scholarship plan

- (1) Your assessable income includes the amount of a benefit provided to you, or on your behalf, by a *life insurance company under a *scholarship plan covered by subsection (2) or (3), reduced by the amount worked out under subsection (4), if:
  - (a) the benefit is provided on or after 1 January 2003; and
  - (b) you are nominated in the plan as a beneficiary whose education is to be helped by the benefit.
- (2) This subsection covers a *scholarship plan issued by the *life insurance company after 31 December 2002.
- (3) This subsection covers a *scholarship plan if:
  - (a) the plan was issued by the *life insurance company before 1 January 2003; and
  - (b) no amount received by the company on or after 1 January 2003 and attributable to the plan is *non-assessable non-exempt income of the company under paragraph 320-37(1)(d).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 15-65

---

- (4) The amount of the reduction is the sum of:
- (a) the amount of the premium or premiums of the plan that is reasonably related to the benefit; and
  - (b) the amount of the fees and charges included in the company's assessable income for any income year under paragraph 320-15(1)(k) that is reasonably related to the benefit.

15-65 Sugar industry exit grants

- (1) Your assessable income includes the amount of a sugar industry exit grant that you receive under the program known as the Sugar Industry Reform Program if, as a condition of receiving the grant, you entered into an undertaking not to become the owner or operator of a sugar industry *enterprise within 5 years after receiving the grant.
- (2) Your assessable income also includes the amount of a sugar industry exit grant that you receive under that program if:
- (a) as a condition of receiving the grant, you entered into an undertaking not to become the owner or operator of any agricultural *enterprise within 5 years after receiving the grant; and
  - (b) you become the owner or operator of an agricultural enterprise (except a sugar industry enterprise) within that period.
- (3) The amount is included for the income year in which you receive it.

Note: You will be required to repay the grant if you re-enter the sugar industry within the 5 year period. If you repay the grant in an income year after the year in which you receive it, section 59-30 will exclude the grant from your assessable income.

15-70 Reimbursed car expenses

Your assessable income includes a reimbursement mentioned in section 22 of the Fringe Benefits Tax Assessment Act 1986 (about exempt car expense payment benefits) that, but for that section, would be a *fringe benefit *provided to you.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

15-75 Bonuses

Your assessable income includes any amount you receive as or by way of bonus on a *life insurance policy, other than a reversionary bonus.

Note: Reversionary bonuses are covered by section 6-5 of this Act if they are ordinary income and, if not, by section 26AH of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

15-80 Employer FHSAs contributions etc.

Your assessable income includes a contribution or expense payment benefit of a kind mentioned in paragraph (hd) of the definition of fringe benefit in subsection 136(1) of the Fringe Benefits Tax Assessment Act 1986 that, but for that paragraph, would be a *fringe benefit *provided to you.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 17—Effect of GST etc. on assessable income

Guide to Division 17

17-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out the effect of the GST in working out assessable income. Generally speaking, GST, input tax credits and adjustments under the GST Act are disregarded.

Table of sections

17-5	GST and increasing adjustments
17-10	Certain decreasing adjustments
17-15	Elements in calculation of amounts
17-20	GST groups and GST joint ventures
17-30	Special credits because of indirect tax transition
17-35	Certain sections not to apply to certain assets or expenditure

17-5 GST and increasing adjustments

An amount is not assessable income, and is not *exempt income, to the extent that it includes an amount relating to:

- (a) *GST payable on a *taxable supply; or
- (b) an *increasing adjustment that relates to a *supply; or
- (c) an *increasing adjustment that:
  - (i) relates to an *acquisition; and
  - (ii) arises in circumstances that also give rise to a *recoupment that is included in assessable income.

17-10 Certain decreasing adjustments

- (1) An amount of a *decreasing adjustment that arises under Division 129 or 132 of the *GST Act is assessable income, unless the entity that has the adjustment is an *exempt entity.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (2) However, the amount is not assessable income to the extent that, because it becomes a component of a *net input tax credit, a reduction is made under section 103-30 (reduction of cost base etc. by net input tax credits).

17-15 Elements in calculation of amounts

In calculating an amount that may be included in assessable income:

- (a) an element in the calculation that is an amount received or receivable is treated as not including an amount equal to any *GST payable on a *taxable supply related to the amount received or receivable, or any *increasing adjustment related to that amount; and
- (b) an element in the calculation that is an amount paid or payable is treated as not including an amount equal to any *input tax credit for an *acquisition related to the amount paid or payable, or any *decreasing adjustment related to that amount.

17-20 GST groups and GST joint ventures

- (1) A *member of a *GST group is to be treated, for the purposes of this Division, as if Subdivision 48-B of the *GST Act (other than paragraph 48-40(2)(a) and subsection 48-40(3)) did not apply to that member.
- (2) A *participant in a *GST joint venture is to be treated, for the purposes of this Division, as if Subdivision 51-B of the *GST Act (other than subsections 51-30(2) and (3)) did not apply to that participant.

17-30 Special credits because of indirect tax transition

A special credit under section 19A of the A New Tax System (Goods and Services Tax Transition) Act 1999 is assessable income at the time it is attributed to a *tax period (for a credit under section 19A).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 17-35

---

17-35 Certain sections not to apply to certain assets or expenditure

Sections 17-5, 17-10 and 17-15 do not apply to assets, or to expenditure, for which you can deduct amounts under Division 40 or Division 328.

Note: See instead Subdivision 27-B.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 20—Amounts included to reverse the effect of past deductions

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 20
20-A	Insurance, indemnity or other recoupment for deductible expenses
20-B	Disposal of a car for which lease payments have been deducted

Guide to Division 20

20-1 What this Division is about

This Division includes amounts in your assessable income to reverse the effect of certain kinds of deductions.

Table of sections

20-5	Other provisions that reverse the effect of deductions
------	--

20-5 Other provisions that reverse the effect of deductions

The table lists other provisions that reverse the effect of certain kinds of deductions.

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 are identified in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Provisions that adjust your tax position in respect of deductions
Item	In this situation:	See:
1	A balancing adjustment for a depreciating asset is included in your assessable income.	40-285(1) and 40-445(2)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-1 Assessable income

Division 20 Amounts included to reverse the effect of past deductions

Section 20-5

---

Provisions that adjust your tax position in respect of deductions
Item	In this situation:	See:
2	An amount you receive by way of insurance or indemnity for a loss of trading stock is included in your assessable income.	70-115
2A	Limited recourse debt that was used to finance expenditure deductible under a capital allowance (or on property for which you have deducted or can deduct amounts under a capital allowance) terminates: an amount is included in your assessable income	243-40
3	Because of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• petroleum resource rent tax; or</li><li>• an instalment of petroleum resource rent tax;</li></ul> that you have deducted or can deduct, an amount is refunded, credited, paid or applied: the amount is included in your assessable income.	40-750(3)
4	You receive a fringe benefit by way of reimbursement or payment of a loss or outgoing you incurred: your deduction for the loss or outgoing is reduced.	51AH
5	A company receives (or becomes entitled to) an amount: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• in respect of the results of research and development activities on which it incurred deductible expenditure; or</li><li>• attributable to it having incurred deductible expenditure on research and development activities.</li></ul> The amount is included in its assessable income.	73B(27A), 73BF(4), 73BM(4)
6	You receive an amount as recoupment of expenditure on research and development activities that you have deducted at the rate of 150%: the rate of deduction is reduced to 100%.	73C

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Provisions that adjust your tax position in respect of deductions
Item	In this situation:	See:
7	You receive an amount as recoupment for your local governing body election expenses: an amount is included in your assessable income.	74A(4)
8	You receive superannuation benefits as a result of someone's deductible contributions: the benefits are included in your assessable income.	290-100

---

Subdivision 20-A—Insurance, indemnity or other recoupment for deductible expenses

Guide to Subdivision 20-A

20-10 What this Subdivision is about

Recoupment of expenses you incurred and can deduct

Your assessable income may include an amount that you receive by way of insurance, indemnity or other recoupment if:

- it is for a deductible expense; and
- it is not otherwise assessable income.

Recoupment of expenses you did not incur but can deduct

Your assessable income may include an amount that another entity receives by way of insurance, indemnity or other recoupment if:

- it is for an expense that you can deduct; and
- it is not otherwise your assessable income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 20-15

---

Table of sections

20-15 How to use this Subdivision

What is an assessable recoupment?

20-20 Assessable recoupments

20-25 What is recoupment?

20-30 Tables of deductions for which recoupments are assessable

How much is included in your assessable income?

20-35 If the expense is deductible in a single income year

20-40 If the expense is deductible over 2 or more income years

20-45 Effect of balancing charge

20-50 If the expense is only partially deductible

20-55 Meaning of previous recoupment law

What if you can deduct a loss or outgoing incurred by another entity?

20-60 If you are the only entity that can deduct an amount for the loss or outgoing

20-65 If 2 or more entities can deduct amounts for the loss or outgoing

20-15 How to use this Subdivision

If you incurred the deductible loss or outgoing

- (1) First, read sections 20-20 to 20-30 to work out whether you have received an assessable recoupment. If not, you do not need to read the rest of the Subdivision.
- (2) If you have received one or more assessable recoupments, sections 20-35 to 20-55 tell you how much is included in your assessable income for an income year.

If another entity incurred a loss or outgoing you can deduct

- (3) Sections 20-60 and 20-65 tell you how to apply this Subdivision.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

What is an assessable recoupment?

20-20 Assessable recoupments

Exclusion

- (1) An amount is not an assessable recoupment to the extent that it is *ordinary income, or it is *statutory income because of a provision outside this Subdivision.

Insurance or indemnity

- (2) An amount you have received as *recoupment of a loss or outgoing is an assessable recoupment if:
  - (a) you received the amount by way of insurance or indemnity; and
  - (b) you can deduct an amount for the loss or outgoing for the *current year, or you have deducted or can deduct an amount for it for an earlier income year, under any provision of this Act.

Other recoupment

- (3) An amount you have received as *recoupment of a loss or outgoing (except by way of insurance or indemnity) is an assessable recoupment if:
  - (a) you can deduct an amount for the loss or outgoing for the *current year; or
  - (b) you have deducted or can deduct an amount for the loss or outgoing for an earlier income year;under a provision listed in section 20-30.

20-25 What is recoupment?

General

- (1) Recoupment of a loss or outgoing includes:
  - (a) any kind of recoupment, reimbursement, refund, insurance, indemnity or recovery, however described; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 20-25

---

- (b) a grant in respect of the loss or outgoing.

Amount paid for you

- (2) If some other entity pays an amount for you in respect of a loss or outgoing that you incur, you are taken to receive the amount as recoupment of the loss or outgoing.

Remission of general interest charge or shortfall interest charge

- (2A) If:

- (a) you have incurred expenditure that consists of *general interest charge or *shortfall interest charge; and
- (b) the Commissioner remits any of that charge;

then you are taken to receive the remitted amount as recoupment of that expenditure.

Amount for disposing of right to recoupment

- (3) If you dispose of your right to receive an amount as *recoupment of a loss or outgoing you are taken to receive as recoupment of the loss or outgoing any amount you receive for disposing of that right. (The disposal need not be to another entity.)

Amount received that is recoupment to an unspecified extent

- (4) If you receive an amount that is, to an unspecified extent, *recoupment of a loss or outgoing, the amount is taken to be recoupment of the loss or outgoing to whatever extent is reasonable.

Balancing adjustments not covered

- (5) If a balancing adjustment is required for property on which you incurred a loss or outgoing, no part of the *termination value of the property is an amount you receive as recoupment of the loss or outgoing.

Note: The termination value is usually the amount you receive because of disposal, loss or destruction of the property.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

20-30 Tables of deductions for which recoupments are assessable

(1) This table shows the deductions under the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 for which recoupments are assessable.

Note: References are to section numbers except where otherwise indicated.

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997
Item	Provision	Description of expense
1.1	8-1 (so far as it allows you to deduct a bad debt, or part of a debt that is bad)	bad debts
1.2	8-1 (so far as it allows you to deduct rates or taxes)	rates or taxes
1.3	25-5	tax-related expenses
1.4	25-35	bad debts
1.5	25-45	embezzlement or larceny by an employee
1.5A	25-47	misappropriation by an employee or agent
1.6	25-60	election expenses, Commonwealth and State elections
1.6A	25-65	election expenses, local governing body
1.7	25-75	rates and land taxes on premises used to produce mutual receipts
1.8	The former 25-80	upgrading assets to meet GST obligations etc.
1.8A	25-95	work in progress amount
1.8B	item 7 of the table in section 30-15	contributions relating to fund-raising events
1.8C	item 8 of the table in section 30-15	contributions relating to fund-raising auctions
1.9	Division 40	capital allowances
1.10	The former Division 42 (as it applied to *software because of the former Subdivision 46-B)	expenditure on software
1.11	The former Subdivision 46-C	expenditure on software

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-1 Assessable income

Division 20 Amounts included to reverse the effect of past deductions

Section 20-30

---

Provisions of the *Income Tax Assessment Act 1997

---

Item	Provision	Description of expense
1.12	The former Subdivision 46-D	expenditure on software, pooled
1.13	The former Division 42 (as it applied to *IRUs because of Division 44)	expenditure on IRUs
1.14	The former 330-15	exploration or prospecting expenditure
1.15	The former 330-80	allowable capital expenditure relating to mining or quarrying
1.16	The former 330-350	petroleum resource rent tax
1.17	The former 330-370	transport capital expenditure relating to mining or quarrying
1.18	The former 330-435	rehabilitation expenditure relating to mining or quarrying
1.19	The former 330-485	balancing adjustment deduction for expenditure relating to mining or quarrying
1.20	The former Subdivisions 380-A and 380-C	capital expenditure incurred in obtaining a spectrum licence
1.21	The former Subdivision 387-A	landcare operations expenditure
1.22	The former Subdivision 387-B	expenditure on facilities to conserve or convey water
1.23	The former Subdivision 387-D	grapevine establishment expenditure
1.24	The former Subdivision 387-C	horticultural plant establishment expenditure
1.25	The former Subdivision 387-E	mains electricity connection expenditure
1.26	The former Subdivision 400-A	expenditure on environmental impact assessment
1.27	The former Subdivision 400-B	expenditure on environmental protection activities
1.28	775-30	forex realisation loss

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

(2) This table shows the deductions under the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 for which recoupments are assessable.

Note: References are to section numbers except where otherwise indicated.

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
Item	Provision	Description of expense
2.1	Former 51(1) (so far as it allowed you to deduct a bad debt, or part of a debt that is bad)	bad debts
2.2	Former 51(1) (so far as it allowed you to deduct rates or taxes)	rates or taxes
2.3	63	bad debts
2.4	Former 69	tax-related expenses
2.5	Former 70A(3)	mains electricity connection expenditure
2.6	Former 71	embezzlement or larceny by an employee
2.7	Former 72	rates and land tax
2.7A	Former 72A	a payment of petroleum resource rent tax, or an instalment of petroleum resource rent tax, or a credit under paragraph 99(d) of the Petroleum Resource Rent Tax Assessment Act 1987 in respect of a payment of such an instalment
2.8	73B, 73BA or 73BH	research and development activity expenditure
2.9	Former 74	election expenses, Commonwealth and State elections
2.9A	Former 74A	election expenses, local governing body
2.10	Former 75AA(1) or (6)	grape vine establishment expenditure

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-1 Assessable income

Division 20 Amounts included to reverse the effect of past deductions

Section 20-30

---

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
Item	Provision	Description of expense
2.11	Former 75B(2) or (3A)	water conservation or conveyance expenditure
2.12	Former 75D(2)	land degradation prevention expenditure
2.13	Former 82AB	development allowance expenditure
2.14	Former 82BB	environmental impact study expenditure
2.15	Former 82BK	environmental protection expenditure
2.17	Former Division 10 of Part III	mining and quarrying expenditure
2.18	Former Division 10AAA of Part III	expenditure on transport of minerals and quarry materials
2.19	Former Division 10AA of Part III	expenditure on prospecting and mining for petroleum
2.20	Former 124BA	expenditure on rehabilitating mining, quarrying and petroleum sites
2.21	Former 124ZZF	horticultural plant establishment expenditure (effective life of the plant less than 3 years)
2.22	Former 124ZZG	horticultural plant establishment expenditure (effective life of the plant more than 3 years)
2.23	Former 628	drought mitigation property expenditure by a primary producer
2.24	Former 636	drought mitigation property expenditure by a leasing company

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

How much is included in your assessable income?

20-35 If the expense is deductible in a single income year

- (1) Your assessable income includes an *assessable recoupment of a loss or outgoing if:
- (a) you can deduct the whole of the loss or outgoing for the *current year; or
  - (b) you have deducted or can deduct the whole of the loss or outgoing for an earlier income year.

Note 1: The operation of this section may be affected if a balancing charge has been included in your assessable income because of a deduction for the loss or outgoing: see section 20-45.

Note 2: Recoupment of a loss or outgoing for which you can deduct amounts over more than one income year is covered by section 20-40.

Note 3: Recoupment of a loss or outgoing that is only partially deductible is covered by section 20-50.

Total assessed not to exceed the loss or outgoing

- (2) The total of all amounts that subsection (1) includes in your assessable income for one or more income years in respect of a loss or outgoing cannot exceed the amount of the loss or outgoing.

Recoupment received before income year of the deduction

- (3) If:
- (a) you can deduct the whole of a loss or outgoing for the *current year; and
  - (b) before the current year you received an *assessable recoupment of the loss or outgoing;
- your assessable income for the current year includes so much of the recoupment as subsection (1) would have included if you had instead received the recoupment at the start of the current year.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 20-40

---

20-40 If the expense is deductible over 2 or more income years

- (1) This section includes an amount in your assessable income if:
- (a) you receive in the *current year an *assessable recoupment of a loss or outgoing for which you can deduct amounts over 2 or more income years; or
  - (b) you received in an earlier income year an *assessable recoupment of a loss or outgoing of that kind (unless all of the recoupment has already been included in your assessable income for one or more earlier income years by this section or a *previous recoupment law).

(This section applies even if the recoupment was received before the first of those income years.)

Note: Recoupment of a loss or outgoing that is only partially deductible is covered by section 20-50.

- (2) Work out as follows how much is included in your assessable income for the *current year because of one or more *assessable recoupments of the loss or outgoing.

Note: The method statement ensures that assessable recoupments are included:

- only so far as they have not already been included for an earlier income year; and
- only to the extent of your total deductions to date for the loss or outgoing.

Method statement

- Step 1. Add up all the *assessable recoupments of the loss or outgoing that you have received (in the *current year or earlier). The result is the total assessable recoupment.
- Step 2. Add up the amounts (if any) included in your assessable income for earlier income years, in respect of the loss or outgoing, by this section or a *previous recoupment law. The result is the recoupment already assessed. (If no amount was included, the recoupment already assessed is nil.)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- Step 3. Subtract the recoupment already assessed from the total assessable recoupment. The result is the unassessed recoupment.
- Step 4. Add up each amount that you can deduct for the loss or outgoing for the *current year, or you have deducted or can deduct for the loss or outgoing for an earlier income year. The result is the total deductions for the loss or outgoing.
- Note: The total deductions may be reduced if an amount has been included in your assessable income because of a balancing adjustment: see section 20-45.
- Step 5. Subtract the recoupment already assessed from the total deductions for the loss or outgoing. The result is the outstanding deductions.
- Step 6. The unassessed recoupment is included in your assessable income, unless it is greater than the outstanding deductions. In that case, the amount of the outstanding deductions is included instead.

Example: At the start of the 2002-03 income year, a company incurs $100,000 to start to hold a depreciating asset. The company uses the prime cost method, and the effective life is 10 years. $10,000 is deductible for the 2002-03 income year and for each of the following 9 income years under section 40-25.

In the 2002-03 income year, the company receives $20,000 as recoupment. How much is assessable for the 2002-03 income year?

Applying the method statement:

After step 1: the total assessable recoupment is $20,000.

After step 2: the recoupment already assessed is nil.

After step 3: the unassessed recoupment is:
total assessable recoupment minus recoupment already assessed,
i.e. $20,000 minus 0 = $20,000.

After step 4: the total deductions for the loss or outgoing are $10,000.

After step 5: the outstanding deductions are:
total deductions for the loss or outgoing minus recoupment already assessed, i.e. $10,000 minus 0 = $10,000.

After step 6: the unassessed recoupment (step 3) is greater than outstanding deductions (step 5), so the amount of the outstanding deductions is included in assessable income, i.e. $10,000.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-1 Assessable income

Division 20 Amounts included to reverse the effect of past deductions

Section 20-45

---

Applying the method statement to the 2003-04 income year: a further $10,000 is included in the company's assessable income.

20-45 Effect of balancing charge

- (1) This section may affect the operation of section 20-35 or 20-40 (as appropriate) if:
  - (a) a balancing adjustment is required for the *current year (or for an earlier income year) because you have deducted or can deduct an amount for an income year for the loss or outgoing; and
  - (b) an amount (the balancing charge) is included in your assessable income for the *current year (or for the earlier income year) because of the balancing adjustment.

To find out about balancing adjustments, see Subdivision 40-D.

Effect on section 20-35

- (2) In applying section 20-35, treat each of the following as reduced by the balancing charge:
  - (a) the amount of the loss or outgoing;
  - (b) the total of what you can deduct for the loss or outgoing for the *current year, or have deducted or can deduct for an earlier income year.

Effect on section 20-40

- (3) In applying the method statement in subsection 20-40(2), reduce the total deductions for the loss or outgoing by the balancing charge.

Example: Continuing the example in subsection 20-40(2): at the start of the 2005-06 income year, the company:

- receives a further $10,000 as recoupment; and
- sells the depreciating asset for $75,000.

As a result of the sale, a balancing adjustment of $5,000 is included under section 40-285 in the company's assessable income for that income year.

How much of the recoupment amount received in the 2005-06 income year is assessable for that income year?

Applying the method statement in subsection 20-40(2):

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

After step 1: the total assessable recoupment is $30,000 (received during 2002-03 and 2005-06).

After step 2: the recoupment already assessed is $20,000 (for 2002-03 and 2003-04).

After step 3: the unassessed recoupment is:
total assessable recoupment minus recoupment already assessed,
i.e. $30,000 minus $20,000 = $10,000.

After step 4: the total deductions for the loss or outgoing are $30,000 ($10,000 for each of 2002-03, 2004-04 and 2004-05), reduced by $5,000 (the amount included in assessable income for the balancing adjustment), i.e. $25,000.

After step 5: the outstanding deductions are:
total deductions for the loss or outgoing minus recoupment already assessed, i.e. $25,000 minus $20,000 = $5,000.

After step 6: the unassessed recoupment (step 3) is greater than outstanding deductions (step 5), so the amount of the outstanding deductions is included in assessable income, i.e. $5,000.

20-50 If the expense is only partially deductible

- (1) This section extends the operation of section 20-35 or 20-40 (as appropriate) to a case where the total of what you can deduct under a provision (the deduction provision) for a loss or outgoing is limited to a proportion of the loss or outgoing.
- (2) If you receive an *assessable recoupment of the loss or outgoing, section 20-35 or 20-40 applies as if:
  - (a) you had incurred only that proportion of the loss or outgoing, but could deduct the whole of that proportion under the deduction provision; and
  - (b) you had received only that proportion of the recoupment.

Example: You incur expenditure of $500. A provision listed in section 20-30 entitles you to deduct 10% of the expenditure ($50) over 5 years. This means you can deduct $10 in each of the 5 years.

You recoup $300 of the expenditure. This section treats you as receiving only 10% of the recoupment. Therefore, $30 is dealt with by section 20-40.

20-55 Meaning of *previous recoupment law

- (1) Previous recoupment law means a provision of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 listed in this table.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-1 Assessable income

Division 20 Amounts included to reverse the effect of past deductions

Section 20-60

---

Previous recoupment law
Item	Provision	What kind of expense the provision relates to:
1	former 26(j) (so far as it relates to an amount received for or in respect of a loss or outgoing that is a deduction)	a loss or outgoing that is a deduction
2	former 26(k)	embezzlement or larceny by an employee
3	former 63(3)	bad debts
4	former 69(8)	tax-related expenses
5	former 70A(5)	mains electricity connection expenditure
6	former 72(2) (so far as it relates to a refund of an amount you have deducted or can deduct)	rates or taxes
6A	former 72A(4)(a) and (aa)	petroleum resource rent tax
7	former 74(2)	election expenses, Commonwealth and State elections

- (2) Former section 330-350 of this Act is also a previous recoupment law.

What if you can deduct a loss or outgoing incurred by another entity?

20-60 If you are the only entity that can deduct an amount for the loss or outgoing

This Subdivision applies in a different way if:

- (a) an entity (other than you) incurs a loss or outgoing; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) you can deduct the whole of the loss or outgoing for an income year, or you can deduct amounts for the loss or outgoing over 2 or more income years; and
- (c) no other entity can deduct an amount for the loss or outgoing; and
- (d) the entity that incurred the loss or outgoing receives one or more amounts as *recoupment of the loss or outgoing.

This Subdivision (except this section and section 20-65) applies as if you had incurred the loss or outgoing and had also received the *recoupment.

20-65 If 2 or more entities can deduct amounts for the loss or outgoing

- (1) Special rules apply if:
  - (a) an entity (the first entity) incurs a loss or outgoing; and
  - (b) 2 or more entities (the deducting entities, which may include the first entity) have deducted or can deduct amounts for the loss or outgoing (whether for the same income year or for different income years); and
  - (c) the first entity receives one or more amounts as *recoupment of the loss or outgoing.
- (2) This Subdivision (except this section and section 20-60) applies as if the first entity and the deducting entities together constituted a single entity (the notional entity) that had:
  - (a) incurred the loss or outgoing; and
  - (b) received the amount or amounts as *recoupment; and
  - (c) included in its assessable income any amount included in the assessable income of any of the deducting entities under a *previous recoupment law or this Subdivision (except this section).
- (3) If because of subsection (2) the notional entity's assessable income for an income year (the assessment year) would include an amount under this Subdivision (the assessable amount), the amount reverses in the assessment year the deductions for the loss or outgoing, in accordance with the rules in subsection (5).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 20-100

---

- (4) The assessable income of each deducting entity for the assessment year includes the total amounts (if any) by which that entity's actual deductions for the loss or outgoing are reversed in that income year.
- (5) Deductions for the loss or outgoing are reversed in the assessment year as follows:
  - (a) the amounts by which deductions are reversed total the assessable amount (unless all the deductions have been reversed);
  - (b) a deduction for an income year is not reversed until all deductions for earlier income years have been reversed;
  - (c) a deduction is not reversed in the assessment year to the extent that it has already been reversed in an earlier year;
  - (d) if each of 2 or more entities can deduct an amount for the loss or outgoing for the same income year, those deductions are reversed in the assessment year by amounts proportionate to the amounts of the deductions.

Subdivision 20-B—Disposal of a car for which lease payments have been deducted

Guide to Subdivision 20-B

20-100 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision reverses the effect of deductions for lease payments for a car leased to you (or to your associate), but only if you make a profit by disposing of the car after acquiring it from the lessor. The smallest of these amounts is included in your assessable income:

- your profit on the disposal;
- the total deductible lease payments for the period of the lease;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- the total amounts you could have deducted for the car's decline in value if, instead of leasing it, you had owned it and used it solely for the purpose of producing assessable income.

Table of sections

20-105 Map of this Subdivision

The usual case

20-110 Disposal of a leased car for profit

20-115 Working out the profit on the disposal

20-120 Meaning of notional depreciation

The associate case

20-125 Disposal of a leased car for profit

Successive leases

20-130 Successive leases

Previous disposals of the car

20-135 No amount included if earlier disposal for market value

20-140 Reducing the amount to be included if there has been an earlier disposal

Miscellaneous rules

20-145 No amount included if you inherited the car

20-150 Reducing the amount to be included if another provision requires you to include an amount for the disposal

20-155 Exception for particular cars taken on hire

20-157 Exception for small business entities

Disposals of interests in a car: special rules apply

20-160 Disposal of an interest in a car

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 20-105

---

20-105 Map of this Subdivision

The usual case

20-110 Disposal of a leased car for profit

- (1) Your assessable income includes the *profit you make on disposing of a *car if:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (a) the car was designed mainly for carrying passengers; and
- (b) the car was leased to you and has been leased to no-one else; and
- (c) you or another entity can deduct for the income year any of the lease payments paid or payable by you, or have deducted or can deduct any of them for an earlier income year, under this Act; and
- (d) you acquired the car from the lessor.

Note 1: Even if subsection (1) does not apply, an amount may still be included in your assessable income:

- under section 20-125 (which deals with more complicated cases that may involve your associate); or
- if you disposed of an interest in a car (rather than the car itself): see section 20-160.

Note 2: In some cases you do not include an amount in your assessable income:

- if there has been an earlier disposal of the car for market value: see section 20-135; or
- if you inherited the car: see section 20-145; or
- if the car was let on hire in the circumstances set out in section 20-155.

(2) However, the amount included cannot exceed the smaller of these limits:

- (a) the total lease payments for the lease that you or another entity have deducted or can deduct under this Act for an income year;
- (b) the amount of *notional depreciation for the lease period.

Note 1: If, because of more than one lease of the car, there is more than one way to work out the amount to be included, you only include the largest amount: see section 20-130.

Note 2: In some cases you reduce the amount to be included:

- if there has been an earlier disposal of the car, or of an interest in it: see section 20-140; or
- if another provision requires you to include an amount because of the disposal: see section 20-150.

(3) You increase those limits if you have previously leased the *car from the same lessor, or from an *associate of that lessor.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 20-115

---

You increase the first limit by the total lease payments for each previous lease of that kind that you or another entity have deducted or can deduct under this Act for an income year.

You increase the second limit by the amount of *notional depreciation for the period of each previous lease of that kind.

20-115 Working out the profit on the disposal

(1) The profit on the disposal is the amount by which the *consideration receivable for the disposal exceeds:

- the amount it cost you to acquire the *car;

plus:

- any capital expenditure you incurred on the car after acquiring it.

(2) The consideration receivable is worked out using this table:

---

Consideration receivable for the disposal of the car
Item	In this situation:	the consideration receivable is:
1	you sell the *car for an amount specific to it	the proceeds of the sale, less the expenses of the sale
2	you sell the *car with other property without a specific amount being allocated to it	the part of the total proceeds of the sale that is reasonably attributable to the car less the part of the reasonably attributable expenses of the sale
3	you trade the *car in and buy another car	the value of the trade-in, plus any other consideration you receive
4	you sell the *car and another entity buys another car	the amount by which the cost of the other car is reduced by the sale, plus any other consideration you receive
5	you dispose of the *car to an insurer because it is lost or destroyed	the amount or value received or receivable under the insurance policy

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (3) However, if the disposal of the *car is a *taxable supply, the consideration receivable does not include an amount equal to the *GST payable on the supply.

20-120 Meaning of notional depreciation

This is how to work out the notional depreciation for a lease period:

Method statement

Step 1. Compare:

- the *car's *cost to the lessor for the purposes of Subdivision 40-C (which is about working out the cost of *depreciating assets);

with:

- the car's *termination value for the purposes of section 40-300 when the lessor disposed of it.

Step 2. If the car's cost exceeds the car's termination value, multiply the excess by:

- the number of days in the lease period;

divided by:

- the number of days the lessor owned the car.

Step 3. The result is the notional depreciation for the lease period.

Step 4. If the car's cost does not exceed the car's termination value, the notional depreciation for the lease period is zero.

Note 1: The notional depreciation for the lease period represents:

- the amount you could have deducted for the car's decline in value if, instead of leasing it, you had owned it and used it solely for the purpose of producing assessable income for that period;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-1 Assessable income

Division 20 Amounts included to reverse the effect of past deductions

Section 20-125

---

adjusted by:

- the balancing adjustment you would have made if you had disposed of the car at the end of that period.

Note 2: The car's cost to the lessor is worked out differently if the lessor acquired it in the 1996-97 income year or an earlier income year: see section 20-105 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

Note 3: The car's termination value is worked out differently if the lessor disposed of it in the 1996-97 income year or an earlier income year: see section 20-110 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

The associate case

20-125 Disposal of a leased car for profit

- (1) Your assessable income includes the *profit you make on disposing of a *car if:
- (a) section 20-110 does not include an amount in your assessable income because of the disposal; and
  - (b) the car was designed mainly for carrying passengers; and
  - (c) the car was leased to you or your *associate; and
  - (d) you, your associate or another entity can deduct for the income year any of the lease payments paid or payable by the lessee, or have deducted or can deduct any of them for an earlier income year, under this Act; and
  - (e) either:
    - (i) you, your associate, or entities including you or your associate, acquired the car from the lessor; or
    - (ii) another entity acquired the car from the lessor under an *arrangement that enabled you or your associate to acquire the car.

Note 1: Even if subsection (1) does not apply, an amount may be included in your assessable income if you disposed of an interest in a car (rather than the car itself): see section 20-160.

Note 2: In some cases you do not include an amount in your assessable income:

- if there has been an earlier disposal of the car for market value: see section 20-135; or
- if you inherited the car: see section 20-145; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- if the car was let on hire in the circumstances set out in section 20-155.

(2) However, the amount included cannot exceed the smallest of these limits:

- (a) the total lease payments for the lease that you, your *associate or another entity have deducted or can deduct under this Act for an income year;
- (b) the amount of *notional depreciation for the lease period;
- (c) if an entity other than you, or if entities including you, acquired the *car from the lessor—the amount by which the *consideration receivable for the disposal of the car by you exceeds the total of:
  - (i) the car's cost to that entity, or those entities; and
  - (ii) any capital expenditure that entity, or any of those entities, incurred on the car after that acquisition and before you acquired it.

Note 1: If, because of more than one lease of the car, there is more than one way to work out the amount to be included, you only include the largest amount: see section 20-130.

Note 2: In some cases you reduce the amount to be included:

- if there has been an earlier disposal of the car, or of an interest in it: see section 20-140; or
- if another provision requires you to include an amount because of the disposal: see section 20-150.

Example: Your associate leases a car for 5 years and then acquires it from the lessor for $4,000. Your associate sells it to you for $3,000. You sell it for $10,000.

Your profit is $10,000 (the consideration receivable) less $3,000 (the car's cost to you) = $7,000.

The first 2 limits on the amount to be included in your assessable income are $9,000 (total deductible lease payments for the lease) and $8,000 (notional depreciation for the lease period).

Since your associate acquired the car from the lessor, the third limit is $10,000 (the consideration receivable by you) less $4,000 (the car's cost to the associate) = $6,000.

The amount you include in your assessable income cannot exceed the smallest of the limits. So, you do not include your profit of $7,000. Instead, you include $6,000 (the smallest of the limits).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 20-130

---

- (3) You increase the first 2 limits if you, or your associate, have previously leased the *car from the same lessor, or from an associate of that lessor.

You increase the first limit by the total lease payments for each previous lease of that kind that you, your *associate or another entity have deducted or can deduct under this Act for an income year.

You increase the second limit by the amount of *notional depreciation for the period of each previous lease of that kind.

Successive leases

20-130 Successive leases

If, because of 2 or more leases of the *car, there are different amounts that could be included in your assessable income because of the disposal, only the largest of those amounts is included.

Previous disposals of the car

20-135 No amount included if earlier disposal for market value

You do not include an amount in your assessable income because of the disposal if, after the lessor disposed of the *car and before you disposed of it, an entity other than you disposed of the car and:

- (a) the *consideration receivable for that disposal was at least the *market value of the car at the time of that disposal; or
- (b) because of that disposal, that market value was included, or an amount worked out using that market value was included, in the entity's assessable income under this Act.

20-140 Reducing the amount to be included if there has been an earlier disposal

Each limit on the amount to be included in your assessable income because of your disposal of the *car is reduced if, after the lease period began and before your disposal, the car, or an interest in it, was disposed of in one of these situations:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Reducing each limit on the amount to be included

---

Item	In this situation:	reduce each limit by:
1	Section 20-110 or 20-125 included an amount in your assessable income in respect of such an earlier disposal by you	that amount
2	Section 20-110 or 20-125 included an amount in another entity's assessable income in respect of such an earlier disposal by the other entity	that amount
3	Section 20-110 or 20-125 would have included an amount in your assessable income in respect of such an earlier disposal by you but for the operation of section 20-145	that amount
4	Section 20-110 or 20-125 would have included an amount in another entity's assessable income in respect of such an earlier disposal by the other entity but for the operation of section 20-145	that amount
5	Section 20-150 reduced the amount to be included in your assessable income in respect of such an earlier disposal by you	the amount of the reduction
6	Section 20-150 reduced the amount to be included in another entity's assessable income in respect of such an earlier disposal by the other entity	the amount of the reduction

---

Examples: Your associate leases a car for 5 years and then acquires it. Your associate disposes of it to you and section 20-110 includes $500 in your associate's assessable income.

You later dispose of the car.

In working out the amount to include in your assessable income for your disposal, you can reduce each limit in subsection 20-125(2) by $500 because the disposal by your associate occurred after the lease period began.

Contrast this case:

You lease a car for 5 years and then acquire it. You dispose of it to another entity and section 20-110 includes $1,000 in your assessable income.

You lease the car from that entity for 2 years and then acquire it. You later dispose of it.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-1 Assessable income

Division 20 Amounts included to reverse the effect of past deductions

Section 20-145

---

In working out the amount to include in your assessable income in respect of the second lease, you cannot reduce each limit in subsection 20-110(2) by $1,000 because the first disposal did not occur after the start of that lease.

Note: If the earlier disposal occurred in the 1996-97 income year or an earlier income year, each limit may be able to be reduced by a further amount: see section 20-115 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

Miscellaneous rules

20-145 No amount included if you inherited the car

You do not include an amount in your assessable income because of the disposal if you inherited the *car.

20-150 Reducing the amount to be included if another provision requires you to include an amount for the disposal

The amount to be included in your assessable income because of the disposal is reduced by any amount that another provision of this Act (except sections 40-285 and 40-370) requires you to include in your assessable income because of the disposal.

Note: sections 40-285 and 40-370 are about including an amount after making a balancing adjustment on the disposal of a car.

20-155 Exception for particular cars taken on hire

This Subdivision does not apply to these kinds of leases:

- (a) letting a *car on hire under a *hire purchase agreement; or
- (b) letting a *car on hire under an agreement of a kind ordinarily entered into by people who take cars on hire intermittently on an hourly, daily, weekly or monthly basis.

20-157 Exception for small business entities

This Subdivision does not apply to you if, at any time in the income year in which you disposed of the *car, it was allocated to a pool of yours under Division 328.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Disposals of interests in a car: special rules apply

20-160 Disposal of an interest in a car

- (1) This Subdivision applies to the disposal of an interest in a *car in almost the same way as it does to the disposal of the car itself. The differences are set out below.
- (2) Your assessable income includes so much of your *profit on the disposal as is reasonable. The limits in subsections 20-110(2) and 20-125(2) do not apply.
- (3) The cost of the interest to you is taken to be a reasonable amount.
- (4) Sections 20-135 and 20-140 do not apply to the disposal.
  - Note 1: Section 20-135 says that you do not include an amount if there has been an earlier disposal of the car for market value.
  - Note 2: Section 20-140 allows you to reduce the amount to be included if there has been an earlier disposal of the car.
- (5) Section 20-145 applies to the disposal if you inherited either the interest or the *car itself.
  - Note: Section 20-145 says that you do not include an amount if you inherited the car.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Part 2-5—Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 25—Some amounts you can deduct

Guide to Division 25

25-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out some amounts you can deduct. Remember that the general rules about deductions in Division 8 (which is about general deductions) apply to this Division.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

25-5	Tax-related expenses
25-7	Advice about family tax benefit
25-10	Repairs
25-15	Amount paid for lease obligation to repair
25-20	Lease document expenses
25-25	Borrowing expenses
25-30	Expenses of discharging a mortgage
25-35	Bad debts
25-40	Loss from profit-making undertaking or plan
25-45	Loss by theft etc.
25-47	Misappropriation where a balancing adjustment event occurs
25-50	Payments of pensions, gratuities or retiring allowances
25-55	Payments to associations
25-60	Parliament election expenses
25-65	Local government election expenses
25-70	Deduction for election expenses does not extend to entertainment

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

25-75	Rates and land taxes on premises used to produce mutual receipts
25-85	Certain returns in respect of debt interests
25-90	Deduction relating to foreign non-assessable non-exempt income
25-95	Deduction for work in progress amounts
25-105	Deductions for United Medical Protection Limited support payments
25-100	Travel between workplaces
25-110	Capital expenditure to terminate lease etc.

Operative provisions

25-5 Tax-related expenses

- (1) You can deduct expenditure you incur to the extent that it is for:
- (a) managing your *tax affairs; or
  - (b) complying with an obligation imposed on you by a *Commonwealth law, insofar as that obligation relates to the *tax affairs of an entity; or
  - (c) the *general interest charge or the *shortfall interest charge; or
  - (ca) a penalty under Subdivision 162-D of the *GST Act; or
  - (d) obtaining a valuation in accordance with section 30-212 or 31-15.

Note 1: To find out whether a trustee of a deceased estate can deduct expenditure under this section, see subsection 69(7) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Note 2: If you receive an amount as recoupment of the expenditure, the amount may be included in your assessable income: see Subdivision 20-A.

No deduction for certain expenditure

- (2) You cannot deduct under subsection (1):
- (a) *tax; or
  - (b) an amount withheld or payable under Part 2-5 or Part 2-10 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953; or
  - (c) expenditure for *borrowing money (including payments of interest) to pay an amount covered by paragraph (a) or (b); or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 25-5

---

- (d) expenditure for a matter relating to the commission (or possible commission) of an offence against an *Australian law or a *foreign law; or
- (e) a fee or commission for advice about the operation of a *Commonwealth law relating to taxation, unless that advice is provided by a *recognised tax adviser.

No deduction for expenditure excluded from general deductions

- (3) You cannot deduct expenditure under subsection (1) to the extent that a provision of this Act (except section 8-1) expressly prevents or limits your deducting it under section 8-1 (about general deductions). It does not matter whether the provision specifically refers to section 8-1.

No deduction for capital expenditure

- (4) You cannot deduct capital expenditure under subsection (1). However, for this purpose, expenditure is not capital expenditure merely because the *tax affairs concerned relate to matters of a capital nature.

Example: Under this section, you can deduct expenditure you incur in applying for a private ruling on whether you can depreciate an item of property.

Use of property taken to be for income producing purpose

- (5) Under some provisions of this Act it is important to decide whether you used property for the *purpose of producing assessable income. For provisions of that kind, your use of property is taken to be for that purpose insofar as you use the property for:
  - (a) managing your *tax affairs; or
  - (b) complying with an obligation imposed on you by a *Commonwealth law, insofar as that obligation relates to the *tax affairs of another entity.

Example: You buy a computer to prepare your tax returns. The expenditure you incur in buying the computer is capital expenditure and cannot be deducted under this section.

However, to the extent that you use the computer in preparing your income tax return, you will be able to deduct the decline in value of your computer under Division 40. That is because, under this subsection, the computer is property that you are taken to use for the purpose of producing assessable income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (6) If another provision of this Act expressly provides that a particular use of property is not taken to be for the *purpose of producing assessable income, that provision overrides subsection (5).

No double deduction for general interest charge on a running balance account

- (7) If you deduct *general interest charge that applies to an RBA deficit debt, you can't also deduct the corresponding general interest charge on tax debts that have been allocated to the RBA.

Note: RBAs (running balance accounts) are dealt with in Part IIB of the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

Expenditure by trustee of deceased estate

- (8) If:
- (a) after you die, the trustee of your deceased estate incurs expenditure; and
  - (b) had you incurred the expenditure before you died, you could have deducted it under subsection (1); for the purposes of assessing the trustee for the income year in which you died, the expenditure is a deduction under that subsection.

25-7 Advice about family tax benefit

You can deduct a fee or commission you incur, to the extent that the fee or commission is for advice in relation to a claim for family tax benefit under the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) (Administration) Act 1999, if:

- (a) the advice is provided by a *recognised tax adviser; and
- (b) you lodge the claim for family tax benefit with an officer of the Australian Taxation Office (within the meaning of that Act) for determination by such an officer.

Note: Under Part 8 of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) (Administration) Act 1999 the Secretary to the Department of Family and Community Services may delegate powers under that Act (including the power to determine claims for family tax benefit).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 25-10

---

25-10 Repairs

- (1) You can deduct expenditure you incur for repairs to premises (or part of premises) or a *depreciating asset that you held or used solely for the *purpose of producing assessable income.

Property held or used partly for that purpose

- (2) If you held or used the property only partly for that purpose, you can deduct so much of the expenditure as is reasonable in the circumstances.

No deduction for capital expenditure

- (3) You cannot deduct capital expenditure under this section.

25-15 Amount paid for lease obligation to repair

You can deduct an amount that you pay for failing to comply with a lease obligation to make repairs to premises if you use or have used the premises for the *purpose of producing assessable income.

Note: The amount is assessable income of the entity to which you pay it: either as ordinary income under section 6-5 or because it is included by section 15-25.

25-20 Lease document expenses

- (1) You can deduct expenditure you incur for preparing, registering or stamping:
- (a) a lease of property; or
  - (b) an assignment or surrender of a lease of property;
- if you have used or will use the property solely for the *purpose of producing assessable income.

Property used partly for that purpose

- (2) If you have used, or will use, the leased property only partly for that purpose, you can deduct the expenditure to the extent that you have used, or will use, the leased property for that purpose.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

25-25 Borrowing expenses

- (1) You can deduct expenditure you incur for *borrowing money, to the extent that you use the money for the *purpose of producing assessable income. In most cases the deduction is spread over the *period of the loan.

For the cases where the deduction is not spread, see subsection (6).

Note: Your deductions under this section may be reduced if any of your commercial debts have been forgiven in the income year: see Subdivision 245-E of Schedule 2C to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Income year when money used solely for the purpose of producing assessable income

- (2) You can deduct for an income year the maximum amount worked out under subsection (4) if you use the *borrowed money during that income year solely for the *purpose of producing assessable income.

Example: In 1997-98 you borrow $100,000 and incur expenditure of $1,500 for the borrowing. You use the money to buy a house. Throughout 1998-99 you rent the house to a tenant. You can deduct for the expenditure for 1998-99 the maximum amount worked out under subsection (4).

Income year when borrowed money used partly for that purpose

- (3) If you use the money only partly for that purpose during that income year, you can deduct the proportion of that maximum amount that is appropriate having regard to the extent that you used the *borrowed money for that purpose.

Note: You cannot deduct anything for that income year if you do not use the money for that purpose at all during that income year.

Maximum deduction for an income year

- (4) You work out as follows the maximum amount that you can deduct for the expenditure for an income year:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 25-25

---

Method statement

Step 1. Work out the remaining expenditure as follows:

- For the income year in which the *period of the loan begins, it is the amount of the expenditure.
- For a later income year, it is the amount of the expenditure reduced by the the maximum amount that you can deduct for the expenditure for each earlier income year.

Step 2. Work out the remaining loan period as follows:

- For the income year in which the *period of the loan begins, it is the period of the loan (as determined at the end of the income year).
- For a later income year, it is the period from the start of the income year until the end of the period of the loan (as determined at the end of the income year).

Step 3. Divide the remaining expenditure by the number of days in the remaining loan period.

Step 4. Multiply the result from Step 3 by the number of days in the remaining loan period that are in the income year.

Example: To continue the example in subsection (2): suppose the original period of the loan is 4 years starting on 1 September 1997. What is the maximum amount you can deduct for the expenditure for 1997-98?

Applying the method statement:

After Step 1: the remaining expenditure is $1,500 (the amount of the expenditure).

After Step 2: the remaining loan period is 4 years from 1 September 1997 (1,461 days).

After Step 3: the result is $1,500 divided by 1,461 = $1.03.

After Step 4: the result is $1.03 multiplied by 302 days = $310.06.

Suppose you repay the loan early, on 31 December 1998. What is the maximum amount you can deduct for the expenditure for 1998-99?

Applying the method statement:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

After Step 1: the remaining expenditure is $1,500 (the amount of the expenditure) reduced by $310.06 (the maximum amount you can deduct for 1997-98) = $1,189.94.

After Step 2: the remaining loan period is the period from 1 July 1998 to 31 December 1998 (183 days).

After Step 3: the result is $1,189.94 divided by 183 days = $6.50.

After Step 4: the result is $6.50 multiplied by 183 days = $1,189.94.

Meaning of period of the loan

- (5) The period of the loan is the shortest of these periods:
- (a) the period of the loan as specified in the original loan contract;
  - (b) the period starting on the first day on which the money was borrowed and ending on the day the loan is repaid;
  - (c) 5 years starting on the first day on which the money was borrowed.

When deduction not spread

- (6) If the total of the following is $100 or less:
- (a) each amount of expenditure you incur in an income year for *borrowing money you use during that income year solely for the *purpose of producing assessable income;
  - (b) for each amount of expenditure you incur in that income year for borrowing money you use during that income year only partly for that purpose—the proportion of that amount that is appropriate having regard to the extent that you use the money during that income year for that purpose;
- you can deduct for the income year:
- (c) each amount covered by paragraph (a); and
  - (d) each proportion covered by paragraph (b).

25-30 Expenses of discharging a mortgage

Mortgage for borrowed money

- (1) You can deduct expenditure you incur to discharge a mortgage that you gave as security for the repayment of money that you

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 25-35

---

*borrowed if you used the money solely for the *purpose of producing assessable income.

Mortgage for property bought

- (2) You can deduct expenditure you incur to discharge a mortgage that you gave as security for the payment of the whole or part of the purchase price of property that you bought if you used the property solely for the *purpose of producing assessable income.

Money or property used partly for that purpose

- (3) If you used the money you *borrowed, or the property you bought, only partly for the *purpose of producing assessable income, you can deduct the expenditure to the extent that you used the money or property for that purpose.

No deduction for payments of principal or interest

- (4) You cannot deduct payments of principal or interest under this section.

25-35 Bad debts

- (1) You can deduct a debt (or part of a debt) that you write off as bad in the income year if:
- (a) it was included in your assessable income for the income year or for an earlier income year; or
  - (b) it is in respect of money that you lent in the ordinary course of your *business of lending money.

Note: If a bad debt is in respect of a payment that is required to be made under a qualifying security (within the meaning of Division 16E of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936): see subsection 63(1A) of that Act.

Writing off a debt you have bought

- (2) You can deduct a debt that you write off as bad in the income year if you bought the debt in the ordinary course of your *business of lending money. However, you cannot deduct more than the expenditure you incurred in buying the debt.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Writing off part of a debt you have bought

- (3) You can deduct a part of a debt if:
- (a) you write off that part as bad in the income year; and
  - (b) you bought the debt in the ordinary course of your *business of lending money.
- (4) However, the maximum that you can deduct under subsection (3) for one or more income years is the amount (if any) by which:
- the expenditure you incurred in buying the debt; exceeds:
  - so much of the debt as has not yet been written off as bad.

Limit on deductions for bad debts under leases of luxury cars

- (4A) There is a limit to how much you can deduct under this section for debts you write off that relate to lease payments that have become or will become liable to be made under a lease of a *car to which Division 42A of Schedule 2E to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 applies.
- (4B) The most you can deduct for an income year is:
- the finance charge for the notional loan you are taken to have made to the lessee;
- reduced by:
- each amount that you have deducted, or can deduct, for an earlier income year under this section (or section 63 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) for debts relating to lease payments that have become or will become liable to be made under the lease.
- (4C) An expression (except car) has the same meaning in subsection (4A) or (4B) as in Division 42A of Schedule 2E to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Special rules affecting deductions under this section

- (5) The rules described in the table may affect your entitlement to deductions under this section, or may result in a deduction being reversed.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 25 Some amounts you can deduct

Section 25-35

---

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 are identified in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

---

Rules affecting deductions for bad debts
Item	For the rules about this situation:	See:
1	A company cannot deduct a bad debt if there has been a change in ownership or control of the company and the company has not satisfied the same business test.	Subdivisions 165-C and 166-C
2	A company cannot deduct a bad debt in various other cases that may involve trafficking in bad debts.	Subdivision 175-C and section 63D
3	A deduction under this section is reduced if the debt is forgiven and the debtor and creditor are companies under common ownership and agree for the creditor to forgo the deduction to a specified extent.	section 245-90 of Schedule 2C
4	If you receive an amount as recoupment of a bad debt that you can deduct under this section, the amount may be included in your assessable income.	Subdivision 20-A
5	Certain trusts cannot deduct a bad debt if there has been a change in ownership or control or an abnormal trading in their units	Divisions 266 and 267 of Schedule 2F
6	An entity that used to be a member of a consolidated group or MEC group can deduct a bad debt that used to be owed to a member of the group only if certain conditions are met	Subdivisions 709-D and 719-I
Note:	Subsections 230-180(3), (5) and (6) and 230-195(3), (5) and (6) provide that in certain circumstances a deduction for a loss in relation to a financial arrangement is to be treated, for the purposes of this Act, as a deduction of a bad debt. The rules referred to in this subsection apply to that deduction.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

25-40 Loss from profit-making undertaking or plan

- (1) You can deduct a loss arising from the carrying on or carrying out of a profit-making undertaking or plan if any profit from that plan would have been included in your assessable income by section 15-15 (which is about profit-making undertakings and plans).

When section does not apply

- (2) You cannot deduct a loss under subsection (1) if the loss arises in respect of the sale of property acquired on or after 20 September 1985.

Note: If you sell property you acquired before 20 September 1985 for profit-making by sale, you may be able to deduct a loss on the sale: see section 52 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Notice to Commissioner

- (3) You can deduct a loss under subsection (1), insofar as it arises in respect of property, only if:
- (a) you notified the Commissioner that you acquired the property for the purpose of profit-making by sale or for the carrying on or carrying out of any profit-making undertaking or plan (however described); or
  - (b) the Commissioner is satisfied that you acquired the property for either of those purposes.

When notice must have been given

- (4) The notice must have been given at or before the time you lodged your *income tax return:
- (a) for the income year in which you acquired the property; or
  - (b) if you were not required to lodge an income tax return for that income year—for the first income year after that income year for which you were required to lodge one.

25-45 Loss by theft etc.

You can deduct a loss in respect of money if:

- (a) you discover the loss in the income year; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 25 Some amounts you can deduct

Section 25-47

---

- (b) the loss was caused by theft, stealing, embezzlement, larceny, defalcation or misappropriation by your employee or *agent (other than an individual you employ solely for private purposes); and
- (c) the money was included in your assessable income for the income year, or for an earlier income year.

Note: If you receive an amount as recoupment of the loss, the amount may be included in your assessable income: see Subdivision 20-A.

25-47 Misappropriation where a balancing adjustment event occurs

- (1) You can deduct an amount if:
  - (a) a *balancing adjustment event occurs for a *depreciating asset you *held; and
  - (b) your employee or *agent misappropriates (whether by theft, embezzlement, larceny or otherwise) all or part of the amount applicable to you under:
    - (i) item 8 of the table in subsection 40-300(2); or
    - (ii) item 1, 3, 4 or 6 of the table in subsection 40-305(1);in relation to the balancing adjustment event.

Note 1: The amount applicable to you under subsection 40-300(2) or 40-305(1) may be the market value of an asset or of a non-cash benefit.

Note 2: If you receive an amount as recoupment of the amount misappropriated, the amount may be included in your assessable income: see Subdivision 20-A.

- (2) The amount you can deduct is so much of the amount misappropriated as represents an amount applicable to you under item 8 of the table in subsection 40-300(2) or item 1, 3, 4 or 6 of the table in subsection 40-305(1) in relation to the *balancing adjustment event.
- (3) You can deduct the amount for the income year in which the misappropriation happens.
- (4) You must reduce the amount you can deduct under this section if your deductions for the asset have been reduced under section 40-25 because of use for a purpose other than a *taxable purpose. The reduction is by the same proportion you reduce the balancing adjustment amount for the asset under section 40-290.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (5) Section 170 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 does not prevent the amendment of an assessment for the purposes of giving effect to this section for an income year if:
- (a) you discover the misappropriation after you lodged your *income tax return for the income year; and
  - (b) the amendment is made at any time during the period of 4 years starting immediately after you discover the misappropriation.

25-50 Payments of pensions, gratuities or retiring allowances

- (1) You can deduct a payment of a pension, gratuity or retiring allowance that you make to:
- (a) an employee; or
  - (b) a former employee; or
  - (c) a dependant of an employee or a former employee.
- (2) However, you can deduct it only to the extent that it is made in good faith in consideration of the past services of the employee, or former employee, in any *business that you carried on for the purpose of gaining or producing assessable income.
- (3) You cannot deduct a payment under this section if you can deduct it under any other provision of this Act.

25-55 Payments to associations

- (1) You can deduct a payment you make for membership of a trade, business or professional association.

Note: Alternatively, you can deduct the expense under section 8-1 (which is about general deductions) if you satisfy the requirements of that section.

Maximum amount—$42

- (2) However, $42 is the maximum amount you can deduct under this section for the payments that you make in the income year to any one association.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 25-60

---

If you deduct under section 8-1

- (3) If you deduct a payment under section 8-1 (which is about general deductions) instead of this section:
- (a) the payment does not count towards the $42 limit; and
  - (b) the amount that you can deduct for the payment is not limited to $42.

25-60 Parliament election expenses

- (1) You can deduct expenditure you incur in contesting an election for membership of:
- (a) the Parliament of the Commonwealth; or
  - (b) the Parliament of a State; or
  - (c) the Legislative Assembly for the Australian Capital Territory; or
  - (d) the Legislative Assembly of the Northern Territory of Australia.

Note 1: Entertainment expenses are excluded: see section 25-70.

Note 2: If you receive an amount as recoupment of the expenditure, the amount may be included in your assessable income: see Subdivision 20-A.

25-65 Local government election expenses

- (1) You can deduct expenditure you incur in contesting an election for membership of a *local governing body, but you cannot deduct more than $1,000 per election. You deduct the expenditure for the income year in which you incur it.
- (2) However, you can deduct more than the $1,000 limit if:
- (a) you have received an amount as *recoupment of the expenditure; and
  - (b) some or all of that amount is included in your assessable income for an income year; and
  - (c) the total of your deductions for the election would be less than the $1,000 limit if you disregarded so much (the assessed recoupment) of the expenditure as equals the amount so included in your assessable income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

In that case:

- (d) the assessed recoupment is disregarded in applying the $1,000 limit; and
- (e) the further amount that you can deduct because of paragraph (d) is deducted for the income year referred to in paragraph (b).

Example: Chris is elected to the Bunyip Shire Council. In the 2007-08 income year he incurs expenditure of $1,200 in contesting the election, of which he deducts $1,000 (the limit under subsection (1)).

In 2008-09, Chris receives $360 as an assessable recoupment of the expenditure. $300 of that is included in his assessable income by section 20-35 (as extended by section 20-50).

Because of the assessable recoupment, $300 of the expenditure is disregarded under paragraph (2)(d) in applying the $1,000 limit. As a result, Chris's deductions are treated as being only $700, which is less than the limit. This does not affect his original deduction for 2007-2008, but it means he can deduct the previously undeducted $200, for 2008-09 (see paragraph (2)(e)).

This triggers a further application of section 20-35 (as extended by section 20-50) to include the remaining $60 of the assessable recoupment in Chris's assessable income for 2008-09. His total deductions (net of recoupment included in assessable income) come to $840, which is the same as his original expenditure (net of recoupment).

Note: An amount you receive as recoupment of expenditure may be included in your assessable income as an assessable recoupment under Subdivision 20-A, as ordinary income under section 6-5 or as statutory income under some other provision.

25-70 Deduction for election expenses does not extend to entertainment

- (1) To the extent that you incur expenditure in respect of providing *entertainment, you cannot deduct it under section 25-60 or 25-65.
- (2) However, subsection (1) does not stop you deducting expenditure to the extent that you incur it in respect of:
  - (a) providing *entertainment that is available to the public generally; or
  - (b) providing food or drink to yourself, unless it would be concluded that you have a purpose of enabling or facilitating *entertainment to be provided to someone else.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 25-75

---

25-75 Rates and land taxes on premises used to produce mutual receipts

- (1) An entity can deduct these amounts it pays for premises:
- (a) rates which are annually assessed;
  - (b) land tax imposed under a *State law or *Territory law.
- But only if it uses the premises:
- (c) for the purpose of producing mutual receipts; or
  - (d) in carrying on a *business for the purpose of producing mutual receipts; or
  - (e) for the purpose of producing amounts to which section 59-35 applies (amounts that would be mutual receipts but for prohibition on distributions to members); or
  - (f) in carrying on a *business for the purpose of producing amounts to which section 59-35 applies.

Note: If the entity receives an amount as recoupment of the rates or land tax, the amount may be included in its assessable income: see Subdivision 20-A

When premises used only for deductible purposes

- (2) The entity can deduct the whole of the rates or land tax if it uses the premises only in one or more of these ways:
- (a) for the purpose of producing mutual receipts;
  - (b) in carrying on a *business for the purpose of producing mutual receipts;
  - (c) for the *purpose of producing assessable income.

When premises used partly for deductible purposes

- (3) If the entity uses the premises partly in one or more of the ways referred to in subsection (2) and partly in some other way, it can deduct the rates or land tax to the extent that it uses the premises in one or more of the ways referred to in that subsection.

No deduction under section 8-1

- (4) The entity cannot deduct the rates or land tax under section 8-1 (which is about general deductions).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

25-85 Certain returns in respect of debt interests

- (1) This section deals with a *return that an entity pays or provides on a *debt interest.
- (2) The *return is not prevented from being a *general deduction for an income year under section 8-1 merely because:
  - (a) the return is *contingent on the economic performance (whether past, current or future) of:
    - (i) the entity or a part of the entity's activities; or
    - (ii) a *connected entity of the entity or a part of the activities of a connected entity of the entity; or
  - (b) the return secures a permanent or enduring benefit for the entity or a connected entity of the entity.
- (3) If the *return is a *dividend, the entity can deduct the return to the extent to which it would have been a *general deduction under section 8-1 if:
  - (a) the payment of the return were the incurring by the entity of a liability to pay the same amount as interest; and
  - (b) that interest were incurred in respect of the finance raised by the entity and in respect of which the return was paid or provided; and
  - (c) the *debt interest retained its character as a debt interest for the purposes of subsection (2).
- (4) Subsections (2) and (3) do not apply to a *return to the extent to which it would be a *general deduction under section 8-1 apart from this section.
- (4A) Subsections (2) and (3) do not apply to a *return on a *debt interest that is a *Division 230 financial arrangement.
- (5) Subject to regulations made for the purposes of subsection (6), subsections (2) and (3) do not apply to the return to the extent to which the annually compounded internal rate of return exceeds the *benchmark rate of return for the interest increased by 150 basis points.
- (6) The regulations may provide that subsection (5) applies in the circumstances specified in the regulations as if the reference to 150

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 25-90

---

basis points were a reference to a greater or lesser number of basis points.

25-90 Deduction relating to foreign non-assessable non-exempt income

An *Australian entity can deduct an amount of loss or outgoing from its assessable income for an income year if:

- (a) the amount is incurred by the entity in deriving income from a foreign source; and
- (b) the income is *non-assessable non-exempt income under section 23AI, 23AJ or 23AK of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; and
- (c) the amount is a cost in relation to a *debt interest issued by the entity that is covered by paragraph (1)(a) of the definition of debt deduction.

Note: This section does not apply to a Division 230 financial arrangement.

25-95 Deduction for work in progress amounts

- (1) You can deduct a *work in progress amount that you pay for the income year in which you pay it to the extent that, as at the end of that income year:
  - (a) a recoverable debt has arisen in respect of the completion or partial completion of the work to which the amount related; or
  - (b) you reasonably expect a recoverable debt to arise in respect of the completion or partial completion of that work within the period of 12 months after the amount was paid.
- (2) You can deduct the remainder (if any) of the *work in progress amount for the following income year.
- (3) An amount is a work in progress amount to the extent that:
  - (a) an entity agrees to pay the amount to another entity (the recipient); and
  - (b) the amount can be identified as being in respect of work (but not goods) that has been partially performed by the recipient for a third entity but not yet completed to the stage where a recoverable debt has arisen in respect of the completion or partial completion of the work.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (4) An amount does not stop being a work in progress amount merely because it is paid after a recoverable debt has arisen in respect of the completion or partial completion of the work to which the amount related.

25-105 Deductions for United Medical Protection Limited support payments

- (1) You can deduct an amount that you pay for the income year in which you pay it to the extent that it consists of a *United Medical Protection Limited support payment.
- (2) A United Medical Protection Limited support payment is an amount payable under Division 1 of Part 3 of the Medical Indemnity Act 2002.
- (3) You cannot deduct an amount under this section if you can deduct it under any other provision of this Act.

25-100 Travel between workplaces

When a deduction is allowed

- (1) If you are an individual, you can deduct a *transport expense to the extent that it is incurred in your *travel between workplaces.

Travel between workplaces

- (2) Your travel between workplaces is travel directly between 2 places, to the extent that:
- (a) while you were at the first place, you were:
- (i) engaged in activities to gain or produce your assessable income; or
- (ii) engaged in activities in the course of carrying on a *business for the purpose of gaining or producing your assessable income; and
- (b) the purpose of your travel to the second place was to:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 25-110

---

- (i) engage in activities to gain or produce your assessable income; or
  - (ii) engage in activities in the course of carrying on a business for the purpose of gaining or producing your assessable income;
- and you engaged in those activities while you were at the second place.
- (3) Travel between 2 places is not travel between workplaces if one of the places you are travelling between is a place at which you reside.
  - (4) Travel between 2 places is not travel between workplaces if, at the time of your travel to the second place:
    - (a) the arrangement under which you gained or produced assessable income at the first place has ceased; or
    - (b) the *business in respect of which you engaged in activities at the first place has ceased.

No deduction for capital expenditure

- (5) You cannot deduct expenditure under subsection (1) to the extent that the expenditure is capital, or of a capital nature.

25-110 Capital expenditure to terminate lease etc.

- (1) You can deduct an amount for capital expenditure you incur to terminate a lease or licence (including an authority, permit or quota) that results in the termination of the lease or licence if the expenditure is incurred:
  - (a) in the course of *carrying on a *business; or
  - (b) in connection with ceasing to carry on a business.
- (2) The amount you can deduct is 20% of the expenditure:
  - (a) for the income year in which the lease or licence is terminated; and
  - (b) for each of the next 4 income years.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Exceptions

- (3) You cannot deduct any amount for expenditure you incur to terminate a lease that, in accordance with *accounting standards, or statements of accounting concepts made by the Australian Accounting Standards Board, is classified as a finance lease.
- (4) If you incurred the expenditure under an *arrangement and:
  - (a) there is at least one other party to the arrangement with whom you did not deal at *arm's length; and
  - (b) apart from this subsection, the amount of the expenditure would be more than the *market value of what it was for (assuming the termination did not occur and was never proposed to occur);the amount of expenditure you take into account is that market value.
- (5) You cannot deduct any amount for expenditure you incur to terminate a lease or licence if:
  - (a) after the termination, you or an *associate of yours enters into another lease or licence with the same party or an associate of that party; and
  - (b) the other lease or licence is of the same kind as the original one.
- (6) You cannot deduct any amount for expenditure you incur to terminate a lease or licence to the extent that the expenditure is for the granting or receipt of another lease or licence in relation to the asset that was the subject of the original lease or licence.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 26—Some amounts you cannot deduct, or cannot deduct in full

Guide to Division 26

26-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out some amounts that you cannot deduct, or that you cannot deduct in full.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

26-5	Penalties
26-10	Leave payments
26-15	Franchise fees windfall tax
26-17	Commonwealth places windfall tax
26-20	Assistance to students
26-25	Interest or royalty
26-26	Non-share distribution and dividends
26-30	Relative's travel expenses
26-35	Reducing deductions for amounts paid to related entities
26-40	Maintaining your family
26-45	Recreational club expenses
26-47	Non-business boating activities
26-50	Expenses for a leisure facility
26-52	Bribes to foreign public officials
26-53	Bribes to public officials
26-54	Expenditure relating to illegal activities
26-55	Limit on deductions
26-60	Superannuation contributions surcharge
26-65	Termination payments surcharge
26-68	Loss from disposal of eligible venture capital investments
26-70	Loss from disposal of venture capital equity
26-75	Excess contributions tax cannot be deducted
26-80	Financing costs on loans to pay superannuation contribution
26-85	Borrowing costs on loans to pay life insurance premiums

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- 26-90 Superannuation supervisory levy
- 26-95 Superannuation guarantee charge

Operative provisions

26-5 Penalties

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act:
  - (a) an amount (however described) payable, by way of penalty, under an *Australian law or a *foreign law; or
  - (b) an amount ordered by a court to be paid on the conviction of an entity for an offence against an *Australian law or a *foreign law.
- (2) This section does not apply to an amount payable, by way of penalty, under Subdivision 162-D of the *GST Act.

Note: See paragraph 25-5(1)(ca) for the deductibility of penalties that arise under Subdivision 162-D of the GST Act.

26-10 Leave payments

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act a loss or outgoing for long service leave, annual leave, sick leave or other leave except:
  - (a) an amount paid in the income year to the individual to whom the leave relates (or, if that individual has died, to that individual's dependant or *legal personal representative); or
  - (b) an *accrued leave transfer payment that is made in the income year.
- (2) An accrued leave transfer payment is a payment that an entity makes:
  - (a) in respect of an individual's leave (some or all of which accrued while the entity was required to make payments in respect of the individual's leave, or leave the individual might take); and
  - (b) when the entity is no longer required (or is about to stop being required) to make payments in respect of such leave; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 26 Some amounts you cannot deduct, or cannot deduct in full

Section 26-15

---

- (c) to another entity when the other entity has begun (or is about to begin) to be required to make payments in respect of such leave; and
- (d) under (or for the purposes of facilitating the provisions of) an *Australian law, or an award, order, determination or industrial agreement under an *Australian law.

It does not matter whether the leave accrues to the individual as an employee or for some other reason.

Example: Your employee goes to a new employer. You pay the new employer $2,000 for the employee's unused long service leave because an industrial agreement requires you to make that payment.

Note: An accrued leave transfer payment is included in the assessable income of the entity to which it is made: see section 15-5.

26-15 Franchise fees windfall tax

You cannot deduct under this Act any tax that is imposed by the Franchise Fees Windfall Tax (Imposition) Act 1997.

26-17 Commonwealth places windfall tax

You cannot deduct under this Act any tax that is imposed by the Commonwealth Places Windfall Tax (Imposition) Act 1998.

26-20 Assistance to students

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act:
  - (a) a contribution made under Chapter 4 of the Higher Education Funding Act 1988; or
  - (b) a basic charge within the meaning of Chapter 5 of that Act; or
  - (c) a payment made to reduce a debt to the Commonwealth under Chapter 5A of that Act; or
  - (ca) a student contribution amount within the meaning of the Higher Education Support Act 2003 paid to a higher education provider (within the meaning of that Act); or
  - (cb) a payment made to reduce a debt to the Commonwealth under Chapter 4 of that Act; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (d) a payment made to reduce a debt to the Commonwealth, or to a participating corporation, under Chapter 2B of the Social Security Act 1991 or Part 4A of the Student Assistance Act 1973.

Exception when you provide a fringe benefit

- (2) Subsection (1) does not stop you deducting expenditure you incur in *providing a *fringe benefit.

26-25 Interest or royalty

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act interest (within the meaning of Division 11A of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) or a *royalty if:
- (a) Subdivision 12-F in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 requires you to withhold an amount from the interest or royalty; and
  - (b) either:
    - (i) you fail to withhold the amount; or
    - (ii) after withholding the amount, you fail to comply with section 16-70 in that Schedule in relation to that amount.
- (2) You cannot deduct under this Act interest (within the meaning of Division 11A of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936), or a *royalty, that is in the form of a *non-cash benefit if:
- (a) section 14-5 or 14-10 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 requires you to pay an amount to the Commissioner before providing the benefit, because of Subdivision 12-F in that Schedule; and
  - (b) you fail to pay the amount as required by that section.
- (3) If:
- (a) apart from subsection (1) or (2), you can deduct interest (within the meaning of Division 11A of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) or a *royalty for an income year; and
  - (b) the *withholding tax payable for the interest or the royalty is paid;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 26-26

---

you can deduct the interest or royalty for that income year.

26-26 Non-share distributions and dividends

- (1) A company cannot deduct under this Act:
  - (a) a *non-share distribution; or
  - (b) a return that has accrued on a *non-share equity interest.
- (2) A company cannot deduct a *dividend paid on an *equity interest in the company as a *general deduction under this Act.

26-30 Relative's travel expenses

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act a loss or outgoing you incur, insofar as it is attributable to your *relative's travel, if:
  - (a) you travelled in the course of performing your duties as an employee, or in the course of carrying on a *business for the purpose of gaining or producing your assessable income; and
  - (b) your relative accompanied you while you travelled.

Exception to subsection (1)

- (2) Subsection (1) does not stop you deducting a loss or outgoing if:
  - (a) your *relative, while accompanying you, performed substantial duties as your employer's employee, or as your employee; and
  - (b) it is reasonable to conclude that your relative would still have accompanied you even if he or she had not had a personal relationship with you.

Exception when you provide a fringe benefit

- (3) Subsection (1) does not stop you deducting expenditure you incur in *providing a *fringe benefit.

This section also applies to individuals who are not employees

- (4) If an individual is not an employee, but receives, or is entitled to receive, *withholding payments covered by subsection (6), this section applies to the individual as if:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) he or she were an employee; and
- (b) the entity, who pays (or is liable to pay) *withholding payments covered by subsection (6) that result in the individual being in receipt of, or entitled to receive, such payments, were the individual's employer; and
- (c) any other individual who receives (or is entitled to receive) *withholding payments covered by subsection (6):
  - (i) that result in that other individual being in receipt of, or entitled to receive, such payments; and
  - (ii) that the entity pays (or is liable to pay) to that other individual;were an employee of the entity.

This section also applies to entities who are not employers

- (5) If an entity is not an employer, but pays (or is liable to pay) *withholding payments covered by subsection (6), this section applies to the entity as if:
  - (a) it were an employer; and
  - (b) an individual to whom the entity pays (or is liable to pay) such withholding payments were the entity's employee.

Withholding payments covered

- (6) This subsection covers:
  - (a) a *withholding payment covered by any of the provisions in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 listed in the table; and
  - (b) a withholding payment covered by section 12-47 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 where:
    - (i) the payment is made to a religious practitioner by a religious institution; and
    - (ii) the activity, or series of activities, for which the payment is made is done by the religious practitioner as a member of the religious institution.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 26-35

---

Withholding payments covered
Item	Provision	Subject matter
1	Section 12-40	Payment to company director
2	Section 12-45	Payment to office holder
3	Section 12-50	Return to work payment
4	Subdivision 12-D	Benefit, training and compensation payments

26-35 Reducing deductions for amounts paid to related entities

You can only deduct reasonable amounts paid to related entities

- (1) If, under another provision of this Act, you can deduct an amount for a payment you make, or for a liability you incur, to a *related entity, then you can only deduct so much of the amount as the Commissioner considers reasonable.

Note: This section has a special operation if the payment is made, or the liability is incurred, by a partnership in which a private company is a partner: see section 65 (Payments to associated persons and relatives) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Meaning of related entity

- (2) A related entity is any of the following:
- (a) your *relative; or
  - (b) a partnership in which your relative is a partner.
- (3) In the case of a partnership, a related entity is any of the following:
- (a) a *relative of a partner in the partnership;
  - (b) an individual who is or has been a director of a company that is a partner in the partnership and is a *private company for the income year;
  - (c) an entity that is or has been a shareholder in a company of that kind;
  - (d) a *relative of an individual who is or has been a director or shareholder of a company of that kind;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (e) a beneficiary of a trust if the trustee is a partner in the partnership;
- (f) a *relative of a beneficiary of a trust if the trustee is a partner in the partnership;
- (g) another partnership, if a partner in the other partnership is a *relative of a partner in the first partnership.

However, a partner in a partnership is not a related entity of the partnership.

If you can't deduct, then related entity doesn't include amount as income

- (4) To the extent that subsection (1) stops you deducting an amount, the amount is neither assessable income, nor exempt income, of the *related entity.

Amendments of assessments

- (5) The Commissioner can amend an assessment at any time for the purpose of giving effect to subsection (4).

Example: An amount was not included in the related entity's assessable income because at the time you could not deduct the amount. At a later time you discover that you could deduct the amount and your assessment is amended. The Commissioner can amend the entity's assessment so that the amount is included in the entity's assessable income.

26-40 Maintaining your family

You cannot deduct under this Act expenditure you incur for maintaining:

- (a) your *spouse (except a spouse permanently living separately and apart from you); or
- (b) your *child who is under 16 years.

Example: A farmer cannot deduct an amount for food or lodgings that the farmer provides to his or her child who is under 16 years for the work the child performs on the farm.

26-45 Recreational club expenses

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act a loss or outgoing to the extent you incur it to obtain or maintain:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 26 Some amounts you cannot deduct, or cannot deduct in full

Section 26-47

---

- (a) membership of a *recreational club; or
- (b) rights to enjoy (otherwise than as a *member) facilities provided by a *recreational club for the use or benefit of its *members;

whether for yourself or someone else.

Meaning of recreational club

- (2) A recreational club is a company that was established or is carried on mainly to provide facilities, for the use or benefit of its *members, for drinking, dining, *recreation or entertainment.

Exception when you provide a fringe benefit

- (3) Subsection (1) does not stop you deducting expenditure you incur in *providing a *fringe benefit.

26-47 Non-business boating activities

Object

- (1) The object of this section is to improve the integrity of the taxation system by preventing deductions from boating activities that are not carried on as a *business being offset against other assessable income.

Rule

- (2) This Act applies to you as if so much of the amounts relating to using or *holding boats that you could otherwise deduct for an income year as exceeds your assessable income from using or holding boats for that year:
  - (a) were not deductible for that income year; and
  - (b) were an amount (a quarantined amount) relating to using or holding boats that you can deduct for the next income year.

Note: A quarantined amount may be reduced under subsection (5) (for boat capital gains), reduced under subsection (7) (where you deduct part of a quarantined amount under subsection (6) for boat business profits), reduced under subsection (8) (about exempt income) or affected by subsection (10) (about bankruptcy).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Example: Ian does not use his boat in a business. In Year 1, Ian would be able to claim $100,000 in deductions for the boat (but for this subsection), including interest, depreciation and running costs. He earns only $40,000 of income from the boat. He can only deduct $40,000. He carries the remaining $60,000 forward to Year 2 (the quarantined amount).

In Year 2, Ian has $95,000 of expenses and $30,000 of income for the boat. He can deduct $30,000. The quarantined amount is now $125,000: the quarantined amount from Year 1 plus the excess of expenses over income from Year 2.

In Year 3, Ian has $60,000 of expenses and $150,000 of income from the boat. The expenses from Year 3 plus the quarantined amount is $185,000. Therefore, Ian claims a deduction of $150,000 and carries forward $35,000 to Year 4.

Exception: business use

- (3) The rule in subsection (2) does not apply to amounts that are attributable to one or more of the following:
- (a) *holding a boat as your *trading stock;
  - (b) using a boat (or holding it) mainly for letting it on hire in the ordinary course of a *business that you *carry on;
  - (c) using a boat (or holding it) mainly for transporting the public or goods for payment in the ordinary course of a business that you carry on;
  - (d) using a boat for a purpose that is essential to the efficient conduct of a business that you carry on.

Note: Even if this exception applies to you, you may still have to quarantine losses under Division 35 (deferral of losses from non-commercial business activities).

Exception: fringe benefits

- (4) The rule in subsection (2) does not apply to so much of an amount you incur in *providing a *fringe benefit.

Modification if you have boat capital gains

- (5) You reduce a quarantined amount you have for an income year by so much of that amount as is applied under section 118-80 to reduce a *capital gain you have for the year in relation to a boat.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 26-47

---

You make this reduction before you deduct an amount under subsection (6).

Deduction if you have boat business profits

- (6) You can deduct all or part of your remaining quarantined amount for an income year if your assessable income for the year from activities of a kind referred to in subsection (3) exceeds your deductions for the year relating to those activities. The amount you can deduct is the lesser of that excess and that remaining quarantined amount.
- (7) You reduce your quarantined amount for the year by the amount you deduct. You make this reduction before a reduction under subsection (8).

Modification if you have exempt income

- (8) You reduce any remaining quarantined amount you have for an income year by so much of your *net exempt income as is not applied for that income year under section 35-15 (about non-commercial business activities) or section 36-10 or 36-15 (about tax losses).

Modification if you become bankrupt

- (9) The modification in subsection (10) has effect if:
  - (a) in an income year (the current year) you become bankrupt or are released from a debt by the operation of an Act relating to bankruptcy; or
  - (b) you became bankrupt before the current year and:
    - (i) the bankruptcy is annulled in the current year under section 74 of the Bankruptcy Act 1966 because your creditors have accepted a proposal for a composition or scheme of arrangement; and
    - (ii) under the composition or scheme of arrangement, you have been, will be or may be released from some or all of the debts from which you would have been released if you had instead been discharged from the bankruptcy.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (10) This Act applies to you as if any amount that:
- (a) is a quarantined amount for you for the current year or was a quarantined amount for you for an earlier year; and
  - (b) has not been applied under section 118-80 and that you have not yet deducted;
- were not an amount relating to using or holding boats that you can deduct for the current year or a later year.

26-50 Expenses for a leisure facility

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act a loss or outgoing to the extent you incur it:
- (a) to acquire ownership of a *leisure facility; or
  - (b) to retain ownership of a leisure facility; or
  - (c) to acquire rights to use a leisure facility; or
  - (d) to retain rights to use a leisure facility; or
  - (e) to use, operate, maintain or repair a leisure facility; or
  - (f) in relation to any obligation associated with your ownership of a leisure facility; or
  - (g) in relation to any obligation associated with your rights to use a leisure facility.

However, there are exceptions (see subsections (3), (4) and (8)).

What is a leisure facility?

- (2) A leisure facility is land, a building, or part of a building or other structure, that is used (or held for use) for holidays or *recreation.

Exception—leisure facilities

- (3) Subsection (1) does not stop you deducting a loss or outgoing for a *leisure facility if at all times in the income year:
- (a) you hold the leisure facility for sale in the ordinary course of your business of selling leisure facilities; or
  - (b) you use the leisure facility (or hold it for use) mainly to provide it:
    - (i) in the ordinary course of your *business of providing leisure facilities for payment; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 26 Some amounts you cannot deduct, or cannot deduct in full

Section 26-52

---

- (ii) to produce your assessable income in the nature of rents, lease premiums, licence fees or similar charges; or
- (iii) for your employees to use; or
- (iv) for the care of your employees' *children.

In the case of a company, subparagraphs (b)(iii) and (iv) do not apply to employees who are *members or directors of the company.

Exception—part year use of leisure facilities

- (4) If you use a *leisure facility (or hold it) as described in subsection (3) at all times during part of the income year, then subsection (1) does not stop you deducting so much of the loss or outgoing as is reasonable in the circumstances.

Anti-avoidance—when exceptions do not apply

- (7) A *leisure facility is taken not to be used (or held) as described in subsection (3) if:
  - (a) apart from this subsection, the leisure facility would be used (or held) in that way because of a *scheme; and
  - (b) in the Commissioner's opinion, the scheme would not have been entered into or carried out if this section had not been enacted.

Exception when you provide a fringe benefit

- (8) Subsection (1) does not stop you deducting expenditure you incur in *providing a *fringe benefit.

26-52 Bribes to foreign public officials

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act a loss or outgoing you incur that is a *bribe to a foreign public official.
- (2) An amount is a bribe to a foreign public official to the extent that:
  - (a) you incur the amount in, or in connection with:
    - (i) providing a benefit to another person; or
    - (ii) causing a benefit to be provided to another person; or
    - (iii) offering to provide, or promising to provide, a benefit to another person; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (iv) causing an offer of the provision of a benefit, or a promise of the provision of a benefit, to be made to another person; and
- (b) the benefit is not legitimately due to the other person (see subsection (6)); and
- (c) you incur the amount with the intention of influencing a *foreign public official (who may or may not be the other person) in the exercise of the official's duties as a foreign public official in order to:
  - (i) obtain or retain business; or
  - (ii) obtain or retain an advantage in the conduct of business that is not legitimately due to you, or another person, as the recipient, or intended recipient, of the advantage in the conduct of business (see subsection (7)).

The benefit may be any advantage and is not limited to property.

- (2A) For the purposes of subsection (2), disregard whether business, or a business advantage, was actually obtained or retained.

Payments that written law of foreign public official's country requires or permits

- (3) An amount is not a bribe to a foreign public official if, assuming the benefit had been provided, and all related acts had been done, in the *foreign public official's country, a written law of that country would have required or permitted the provision of the benefit.

Facilitation payments

- (4) An amount is not a bribe to a foreign public official if:
  - (a) the value of the benefit is of a minor nature; and
  - (b) the amount is incurred for the sole or dominant purpose of expediting or securing the performance of a routine government action of a minor nature.
- (5) For the purposes of this section, a routine government action is an action of a *foreign public official that:
  - (a) is ordinarily and commonly performed by the official; and
  - (b) is covered by any of the following subparagraphs:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 26 Some amounts you cannot deduct, or cannot deduct in full

Section 26-52

---

- (i) granting a permit, licence or other official document that qualifies a person to do business in a foreign country or in a part of a foreign country;
- (ii) processing government papers such as a visa or work permit;
- (iii) providing police protection or mail collection or delivery;
- (iv) scheduling inspections associated with contract performance or related to the transit of goods;
- (v) providing telecommunications services, power or water;
- (vi) loading and unloading cargo;
- (vii) protecting perishable products, or commodities, from deterioration;
- (viii) any other action of a similar nature; and
- (c) does not involve a decision about:
  - (i) whether to award new business; or
  - (ii) whether to continue existing business with a particular person; or
  - (iii) the terms of new business or existing business; and
- (d) does not involve encouraging a decision about:
  - (i) whether to award new business; or
  - (ii) whether to continue existing business with a particular person; or
  - (iii) the terms of new business or existing business.

Benefit not legitimately due

- (6) In working out if a benefit is not legitimately due to another person in a particular situation, disregard the following:
  - (a) the fact that the benefit may be, or be perceived to be, customary, necessary or required in the situation;
  - (b) the value of the benefit;
  - (c) any official tolerance of the benefit.

Advantage in the conduct of business that is not legitimately due

- (7) In working out if an advantage in the conduct of business is not legitimately due in a particular situation, disregard the following:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) the fact that the advantage may be customary, or perceived to be customary, in the situation;
- (b) the value of the advantage;
- (c) any official tolerance of the advantage.

Duties of foreign public official

- (8) The duties of a *foreign public official are any authorities, duties, functions or powers that:
  - (a) are conferred on the official; or
  - (b) the official holds himself or herself out as having.

26-53 Bribes to public officials

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act a loss or outgoing you incur that is a *bribe to a public official.
- (2) An amount is a bribe to a public official to the extent that:
  - (a) you incur the amount in, or in connection with:
    - (i) providing a benefit to another person; or
    - (ii) causing a benefit to be provided to another person; or
    - (iii) offering to provide, or promising to provide, a benefit to another person; or
    - (iv) causing an offer of the provision of a benefit, or a promise of the provision of a benefit, to be made to another person; and
  - (b) the benefit is not legitimately due to the other person (see subsection (3)); and
  - (c) you incur the amount with the intention of influencing a *public official (who may or may not be the other person) in the exercise of the official's duties as a public official in order to:
    - (i) obtain or retain business; or
    - (ii) obtain or retain an advantage in the conduct of business that is not legitimately due to you, or another person, as the recipient, or intended recipient, of the advantage in the conduct of business (see subsection (4)).

The benefit may be any advantage and is not limited to property.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 26-54

---

Benefit not legitimately due

- (3) In working out if a benefit is not legitimately due to another person in a particular situation, disregard the following:
- (a) the fact that the benefit may be customary, or perceived to be customary, in the situation;
  - (b) the value of the benefit;
  - (c) any official tolerance of the benefit.

Advantage in the conduct of business that is not legitimately due

- (4) In working out if an advantage in the conduct of business is not legitimately due in a particular situation, disregard the following:
- (a) the fact that the advantage may be customary, or perceived to be customary, in the situation;
  - (b) the value of the advantage;
  - (c) any official tolerance of the advantage.

Duties of public official

- (5) The duties of a *public official are any authorities, duties, functions or powers that:
- (a) are conferred on the official; or
  - (b) the official holds himself or herself out as having.

26-54 Expenditure relating to illegal activities

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act a loss or outgoing to the extent that it was incurred in the furtherance of, or directly in relation to, a physical element of an offence against an *Australian law of which you have been convicted if the offence was, or could have been, prosecuted on indictment.
- (2) Despite section 170 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, the Commissioner may amend your assessment at any time within 4 years after you are convicted of the relevant offence for the purpose of giving effect to subsection (1) of this section.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

26-55 Limit on deductions

(1) There is a limit on the total of the amounts you can deduct for the income year under these provisions:

- (a) section 25-50 (which is about payments of pensions, gratuities or retiring allowances) of this Act;
- (ba) Division 30 (which is about deductions for gifts or contributions) of this Act;
- (bb) Division 31 (which is about deductions for conservation covenants) of this Act;
- (d) section 290-150 (which is about deductions for personal superannuation contributions).

Do not include in the total an amount that you could also deduct under another provision of this Act, apart from section 8-10 (which prevents double deductions).

(2) The limit is worked out by subtracting from your assessable income all your deductions except:

- (a) *tax losses; and

See Division 36 (which is about tax losses of earlier income years).

- (c) amounts you have deposited in terms of Schedule 2G (Farm management deposits) to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

26-60 Superannuation contributions surcharge

You cannot deduct under this Act:

- (a) a superannuation contributions surcharge within the meaning of the Superannuation Contributions Tax (Assessment and Collection) Act 1997; or
- (b) a superannuation contributions surcharge within the meaning of the Superannuation Contributions Tax (Members of Constitutionally Protected Superannuation Funds) Assessment and Collection Act 1997.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 26-65

---

26-65 Termination payments surcharge

You cannot deduct under this Act a termination payments surcharge within the meaning of the Termination Payments Tax (Assessment and Collection) Act 1997.

26-68 Loss from disposal of eligible venture capital investments

Partners in VCLPs and ESVCLPs

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act your share of a loss made from the disposal or other realisation of an *eligible venture capital investment if:
  - (a) it is made by a *VCLP, or an *ESVCLP, that is *unconditionally registered; and
  - (b) were that disposal or other realisation to be a *disposal of a *CGT asset, your share of any *capital gain or *capital loss would be disregarded under section 118-405 or 118-407.

Partners in AFOFs

- (2) You cannot deduct under this Act your share of a loss made from the disposal or other realisation of an *eligible venture capital investment if:
  - (a) it is made by:
    - (i) an *AFOF that is *unconditionally registered; or
    - (ii) a *VCLP, or an *ESVCLP, that is unconditionally registered and in which an AFOF that is *unconditionally registered is a partner; and
  - (b) were that disposal or other realisation to be a *disposal of a *CGT asset, your share of any *capital gain or *capital loss would be disregarded under section 118-410.

Eligible venture capital investors

- (3) You cannot deduct under this Act a loss made from the disposal or other realisation of an *eligible venture capital investment if:
  - (a) you are an *eligible venture capital investor; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (b) were that disposal or other realisation to be a *disposal of a *CGT asset, any *capital gain or *capital loss would be disregarded under section 118-415.

26-70 Loss from disposal of venture capital equity

You cannot deduct under this Act a loss made from the disposal or other realisation of *venture capital equity in a *resident investment vehicle if:

- (a) it is made by a *venture capital entity or a *limited partnership referred to in subsection 118-515(2); and
- (b) if that disposal or other realisation were a *disposal of a *CGT asset, any *capital gain or *capital loss would be disregarded under Subdivision 118-G.

26-75 Excess contributions tax cannot be deducted

You cannot deduct under this Act an amount of *excess contributions tax that you pay.

26-80 Financing costs on loans to pay superannuation contribution

- (1) You can only deduct under this Act a *financing cost connected with a contribution you make to a *superannuation plan if you can deduct the contribution under Subdivision 290-B.
- (2) A financing cost connected with a contribution is expenditure incurred to the extent that it relates to obtaining finance to make the contribution, including:
  - (a) interest, and payments in the nature of interest; and
  - (b) expenses of borrowing.

26-85 Borrowing costs on loans to pay life insurance premiums

- (1) You can only deduct under this Act interest on, or other expenses associated with, money you borrow to pay a premium for a *life insurance policy if:
  - (a) the *risk component of the premium received by the insurer is the entire amount of the premium; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 26 Some amounts you cannot deduct, or cannot deduct in full

Section 26-90

---

- (b) each amount the insurer is liable to pay under the policy would be included in your assessable income if it were paid.
- (2) The risk component of a premium for a *life insurance policy means the amount of the premium worked out on the basis specified in the regulations.

26-90 Superannuation supervisory levy

You cannot deduct under this Act so much of a levy imposed by the Superannuation (Self Managed Superannuation Funds) Supervisory Levy Imposition Act 1991 as represents the late lodgment amount (within the meaning of section 6 of that Act).

26-95 Superannuation guarantee charge

You cannot deduct under this Act a charge imposed by the Superannuation Guarantee Charge Act 1992.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 27—Effect of input tax credits etc. on deductions

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 27
27-A	General
27-B	Effect of input tax credits etc. on capital allowances

Guide to Division 27

27-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out the effect of the GST in working out deductions. Generally speaking, input tax credits, GST and adjustments under the GST Act are disregarded.

Subdivision 27-A—General

Table of sections

27-5	Input tax credits and decreasing adjustments
27-10	Certain increasing adjustments
27-15	GST payments
27-20	Elements in calculation of amounts
27-25	GST groups and GST joint ventures
27-35	Certain sections not to apply to certain assets or expenditure

27-5 Input tax credits and decreasing adjustments

You cannot deduct under this Act a loss or outgoing you incur, to the extent that the loss or outgoing includes an amount relating to an *input tax credit to which you are entitled or a *decreasing adjustment that you have.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 27-10

---

27-10 Certain increasing adjustments

- (1) You can deduct an amount of an *increasing adjustment that arises under Division 129 of the *GST Act.
- (2) However, you cannot deduct the amount to the extent (if any) that the adjustment arises from an increase in the extent to which the activity giving rise to the adjustment is of a private or domestic nature.
- (3) If:
  - (a) you have an *increasing adjustment under Division 138 of the *GST Act in respect of an asset as a result of the cancellation of your registration under Part 2-5 of the GST Act; and
  - (b) immediately after the cancellation, you held the asset for the purpose of gaining or producing assessable income;you can deduct the amount of the increasing adjustment.
- (4) However, you cannot deduct an amount under subsection (1) or (3) to the extent that, because it becomes a component of a *net input tax credit, a reduction is made under section 103-30 (reduction of cost base etc. by net input tax credits).

27-15 GST payments

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act a loss or outgoing consisting of a payment under Division 33 of the *GST Act.
- (2) This section does not apply to the payment:
  - (a) to the extent (if any) that the *net amount to which the payment relates was increased under section 21-5 of the *Wine Tax Act (which allows for such increases to take account of wine equalisation tax); and
  - (b) to the extent (if any) that the *net amount was increased under section 13-5 of the *Luxury Car Tax Act (which allows for such increases to take account of luxury car tax); and
  - (c) to the extent (if any) that the *net amount was increased under paragraph 13-10(1)(a) of the Luxury Car Tax Act (which allows for such alterations to take account of increasing luxury car tax adjustments under that Act).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (3) This section does not apply to the payment of *GST (under section 33-15 of the *GST Act) on a *taxable importation that:
- (a) was not a *creditable importation; or
  - (b) was *partly creditable;
- but only to the extent that that payment of GST exceeds the *input tax credit (if any) to which you are entitled for that importation.

27-20 Elements in calculation of amounts

In calculating an amount that you may be able to deduct:

- (a) an element in the calculation that is an amount paid or payable is treated as not including an amount equal to any *input tax credit for an *acquisition related to the amount paid or payable, or any *decreasing adjustment related to that amount; and
- (b) an element in the calculation that is an amount received or receivable is treated as not including an amount equal to any *GST payable on a *taxable supply related to the amount received or receivable, or any *increasing adjustment related to that amount.

27-25 GST groups and GST joint ventures

- (1) A *member of a *GST group is to be treated, for the purposes of this Division, as if Subdivision 48-B of the *GST Act (other than subsections 48-45(3) and (4)) did not apply to that member.
- (2) A *participant in a *GST joint venture is to be treated, for the purposes of this Division, as if Subdivision 51-B of the *GST Act did not apply to that participant.

27-35 Certain sections not to apply to certain assets or expenditure

Sections 27-5, 27-10, 27-15 and 27-20 do not apply to assets, or to expenditure, for which you can deduct amounts under Division 40 or 328.

Note: See instead Subdivision 27-B.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 27-80

---

Subdivision 27-B—Effect of input tax credits etc. on capital allowances

Table of sections

27-80	Cost or opening adjustable value of depreciating assets reduced for input tax credits
27-85	Cost or opening adjustable value of depreciating assets reduced: decreasing adjustments
27-87	Certain decreasing adjustments included in assessable income
27-90	Cost or opening adjustable value of depreciating assets increased: increasing adjustments
27-92	Certain increasing adjustments can be deducted
27-95	Balancing adjustment events
27-100	Pooling
27-105	Other Division 40 expenditure
27-110	Input tax credit etc. relating to 2 or more things

27-80 Cost or opening adjustable value of depreciating assets reduced for input tax credits

- (1) A *depreciating asset's *cost is reduced if:
- (a) an entity's acquisition or importation of the asset constitutes a *creditable acquisition or *creditable importation; and
  - (b) the entity is or becomes entitled to an *input tax credit for the acquisition or importation; and
  - (c) the entity can deduct amounts for the asset under Division 40 or 328.

The reduction is the amount of the input tax credit.

- (2) A *depreciating asset's *cost is also reduced if:
- (a) the entity that *holds the asset incurs expenditure that is included in the second element of the asset's cost for the income year in which the asset's *start time occurs; and
  - (b) the entity is or becomes entitled to an *input tax credit for the *creditable acquisition or *creditable importation to which the expenditure relates; and
  - (c) the entity can deduct amounts for the asset under Division 40 or 328.

The reduction is the amount of the input tax credit.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (3) However, subsections (1) and (2) do not apply if the *cost of the *depreciating asset is modified under Division 40 to be its *market value.
- (3A) A *depreciating asset's *opening adjustable value for an income year and its *cost is reduced if:
- (a) an entity's acquisition or importation of the asset constitutes a *creditable acquisition or *creditable importation; and
  - (b) the entity is or becomes entitled to an *input tax credit in an income year (the credit year) for the acquisition or importation and the credit year occurs after the income year in which the acquisition or importation occurred; and
  - (c) the income year is after the one in which the asset's *start time occurs; and
  - (d) the entity can deduct amounts for the asset under Division 40 or 328.
- The reduction is the amount of the input tax credit.
- (4) A *depreciating asset's *opening adjustable value for an income year and its *cost is reduced if:
- (a) the entity that *holds the asset incurs expenditure that is included in the second element of the asset's cost for that income year; and
  - (b) that income year is after the one in which the asset's *start time occurs; and
  - (c) the entity is or becomes entitled to an *input tax credit for the *creditable acquisition or *creditable importation to which the expenditure relates for the income year in which the expenditure was incurred; and
  - (d) the entity can deduct amounts for the asset under Division 40 or 328.
- The reduction is the amount of the input tax credit.
- (5) If the reduction under subsection (2), (3A) or (4) is more than:
- (a) for a subsection (2) case—the *depreciating asset's *cost; or
  - (b) for a subsection (3A) or (4) case—the depreciating asset's *opening adjustable value;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 27-85

---

the excess is included in the entity's assessable income unless the entity is an *exempt entity.

Exception: pooling

- (6) This section does not apply to:
- (a) a depreciating asset allocated to a low-value pool or a pool under Division 328 for or in the *current year; or
  - (b) *in-house software if expenditure on the software is allocated to a software development pool for the current year; or
  - (c) a project pool.

27-85 Cost or opening adjustable value of depreciating assets reduced: decreasing adjustments

- (1) This section applies to an entity if:
- (a) the entity can deduct amounts for a *depreciating asset under Division 40 or 328; and
  - (b) the entity has a *decreasing adjustment in an income year that relates directly or indirectly to the asset.

(1A) However, this section does not apply to a *decreasing adjustment that arises under Division 129 or 132 of the *GST Act.

Note: See instead section 27-87.

- (2) The asset's *cost is reduced by an amount equal to the *decreasing adjustment if the adjustment arises in the income year in which the asset's *start time occurs.
- (3) The asset's *opening adjustable value for an income year and its *cost is reduced by an amount equal to the *decreasing adjustment if the adjustment arises in that year and that year is after the one in which the asset's *start time occurs.
- (4) If the reduction under subsection (2) or (3) is more than:
- (a) for a subsection (2) case—the *depreciating asset's *cost; or
  - (b) for a subsection (3) case—the depreciating asset's *opening adjustable value;

the excess is included in the entity's assessable income unless the entity is an *exempt entity.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Exception: pooling

- (5) This section does not apply to:
- (a) a depreciating asset allocated to a low-value pool or a pool under Division 328 for or in the *current year; or
  - (b) *in-house software if expenditure on the software is allocated to a software development pool for the current year; or
  - (c) a project pool.

27-87 Certain decreasing adjustments included in assessable income

- (1) This section applies to an entity if:
- (a) the entity can deduct amounts for a *depreciating asset under Division 40 or 328; and
  - (b) the entity has a *decreasing adjustment that arises under Division 129 or 132 of the *GST Act in an income year that relates directly or indirectly to the asset; and
  - (c) section 27-95 does not apply to the entity in relation to the asset.
- (2) The amount of the *decreasing adjustment is included in the entity's assessable income for the income year unless the entity is an *exempt entity.

27-90 Cost or opening adjustable value of depreciating assets increased: increasing adjustments

- (1) This section applies to an entity if:
- (a) the entity can deduct amounts for a *depreciating asset under Division 40 or 328; and
  - (b) the entity has an *increasing adjustment in an income year that relates directly or indirectly to the asset.
- (1A) However, this section does not apply to an *increasing adjustment that arises under Division 129 or 132 of the *GST Act.

Note: See instead section 27-92.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 27-92

---

- (2) The asset's *cost is increased by an amount equal to the *increasing adjustment if the adjustment arises in the income year in which the asset's *start time occurs.
- (3) The asset's *opening adjustable value for an income year and its *cost is increased by an amount equal to the *increasing adjustment if the adjustment arises in that year and that year is after the one in which the asset's *start time occurs.

Exception: pooling

- (4) This section does not apply to:
  - (a) a depreciating asset allocated to a low-value pool or a pool under Division 328 for or in the *current year; or
  - (b) *in-house software if expenditure on the software is allocated to a software development pool for the current year; or
  - (c) a project pool.

27-92 Certain increasing adjustments can be deducted

- (1) This section applies to an entity if:
  - (a) the entity can deduct amounts for a *depreciating asset under Division 40 or 328; and
  - (b) the entity has an *increasing adjustment that arises under Division 129 or 132 of the *GST Act in an income year that relates directly or indirectly to the asset.
- (2) The entity can deduct the amount of the *increasing adjustment for the income year.
- (3) However, the entity cannot deduct the amount to the extent (if any) that the adjustment arises from an increase in the extent to which the activity giving rise to the adjustment is of a private or domestic nature.

27-95 Balancing adjustment events

- (1) The *termination value of a *depreciating asset is reduced if the relevant *balancing adjustment event is a *taxable supply. The reduction is an amount equal to the *GST payable on the supply.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (2) However, subsection (1) does not apply if the *termination value of the *depreciating asset is modified under Division 40 to be its *market value.
- (3) The *termination value of a *depreciating asset is increased if the entity that *held the asset has a *decreasing adjustment that relates directly or indirectly to that *taxable supply in the income year in which the *balancing adjustment event occurred. The increase is the amount of the decreasing adjustment.
- (4) The *termination value of a *depreciating asset is decreased if the entity that *held the asset has an *increasing adjustment that relates directly or indirectly to that *taxable supply in the income year in which the *balancing adjustment event occurred. The decrease is the amount of the increasing adjustment.
- (5) An amount is included in the assessable income of the entity that *held the asset if the entity has a *decreasing adjustment that relates directly or indirectly to that *taxable supply in a later income year. The amount included is the amount of the decreasing adjustment.
- (6) The entity that *held the asset can deduct an amount if the entity has an *increasing adjustment that relates directly or indirectly to that *taxable supply in a later income year. The amount it can deduct is the amount of the increasing adjustment.

27-100 Pooling

- (1) This section contains special rules for expenditure (the pooled expenditure) incurred by an entity:
  - (a) on a *depreciating asset allocated to a low-value pool; or
  - (b) on a depreciating asset allocated to a pool under Division 328 for or in an income year; or
  - (c) on *in-house software if the expenditure on the software is allocated to a software development pool; and
  - (d) on *project amounts if the amounts are allocated to a project pool.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 27-100

---

Reduction to pools etc.

- (2) There is a reduction under subsection (3) or (5) if:
- (a) the pooled expenditure relates directly or indirectly to a *creditable acquisition or *creditable importation; and
  - (b) the entity is or becomes entitled to an *input tax credit in an income year (the credit year) for the acquisition or importation and the credit year occurs after the income year in which the acquisition or importation occurred.
- (2A) There is a reduction under subsection (4) if:
- (a) the pooled expenditure relates directly or indirectly to a *creditable acquisition or *creditable importation; and
  - (b) the entity is or becomes entitled to an *input tax credit in an income year (the credit year) for the acquisition or importation.

Reduced cost of assets allocated to a pool

- (2B) A *depreciating asset's *cost is reduced if:
- (a) an entity's acquisition or importation of the asset constitutes a *creditable acquisition or *creditable importation; and
  - (b) the entity is or becomes entitled to an *input tax credit for the acquisition or importation and the income year in which the acquisition or importation occurred is the same as the one in which the input tax credit arose; and
  - (c) the asset is allocated to a low-value pool or a pool under Division 328 for or in that year.

The reduction is the amount of the input tax credit.

Low-value pools

- (3) For a low-value pool, the *closing pool balance of the pool for:
- (a) if the credit year is later than the first income year for which *depreciating assets were allocated to the pool—the income year before the credit year; or
  - (b) if the credit year is the first income year for which *depreciating assets were allocated to the pool—the credit year;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

is reduced by an amount equal to the input tax credit.

Software development pools and project pools

- (4) For a software development pool or a project pool, the expenditure in the pool for the credit year, or the *pool value for the credit year, is reduced by an amount equal to the *input tax credit.

Small business pools

- (5) For a pool under Division 328, the *opening pool balance of the pool for the credit year is reduced by an amount equal to the input tax credit.

No reduction if market value

- (5A) However, there is no reduction to the *cost of a *depreciating asset if its cost is modified under Division 40 to be its *market value.

Second element of cost

- (6) There is a reduction under subsection (7) if:
- (a) the entity incurs expenditure in an income year (also the credit year) that is included in the second element of the *cost of a *depreciating asset allocated to a low-value pool or a pool under Division 328 for or in the credit year; and
  - (b) the entity is or becomes entitled, after the credit year, to an *input tax credit for the expenditure.
- (7) An amount equal to the amount of the *input tax credit is applied in reduction of:
- (a) for a low-value pool:
    - (i) if the credit year is later than the first income year for which *depreciating assets were allocated to the pool—the *closing pool balance of the pool for the income year before the credit year; or
    - (ii) if the credit year is the first income year for which *depreciating assets were allocated to the pool—the *closing pool balance of the pool for the credit year; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 27-100

---

- (b) for a pool under Division 328—the *opening pool balance of the pool for the credit year.
- (7A) There is a reduction to an amount of expenditure included in the second element of the *cost of a *depreciating asset if:
- (a) the asset is allocated to a low-value pool or a pool under Division 328 for or in the income year in which the expenditure was incurred; and
  - (b) the entity that incurred the expenditure is or becomes entitled to an *input tax credit for the expenditure; and
  - (c) the entitlement arises in the income year in which the expenditure was incurred.

The reduction is the amount of the input tax credit.

Increasing adjustments

- (8) There is an increase under subsection (9) if the entity has an *increasing adjustment (except one that arises under Division 129 or 132 of the *GST Act) in an income year (the adjustment year) that relates directly or indirectly to a *creditable acquisition or *creditable importation to which the pooled expenditure relates.

Note: For an increasing adjustment that arises under Division 129 or 132 of the GST Act, see section 27-92.

- (9) An amount equal to the amount of that *increasing adjustment is added to:
- (a) for a low-value pool:
    - (i) if the adjustment year is later than the first income year for which *depreciating assets were allocated to the pool—the *closing pool balance of the pool for the income year before the adjustment year; or
    - (ii) if the adjustment year is the first income year for which *depreciating assets were allocated to the pool—the *closing pool balance of the pool for the adjustment year; or
  - (b) for a pool under Division 328—the *opening pool balance of the pool for the adjustment year; or
  - (c) for *in-house software—the amount of expenditure allocated to the software development pool for the adjustment year; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (d) for a project pool—the *pool value for the adjustment year.

Decreasing adjustments

- (10) There is a decrease under subsection (11) if the entity has a *decreasing adjustment (except one that arises under Division 129 or 132 of the *GST Act) in an income year (also the adjustment year) that relates directly or indirectly to a *creditable acquisition or *creditable importation to which the pooled expenditure relates.

Note: For a decreasing adjustment that arises under Division 129 or 132 of the GST Act, see section 27-87.

- (11) An amount equal to the amount of the *decreasing adjustment is applied in reduction of:
- (a) for a low-value pool:
    - (i) if the adjustment year is later than the first income year for which *depreciating assets were allocated to the pool—the *closing pool balance of the pool for the income year before the adjustment year; or
    - (ii) if the adjustment year is the first income year for which *depreciating assets were allocated to the pool—the *closing pool balance of the pool for the adjustment year; or
  - (b) for a pool under Division 328—the *opening pool balance of the pool for the adjustment year; or
  - (c) for *in-house software—the amount of expenditure allocated to the software development pool for the adjustment year; or
  - (d) for a project pool—the *pool value for the adjustment year.
- (12) If the amount available for reduction under subsection (11) is more than the amount referred to in paragraph (11)(a), (b), (c) or (d) (whichever is applicable), the excess is included in the entity's assessable income unless the entity is an *exempt entity.

27-105 Other Division 40 expenditure

- (1) This section applies to expenditure for which an entity can deduct amounts under Division 40 (but not under Subdivision 40-B or 40-E, or Subdivision 40-I to the extent that that Subdivision relates to project pools).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 27-110

---

- (2) The amount of the expenditure is reduced if the entity is or becomes entitled to an *input tax credit for a *creditable acquisition or *creditable importation to which the expenditure directly or indirectly relates. The reduction is the amount of the input tax credit that relates to that expenditure.
- (3) If the entity has a *decreasing adjustment in an income year that relates directly or indirectly to the expenditure, an amount equal to the decreasing adjustment is included in the entity's assessable income for that income year.
- (4) If the entity has an *increasing adjustment in an income year that relates directly or indirectly to the expenditure, the entity can deduct an amount equal to the increasing adjustment for that income year.
- (5) If the entity is a partnership and partners in that partnership can deduct amounts under Division 40 because section 40-570 or 40-665 applies, an amount equal to the *input tax credit, the *decreasing adjustment or the *increasing adjustment is apportioned to each of the partners as set out in subsection 40-570(2) or 40-665(2).
- (6) However, this section does not apply to an *exempt entity.

27-110 Input tax credit etc. relating to 2 or more things

This Subdivision applies to an *input tax credit, or an *increasing adjustment or *decreasing adjustment, that relates directly or indirectly to 2 or more things of which at least one is a *depreciating asset as if a reasonable proportion of the input tax credit or adjustment related directly or indirectly to each of those depreciating assets and each of those other things.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 28—Car expenses

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 28
28-A	Deductions for car expenses
28-B	Choosing which method to use
28-C	The “cents per kilometre” method
28-D	The “12% of original value” method
28-E	The “one-third of actual expenses” method
28-F	The “log book” method
28-G	Keeping a log book
28-H	Odometer records for a period
28-I	Retaining the log book and odometer records
28-J	Situations where you cannot use, or don’t need to use, one of the 4 methods

Guide to Division 28

28-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out the rules for working out deductions for car expenses if you own or lease a car or hire a car under a hire purchase agreement.

Table of sections

28-5	Map of this Division
------	----------------------

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 28-5

28-5 Map of this Division

Section 28-12 contains the basic operative provision.

Choosing the best method is up to you. Hence it is important to understand the methods and how they differ.

The “log book” method is more complicated because it involves further Subdivisions about log books and odometer records.

The exceptions cover unusual cases which will not apply to most taxpayers.

Subdivision 28-A—Deductions for car expenses

Table of sections

28-10	Application of Division 28
28-12	Car expenses
28-13	Meaning of car expense

28-10 Application of Division 28

- (1) This Division applies to an individual.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (2) It also applies to a partnership that includes at least one individual, as if the partnership were an individual.
- (3) It does not apply to any other entity.

28-12 Car expenses

- (1) If you owned or leased a *car, you can deduct for the car's expenses an amount or amounts worked out using one of 4 methods.

Note 1: For particular types of cars taken on hire you cannot use one of the 4 methods: see section 28-165.

Note 2: In certain circumstances the lessee of a luxury car is taken to be its owner (see subsection 42A-15(2) in Division 42A of Schedule 2E to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936).

Note 3: In certain circumstances (for example, under a hire purchase agreement) the notional buyer of property is taken to be its owner (see subsection 240-20(2)).

- (2) You must use one of the 4 methods unless an exception applies. If you can't use any of the methods, you can't deduct anything for the *car expenses.

28-13 Meaning of *car expense

- (1) A car expense is a loss or outgoing to do with a *car.
- (2) In addition, any of the following is a car expense:
  - (a) a loss or outgoing to do with operating a *car;
  - (b) the decline in value of a car.
- (3) None of the following is a car expense:
  - (a) a loss or outgoing incurred, or a payment made, in respect of travel outside Australia;
  - (b) a taxi fare or similar loss or outgoing.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 28-B—Choosing which method to use

Guide to Subdivision 28-B

28-14 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision sets out the rules about choosing a method of calculating car expense deductions.

Table of sections

28-15 Choosing among the 4 methods

Operative provision

28-20 Rules governing choice of method

28-15 Choosing among the 4 methods

Below is a graphic that gives information about the 4 methods of calculating car expense deductions.

The 4 methods give you the choice of which method best suits your situation and needs.

For instance, some methods will involve more paperwork than others, but could give you bigger deductions. There are also eligibility requirements for some methods, so you need to check that you are eligible to use a particular method.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 28-20

---

Operative provision

28-20 Rules governing choice of method

- (1) You can choose only one method for all the *car expenses for the *car for the income year. Choosing one method precludes any other method.
- (2) However, you can change your choice for the income year.
Example: You choose the “log book” method and deduct $1,000. On audit, the Commissioner finds that your claim is too high and should be reduced to $500. You would have been able to deduct $700 if you had chosen the “cents per kilometre” method. This rule lets you change your choice and deduct the $700.
- (3) You can also choose different methods for the same *car for different income years and different methods for different cars for the same year.

Subdivision 28-C—The “cents per kilometre” method

Table of sections

28-25	How to calculate your deduction
28-30	Capital allowances
28-35	Substantiation

28-25 How to calculate your deduction

- (1) To calculate your deduction using the “cents per kilometre” method, you multiply:
  - the number of *business kilometres the *car travelled in the income year;by:
  - a number of cents based on the car’s engine capacity.The number of cents can be found in the regulations.
- (2) But you can use this formula for the first 5,000 *business kilometres only. If the *car travelled more than 5,000 business kilometres, you must discard the kilometres in excess of 5,000.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Example: If the car travelled 5,085 business kilometres, you could claim for 5,000, and would lose the extra 85.

- (3) Business kilometres are kilometres the *car travelled in the course of:
- (a) producing your assessable income; or
  - (b) your *travel between workplaces.

You calculate the number of business kilometres by making a reasonable estimate.

28-30 Capital allowances

If a *balancing adjustment event occurs for the *car, you will need to refer to the capital allowances rules in Division 40 to find out how using this method affects the operation of those rules. See section 40-370 (about balancing adjustments for some cars).

28-35 Substantiation

To use this method, you do not need to substantiate the *car expenses for the *car.

Subdivision 28-D—The “12% of original value” method

Table of sections

28-45	How to calculate your deduction
28-50	Eligibility
28-55	Capital allowances
28-60	Substantiation

28-45 How to calculate your deduction

- (1) Using the “12% of original value” method, you deduct 12% of the cost of the *car when you acquired it, or 12% of its *market value when you first began to lease it.

Note 1: The cost to a lessee of a luxury car to which Division 42A of Schedule 2E to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 applies is to be worked out under section 42A-20 in that Division.

Note 2: The cost of a car to which Division 240 applies is to be worked out under section 240-25.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 28-50

---

- (2) But the most you can deduct using this method is 12% of the *car limit for the income year when you first used the *car for any purpose (if you own it) or when you first began to lease it.

Note: Section 40-230 deals with the car limit.

- (3) Your deduction is reduced if you did not own or lease the *car for the whole income year. You can only deduct the amount worked out using the formula:

$$\text{Full year car deduction} \times \frac{\left( 365 - \text{Number of car-less days} \right)}{365}$$

The full year car deduction is the amount you could deduct if you had owned or leased the *car for the whole income year.

A car-less day is a day when you did not own or lease the *car.

28-50 Eligibility

- (1) You can use this method only if the number of *business kilometres travelled by the *car in the income year was more than 5,000, or would have been if you had used the car throughout the income year.
- (2) Business kilometres are kilometres the *car travelled in the course of:
- (a) producing your assessable income; or
  - (b) your *travel between workplaces.

You calculate the number of business kilometres by making a reasonable estimate.

28-55 Capital allowances

If a *balancing adjustment event occurs for the *car, you will need to refer to the capital allowances rules in Division 40 to find out how using this method affects the operation of those rules. See section 40-370 (about balancing adjustments for some cars).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

28-60 Substantiation

To use this method, you do not need to substantiate the *car expenses for the *car.

Subdivision 28-E—The “one-third of actual expenses” method

Table of sections

28-70	How to calculate your deduction
28-75	Eligibility
28-80	Substantiation

28-70 How to calculate your deduction

- (1) Using the “one-third of actual expenses” method, you deduct one-third of each *car expense.
- (2) The expense must qualify as a deduction under some provision of this Act outside this Division (or would qualify if, throughout the income year, you had used the *car only in producing your assessable income). If only part of the expense would qualify, you deduct one-third of that part.

Example: You borrow money to buy a car. You make repayments of principal and payments of interest.

You cannot deduct the repayments of principal because they are capital expenses.

The interest payments would be deductible in full if, throughout the income year, you had used the car only in producing your assessable income. Using the “one third of actual expenses” method, you can deduct one-third of the interest payments.

To find out whether an expense qualifies as a deduction under this Act, see Division 8 (Deductions).

28-75 Eligibility

- (1) You can use this method only if the number of *business kilometres travelled by the *car in the income year was more than 5,000, or would have been if you had used the car throughout the income year.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 28-80

---

- (2) Business kilometres are kilometres the *car travelled in the course of:

- (a) producing your assessable income; or
- (b) your *travel between workplaces.

You calculate the number of business kilometres by making a reasonable estimate.

28-80 Substantiation

To use this method, you must substantiate the expenses under Subdivision 900-C.

Subdivision 28-F—The “log book” method

Table of sections

28-90	How to calculate your deduction
28-95	Eligibility
28-100	Substantiation

28-90 How to calculate your deduction

- (1) To use the “log book” method, you multiply the amount of each *car expense by the *business use percentage.

The expense

- (2) The expense must qualify as a deduction under some provision of this Act outside this Division (or would qualify if, while you *held the *car, you had used it only in producing your assessable income). If only part of the expense would qualify, you multiply that part by the *business use percentage.

Example: You borrow money to buy a car. You make repayments of principal and payments of interest.

You cannot deduct the repayments of principal because they are capital expenses.

The interest payments would be deductible in full if, throughout the income year, you had used the car only in producing your assessable income.

Using the “log book” method:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- if you held the car for the whole income year—multiply the interest payments by the business use percentage;
- if you held the car for only 6 months of the income year—multiply the interest payments for those 6 months by the business use percentage.

To find out whether an expense qualifies as a deduction under this Act, see Division 8 (Deductions).

The percentage

(3) The business use percentage is calculated by dividing:

- the number of *business kilometres that the *car travelled in the period when you *held it during the income year;

by

- the total number of kilometres that the car travelled in that period;

and expressing the result as a percentage.

(4) Business kilometres are kilometres the *car travelled in the course of:

- (a) producing your assessable income; or
- (b) your *travel between workplaces.

(5) You calculate the number of business kilometres by making a reasonable estimate. The estimate must take into account all relevant matters, including:

- (a) any log books, odometer records or other records you have; and
- (b) any variations in the pattern of use of the *car; and
- (c) any changes in the number of cars you used in the course of producing your assessable income.

(6) You hold a *car while you own it, or it is leased to you, for use in the course of producing your assessable income, even if it is also used for some other purpose.

Note 1: In certain circumstances the lessee of a luxury car is taken to be its owner (see subsection 42A-15(2) in Division 42A of Schedule 2E to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 28 Car expenses

Section 28-95

---

Note 2: In certain circumstances the notional buyer of property is taken to be its owner (see subsection 240-20(2)).

28-95 Eligibility

You can use this method only if you *held the *car for some or all of the income year.

28-100 Substantiation

- (1) To use this method, you must substantiate the *car expenses under Subdivision 900-C.
- (2) You must also keep a log book. Subdivision 28-G explains:
  - how often you need to keep a log book;
  - how to keep a log book.

The log book is relevant to estimating the number of business kilometres the *car travelled in the period when you *held it during the income year.

- (3) You must keep odometer records for the period when you *held the *car during the income year. Subdivision 28-H tells you about odometer records, which document the total number of kilometres the car travelled in that period.
- (4) You must record the following information, in writing, before you lodge your *income tax return:
  - (a) your estimate of the number of *business kilometres; and
  - (b) the *business use percentage.However, the Commissioner may allow you to record the information later.
- (5) You must retain the log book and the odometer records. Subdivision 28-I has the rules about this.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 28-G—Keeping a log book

Guide to Subdivision 28-G

28-105 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision tells you how to keep a log book. A log book is relevant to estimating the number of business kilometres the car travelled in the period when you held it during the income year.

Table of sections

28-110 Steps for keeping a log book

Operative provisions

28-115 Income years for which you need to keep a log book
28-120 Choosing the 12 week period for a log book
28-125 How to keep a log book
28-130 Replacing one car with another

28-110 Steps for keeping a log book

There are 3 steps you need to follow in keeping a log book:

- identify an income year for which to keep a log book;
- choose a period of at least 12 weeks for the log book to cover;
- record journeys made in the car during the log book period in the course of producing your assessable income.

Operative provisions

28-115 Income years for which you need to keep a log book

- (1) You need to keep a log book for the first income year for which you use this method for the *car.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 28-120

---

- (2) Having kept a log book for one income year, you don't need to keep a new one for the next 4 or more income years unless subsection (3) or (4) requires it. If you haven't kept a new log book for 4 income years in a row, you must keep one for the next income year.

Example: If you keep a log book in 1997-98, you would need to keep the next one in 2002-2003, unless subsection (3) or (4) requires one sooner.

- (3) You must keep a log book for an income year if the Commissioner sends you a notice before the year directing you to keep a log book for the *car for that year.
- (4) You must keep a log book for an income year if, during that year, you get one or more additional *cars for which you want to use the "log book" method for that year.
- (5) When you replace one *car with another, you might have a period when you *hold both the new car and the old car, or a period when you no longer *hold the old car but do not yet hold the new car. In both these cases, you are treated for the purposes of subsection (4) as if you held the one car continuously.
- (6) You may choose to keep a log book for an income year even if you don't need to; for example, because you want to establish a higher *business use percentage.

28-120 Choosing the 12 week period for a log book

- (1) The log book must cover a continuous period of at least 12 weeks throughout which you *held the *car. If you hold the car for less than 12 weeks, the period must be the entire period for which you held the car.
- (2) The period may overlap the start or end of the income year, so long as it includes part of the year.
- (3) If you want to use the "log book" method for 2 or more *cars for the same income year, the log books for those cars must cover periods that are concurrent.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

28-125 How to keep a log book

- (1) It is in your interests to record in the log book any journey made in the *car during the log book period in the course of producing your assessable income. If a journey is not recorded, the log book will indicate a lower *business use percentage than is actually the case.
- (2) A journey is recorded by making in the log book an entry specifying:
  - (a) the day the journey began and the day it ended;
  - (b) the *car's odometer readings at the start and end of the journey;
  - (c) how many kilometres the car travelled on the journey;
  - (d) why the journey was made.The record must be made at the end of the journey or as soon as possible afterwards.
- (3) If 2 or more journeys in a row are made in the *car on the same day in the course of producing your assessable income, they can be recorded as a single journey.
- (4) The following must be entered in the log book:
  - (a) when the log book period begins and ends;
  - (b) the *car's odometer readings at the start and the end of the period;
  - (c) the total number of kilometres that the car travelled during the period;
  - (d) the number of kilometres that the car travelled, in the course of producing your assessable income, on journeys recorded in the log book;
  - (e) the number of kilometres referred to in paragraph (d), expressed as a percentage of the total number referred to in paragraph (c).Each of the entries must be made at or as soon as possible after the start or end of the period, as appropriate.
- (5) Each entry in the log book must be in English.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 28-130

---

28-130 Replacing one car with another

- (1) For the purposes of using the “log book” method, you may nominate one *car as having replaced another car with effect from a day specified in the nomination.
- (2) After the nomination takes effect, the replacement *car is treated as the original car, and the original car is treated as a different car. This means that you do not need to repeat for the replacement car the steps you have already taken for the original car under this Subdivision.
- (3) You must record the nomination in writing before you lodge your *income tax return for the income year in which the nomination takes effect. However, the Commissioner may allow you to do it later.
- (4) You must retain the nomination document until the end of the period for which you must retain the last log book that you began to keep for the original *car before the day of effect of the nomination.
- (5) Section 28-150 (which is about retaining log books) applies to the nomination document in the same way as it applies to that last log book.

Subdivision 28-H—Odometer records for a period

Guide to Subdivision 28-H

28-135 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision tells you how to keep odometer records for a car during a particular period. Odometer records document the total number of kilometres the car travelled during a particular period.

Table of sections

Operative provision

28-140 How to keep odometer records for a car for a period

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Operative provision

28-140 How to keep odometer records for a car for a period

- (1) Odometer records for a period are kept in the form of a document in which the following are entered:
  - (a) the *car's odometer readings at the start and the end of the period;
  - (b) if there is a nomination under section 28-130 to replace the car with another *car with effect from a day in that period—the odometer readings, at the end of that day, of both cars affected by the nomination.
- (2) Each entry under subsection (1) must be in English and must be made at or as soon as possible after the start or end of the period, or the end of the specified day, as appropriate.
- (3) The following must also be entered in the document:
  - (a) the *car's make, model and registration number (if any);
  - (b) if the car has an internal combustion engine—its engine capacity expressed in cubic centimetres;
  - (c) if there is a nomination under section 28-130 to replace the car with another *car—the corresponding details for the other car affected by the nomination.
- (4) Each entry under subsection (3) must be made in English and must be made before you lodge your *income tax return.
- (5) The Commissioner may allow you to make an entry under this section after you lodge your *income tax return.

Subdivision 28-I—Retaining the log book and odometer records

Table of sections

28-150	Retaining the log book for the retention period
28-155	Retaining odometer records

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 28-150

---

28-150 Retaining the log book for the retention period

- (1) You must retain the log book:
  - (a) first, until the end of the latest income year for which you rely on the log book to support your calculation of the *business use percentage for the *car; and
  - (b) then for another 5 years.The period for which you must retain the log book is called the retention period.
- (2) The 5 years start on the due day for lodging your *income tax return for that latest income year. If you lodge your return later, the 5 years start on the day you lodge it.
- (3) However, the *retention period is extended if, when the 5 years end, you are involved in a dispute with the Commissioner that relates to a deduction worked out using a *business use percentage that you are relying on the log book to support. See section 900-170.
- (4) If you do not retain the log book for the *retention period, you cannot deduct any amount worked out using a *business use percentage that you are relying on the log book to support. If you have already deducted such an amount, your assessment may be amended to disallow the deduction.
- (5) For the purposes of the rules about retaining and producing records of expenses (see Subdivision 900-G), the log book is treated as a record of the *car expenses for each year for which you use a *business use percentage that you are relying on the log book to support.
- (6) If you lose the log book, there are rules that might help you in section 900-205. For the purposes of the rules about relief from the effects of failing to substantiate (see Subdivision 900-H), not doing something required by this Division is treated in the same way as not doing something necessary to follow the rules in Division 900.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

28-155 Retaining odometer records

- (1) You must retain your odometer records relating to the period when you *held the *car in the income year.
- (2) If you keep a log book for the income year, you must retain the odometer records for the same period as the log book, and section 28-150 applies to them in the same way as it applies to the log book.
- (3) If you don't keep a log book for the income year, you must retain the odometer records for the same period as written evidence of a *car expense for the *car for the income year, and section 900-75 applies to them in the same way as it applies to written evidence of an expense.

Note: Section 900-75 is about retaining written evidence of a car expense.

Subdivision 28-J—Situations where you cannot use, or don't need to use, one of the 4 methods

Guide to Subdivision 28-J

28-160 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision sets out the situations where you cannot use, or don't need to use, any of the 4 methods. These situations involve either the nature of your car or the way you use it.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

28-165	Exception for particular cars taken on hire
28-170	Exception for particular cars used in particular ways
28-175	Further miscellaneous exceptions
28-180	Car expenses related to award transport payments
28-185	Application of Subdivision 28-J to PAYE to recipients and payers of certain withholding payments

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 28-165

---

Operative provisions

28-165 Exception for particular cars taken on hire

- (1) For particular types of *cars taken on hire you cannot use one of the 4 methods to calculate your deductions for *car expenses.
- (2) Instead, you must calculate the deductions under the normal principles governing deductions, including the rules for apportioning a loss or outgoing that is only partly attributable to producing assessable income.
- (3) This section applies to a taxi taken on hire.
- (4) It also applies to a *motor vehicle taken on hire under an agreement of a kind ordinarily entered into by people who take motor vehicles on hire intermittently, as the occasion requires, on an hourly, daily, weekly or short term basis, except if the motor vehicle:
  - (a) has been taken on hire under successive agreements of a kind that result in substantial continuity of the motor vehicle being taken on hire; or
  - (b) it is reasonable to expect that the motor vehicle will be taken on hire under successive agreements of a kind that will so result.

28-170 Exception for particular cars used in particular ways

- (1) For particular types of *cars used in particular ways you don't need to use one of the 4 methods to calculate your deductions for *car expenses.
- (2) You may use one of the 4 methods, or you may instead calculate the deductions under the normal principles governing deductions, including the rules for apportioning a loss or outgoing that is only partly attributable to producing assessable income.
- (3) This section applies if, whenever you used the *car in the income year:
  - (a) the car was covered by the description in column 2 of an item in the table below; and
  - (b) you used the car as described in column 3 of that item.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Item	Column 2 Particular car	Column 3 Exempt use
1.	The *car was: (a) a panel van or utility truck; or (b) any other road vehicle designed to carry a load of less than 1 tonne (other than a vehicle designed principally to carry passengers); or (c) a taxi.	You used the car only in one or more of the following ways: (a) in the course of producing your assessable income; (b) to go between your residence and a place where you use the car in the course of producing your assessable income; (c) by providing the car to someone else to drive between his or her residence and a place where the car is used in the course of producing your assessable income; (d) for the purpose of travel that is incidental to using the car in the course of producing your assessable income; (e) for your own or someone else's private use that was minor, infrequent and irregular.
2.	The *car was part of the trading stock of a *business of selling cars that you carried on.	You used the car in the course of the business.
3.	The *car was any type of car.	You let the car on lease or hire in the course of a *business of letting cars on lease or hire that you carry on.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 28 Car expenses

Section 28-175

---

Item	Column 2 Particular car	Column 3 Exempt use
4.	The *car was any type of car.	As an employer, you provided the car for the exclusive use of one or more of the following: (a) your employees; (b) their *relatives; in circumstances where one or more of them was entitled to use the car for private purposes. Note: This Subdivision also applies to entities that are not employers, but pay (or are liable to pay) withholding payments covered by subsection 28-185(3).

28-175 Further miscellaneous exceptions

- (1) This section lists some miscellaneous cases where you don't need to use one of the 4 methods to calculate your deductions for *car expenses.
- (2) You may use one of the 4 methods, or you may instead calculate the deductions under the normal principles governing deductions, including the rules for apportioning a loss or outgoing that is only partly attributable to producing assessable income.
- (3) The cases are as follows:
  - (a) the *car was unregistered throughout the period when you *held it during the income year, and during that period you used it principally in the course of producing your assessable income; or
  - (b) at some time during the income year the *car was part of the trading stock of a *business of selling cars that you carried on, and you didn't use the car at any time during that year; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (c) the expense is to do with repairs to or other work on the *car, and you incurred it in the course of a *business that you carried on of doing repairs or other work on cars.

In applying paragraph (a), the car is taken to be registered in a particular place while it is lawful to drive the car on a public road there.

28-180 Car expenses related to award transport payments

- (1) Subdivision 900-I (Award transport payments) allows certain losses or outgoings to be deducted without getting written evidence. The losses or outgoings are *transport expenses related to an allowance or reimbursement paid or payable to you by your employer under an *industrial instrument that was in force on 29 October 1986.

Note: This Subdivision also applies to entities that are not employers, but pay (or are liable to pay) withholding payments covered by subsection 28-185(3).

- (2) If that Subdivision lets you deduct *car expenses, or parts of *car expenses, without getting written evidence, you don't need to use any of the 4 methods to calculate your deductions for those expenses or parts of expenses.
- (3) However, your use of the 4 methods for other *car expenses you incur for the *car for the income year is affected, unless you elect not to rely on Subdivision 900-I. Section 900-250 deals with this matter.

28-185 Application of Subdivision 28-J to recipients and payers of certain withholding payments

Application to recipients

- (1) If an individual receives, or is entitled to receive, *withholding payments covered by subsection (3), this Subdivision applies to him or her:
- (a) in the same way as it applies to an employee; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 28 Car expenses

Section 28-185

---

- (b) as if an entity (a notional employer) that makes (or is liable to make) such payments to him or her were his or her employer; and
- (c) as if any other individual who receives, or is entitled to receive, such payments from a notional employer were also an employee of the notional employer.

Application to payers

- (2) This Division applies to an entity that makes, or is liable to make, *withholding payments covered by subsection (3):
  - (a) in the same way as it applies to an employer; and
  - (b) as if an individual to whom the entity makes (or is liable to make) such payments were the entity's employee.

Withholding payments covered

- (3) This subsection covers a *withholding payment covered by any of the provisions in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 listed in the table.

---

Withholding payments covered
Item	Provision	Subject matter
1	Section 12-35	Payment to employee
2	Section 12-40	Payment to company director
3	Section 12-45	Payment to office holder
3A	Section 12-47	Payment to *religious practitioner
4	Section 12-50	Return to work payment
5	Subdivision 12-C	*Superannuation benefits, *employment termination payments, unused leave payments and annuities
6	Subdivision 12-D	Benefit and compensation payments

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 30—Gifts or contributions

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 30
30-A	Deductions for gifts or contributions
30-B	Tables of recipients for deductible gifts
30-BA	Endorsement of deductible gift recipients
30-C	Rules applying to particular gifts of property
30-CA	Administrative requirements relating to ABNs
30-D	Testamentary gifts under the Cultural Bequests Program
30-DA	Donations to political parties and independent candidates and members
30-DB	Spreading certain gift and covenant deductions over up to 5 income years
30-E	Register of environmental organisations
30-EA	Register of harm prevention charities
30-F	Register of cultural organisations
30-G	Index to this Division

Guide to Division 30

30-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out the rules for working out deductions for certain gifts or contributions that you make.

Table of sections

30-5	How to find your way around this Division
30-10	Index

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-5

---

30-5 How to find your way around this Division

- (1) You should start at Subdivision 30-A unless you are making a contribution or gift to a political party, independent candidate or member, or a testamentary gift under the Cultural Bequests Program.

Note 1: Subdivision 30-D deals with the deductibility of testamentary gifts under the Cultural Bequests Program.

Note 2: Subdivision 30-DA deals with the deductibility of contributions and gifts to political parties, independent candidates and members.

- (2) Subdivision 30-A contains a table of all the gifts and contributions that you can deduct. You need to look at the table to see whether the type of gift or contribution you are making is covered by it.
- (3) In some cases, the table sends you off to Subdivision 30-B. It has a number of tables that list particular funds, authorities or institutions that deductible gifts can be made to.
- (4) In other cases, the table sends you off to Subdivision 30-C. It contains rules that apply to particular gifts of property.
- (4AA) Subdivision 30-BA provides for the Commissioner to endorse as a deductible gift recipient an entity that is, or operates, a fund, authority or institution. The relevance of the Subdivision to you is that generally you can deduct only a gift you make to a recipient that is endorsed or named in:
- (a) this Division; or
  - (b) regulations made for the purposes of this Division.
- Note: The fact that gifts to a recipient registered in the Australian Business Register are deductible will be shown in the Register.
- (4AB) Subdivision 30-CA sets out administrative rules which do not directly affect whether you can deduct a gift you make. The rules require:
- (a) a receipt issued by an entity for a gift to the entity or to a fund, authority or institution operated by the entity to show the entity's ABN; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (b) the Australian Business Registrar to enter in the Australian Business Register a statement in relation to an entity entered in the Register if:
- (i) gifts to the entity are deductible; or
  - (ii) gifts to a fund, authority or institution operated by the entity are deductible.
- (4B) Subdivision 30-DB allows you to spread deductions for certain gifts and covenants over up to 5 income years.
- (5) Subdivision 30-E requires the establishment of a register of *environmental organisations. Subdivision 30-EA requires the establishment of a register of *harm prevention charities. Subdivision 30-F requires the establishment of a register of *cultural organisations. Their only relevance to you is that you can deduct a gift that you make to a fund listed on one of those registers.

30-10 Index

There is an index to this Division in Subdivision 30-G.

Subdivision 30-A—Deductions for gifts or contributions

Table of sections

30-15	Table of gifts or contributions that you can deduct
30-17	Requirements for certain recipients

30-15 Table of gifts or contributions that you can deduct

- (1) You can deduct a gift or contribution that you make in the situations set out in the following table. It tells you:
- who the recipient of the gift or contribution can be; and
  - the type of gift or contribution that you can make; and
  - how much you can deduct for the gift or contribution; and
  - any special conditions that apply.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-15

---

(2) A testamentary gift or contribution is not deductible under this section.

Note 1: Subdivision 30-D deals with the deductibility of testamentary gifts under the Cultural Bequests Program.

Note 2: Subdivision 30-DA deals with the deductibility of contributions and gifts to political parties, independent candidates and members.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Deductible gifts or contributions

Recipient	Type of gift or contribution	How much you can deduct	Special conditions
1 A fund, authority or institution covered by an item in any of the tables in Subdivision 30-B.	A gift of: (a) money; or (b) property (including *trading stock) that you purchased during the 12 months before making the gift; or (c) an item of your trading stock if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the gift is a disposal of the item outside the ordinary course of your *business; and</li> <li>• no election has been made, or is made, in relation to the item under Subdivision 385-E (about electing to spread or defer profit from the forced disposal or death of *live stock); or</li> </ul> (d) property valued by the Commissioner at more than $5,000; or (e) *shares that you have acquired in	(a) if the gift is money—the amount you are giving; or (b) if the gift is property (except trading stock covered by paragraph (c), property covered by paragraph (d) or shares covered by paragraph (e))—the lesser of the market value of the property on the day you made the gift and the amount you paid for the property; or (c) if the gift is an item of your trading stock: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• that you disposed of outside the ordinary course of your business; and</li> <li>• for which no election has been made, or is made, in relation to the item under Subdivision 385-E;</li> </ul> the market value of the item on the day you made the gift; or	(a) the fund, authority or institution must be in Australia; and (aa) the fund, authority or institution must either meet the requirements of section 30-17 or be mentioned by name in the relevant table item in Subdivision 30-B; and (b) the value of the gift must be $2 or more; and (c) any conditions set out in the relevant table item in Subdivision 30-B must be satisfied; and (d) if the property is to be valued by the Commissioner—the requirements of section 30-212 are satisfied.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-15

Deductible gifts or contributions
Recipient	Type of gift or contribution	How much you can deduct	Special conditions
	a *listed public company if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the shares are listed for quotation in the official list of a stock exchange that is listed under the heading “Australia” in regulations made for the purposes of the definition of *approved stock exchange; and</li> <li>• the *market value of the shares on the day you made the gift is $5,000 or less; and</li> <li>• you acquire the shares at least 12 months before making the gift.</li> </ul>	(d) if the gift is property valued by the Commissioner at more than $5,000 and you did not purchase the property during the 12 months before making the gift—the value of the property as determined by the Commissioner; or (e) if the gift is shares described in paragraph (e) of the previous column—the market value of the shares on the day you made the gift.
2 A public fund, or a *prescribed private fund, established and maintained under a will or instrument of trust solely for: (a) the purpose of providing money, property or	A gift of: (a) money; or (b) property (including *trading stock) that you purchased during the 12 months before making the gift; or	(a) if the gift is money—the amount you are giving; or (b) if the gift is property (except trading stock covered by paragraph (c), property covered by paragraph (d) or shares covered by paragraph (e))—the lesser of the	(a) the value of the gift must be $2 or more; and (b) the terms of the will or trust must allow the trustee to invest money that the fund receives because of the gift only

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-15

Deductible gifts or contributions

Recipient	Type of gift or contribution	How much you can deduct	Special conditions
benefits: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• to a fund, authority or institution gifts to which are deductible under item 1 of this table; and</li> <li>• for any purposes set out in the item of the table in Subdivision 30-B that covers the fund, authority or institution; or</li> </ul> (b) the establishment of such a fund, authority or institution.	(c) an item of your trading stock if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the gift is a disposal of the item outside the ordinary course of your *business; and</li> <li>• no election has been made, or is made, in relation to the item under Subdivision 385-E (about electing to spread or defer profit from the forced disposal or death of *live stock); or</li> </ul> (d) property valued by the Commissioner at more than $5,000; or (e) *shares that you have acquired in a *listed public company if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the shares are listed for quotation in the official list of a stock exchange that is listed under the heading “Australia” in</li> </ul>	market value of the property on the day you made the gift and the amount you paid for the property; or (c) if the gift is an item of your trading stock: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• that you disposed of outside the ordinary course of your business; and</li> <li>• for which no election has been made, or is made, in relation to the item under Subdivision 385-E;</li> </ul> the market value of the item on the day you made the gift; or (d) if the gift is property valued by the Commissioner at more than $5,000 and you did not purchase the property during the 12 months before making the gift—the value of the property as determined by the Commissioner; or (e) if the gift is shares described in paragraph (e) of the previous	in a way that an *Australian law allows trustees to invest trust money; and (c) the fund must meet the requirements of section 30-17, unless the fund is a prescribed private fund; and (d) if the property is to be valued by the Commissioner—the requirements of section 30-212 are satisfied.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-15

Deductible gifts or contributions
Recipient	Type of gift or contribution	How much you can deduct	Special conditions
	regulations made for the purposes of the definition of *approved stock exchange; and <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>the *market value of the shares on the day you made the gift is $5,000 or less; and</li> <li>you acquire the shares at least 12 months before making the gift.</li> </ul>	column—the market value of the shares on the day you made the gift.
4 (a) the Australian Fund; or (b) a public library in Australia; or (c) a public museum in Australia; or (d) a public art gallery in Australia; or (e) an institution in Australia consisting of a public library, a public museum and a public art gallery or any 2 of them.	A gift of property (except an estate or interest in land or in a building or part of a building).	The general rule is that you can deduct the average of the *GST inclusive market values (as reduced under subsection (3) if that subsection applies) specified in the written valuations you get from approved valuers.  Subdivision 30-C sets out: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) how a person becomes an approved valuer; and</li> <li>(b) the exceptions to the general rule; and</li> </ul>	(a) the property must be accepted by the recipient for inclusion in a collection it is maintaining or establishing; and  (b) the value of the gift must be $2 or more; and  (ba) the institution must meet the requirements of section 30-17, unless it is the Australian Fund; and

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Deductible gifts or contributions

---

Recipient	Type of gift or contribution	How much you can deduct	Special conditions
		(c) the situations when the amount you can deduct is reduced. If the property is jointly owned, see section 30-225 to work out how much of the gift you can deduct.	(c) you must satisfy the valuation requirements in section 30-200, unless section 30-205 (about the proceeds of the sale being assessable) applies.
5 The Commonwealth (for the purposes of Artbank).	A gift of property (except an estate or interest in land or in a building or part of a building).	The general rule is that you can deduct the average of the *GST inclusive market values (as reduced under subsection (3) if that subsection applies) specified in the written valuations you get from approved valuers. Subdivision 30-C sets out: (a) how a person becomes an approved valuer; and (b) the exceptions to the general rule; and (c) the situations when the amount you can deduct is reduced. If the property is jointly owned, see	(a) the property must be accepted by the Commonwealth for inclusion in a collection maintained, or being established, for the purposes of Artbank; and (b) you must satisfy the valuation requirements in section 30-200, unless section 30-205 (about the proceeds of the sale being assessable) applies.

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-15

Deductible gifts or contributions
Recipient	Type of gift or contribution	How much you can deduct	Special conditions section 30-225 to work out how much of the gift you can deduct.
6 (a) the National Trust of Australia (New South Wales); or (b) the National Trust of Australia (Victoria); or (c) The National Trust of Queensland; or (d) The National Trust of South Australia; or (e) The National Trust of Australia (W.A.); or (f) the National Trust of Australia (Tasmania); or (g) The National Trust of Australia (Northern Territory); or(h)the National Trust of Australia (A.C.T.); or (i) the Australian Council of National Trusts.	A gift of a place included in: (a) the National Heritage List, or the Commonwealth Heritage List, under the Environment Protection and Biodiversity Conservation Act 1999 ; or (b) the Register of the National Estate under the Australian Heritage Council Act 2003 .	The general rule is that you can deduct the average of the *GST inclusive market values (as reduced under subsection (3) if that subsection applies) specified in the written valuations you get from approved valuers.  Subdivision 30-C sets out: (a) how a person becomes an approved valuer; and (b) the exceptions to the general rule; and (c) the situations when the amount you can deduct is reduced.  If the place is jointly owned, see section 30-225 to work out how much of the gift you can deduct.	(a) the place must be accepted by the recipient for the purpose of preserving it for the benefit of the public; and (b) the value of the gift must be $2 or more; and (c) you must satisfy the valuation requirements in section 30-200, unless section 30-205 (about the proceeds of the sale being assessable) applies.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Deductible gifts or contributions

Recipient	Type of gift or contribution	How much you can deduct	Special conditions
7 A *deductible gift recipient that is a fund, authority or institution covered by item 1 or 2 of this table.	A contribution of: (a) money, if the amount is more than $150; or (b) property that you purchased during the 12 months before making the contribution, if the lesser of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the *market value of the property on the day you made the contribution; and</li> <li>• the amount you paid for the property;</li> </ul> is more than $150; or (c) property valued by the Commissioner at more than $5,000, if you did not purchase the property during the 12 months before making the contribution; or (ca) *shares that you have acquired in a *listed public company if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the shares are listed for quotation in the official</li> </ul>	(a) if the contribution is money—the amount of the contribution, reduced by the *GST inclusive market value, on the day you made the contribution, of the right to attend, or participate in, the fund-raising event; or (b) if the contribution is property that you purchased during the 12 months before making the contribution—the lesser of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the market value of the property on the day you made the contribution; and</li> <li>• the amount you paid for the property;</li> </ul> reduced by the GST inclusive market value, on the day you made the contribution, of the right to attend, or participate in, the fund-raising event; or (c) if the contribution is property valued by the Commissioner at	(a) if the contribution is money—the GST inclusive market value, on the day you made the contribution, of the right to attend, or participate in, the fund-raising event must not exceed the lesser of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 20% of the amount of the contribution; and</li> <li>• $150; and</li> </ul> (b) if the contribution is property that you purchased during the 12 months before making the contribution—the GST inclusive market value, on the day you made the contribution, of the right to attend, or participate in, the fund-raising event must

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-15

Deductible gifts or contributions
Recipient	Type of gift or contribution	How much you can deduct	Special conditions
	list of a stock exchange that is listed under the heading “Australia” in regulations made for the purposes of the definition of *approved stock exchange; and <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>the market value of the shares on the day you made the contribution is more than $150 and less than or equal to $5,000; and</li> <li>you acquire the shares at least 12 months before making the contribution;</li> </ul> where: (d) the contribution is not a gift; and (e) either: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>the contribution is made in return for a right permitting you to attend, or participate in, a particular *fund-raising</li> </ul>	more than $5,000 and you did not purchase the property during the 12 months before making the contribution—the value of the property as determined by the Commissioner, reduced by the GST inclusive market value, on the day you made the contribution, of the right to attend, or participate in, the fund-raising event; or (ca) if the contribution is shares described in paragraph (ca) of the previous column—the market value of the shares on the day you made the contribution, reduced by the GST inclusive market value, on the day you made the contribution, of the right to attend, or participate in, the fund-raising event.	not exceed the lesser of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>20% of the lesser of the market value of the property on the day you made the contribution and the amount you paid for the property; and</li> <li>$150; and</li> </ul> (c) if the contribution is property valued by the Commissioner at more than $5,000 and you did not purchase the property during the 12 months before making the contribution—the GST inclusive market value, on the day you made the contribution, of the right to attend, or participate in, the fund-raising event must not exceed $150; and

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Deductible gifts or contributions

---

Recipient	Type of gift or contribution	How much you can deduct	Special conditions
	event in Australia; or <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the contribution is made in return for a right permitting an individual (other than you) to attend, or participate in, a particular fund-raising event in Australia.</li> </ul>		(ca) if the contribution is shares described in paragraph (ca) of the column headed “Type of gift or contribution”—the GST inclusive market value, on the day you made the contribution, of the right to attend, or participate in, the fund-raising event must not exceed the lesser of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 20% of the market value of the shares on the day you made the contribution; and</li> <li>• $150; and</li> </ul> (d) if, instead of making the contribution, you had made a gift of money to the fund, authority or institution, and:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-15

---

---

Deductible gifts or contributions

---

Recipient	Type of gift or contribution	How much you can deduct	Special conditions
			<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• the amount of the gift had been more than $2; and</li><li>• the gift had been made for the same purpose for which funds were to be raised by the fund-raising event; you could have deducted the gift under item 1 or 2 of this table; and</li></ul> (e) you must be an individual; and (f) you cannot deduct more than 2 contributions in relation to the same fund-raising event; and (g) if the property is to be valued by the Commissioner—the requirements of section 30-212 are satisfied.

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Deductible gifts or contributions

Recipient	Type of gift or contribution	How much you can deduct	Special conditions
8 A *deductible gift recipient that is a fund, authority or institution covered by item 1 or 2 of this table.	A contribution of money, if: (a) the amount is more than $150; and (b) the contribution is not a gift; and (c) you made the contribution by way of consideration for the supply of goods or services; and (d) you made the contribution because you were the successful bidder at an auction that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• was a particular *fund-raising event in Australia; or</li> <li>• was held at a particular fund-raising event in Australia; and</li> </ul> (e) the amount of the contribution exceeds the *GST inclusive market value, on the day you made the contribution, of the goods or services.	The amount of the contribution, reduced by the GST inclusive market value, on the day you made the contribution, of the goods or services.	(a) the GST inclusive market value, on the day you made the contribution, of the goods or services must not exceed the lesser of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 20% of the amount of the contribution; and</li> <li>• $150; and</li> </ul> (b) if, instead of making the contribution, you had made a gift of money to the fund, authority or institution, and: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the amount of the gift had been more than $2; and</li> <li>• the gift had been made for the same purpose for which funds were to be raised by the</li> </ul>

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application
Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts
Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-15

Deductible gifts or contributions
Recipient	Type of gift or contribution	How much you can deduct	Special conditions fund-raising event; you could have deducted the gift under item 1 or 2 of this table; and (c) you must be an individual.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (3) For the purposes of items 4, 5 and 6 of the table in subsection (2), the \*GST inclusive market values of the property or place in question are reduced by  $\frac{1}{11}$  if you would have been entitled to an \*input tax credit if:
  - (a) you had *acquired the property or place at the time you made the gift; and
  - (b) your acquisition had been for a *creditable purpose.
- (4) For the purposes of item 7 of the table in subsection (2), in working out the *GST inclusive market value of the right in question, disregard anything that would prevent or restrict conversion of the right to money.
- (5) For the purposes of item 8 of the table in subsection (2), in working out the *GST inclusive market value of the goods or services in question, disregard anything that would prevent or restrict conversion of the goods or services to money.

30-17 Requirements for certain recipients

- (1) This section sets out requirements to be met for you to be able to deduct a gift you make to a fund, authority or institution described in the column headed “Recipient” of item 1, 2 or 4 of the table in section 30-15. However, this section does not apply to:
  - (a) a fund, authority or institution that is mentioned by name in an item of a table in Subdivision 30-B; or
  - (b) a *prescribed private fund; or
  - (c) the Australian Fund.
- (2) The fund, authority or institution must:
  - (a) be an entity or *government entity that is endorsed under Subdivision 30-BA as a *deductible gift recipient; or
  - (b) in the case of a fund—either:
    - (i) be owned legally by an entity that is endorsed under Subdivision 30-BA as a *deductible gift recipient for the operation of the fund; or
    - (ii) be under the control of one or more persons who constitute a *government entity that is endorsed under

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-17

---

Subdivision 30-BA as a *deductible gift recipient for the operation of the fund; or

- (c) in the case of an authority or institution—be part of an entity or *government entity that is endorsed under Subdivision 30-BA as a *deductible gift recipient for the operation of the authority or institution.

Example: A public fund that is established and maintained for constructing a building to be used by a State school and is controlled by the principal of the school would be an example of a fund under the control of one or more persons who constitute a government entity that is endorsed as a deductible gift recipient for the operation of the fund, if the school were so endorsed.

Subdivision 30-B—Tables of recipients for deductible gifts

Table of sections

Health

30-20 Health

Education

30-25 Education

30-30 Gifts that must be for certain purposes

30-35 Gifts to a public fund established to benefit a rural school hostel building must satisfy certain requirements

30-37 Scholarship etc. funds

Research

30-40 Research

Welfare and rights

30-45 Welfare and rights

30-45A Australian disaster relief funds—declarations by Minister

30-46 Australian disaster relief funds—declarations under State and Territory law

Defence

30-50 Defence

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Environment

- 30-55 The environment
30-60 Gifts to a National Parks body or conservation body must satisfy certain requirements

Industry, trade and design

- 30-65 Industry, trade and design

The family

- 30-70 The family
30-75 Marriage education organisations must be approved

International affairs

- 30-80 International affairs
30-85 Developing country relief funds
30-86 Developed country disaster relief funds

Sports and recreation

- 30-90 Sports and recreation

Philanthropic trusts

- 30-95 Philanthropic trusts

Cultural organisations

- 30-100 Cultural organisations

Fire and emergency services

- 30-102 Fire and emergency services

Other recipients

- 30-105 Other recipients

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 30-20

---

Health

30-20 Health

(1) This table sets out general categories of health recipients.

Health—General
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
1.1.1	a public hospital	none
1.1.2	a hospital carried on by a society or association otherwise than for the purposes of profit or gain to the individual members of the society or association	none
1.1.3	a public fund established before 23 October 1963 and maintained for the purpose of providing money for hospitals covered by item 1.1.1 or 1.1.2 or for the establishment of such hospitals	none
1.1.4	a public authority engaged in research into the causes, prevention or cure of disease in human beings, animals or plants	the gift must be made for such research
1.1.5	a public institution engaged solely in research into the causes, prevention or cure of disease in human beings, animals or plants	none
1.1.6	a charitable institution whose principal activity is to promote the prevention or the control of diseases in human beings	none
1.1.7	a public ambulance service	none
1.1.8	a public fund established and maintained for the purpose of providing money for the provision of public ambulance services	none

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(2) This table sets out specific health recipients.

Health—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
1.2.1	The Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists	none
1.2.2	the Australian College of Occupational Medicine	none
1.2.3	the Australian Postgraduate Federation in Medicine	the gift must be made for education or research in medical knowledge or science
1.2.4	the College of Radiologists in Australasia	the gift must be made for education or research in medical knowledge or science
1.2.5	the New South Wales College of Nursing	none
1.2.6	the Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Psychiatrists	none
1.2.7	the Royal Australian College of General Practitioners	the gift must be made for education or research in medical knowledge or science
1.2.8	the Royal Australasian College of Physicians	none
1.2.9	the Royal Australasian College of Surgeons	none
1.2.10	the Royal College of Pathologists of Australasia	the gift must be made for education or research in medical knowledge or science
1.2.11	the Australian Regional Council of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists	none
1.2.12	the Royal College of Nursing, Australia	none
1.2.13	the Australian and New Zealand College of Anaesthetists	none
1.2.14	SouthCare Helicopter Fund	the gift must be made after 11 September 2000

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-25

---

---

Health—Specific

---

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
1.2.15	Breast Cancer Network Australia	the gift must be made after 22 May 2001
1.2.16	National Breast Cancer Centre Gift Fund	the gift must be made after 24 September 2001
1.2.17	The Bionic Ear Institute	the gift must be made after 4 October 2001
1.2.18	The Australasian College for Emergency Medicine	the gift must be made after 2 February 2009

---

Education

30-25 Education

(1) This table sets out general categories of education recipients.

---

Education—General

---

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
2.1.1	a public university	none
2.1.2	a public fund for the establishment of a public university	none
2.1.3	a higher education institution within the meaning of the Higher Education Funding Act 1988	none
2.1.4	a residential educational institution affiliated under statutory provisions with a public university	none
2.1.5	a residential educational institution established by the Commonwealth	none
2.1.6	a residential educational institution that is affiliated with a higher education institution within the meaning of the Higher Education Funding Act 1988	none

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Education—General
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
2.1.7	an institution that the Minister for Employment, Education, Training and Youth Affairs has declared by a signed instrument to be a technical and further education institution within the meaning of the Employment, Education and Training Act 1988	see section 30-30
2.1.8	a public fund established and maintained solely for the purpose of providing religious instruction in government schools in Australia	none
2.1.9	a public fund established and maintained by a Roman Catholic archdiocesan or diocesan authority solely for the purpose of providing religious instruction in government schools in Australia	none
2.1.10	a public fund established and maintained solely for providing money for the acquisition, construction or maintenance of a building used, or to be used, as a school or college by: (a) a government; or (b) a public authority; or (c) a society or association which is carried on otherwise than for the purposes of profit or gain to the individual members of the society or association	none
2.1.11	a public fund established and maintained solely for providing money for the acquisition, construction or maintenance of a rural school hostel building	see section 30-35

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-25

---

---

Education—General

---

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
2.1.12	a government school that: (a) provides special education for students each of whom has a disability that is permanent or is likely to be permanent; and (b) does not provide education for other students	none
2.1.13	a public fund: (a) that is established for charitable purposes; and (b) that is established and maintained solely for providing money for scholarships, bursaries or prizes to which section 30-37 applies	see section 30-37

---

(2) This table sets out specific education recipients.

---

Education—Specific

---

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
2.2.1	The Academy of the Social Sciences in Australia Incorporated	none
2.2.2	the Australian Academy of Science	none
2.2.3	the Australian Academy of the Humanities for the Advancement of Scholarship in Language, Literature, History, Philosophy and the Fine Arts	none
2.2.4	the Australian Academy of Technological Sciences and Engineering Limited	none
2.2.6	the Australian and New Zealand Association for the Advancement of Science	none
2.2.7	the Australian Ireland Fund	none
2.2.8	the Life Education Centre	none

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Education—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
2.2.9	a company that conducts life education programs under the auspices of the Life Education Centre if the company: (a) is not carried on for the purposes of profit or gain to its individual members; and (b) is prohibited by its *constitution from making any distribution of money or property to its members	the gift must be for the conduct of such programs
2.2.10	the Council for Christian Education in Schools	none
2.2.11	the Council for Jewish Education in Schools	none
2.2.13	the Lionel Murphy Foundation	none
2.2.14	the Marcus Oldham Farm Management College	see section 30-30
2.2.15	the Constitutional Centenary Foundation Incorporated	none
2.2.16	the Polly Farmer Foundation (Inc)	none
2.2.17	The Australian Council of Christians and Jews	the gift must be made after 6 December 1998
2.2.18	the Sir William Tyree Foundation of The Australian Industry Group	the gift must be made after 28 February 1999
2.2.19	the Foundation for Gambling Studies	the gift must be made after 8 March 2000
2.2.20	Australian Nuffield Farming Scholars Association	the gift must be made after 16 April 2001
2.2.21	Dymocks Literacy Foundation Limited	the gift must be made after 4 January 2001
2.2.22	Australian Primary Principals Association Education Foundation	the gift must be made after 1 October 2001
2.2.23	Commonwealth Study Conferences (Australia) Incorporated	the gift must be made after 19 February 2001
2.2.24	Mt Eliza Graduate School of Business and Government Limited	the gift must be made after 4 April 2000
2.2.25	Australian Human Rights Education Fund	the gift must be made after 24 September 2001

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-30

---

Education—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
2.2.26	Aboriginal Education Council (N.S.W.) Incorporated	the gift must be made after 6 May 2002
2.2.27	General Sir John Monash Foundation	the gift must be made after 16 June 2002
2.2.28	Australian-American Educational Foundation	the gift must be made after 30 April 2003
2.2.29	The Australian Literacy and Numeracy Foundation Limited	the gift must be made after 11 October 2002
2.2.30	The Constitution Education Fund	the gift must be made after 20 June 2003
2.2.31	Country Education Foundation of Australia Limited	the gift must be made on or after 20 August 2003
2.2.32	The Clontarf Foundation Inc.	the gift must be made after 30 August 2004
2.2.33	International Specialised Skills Institute Incorporated	the gift must be made after 11 August 2005
2.2.34	Yachad Accelerated Learning Project Limited	the gift must be made after 29 June 2005 and before 1 July 2009
2.2.36	The Spirit of Australia Foundation	the gift must be made after 10 September 2007
2.2.37	The Royal Institution of Australia Incorporated	the gift must be made after 16 April 2009

30-30 Gifts that must be for certain purposes

- (1) You can deduct a gift that you make to:
- (a) a technical and further education institution covered by item 2.1.7 of the table in subsection 30-25(1); or
  - (b) the Marcus Oldham Farm Management College;
- only if the gift is for:
- (c) purposes of the institution, or of the College, that have been declared by the Minister for Employment, Education, Training and Youth Affairs to relate solely to tertiary education; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (d) the provision of facilities for the institution, or the College, if the Minister has declared that he or she is satisfied the facilities are to be used principally for such purposes.
- (2) A declaration under subsection (1) must be in writing, signed by the Minister.

30-35 Gifts to a public fund established to benefit a rural school hostel building must satisfy certain requirements

- (1) You can deduct a gift that you make to a public fund covered by item 2.1.11 of the table in subsection 30-25(1) only if each requirement in this section is satisfied.
- (2) The rural school hostel building must be used, or going to be used, principally as residential accommodation for students:
  - (a) whose usual place of residence is in a rural area; and
  - (b) who are undertaking primary or secondary education, or special education programs for children with disabilities, at a school in the same area as the building.
- (3) The costs of the school must be solely or partly funded by the Commonwealth, a State or a Territory.
- (4) The residential accommodation must be provided by:
  - (a) the Commonwealth, a State or a Territory; or
  - (b) a public authority; or
  - (c) a company that:
    - (i) is not carried on for the purposes of profit or gain to its individual members; and
    - (ii) is prohibited by its *constitution from making any distribution of money or property to its members.

30-37 Scholarship etc. funds [see Note 5]

For the purposes of item 2.1.13 of the table in subsection 30-25(1), a scholarship, bursary or prize is one to which this section applies if:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-40

---

- (a) it may only be awarded to Australian citizens, or permanent residents of Australia, within the meaning of the Australian Citizenship Act 1948; and
- (b) it is open to individuals or groups of individuals throughout a region of at least 200,000 people, or throughout at least an entire State or Territory; and
- (c) it promotes recipients' education in either or both of the following:
  - (i) *pre-school courses, *primary courses, *secondary courses or *tertiary courses;
  - (ii) educational institutions overseas, by way of study of a component of a course covered by subparagraph (i); and
- (d) it is awarded on merit or for reasons of equity.

Research

30-40 Research

- (1) This table sets out general categories of research recipients.

---

Research—General
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
3.1.1	a university, college, institute, association or organisation which is an approved research institute for the purposes of section 73A (Expenditure on scientific research) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936	the gift must be made for purposes of scientific research in the field of natural or applied science

---

- (2) This table sets out specific research recipients.

---

Research—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
3.2.1	the Centre for Independent Studies	none
3.2.2	the Ian Clunies Ross Memorial Foundation	none

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 30-45

Research—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
3.2.3	the Commonwealth	the gift must be made for purposes of research in the Australian Antarctic Territory
3.2.4	The Menzies Research Centre Public Fund	the gift must be made after 2 April 1998
3.2.5	The Sir Earl Page Memorial Trust	the gift must be made after 6 May 2001
3.2.6	Research Australia Limited	the gift must be made after 26 June 2001
3.2.7	The Page Research Centre Limited	the gift must be made after 12 January 2005
3.2.8	The Chifley Research Centre Limited	the gift must be made after 19 May 2005
3.2.9	Don Chipp Foundation Ltd	the gift must be made after 26 June 2006
3.2.10	Lingiari Policy Centre	the gift must be made after 25 July 2006
3.2.11	Grattan Institute	the gift must be made after 4 March 2009 and before 5 March 2011

Welfare and rights

30-45 Welfare and rights

- (1) This table sets out general categories of welfare and rights recipients.

Welfare and rights—General
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
4.1.1	a public benevolent institution	none

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-45

---

---

Welfare and rights—General

---

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
4.1.2	a public fund established before 23 October 1963 and maintained for the purpose of providing money for public benevolent institutions or for the establishment of public benevolent institutions	none
4.1.3	a public fund established and maintained for the relief of persons in Australia who are in necessitous circumstances	none
4.1.4	a public fund that, when the gift is made, is on the register of *harm prevention charities kept under Subdivision 30-EA	the gift must be made after 30 June 2003
4.1.5	a public fund (including a public fund established and maintained by a public benevolent institution): (a) that is established for charitable purposes; and (b) that is established and maintained solely for providing money for the relief (including relief by way of assistance to re-establish a community) of people in Australia in distress as a result of a disaster to which subsection 30-45A(1) or 30-46(1) applies	see sections 30-45A and 30-46
4.1.6	a charitable institution whose principal activity is one or both of these: (a) providing short-term direct care to animals (but not only native wildlife) that have been lost or mistreated or are without owners; (b) rehabilitating orphaned, sick or injured animals (but not only native wildlife) that have been lost or mistreated or are without owners	none

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Welfare and rights—General

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
4.1.7	a charitable institution that would be a public benevolent institution, but for one or both of these: (a) it also promotes the prevention or the control of diseases in human beings (but not as a principal activity); (b) it also promotes the prevention or the control of *behaviour that is harmful or abusive to human beings (but not as a principal activity)	none

(2) This table sets out specific welfare and rights recipients.

---

Welfare and rights—Specific

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
4.2.1	Amnesty International Australia	none
4.2.2	the Child Accident Prevention Foundation of Australia	none
4.2.3	the National Foundation for Australian Women Limited	none
4.2.4	the National Safety Council of Australia Limited	none
4.2.5	the Pearl Watson Foundation Limited	none
4.2.6	the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals New South Wales	none
4.2.7	the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (Victoria) Inc.	none
4.2.9	the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (South Australia) Incorporated	none
4.2.10	the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Western Australia (Incorporated)	none
4.2.11	the R.S.P.C.A. (Tasmania) Incorporated	none

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-45

---

Welfare and rights—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
4.2.12	the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (Northern Territory)	none
4.2.13	the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (A.C.T.) Incorporated	none
4.2.14	the R.S.P.C.A. Australia Incorporated	none
4.2.15	The Business Against Domestic Violence Reserve	the gift must be made after 22 April 1998
4.2.19	Reconciliation Australia Limited	the gift must be made after 6 December 2000
4.2.20	Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Queensland Incorporated	the gift must be made after 22 December 1999
4.2.21	Crime Stoppers Western Australia Limited	the gift must be made after 31 October 2002
4.2.22	New South Wales Crime Stoppers Limited	the gift must be made after 31 October 2002
4.2.23	Crime Stoppers Tasmania	the gift must be made after 28 November 2002
4.2.24	Crime Stoppers Queensland Limited	the gift must be made after 23 January 2003
4.2.25	Crime Stoppers Australia Ltd	the gift must be made after 4 June 2003
4.2.26	Alcohol Education and Rehabilitation Foundation Limited	the gift must be made after 5 June 2003
4.2.27	Crime Stoppers South Australia Limited	the gift must be made on or after 19 September 2003
4.2.28	International Social Service - Australian Branch	the gift must be made after 17 March 2004
4.2.29	the Victorian Crime Stoppers Program	the gift must be made after 22 April 2004
4.2.31	Crime Stoppers Northern Territory Program	the gift must be made after 13 March 2005
4.2.31A	ACT Region Crime Stoppers Limited	the gift must be made after 12 February 2009

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-45A

Welfare and rights—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
4.2.32	Kidsafe ACT (Inc.)	the gift must be made after 2 August 2007
4.2.33	Kidsafe New South Wales (Inc.)	the gift must be made after 2 August 2007
4.2.34	Kidsafe NT (Inc.)	the gift must be made after 2 August 2007
4.2.35	Kidsafe Qld (Inc.)	the gift must be made after 2 August 2007
4.2.36	Kidsafe SA Incorporated	the gift must be made after 2 August 2007
4.2.37	Kidsafe Tasmania (Inc)	the gift must be made after 2 August 2007
4.2.38	Kidsafe Vic (Inc.)	the gift must be made after 2 August 2007
4.2.39	Kidsafe Western Australia (Inc)	the gift must be made after 2 August 2007
4.2.40	Ian Thorpe’s Fountain for youth Limited	the gift must be made after 28 February 2008
4.2.41	2009 Victorian Bushfire Appeal Trust Account (established under section 19 of the Financial Management Act 1994 of Victoria)	the gift must be made: (a) after 7 February 2009; and (b) before 6 February 2014

30-45A Australian disaster relief funds—declarations by Minister

- (1) For the purposes of item 4.1.5 of the table in subsection 30-45(1), an event is a disaster to which this subsection applies if the Minister has declared it to be a disaster. The Minister may do so if satisfied that:
- (a) it developed rapidly; and
  - (b) it resulted in the death, serious injury or other physical suffering of a large number of people, or in widespread damage to property or the natural environment.
- (2) The Minister’s declaration of an event as a disaster:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-46

---

- (a) must be in writing; and
  - (b) must specify the day (or the first day) of the event; and
  - (c) must be published on the internet or by another method determined by the Minister.
- (3) The Minister's declaration of an event as a disaster is not a legislative instrument.
- (4) You can deduct a gift that you make to a public fund covered by item 4.1.5 of the table in subsection 30-45(1), in relation to a disaster to which subsection (1) of this section applies, only within the 2 years beginning on the day specified in the declaration as the day (or the first day) of the event for which the fund is to provide relief.

Note: Public funds under item 4.1.5 of the table in subsection 30-45(1) are for disaster relief of people in Australia. Public funds may also be established for disaster relief of people in other countries. See items 9.1.1 (which is not limited to disaster relief) and 9.1.2 of the table in section 30-80.

30-46 Australian disaster relief funds—declarations under State and Territory law

- (1) For the purposes of item 4.1.5 of the table in subsection 30-45(1), a disaster is one to which this subsection applies if:
- (a) it is declared to be a disaster, or it gives rise to a declaration of a state of emergency, by or with the approval of a Minister of a State or Territory under the law of the State or Territory; and
  - (b) it developed rapidly; and
  - (c) it resulted in the death, serious injury or other physical suffering of a large number of people, or in widespread damage to property or the natural environment; and
  - (d) subsection 30-45A(1) does not apply to it.
- (2) You can deduct a gift that you make to a public fund covered by item 4.1.5 of the table in subsection 30-45(1), in relation to a disaster to which subsection (1) of this section applies, only within the 2 years beginning:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) if the day (or the first day) on which the event occurred is specified in the declaration mentioned in paragraph (1)(a)—on that day; or
- (b) otherwise—on the day of the declaration.

Note: Public funds under item 4.1.5 of the table in subsection 30-45(1) are for disaster relief of people in Australia. Public funds may also be established for disaster relief of people in other countries. See items 9.1.1 (which is not limited to disaster relief) and 9.1.2 of the table in section 30-80.

Defence

30-50 Defence

- (1) This table sets out general categories of defence recipients.

Defence—General
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
5.1.1	the Commonwealth or a State	the gift must be made for purposes of defence
5.1.2	a public institution or public fund established and maintained for the comfort, recreation or welfare of members of the armed forces of any part of Her Majesty's dominions, or of any allied or other foreign force serving in association with Her Majesty's armed forces	none

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-50

---

Defence—General

---

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
5.1.3	a public fund established and maintained solely for providing money to reconstruct, or make critical repairs to, a particular war memorial that: (a) is located in Australia; and (b) commemorates events in a conflict in which Australia was involved, or people who are mainly Australians and who participated on Australia's behalf in a conflict; and (c) is a focus for public commemoration of the events or people mentioned in paragraph (b); and (d) is solely or mainly used for that public commemoration	the gift must be made within the 2 years beginning on the day on which: (a) the fund; or (b) if the fund is legally owned by an entity that is endorsed for the operation of the fund—the entity; is endorsed as a *deductible gift recipient under Subdivision 30-BA

(2) This table sets out specific defence recipients.

---

Defence—Specific

---

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
5.2.11	The RSL Foundation	the gift must be made after 20 September 2000
5.2.16	Bowral Vietnam Memorial Walk Trust Incorporated	the gift must be made after 15 August 2001 and before 16 August 2006
5.2.24	City of Onkaparinga Memorial Gardens Association Inc	the gift must be made after 28 April 2004 and before 1 July 2005
5.2.25	The Finding Sydney Foundation	the gift must be made after 26 August 2004 and before 1 July 2009
5.2.26	C E W Bean Foundation	the gift must be made after 14 November 2005 and before 15 November 2007

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 30-55

---

Defence—Specific

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
5.2.27	The Vietnam War Memorial of Victoria Incorporated	the gift must be made after 31 December 2004 and before 1 January 2006
5.2.28	The Bathurst War Memorial Carillon Public Fund Trust	the gift must be made after 2 August 2007 and before 3 August 2009
5.2.29	AE 2 Commemorative Foundation Ltd	the gift must be made after 28 February 2008 and before 1 March 2010
5.2.30	Memorials Development Committee Ltd	the gift must be made after 4 September 2007 and before 1 July 2010

Environment

30-55 The environment

(1) This table sets out general categories of environment recipients.

---

The environment—General

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
6.1.1	a public fund that, when the gift is made, is on the register of *environmental organisations kept under Subdivision 30-E	none

(2) This table sets out specific environment recipients.

---

The environment—Specific

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
6.2.1	the Australian Conservation Foundation Incorporated	see section 30-60
6.2.2	Greening Australia Limited	see section 30-60
6.2.3	Landcare Australia Limited	see section 30-60

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-55

---

---

The environment—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
6.2.4	the National Parks Association of New South Wales	see section 30-60
6.2.5	the Victorian National Parks Association Incorporated	see section 30-60
6.2.6	Trust for Nature (Victoria)	see section 30-60
6.2.7	the National Parks Association of Queensland	see section 30-60
6.2.8	The Nature Conservation Society of South Australia Incorporated	see section 30-60
6.2.9	the Nature Foundation SA Incorporated	see section 30-60
6.2.10	the Western Australian National Parks and Reserves Association Incorporated	see section 30-60
6.2.11	the Tasmanian Conservation Trust Incorporated	see section 30-60
6.2.12	the National Parks Association of the Australian Capital Territory Incorporated	see section 30-60
6.2.13	the National Trust of Australia (New South Wales)	none
6.2.14	the National Trust of Australia (Victoria)	none
6.2.15	The National Trust of Queensland	none
6.2.16	The National Trust of South Australia	none
6.2.17	The National Trust of Australia (W.A.)	none
6.2.18	the National Trust of Australia (Tasmania)	none
6.2.19	The National Trust of Australia (Northern Territory)	none
6.2.20	the National Trust of Australia (A.C.T.)	none
6.2.21	the Australian Council of National Trusts	none
6.2.22	the World Wide Fund for Nature	see section 30-60
6.2.23	Mawson's Huts Foundation Limited	the gift must be made after 17 March 1997

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

30-60 Gifts to a National Parks body or conservation body must satisfy certain requirements

You can deduct a gift that you make to:

- (a) an environmental institution covered by any of the items 6.2.1 to 6.2.12 of the table in subsection 30-55(2); or
  - (b) the World Wide Fund for Nature;
- only if, at the time of making the gift:
- (c) the institution or Fund has agreed to give the *Environment Secretary, within a reasonable period after the end of the income year in which you made the gift, statistical information about gifts made to the institution or Fund during that income year; and
  - (d) the institution or Fund has a policy of not acting as a mere conduit for the donation of money or property to other institutions, bodies or persons.

Industry, trade and design

30-65 Industry, trade and design

This table sets out specific industry, trade and design recipients.

Industry, trade and design—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
7.2.1	the Industrial Design Council of Australia	none
7.2.2	the Productivity Promotion Council of Australia	none
7.2.3	the WorldSkills Australia Inc.	none
7.2.4	Indigenous Community Volunteers Limited	the gift must be made after 16 April 2001
7.2.5	Australian Business Week Limited	the gift must be made after 8 December 2003

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-70

---

The family

30-70 The family

(1) This table sets out general categories of family recipients.

The family—General
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
8.1.1	a public fund established and maintained by a *non-profit company solely for the purpose of providing money to be used in giving or providing marriage education under the Marriage Act 1961 to individuals in Australia	see section 30-75
8.1.2	a public fund: (a) that is established and maintained by a *non-profit company which receives funding from the Commonwealth to provide family counselling or family dispute resolution within the meaning of the Family Law Act 1975 ; and (b) that is established and maintained solely for the purpose of providing money to be used in providing family counselling or family dispute resolution within the meaning of the Family Law Act 1975 to individuals in Australia	none

(2) This table sets out specific family recipients.

The family—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
8.2.3	Australian Breastfeeding Association	the gift must be made after 31 July 2001
8.2.4	Playgroup NSW (Inc).	the gift must be made after 14 April 2005
8.2.5	Playgroup WA (Inc)	the gift must be made after 13 March 2005

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-75

The family—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
8.2.6	Playgroup Queensland Incorporated	the gift must be made after 14 April 2005
8.2.7	Playgroup Tasmania Inc.	the gift must be made after 14 April 2005
8.2.8	Playgroup Association Northern Territory Incorporated	the gift must be made after 24 May 2005
8.2.9	ACT Playgroups Association Incorporated	the gift must be made after 14 April 2005
8.2.10	Playgroup Victoria Inc.	the gift must be made after 23 February 2006
8.2.11	Playgroup SA Inc	the gift must be made after 5 August 2006
8.2.12	Playgroup Australia Incorporated	the gift must be made after 2 August 2006

30-75 Marriage education organisations must be approved

You can deduct a gift that you make to a public fund covered by item 8.1.1 of the table in subsection 30-70(1) only if the company has been approved by the Minister under section 9C of the Marriage Act 1961.

International affairs

30-80 International affairs

- (1) This table sets out general categories of international affairs recipients.

International affairs—General
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
9.1.1	a public fund declared by the Treasurer to be a developing country relief fund	see section 30-85

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-80

---

---

International affairs—General

---

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
9.1.2	a public fund established and maintained by a public benevolent institution solely for providing money for the relief (including relief by way of assistance to re-establish a community) of people in a country other than: (a) Australia; and (b) a country declared by the Minister for Foreign Affairs to be a developing country; who are in distress as a result of a disaster to which subsection 30-86(1) applies	see section 30-86

---

(2) This table sets out specific international affairs recipients.

---

International affairs—Specific

---

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
9.2.1	the Australian Institute of International Affairs	none
9.2.2	the Australian National Travel Association	none
9.2.3	The Foundation for Development Cooperation Ltd	none
9.2.4	Australian American Education Leadership Foundation Limited	the gift must be made after 26 January 1998
9.2.5	Sydney Talmudical College Association Refugees Overseas Aid Fund	the gift must be made after 29 January 1998
9.2.6	United Israel Appeal Refugee Relief Fund Limited	the gift must be made after 29 January 1998
9.2.7	the Asia Society AustralAsia Centre	the gift must be made after 6 December 1998
9.2.8	The Global Foundation	the gift must be made after 2 November 1999
9.2.10	Australia for UNHCR	the gift must be made after 27 June 2007 and before 28 June 2012

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

International affairs—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
9.2.12	Lowy Institute for International Policy	the gift must be made after 13 August 2003
9.2.13	The Rotary Leadership Victoria Australian Embassy for Timor-Leste Fund Limited	the gift must be made after 7 November 2004 and before 1 January 2010
9.2.15	Australian Red Cross Society—US 2005 Hurricane Relief Appeal	the gift must be made after 31 August 2005 and before 1 September 2006
9.2.16	The Salvation Army Hurricane Katrina Relief Appeal	the gift must be made after 1 September 2005 and before 2 September 2006
9.2.17	Xanana Vocational Education Trust	the gift must be made after 20 July 2005 and before 21 July 2009
9.2.18	American Australian Association Limited	the gift must be made after 13 November 2006
9.2.19	WHEELCHAIRS FOR KIDS Incorporated	the gift must be made after 28 February 2008 and before 1 March 2010
9.2.20	World Youth Day 2008 Trust	the gift must be made after 4 September 2007 and before 1 July 2009
9.2.21	Diplomacy Training Program Limited	the gift must be made after 16 April 2009

30-85 Developing country relief funds

- (1) You can deduct a gift that you make to a public fund covered by item 9.1.1 of the table in subsection 30-80(1) only if the declaration is in force at the time you make the gift.
- (2) The Treasurer may, by notice in the Gazette, declare a public fund to be a developing country relief fund if he or she is satisfied that the fund:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-86

---

- (a) has been established by an organisation declared by the Minister for Foreign Affairs to be an approved organisation; and
  - (b) is solely for the relief of people in a country declared by the Minister for Foreign Affairs to be a developing country.
- (3) The notice must specify the day on which it has effect. It cannot have effect earlier than the day on which it is published in the Gazette.
- (4) The Treasurer may, by notice in the Gazette, revoke a declaration that a public fund is a developing country relief fund. The notice must specify the day on which it has effect. It cannot have effect earlier than the day on which it is published in the Gazette.
- (5) A declaration by the Minister for Foreign Affairs under this section must be in writing, signed by the Minister.

30-86 Developed country disaster relief funds

- (1) For the purposes of item 9.1.2 of the table in subsection 30-80(1), a disaster is one to which this subsection applies if the Minister has recognised it as a disaster. The Minister may do so if satisfied that:
- (a) it developed rapidly; and
  - (b) it resulted in the death, serious injury or other physical suffering of a large number of people, or in widespread damage to property or the natural environment.
- (2) The Minister's recognition of an event as a disaster:
- (a) must be in writing; and
  - (b) must specify the day (or the first day) of the event; and
  - (c) must be published on the Internet or by another method determined by the Minister.
- (3) The Minister's recognition of an event as a disaster is not a legislative instrument.
- (4) You can deduct a gift that you make to a public fund covered by item 9.1.2 of the table in subsection 30-80(1) only within the 2 years beginning on the day specified in the declaration as the day (or the first day) of the event for which the fund is to provide relief.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-90

Note: A public fund may also be established for disaster relief of people in Australia (see item 4.1.5 of the table in section 30-45).

Sports and recreation

30-90 Sports and recreation

This table sets out specific sports and recreation recipients.

Sports and recreation—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
10.2.1	the Australian Sports Foundation	none
10.2.2	Guides Australia Incorporated	none
10.2.3	an institution that is known as a State or Territory branch of Guides Australia Incorporated	none
10.2.4	the Scout Association of Australia	none
10.2.5	an institution that is known as a State or Territory branch of the Scout Association of Australia	none
10.2.6	the Australian Games Uniform Company Limited	none
10.2.7	The Bradman Memorial Fund	the gift must be made after 24 February 2001
10.2.8	Amy Gillett Foundation	the gift must be made after 13 September 2007

Philanthropic trusts

30-95 Philanthropic trusts

This table sets out specific philanthropic trusts.

Philanthropic trusts—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
11.2.1	the Connellan Airways Trust	none

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-100

---

---

Philanthropic trusts—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
11.2.2	The Friends of the Duke of Edinburgh's Award in Australia Incorporated	none
11.2.4	the Playford Memorial Trust	none
11.2.5	The Sir Robert Menzies Memorial Foundation Limited	none
11.2.7	the Winston Churchill Memorial Trust	none
11.2.8	The Foundation for Young Australians	the gift must be made after 6 May 2001
11.2.9	Visy Cares	the gift must be made after 19 June 2001

---

---

Cultural organisations

30-100 Cultural organisations

(1) This table sets out general categories of cultural recipients.

---

---

Cultural organisations—General
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
12.1.1	a public fund that, when the gift is made, is on the register of *cultural organisations kept under Subdivision 30-F	none
12.1.2	a public library	none
12.1.3	a public museum	none
12.1.4	a public art gallery	none
12.1.5	an institution consisting of a public library, public museum and public art gallery or of any 2 of them	none

---

---

(2) This table sets out specific cultural recipients.

---

---

Cultural organisations—Specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
12.2.1	The Australiana Fund	none

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Cultural organisations—Specific

Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
12.2.2	Australian Business Arts Foundation Ltd.	the gift must be made after 8 November 1996
12.2.3	The Ranfurly Library Service Incorporated	the gift must be made after 2 May 2006

Fire and emergency services

30-102 Fire and emergency services

This table sets out specific fire and emergency services recipients.

---

Fire and emergency services—Specific

Item	Authority or institution	Established under legislation of the following State or Territory	Special conditions
12A.2.1	State Emergency Service	New South Wales	the gift must be made after 22 December 2003
12A.2.2	Country Fire Authority	Victoria	the gift must be made after 22 December 2003
12A.2.3	Victoria State Emergency Service	Victoria	the gift must be made after 22 December 2003
12A.2.4	CFA & Brigades Donations Fund	Victoria	the gift must be made after 30 June 2004
12A.2.5	Queensland Fire and Rescue Service	Queensland	the gift must be made after 22 December 2003
12A.2.6	State Emergency Service	Queensland	the gift must be made after 22 December 2003

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-105

---

---

Fire and emergency services—Specific
Item	Authority or institution	Established under legislation of the following State or Territory	Special conditions
12A.2.7	Fire and Emergency Services Authority of Western Australia	Western Australia	the gift must be made after 22 December 2003
12A.2.8	State Emergency Service South Australia	South Australia	the gift must be made after 22 December 2003
12A.2.9	Tasmania Fire Service	Tasmania	the gift must be made after 22 December 2003
12A.2.10	State Emergency Service	Tasmania	the gift must be made after 22 December 2003
12A.2.13	ACT Rural Fire Service	Australian Capital Territory	the gift must be made after 30 June 2004
12A.2.14	ACT State Emergency Service	Australian Capital Territory	the gift must be made after 30 June 2004

---

---

Other recipients

30-105 Other recipients

This table sets out specific other recipients.

---

---

Other recipients—specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
13.2.1	the Council for Jewish Community Security	the gift must be made after 9 August 2007
13.2.2	the Foundation for Rural and Regional Renewal Public Fund	the gift must be made after 28 March 2000

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Other recipients—specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
13.2.3	Young Endeavour Youth Scheme Public Fund	the gift must be made after 24 September 2001
13.2.3A	Leeuwin Ocean Adventure Foundation Limited	the gift must be made after 16 April 2009
13.2.4	Australian Council for Children and Youth Organisations Inc.	the gift must be made after 23 July 2002
13.2.5	St Paul's Cathedral Restoration Fund	the gift must be made after 22 April 2002 and before 23 April 2008
13.2.6	Dunn and Lewis Youth Development Foundation Limited	the gift must be made on or after 10 November 2003 and before 1 January 2009
13.2.7	Lord Somers Camp and Power House	the gift must be made after 4 March 2004
13.2.8	St George's Cathedral Restoration Fund	the gift must be made after 27 September 2004 and before 1 January 2011
13.2.11	St Michael's Church Restoration Fund	the gift must be made after 23 February 2006 and before 24 February 2008
13.2.12	Nonprofit Australia Ltd	the gift must be made after 28 June 2006 and before 29 June 2009
13.2.13	Point Nepean Community Trust	the gift must be made after 26 June 2006 and before 11 June 2009

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-115

---

Other recipients—specific
Item	Fund, authority or institution	Special conditions
13.2.14	St Mary's Cathedral Restoration Appeal Incorporated	the gift must be made after 26 April 2006 and before 27 April 2007
13.2.14A	Bunbury Diocese Cathedral Rebuilding Fund	the gift must be made after 18 December 2006 and before 19 December 2010
13.2.15	Australian Peacekeeping Memorial Project Incorporated	the gift must be made after 29 April 2007 and before 1 January 2009
13.2.16	Social Ventures Australia Limited	the gift must be made after 3 May 2007
13.2.17	PWR Melbourne 2009 Limited	the gift must be made after 2 February 2009 and before 1 January 2010

Subdivision 30-BA—Endorsement of deductible gift recipients

Guide to Subdivision 30-BA

30-115 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision sets out rules about endorsement of entities and government entities as deductible gift recipients. Endorsement of an entity described (except by name) in Subdivision 30-A, 30-B or 30-D lets you deduct a gift you make to a fund, authority or institution that is, or is operated by, the entity.

Table of sections

Endorsement as a deductible gift recipient

30-120 Endorsement by Commissioner

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- 30-125 Entitlement to endorsement
30-130 Maintaining a gift fund

Government entities treated like entities

- 30-180 How this Subdivision applies to government entities

Endorsement as a deductible gift recipient

30-120 Endorsement by Commissioner

If an entity applies for endorsement in accordance with Division 426 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953, the Commissioner must endorse the entity:

- (a) as a *deductible gift recipient, if the entity is entitled to be endorsed as a deductible gift recipient; or
- (b) as a *deductible gift recipient for the operation of a fund, authority or institution, if the entity is entitled to be endorsed as a deductible gift recipient for the operation of the fund, authority or institution.

Note: For procedural rules relating to endorsement, see Division 426 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

30-125 Entitlement to endorsement

Endorsement of an entity that is a fund, authority or institution

- (1) An entity is entitled to be endorsed as a *deductible gift recipient if the entity:
  - (a) has an *ABN; and
  - (b) is a fund, authority or institution that:
    - (i) is described (but not by name) in item 1, 2 or 4 of the table in section 30-15; and
    - (ii) is not described by name in Subdivision 30-B if it is described in item 1 of that table; and
    - (iii) meets the relevant conditions (if any) identified in the column headed "Special conditions" of the item of that table in which it is described; and
  - (c) meets the requirements of subsection (6), unless:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-125

---

- (i) the entity is established by an Act; and
- (ii) the Act (or another Act) does not provide for the winding up or termination of the entity.

Endorsement of an entity for operating a fund, authority etc.

- (2) An entity is entitled to be endorsed as a *deductible gift recipient for the operation of a fund, authority or institution that is described (but not by name) in item 1, 2 or 4 of the table in section 30-15 and is not described by name in Subdivision 30-B if:
  - (a) the entity has an *ABN; and
  - (b) the entity:
    - (i) legally owns the fund; or
    - (ii) includes the authority or institution; and
  - (c) the fund, authority or institution meets the relevant conditions (if any) identified in the column headed “Special conditions” of that item; and
  - (d) the entity meets the requirements of subsection (6), unless:
    - (i) the entity is established by an Act; and
    - (ii) the Act (or another Act) does not provide for the winding up or termination of the entity; and
  - (e) the entity meets the requirements of section 30-130, unless the entity is endorsed as a deductible gift recipient under paragraph 30-120(a).

Relevant special conditions in table in section 30-15

- (3) To avoid doubt, a condition requiring the fund, authority or institution to meet the requirements of section 30-17 is not a relevant condition for the purposes of subparagraph (1)(b)(iii) or paragraph (2)(c).

Note: Section 30-17 requires the entity to be endorsed under this Subdivision as a deductible gift recipient.

Transfer of assets from fund, authority or institution

- (6) A law (outside this Subdivision), a document constituting the entity or rules governing the entity’s activities must require the entity, at the first occurrence of an event described in subsection (7), to transfer to a fund, authority or institution gifts to which can be deducted under this Division:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) any surplus assets of the gift fund (see section 30-130); or
- (b) if the entity is not required by this section to meet the requirements of section 30-130—any surplus:
  - (i) gifts of money or property for the principal purpose of the fund, authority or institution; and
  - (ii) contributions described in item 7 or 8 of the table in section 30-15 in relation to a *fund-raising event held for that purpose; and
  - (iii) money received by the entity because of such gifts or contributions.

Events requiring transfer

- (7) The events are:
  - (a) the winding up of the fund, authority or institution; and
  - (b) if the entity is endorsed because of a fund, authority or institution—the revocation of the entity’s endorsement under this Subdivision relating to the fund, authority or institution.

Note 1: There are 2 ways an entity can be endorsed because of a fund, authority or institution. An entity can be endorsed either because it is a fund, authority or institution or because it operates a fund, authority or institution.

Note 2: Section 426-55 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 deals with revocation of endorsement.

Note 3: The entity is also required to keep appropriate records: see section 382-15 of the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

30-130 Maintaining a gift fund

- (1) The entity must maintain for the principal purpose of the fund, authority or institution a fund (the gift fund):
  - (a) to which gifts of money or property for that purpose are to be made; and
  - (b) to which contributions described in item 7 or 8 of the table in section 30-15 in relation to a *fund-raising event held for that purpose are to be made; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-180

---

- (c) to which any money received by the entity because of such gifts or contributions is to be credited; and
  - (d) that does not receive any other money or property.
- (2) The entity must use the gift fund only for the principal purpose of the fund, authority or institution.

Exception—only one gift fund required per entity

- (3) An entity that operates 2 or more funds, authorities or institutions also meets the requirements of this section for 2 or more of those funds, authorities or institutions by maintaining a single gift fund if:
- (a) the gift fund meets the requirements in paragraphs (1)(a), (b) and (c) in respect of each of the funds, authorities or institutions for which the gift fund is maintained; and
  - (b) the gift fund does not receive any other money or property.
- (4) The entity must use a gift or contribution made to the fund and any money credited to the fund only for the principal purpose of the fund, authority or institution to which the gift, contribution or money relates.

Note: The entity is also required to keep appropriate records for each of the funds, authorities or institutions: see section 382-15 of the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

Government entities treated like entities

30-180 How this Subdivision applies to government entities

- (1) The other sections of this Subdivision apply in relation to a *government entity in the same way as they apply in relation to an entity.
- (2) Subparagraph 30-125(2)(b)(i) (as applied by this section) operates as if it referred to the *government entity consisting of persons, one or more of whom controlled the fund (instead of referring to the entity legally owning the fund).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 30-C—Rules applying to particular gifts of property

Table of sections

Valuation requirements

- 30-200 Getting written valuations
- 30-205 Proceeds of the sale would have been assessable
- 30-210 Approved valuers
- 30-212 Valuations by the Commissioner

Working out the amount you can deduct for a gift of property

- 30-215 How much you can deduct
- 30-220 Reducing the amount you can deduct

Joint ownership of property

- 30-225 Gift of property by joint owners

Valuation requirements

30-200 Getting written valuations

- (1) You satisfy the valuation requirements if you get 2 or more written valuations of the gift you made.

Note 1: In most cases, you need to get these written valuations to be able to deduct a gift of property that you make to a recipient covered by item 4, 5 or 6 of the table in section 30-15.

Note 2: You do not need to get written valuations in the circumstances set out in section 30-205.

- (2) The valuations must be by different individuals, each of whom is an approved valuer of the kind of property you are giving away.

Note: Section 30-210 deals with how an individual becomes an approved valuer.

- (3) Each valuation must state the amount that, in the opinion of the valuer, was:

- (a) the *GST inclusive market value of the property on the day you made the gift; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-205

---

- (b) the *GST inclusive market value of the property on the day the valuation was made.
- (4) If a valuation states the *GST inclusive market value of the property on the day the valuation was made, it must have been made within 90 days before or after the gift was made. However, the Commissioner may allow a longer period than this.

30-205 Proceeds of the sale would have been assessable

- (1) You do not need to get written valuations of the gift you made if:
  - (a) no amount is included in your assessable income in respect of the gift you made; but
  - (b) an amount would have been included in your assessable income if you had sold the property instead of making the gift.
- (2) However, this section does not apply if, apart from the operation of subsection 118-60(2), an amount would have been included in your assessable income in respect of the gift you made.

30-210 Approved valuers

- (1) The Secretary to the Department of Communications and the Arts may approve an individual as a valuer of a particular kind of property. The approval must be in writing, signed by the Secretary.
- (2) The Secretary must, in deciding whether to approve an individual, have regard to:
  - (a) the individual's qualifications, experience and knowledge in valuing that kind of property; and
  - (b) the individual's knowledge of the current *GST inclusive market value of that kind of property; and
  - (c) the individual's standing in the professional community.

30-212 Valuations by the Commissioner

- (1) If you make a gift or contribution that is covered by a provision of this Division that refers to the value of property as determined by the Commissioner, you must seek the valuation from the Commissioner.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (2) The Commissioner may charge you the amount worked out in accordance with the regulations for making the valuation.

Working out the amount you can deduct for a gift of property

30-215 How much you can deduct

- (1) This section contains the rules for working out how much you can deduct for a gift of property that you make to a recipient covered by item 4, 5 or 6 of the table in section 30-15.
- (2) The general rule is that the amount you can deduct for a gift of this kind is the average of the *GST inclusive market values (as reduced under subsection 30-15(3) if that subsection applies) specified in the written valuations you got from the approved valuers.

Note: In some situations you must reduce the amount you can deduct: see section 30-220.

- (3) The exceptions to the general rule are set out in this table:

Amount you can deduct for a gift of property
Item	In this case:	The amount you can deduct is:
1	Section 30-205 (which is about the proceeds of the sale being assessable) applies, and you bought the property	the amount you paid for the property, reduced by the amount of any *input tax credit to which you are or were entitled for your *acquisition of the property
2	Section 30-205 (which is about the proceeds of the sale being assessable) applies, and you created or produced the property	so much of the cost of creation or production as you would have been able to deduct if you had sold the property, reduced by the amount of any *input tax credit to which you are or were entitled for your *acquisitions to the extent that they were made for the purpose of creating or producing the property

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-220

Amount you can deduct for a gift of property

Item	In this case:	The amount you can deduct is:
3	Neither of cases 1 and 2 applies, and you acquired the property: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) less than one year before making the gift (otherwise than by inheriting it); or</li> <li>(b) for the purpose of giving it away; or</li> <li>(c) subject to an *arrangement that the property would be given away</li> </ul>	the lesser of the amount you paid for the property and: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) if the average of the written valuations you got fairly represents the *GST inclusive market value (as reduced under subsection (4) if that subsection applies) of the property on the day you made the gift—that average; or</li> <li>(b) if it does not—the *GST inclusive market value (as reduced under subsection (4) if that subsection applies) of the property on the day you made the gift</li> </ul>
4	None of cases 1 to 3 applies, and the average of the written valuations you got does not fairly represent the *market value of the property on the day you made the gift	the *GST inclusive market value (as reduced under subsection (4) if that subsection applies) of the property on the day you made the gift

- (4) For the purposes of items 3 and 4 of the table in subsection (3), the \*GST inclusive market values of the property in question are reduced by  $\frac{1}{11}$  if you would have been entitled to an \*input tax credit if:
- (a) you had *acquired the property at the time you made the gift; and
  - (b) your acquisition had been for a *creditable purpose.

30-220 Reducing the amount you can deduct

- (1) The amount you can deduct is reduced by a reasonable amount if:
- (a) the terms and conditions on which the gift is made are such that the recipient:
    - (i) does not receive immediate custody and control of the property; or

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (ii) does not have the unconditional right to retain custody and control of the property in perpetuity; or
  - (iii) does not obtain an immediate, indefeasible and unencumbered legal and equitable title to the property; or
  - (b) the custody, control or use of the property by the recipient is affected by an *arrangement entered into in respect of the making of the gift.
- (2) In deciding what is a reasonable amount, have regard to the effect of those terms and conditions, or that *arrangement, on the *GST inclusive market value of the gift.

Joint ownership of property

30-225 Gift of property by joint owners

If:

- (a) you own property jointly with one or more other entities; and
  - (b) you and the other entities make a gift of the property; and
  - (c) you would have been able to deduct the gift under section 30-15 because of item 4, 5 or 6 of the table in that section if you had made a gift of the property as sole owner of it;
- you can deduct so much of the gift as is reasonable, having regard to your interest in the property.

Subdivision 30-CA—Administrative requirements relating to ABNs

Guide to Subdivision 30-CA

30-226 What this Subdivision is about

An entity must ensure certain details must appear on a receipt it issues for a gift that:

- (a) is made to the entity or a fund, authority or institution it operates; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-227

---

(b) is of a kind that the giver can deduct under Subdivision 30-A.

If the entity has an ABN, the Australian Business Registrar must state in the Australian Business Register that the entity is a deductible gift recipient.

Table of sections

Requirements

30-227	Entities to which this Subdivision applies
30-228	Content of receipt for gift
30-229	Australian Business Register must show deductibility of gifts to deductible gift recipient

Requirements

30-227 Entities to which this Subdivision applies

- (1) This Subdivision sets out requirements relating to a *deductible gift recipient.
- (2) A deductible gift recipient is an entity or *government entity that:
  - (a) is a fund, authority or institution described in item 1, 2, 4, 5 or 6 of the table in section 30-15 and is:
    - (i) endorsed under Subdivision 30-BA as a deductible gift recipient; or
    - (ii) mentioned by name in that table or in Subdivision 30-B; or
    - (iii) a *prescribed private fund; or
  - (b) is endorsed as a deductible gift recipient for the operation of a fund, authority or institution described in item 1, 2 or 4 of the table in section 30-15.

30-228 Content of receipt for gift or contribution

- (1) If a *deductible gift recipient issues a receipt for a gift described in the relevant item of the table in section 30-15 to the fund, authority or institution, the deductible gift recipient must ensure that the receipt states:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) the name of the fund, authority or institution; and
- (b) the *ABN (if any) of the deductible gift recipient; and
- (c) the fact that the receipt is for a gift.

Note: If the deductible gift recipient is endorsed as a deductible gift recipient and it contravenes this section, the Commissioner may revoke its endorsement: see section 426-55 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

- (2) If a *deductible gift recipient issues a receipt for a contribution described in item 7 of the table in section 30-15, the deductible gift recipient must ensure that the receipt states:
  - (a) the name of the deductible gift recipient; and
  - (b) the *ABN (if any) of the deductible gift recipient; and
  - (c) the fact that the receipt is for a contribution made in return for a right to attend, or participate in, a specified *fund-raising event; and
  - (d) if the contribution is money—the amount of the contribution; and
  - (e) the amount of the *GST inclusive market value, on the day the contribution was made, of the right to attend, or participate in, the fund-raising event.
- (3) For the purposes of paragraph (2)(e), in working out the *GST inclusive market value of the right in question, disregard anything that would prevent or restrict conversion of the right to money.
- (4) If a *deductible gift recipient issues a receipt for a contribution described in item 8 of the table in section 30-15, the deductible gift recipient must ensure that the receipt states:
  - (a) the name of the deductible gift recipient; and
  - (b) the *ABN (if any) of the deductible gift recipient; and
  - (c) the fact that the receipt is for a contribution made by way of consideration for the supply of goods or services; and
  - (d) the fact that the contribution was made because the contributor was the successful bidder at an auction that:
    - (i) was a specified *fund-raising event; or
    - (ii) was held at a specified fund-raising event; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-229

---

- (e) if the contribution is money—the amount of the contribution; and
  - (f) the *GST inclusive market value, on the day the contribution was made, of the goods or services.
- (5) For the purposes of paragraph (4)(f), in working out the *GST inclusive market value of the goods or services in question, disregard anything that would prevent or restrict conversion of the goods or services to money.

30-229 Australian Business Register must show deductibility of gifts to deductible gift recipient

- (1) If a *deductible gift recipient has an *ABN, the *Australian Business Registrar must enter in the *Australian Business Register in relation to the deductible gift recipient a statement that it is a deductible gift recipient for a specified period.

Note 1: An entry (or lack of entry) of a statement required by this section does not affect whether you can deduct a gift to the fund, authority or institution.

Note 2: This section will apply to all entities and government entities that are endorsed as deductible gift recipients under Subdivision 30-BA, because they must have ABNs to be endorsed. It will also apply to other entities described or named in Subdivision 30-A if they have ABNs.

- (2) If the *deductible gift recipient is a deductible gift recipient only because it is endorsed under Subdivision 30-BA as a deductible gift recipient for the operation of a fund, authority or institution, the statement must name the fund, authority or institution.
- (3) The *Australian Business Registrar may remove the statement from the *Australian Business Register after the end of the period.
- (4) The *Australian Business Registrar must take reasonable steps to ensure that a statement appearing in the *Australian Business Register under this section is true. For this purpose, the Registrar may:
- (a) change the statement; or
  - (b) remove the statement from the Register if the statement is not true; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (c) remove the statement from the Register and enter another statement in the Register under this section.
- (5) Making, changing or removing an entry in the *Australian Business Register as required or permitted by this section does not contravene section 16 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (Officers to observe secrecy).

Subdivision 30-D—Testamentary gifts under the Cultural Bequests Program

Table of sections

30-230	Testamentary gifts of property
30-235	Getting a certificate
30-240	Limit on total value of gifts for an income year

30-230 Testamentary gifts of property

- (1) A testamentary gift of property (except an estate or interest in land or in a building or part of a building) that you make under the Cultural Bequests Program is deductible for the income year in which you die.

Note: The trustee of your estate can claim the deduction in the income tax return lodged for you that covers the period from the start of the income year to the day you die.

- (2) The recipient of the gift must be:
  - (a) The Australiana Fund; or
  - (b) a public library in Australia; or
  - (c) a public museum in Australia; or
  - (d) a public art gallery in Australia; or
  - (e) an institution in Australia consisting of a public library, a public museum and a public art gallery or any 2 of them.
- (2A) When you die, one of the following requirements must be met:
  - (a) the recipient must be endorsed under Subdivision 30-BA as a deductible gift recipient;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-235

---

- (b) there must be an entity endorsed under Subdivision 30-BA as a *deductible gift recipient for the operation of the recipient institution.

This subsection does not apply if the recipient is The Australiana Fund.

- (3) The property must be given to, and accepted by, the recipient for inclusion in a collection it is maintaining or establishing.
- (4) The value of the gift must be $2 or more.
- (5) When you die, there must be in force a certificate from the Minister for Communications and the Arts:
  - (a) approving the gift; and
  - (b) specifying the value of the gift.
- (6) If:
  - (a) you die before the last day of an income year; and
  - (b) section 26-55 (which is about a limit on deductions) prevents the whole or a part of the gift from being deductible in the *income tax return lodged for you for that income year;the trustee of your estate can claim the whole or part as a deduction in the trust's income tax return for that income year.

Note: The trust's income tax return covers the period from the day you die to the end of the income year.

30-235 Getting a certificate

- (1) You get a certificate by making a written application for one to the Minister for Communications and the Arts.
- (2) The Minister must decide your application in accordance with written guidelines made by the Minister under this section.
- (3) The guidelines may require the Minister to decide an application having regard to:
  - (a) specified criteria; or
  - (b) recommendations of particular bodies.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (4) If the Minister approves your gift, he or she must give you a certificate:
- (a) approving the gift; and
  - (b) specifying the value of the gift; and
  - (c) setting out any other information that the Commissioner requires.

30-240 Limit on total value of gifts for an income year

The total value of all gifts approved by the Minister for Communications and the Arts for an income year cannot exceed an amount that the Minister determines in writing. The Minister must determine this amount before approving any gifts for that income year.

Subdivision 30-DA—Donations to political parties and independent candidates and members

Guide to Subdivision 30-DA

30-241 What this Subdivision is about

Generally, you can deduct certain contributions and gifts to political parties, independent candidates and members.

Contributions and gifts must be at least $2 and there is a limit on the total amount that you can deduct.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

30-242	Deduction for political contributions and gifts
30-243	Amount of the deduction
30-244	When an individual is an independent candidate
30-245	When an individual is an independent member

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Operative provisions

30-242 Deduction for political contributions and gifts

- (1) You can deduct any of the following for the income year in which they are made:
  - (a) a contribution or gift to a political party that is registered under Part XI of the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918 or under corresponding State or Territory legislation;
  - (b) a contribution or gift to an individual when the individual is an *independent candidate for a Commonwealth, State, Northern Territory or Australian Capital Territory election;
  - (c) a contribution or gift to an individual who is, or was, an *independent member of the Commonwealth Parliament, a State Parliament, the Legislative Assembly of the Northern Territory or the Legislative Assembly for the Australian Capital Territory.
- (2) The contribution or gift must be of:
  - (a) money; or
  - (b) property that you purchased during the 12 months before making the contribution or gift.
- (3) The value of the contribution or gift must be at least $2.
- (4) You cannot deduct a testamentary contribution or gift under this Subdivision.
- (5) A contribution or gift to an individual who is, or was, an *independent member must be made:
  - (a) when the individual is an independent member; or
  - (b) if the individual ceases to be an independent member because:
    - (i) a Parliament, a House of a Parliament or a Legislative Assembly is dissolved or has reached its maximum duration; or
    - (ii) the individual comes up for election; after the individual ceases to be a member but before candidates for the resulting election are declared or otherwise

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

publicly announced by an entity authorised under the relevant electoral legislation.

30-243 Amount of the deduction

- (1) If the contribution or gift is money, the amount of the deduction is the amount of money.
- (2) If the contribution or gift is property, the amount of the deduction is the lesser of:
  - (a) the market value of the property on the day that you made the contribution or gift; and
  - (b) the amount that you paid for the property.

$1,500 limit on deductions

- (3) You cannot deduct more than $1,500 under this Subdivision for an income year for contributions and gifts to political parties.
- (4) You cannot deduct more than $1,500 under this Subdivision for an income year for contributions and gifts to *independent candidates or *independent members.

30-244 When an individual is an independent candidate

- (1) An individual is an independent candidate if:
  - (a) the individual is a candidate in an election (including an election that is later declared void) for members of the Commonwealth Parliament, a State Parliament, the Legislative Assembly of the Northern Territory or the Legislative Assembly for the Australian Capital Territory; and
  - (b) the individual's candidature is not endorsed by a political party that is registered under Part XI of the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918 or under corresponding State or Territory legislation.
- (2) However, an individual does not start being an *independent candidate until the candidates for the election are declared or otherwise publicly announced by an entity authorised under the relevant electoral legislation.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-245

---

- (3) An individual stops being an *independent candidate when the result of the election is declared or otherwise publicly announced by an entity authorised under the relevant electoral legislation.
- (4) If:
  - (a) the election is taken to have wholly failed under the relevant electoral legislation; and
  - (b) the result of the election has not been declared or otherwise publicly announced by an entity authorised under the relevant electoral legislation;the individual stops being an *independent candidate in that election when candidates for the replacement election are declared or otherwise publicly announced by an entity authorised under the relevant electoral legislation.

30-245 When an individual is an independent member

- (1) An individual is an independent member of the Commonwealth Parliament, a State Parliament, the Legislative Assembly of the Northern Territory or the Legislative Assembly for the Australian Capital Territory if the individual:
  - (a) is a member of that Parliament or Legislative Assembly; and
  - (b) the individual is not a member of a political party that is registered under Part XI of the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918 or under corresponding State or Territory legislation.
- (2) An individual who becomes a member as a result of an election (including an election that is later declared void) is taken to start being a member of the Parliament or Legislative Assembly when the individual's election as a member is declared or otherwise publicly announced by an entity authorised under the relevant electoral legislation.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Subdivision 30-DB—Spreading certain gift and covenant deductions over up to 5 income years

Guide to Subdivision 30-DB

30-246 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision allows you to elect to spread deductions for certain gifts and covenants over up to 5 income years. There are some different requirements for environmental, heritage and cultural property gifts and conservation covenants.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

30-247	Gifts and covenants for which elections can be made
30-248	Making an election
30-249	Effect of election
30-249A	Requirements—environmental property gifts
30-249B	Requirements—heritage property gifts
30-249C	Requirements—certain cultural property gifts
30-249D	Requirements—conservation covenants

Operative provisions

30-247 Gifts and covenants for which elections can be made

- (1) An election under this Subdivision may be made for a gift, made on or after 1 July 2003, that is:
  - (a) a gift of:
    - (i) money; or
    - (ii) property valued by the Commissioner at more than $5,000; made to a fund, authority or institution covered by item 1 or 2 of the table in section 30-15; or
  - (b) a gift that is covered by item 4, 5 or 6 of the table in section 30-15.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-248

---

- (2) An election under this Subdivision may also be made for entering into a *conservation covenant, under Division 31, on or after 1 July 2003.

30-248 Making an election

- (1) If you can deduct an amount:
  - (a) under this Division for a gift covered by subsection 30-247(1); or
  - (b) under Division 31 for entering into a *conservation covenant covered by subsection 30-247(2);you may make a written election to spread that deduction over the current income year and up to 4 of the immediately following income years.
- (2) In the election, you must specify the percentage (if any) of the deduction that you will deduct in each of the income years.
- (3) You must make the election before you lodge your *income tax return for the income year in which you made the gift or entered into the covenant.
- (4) You may vary an election at any time. However, the variation can only change the percentage that you will deduct in respect of income years for which you have not yet lodged an *income tax return.
- (5) Unless section 30-249A, 30-249B or 30-249C applies, the election and any variation must be in the *approved form.

Note: Sections 30-249A, 30-249B and 30-249C provide for the form of elections and variations for gifts covered by those sections.

30-249 Effect of election

- (1) In each of the income years you specified in the election, you can deduct the amount corresponding to the percentage you specified for that year.
- (2) You cannot deduct the amount that you otherwise would have been able to deduct for the gift in the income year in which you made the gift or entered into the covenant.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

30-249A Requirements—environmental property gifts

- (1) This section applies if you make an election for a gift of property made to a fund, authority or institution covered by section 30-55.
- (2) You must give a copy of the election to the *Environment Secretary before you lodge your *income tax return for the income year in which you made the gift.
- (3) If you vary the election, you must give a copy of the variation to the *Environment Secretary before you lodge your *income tax return for the first income year to which the variation applies.
- (4) The election and any variation must be in a form approved in writing by the *Environment Secretary.

30-249B Requirements—heritage property gifts

- (1) This section applies if you make an election for a gift of property made to a fund, authority or institution covered by item 6 of the table in section 30-15.
- (2) You must give a copy of the election to the *Heritage Secretary before you lodge your *income tax return for the income year in which you made the gift.
- (3) If you vary the election, you must give a copy of the variation to the *Heritage Secretary before you lodge your *income tax return for the first income year to which the variation applies.
- (4) The election and any variation must be in a form approved in writing by the *Heritage Secretary.

30-249C Requirements—certain cultural property gifts

- (1) This section applies if you make an election for a gift covered by item 4 or 5 of the table in section 30-15.
- (2) You must give a copy of the election to the *Arts Secretary before you lodge your *income tax return for the income year in which you made the gift.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 30-249D

---

- (3) If you vary the election, you must give a copy of the variation to the *Arts Secretary before you lodge your *income tax return for the first income year to which the variation applies.
- (4) The election and any variation must be in a form approved in writing by the *Arts Secretary.

30-249D Requirements—conservation covenants

- (1) This section applies if you make an election for a *conservation covenant.
- (2) You must give a copy of the election to the *Environment Secretary before you lodge your *income tax return for the income year in which you entered the covenant.
- (3) If you vary the election, you must give a copy of the variation to the *Environment Secretary before you lodge your *income tax return for the first income year to which the variation applies.

Subdivision 30-E—Register of environmental organisations

Guide to Subdivision 30-E

30-250 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision requires the establishment of a register of environmental organisations. Section 30-15 allows you to deduct a gift that you make to a fund that is on the register.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

30-255	Establishing the register
30-260	Meaning of environmental organisation
30-265	Its principal purpose must be protecting the environment
30-270	Other requirements it must satisfy
30-275	Further requirement for a body corporate or a co-operative society
30-280	What must be on the register

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

30-285 Removal from the register

Operative provisions

30-255 Establishing the register

The *Environment Secretary must keep a register of *environmental organisations.

Note: Section 30-280 sets out what details must be entered on the register.

30-260 Meaning of *environmental organisation

An environmental organisation is:

- (a) a body corporate; or
- (b) a co-operative society; or
- (c) a trust; or
- (d) an unincorporated body established for a public purpose by the Commonwealth, a State or a Territory; that satisfies each requirement in sections 30-265 and 30-270.

Note: A body corporate or a co-operative society must satisfy a further requirement: see section 30-275.

30-265 Its principal purpose must be protecting the environment

- (1) Its principal purpose must be:
  - (a) the protection and enhancement of the natural environment or of a significant aspect of the natural environment; or
  - (b) the provision of information or education, or the carrying on of research, about the natural environment or a significant aspect of the natural environment.
- (2) It must maintain a public fund that meets the requirements of section 30-130, or would meet those requirements if the *environmental organisation were a fund, authority or institution.
- (4) It must have agreed to comply with any rules that the Treasurer and the *Environment Minister make to ensure that gifts made to the fund are used only for its principal purpose.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 30-270

---

30-270 Other requirements it must satisfy

No payment of profits to its members

- (1) It must not pay any of its profits or financial surplus, or give any of its property, to its members, beneficiaries, controllers or owners (as appropriate).

No acting as a conduit

- (2) It must have a policy of not acting as a mere conduit for the donation of money or property to other organisations, bodies or persons.

Surplus assets to be transferred on winding up

- (3) It must have rules providing that, if the public fund is wound up, any surplus assets of the fund are to be transferred to another fund that is on the register.

Statistical information to be provided

- (4) It must have agreed to give the *Environment Secretary, within a reasonable period after the end of each income year, statistical information about gifts made to the public fund during that income year.

30-275 Further requirement for a body corporate or a co-operative society

A body corporate (except a statutory authority) or a co-operative society is an environmental organisation only if:

- (a) its membership consists principally of bodies corporate; or
- (b) it has at least 50 members who are individuals that are:
  - (i) regarded as financial members; and
  - (ii) entitled to vote at a general meeting of it; or
- (c) the *Environment Minister has determined that, because of special circumstances, it does not have to meet either of the requirements in paragraph (a) or (b).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

30-280 What must be on the register

- (1) The *Environment Secretary must enter on the register each *environmental organisation, and the public fund it maintains, that he or she has been directed to enter by the Treasurer and the *Environment Minister.
- (2) The Treasurer and the Minister may so direct the Secretary only if the Minister has notified the Treasurer that he or she is satisfied that an organisation is an *environmental organisation. The notification must be in writing.
- (3) The direction must be in writing and must specify the day on which the organisation and public fund are to be entered on the register. The day must be the day on which the direction is given or a later day.
- (4) The Treasurer and the *Environment Minister must have regard to the policies and budgetary priorities of the Commonwealth Government in deciding whether to give a direction.

30-285 Removal from the register

- (1) The Treasurer and the *Environment Minister may direct the *Environment Secretary to remove an *environmental organisation, and the public fund it maintains, from the register.
- (2) The direction must be in writing and must specify the day on which the organisation and public fund are to be removed from the register. The day must be the day on which the direction is given or a later day.

Subdivision 30-EA—Register of harm prevention charities

Guide to Subdivision 30-EA

30-286 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision requires the establishment of a register of harm prevention charities. Section 30-15 allows you to deduct a gift that you make to a fund that is on the register.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-287

---

Table of sections

Operative provisions

30-287	Establishing the register
30-288	Meaning of harm prevention charity
30-289	Principal activity—promoting the prevention or control of harm or abuse
30-289A	Other requirements
30-289B	What must be on the register
30-289C	Removal from the register

Operative provisions

30-287 Establishing the register

The Secretary of the Department of Family and Community Services must keep a register of *harm prevention charities.

Note: Section 30-289B sets out what details must be entered on the register.

30-288 Meaning of *harm prevention charity

A harm prevention charity is a charitable institution that:

- (a) satisfies each requirement in sections 30-289 and 30-289A;
and
- (b) is endorsed as exempt from income tax under Subdivision 50-B.

30-289 Principal activity—promoting the prevention or control of harm or abuse

- (1) The principal activity of the institution must be the promotion of the prevention or the control of *behaviour that is harmful or abusive to human beings.
- (2) It must maintain a public fund that meets the requirements of section 30-130.
- (4) It must have agreed to comply with any rules that the Treasurer and the Minister for Family and Community Services make to ensure that gifts made to the fund are used only for its principal activity.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

30-289A Other requirements

No acting as a conduit

- (1) The institution must have a policy of not acting as a mere conduit for the donation of money or property to other organisations, bodies or persons.

Surplus assets to be transferred on winding up

- (2) It must have rules providing that, if the public fund is wound up, any surplus assets of the fund are to be transferred to another fund that is on the register.

Statistical information to be provided

- (3) It must have agreed to give the Secretary of the Department of Family and Community Services, within a reasonable period after the end of each income year, statistical information about gifts made to the public fund during that income year.

30-289B What must be on the register

- (1) The Secretary of the Department of Family and Community Services must enter on the register each *harm prevention charity, and the public fund it maintains, that he or she has been directed to enter by the Treasurer and the Minister for Family and Community Services.
- (2) The Treasurer and the Minister may so direct the Secretary only if the Minister has notified the Treasurer that he or she is satisfied that an institution is a *harm prevention charity. The notification must be in writing.
- (3) The direction must be in writing and must specify the day on which the charity and public fund are to be entered on the register. The day must be the day on which the direction is given or a later day.
- (4) The Treasurer and the Minister for Family and Community Services must have regard to the policies and budgetary priorities of the Commonwealth Government in deciding whether to give a direction.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 30-289C

---

30-289C Removal from the register

- (1) The Treasurer and the Minister for Family and Community Services may direct the Secretary of the Department of Family and Community Services to remove a *harm prevention charity, and the public fund it maintains, from the register.
- (2) The direction must be in writing and must specify the day on which the charity and public fund are to be removed from the register. The day must be the day on which the direction is given or a later day.

Subdivision 30-F—Register of cultural organisations

Guide to Subdivision 30-F

30-290 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision requires the establishment of a register of cultural organisations. Section 30-15 allows you to deduct a gift that you make to a fund that is on the register.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

30-295	Establishing the register
30-300	Meaning of cultural organisation
30-305	What must be on the register
30-310	Removal from the register

Operative provisions

30-295 Establishing the register

The Secretary to the Department of Communications and the Arts must keep a register of *cultural organisations.

Note: Section 30-305 sets out what details must be entered on the register.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

30-300 Meaning of *cultural organisation

- (1) A cultural organisation is:
  - (a) a body corporate; or
  - (b) a trust; or
  - (c) an unincorporated body established for a public purpose by the Commonwealth, a State or a Territory;that satisfies each requirement in this section.
- (2) Its principal purpose must be the promotion of literature, music, a performing art, a visual art, a craft, design, film, video, television, radio, community arts, Aboriginal arts or movable cultural heritage.
- (3) It must maintain a public fund that meets the requirements of section 30-130, or would meet those requirements if the *cultural organisation were a fund, authority or institution.
- (5) It must not pay any of its profits or financial surplus, or give any of its property, to its members, beneficiaries, controllers or owners (as appropriate).
- (6) It must have agreed to comply with any rules that the Treasurer and the Minister for Communications and the Arts make to ensure that gifts made to the fund are used only for its principal purpose.
- (7) It must have agreed to give the Secretary to the Department of Communications and Arts, at intervals of 6 months, statistical information about gifts made to the public fund during the last 6 months.

30-305 What must be on the register

- (1) The Secretary to the Department of Communications and the Arts must enter on the register each *cultural organisation, and the public fund it maintains, that he or she has been directed to enter by the Treasurer and the Minister for Communications and the Arts.
- (2) The Treasurer and the Minister may so direct the Secretary only if the Minister has notified the Treasurer that he or she is satisfied

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-310

---

that an organisation is a *cultural organisation. The notification must be in writing.

- (3) The direction must be in writing and must specify the day on which the organisation and public fund are to be entered on the register. The day must be the day on which the direction is given or a later day.
- (4) The Treasurer and the Minister for Communications and the Arts must have regard to the policies and budgetary priorities of the Commonwealth Government in deciding whether to give a direction.

30-310 Removal from the register

- (1) The Treasurer and the Minister for Communications and the Arts may direct the Secretary to the Department of Communications and the Arts to remove a *cultural organisation, and the public fund it maintains, from the register.
- (2) The direction must be in writing and must specify the day on which the organisation and public fund are to be removed from the register. The day must be the day on which the direction is given or a later day.

Subdivision 30-G—Index to this Division

Table of sections

30-315	Index
30-320	Effect of this Subdivision

30-315 Index

- (1) The table in this section gives you an index to this Division.
- (2) It tells you:
  - each topic covered by this Division; and
  - where in this Division you can find the detail about each topic.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Note: In the last column there are many references in this form: item 2.2.1.
These refer to items in the tables in Subdivision 30-B.

Index
Topic		Provision
1A	2009 Victorian Bushfire Appeal Trust Account	item 4.2.41
1AA	Aboriginal Education Council (N.S.W.) Incorporated	item 2.2.26
1	Academies - professional	section 30-25
2	Academy of the Social Sciences in Australia Incorporated	item 2.2.1
2AAA	ACT Playgroups Association Incorporated	item 8.2.9
2AAB	ACT Region Crime Stoppers Limited	item 4.2.31A
2AB	ACT Rural Fire Service	item 12A.2.13
2AC	ACT State Emergency Service	item 12A.2.14
2ACA	AE 2 Commemorative Foundation Ltd	item 5.2.29
2AD	American Australian Association Limited	item 9.2.18
3	Amnesty International Australia	item 4.2.1
3A	Amy Gillett Foundation	item 10.2.8
4	Ancillary funds	item 2 of the table in section 30-15
4A	Animal welfare	item 4.1.6
5	Antarctic research	item 3.2.3
6	Approved research institutes	item 3.1.1
7	Armed forces, auxiliaries	item 5.1.2
8	Artbank	item 5 of the table in section 30-15
9	Art galleries	items 12.1.4 and 12.1.5; item 4 of the table in section 30-15
9AA	Asia Society AustralAsia Centre	item 9.2.7
9AB	Australasian College for Emergency Medicine	item 1.2.18
9A	Australia for UNHCR	item 9.2.10

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-315

---

Index
Topic		Provision
10	Australian Academy of Science	item 2.2.2
11	Australian Academy of Technological Sciences and Engineering Limited	item 2.2.4
12	Australian Academy of the Humanities for the Advancement of Scholarship in Language, Literature, History, Philosophy and the Fine Arts	item 2.2.3
13A	Australian American Education Leadership Foundation Limited	item 9.2.4
14	Australiana Fund	item 12.2.1; item 4 of the table in section 30-15
15	Australian and New Zealand Association for the Advancement of Science	item 2.2.6
16	Australian and New Zealand College of Anaesthetists	item 1.2.13
17	Australian Antarctic Territory, payment to Commonwealth for research	item 3.2.3
17AAA	Australian Breastfeeding Association	item 8.2.3
17AA	Australian Business Arts Foundation Ltd.	item 12.2.2
17A	Australian Business Register	section 30-229
17B	Australian Business Week Limited	item 7.2.5
19	Australian College of Occupational Medicine	item 1.2.2
20	Australian Conservation Foundation Incorporated	item 6.2.1
20AA	Australian Council for Children and Youth Organisations Inc.	item 13.2.4
20A	Australian Council of Christians and Jews	item 2.2.17
21	Australian Games Uniform Company Limited	item 10.2.6
21A	Australian Human Rights Education Fund	item 2.2.25
22	Australian Institute of International Affairs	item 9.2.1
23	Australian Ireland Fund	item 2.2.7
24	Australian National Travel Association	item 9.2.2

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Index
Topic		Provision
24A	Australian Nuffield Farming Scholars Association	item 2.2.20
24B	Australian Peacekeeping Memorial Project Incorporated	item 13.2.15
25	Australian Postgraduate Federation in Medicine	item 1.2.3
25A	Australian Primary Principals Association Education Foundation	item 2.2.22
25C	Australian Red Cross Society—US 2005 Hurricane Relief Appeal	item 9.2.15
26	Australian Regional Council of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists	item 1.2.11
27	Australian Sports Foundation	item 10.2.1
27AA	Bathurst War Memorial Carillon Public Fund Trust	item 5.2.28
27A	Bionic Ear Institute	item 1.2.17
28AAA	Bowral Vietnam Memorial Walk Trust Incorporated	item 5.2.16
28AA	Bradman Memorial Fund	item 10.2.7
28A	Breast Cancer Network Australia	item 1.2.15
28ABA	Bunbury Diocese Cathedral Rebuilding Fund	13.2.14A
28AB	Business Against Domestic Violence Reserve	item 4.2.15
30	Centre for Independent Studies	item 3.2.1
30AA	C E W Bean Foundation	item 5.2.26
30A	CFA & Brigades Donations Fund	item 12A.2.4
30B	Chifley Research Centre Limited	item 3.2.8
31	Child Accident Prevention Foundation of Australia	item 4.2.2
31A	City of Onkaparinga Memorial Gardens Association Inc	item 5.2.24
31B	Clontarf Foundation Inc.	item 2.2.32

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-315

---

Index
Topic		Provision
33	College buildings	item 2.1.10
34	College of Radiologists in Australasia	item 1.2.4
34AA	Commonwealth Study Conferences (Australia) Incorporated	item 2.2.23
35	Conditional gifts	section 30-220
36	Connellan Airways Trust	item 11.2.1
37	Conservation bodies	section 30-55
38	Constitutional Centenary Foundation Incorporated	item 2.2.15
39	Council for Christian Education in Schools	item 2.2.10
39A	Council for Jewish Community Security	item 13.2.1
40	Council for Jewish Education in Schools	item 2.2.11
40A	Country Education Foundation of Australia Limited	item 2.2.31
40AA	Country Fire Authority (Victoria)	item 12A.2.2
40B	Crime Stoppers South Australia Limited	item 4.2.27
40C	Crime Stoppers Northern Territory Program	item 4.2.31
41	Cultural Bequests Program, testamentary gifts	Subdivision 30-D
42	Cultural organisations	section 30-100
43	Cultural organisations, register of	Subdivision 30-F
44	Defence organisations	section 30-50
44AAA	Diplomacy Training Program Limited	item 9.2.21
44AA	Disaster relief—public fund for relief of people in Australia	item 4.1.5
44AB	Disaster relief—public fund for relief of people in developing countries	item 9.1.1
44AC	Disaster relief—public fund for relief of people in developed countries	item 9.1.2
44A	Diseases—charitable institutions whose principal activity is to promote the prevention or the control of diseases in human beings	items 1.1.6 and 4.1.7

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Index
Topic		Provision
45	Diseases—institutions researching causes, prevention or cure	items 1.1.4 and 1.1.5
45AAA	Don Chipp Foundation Ltd	item 3.2.9
45AA	Dunn and Lewis Youth Development Foundation Limited	item 13.2.6
45A	Dymocks Literacy Foundation Limited	item 2.2.21
46	Education—education bodies	section 30-25
46AA	Education—public fund for scholarships, bursaries and prizes	item 2.1.13
46A	Endorsement as a deductible gift recipient	Subdivision 30-BA
47	Environmental organisations	section 30-55
48	Environmental organisations, register of	Subdivision 30-E
48A	Family and child mediation and counselling	item 8.1.1
49	Family organisations	section 30-70
49B	Fire and emergency services	section 30-102
49C	Fire and Emergency Services Authority of Western Australia	item 12A.2.7
50	Foundation for Development Cooperation Ltd	item 9.2.3
50A	Foundation for Gambling Studies	item 2.2.19
50B	Foundation for Rural and Regional Renewal Public Fund	item 13.2.2
50C	Foundation for Young Australians	item 11.2.8
51	Friends of the Duke of Edinburgh's Award in Australia Incorporated	item 11.2.2
51AA	Fund-raising events—contributions	items 7 and 8 of the table in section 30-15
51A	General Sir John Monash Foundation	item 2.2.27
52	Global Foundation	item 9.2.8
52A	Grattan Institute	item 3.2.11
53	Greening Australia Limited	item 6.2.2
53A	Guides Australia Incorporated	items 10.2.2 and 10.2.3

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-315

---

Index
Topic		Provision
53B	Harm prevention charities	items 4.1.4 and 4.1.7
54	Health organisations	section 30-20
56	Heritage properties	item 6 of the table in section 30-15
57	Higher education institutions	item 2.1.3
58	Hospitals	items 1.1.1, 1.1.2 and 1.1.3
60	Ian Clunies Ross Memorial Foundation	item 3.2.2
60A	Indigenous Community Volunteers Limited	item 7.2.4
61	Industrial Design Council of Australia	item 7.2.1
62	Industry, trade and design	section 30-65
63	International affairs	section 30-80
63A	International Social Service - Australian Branch	item 4.2.28
63B	International Specialised Skills Institute Incorporated	item 2.2.33
64	Joint ownership of property	section 30-225
64A	Kidsafe	items 4.2.32 to 4.2.39 (inclusive)
65	Landcare Australia Limited	item 6.2.3
65A	Leeuwin Ocean Adventure Foundation Limited	item 13.2.3A
66	Libraries	items 12.1.2 and 12.1.5; item 4 of the table in section 30-15
67	Life Education Centre	items 2.2.8 and 2.2.9
67A	Lingiari Policy Centre	item 3.2.10
68	Lionel Murphy Foundation	item 2.2.13
68AA	Lord Somers Camp and Power House	item 13.2.7
68AB	Lowy Institute for International Policy	item 9.2.12
69	Marcus Oldham Farm Management College	item 2.2.14
70	Marriage education organisations	item 8.1.1
70A	Mawson's Huts Foundation Limited	item 6.2.23

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Index
Topic		Provision
71	Medical colleges	section 30-20
72	Medical research	section 30-20
72AA	Memorials Development Committee Ltd	item 5.2.30
72A	Menzies Research Centre Public Fund	item 3.2.4
72C	Mt Eliza Graduate School of Business and Government Limited	item 2.2.24
73	Museums	items 12.1.3 and 12.1.5; item 4 of the table in section 30-15
73A	National Breast Cancer Centre Gift Fund	item 1.2.16
74	National Foundation for Australian Women Limited	item 4.2.3
75	National Parks associations	section 30-55
76	National Safety Council of Australia Limited	item 4.2.4
77	National Trust bodies	section 30-55; item 6 of the table in section 30-15
77A	Nature Foundation SA Incorporated	item 6.2.9
78	Nature organisations	section 30-55
79	Necessitous circumstances - funds for relief of persons in	item 4.1.3
80	New South Wales College of Nursing	item 1.2.5
81	Nonprofit Australia Ltd	item 13.2.12
82	Overseas relief funds	item 9.1.1
82A	Page Research Centre Limited	item 3.2.7
83	Pearl Watson Foundation Limited	item 4.2.5
84	People in need, fund for	item 4.1.3
85	Philanthropic trusts	section 30-95
86	Playford Memorial Trust	item 11.2.4
86A	Playgroup Association Northern Territory Incorporated	item 8.2.8
86AA	Playgroup Australia Incorporated	item 8.2.12
86B	Playgroup NSW (Inc)	item 8.2.4

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general applicationPart 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amountsDivision 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-315

---

Index
Topic		Provision
86C	Playgroup Queensland Incorporated	item 8.2.6
86CA	Playgroup SA Inc	item 8.2.11
86D	Playgroup Tasmania Inc	item 8.2.7
86DA	Playgroup Victoria Inc.	item 8.2.10
86E	Playgroup WA (Inc)	item 8.2.5
86F	Point Nepean Community Trust	item 13.2.13
87	Political parties and independent candidates and members	Subdivision 30-DA
88	Polly Farmer Foundation (Inc)	item 2.2.16
89	Prevention of cruelty to animals	section 30-45
90	Productivity	section 30-65
91	Productivity Promotion Council of Australia	item 7.2.2
92	Property, rules for valuing gifts	section 30-15 and Subdivision 30-C
92A	Public ambulance services	items 1.1.7 and 1.1.8
93	Public benevolent institutions	items 4.1.1, 4.1.2 and 4.1.7
94	PWR Melbourne 2009 Limited	item 13.2.17
94AA	Queensland Fire and Rescue Service	item 12A.2.5
94AB	Ranfurly Library Service Incorporated	item 12.2.3
94A	Receipts for gifts	Subdivision 30-CA
94B	Reconciliation Australia Limited	item 4.2.19
95	Religious instruction/education	section 30-25
95A	Research Australia Limited	item 3.2.6
96	Research institutions	items 1.1.4 and 1.1.5
97	Residential education institutions	section 30-25
97A	Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists	item 1.2.1
98	Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Psychiatrists	item 1.2.6
99	Royal Australian College of General Practitioners	item 1.2.7
100	Royal Australasian College of Physicians	item 1.2.8

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Index
Topic		Provision
101	Royal Australasian College of Surgeons	item 1.2.9
102	Royal College of Nursing, Australia	item 1.2.12
103	Royal College of Pathologists of Australasia	item 1.2.10
103A	Royal Institution of Australia Incorporated	item 2.2.37
104	Royal Societies for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals	section 30-45
104B	RSL Foundation	item 5.2.11
105	Rural school hostel buildings	item 2.1.11
105B	Salvation Army Hurricane Katrina Relief Appeal	item 9.2.16
107	School building funds	item 2.1.10
108	Schools	section 30-25
109	Scouts	items 10.2.4 and 10.2.5
110A	Sir Earl Page Memorial Trust	item 3.2.5
111	Sir Robert Menzies Memorial Trust Foundation Limited	item 11.2.5
111A	Sir William Tyree Foundation of The Australian Industry Group	item 2.2.18
111AA	Social Ventures Australia Limited	item 13.2.16
111B	SouthCare Helicopter Fund	item 1.2.14
111C	Spirit of Australia Foundation	item 2.2.36
112	Sports and recreation	section 30-90
112AA	Spreading deductions over income years	Subdivision 30-DB
112AB	State Emergency Service (New South Wales)	item 12A.2.1
112AC	State Emergency Service (Queensland)	item 12A.2.6
112AD	State Emergency Service South Australia	item 12A.2.8
112AE	State Emergency Service (Tasmania)	item 12A.2.10
112AF	St George's Cathedral Restoration Fund	item 13.2.8
112AFA	St Mary's Cathedral Restoration Appeal Incorporated	item 13.2.14
112AG	St Michael's Church Restoration Fund	item 13.2.11

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 30 Gifts or contributions

Section 30-315

---

Index
Topic		Provision
112BA	St Paul's Cathedral Restoration Fund	item 13.2.5
112C	Sydney Talmudical College Association Refugees Overseas Aid Fund	item 9.2.5
112E	Tasmania Fire Service	item 12A.2.9
113	Tasmanian Conservation Trust Incorporated	item 6.2.11
114	Taxation incentives for the Arts scheme	items 4 and 5 of the table in section 30-15
115	Technical and further education institution	item 2.1.7
116	Tertiary education/TAFE	section 30-25
116A	Trust for Nature (Victoria)	item 6.2.6
117	Trusts—ancillary	item 2 of the table in section 30-15
118	Trusts—philanthropic	section 30-95
118A	United Israel Appeal Refugee Relief Fund Limited	item 9.2.6
119	Universities – general	section 30-25
120	Universities – research	section 30-40
120A	Valuations by Commissioner	section 30-212
121	Valuers	section 30-210
121A	Victorian Crime Stoppers Program	item 4.2.29
121B	Victoria State Emergency Service	item 12A.2.3
121C	Vietnam War Memorial of Victoria Incorporated	item 5.2.27
122	Visy Cares	item 11.2.9
123	War Memorials	section 30-50
124	Welfare and rights	section 30-45
124A	WHEELCHAIRS FOR KIDS Incorporated	item 9.2.19
125	Winston Churchill Memorial Trust	item 11.2.7
126	WorldSkills Australia Inc.	item 7.2.3
127	World Wide Fund for Nature Australia	item 6.2.22
127AA	World Youth Day 2008 Trust	item 9.2.20
127A	Xanana Vocational Education Trust	item 9.2.17

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Index
Topic		Provision
127B	Yachad Accelerated Learning Project Limited	item 2.2.34
128	Young Endeavour Youth Scheme Public Fund	item 13.2.3

---

30-320 Effect of this Subdivision

This Subdivision is a *Guide.

Note: In interpreting an operative provision, a Guide may be considered only for limited purposes: see section 950-150.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 31—Conservation covenants

Guide to Division 31

31-1 What this Division is about

You can deduct an amount if you enter into a conservation covenant over land that you own and you satisfy certain conditions.

The amount you can deduct is the difference between the market value of the land just before and after you enter into the covenant.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

31-5	Deduction for entering into conservation covenant
31-10	Requirements for fund, authority or institution
31-15	Valuations by the Commissioner

Operative provisions

31-5 Deduction for entering into conservation covenant

- (1) You can deduct an amount if:
  - (a) you enter into a *conservation covenant over land you own;
and
  - (b) the conditions set out in subsection (2) are met.
- (2) These conditions must be satisfied:
  - (a) the covenant must be perpetual;
  - (b) you must not receive any money, property or other material benefit for entering into the covenant;
  - (c) the *market value of the land must decrease as a result of your entering into the covenant;
  - (d) one or both of these must apply:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (i) the change in the market value of the land as a result of entering into the covenant must be more than $5,000;
- (ii) you must have entered into a contract to acquire the land not more than 12 months before you entered into the covenant;
- (e) the covenant must have been entered into with:
  - (i) a fund, authority or institution that meets the requirements of section 31-10; or
  - (ii) the Commonwealth, a State, a Territory or a *local governing body; or
  - (iii) an authority of the Commonwealth, a State or a Territory.

Note: You must seek a valuation of the change in market value from the Commissioner: see section 31-15.

- (3) The amount you can deduct is the difference between the *market value of the land just before you entered the covenant and its decreased market value just after that time, but only to the extent that the decrease is attributable to your entering into the covenant.

Note: You can spread the deduction over a 5 year period: see Subdivision 30-DB.

- (4) For the purposes of paragraph (2)(a), a covenant is treated as being perpetual even if a Minister of a State or Territory has a power to rescind it.
- (5) A conservation covenant over land is a covenant that:
  - (a) restricts or prohibits certain activities on the land that could degrade the environmental value of the land; and
  - (b) is permanent and registered on the title to the land (if registration is possible); and
  - (c) is approved in writing by, or is entered into under a program approved in writing by, the *Environment Minister.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 31-10

---

31-10 Requirements for fund, authority or institution

- (1) The fund, authority or institution:
  - (a) must be covered by an item in any of the tables in Subdivision 30-B and must meet any conditions set out in the relevant table item; or
  - (b) must be a public fund, or a *prescribed private fund, established under a will or instrument of trust solely for:
    - (i) the purpose of providing money, property or benefits to a fund, authority or institution mentioned in paragraph (a) and for any purposes set out in the item of the table in Subdivision 30-B that covers the fund, authority or institution; or
    - (ii) the establishment of such a fund, authority or institution.
- (2) If the fund, authority or institution is not listed specifically in Subdivision 30-B, it must also:
  - (a) be in Australia; and
  - (b) meet the requirements of section 30-17 (about the endorsement of deductible gift recipients) or be a *prescribed private fund.

31-15 Valuations by the Commissioner

- (1) You must seek a valuation of the change in the *market value of the land from the Commissioner for the purposes of this Division.
- (2) The Commissioner may charge you the amount worked out in accordance with the regulations for making the valuation.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 32—Entertainment expenses

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 32
32-A	No deduction for entertainment expenses
32-B	Exceptions
32-C	Definitions relevant to the exceptions
32-D	In-house dining facilities (employer expenses table item 1.2)
32-E	Anti-avoidance
32-F	Special rules for companies and partnerships

Guide to Division 32

32-1 What this Division is about

You cannot deduct costs of providing entertainment. Nor can you deduct amounts for property that you use for providing entertainment. But there are exceptions.

Subdivision 32-A—No deduction for entertainment expenses

Table of sections

32-5	No deduction for entertainment expenses
32-10	Meaning of entertainment
32-15	No deduction for property used for providing entertainment

32-5 No deduction for entertainment expenses

To the extent that you incur a loss or outgoing in respect of providing *entertainment, you cannot deduct it under section 8-1. However, there are exceptions, which are set out in Subdivision 32-B.

Note 1: Under section 8-1 you can deduct a loss or outgoing that you incur for the purpose of producing assessable income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 32-10

---

- Note 2: If you have used your property in providing entertainment, you may not be able to deduct an amount for the property: see section 32-15.
- Note 3: Section 32-75 deals with arrangements to avoid the operation of this section.

32-10 Meaning of *entertainment

- (1) Entertainment means:
- (a) entertainment by way of food, drink or *recreation; or
  - (b) accommodation or travel to do with providing entertainment by way of food, drink or *recreation.
- (2) You are taken to provide entertainment even if business discussions or transactions occur.

Note: These are some examples of what is entertainment:

- business lunches
- social functions.

These are some examples of what is not entertainment:

- meals on business travel overnight
- theatre attendance by a critic
- a restaurant meal of a food writer.

32-15 No deduction for property used for providing entertainment

To the extent that you use property in providing *entertainment, your use of the property is taken not to be for the *purpose of producing assessable income if section 32-5 would stop you deducting a loss or outgoing if you incurred it in the income year in providing the entertainment.

Note: Under some provisions of this Act, in order to deduct an amount for your property, you must have used the property for the purpose of producing assessable income.

Subdivision 32-B—Exceptions

Table of sections

32-20	The main exception—fringe benefits
32-25	The tables set out the other exceptions
32-30	Employer expenses

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- 32-35 Seminar expenses
- 32-40 Entertainment industry expenses
- 32-45 Promotion and advertising expenses
- 32-50 Other expenses

32-20 The main exception—fringe benefits

Section 32-5 does not stop you deducting a loss or outgoing to the extent that you incur it in respect of providing *entertainment by way of *providing a *fringe benefit.

But this exception does not apply to the extent that the taxable value of the *fringe benefit is reduced under section 63A of the Fringe Benefits Tax Assessment Act 1986.

Note 1: You may be able to deduct losses or outgoings that are fringe benefits under section 51AEA, 51AEB or 51AEC of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936. If you do, then you cannot deduct them under section 8-1 (about general deductions) and so this section is not relevant.

Note 2: There are other exceptions for a loss or outgoing you incur in providing a benefit that would be a fringe benefit if it were not an exempt benefit: see items 1.6 and 1.7 of the table in section 32-30.

32-25 The tables set out the other exceptions

Section 32-5 does not stop you deducting a loss or outgoing to the extent that you incur it in respect of providing *entertainment as described in column 2 of an item of a table in this Subdivision.

However, if column 3 of that item applies, the exception in column 2 of that item does not.

32-30 Employer expenses

Employer expenses
Item	Section 32-5 does not stop you deducting a loss or outgoing for ...	But the exception does not apply if ...
1.1	providing food or drink to your employees in an *in-house dining facility.	the food or drink is provided at a party, reception or other social function.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 32 Entertainment expenses

Section 32-30

---

Employer expenses
Item	Section 32-5 does not stop you deducting a loss or outgoing for ...	But the exception does not apply if ...
1.2	providing food or drink to individuals (other than your employees) in an *in-house dining facility.	(a) you choose (under section 32-70) not to include in your assessable income $30 for each meal you provide in the *in-house dining facility in the income year to an individual (other than your employee); or  (b) the food or drink is provided at a party, reception or other social function.
1.3	providing food or drink in a *dining facility to your employees who perform most of their duties in connection with:  (a) the dining facility; or  (b) a facility (of which the dining facility forms a part) for providing accommodation, *recreation or travel.	the food or drink is provided at a party, reception or other social function.
1.4	providing food or drink to your employee under an *industrial instrument relating to overtime.
1.5	providing a facility for *recreation on property you occupy, if the facility is mainly operated for your employees to use.	the facility is for:  (a) accommodation; or  (b) dining or drinking (unless it is a food or drink vending machine).
1.6	providing food or drink which would be a *fringe benefit apart from sections 54, 58, 58N, 58S and 58T of the Fringe Benefits Tax Assessment Act 1986 (disregarding section 58P of that Act).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Employer expenses
Item	Section 32-5 does not stop you deducting a loss or outgoing for ...	But the exception does not apply if ...
1.7	providing a meal which would be a *fringe benefit apart from sections 58A, 58F, 58L, 58LA and 58M of the Fringe Benefits Tax Assessment Act 1986 (disregarding section 58P of that Act).
1.8	giving your employee an allowance that is included in his or her assessable income.	(a) the employee is a *relative of another employee of yours; and (b) you give the allowance to the relative, as your employee, because: (i) he or she provides, or facilitates providing, *entertainment to do with the other employee's employment; and (ii) you expect the relative to do so.

Note 1: In the case of a company, items 1.1, 1.2, 1.3, 1.5 and 1.8 cover directors of the company as if they were employees: see section 32-80.

Note 2: In the case of a company, items 1.1, 1.2, 1.3 and 1.5 cover directors, employees and property of another company that is a member of the same wholly-owned group: see section 32-85.

Note 3: Item 1.8 has a special operation for partnerships: see section 32-90.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 32 Entertainment expenses

Section 32-35

---

32-35 Seminar expenses

Seminar expenses
Item	Section 32-5 does not stop you deducting a loss or outgoing for ...	But the exception does not apply if ...
2.1	providing food, drink, accommodation or travel to an individual (including yourself) that is reasonably incidental to the individual attending a *seminar that *goes for at least 4 hours.	(a) the seminar is a *business meeting; or (b) the *seminar's main purpose is to promote or advertise a *business (or prospective *business) or its goods or services; or (c) the *seminar's main purpose is to provide *entertainment at, or in connection with, the seminar.

32-40 Entertainment industry expenses

Entertainment industry expenses
Item	Section 32-5 does not stop you deducting a loss or outgoing for ...	But the exception does not apply if ...
3.1	providing *entertainment for payment in the ordinary course of a *business that you carry on.
3.2	providing *entertainment in performing your duties to your employer who carries on a *business that includes providing that entertainment for payment.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

32-45 Promotion and advertising expenses

Promotion and advertising expenses
Item	Section 32-5 does not stop you deducting a loss or outgoing for ...	But the exception does not apply if ...
4.1	providing *entertainment if: (a) you provide it to an individual under a contract to supply him or her with goods or services in the ordinary course of your *business; and (b) you incur the loss or outgoing to promote or advertise to the public your business or its goods or services.
4.2	providing or exhibiting your *business's goods or services if you incur the loss or outgoing to promote or advertise those goods or services to the public.
4.3	providing *entertainment to promote or advertise to the public a *business or its goods or services.	some people have a greater opportunity to get the benefits of the entertainment than ordinary members of the public have.

32-50 Other expenses

Other expenses
Item	Section 32-5 does not stop you deducting a loss or outgoing for ...	But the exception does not apply if ...
5.1	buying food or drink to do with overtime that you work, if you receive an allowance under an *industrial instrument to buy the food or drink.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 32-55

---

Other expenses
Item	Section 32-5 does not stop you deducting a loss or outgoing for ...	But the exception does not apply if ...
5.2	providing *entertainment free to members of the public who are sick, disabled, poor or otherwise disadvantaged.

Subdivision 32-C—Definitions relevant to the exceptions

Table of sections

32-55	In-house dining facility (employer expenses table items 1.1 and 1.2)
32-60	Dining facility (employer expenses table item 1.3)
32-65	Seminars (seminar expenses table item 2.1)

32-55 In-house dining facility (employer expenses table items 1.1 and 1.2)

An in-house dining facility is a canteen, dining room or similar facility that:

- (a) is on property you occupy; and
- (b) is operated mainly for providing food and drink to your employees; and
- (c) is not open to the public.

Note 1: In the case of a company, this definition also covers directors of the company as if they were employees: see section 32-80.

Note 2: In the case of a company, this definition also covers directors, employees and property of another company that is a member of the same wholly-owned group: see section 32-85.

32-60 Dining facility (employer expenses table item 1.3)

A dining facility is:

- (a) a canteen, dining room or similar facility; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(b) a cafe, restaurant or similar facility;
that is on property you occupy.

Note: In the case of a company, this definition also covers property of another company that is a member of the same wholly-owned group: see section 32-85.

32-65 Seminars (seminar expenses table item 2.1)

- (1) Seminar includes a conference, convention, lecture, meeting (including a meeting for the presentation of awards), speech, “question and answer session”, training session or educational course.
- (2) In working out whether a *seminar goes for at least 4 hours the following are taken not to affect the seminar’s continuity, nor to form part of it:
  - (a) any part of the seminar that occurs during a meal;
  - (b) any break during the seminar for the purpose of a meal, rest or *recreation.
- (3) A *seminar is a business meeting if its main purpose is for individuals who are (or will be) associated with the carrying on of a particular *business to give or receive information, or discuss matters, relating to the business.

However, the *seminar is not a business meeting if it:

- (a) is organised by (or on behalf of) an employer solely for either or both of these purposes:
  - (i) training the employer and the employer’s employees (or just those employees) in matters relevant to the employer’s *business (or prospective *business);
  - (ii) enabling the employer and the employer’s employees (or just those employees) to discuss general policy issues relevant to the internal management of the employer’s *business; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 32-70

---

- (b) is conducted on property that is occupied by a person (other than the employer) whose *business includes organising seminars or making property available for conducting seminars.

Note 1: In the case of a company, subsection (3) covers directors of the company as if they were employees: see section 32-80.

Note 2: In the case of a company, paragraph (3)(b) also covers property of another company that is a member of the same wholly-owned group: see section 32-85.

Note 3: Subsection (3) has a special operation for partnerships: see section 32-90.

Subdivision 32-D—In-house dining facilities (employer expenses table item 1.2)

Table of sections

32-70 $30 is assessable for each meal provided to non-employee in an in-house dining facility

32-70 $30 is assessable for each meal provided to non-employee in an in-house dining facility

- (1) Your assessable income includes $30 for a meal you provide in an *in-house dining facility in the income year to an individual other than your employee, but only if:
- (a) you incur a loss or outgoing in respect of providing the meal; and
  - (b) because of item 1.2 of the table in section 32-30, section 32-5 does not stop you deducting the loss or outgoing under section 8-1 (which deals with general deductions); and
  - (c) the loss or outgoing is one that you can deduct under section 8-1 for the income year or some other income year.
- (2) However, you can choose not to include in your assessable income $30 for each meal you provide in the *in-house dining facility in the income year to an individual other than your employee.

Note: If you do choose, you cannot rely on item 1.2 of the table in section 32-30 as a basis for deducting a loss or outgoing you incur in respect of providing a meal.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (3) You must choose by the day you lodge your *income tax return for the income year, or within a further time allowed by the Commissioner.

Subdivision 32-E—Anti-avoidance

Table of sections

32-75 Commissioner may treat you as having incurred entertainment expense

32-75 Commissioner may treat you as having incurred entertainment expense

If:

- (a) you incur a loss or outgoing under an *arrangement; and
- (b) someone provides *entertainment under the arrangement to you or someone else; and
- (c) section 32-5 would have stopped you deducting the loss or outgoing under section 8-1 (which deals with general deductions) if you had incurred it in respect of providing that entertainment;

this Division applies to you as if you had incurred the loss or outgoing in providing that entertainment, to the extent (if any) that the Commissioner thinks reasonable.

Note: This means that section 32-5 will prevent you from deducting the loss or outgoing under section 8-1 unless an exception applies.

Example: A company pays $1,000 to sponsor a football game. Under the same arrangement, the company is given a viewing box at the game. To the extent the Commissioner thinks reasonable, he or she can treat the company as having incurred the $1,000 in providing entertainment.

Subdivision 32-F—Special rules for companies and partnerships

Table of sections

32-80 Company directors
32-85 Directors, employees and property of wholly-owned group company
32-90 Partnerships

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 32-80

---

32-80 Company directors

In the case of a company, these provisions cover directors of the company as if they were the company's employees:

- item 1.1 (exception for *in-house dining facilities) of the table in section 32-30;
- item 1.2 (exception for *in-house dining facilities) of the table in section 32-30;
- item 1.3 (exception for *dining facilities) of the table in section 32-30;
- item 1.5 (exception for recreational facilities) of the table in section 32-30;
- item 1.8 (exception for providing your employee with an allowance) of the table in section 32-30;
- section 32-55 (which defines in-house dining facility);
- subsection 32-65(3) (which defines business meeting).

32-85 Directors, employees and property of wholly-owned group company

Employees and directors of group company

(1) In the case of a company, these provisions cover directors and employees of another company that is a member of the same *wholly-owned group as if they were the company's own directors and employees:

- item 1.1 (exception for *in-house dining facilities) of the table in section 32-30;
- item 1.2 (exception for *in-house dining facilities) of the table in section 32-30;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- item 1.3 (exception for * dining facilities) of the table in section 32-30;
- item 1.5 (exception for recreational facilities) of the table in section 32-30;
- section 32-55 (which defines in-house dining facility);
- subsection 32-60(1) (which defines dining facility);
- paragraph 32-65(3)(b).

Property occupied by group company

- (2) Those provisions also cover property occupied by that other company as if the company occupied that property.

32-90 Partnerships

In the case of a partnership:

- item 1.8 (exception for providing employee with an allowance) of the table in section 32-30; and
  - subsection 32-65(3) (which defines business meeting);
- apply to a partner in the same way as they apply to an employee of the partnership, but only for the purposes of calculating, in accordance with section 90 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, the partnership's net income or partnership loss.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 34—Non-compulsory uniforms

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 34
34-A	Application of Division 34
34-B	Deduction for your non-compulsory uniform
34-C	Registering the design of a non-compulsory uniform
34-D	Appeals from Industry Secretary's decision
34-E	The Register of Approved Occupational Clothing
34-F	Approved occupational clothing guidelines
34-G	The Industry Secretary

Guide to Division 34

34-1 What this Division is about

This Division is about deductions for the costs of non-compulsory uniforms.

Table of sections

34-3	What you need to read
------	-----------------------

34-3 What you need to read

Employees

- (1) If you incur expenditure for your non-compulsory uniform, you need to read Subdivision 34-B (which is about deductions for your non-compulsory uniform), starting at section 34-10.

Employers

- (2) If you have people working for you who want to deduct expenditure of that kind, you need to read:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- Subdivision 34-C (which is about registering the design of a non-compulsory uniform), starting at section 34-25; and
- Subdivision 34-D (which is about appeals from Industry Secretary's decision), starting at section 34-40.

Subdivision 34-A—Application of Division 34

Table of sections

34-5	This Division applies to employees and others
34-7	This Division applies to employers and others

34-5 This Division applies to employees and others

- (1) This Division applies not only to an individual who is an employee. It also applies to an individual who is not an employee, but who receives, or is entitled to receive, *withholding payments covered by subsection (3).
- (2) If an individual is not an employee, but is covered by subsection (1), this Division applies to the individual as if:
  - (a) he or she were an employee; and
  - (b) the entity, who pays (or is liable to pay) *withholding payments covered by subsection (3) that result in the individual being in receipt of, or entitled to receive, such payments, were the individual's employer; and
  - (c) any other individual who receives (or is entitled to receive) *withholding payments covered by subsection (3):
    - (i) that result in that other individual being in receipt of, or entitled to receive, such payments; and
    - (ii) that the entity pays (or is liable to pay) to that other individual;were an employee of the entity.
- (3) This subsection covers a *withholding payment covered by any of the provisions in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 listed in the table.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 34-7

---

---

Withholding payments covered

---

Item	Provision	Subject matter
1	Section 12-40	Payment to company director
2	Section 12-45	Payment to office holder
3	Section 12-50	Return to work payment
4	Subdivision 12-D	Benefit, training and compensation payments

---

34-7 This Division applies to employers and others

If an entity is not an employer, but pays (or is liable to pay) *withholding payments covered by subsection 34-5(3), this Division applies to the entity as if:

- (a) it were an employer; and
- (b) an individual to whom the entity pays (or is liable to pay) such withholding payments were the entity's employee.

Subdivision 34-B—Deduction for your non-compulsory uniform

Table of sections

34-10	What you can deduct
34-15	What is a non-compulsory uniform?
34-20	What are occupation specific clothing and protective clothing ?

34-10 What you can deduct

- (1) If you are an employee, you can deduct expenditure you incur in respect of your *non-compulsory *uniform if:
  - (a) you can deduct the expenditure under another provision of this Act; and
  - (b) the *design of the uniform is registered under this Division when you incur the expenditure.

Note 1: This Division also applies to individuals who are not employees: see Subdivision 34-A.

Note 2: Employers apply to register designs of uniforms: see Subdivision 34-C.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (2) You cannot deduct the expenditure under this Act if the *design is not registered at the time you incur the expenditure.
- (3) However, this Division does not stop you deducting expenditure you incur in respect of your *occupation specific clothing or *protective clothing.

34-15 What is a non-compulsory uniform?

What is a uniform?

- (1) A uniform is one or more items of clothing (including accessories) which, when considered as a set, distinctively identify you as a person associated (directly or indirectly) with:
  - (a) your employer; or
  - (b) a group consisting of your employer and one or more of your employer's *associates.

When is a uniform non-compulsory?

- (2) Your uniform is non-compulsory unless your employer consistently enforces a policy that requires you and the other employees (except temporary or relief employees) who do the same type of work as you:
  - (a) to wear the uniform when working for your employer; and
  - (b) not to substitute an item of clothing not included in the uniform for an item of clothing included in the uniform when working for your employer;except in special circumstances.

34-20 What are occupation specific clothing and protective clothing?

- (1) Occupation specific clothing is clothing that distinctively identifies you as belonging to a particular profession, trade, vocation, occupation or calling. To determine this, disregard any feature of the clothing that distinctively identifies you as a person associated (directly or indirectly) with:
  - (a) your employer; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 34-25

---

- (b) a group consisting of your employer and one or more of your employer's *associates.

Example: Occupation specific clothing includes a nurse's uniform, a chef's checked pants and a religious cleric's ceremonial robes.

- (2) Protective clothing is clothing of a kind that you mainly use to protect yourself, or someone else, from risk of:
  - (a) death; or
  - (b) *disease (including the contraction, aggravation, acceleration or recurrence of a disease); or
  - (c) injury (including the aggravation, acceleration or recurrence of an injury); or
  - (d) damage to clothing; or
  - (e) damage to an artificial limb or other artificial substitute, or to a medical, surgical or other similar aid or appliance.

Example: Protective clothing includes overalls, aprons, goggles, hard hats and safety boots, when worn to protect the wearer.

Meaning of disease

- (3) Disease includes any mental or physical ailment, disorder, defect or morbid condition, whether of sudden onset or gradual development and whether of genetic or other origin.

Subdivision 34-C—Registering the design of a non-compulsory uniform

Table of sections

34-25	Application to register the design
34-30	Industry Secretary's decision on application
34-33	Written notice of decision
34-35	When uniform becomes registered

34-25 Application to register the design

- (1) The employer of an employee who has, or will have, a *non-compulsory *uniform can apply to the Secretary to the Department of Industry, Science and Tourism (the Industry Secretary) for the *design of the uniform to be registered.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Note: This Division also applies to entities that are not employers: see Subdivision 34-A.

Meaning of design of a uniform

- (2) The design of a *uniform includes features such as its colouring, construction, durability, ornamentation, pattern and shape.

Form of application

- (3) The application must be:
- (a) in writing; and
  - (b) in a form approved in writing by the *Industry Secretary; and
  - (c) accompanied by such information as the Industry Secretary requires.

34-30 Industry Secretary's decision on application

Industry Secretary must decide to grant or refuse application

- (1) After considering the application, the *Industry Secretary must decide to either grant or refuse the application.

Criteria for grant of application

- (2) The *Industry Secretary must not decide to grant an application unless he or she is satisfied that the design meets the criteria set out in the *approved occupational clothing guidelines.

Note: The approved occupational clothing guidelines are created under section 34-55.

When Industry Secretary taken to have refused application

- (3) The *Industry Secretary is taken to have refused an application if he or she does not make a decision by the later of the following times (the deadline):
- (a) the end of 90 days (the 90-day period) after the day the Industry Secretary receives the application;
  - (b) if the Industry Secretary, by written notice given to the applicant within the 90-day period, requests the applicant to

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 34-33

---

give further information about the application—the end of 90 days after the Industry Secretary receives the further information.

34-33 Written notice of decision

- (1) If the *Industry Secretary makes a decision to grant or refuse an application under subsection 34-30(1) before the *deadline, the Industry Secretary must give the applicant written notice of the decision.

Reasons for refusal

- (2) If the notice is a notice of a decision to refuse the application, it must also set out the reasons for the refusal.

Statements to accompany notice of decision

- (3) The notice of the decision is to include the statements set out in subsections (4) and (5).
- (4) There must be a statement to the effect that, subject to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal Act 1975, an application may be made to the *AAT, by (or on behalf of) any entity whose interests are affected by the decision, for review of the decision.
- (5) There must also be a statement to the effect that a request may be made under section 28 of that Act by (or on behalf of) such an entity for a statement:
- (a) setting out the findings on material questions of fact; and
  - (b) referring to the evidence or other material on which those findings were based; and
  - (c) giving the reasons for the decision;
- except where subsection 28(4) of that Act applies.

Failure does not affect validity

- (6) If the *Industry Secretary fails to comply with subsection (4) or (5), that failure does not affect the validity of his or her decision.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

34-35 When uniform becomes registered

If the *Industry Secretary decides to grant the application, the *design of the *uniform becomes registered on:

- (a) the day the decision is made; or
- (b) if the applicant requests—such earlier day as the Industry Secretary specifies.

Note: When the design becomes registered, an entry for the design is made on the Register of Approved Occupational Clothing. Subdivision 34-E is about the Register.

Subdivision 34-D—Appeals from Industry Secretary’s decision

Table of sections

34-40 Review of decisions by the Administrative Appeals Tribunal

34-40 Review of decisions by the Administrative Appeals Tribunal

Applications may be made to the *AAT for review of a decision made by the *Industry Secretary under subsection 34-30(1).

Subdivision 34-E—The Register of Approved Occupational Clothing

Table of sections

34-45 Keeping of the Register

34-50 Changes to the Register

34-45 Keeping of the Register

- (1) The *Industry Secretary must keep the Register of Approved Occupational Clothing, listing the designs that are required to be entered on the Register because of this Division.

Register to be open for inspection

- (2) The *Industry Secretary must arrange for the Register to be available for inspection at any reasonable time by any person on request.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 34-50

---

34-50 Changes to the Register

Removal of registration

- (1) The *Industry Secretary must remove an entry for a *design from the Register of Approved Occupational Clothing if requested to do so by the employer who applied for the design to be registered.

Correcting errors and mistakes

- (2) The *Industry Secretary may correct a clerical error or an obvious mistake in an entry for a design in the Register and, if the Industry Secretary does so, the correction takes effect on the day on which the design to which the entry relates was registered.

Subdivision 34-F—Approved occupational clothing guidelines

Table of sections

34-55 Approved occupational clothing guidelines

34-55 Approved occupational clothing guidelines

- (1) The Treasurer must, by legislative instrument, formulate written guidelines (the approved occupational clothing guidelines) setting out criteria that *designs of uniforms must meet if the designs are to be registered.

Matters to be taken into account in making guidelines

- (2) In making *approved occupational clothing guidelines, the matters to which the Treasurer is to have regard include:
  - (a) how distinctively a *uniform's *design identifies the wearer as a person associated (directly or indirectly) with:
    - (i) the applicant for registering the uniform's design; or
    - (ii) a group consisting of the applicant and one or more of the applicant's *associates; and
  - (b) the nature of the *business or activities the applicant carries on.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 34-G—The Industry Secretary

Table of sections

34-60	Industry Secretary to give Commissioner information about entries
34-65	Delegation of powers by Industry Secretary

34-60 Industry Secretary to give Commissioner information about entries

The *Industry Secretary must give the Commissioner information about entries of *designs on the Register of Approved Occupational Clothing if the Commissioner requests him or her to do so.

34-65 Delegation of powers by Industry Secretary

The *Industry Secretary may, by writing, delegate any or all of his or her functions and powers under this Division to a person in the Department of Industry, Science and Tourism:

- (a) who holds or performs the duties of a *Senior Executive Service office; or
- (b) whose classification level appears in Group 7 or 8 of Schedule 1 to the Classification Rules under the Public Service Act 1999; or
- (c) who is acting in a position usually occupied by a person with a classification level of the kind mentioned in paragraph (b).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 35—Deferral of losses from non-commercial business activities

Guide to Division 35

35-1 What this Division is about

This Division prevents losses of individuals from non-commercial business activities being offset against other assessable income in the year the loss is incurred. The loss is deferred.

It sets out a series of tests to determine whether a business activity is treated as being non-commercial.

The deferred losses may be offset in later years against profits from the activity or, if one of the tests is satisfied or the Commissioner exercises a discretion, against other income.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

35-5	Object
35-10	Deferral of deductions from non-commercial business activities
35-15	Modification if you have exempt income
35-20	Modification if you become bankrupt
35-25	Application of Division to certain partnerships
35-30	Assessable income test
35-35	Profits test
35-40	Real property test
35-45	Other assets test
35-50	Apportionment
35-55	Commissioner's discretion

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Operative provisions

35-5 Object

- (1) The object of this Division is to improve the integrity of the taxation system by:
  - (a) preventing losses from non-commercial activities that are *carried on as *businesses by individuals (alone or in partnership) being offset against other assessable income; and
  - (b) preventing pre-business capital expenditure and post-business capital expenditure by individuals (alone or in partnership) in relation to non-commercial activities being deductible under section 40-880 (business related costs);unless certain exceptions apply.
- (2) This Division is not intended to apply to activities that do not constitute *carrying on a *business (for example, the receipt of income from passive investments).

35-10 Deferral of deductions from non-commercial business activities

- (1) The rule in subsection (2) applies for an income year to each *business activity you carried on in that year if you are an individual, either alone or in partnership (whether or not some other entity is a member of the partnership), unless:
  - (a) one of the tests set out in section 35-30 (assessable income test), 35-35 (profits test), 35-40 (real property test) or 35-45 (other assets test) is satisfied for the business activity for that year; or
  - (b) the Commissioner has exercised the discretion set out in section 35-55 for the business activity for that year; or
  - (c) the exception in subsection (4) applies for that year.

Note: This section covers individuals carrying on a business activity as partners, but not individuals merely in receipt of income jointly. Compare the definition of partnership in subsection 995-1(1).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 35-10

---

Rules

- (2) If the amounts attributable to the *business activity for that income year that you could otherwise deduct under this Act for that year exceed your assessable income (if any) from the business activity for that year, or your share of it, this Act applies to you as if the excess:

- (a) were not incurred in that income year; and
- (b) were an amount attributable to the activity that you can deduct from assessable income from the activity for the next income year in which the activity is carried on.

Note: There are modifications of this rule if you have exempt income (see section 35-15) or you become bankrupt (see section 35-20).

Example: Jennifer has a salaried job, and she also carries on a business activity consisting of selling lingerie.

Jennifer starts that activity on 1 July 2002, and for the 2002-03 income year, the activity produces assessable income of $8,000 and deductions of $10,000. The activity does not pass any of the tests and the discretion is not exercised so the $2,000 excess is carried over to the next income year in which the activity is carried on.

For the 2003-04 income year, the activity produces assessable income of $9,000 and deductions of $10,000 (excluding the $2,000 excess from 2002-03). Again, no tests passed and no exercise of discretion.

$3,000 is carried over to the next income year (comprising the $1,000 excess for the current year, plus the previous year's $2,000 excess) when the activity is carried on.

- (2A) You cannot deduct an amount under section 40-880 (business related costs) for expenditure in relation to a *business activity you used to *carry on if you are an individual, either alone or in partnership (whether or not some other entity is a member of the partnership) unless:
- (a) one of the tests set out in section 35-30 (assessable income test), 35-35 (profits test), 35-40 (real property test) or 35-45 (other assets test) was satisfied for the business activity; or
  - (b) the Commissioner has exercised the discretion set out in section 35-55 for the business activity; or
  - (c) the exception in subsection (4) applied;
- for the income year in which the business activity ceased to be carried on or an earlier income year.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (2B) If you are an individual, either alone or in partnership (whether or not some other entity is a member of the partnership), you cannot deduct an amount under section 40-880 (business related costs) for expenditure in relation to a *business activity:
- (a) you propose to *carry on; or
  - (b) another entity proposes to carry on if the other entity is not an individual, either alone or in partnership;
- for an income year before the one in which the business activity starts to be carried on.
- (2C) This section applies to an amount that you could have deducted, apart from paragraph (2B)(a), as if it were an amount attributable to the *business activity that you can deduct from assessable income from the activity for the income year in which the business activity starts to be *carried on.
- (2D) You can deduct expenditure covered by paragraph (2B)(b) for the income year in which the *business activity starts to be *carried on.

Grouping business activities

- (3) In applying this Division, you may group together *business activities of a similar kind.

Exceptions

- (4) The rule in subsection (2), (2A) or (2B) does not apply to a *business activity for an income year if:
- (a) the activity is a *primary production business, or a *professional arts business; and
  - (b) your assessable income for that year (except any *net capital gain) from other sources that do not relate to that activity is less than $40,000.
- (5) A professional arts business is a *business you carry on as:
- (a) the author of a literary, dramatic, musical or artistic work; or

Note: The expression “author” is a technical term from copyright law. In general, the “author” of a musical work is its composer and the “author” of an artistic work is the artist, sculptor or photographer who created it.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 35-15

---

- (b) a *performing artist; or
- (c) a *production associate.

35-15 Modification if you have exempt income

- (1) The rule in subsection 35-10(2) may be modified for an income year if you *derived *exempt income in that year.
- (2) Any amount to which paragraph 35-10(2)(b) would otherwise apply for an income year for you is reduced by so much of your *net exempt income as is not applied for that income year under section 36-10 or 36-15 (about tax losses). This reduction is made before you apply the paragraph 35-10(2)(b) amount against assessable income from the *business activity.

35-20 Modification if you become bankrupt

- (1) The rule in subsection 35-10(2) or (2A) is modified as set out in subsection (3) for an income year if in that year (the current year) you become bankrupt or are released from a debt by the operation of an Act relating to bankruptcy.
- (2) The rule is also modified as set out in subsection (3) if:
  - (a) you became bankrupt before the current year; and
  - (b) the bankruptcy is annulled in the current year under section 74 of the Bankruptcy Act 1966 because your creditors have accepted a proposal for a composition or scheme of arrangement; and
  - (c) under the composition or scheme of arrangement, you have been, will be or may be released from some or all of the debts from which you would have been released if you had instead been discharged from the bankruptcy.
- (3) This Act applies to you as if any amount that:
  - (a) paragraph 35-10(2)(b) had applied to for an income year before the current year for you; and
  - (b) you have not yet deducted;were not an amount attributable to the *business activity that you can deduct for the current year or a later income year.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

35-25 Application of Division to certain partnerships

For the purpose of applying the tests in sections 35-30, 35-40 and 35-45 where you carry on a *business activity in an income year as a partner, ignore:

- (a) any part of the assessable income from the business activity for the year that is attributable to the interest of a partner that is not an individual in the partnership net income or partnership loss for the year; and
- (b) any part of the assessable income from the business activity for the year that is *derived from the activity by another partner otherwise than as a member of the partnership; and
- (c) any part of the *reduced cost bases or other values of assets of the partnership used in carrying on the activity in that year that is attributable to the interest of a partner that is not an individual in those assets; and
- (d) any part of the reduced cost bases or other values of assets owned or leased by another partner that are not partnership assets and used in carrying on the activity in that year.

35-30 Assessable income test

The rules in section 35-10 do not apply to a *business activity for an income year if:

- (a) the amount of assessable income from the business activity for the year; or
- (b) you started to carry on the business activity, or stopped carrying it on, during the year—a reasonable estimate of what would have been the amount of that assessable income if you had carried on that activity throughout the year; is at least $20,000.

35-35 Profits test

- (1) The rules in section 35-10 do not apply to a *business activity (except an activity carried on by one or more individuals as partners, whether or not some other entity is a member of the partnership) for an income year (the current year) if, for each of at least 3 of the past 5 income years (including the current year) the

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 35 Deferral of losses from non-commercial business activities

Section 35-40

---

sum of the deductions attributable to that activity for that year (apart from the operation of subsections 35-10(2) and (2C)) is less than the assessable income from the activity for that year.

- (2) For a *business activity you carried on with one or more others as partners, the rules in section 35-10 do not apply to you for the current year if, for each of at least 3 of the past 5 income years (including the current year) the sum of your deductions (including your share of the partnership deductions) attributable to that activity for that year (apart from the operation of subsections 35-10(2) and (2C)) is less than your assessable income (including your share of the partnership's assessable income) from the activity for that year.

35-40 Real property test

- (1) The rules in section 35-10 do not apply to a *business activity for an income year if the total *reduced cost bases of real property or interests in real property used on a continuing basis in carrying on the activity in that year is at least $500,000.
- (2) You may use the *market value of the real property or interest if that value is more than its *reduced cost base.
- (3) The *reduced cost base or *market value is worked out:
- (a) as at the end of the income year; or
  - (b) if you stopped carrying on the *business activity during the year:
    - (i) as at the time you stopped; or
    - (ii) if you disposed of the asset before that time in the course of stopping carrying on the activity—as at the time you disposed of it.
- (4) However, these assets are not counted for this test:
- (a) a *dwelling, and any adjacent land used in association with the dwelling, that is used mainly for private purposes;
  - (b) fixtures owned by you as a tenant.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

35-45 Other assets test

- (1) The rules in section 35-10 do not apply to a *business activity for an income year if the total values of assets that are counted for this test (see subsections (2) and (4)) and that are used on a continuing basis in carrying on the activity in that year is at least $100,000.
- (2) The assets counted for this test, and their values for this test, are set out in this table:

Assets counted for this test and their values
Item	Asset	Value
1	An asset whose decline in value you can deduct under Division 40	The asset's *written down value
2	An item of *trading stock	Its value under subsection 70-45(1)
3	An asset that you lease from another entity	The sum of the amounts of the future lease payments for the asset to which you are irrevocably committed, less an appropriate amount to reflect any interest component for those lease payments
4	Trademarks, patents, copyrights and similar rights	Their *reduced cost base

- (3) The value of such an asset is worked out:
  - (a) as at the end of the income year; or
  - (b) if you stopped carrying on the *business activity during the year:
    - (i) as at the time you stopped; or
    - (ii) if you disposed of the asset before that time in the course of stopping carrying on the activity—as at the time you disposed of it.
- (4) However, these assets are not counted for this test:
  - (a) assets that are real property or interests in real property that are taken into account for that year under section 35-40;
  - (b) *cars, motor cycles and similar vehicles.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 35-50

---

35-50 Apportionment

If an asset that is being taken into account under section 35-40 or 35-45 is used during an income year partly in carrying on the relevant *business activity and partly for other purposes, only that part of its *reduced cost base, *market value or other value that is attributable to its use in carrying on the business activity in that year is taken into account for that section.

35-55 Commissioner's discretion

(1) The Commissioner may decide that the rule in subsection 35-10(2) does not apply to a *business activity for one or more income years if the Commissioner is satisfied that it would be unreasonable to apply that rule because:

- (a) the business activity was or will be affected in that or those income years by special circumstances outside the control of the operators of the business activity, including drought, flood, bushfire or some other natural disaster; or

Note: This paragraph is intended to provide for a case where a business activity would have satisfied one of the tests if it were not for the special circumstances.

- (b) the business activity has started to be carried on and, for that or those income years:

- (i) because of its nature, it has not satisfied, or will not satisfy, one of the tests set out in section 35-30, 35-35, 35-40 or 35-45; and
- (ii) there is an objective expectation, based on evidence from independent sources (where available) that, within a period that is commercially viable for the industry concerned, the activity will either meet one of those tests or will produce assessable income for an income year greater than the deductions attributable to it for that year (apart from the operation of subsections 35-10(2) and (2C)).

Note: This paragraph is intended to cover a business activity that has a lead time between the commencement of the activity and the production of any assessable income. For example, an activity involving the planting of hardwood trees for harvest, where many years would pass before the activity could reasonably be expected to produce income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (2) The Commissioner may decide that the rule in subsection 35-10(2B) does not apply to a *business activity for an income year if the Commissioner is satisfied that it would be unreasonable to apply that rule because special circumstances of the kind referred to in paragraph (1)(a) of this section prevented the activity from starting.

Note: This subsection is intended to provide for a case where a business activity would have begun to be carried on and satisfied one of the tests if it were not for the special circumstances.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 36—Tax losses of earlier income years

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 36
36-A	Deductions for tax losses of earlier income years
36-B	Effect of you becoming bankrupt
36-C	Excess franking offsets

Guide to Division 36

36-1 What this Division is about

If you have more deductions for an income year than you have income, the difference is a tax loss which you may be able to deduct in a later income year.

Subdivision 36-A—Deductions for tax losses of earlier income years

Table of sections

36-10	How to calculate a tax loss for an income year
36-15	How to deduct tax losses of entities other than corporate tax entities
36-17	How to deduct tax losses of corporate tax entities
36-20	Net exempt income
36-25	Special rules about tax losses

36-10 How to calculate a tax loss for an income year

- (1) Add up the amounts you can deduct for an income year (except *tax losses for earlier income years).
- (2) Subtract your total assessable income.
- (3) If you *derived *exempt income, also subtract your *net exempt income (worked out under section 36-20).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (4) Any amount remaining is your tax loss for the income year, which is called a loss year.

Note 1: Some deductions are limited so that they cannot contribute to a tax loss. See section 26-55 (Limit on certain deductions).

Note 2: The meanings of tax loss and loss year are modified by section 36-55 for a corporate tax entity that has an amount of excess franking offsets.

36-15 How to deduct tax losses of entities other than corporate tax entities

- (1) Your *tax loss for a *loss year is deducted in a later income year as follows if you are not a *corporate tax entity at any time during the later income year.

Note: See section 36-17 for the deduction of a tax loss of an entity that is a corporate tax entity at any time during the later income year.

If you have no net exempt income

- (2) If your total assessable income for the later income year exceeds your total deductions (other than *tax losses), you deduct the tax loss from that excess.

If you have net exempt income

- (3) If you have *net exempt income for the later income year and your total assessable income (if any) for the later income year exceeds your total deductions (except *tax losses), you deduct the tax loss:
- (a) first, from your net exempt income; and
  - (b) secondly, from the part of your total assessable income that exceeds those deductions.
- (4) However, if you have *net exempt income for the later income year and those deductions exceed your total assessable income, then:
- (a) subtract that excess from your net exempt income; and
  - (b) deduct the tax loss from any net exempt income that remains.

To work out your net exempt income: see section 36-20.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 36-17

---

General

- (5) If you have 2 or more *tax losses, you deduct them in the order in which you incurred them.
- (6) A *tax loss can be deducted only to the extent that it has not already been deducted.
- (7) If you cannot deduct all or part of your *tax loss in an income year, you can carry forward to the next income year the undeducted amount. You then apply this Subdivision to work out if you can deduct the tax loss in that income year.

Note: Your tax losses under this Division may be reduced if any of your commercial debts have been forgiven in the income year: see Subdivision 245-E of Schedule 2C to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

36-17 How to deduct tax losses of corporate tax entities

- (1) A *tax loss of an entity for a *loss year is deducted in a later income year as follows if the entity is a *corporate tax entity at any time during the later income year.

If the entity has no net exempt income

- (2) If the entity's total assessable income for the later income year exceeds the entity's total deductions (except *tax losses), the entity is to deduct from that excess so much of the tax loss as the entity chooses. The entity may choose a nil amount.

If the entity has net exempt income

- (3) If the entity has *net exempt income for the later income year and the entity's total assessable income (if any) for that year exceeds the entity's total deductions (except *tax losses), the entity is to:
  - (a) first, deduct the tax loss from the net exempt income; and
  - (b) secondly, deduct from the part of the total assessable income that exceeds those deductions so much of the undeducted amount of the tax loss (if any) as the entity chooses.

The entity may choose a nil amount under paragraph (b).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Note: To work out the corporate tax entity's net exempt income: see section 36-20.

- (4) However, if the entity has *net exempt income for the later income year and those deductions exceed the entity's total assessable income, the entity is to:
- (a) subtract that excess from the net exempt income; and
  - (b) deduct the *tax loss from any net exempt income that remains.

Note: This means there is no choice available under this subsection.

Limit to how much the entity can choose

- (5) The choice that the entity has under subsection (2) or (3) for the later income year is subject to both of the following:
- (a) the entity must choose a nil amount if, disregarding the *tax loss and other tax losses of the entity, the entity would have an amount of *excess franking offsets for that year;
  - (b) if, disregarding the tax loss and other tax losses of the entity, the entity would not have an amount of excess franking offsets for that year—the entity must not choose an amount that would result in the entity having an amount of excess franking offsets for that year.

Example: For the 2002-2003 income year, Company A has:

- a tax loss of $150 from a previous income year; and
- assessable income of $200 (franked distribution of $70, franking credit of $30 and $100 of income from other sources); and
- no deductions; and
- no net exempt income.

The tax offset of $30 from the franking credit is not stated in Division 67 to be subject to the refundable tax offset rules.

Company A would not have an amount of excess franking offsets for that year if the tax loss were disregarded (see section 36-55). This is because the tax offset of $30 is less than $60, the amount of income tax that Company A would have to pay if it did not have the tax offset and the tax loss. Paragraph (a) therefore does not apply.

If Company A chooses to deduct the full amount of the tax loss, it would have an amount of excess franking offsets of $15:

$$$30 - (($200 - $150) \times 30\%)$$

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 36 Tax losses of earlier income years

Section 36-17

---

Company A therefore cannot make this choice because of paragraph (b).

However, if Company A chooses to deduct $100 of the tax loss, it would not have an amount of excess franking offsets:

$$$30 = (($200 - $100) \times 30\%)$$

Company A therefore can choose to deduct $100 of the tax loss.

- (6) The entity must state its choice under subsection (2) or (3) in its *income tax return for the later income year.

General

- (7) If the entity has 2 or more *tax losses, the entity is to deduct them in the order in which the entity incurred them.
- (8) A *tax loss can be deducted under this section only to the extent that it has not already been deducted.
- (9) If, under this section, a *corporate tax entity does not or cannot deduct all or part of a *tax loss in an income year, the entity can carry forward the undeducted amount to the next income year. This Subdivision then applies in working out how it can deduct the tax loss in that income year.

Note: The entity's tax losses may be reduced if any of its commercial debts have been forgiven in the income year: see Subdivision 245-E of Schedule 2C to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Recalculation of amounts resulting in a choice or a change of a choice

- (10) Subsection (11) or (12) applies if at least one of the following amounts is recalculated after an entity has lodged its *income tax return for an income year:
- (a) the amount of a *tax loss that the entity can deduct in that year;
  - (b) the amount of the difference between the entity's total assessable income for that year and the entity's total deductions (other than *tax losses) for that year;
  - (c) the amount of the entity's *net exempt income for that year;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

whether or not the amount is recalculated in an amendment of the entity's assessment for that year, and whether or not the amount was a nil amount before the recalculation (or has become a nil amount after the recalculation).

- (11) If:
- (a) before the recalculation, a choice under subsection (2) or (3) for the income year was not available to the entity; but
  - (b) as a result of the recalculation, the choice has (apart from subsection (6)) become available to the entity;
- the entity can make that choice by written notice given to the Commissioner.
- (12) If:
- (a) the entity made a choice under subsection (2) or (3) for the income year; but
  - (b) as a result of the recalculation, the entity wishes to change that choice;
- the entity can do so by written notice given to the Commissioner.
- (13) Subsections (10) to (12) have effect subject to section 170 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (about amendment of assessments).

36-20 Net exempt income

- (1) If you are an Australian resident, your net exempt income is the amount by which your total *exempt income from all sources exceeds the total of:
- (a) the losses and outgoings (except capital losses and outgoings) you incurred in deriving that exempt income; and
  - (b) any taxes payable outside Australia on that exempt income.
- (2) If you are a foreign resident, your net exempt income is the amount (if any) by which the total of:
- (a) your *exempt income *derived from sources in Australia; and
  - (b) your exempt income to which section 26AG (Certain film proceeds included in assessable income) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 applies;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 36-25

---

exceeds the total of:

- (c) the losses and outgoings (except capital losses and outgoings) you incurred in deriving exempt income covered by paragraph (a) or (b); and
- (d) any taxes payable outside Australia on income covered by paragraph (b).

36-25 Special rules about tax losses

Tax losses of individuals

Item	For the special rules about this situation ...	See:
1.	You go bankrupt, or you are released from debts under a bankruptcy law: your right to deduct tax losses of an earlier income year may be affected.	Subdivision 36-B

Tax losses of companies

Item	For the special rules about this situation ...	See:
1.	A company has had a change of ownership or control during the income year, and has not satisfied the same business test: it works out its taxable income and its tax loss in a special way.	Subdivision 165-B

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Item	For the special rules about this situation ...	See:
2.	A company wants to deduct a tax loss. It cannot do so unless: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the same people owned the company during the loss year, the income year and any intervening year; and</li> <li>• no person controlled the company's voting power at any time during the income year who did not also control it during the whole of the loss year and any intervening year;</li> </ul> or the company has satisfied the same business test.	Subdivision 165-A
3.	One or more of these things happen: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• income is injected into a company;</li> <li>• a tax benefit is obtained from available losses or deductions;</li> <li>• a deduction is injected into a company;</li> <li>• a tax benefit is obtained because of available income.</li> </ul> The Commissioner can disallow tax losses or current year deductions.	Division 175
4.	A company can transfer a surplus amount of its tax loss to another company so that the other company can deduct the amount in the income year of the transfer. (Both companies must be members of the same wholly-owned group.) See also: Tax losses of pooled development funds (PDFs) below	Subdivision 170-A
5.	A *life insurance company	Subdivision 320-D

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 36 Tax losses of earlier income years

Section 36-25

---

Tax losses of corporate tax entities

Item	For the special rules about this situation...	See:
1.	A *corporate tax entity that has an amount of *excess franking offsets for an income year: it works out its *tax loss in a special way.	Subdivision 36-C

Tax losses of entities generally

Item	For the special rules about this situation ...	See:
3.	You have deductions in relation to deriving income under section 26AG of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 from the proceeds of a film: your tax loss may have a film component, which is deductible from your film income only.	Subdivision 375-G

Tax losses of pooled development funds (PDFs)

Item	For the special rules about this situation ...	See:
1.	A company is a pooled development fund (PDF) at the end of an income year for which it has a tax loss: it can only deduct the loss while it is a PDF.	Section 195-5
2.	A company becomes a PDF during an income year: special rules affect how it works out a tax loss and how the loss is deducted in a later income year.	Section 195-15

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Tax losses of VCLPs, ESVCLPs, AFOFs and VCMPs

Item	For the special rules about this situation ...	See:
1.	A limited partnership that has a tax loss becomes a VCLP, an ESVCLP, an AFOF or a VCMP: it cannot deduct the loss while it is a VCLP, an ESVCLP, an AFOF or a VCMP.	Subdivision 195-B

Tax losses of entities that become foreign hybrids

Item	For the special rules about this situation...	See:
1.	An entity that has a tax loss becomes a *foreign hybrid: it cannot deduct the loss while it is a foreign hybrid.	Section 830-115

Tax losses of trusts

Item	For the special rules about this subsection...	See:
1.	A trust has had a change of ownership or control or there has been an abnormal trading in its units: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• if this happens in the income year, it works out its net income and tax loss in a special way; or</li> <li>• if this happens at any time from the start of a loss year until the end of the income year, it cannot deduct a tax loss from the loss year.</li> </ul> This will not be the case if the trust is an excepted trust. However, if it became one by making a family trust election, a special tax may be payable on certain distributions and other amounts.	Divisions 266, 267 and 268 of Schedule 2F to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-5 Rules about deductibility of particular kinds of amounts

Division 36 Tax losses of earlier income years

Section 36-30

---

Item	For the special rules about this subsection...	See:
2.	A trust is involved in a scheme to take advantage of deductions. The trust may be prevented from making full use of them.	Division 270 of Schedule 2F to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936

Subdivision 36-B—Effect of you becoming bankrupt

Guide to Subdivision 36-B

36-30 What this Subdivision is about

After you become bankrupt, you cannot deduct a tax loss that you incurred beforehand. However, you may be able to deduct repayments of debts you incurred in the loss year.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

- 36-35 No deduction for tax loss incurred before bankruptcy
- 36-40 Deduction for amounts paid for debts incurred before bankruptcy
- 36-45 Limit on deductions for amounts paid

Operative provisions

36-35 No deduction for tax loss incurred before bankruptcy

- (1) If:
  - (a) you became bankrupt; or
  - (b) you were released from a debt by the operation of an Act relating to bankruptcy;before the income year, you cannot deduct a *tax loss that you incurred before the day on which you either became bankrupt or were released.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (2) If:
- (a) you became bankrupt before the income year; and
  - (b) the bankruptcy is later annulled under section 74 of the Bankruptcy Act 1966 because your creditors have accepted your proposal for a composition or scheme of arrangement; and
  - (c) under the composition or scheme of arrangement, you have been, will be or may be released from some or all of the debts from which you would have been released if you had instead been discharged from the bankruptcy;
- you cannot deduct a *tax loss that you incurred before the day on which you became bankrupt.

36-40 Deduction for amounts paid for debts incurred before bankruptcy

Tax losses generally

- (1) If:
- (a) you pay an amount in the income year for a debt that you incurred in an earlier income year; and
  - (b) you have a *tax loss covered by section 36-35 for that earlier income year;
- you can deduct the amount paid, but only to the extent that it does not exceed so much of the debt as the Commissioner is satisfied was taken into account in calculating the amount of the tax loss.

Film losses

- (2) If:
- (a) you pay an amount in the income year for a debt that you incurred in an earlier income year; and
  - (b) you incurred the debt in the course of deriving or gaining *assessable film income or *exempt film income; and
  - (c) you also incurred a *film loss covered by section 36-35 in that earlier income year;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 36-45

---

you can deduct the amount paid, but only to the extent that it does not exceed so much of the debt as the Commissioner is satisfied was taken into account in calculating the amount of the film loss.

36-45 Limit on deductions for amounts paid

Tax losses generally

- (1) The total of your deductions under subsection 36-40(1) for amounts paid in the income year for debts incurred in the *loss year cannot exceed the amount of the *tax loss reduced by the sum of:
  - (a) your deductions under that subsection for amounts paid in earlier income years for debts incurred in the loss year; and
  - (b) any amounts of the tax loss deducted in earlier income years; and
  - (c) any amounts of the tax loss that, apart from section 36-35, would have been deductible from your *net exempt income for the income year or earlier income years.

Film losses

- (2) The total of your deductions under subsection 36-40(2) for amounts paid in the income year for debts incurred in the *loss year cannot exceed the amount of the *film loss reduced by the sum of:
  - (a) your deductions under that subsection for amounts paid in earlier income years for debts incurred in the loss year; and
  - (b) any amounts of the film loss deducted in earlier income years; and
  - (c) any amounts of the film loss that, apart from section 36-35, would have been deductible from your *net exempt film income for the income year or earlier income years.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 36-C—Excess franking offsets

Guide to Subdivision 36-C

36-50 What this Subdivision is about

Amounts of tax offsets to which a corporate tax entity is entitled under Division 207 and Subdivision 210-H may in some circumstances be converted into an amount of a tax loss for the entity.

Table of sections

Operative provision

36-55 Converting excess franking offsets into tax loss

Operative provision

36-55 Converting excess franking offsets into tax loss

Excess franking offsets

- (1) An entity that is a *corporate tax entity at any time during an income year has an amount of excess franking offsets for that year if:
  - (a) the total amount of *tax offsets to which the entity is entitled for that year under Division 207 and Subdivision 210-H (except those that are subject to the refundable tax offset rules because of section 67-25);exceeds:
  - (b) the amount of income tax that the entity would have to pay on its taxable income for that year if:
    - (i) it did not have those tax offsets; and
    - (ii) it did not have any tax offsets that are subject to the tax offset carry forward rules or the refundable tax offset rules; and
    - (iii) it did not have any tax offset under section 205-70;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 36-55

---

but had all its other tax offsets.

The excess is the amount of excess franking offsets.

Note: Division 65 sets out the tax offset carry forward rules. Division 67 sets out which tax offsets are subject to the refundable tax offset rules.

Example: For the 2002-2003 income year, Company E has:

- assessable income of $200 (franked distribution of $140 and franking credit of $60); and
- $100 of deductions that are allowable.

The tax offset of $60 from the franking credit is not stated in Division 67 to be subject to the refundable tax offset rules.

Disregarding the tax offset of $60 from the franking credit, the amount of income tax that Company E would have to pay is $30:

$$(($140 + $60) - $100) \times 30\%$$

This amount is $30 less than the tax offset of $60. Company E therefore has an amount of excess franking offsets of $30 for that year.

How to work out the amount of the tax loss

(2) For the purposes of this Act, if:

- (a) an entity has an amount of *excess franking offsets for an income year; and
- (b) the result of applying the following method statement is a positive amount;

then:

- (c) the entity is taken to have a *tax loss for that year equal to that positive amount (instead of an amount of tax loss worked out under section 36-10, 165-70, 175-35 or 701-30); and
- (d) that year is taken to be a *loss year for the entity if the entity would not otherwise have a tax loss for that year.

Method statement

Step 1. Work out the amount (if any) that would have been the entity's *tax loss for that year under section 36-10, 165-70, 175-35 or 701-30 if the entity's *net exempt income for that year (if any) were disregarded.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Note: See section 36-20 for the calculation of net exempt income.

- Step 2. Divide the amount of *excess franking offsets by the *corporate tax rate.
- Step 3. Add the results of steps 1 and 2.
- Step 4. Reduce the result of step 3 by the entity's *net exempt income for that year (if any).

The result of this step is taken to be the entity's *tax loss for that year. However, if the result of this step is nil or a negative amount, the company does not have any tax loss for that year.

Example: Assume that company E did not derive any exempt income for the 2002-2003 income year and that it would not otherwise have any tax loss for that year under section 36-10, 165-70, 175-35 or 701-30.

Applying the method statement, the amount of excess franking offsets of $30 generates a tax loss of $100 for that year, which can be deducted in a later income year under section 36-15 or 36-17.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Income Tax Assessment Act 1997

Act No. 38 of 1997 as amended

This compilation was prepared on 2 July 2009
taking into account amendments up to Act No. 62 of 2009

Volume 2 includes: Table of Contents
Sections 40-1 to 55-10

The text of any of those amendments not in force
on that date is appended in the Notes section

The operation of amendments that have been incorporated may be affected by application provisions that are set out in the Notes section

Chapter 2—Liability rules of general application

---

Contents

Chapter 2—Liability rules of general application	i
Part 2-10—Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure	1
Division 40—Capital allowances	1
Guide to Division 40	1
40-1 What this Division is about .....	1
40-10 Simplified outline of this Division.....	2
Subdivision 40-A—Objects of Division	4
40-15 Objects of Division.....	4
Subdivision 40-B—Core provisions	4
Guide to Subdivision 40-B	4
40-20 What this Subdivision is about .....	4
Operative provisions	6
40-25 Deducting amounts for depreciating assets.....	6
40-30 What a depreciating asset is .....	8
40-35 Jointly held depreciating assets .....	9
40-40 Meaning of hold a depreciating asset .....	9
40-45 Assets to which this Division does not apply .....	12
40-50 Assets for which you deduct under another Subdivision .....	13
40-53 Alterations etc. to certain depreciating assets .....	13
40-55 Use of certain car methods .....	14
40-60 When a depreciating asset starts to decline in value .....	14
40-65 Choice of methods to work out the decline in value.....	14
40-70 Diminishing value method.....	16
40-72 Diminishing value method for post-9 May 2006 assets.....	17
40-75 Prime cost method .....	18
40-80 When you can deduct the asset's cost.....	20
40-85 Meaning of adjustable value and opening adjustable value of a depreciating asset.....	21
40-90 Debt forgiveness.....	22
40-95 Choice of determining effective life .....	22
40-100 Commissioner's determination of effective life.....	29
40-102 Capped life of certain depreciating assets.....	30
40-105 Self-assessing effective life .....	33
40-110 Recalculating effective life .....	33
40-115 Splitting a depreciating asset .....	35
40-120 Replacement spectrum licences .....	36
40-125 Merging depreciating assets .....	36
40-130 Choices.....	37

---

---

40-135	Certain anti-avoidance provisions .....	37
40-140	Getting tax information from associates .....	37
Subdivision 40-C—Cost		39
Guide to Subdivision 40-C		39
40-170	What this Subdivision is about .....	39
Operative provisions		39
40-175	Cost .....	39
40-180	First element of cost .....	40
40-185	Amount you are taken to have paid to hold a depreciating asset or to receive a benefit.....	42
40-190	Second element of cost.....	44
40-195	Apportionment of cost.....	46
40-200	Exclusion from cost.....	46
40-205	Cost of a split depreciating asset .....	46
40-210	Cost of merged depreciating assets.....	47
40-215	Adjustment: double deduction.....	47
40-220	Cost reduced by amounts not of a capital nature .....	47
40-225	Adjustment: acquiring a car at a discount.....	47
40-230	Adjustment: car limit.....	48
Subdivision 40-D—Balancing adjustments		49
Guide to Subdivision 40-D		49
40-280	What this Subdivision is about .....	49
Operative provisions		50
40-285	Balancing adjustments.....	50
40-290	Reduction for non-taxable use .....	51
40-292	Adjustments where deductions for decline in value also allowable under section 73BA or 73BH of Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 .....	53
40-295	Meaning of balancing adjustment event .....	55
40-300	Meaning of termination value .....	55
40-305	Amount you are taken to have received under a balancing adjustment event.....	57
40-310	Apportionment of termination value.....	59
40-320	Car to which section 40-225 applies.....	59
40-325	Adjustment: car limit.....	59
40-335	Deduction for in-house software where you will never use it.....	59
40-340	Roll-over relief .....	60
40-345	What the roll-over relief is.....	63
40-350	Additional consequences .....	63
40-360	Notice to allow transferee to work out how this Division applies .....	63
40-365	Involuntary disposals.....	64

---

---

40-370	Balancing adjustments where there has been use of different car expense methods.....	66
Subdivision 40-E—Low-value and software development pools		68
Guide to Subdivision 40-E		68
40-420	What this Subdivision is about .....	68
Operative provisions		69
40-425	Allocating assets to a low-value pool .....	69
40-430	Rules for assets in low-value pools.....	70
40-435	Private or exempt use of assets.....	71
40-440	How you work out the decline in value of assets in low-value pools .....	71
40-445	Balancing adjustment events .....	72
40-450	Software development pools.....	73
40-455	How to work out your deduction.....	73
40-460	Your assessable income includes consideration for pooled software .....	74
Subdivision 40-F—Primary production depreciating assets		74
Guide to Subdivision 40-F		74
40-510	What this Subdivision is about .....	74
Operative provisions		75
40-515	Water facilities and horticultural plants.....	75
40-520	Meaning of water facility and horticultural plant .....	76
40-525	Conditions .....	76
40-530	When a water facility or horticultural plant starts to decline in value .....	78
40-535	Meaning of horticulture and commercial horticulture .....	78
40-540	How you work out the decline in value for water facilities .....	78
40-545	How you work out the decline in value for horticultural plants .....	79
40-555	Amounts you cannot deduct .....	80
40-560	Non-arm's length transactions.....	81
40-565	Extra deduction for destruction of a horticultural plant .....	81
40-570	How this Subdivision applies to partners and partnerships.....	82
40-575	Getting tax information if you acquire a horticultural plant .....	83
Subdivision 40-G—Capital expenditure of primary producers and other landholders		84
Guide to Subdivision 40-G		84
40-625	What this Subdivision is about .....	84
Operative provisions		85
40-630	Landcare operations.....	85
40-635	Meaning of landcare operation .....	87
40-640	Meaning of approved management plan .....	88

---

---

40-645	Electricity and telephone lines.....	88
40-650	Amounts you cannot deduct under this Subdivision.....	89
40-655	Meaning of connecting power to land or upgrading the connection and metering point .....	91
40-660	Non-arm's length transactions.....	92
40-665	How this Subdivision applies to partners and partnerships.....	92
40-670	Approval of persons as farm consultants.....	93
40-675	Review of decisions relating to approvals.....	93
Subdivision 40-H—Capital expenditure that is immediately deductible		93
Guide to Subdivision 40-H		93
40-725	What this Subdivision is about.....	93
Operative provisions		94
40-730	Deduction for expenditure on exploration or prospecting.....	94
40-735	Deduction for expenditure on mining site rehabilitation.....	96
40-740	Meaning of ancillary mining activities and mining building site .....	97
40-745	No deduction for certain expenditure.....	98
40-750	Deduction for payments of petroleum resource rent tax.....	98
40-755	Environmental protection activities.....	99
40-760	Limits on deductions from environmental protection activities.....	100
40-765	Non-arm's length transactions.....	101
Subdivision 40-I—Capital expenditure that is deductible over time		101
Guide to Subdivision 40-I		101
40-825	What this Subdivision is about.....	101
Operative provisions		102
40-830	Project pools.....	102
40-832	Project pools for post-9 May 2006 projects.....	103
40-835	Reduction of deduction.....	104
40-840	Meaning of project amount .....	105
40-845	Project life.....	106
40-855	When you start to deduct amounts for a project pool.....	106
40-860	Meaning of mining capital expenditure .....	106
40-865	Meaning of transport capital expenditure .....	108
40-870	Meaning of transport facility .....	109
40-875	Meaning of processed minerals and minerals treatment .....	109
40-880	Business related costs.....	110
40-885	Non-arm's length transactions.....	113

---

---

Subdivision 40-J—Capital expenditure for the establishment of trees in carbon sink forests	113
Guide to Subdivision 40-J	113
40-1000 What this Subdivision is about .....	113
Operative provisions	114
40-1005 Deduction for expenditure for establishing trees in carbon sink forests.....	114
40-1010 Expenditure for establishing trees in carbon sink forests.....	115
40-1015 Carbon sequestration by trees .....	117
40-1020 Certain expenditure disregarded .....	117
40-1025 Non-arm’s length transactions .....	118
Division 41—Additional deduction for certain new business investment	119
Guide to Division 41	119
41-1 What this Division is about .....	119
Operative provisions	120
41-5 Object of Division .....	120
41-10 Entitlement to deduction for investment.....	120
41-15 Amount of deduction.....	121
41-20 Recognised new investment amount.....	123
41-25 Investment commitment time .....	124
41-30 First use time .....	125
41-35 New investment threshold .....	126
Division 43—Deductions for capital works	127
Guide to Division 43	127
43-1 What this Division is about .....	127
43-2 Key concepts used in this Division.....	127
Subdivision 43-A—Key operative provisions	129
Guide to Subdivision 43-A	129
43-5 What this Subdivision is about .....	129
Operative provisions	129
43-10 Deductions for capital works.....	129
43-15 Amount you can deduct.....	130
43-20 Capital works to which this Division applies .....	130
43-25 Rate of deduction.....	132
43-30 No deduction until construction is complete .....	132
43-35 Requirement for body corporate to be registered under the Industry Research and Development Act .....	132
43-40 Deduction for destruction of capital works.....	133
43-45 Certain anti-avoidance provisions .....	133
43-50 Links and signposts to other parts of the Act.....	134

---

---

43-55	Anti-avoidance—arrangement etc. with tax-exempt entity .....	135
Subdivision 43-B—Establishing the deduction base		136
Guide to Subdivision 43-B		136
43-60	What this Subdivision is about .....	136
43-65	Explanatory material .....	136
Operative provisions		137
43-70	What is construction expenditure?.....	137
43-72	Meaning of forestry road, timber operation and timber mill building .....	139
43-75	Construction expenditure area .....	139
43-80	When capital works begin .....	141
43-85	Pools of construction expenditure .....	141
43-90	Table of intended use at time of completion of construction .....	142
43-95	Meaning of hotel building and apartment building .....	145
43-100	Certificates by Innovation Australia .....	146
Subdivision 43-C—Your area and your construction expenditure		146
Guide to Subdivision 43-C		146
43-105	What this Subdivision is about .....	146
43-110	Explanatory material .....	147
Operative provisions		147
43-115	Your area and your construction expenditure—owners.....	147
43-120	Your area and your construction expenditure—lessees and quasi-ownership right holders.....	147
43-125	Lessees' or right holders' pools can revert to owner .....	148
43-130	Identifying your area on acquisition or disposal.....	148
Subdivision 43-D—Deductible uses of capital works		149
Guide to Subdivision 43-D		149
43-135	What this Subdivision is about .....	149
Operative provisions		149
43-140	Using your area in a deductible way.....	149
43-145	Using your area in the 4% manner.....	152
43-150	Meaning of industrial activities .....	156
Subdivision 43-E—Special rules about uses		158
Guide to Subdivision 43-E		158
43-155	What this Subdivision is about .....	158
Operative provisions		159
43-160	Your area is used for a purpose if it is maintained ready for use for the purpose.....	159
43-165	Temporary cessation of use .....	159
43-170	Own use—capital works other than hotel and apartment buildings.....	159

---

---

43-175	Own use—hotel and apartment buildings.....	160
43-180	Special rules for hotel and apartment buildings.....	161
43-185	Residential or display use.....	162
43-190	Use of facilities not commonly provided, and of certain buildings used to operate a hotel, motel or guest house.....	163
43-195	Use for research and development activities must be in connection with a business.....	164
Subdivision 43-F—Calculation of deduction		164
Guide to Subdivision 43-F		164
43-200	What this Subdivision is about.....	164
43-205	Explanatory material.....	164
Operative provisions		166
43-210	Deduction for capital works begun after 26 February 1992.....	166
43-215	Deduction for capital works begun before 27 February 1992.....	168
43-220	Capital works taken to have begun earlier for certain purposes.....	169
Subdivision 43-G—Undeducted construction expenditure		170
Guide to Subdivision 43-G		170
43-225	What this Subdivision is about.....	170
Operative provisions		170
43-230	Calculating undeducted construction expenditure—common step.....	170
43-235	Post-26 February 1992 undeducted construction expenditure.....	171
43-240	Pre-27 February 1992 undeducted construction expenditure.....	172
Subdivision 43-H—Balancing deduction on destruction of capital works		172
Guide to Subdivision 43-H		172
43-245	What this Subdivision is about.....	172
Operative provisions		173
43-250	The amount of the balancing deduction.....	173
43-255	Amounts received or receivable.....	173
43-260	Apportioning amounts received for destruction.....	174
Division 45—Disposal of leases and leased plant		175
Guide to Division 45		175
45-1	What this Division is about.....	175
Operative provisions		176
45-5	Disposal of leased plant or lease.....	176
45-10	Disposal of interest in partnership.....	178
45-15	Disposal of shares in 100% subsidiary that leases plant.....	180
45-20	Disposal of shares in 100% subsidiary that leases plant in partnership.....	181

---

---

45-25	Group members liable to pay outstanding tax .....	182
45-30	Reduction for certain plant acquired before 21.9.99.....	182
45-35	Limit on amount included for plant for which there is a CGT exemption .....	183
45-40	Meaning of plant and written down value .....	184
Part 2-15—Non-assessable income		186
Division 50—Exempt entities		186
Subdivision 50-A—Various exempt entities		186
50-1	Entities whose ordinary income and statutory income is exempt .....	187
50-5	Charity, education, science and religion .....	187
50-10	Community service.....	188
50-15	Employees and employers .....	188
50-20	Funds contributing to other funds.....	189
50-25	Government .....	189
50-30	Health .....	189
50-35	Mining .....	190
50-40	Primary and secondary resources, and tourism.....	190
50-45	Sports, culture, film and recreation.....	191
50-50	Special conditions for items 1.1 and 1.2.....	192
50-52	Special condition for items 1.1, 1.5, 1.5A, 1.5B and 4.1 .....	192
50-55	Special conditions for items 1.3, 1.4, 6.1 and 6.2 .....	193
50-57	Special condition for item 1.5.....	193
50-60	Special conditions for items 1.5A and 1.5B .....	193
50-65	Special conditions for item 1.6.....	194
50-70	Special conditions for items 1.7, 2.1, 9.1 and 9.2 .....	194
50-72	Special condition for item 4.1.....	195
50-75	Certain distributions may be made overseas.....	195
50-80	Testamentary trusts may be treated as 2 trusts.....	196
Subdivision 50-B—Endorsing charitable entities as exempt from income tax		197
Guide to Subdivision 50-B		197
50-100	What this Subdivision is about .....	197
Endorsing charitable entities as exempt from income tax		197
50-105	Endorsement by Commissioner.....	197
50-110	Entitlement to endorsement.....	197
Division 51—Exempt amounts		200
51-1	Amounts of ordinary income and statutory income that are exempt .....	200
51-5	Defence.....	201
51-10	Education and training.....	202

---

---

51-30	Welfare .....	204
51-32	Compensation payments for loss of tax exempt payments .....	205
51-33	Compensation payments for loss of pay and/or allowances as a Defence reservist .....	207
51-35	Payments to a full-time student at a school, college or university .....	207
51-40	Payments to a secondary student .....	208
51-42	Bonuses for early completion of an apprenticeship .....	208
51-43	Income collected or derived by a copyright collecting society .....	209
51-50	Maintenance payments to a spouse or child .....	209
51-52	Income derived from eligible venture capital investments by ESVCLPs .....	210
51-54	Gain or profit from disposal of eligible venture capital investments .....	212
51-55	Gain or profit from disposal of venture capital equity .....	213
51-57	Interest on judgment debt relating to personal injury .....	213
51-60	Prime Minister's Prizes .....	214
Division 52—Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax		215
Guide to Division 52		215
52-1	What this Division is about .....	215
Subdivision 52-A—Exempt payments under the Social Security Act 1991		216
Guide to Subdivision 52-A		216
52-5	What this Subdivision is about .....	216
Operative provisions		216
52-10	How much of a social security payment is exempt? .....	216
52-15	Supplementary amounts of payments .....	232
52-20	Tax-free amount of an ordinary payment after the death of your partner .....	234
52-25	Tax-free amount of certain bereavement lump sum payments .....	235
52-30	Tax-free amount of certain other bereavement lump sum payments.....	238
52-35	Tax-free amount of a lump sum payment made because of the death of a person you are caring for.....	239
52-40	Provisions of the Social Security Act 1991 under which payments are made .....	240
Subdivision 52-B—Exempt payments under the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986		243
Guide to Subdivision 52-B		243
52-60	What this Subdivision is about .....	243

---

---

Operative provisions	244
52-65 How much of a veterans' affairs payment is exempt? .....	244
52-70 Supplementary amounts of payments .....	248
52-75 Provisions of the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 under which payments are made.....	248
Subdivision 52-C—Exempt payments made because of the Veterans' Entitlements (Transitional Provisions and Consequential Amendments) Act 1986	250
Guide to Subdivision 52-C	250
52-100 What this Subdivision is about .....	250
Operative provisions	251
52-105 Supplementary amount of a payment made under the Repatriation Act 1920 is exempt .....	251
52-110 Other exempt payments .....	252
Subdivision 52-CA—Exempt payments under the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004	252
Guide to Subdivision 52-CA	252
52-112 What this Subdivision is about .....	252
Operative provisions	253
52-114 How much of a payment under the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act is exempt? .....	253
Subdivision 52-CB—Exempt payments under the Australian Participants in British Nuclear Tests (Treatment) Act 2006	256
52-117 Payments of travelling expenses are exempt .....	256
Subdivision 52-D—Exempt payments made by the Commonwealth to reimburse certain expenditure	257
52-125 Private health insurance incentive payments are exempt.....	257
Subdivision 52-E—Exempt payments under the ABSTUDY scheme	257
Guide to Subdivision 52-E	257
52-130 What this Subdivision is about .....	257
Operative provisions	258
52-131 Payments under ABSTUDY scheme .....	258
52-132 Supplementary amount of payment .....	259
52-133 Tax-free amount of ordinary payment on death of partner if no bereavement payment payable.....	261
52-134 Tax-free amount if you receive a bereavement lump sum payment .....	261

---

---

Subdivision 52-F—Exemption of Commonwealth education or training payments	262
52-140 Supplementary amount of a Commonwealth education or training payment is exempt.....	262
52-145 Meaning of Commonwealth education or training payment.....	264
Subdivision 52-G—Exempt payments under the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) (Administration) Act 1999	265
52-150 Family assistance payments are exempt .....	265
Subdivision 52-H—Other exempt payments	265
52-160 Economic security strategy payments are exempt .....	265
52-165 Household stimulus payments are exempt.....	265
Division 53—Various exempt payments	266
Guide to Division 53	266
53-1 What this Division is about .....	266
Operative provisions	266
53-10 Exemption of various types of payments.....	266
53-15 Supplementary amount of exceptional circumstances relief payment or farm help income support .....	268
53-20 Exemption of similar Australian and United Kingdom veterans' payments .....	269
Division 54—Exemption for certain payments made under structured settlements and structured orders	270
Guide to Division 54	270
54-1 What this Division is about .....	270
Subdivision 54-A—Definitions	270
Operative provisions	271
54-5 Definitions.....	271
54-10 Meaning of structured settlement and structured order .....	271
Subdivision 54-B—Tax exemption for personal injury annuities	274
Operative provisions	274
54-15 Personal injury annuity exemption for injured person.....	274
54-20 Lump sum compensation etc. would not have been assessable .....	274
54-25 Requirements of the annuity instrument.....	274
54-30 Requirements for payments of the annuity .....	275
54-35 Payments during the guarantee period on the death of the injured person.....	276
54-40 Requirement for minimum monthly level of support .....	277

---

---

Subdivision 54-C—Tax exemption for personal injury lump sums	279
Operative provisions	280
54-45 Personal injury lump sum exemption for injured person .....	280
54-50 Lump sum compensation would not have been assessable.....	280
54-55 Requirements of the instrument under which the lump sum is paid.....	280
54-60 Requirements for payments of the lump sum .....	281
Subdivision 54-D—Miscellaneous	282
Operative provisions	282
54-65 Exemption for certain payments to reversionary beneficiaries .....	282
54-70 Special provisions about trusts .....	282
54-75 Minister to arrange for review and report.....	283
Division 55—Payments that are not exempt from income tax	285
Guide to Division 55	285
55-1 What this Division is about .....	285
Operative provisions	285
55-5 Occupational superannuation payments .....	285
55-10 Education entry payments .....	286

Part 2-10—Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 40—Capital allowances

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 40
40-A	Objects of Division
40-B	Core provisions
40-C	Cost
40-D	Balancing adjustments
40-E	Low-value and software development pools
40-F	Primary production depreciating assets
40-G	Capital expenditure of primary producers and other landholders
40-H	Capital expenditure that is immediately deductible
40-I	Capital expenditure that is deductible over time
40-J	Capital expenditure for the establishment of trees in carbon sink forests

Guide to Division 40

40-1 What this Division is about

You can deduct an amount equal to the decline in value of a depreciating asset (an asset that has a limited effective life and that is reasonably expected to decline in value over the time it is used) that you hold.

That decline is generally measured by reference to the effective life of the asset.

You can also deduct amounts for certain other capital expenditure.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-10

---

40-10 Simplified outline of this Division

The key concepts about depreciating assets and certain other capital expenditure are outlined below (in bold italics).

---

Simplified outline of this Division
Item	Major topic Subordinate topics Rules	Provisions
1	Rules about depreciating assets
1.1	Core provisions  Depreciating assets are assets with a limited effective life that are reasonably expected to decline in value. Broadly, the effective life of a depreciating asset is the period it can be used to produce income. The decline in value is based on the cost and effective life of the depreciating asset, not its actual change in value. It begins at start time , when you begin to use the asset (or when you have it installed ready for use). It continues while you use the asset (or have it installed). Usually, the owner of a depreciating asset holds the asset and can therefore claim deductions for its decline in value. Sometimes the economic owner will be different to the legal owner and the economic owner will be the holder.	Subdivision 40-B
1.2	Cost  The cost of a depreciating asset includes both: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• expenses you incur to start holding the asset; and</li><li>• additional expenses that contribute to its present condition and location (e.g. improvements).</li></ul>	Subdivision 40-C
1.3	Balancing adjustments  When you stop holding a depreciating asset you may have to include an amount in your assessable income, or deduct an amount under a balancing adjustment . The adjustment reconciles the decline with the actual change in value.	Subdivision 40-D

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Simplified outline of this Division

---

Item	Major topic Subordinate topics Rules	Provisions
1.4	Low-value and software development pools Low-cost assets and assets depreciated to a low value may be placed in a low value pool , which is treated as a single depreciating asset. You can also pool in-house software expenditure in a software development pool .	Subdivision 40-E
1.5	Primary production depreciating assets You can deduct amounts for capital expenditure on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• water facilities over 3 income years; or</li> <li>• horticultural plants over a period that relates to the effective life of the plant.</li> </ul>	Subdivision 40-F
2 Rules about other capital expenditure
2.1	Capital expenditure of primary producers and other landholders You can deduct amounts for capital expenditure on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• landcare operations immediately; or</li> <li>• electricity and telephone lines over 10 income years.</li> </ul>	Subdivision 40-G
2.2	Capital expenditure that is immediately deductible You can get an immediate deduction for certain capital expenditure on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• exploration or prospecting; and</li> <li>• rehabilitation of mine and quarry sites; and</li> <li>• paying petroleum taxes; and</li> <li>• environmental protection activities.</li> </ul>	Subdivision 40-H
2.3	Capital expenditure that is deductible over time You can deduct amounts for certain capital expenditure associated with projects you carry on. You deduct the amount over the life of the project using a project pool . You can also deduct amounts for certain business related costs over 5 years where the amounts are not otherwise taken into account and are not denied a deduction.	Subdivision 40-I

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 40 Capital allowances

Section 40-15

---

---

Simplified outline of this Division

---

Item	Major topic Subordinate topics	Provisions
2.4	Capital expenditure for establishing trees in carbon sink forests You can deduct amounts for capital expenditure for the establishment of trees in carbon sink forests.	Subdivision 40-J

---

Subdivision 40-A—Objects of Division

Table of sections

40-15    Objects of Division

40-15 Objects of Division

The objects of this Division are:

- (a) to allow you to deduct the *cost of a *depreciating asset; and
- (b) to spread the deduction over a period that reflects the time for which the asset can be used to obtain benefits; and
- (c) to provide deductions for certain other capital expenditure that is not otherwise deductible.

Note 1:    This Division does not apply to some depreciating assets: see section 40-45.

Note 2:    The application of this Division to a life insurance company is affected by sections 320-200 and 320-255.

Subdivision 40-B—Core provisions

Guide to Subdivision 40-B

40-20 What this Subdivision is about

The rules that apply to most depreciating assets are in this Subdivision. It explains:

- what a depreciating asset is; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- when you start deducting amounts for depreciating assets; and
- how to work out your deductions.

It also contains rules for splitting and merging depreciating assets.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

40-25	Deducting amounts for depreciating assets
40-30	What a depreciating asset is
40-35	Jointly held depreciating assets
40-40	Meaning of hold a depreciating asset
40-45	Assets to which this Division does not apply
40-50	Assets for which you deduct under another Subdivision
40-53	Alterations etc. to certain depreciating assets
40-55	Use of certain car methods
40-60	When a depreciating asset starts to decline in value
40-65	Choice of methods to work out the decline in value
40-70	Diminishing value method
40-72	Diminishing value method for post-9 May 2006 assets
40-75	Prime cost method
40-80	When you can deduct the asset's cost
40-85	Meaning of adjustable value and opening adjustable value of a depreciating asset
40-90	Debt forgiveness
40-95	Choice of determining effective life
40-100	Commissioner's determination of effective life
40-102	Capped life of certain depreciating assets
40-105	Self-assessing effective life
40-110	Recalculating effective life
40-115	Splitting a depreciating asset
40-120	Replacement spectrum licences
40-125	Merging depreciating assets
40-130	Choices
40-135	Certain anti-avoidance provisions
40-140	Getting tax information from associates

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-25

---

Operative provisions

40-25 Deducting amounts for depreciating assets

You deduct the decline in value

- (1) You can deduct an amount equal to the decline in value for an income year (as worked out under this Division) of a *depreciating asset that you *held for any time during the year.

Note 1: Sections 40-70, 40-72 and 40-75 show you how to work out the decline for most depreciating assets. There is a limit on the decline: see subsections 40-70(3), 40-72(3) and 40-75(7).

Note 2: Small business entities can choose to both deduct and work out the amount they can deduct under Division 328.

Note 3: Generally, only one taxpayer can deduct amounts for a depreciating asset. However, if you and another taxpayer jointly hold the asset, each of you deduct amounts for it: see section 40-35.

Reduction of deduction

- (2) You must reduce your deduction by the part of the asset's decline in value that is attributable to your use of the asset, or your having it *installed ready for use, for a purpose other than a *taxable purpose.

Example: Ben holds a depreciating asset that he uses for private purposes for 30% of his total use in the income year.

If the asset declines by $1,000 for the year, Ben would have to reduce his deduction by $300 (30% of $1,000).

Further reduction: leisure facilities

- (3) You may have to make a further reduction for a *depreciating asset that is a *leisure facility attributable to your use of it, or your having it *installed ready for use, for a *taxable purpose.
- (4) That reduction is the part of the *leisure facility's decline in value that is attributable to your use of it, or your having it *installed ready for use, at a time when:
- (a) its use did not constitute a *fringe benefit; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (b) you did not use it or *hold it for use as mentioned in paragraph 26-50(3)(b) (about using it in the course of your business or for your employees).

Exception: low-value pools

- (5) Subsections (2), (3) and (4) do not apply to *depreciating assets allocated to a low-value pool.

Despite subsection (1), you can continue to deduct an amount equal to the decline in value for an income year (as worked out under this Division) of such an asset even though you do not continue to *hold that asset.

Note: See Subdivision 40-E for low-value pools.

Exception: Use of  $\frac{1}{3}$  of actual expenses method for a car

- (6) Subsections (2), (3) and (4) do not apply to a \*car for an income year for which you use the “one-third of actual expenses” method. Instead, you reduce your deduction by  $\frac{2}{3}$  of the car’s decline in value.

Note: See Division 28 for that method.

Meaning of taxable purpose

- (7) Subject to subsection (8), a taxable purpose is:

- (a) the *purpose of producing assessable income; or
- (b) the purpose of *exploration or prospecting; or
- (c) the purpose of *mining site rehabilitation; or
- (d) *environmental protection activities.

Note: Where you have had a deduction under this Division an amount may be included in your assessable income if the expenditure was financed by limited recourse debt that has terminated: see Division 243.

- (8) If Division 250 applies to you and an asset that is a *depreciating asset:
- (a) if section 250-150 applies—you are taken to be using the asset for a *taxable purpose to the extent specified in a determination made under subsection 250-150(3); or
  - (b) otherwise—you are taken not to be using the asset for such a purpose.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-30

---

40-30 What a depreciating asset is

- (1) A depreciating asset is an asset that has a limited *effective life and can reasonably be expected to decline in value over the time it is used, except:
  - (a) land; or
  - (b) an item of *trading stock; or
  - (c) an intangible asset, unless it is mentioned in subsection (2).
- (2) These intangible assets are depreciating assets if they are not *trading stock:
  - (a) *mining, quarrying or prospecting rights;
  - (b) *mining, quarrying or prospecting information;
  - (c) items of *intellectual property;
  - (d) *in-house software;
  - (e) *IRUs;
  - (f) *spectrum licences;
  - (g) *datacasting transmitter licences;
  - (h) *telecommunications site access rights.
- (3) This Division applies to an improvement to land, or a fixture on land, whether the improvement or fixture is removable or not, as if it were an asset separate from the land.

Note 1: Whether such an asset is a depreciating asset depends on whether it falls within the definition in subsection (1).

Note 2: This Division does not apply to capital works for which you can deduct amounts under Division 43: see subsection 40-45(2).

- (4) Whether a particular composite item is itself a depreciating asset or whether its components are separate depreciating assets is a question of fact and degree which can only be determined in the light of all the circumstances of the particular case.

Example 1: A car is made up of many separate components, but usually the car is a depreciating asset rather than each component.

Example 2: A floating restaurant consists of many separate components (like the ship itself, stoves, fridges, furniture, crockery and cutlery), but usually these components are treated as separate depreciating assets.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (5) This Division applies to a renewal or extension of a *depreciating asset that is a right as if the renewal or extension were a continuation of the original right.
- (6) This Division applies to a *mining, quarrying or prospecting right (the new right) as if it were a continuation of another mining, quarrying or prospecting right you *held if:
  - (a) the other right ends; and
  - (b) the new right and the other right relate to the same area, or any difference in area is not significant.

40-35 Jointly held depreciating assets

- (1) This Division and Divisions 41, 328 and 775 apply to a *depreciating asset (the underlying asset) that you *hold, and that is also held by one or more other entities, as if your interest in the underlying asset were itself the underlying asset.

Note: Partners do not hold partnership assets: see section 40-40.

- (2) As a result, the decline in value of the underlying asset is not itself taken into account.

Example: Buford Corp owns an office block that it leases to 2 companies, Smokey Pty Ltd and Bandit Pty Ltd. Smokey and Bandit decide to install a fountain in front of the building.

They discuss it with Buford who agrees to pay half the cost (because the fountain won't be removable at the end of the lease). Smokey and Bandit split the rest of the cost between them.

Smokey and Bandit would each hold the asset under item 3 of the table in section 40-40 and Buford would hold it under item 10. They would be joint holders, so each would write-off its interest in the fountain.

40-40 Meaning of hold a depreciating asset

Use this table to work out who holds a *depreciating asset. An entity identified in column 3 of an item in the table as not holding a depreciating asset cannot hold the asset under another item.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 40 Capital allowances

Section 40-40

---

---

Identifying the holder of a depreciating asset

---

Item	This kind of depreciating asset:	Is held by this entity:
1	A *luxury car in respect of which a lease has been granted	The lessee (while the lessee has the right to use the car) and not the lessor
2	A *depreciating asset that is fixed to land subject to a *quasi-ownership right (including any extension or renewal of such a right) where the owner of the right has a right to remove the asset	The owner of the quasi-ownership right (while the right to remove exists)
3	An improvement to land (whether a fixture or not) subject to a *quasi-ownership right (including any extension or renewal of such a right) made, or itself improved, by any owner of the right for the owner's own use where the owner of the right has no right to remove the asset	The owner of the quasi-ownership right (while it exists)
4	A *depreciating asset that is subject to a lease where the asset is fixed to land and the lessor has the right to recover the asset	The lessor (while the right to recover exists)
5	A right that an entity legally owns but which another entity (the economic owner ) exercises or has a right to exercise immediately, where the economic owner has a right to become its legal owner and it is reasonable to expect that: (a) the economic owner will become its legal owner; or (b) it will be disposed of at the direction and for the benefit of the economic owner	The economic owner and not the legal owner

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Identifying the holder of a depreciating asset

---

Item	This kind of depreciating asset:	Is held by this entity:
6	A *depreciating asset that an entity (the former holder ) would, apart from this item, hold under this table (including by another application of this item) where a second entity (also the economic owner ): (a) possesses the asset, or has a right as against the former holder to possess the asset immediately; and (b) has a right as against the former holder the exercise of which would make the economic owner the holder under any item of this table; and it is reasonable to expect that the economic owner will become its holder by exercising the right, or that the asset will be disposed of at the direction and for the benefit of the economic owner	The economic owner and not the former holder
7	A *depreciating asset that is a partnership asset	The partnership and not any particular partner
8	*Mining, quarrying or prospecting information that an entity has and that is relevant to: (a) *mining operations carried on, or proposed to be carried on by the entity; or (b) a *business carried on by the entity that includes *exploration or prospecting for *minerals or quarry materials obtainable by such operations; whether or not it is generally available	The entity
9	Other *mining quarrying or prospecting information that an entity has and that is not generally available	The entity
10	Any *depreciating asset	The owner, or the legal owner if there is both a legal and equitable owner

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 40 Capital allowances

Section 40-45

---

Example 1: Power Finance leases a luxury car to Kris who subleases it to Rachael. As lessee, item 1 makes Rachael the holder of the car. Power, as the legal owner, would normally hold the car under item 10.

However, item 1 makes it clear that Power, as lessor, does not hold the car. As the lessee, item 1 would normally mean that Kris held the car but, again, she is also a lessor and so is not the holder (she also doesn't have the right to use the car during the sublease).

Example 2: Sandra sells a packing machine to Jenny under a hire purchase agreement. Jenny holds the machine under item 6 because, although she is not the legal owner until she exercises her option to purchase, she possesses the machine now and can exercise an option to become its legal owner.

Jenny is reasonably expected to exercise that option because the final payment will be well below the expected market value of the machine at the end of the agreement. Sandra, as the machine's legal owner, would normally be its holder under item 10 but item 6 makes it clear that the legal owner is not the holder.

Note 1: Some assets may have holders under more than one item in the table.

Note 2: As well as hire purchase agreements, items 5 and 6 cover cases like assets subject to chattel mortgages, sales subject to retention of title clauses and assets subject to bare trusts.

40-45 Assets to which this Division does not apply

Eligible work related items

- (1) This Division does not apply to an asset that is an eligible work related item for the purposes of section 58X of the Fringe Benefits Tax Assessment Act 1986 where the relevant benefit provided by the employer is an expense payment benefit or a property benefit (within the meaning of that Act).

Capital works

- (2) This Division does not apply to capital works for which you can deduct amounts under Division 43, or for which you could deduct amounts under that Division:
  - (a) but for expenditure being incurred, or capital works being started, before a particular day; or
  - (b) had you used the capital works for a purpose relevant to those capital works under section 43-140.

Note: Section 43-20 lists the capital works to which that Division applies.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Films

- (5) This Division does not apply to a *depreciating asset if you or another taxpayer has deducted or can deduct amounts for it under:
  - (a) Division 10BA of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (about Australian films); or
  - (b) Division 10B of Part III of that Act if the depreciating asset relates to a copyright in an Australian film within the meaning of that Division.
- (6) This Division applies to a *depreciating asset that is copyright in a *film where a company is entitled to a *tax offset under section 376-55 in respect of the film as if the asset's *cost were reduced by the amount of that offset.

40-50 Assets for which you deduct under another Subdivision

- (1) You cannot deduct an amount, or work out a decline in value, for a *depreciating asset under this Subdivision if you or another taxpayer has deducted or can deduct amounts for it under Subdivision 40-F (about primary production depreciating assets), 40-G (about capital expenditure of primary producers and other landholders) or 40-J (about capital expenditure for the establishment of trees in carbon sink forests).
- (2) You cannot deduct an amount, or work out a decline in value, for *in-house software under this Subdivision if you have allocated expenditure on the software to a software development pool under Subdivision 40-E.

40-53 Alterations etc. to certain depreciating assets

- (1) These things are not the same *depreciating asset for the purposes of section 40-50 and Subdivision 40-F:
  - (a) a depreciating asset; and
  - (b) a repair of a capital nature, or an alteration, addition or extension, to that asset that would, if it were a separate depreciating asset, be a *water facility.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-55

---

- (2) These things are not the same *depreciating asset for the purposes of section 40-50 and Subdivision 40-G:
  - (a) a depreciating asset; and
  - (b) a repair of a capital nature, or an alteration, addition or extension, to that asset that would, if it were a separate depreciating asset, be a *landcare operation.

40-55 Use of certain car methods

You cannot deduct any amount for the decline in value of a *car for an income year if you use the “cents per kilometre” method, or the “12% of original value” method, for the car for that year.

Note: See Division 28 for those methods.

40-60 When a depreciating asset starts to decline in value

- (1) A *depreciating asset you *hold starts to decline in value from when its *start time occurs.
- (2) The start time of a *depreciating asset is when you first use it, or have it *installed ready for use, for any purpose.

Note: Previous use by a transition entity is ignored: see section 58-70.

- (3) However, there is another start time for a *depreciating asset you *hold if a *balancing adjustment event referred to in paragraph 40-295(1)(b) occurs for the asset and you start to use the asset again. Its second start time is when you start using it again.

40-65 Choice of methods to work out the decline in value

- (1) You have a choice of 2 methods to work out the decline in value of a *depreciating asset. You must choose to use either the *diminishing value method or the *prime cost method.

Note 1: Once you make the choice for an asset, you cannot change it: see section 40-130.

Note 2: For the diminishing value method, see sections 40-70 and 40-72. For the prime cost method, see section 40-75.

Note 3: In some cases you do not have to make the choice because you can deduct the asset’s cost: see section 40-80.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Exception: asset acquired from associate

- (2) For a *depreciating asset that you acquire from an *associate of yours where the associate has deducted or can deduct an amount for the asset under this Division, you must use the same method that the associate was using.

Note: You can require the associate to tell you which method the associate was using: see section 40-140.

Exception: holder changes but user same or associate of former user

- (3) For a *depreciating asset that you acquire from a former *holder of the asset, you must use the same method that the former holder was using for the asset if:
- (a) the former holder or another entity (each of which is the former user) was using the asset at a time before you became the holder; and
  - (b) while you hold the asset, the former user or an *associate of the former user uses the asset.
- (4) However, you must use the *diminishing value method if:
- (a) you do not know, and cannot readily find out, which method the former holder was using; or
  - (b) the former holder did not use a method.

Exception: low-value pools

- (5) You work out the decline in value of a *depreciating asset in a low-value pool under Subdivision 40-E rather than under this Subdivision.

Exception: expenditure deductible under research and development provisions

- (6) If you can deduct an amount under section 73BA of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (or could if you had not chosen a tax offset under section 73I of that Act) for the asset:
- (a) for a period before the first period for which you can deduct an amount for the asset under this Division; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-70

---

- (b) for a period that starts at the same time as the first period for which you can deduct an amount for the asset under this Division;

you must, for the purposes of this Division, use the same method as you used, or use, for the asset for the purposes of working out the deduction under section 73BA.

40-70 Diminishing value method

- (1) You work out the decline in value of a *depreciating asset for an income year using the diminishing value method in this way:

$$\text{Base value} \times \frac{\text{Days held}}{365} \times \frac{150\%}{\text{Asset's * effective life}}$$

where:

base value is:

- (a) for the income year in which the asset's *start time occurs—its *cost; or
- (b) for a later year—the sum of its *opening adjustable value for that year and any amount included in the second element of its cost for that year.

days held is the number of days you *held the asset in the income year from its *start time, ignoring any days in that year when you did not use the asset, or have it *installed ready for use, for any purpose.

Note: If you recalculate the effective life of a depreciating asset, you use that recalculated life in working out your deduction.

You can choose to recalculate effective life because of changed circumstances: see section 40-110. That section also requires you to recalculate effective life in some cases.

Exception: intangibles

- (2) You cannot use the *diminishing value method to work out the decline in value of:
  - (a) *in-house software; or
  - (b) an item of *intellectual property (except copyright in a *film); or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (c) a *spectrum licence; or
- (d) a *datacasting transmitter licence; or
- (e) a *telecommunications site access right.

Limit on decline

- (3) The decline in value of a *depreciating asset under this section for an income year cannot be more than the amount that is the asset's base value in the formula in subsection (1) for that income year.

40-72 Diminishing value method for post-9 May 2006 assets

- (1) You work out the decline in value of a *depreciating asset for an income year using the diminishing value method in this way if you started to *hold the asset on or after 10 May 2006:

$$\text{Base value} \times \frac{\text{Days held}}{365} \times \frac{200\%}{\text{Asset's *effective life}}$$

where:

base value has the same meaning as in subsection 40-70(1).

days held has the same meaning as in subsection 40-70(1).

Note: If you recalculate the effective life of a depreciating asset, you use that recalculated life in working out your deduction.

You can choose to recalculate effective life because of changed circumstances: see section 40-110. That section also requires you to recalculate effective life in some cases.

Exception: intangibles

- (2) You cannot use the *diminishing value method to work out the decline in value of:
  - (a) *in-house software; or
  - (b) an item of *intellectual property (except copyright in a *film);
or
  - (c) a *spectrum licence; or
  - (d) a *datacasting transmitter licence; or
  - (e) a *telecommunications site access right.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-75

---

Limit on decline

- (3) The decline in value of a *depreciating asset under this section for an income year cannot be more than the amount that is the asset's base value in the formula in subsection (1) for that income year.

40-75 Prime cost method

- (1) You work out the decline in value of a *depreciating asset for an income year using the prime cost method in this way:
where:

$$\text{Asset's *cost} \times \frac{\text{Days held}}{365} \times \frac{100\%}{\text{Asset's *effective life}}$$

where:

days held has the same meaning as in subsection 40-70(1).

Example: Greg acquires an asset for \$3,500 and first uses it on the 26th day of the income year. If the effective life of the asset is  $3\frac{1}{3}$  years, the asset would decline in value in that year by:

$$$3,500 \times \frac{[365 - 25]}{365} \times \frac{100\%}{3\frac{1}{3}} = $978$$

The asset's adjustable value at the end of the income year is:

$$$3,500 - $978 = $2,522$$

- (2) However, you must adjust the formula in subsection (1) for an income year (the change year):
- (a) for which you recalculate the *depreciating asset's *effective life; or
  - (b) after the year in which the asset's start time occurs and in which an amount is included in the second element of the asset's *cost; or
  - (c) for which the asset's *opening adjustable value is reduced under section 40-90 (about debt forgiveness); or
  - (e) for which there is a reduction to the asset's opening adjustable value under paragraph 40-365(5)(b) (about

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

involuntary disposals) where you are using the prime cost method; or

- (f) for which the opening adjustable value of the asset is modified under subsection 27-80(3A) or (4), 27-85(3) or 27-90(3); or
- (g) for which there is a reduction in the asset's opening adjustable value under section 775-70; or
- (h) for which there is an increase in the asset's opening adjustable value under section 775-75.

The adjustments apply for the change year and later years.

Note: For recalculating a depreciating asset's effective life: see section 40-110.

- (3) The adjustments are:
  - (a) instead of the asset's *cost, you use its *opening adjustable value for the change year plus the amounts (if any) included in the second element of its cost for that year; and
  - (b) instead of the asset's *effective life, you use its *remaining effective life.
- (4) The remaining effective life of a *depreciating asset is any period of its *effective life that is yet to elapse as at:
  - (a) the start of the change year; or
  - (b) in the case of a roll-over under section 40-340—the time when the *balancing adjustment event occurs for the transferor.

Note: Effective life is worked out in years and fractions of years.

- (5) You must also adjust the formula in subsection (1) for an intangible *depreciating asset that:
  - (a) is mentioned in an item in the table in subsection 40-95(7) (except item 5, 7 or 8); and
  - (b) you acquire from a former *holder of the asset.

The adjustment applies for the income year in which you acquire the asset and later income years.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-80

---

- (6) Instead of the asset's *effective life under the table in subsection 40-95(7), you use the number of years remaining in that effective life as at the start of the income year in which you acquire the asset.

Limit on decline

- (7) The decline in value of a *depreciating asset under this section for an income year cannot be more than:
- (a) for the income year in which the asset's *start time occurs—its *cost; or
  - (b) for a later year—the sum of its *opening adjustable value for that year and any amount included in the second element of its cost for that year.

40-80 When you can deduct the asset's cost

Exploration or prospecting

- (1) The decline in value of a *depreciating asset you *hold is the asset's *cost if:
- (a) you first use the asset for *exploration or prospecting for *minerals, or quarry materials, obtainable by *mining operations; and
  - (b) when you first use the asset, you do not use it for:
    - (i) development drilling for *petroleum; or
    - (ii) operations in the course of working a mining property, quarrying property or petroleum field; and
  - (c) you satisfy one or more of these subparagraphs at the asset's *start time:
    - (i) you carry on *mining operations;
    - (ii) it would be reasonable to conclude you proposed to carry on such operations;
    - (iii) you carry on a *business of, or a business that included, exploration or prospecting for minerals or quarry materials obtainable by such operations, and expenditure on the asset was necessarily incurred in carrying on that business.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Depreciating assets used for certain purposes

- (2) The decline in value of a *depreciating asset you start to *hold in an income year is the asset's *cost if:
- (a) that cost does not exceed $300; and
  - (b) you use the asset predominantly for the *purpose of producing assessable income that is not income from carrying on a *business; and
  - (c) the asset is not one that is part of a set of assets that you started to hold in that income year where the total cost of the set of assets exceeds $300; and
  - (d) the total cost of the asset and any other identical, or substantially identical, asset that you start to hold in that income year does not exceed $300.

40-85 Meaning of adjustable value and opening adjustable value of a depreciating asset

- (1) The adjustable value of a *depreciating asset at a particular time is:
- (a) if you have not yet used it or had it *installed ready for use for any purpose—its *cost; or
  - (b) for a time in the income year in which you first use it, or have it installed ready for use, for any purpose—its cost less its decline in value up to that time; or
  - (c) for a time in a later income year—the sum of its *opening adjustable value for that year and any amount included in the second element of its cost for that year up to that time, less its decline in value for that year up to that time.

Note: The adjustable value of a depreciating asset may be modified by section 250-285.

- (2) The opening adjustable value of a *depreciating asset for an income year is its *adjustable value to you at the end of the previous income year.

Note: The opening adjustable value of a depreciating asset may be modified by one of these provisions:

- Subdivision 27-B;
- subsection 40-90(3);

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-90

---

- subsection 40-285(4);
- paragraph 40-365(5)(b);
- section 775-70;
- section 775-75.

40-90 Debt forgiveness

- (1) This section applies if an amount (the debt forgiveness amount) is applied in reduction of deductible expenditure for a *depreciating asset in an income year (within the meaning of Division 245 of Schedule 2C to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) under section 245-155 of that Schedule.
- (2) The asset's *cost is reduced for that income year by the debt forgiveness amount.
- (3) The asset's *opening adjustable value for that income year is reduced by the debt forgiveness amount if that income year is later than the one in which its *start time occurs.

40-95 Choice of determining effective life

- (1) You must choose either:
  - (a) to use an *effective life determined by the Commissioner for a *depreciating asset under section 40-100; or
  - (b) to work out the effective life of the asset yourself under section 40-105.

Note: If you choose to use an effective life determined by the Commissioner for a depreciating asset, a capped life may apply to the asset under section 40-102.

- (2) Your choice of an *effective life determined by the Commissioner for a *depreciating asset is limited to one in force as at:
  - (a) the time when you entered into a contract to acquire the asset, you otherwise acquired it or you started to construct it if its *start time occurs within 5 years of that time; or
  - (b) for *plant that you entered into a contract to acquire, you otherwise acquired or you started to construct before 11.45 am, by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory, on 21 September 1999—the time when you entered into the contract to acquire it, otherwise acquired it or started to construct it; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(c) otherwise—its *start time.

- (3) You must make the choice for the income year in which the asset's *start time occurs.

Note: For rules about choices: see section 40-130.

Exception: asset acquired from associate

- (4) For a *depreciating asset that you start to *hold where the former holder is an *associate of yours and the associate has deducted or can deduct an amount for the asset under this Division, you must use:
- (a) if the associate was using the *diminishing value method for the asset—the same *effective life that the associate was using; or
  - (b) if the associate was using the *prime cost method—an effective life equal to any period of the asset's effective life the associate was using that is yet to elapse at the time you started to hold it.

Note: You can require the associate to tell you which effective life the associate was using: see section 40-140.

- (4A) Subsection (4) does not apply to a *depreciating asset if subsection (4B) or (4C) applies to the asset.
- (4B) For a *depreciating asset that you start to *hold if:
- (a) the former holder is an *associate of yours; and
  - (b) the associate has deducted or can deduct an amount for the asset under this Division; and
  - (c) section 40-102 applied to the asset immediately before you started to hold it because an item in the tables in subsections 40-102(4) and (5) applied to it at the relevant time (the relevant time for the associate) that applied to the associate under subsection 40-102(3); and
  - (d) a different item in the tables in subsections 40-102(4) and (5) applies to the asset when you start to hold it; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-95

---

- (e) the item referred to in paragraph (d) would have applied to the asset at the relevant time for the associate if the use to which the asset were put at that time were the use (the new use) to which it is put when you start to hold it;

you must use:

- (f) if the associate was using the *diminishing value method for the asset—an *effective life equal to the *capped life that would have applied to the asset under subsection 40-102(4) or (5) at the relevant time for the associate if the use to which the asset were put at that time were the new use; or
- (g) if the associate was using the *prime cost method—an effective life equal to the capped life that:
  - (i) would have applied to the asset under subsection 40-102(4) or (5) at the relevant time for the associate if the use to which the asset were put at that time were the new use; and
  - (ii) is yet to elapse at the time you start to hold it.

Note 1: If paragraph (e) is not satisfied, subsection (4C) may apply to the depreciating asset.

Note 2: You can require the associate to tell you the relevant time that applied to the associate under subsection 40-102(3): see section 40-140.

(4C) For a *depreciating asset that you start to *hold if:

- (a) the former holder is an *associate of yours; and
- (b) the associate has deducted or can deduct an amount for the asset under this Division; and
- (c) section 40-102 applied to the asset immediately before you started to hold it; and
- (d) one of the following applies:
  - (i) no item in the tables in subsections 40-102(4) and (5) applies to the asset when you start to hold it;
  - (ii) subsection (4B) would apply to the asset but for paragraph (e) of that subsection not being satisfied;

you must use:

- (e) if the associate was using the *diminishing value method for the asset—the *effective life determined by the Commissioner for the asset under section 40-100 that the

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

associate would have used if section 40-102 had not applied to the asset; or

- (f) if the associate was using the *prime cost method—an effective life equal to any period of the effective life determined by the Commissioner for the asset under section 40-100 that:
  - (i) the associate would have used if section 40-102 had not applied to the asset; and
  - (ii) is yet to elapse at the time you start to hold it.

Note: You can require the associate to tell you which effective life the associate would have used if section 40-102 had not applied to the asset: see section 40-140.

Exception: holder changes but user same or associate of former user

- (5) For a *depreciating asset that you start to *hold where:
  - (a) the former holder or another entity (each of which is the former user) was using the asset at a time before you became the holder; and
  - (b) while you hold the asset, the former user or an *associate of the former user uses the asset;you must use:
  - (c) if the former holder was using the *diminishing value method for the asset—the same *effective life that the former holder was using; or
  - (d) if the former holder was using the *prime cost method—an effective life equal to any period of the asset's effective life the former holder was using that is yet to elapse at the time you started to hold it.
- (5A) Subsection (5) does not apply to a *depreciating asset if subsection (5B) or (5C) applies to the asset.
- (5B) For a *depreciating asset that you start to *hold if:
  - (a) paragraphs (5)(a) and (b) apply; and
  - (b) section 40-102 applied to the asset immediately before you started to hold it because an item in the tables in subsections 40-102(4) and (5) applied to it at the relevant time (the

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-95

---

relevant time for the former holder) that applied to the former holder under subsection 40-102(3); and

- (c) a different item in the tables in subsections 40-102(4) and (5) applies to the asset when you start to hold it; and
- (d) the item referred to in paragraph (c) would have applied to the asset at the relevant time for the former holder if the use to which the asset were put at that time were the use (the new use) to which it is put when you start to hold it;

you must use:

- (e) if the former holder was using the *diminishing value method for the asset—an *effective life equal to the *capped life that would have applied to the asset under subsection 40-102(4) or (5) at the relevant time for the former holder if the use to which the asset were put at that time were the new use; or
- (f) if the former holder was using the *prime cost method—an effective life equal to the capped life that:
  - (i) would have applied to the asset under subsection 40-102(4) or (5) at the relevant time for the former holder if the use to which the asset were put at that time were the new use; and
  - (ii) is yet to elapse at the time you start to hold it.

Note: If paragraph (d) is not satisfied, subsection (5C) may apply to the depreciating asset.

(5C) For a *depreciating asset that you start to *hold if:

- (a) paragraphs (5)(a) and (b) apply; and
- (b) section 40-102 applied to the asset immediately before you started to hold it; and
- (c) one of the following applies:
  - (i) no item in the tables in subsections 40-102(4) and (5) applies to the asset when you start to hold it;
  - (ii) subsection (5B) would apply to the asset but for paragraph (d) of that subsection not being satisfied;

you must use:

- (d) if the former holder was using the *diminishing value method for the asset—the *effective life determined by the Commissioner for the asset under section 40-100 that the

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- former holder would have used if section 40-102 had not applied to the asset; or
- (e) if the former holder was using the *prime cost method—an effective life equal to any period of the effective life determined by the Commissioner for the asset under section 40-100 that:
- (i) the former holder would have used if section 40-102 had not applied to the asset; and
  - (ii) is yet to elapse at the time you start to hold it.
- (6) However, you must use an *effective life determined by the Commissioner if:
- (a) you do not know, and cannot readily find out, which effective life the former holder was using and, if subsection (5B) or (5C) applied to the asset, either of the following matters:
    - (i) the effective life the former holder would have used if section 40-102 had not applied to the asset;
    - (ii) the relevant time that applied to the former holder under subsection 40-102(3); or
  - (b) the former holder did not use an effective life.

Exception: intangible depreciating assets

- (7) The effective life of an intangible *depreciating asset mentioned in this table is the period applicable to that asset under the table.

Effective life of certain intangible depreciating assets
Item	For this asset:	The effective life is:
1	Standard patent	20 years
2	Innovation patent	8 years
3	Petty patent	6 years
4	Registered design	15 years
5	Copyright (except copyright in a *film)	The shorter of: (a) 25 years from when you acquire the copyright; or (b) the period until the copyright ends

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-95

---

Effective life of certain intangible depreciating assets

---

Item	For this asset:	The effective life is:
6	A licence (except one relating to a copyright or *in-house software)	The term of the licence
7	A licence relating to a copyright (except copyright in a *film)	The shorter of: (a) 25 years from when you become the licensee; or (b) the period until the licence ends
8	*In-house software	4 years
9	*Spectrum licence	The term of the licence
10	*Datacasting transmitter licence	15 years
14	*Telecommunications site access right	The term of the right

---

(8) The effective life of an intangible *depreciating asset that is not mentioned in the table in subsection (7) and is not an *IRU or a *mining, quarrying or prospecting right cannot be longer than the term of the asset as extended by any reasonably assured extension or renewal of that term.

(9) The effective life of an *IRU is the *effective life of the telecommunications cable over which the IRU is granted.

Note: Section 73BG of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 modifies the way in which the effective life of a depreciating asset is worked out for certain companies. That section applies if it is reasonably likely that the asset will be used for the purpose of the carrying on by or on behalf of the company of research and development activities (as defined in section 73B of that Act).

Exception: mining, quarrying or prospecting rights

(10) The effective life of a *mining, quarrying or prospecting right is the period you work out yourself by estimating the period (in years, including fractions of years) set out in column 3 of this table:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Item	For this asset:	Estimate the period until the end of:
1	A *mining, quarrying or prospecting right relating to *mining operations (except obtaining *petroleum or quarry materials)	The life of the mine or proposed mine to which the right relates or, if there is more than one, the life of the mine that has the longest estimated life
2	A *mining, quarrying or prospecting right relating to *mining operations to obtain *petroleum	The life of the petroleum field or proposed petroleum field to which the right relates
3	A *mining, quarrying or prospecting right relating to *mining operations to obtain quarry materials	The life of the quarry or proposed quarry to which the right relates or, if there is more than one, the life of the quarry that has the longest estimated life

- (11) You work out the period in subsection (10):
- (a) as from the *start time of the *mining, quarrying or prospecting right; and
  - (b) by reference only to the period of time over which the reserves, reasonably estimated using an appropriate accepted industry practice, are expected to be extracted from the mine, petroleum field or quarry.

40-100 Commissioner's determination of effective life

- (1) The Commissioner may make a written determination specifying the effective life of *depreciating assets. The determination may specify conditions for particular depreciating assets.
- (2) A determination may specify a day from which it takes effect for *depreciating assets specified in the determination.
- (3) A determination may operate retrospectively to a day specified in the determination if:
  - (a) there was no applicable determination at that day for the *depreciating asset covered by the determination; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-102

---

- (b) the determination specifies a shorter *effective life for the depreciating asset covered by the determination than was previously applicable.
- (4) The Commissioner is to make a determination of the effective life of a *depreciating asset by estimating the period (in years, including fractions of years) it can be used by any entity for a *taxable purpose or for the purpose of producing *exempt income or *non-assessable non-exempt income and, if relevant for the asset:
  - (a) assuming it will be subject to wear and tear at a rate that is reasonable for the Commissioner to assume; and
  - (b) assuming it will be maintained in reasonably good order and condition; and
  - (c) having regard to the period within which it is likely to be scrapped, sold for no more than scrap value or abandoned.

40-102 Capped life of certain depreciating assets

- (1) If this section applies to a *depreciating asset, the effective life of the asset is the period (the capped life) that applies to the asset under subsection (4) or (5) at the relevant time (which is worked out using subsection (3)).

Working out if this section applies

- (2) This section applies to a *depreciating asset if:
  - (a) you choose, under paragraph 40-95(1)(a), to use an *effective life determined by the Commissioner for the asset under section 40-100; and
  - (b) your choice is limited to a determination in force at the time mentioned in paragraph 40-95(2)(a) or (c); and
  - (c) a *capped life applies to the asset under subsection (4) or (5) at the relevant time (which is worked out using subsection (3)); and
  - (d) the capped life is shorter than the effective life mentioned in paragraph (a).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (3) For the purposes of this section, the relevant time is:
- (a) the *start time of the *depreciating asset if:
    - (i) paragraph 40-95(2)(c) applies to you; or
    - (ii) paragraph 40-95(2)(a) applies to you and a *capped life does not apply to the asset under subsection (4) or (5) at the time mentioned in that paragraph; or
    - (iii) paragraph 40-95(2)(a) applies to you and the capped life that applies to the asset under subsection (4) or (5) at the time mentioned in that paragraph is longer than the capped life that applies to the asset at its start time; or
  - (b) if paragraph (a) does not apply—the time mentioned in paragraph 40-95(2)(a).

Capped life

- (4) If the *depreciating asset corresponds exactly to the description in column 2 of the table, the capped life of the asset is the period specified in column 3 of the table.

Capped life of certain depreciating assets
Item	Kind of depreciating asset	Period
1	Aeroplane used predominantly for agricultural spraying or agricultural dusting	8 years
2	Aeroplane to which item 1 does not apply	10 years
3	Helicopter used predominantly for mustering, agricultural spraying or agricultural dusting	8 years
4	Helicopter to which item 3 does not apply	10 years
5	Bus with a *gross vehicle mass of more than 3.5 tonnes	7.5 years
6	Light commercial vehicle with a *gross vehicle mass of 3.5 tonnes or less and designed to carry a load of 1 tonne or more	7.5 years
7	Minibus with a *gross vehicle mass of 3.5 tonnes or less and designed to carry 9 or more passengers	7.5 years
8	Trailer with a *gross vehicle mass of more than 4.5 tonnes	10 years

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 40 Capital allowances

Section 40-102

---

Capped life of certain depreciating assets

---

Item	Kind of depreciating asset	Period
9	Truck with a *gross vehicle mass of more than 3.5 tonnes (other than a truck that is used in *mining operations and that is not of a kind that can be registered to be driven on a public road in the place in which the truck is operated)	7.5 years

---

- (5) If the *depreciating asset is of a kind described in column 2 of the table and is used in the industry specified in column 3 of the table for the asset, the capped life of the asset is the period specified in column 4 of the table.

---

Capped life of certain depreciating assets used in specified industries

---

Item	Kind of depreciating asset	Industry in which the asset is used	Period
1	Gas transmission asset	Gas supply	20 years
2	Gas distribution asset	Gas supply	20 years
3	Oil production asset (other than an electricity generation asset or an offshore platform)	Oil and gas extraction	15 years
4	Gas production asset (other than an electricity generation asset or an offshore platform)	Oil and gas extraction	15 years
5	Offshore platform	Oil and gas extraction	20 years
6	Asset (other than an electricity generation asset) used to manufacture condensate, crude oil, domestic gas, liquid natural gas or liquid petroleum gas but not if the manufacture occurs in an oil refinery	Petroleum refining	15 years
7	Harvester	Primary production sector	6 <sup>2</sup> / <sub>3</sub> years
8	Tractor	Primary production sector	6 <sup>2</sup> / <sub>3</sub> years

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

40-105 Self-assessing effective life

- (1) You work out the effective life of a *depreciating asset yourself by estimating the period (in years, including fractions of years) it can be used by any entity for a *taxable purpose or for the purpose of producing *exempt income or *non-assessable non-exempt income and, if relevant for the asset:
  - (a) having regard to the wear and tear you reasonably expect from your expected circumstances of use; and
  - (b) assuming that it will be maintained in reasonably good order and condition.
- (2) If, in working out that period, you conclude that the asset would be likely to be scrapped, sold for no more than scrap value or abandoned before the end of that period, its effective life ends at the earlier time.
- (3) You work out the period in subsection (1) or (2) as from the *start time of the *depreciating asset.

Exception: intangibles

- (4) This section does not apply to the following intangible *depreciating assets:
  - (a) assets to which an item in the table in subsection 40-95(7) applies;
  - (b) *mining, quarrying or prospecting rights.

40-110 Recalculating effective life

- (1) You may choose to recalculate the *effective life of a *depreciating asset from a later income year if the effective life you have been using is no longer accurate because of changed circumstances relating to the nature of the use of the asset.

Example: Some examples of changes in circumstances that may result in your recalculating the effective life of a depreciating asset are:

- your use of the asset turns out to be more or less rigorous than you expected (or was anticipated by the Commissioner's determination);

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 40 Capital allowances

Section 40-110

---

- there is a downturn in demand for the goods or services the asset is used to produce that will result in the asset being scrapped;
- legislation prevents the asset's continued use;
- changes in technology make the asset redundant;
- there is an unexpected demand, or lack of success, for a film.

(2) You must recalculate a *depreciating asset's *effective life from a later income year if:

(a) you:

(i) self-assessed its effective life; or

(ii) are using an effective life worked out under section 40-100 (about the Commissioner's determination), or 40-102 (about the capped life of certain depreciating assets), and the *prime cost method; or

(iii) are using an effective life because of subsection 40-95(4), (4B), (4C), (5), (5B) or (5C); and

(b) its *cost is increased in that year by at least 10%.

Note 1: You may conclude that the effective life is the same.

Note 2: For the elements of the cost of a depreciating asset, see Subdivision 40-C.

Example 1: Paul purchases a photocopier and self-assesses its effective life at 6 years. In a later year he incurs expenditure to increase the quality of the reproductions it makes. He recalculates its effective life, but concludes that it remains the same.

Example 2: Fiona also purchases a photocopier and self-assesses its effective life at 6 years. In a later year she incurs expenditure to incorporate a more robust paper handling system. She recalculates its effective life, and concludes that it is increased to 7 years.

(3) You must recalculate a *depreciating asset's *effective life for the income year in which you started to *hold it if:

(a) you are using an effective life because of subsection 40-95(4), (4B), (4C), (5), (5B) or (5C); and

(b) the asset's *cost is increased after you started to hold it in that year by at least 10%.

(3A) Subsections (1), (2) and (3) do not apply to a *depreciating asset that is a *mining, quarrying or prospecting right.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (3B) You may choose to recalculate the *effective life of a *mining, quarrying or prospecting right from a later income year if the effective life you have been using is no longer accurate because of changed circumstances relating to an existing or proposed mine, petroleum field or quarry to which that right relates.
- (4) A recalculation under this section must be done using:
- (a) if paragraph (b) does not apply—section 40-105 (about self-assessing effective life); or
  - (b) if the *depreciating asset is a *mining, quarrying or prospecting right—subsections 40-95(10) and (11).

Exception: intangibles

- (5) This section does not apply to an intangible *depreciating asset to which an item in the table in subsection 40-95(7) applies.

40-115 Splitting a depreciating asset

- (1) If a *depreciating asset you *hold is split into 2 or more assets, this Division applies as if you had stopped holding the original asset and started holding the assets into which it is split.

Note 1: For the cost of the split assets, see section 40-205.

Note 2: A balancing adjustment event does not occur just because you split a depreciating asset: see section 40-295.

- (2) If you stop *holding part of a *depreciating asset, this Division applies as if, just before you stopped holding that part, you had split the original asset into the part you stopped holding and the rest of the original asset. (The rest of the original asset is then taken to be a different asset from the original asset.)

Example: Bronwyn sells Tim a part interest in a depreciating asset she owns. They become joint holders under section 40-35. She is taken to have split the underlying asset into the interest she retains and the interest Tim buys. She now holds an interest (a new depreciating asset) in the underlying asset and is taken to have stopped holding the interest sold.

- (3) If you grant or assign an interest in an item of *intellectual property, subsection (2) applies to you as if you had stopped *holding part of the item.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-120

---

40-120 Replacement spectrum licences

(1) If:

- (a) some (but not all) of a *spectrum licence you *hold is assigned or resumed; and
- (b) your original licence is replaced by one or more other spectrum licences (possibly including a modified version of your original licence); and
- (c) the replacement licences together cover exactly the same rights as were covered by your original licence just after the assignment or resumption;

this Division applies as if your original licence (as it existed just after the assignment or resumption) had been split into the replacement licences.

Example: MGP Communications Ltd buys a spectrum licence on 1 July 2003 for $5 million. The licence specifies areas A, B, C and D. The company assigns the spectrum relating to area C. Area C represents 20% of the market value of the overall licence. $1m of the adjustable value is allocated to it and $4m is allocated to the remaining licence.

The Australian Communications and Media Authority adjusts the licence to specify only areas A and B, and issues a new licence specifying area D.

Area D represents 25% of the market value of the spectrum remaining in the licence. The adjustable value of the new licence is therefore $1m and the adjustable value of the original (modified) licence is $3m.

- (2) If a *spectrum licence you *hold is replaced by 2 or more spectrum licences (possibly including a modified version of your original licence) that together cover exactly the same rights as your original licence, this Division applies as if the original licence had been split into the replacement licences.

40-125 Merging depreciating assets

If a *depreciating asset or assets that you *hold is or are merged into another depreciating asset, this Division applies as if you had stopped holding the original asset or assets and started holding the merged asset.

Note 1: For the cost of the merged asset, see section 40-210.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Note 2: A balancing adjustment event does not occur just because you merge depreciating assets: see section 40-295.

40-130 Choices

- (1) A choice you can make under this Division about a *depreciating asset must be made:
  - (a) by the day you lodge your *income tax return for the income year to which the choice relates; or
  - (b) within a further time allowed by the Commissioner.
- (2) Your choice, once made, applies to that income year and all later income years.

Exception: recalculating effective life

- (3) However, subsection (2) does not apply to a choice to recalculate the *effective life of a *depreciating asset under section 40-110.

40-135 Certain anti-avoidance provisions

These anti-avoidance provisions:

- (a) section 51AD (Deductions not allowable in respect of property under certain leveraged arrangements) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936;
- (b) Division 16D (Certain arrangements relating to the use of property) of Part III of that Act;

apply to your deductions under this Division for a *depreciating asset you *hold as if you were the owner of the asset instead of any other person.

40-140 Getting tax information from associates

- (1) If you acquire a *depreciating asset from an *associate of yours where the associate has deducted or can deduct an amount for the asset under this Division, you may give the associate a written notice requiring the associate to tell you:
  - (a) the method the associate was using to work out the decline in value of the asset; and
  - (b) the *effective life the associate was using; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-140

---

- (c) if section 40-102 applied to the asset at any time:
  - (i) the effective life that the associate would have used if section 40-102 had not applied to the asset; and
  - (ii) the relevant time that applied to the associate under subsection 40-102(3).

- (2) The notice must:
  - (a) be given within 60 days of your acquiring the asset; and
  - (b) specify a period of at least 60 days within which the information must be given; and
  - (c) set out the effect of subsection (3).

Note: Subsections (4) and (5) explain how this subsection operates if the associate is a partnership.

Requirement to comply with notice

- (3) The *associate must not intentionally refuse or fail to comply with the notice.

Penalty: 10 penalty units.

Giving the notice to a partnership

- (4) If the *associate is a partnership:
  - (a) you may give it to the partnership by giving it to any of the partners (this does not limit how else you can give it); and
  - (b) the obligation to comply with the notice is imposed on each of the partners (not on the partnership), but may be discharged by any of them.

- (5) A partner must not intentionally refuse or fail to comply with that obligation, unless another partner has already complied with it.

Penalty: 10 penalty units.

Limits on giving a notice

- (6) Only one notice can be given in relation to the same *depreciating asset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 40-C—Cost

Guide to Subdivision 40-C

40-170 What this Subdivision is about

Your cost of a depreciating asset is a component in working out the amounts you can deduct for it.

There are 2 elements of the cost of a depreciating asset. This Subdivision shows you how to work out those elements.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

40-175	Cost
40-180	First element of cost
40-185	Amount you are taken to have paid to hold a depreciating asset or to receive a benefit
40-190	Second element of cost
40-195	Apportionment of cost
40-200	Exclusion from cost
40-205	Cost of a split depreciating asset
40-210	Cost of merged depreciating assets
40-215	Adjustment: double deduction
40-220	Cost reduced by amounts not of a capital nature
40-225	Adjustment: acquiring a car at a discount
40-230	Adjustment: car limit

Operative provisions

40-175 Cost

The cost of a *depreciating asset you *hold consists of 2 elements.

Note: The cost of a depreciating asset may be modified by one of these provisions:

- Subdivision 27-B;
- subsection 40-90(2);

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 40 Capital allowances

Section 40-180

---

- paragraph 40-365(5)(a);
- section 775-70;
- section 775-75.

40-180 First element of cost

(1) The first element is worked out as at the time when you began to *hold the *depreciating asset (except for a case to which item 3 or 4 of the table in subsection (2) applies). It is:

- (a) if an item in that table applies—the amount specified in that item; or
- (b) otherwise—the amount you are taken to have paid to hold the asset under section 40-185.

Note 1: The first element of the cost may be modified by a later provision in this Subdivision.

Note 2: Section 230-505 provides special rules for working out the amount of consideration for an asset if the asset is a Division 230 financial arrangement or a Division 230 financial arrangement is involved in that consideration.

(2) If more than one item in this table covers the asset, apply the last item that covers it.

---

First element of the cost of a depreciating asset

---

Item	In this case:	The cost is:
1	A *depreciating asset you *hold is split into 2 or more assets	For each of the assets into which it is split, the amount worked out under section 40-205
2	A *depreciating asset or assets that you *hold is or are merged into another depreciating asset	For the other asset, the amount worked out under section 40-210
3	A *balancing adjustment event happens to a *depreciating asset you *hold because you stop using it for any purpose expecting never to use it again, and you continue to hold it	The *termination value of the asset at the time of the event

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

First element of the cost of a depreciating asset
Item	In this case:	The cost is:
4	A *balancing adjustment event happens to a *depreciating asset you *hold but have not used because you expect never to use it, and you continue to hold it	The *termination value of the asset at the time of the event
5	A partnership asset that was *held, just before it became a partnership asset, by one or more partners (whether or not any other entity was a joint holder) or a partnership asset to which subsection 40-295(2) applies	The *market value of the asset when the partnership started to hold it or when the change referred to in subsection 40-295(2) occurred
6	There is roll-over relief under section 40-340 for a *balancing adjustment event happening to a *depreciating asset	The *adjustable value of the asset to the transferor just before the balancing adjustment event occurred
7	You are the legal owner of a *depreciating asset that is hired under a *hire purchase agreement and you start *holding it because the entity to whom it is hired does not become the legal owner	The *market value of the asset when you started to hold it
8	You started to *hold the asset under an *arrangement and: (a) there is at least one other party to the arrangement with whom you did not deal at *arm's length; and (b) apart from this item, the first element of the asset's cost would exceed its *market value	The market value of the asset when you started to hold it
9	You started to *hold the asset under an *arrangement that was private or domestic in nature to you (for example, a gift)	The *market value of the asset when you started to hold it
10	The Minister for Finance has determined a cost for you under section 49A, 49B, 50A, 50B, 51A or 51B of the Airports (Transitional) Act 1996	The cost so determined

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-185

---

---

First element of the cost of a depreciating asset

---

Item	In this case:	The cost is:
11	To which Division 58 (which deals with assets previously owned by an *exempt entity) applies	The amount applicable under subsections 58-70(3) and (5)
12	A *balancing adjustment event happens to a *depreciating asset because a person dies and the asset devolves to you as the person's *legal personal representative	The asset's *adjustable value on the day the person died or, if the asset is allocated to a low-value pool, so much of the *closing pool balance for the income year in which the person died as is reasonably attributable to the asset
13	You started to *hold a *depreciating asset because it *passed to you as the beneficiary or a joint tenant	The *market value of the asset when you started to hold it reduced by any *capital gain that was disregarded under section 128-10 or subsection 128-15(3), whether by the deceased or by the *legal personal representative

---

(3) The first element of *cost includes an amount you paid or are taken to have paid in relation to starting to *hold the *depreciating asset if that amount is directly connected with holding the asset.

(4) The first element of *cost of a *depreciating asset does not include an amount that forms part of the second element of cost of another depreciating asset.

40-185 Amount you are taken to have paid to hold a depreciating asset or to receive a benefit

(1) This Division applies to you as if you had paid, to *hold a *depreciating asset or for an economic benefit for such an asset, the greater of these amounts:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (a) the sum of the amounts that would have been included in your assessable income because you started to hold the asset or received the benefit, or because you gave something to start holding the asset or receive the benefit, if you ignored the value of anything you gave that reduced the amount actually included; or
- (b) the sum of the applicable amounts set out in this table in relation to holding the asset or receiving the benefit.

Example 1: Gold Medals Ltd manufactures some medals for a local sporting association's annual meeting in return for a die cut stamping machine. The medals have a market value of $20,000. The machine has an arm's length value of $100,000 but Gold Medals has to contribute $75,000 towards acquiring it from the association. Gold Medals will have to include:

$$\left( $100,000 - $75,000 \right) = $25,000$$

in its assessable income because of section 21A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

The first element of the machine's cost will be the greater of:

- the amount it paid ($75,000) plus the market value of the non-cash benefits it provided ($20,000), which comes to $95,000; and
- the amount that was assessable income from receiving the machine ($25,000) plus the amount by which that assessable income was reduced because of the payment Gold Medals made ($75,000), which comes to $100,000.

So, in this case, the first element of the machine's cost to Gold Medals is $100,000.

Example 2: Laura travels overseas to purchase a purpose-built vehicle for use in her trade. The purchase of the vehicle is the sole reason for the trip. Laura incurs expenses for airfares and accommodation. These expenses are included in the cost of the vehicle because they are "in relation to starting to hold" the vehicle.

---

Amount you are taken to have paid to hold a depreciating asset or to receive a benefit

---

Item	In this case:	The amount is:
1	You pay an amount	The amount
2	You incur or increase a liability to pay an amount	The amount of the liability or increase when you incurred or increased it

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 40 Capital allowances

Section 40-190

---

---

Amount you are taken to have paid to hold a depreciating asset or to receive a benefit

---

Item	In this case:	The amount is:
3	All or part of a liability to pay an amount owed to you by another entity is terminated	The amount of the liability or part when it is terminated
4	You provide a *non-cash benefit	The *market value of the non-cash benefit when it is provided
5	You incur or increase a liability to provide a *non-cash benefit	The *market value of the non-cash benefit or the increase when you incurred or increased the liability
6	All or part of a liability to provide a *non-cash benefit (except the *depreciating asset) owed to you by another entity is terminated	The *market value of the non-cash benefit when the liability is terminated

---

Note 1: Item 1 includes not only amounts actually paid but also amounts taken to have been paid. Examples include the price of the notional purchase made when trading stock is converted to a depreciating asset under section 70-110, the cost of an asset held under a hire purchase arrangement under section 240-25 and a lessor's deemed purchase price when a luxury car lease is terminated under subsection 42A-105(3) of Schedule 2E to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Note 2: Section 230-505 provides special rules for working out the amount of consideration for an asset if the asset is a Division 230 financial arrangement or a Division 230 financial arrangement is involved in that consideration.

- (2) In applying the table in subsection (1) to a liability of yours to pay an amount or provide a *non-cash benefit, don't count any part of the liability you have already satisfied.

40-190 Second element of cost

- (1) The second element is worked out after you start to *hold the *depreciating asset.
- (2) The second element is:
- (a) the amount you are taken to have paid under section 40-185 for each economic benefit that has contributed to bringing the

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

asset to its present condition and location from time to time since you started to *hold the asset; and

- (b) expenditure you incur that is reasonably attributable to a *balancing adjustment event occurring for the asset.

Example 1: Andrew adds a new tray and canopy to his ute. The materials and labour that go into the addition are economic benefits that Andrew received and that contribute to the ute's present condition.

The payments he makes for those economic benefits are included in the second element of the ute's cost.

Example 2: Leonie needed to replace one of her old depreciating assets that was fixed to her land with a new, more efficient one. Leonie paid a contractor a fee to demolish and remove the old asset. This resulted in a balancing adjustment event occurring for the old asset, and the fee forms part of the second element of the cost of the old asset that was demolished.

Note: The second element of the cost may be modified by a later provision in this Subdivision.

- (2A) Paragraph (2)(b) does not apply to a *balancing adjustment event referred to in item 6 or 11 of the table in subsection 40-300(2).
- (3) However, the second element is worked out using this table if an item in it applies. Use the last applicable item.

---

Second element of the cost of a depreciating asset

---

Item	In this case:	The second element of cost is:
1	You received the benefit under an *arrangement and: (a) there is at least one other party to the arrangement with whom you did not deal at *arm's length; and (b) apart from this item, the second element of cost for the benefit would exceed its *market value	The market value of the benefit when you received it
2	You received the benefit under an *arrangement that was private or domestic in nature to you	The *market value of the benefit when you received it

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-195

---

40-195 Apportionment of cost

If you pay an amount for 2 or more things that include at least one *depreciating asset, or that include a contribution to bringing a depreciating asset to its present condition and location, you take into account as part of its *cost only that part of what you paid that is reasonably attributable to the asset.

Example: Ian buys 3 assets (one depreciating asset and 2 other assets) under the one transaction. He pays $30,000 for the 3 assets. $25,000 of that amount is reasonably attributable to the depreciating asset.

The first element of the depreciating asset's cost is $25,000.

40-200 Exclusion from cost

The *cost of a *depreciating asset that is not *plant does not include any amount that was incurred:

- (a) before 1 July 2001; or
- (b) under a contract entered into before that day.

40-205 Cost of a split depreciating asset

If you split a *depreciating asset into separate assets as mentioned in section 40-115, the first element of the cost of each of the separate assets is a reasonable proportion of the sum of these amounts:

- (a) the *adjustable value of the original asset just before it was split; and
- (b) the amount you are taken to have paid under section 40-185 for any economic benefit involved in splitting the original asset.

Example: Barry owns a spectrum licence that covers 3 areas: Area A, area B and area C. The licence has an adjustable value of $160,000. He sells area A to Chris, and his costs of splitting are $10,000. Barry is taken to have split the licence into 2 assets.

On the basis of their relative market values, Barry apportions $170,000 to area A (that he disposed of) and to the licence he still holds for areas B and C.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

40-210 Cost of merged depreciating assets

If a *depreciating asset or assets that you *hold is or are merged into another depreciating asset as mentioned in section 40-125, the first element of the cost of the merged asset is a reasonable proportion of the sum of:

- (a) the *adjustable value or adjustable values of the original asset or assets just before the merger; and
- (b) the amount you are taken to have paid under section 40-185 for any economic benefit involved in merging the original asset or assets.

40-215 Adjustment: double deduction

- (1) Each element of the *cost of a *depreciating asset is reduced by any portion of that element of cost that you have deducted or can deduct, or that has been or will be taken into account in working out an amount you can deduct, other than under this Division, Division 41 or Division 328.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to deductions for research and development plant expenditure (sections 73B and 73BA of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936).

Note: Subsection (2) does not have the effect that deductions for the same amount of any such expenditure will be allowable under both this Division and section 73B or 73BA. Such an outcome is prevented by subsection 40-25(2) (including as applied by section 73BC for the purposes of section 73BA) and subsections 73B(20) and 73BA(7).

40-220 Cost reduced by amounts not of a capital nature

The *cost of a *depreciating asset is reduced by any portion of it that consists of an amount that is not of a capital nature.

40-225 Adjustment: acquiring a car at a discount

- (1) You must increase the first element of the cost of a *car designed mainly for carrying passengers you acquire at a discount if:
  - (a) it is reasonable to conclude that any portion (the discount portion) of the discount is referable to you or another entity selling another asset for less than its *market value; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-230

---

- (b) you, or another entity, has deducted or can deduct an amount for the other asset for any income year; and
  - (c) the sum of the cost of the car and the discount portion exceeds the *car limit for the *financial year in which you first use the car for any purpose.
- (2) The first element of the cost of the *car is increased by the discount portion.
  - (3) This section does not apply to a *car that is excluded from the *car limit by subsection 40-230(2).

40-230 Adjustment: car limit

- (1) The first element of the cost of a *car designed mainly for carrying passengers (after applying section 40-225 and Subdivision 27-B) is reduced to the *car limit for the *financial year in which you started to *hold it if its cost exceeds that limit.
- (2) However, the *car limit does not apply to a *car:
  - (a) fitted out for transporting disabled people in wheelchairs for profit; or
  - (b) whose first element of *cost exceeds that limit only because of modifications made to enable an individual with a disability to use it for a *taxable purpose.
- (3) The car limit for the 2000-01 *financial year is $55,134. The limit is indexed annually.

Note: Subdivision 960-M shows you how to index amounts.
- (4) If you *hold a *car that is also held by one or more other entities, subsection (1) applies to the *cost of the car despite section 40-35. Then section 40-35 applies to the cost of the car as reduced under subsection (1).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Subdivision 40-D—Balancing adjustments

Guide to Subdivision 40-D

40-280 What this Subdivision is about

You may have to make an adjustment to your taxable income if you stop holding a depreciating asset.

The adjustment is generally based on the difference between the actual value of the asset when you stop holding it and its adjustable value.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

40-285	Balancing adjustments
40-290	Reduction for non-taxable use
40-292	Adjustments where deductions for decline in value also allowable under section 73BA or 73BH of Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
40-295	Meaning of balancing adjustment event
40-300	Meaning of termination value
40-305	Amount you are taken to have received under a balancing adjustment event
40-310	Apportionment of termination value
40-320	Car to which section 40-225 applies
40-325	Adjustment: car limit
40-335	Deduction for in-house software where you will never use it
40-340	Roll-over relief
40-345	What the roll-over relief is
40-350	Additional consequences
40-360	Notice to allow transferee to work out how this Division applies
40-365	Involuntary disposals
40-370	Balancing adjustments where there has been use of different car expense methods

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-285

---

Operative provisions

40-285 Balancing adjustments

- (1) An amount is included in your assessable income if:
- (a) a *balancing adjustment event occurs for a *depreciating asset you *held and:
    - (i) whose decline in value you worked out under Subdivision 40-B; or
    - (ii) whose decline in value you would have worked out under that Subdivision if you had used the asset; and
  - (b) the asset's *termination value is more than its *adjustable value just before the event occurred.

The amount included is the difference between those amounts, and it is included for the income year in which the balancing adjustment event occurred.

Note 1: The most common balancing adjustment event is where you sell the depreciating asset.

Note 2: There is a different calculation if you had used different car expense methods for a car: see section 40-370.

Note 3: There is a modification to the calculation in the case of misappropriation by your employee or agent: see section 25-47.

- (2) You can deduct an amount if:
- (a) a *balancing adjustment event occurs for a *depreciating asset you *held and:
    - (i) whose decline in value you worked out under Subdivision 40-B; or
    - (ii) whose decline in value you would have worked out under that Subdivision if you had used the asset; and
  - (b) the asset's *termination value is less than its *adjustable value just before the event occurred.

The amount you can deduct is the difference between those amounts, and you can deduct it for the income year in which the balancing adjustment event occurred.

Note 1: There is a different calculation if you had used different car expense methods for a car: see section 40-370.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Note 2: The timing of a deduction allowed under this subsection is determined under Subdivision 170-D where that Subdivision applies to the balancing adjustment event.

Note 3: There is a modification to the calculation in the case of misappropriation by your employee or agent: see section 25-47.

- (3) The *adjustable value of a *depreciating asset you *hold after this section applies to it is then zero.
- (4) However, subsection (3) does not apply to a *depreciating asset for which you have a *cost under item 3 or 4 of the table in subsection 40-180(2). Instead, the asset's *opening adjustable value for the income year (the later year) after the one in which the *balancing adjustment event occurred is that cost plus any amounts included in the second element of that cost after the event occurred and before the start of the later year.

Note: Those items deal with a case where a balancing adjustment event happens because you still hold an asset you expected not to use.

40-290 Reduction for non-taxable use

- (1) You must reduce the amount (the balancing adjustment amount) included in your assessable income, or the amount you can deduct, under section 40-285 for a *depreciating asset if your deductions for the asset have been reduced under section 40-25.
- (2) The reduction is:

$$\frac{\text{Sum of reductions}}{\text{Total decline}} \times \text{Balancing adjustment amount}$$

where:

sum of reductions is the sum of:

- (a) the reductions in your deductions for the asset under section 40-25; and
- (b) if there has been roll-over relief for the asset under section 40-340—the reductions in deductions for the asset for the transferor or an earlier successive transferor under section 40-25; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-290

---

- (c) if you *hold the asset as the *legal personal representative of an individual—the reductions in deductions for the asset for the individual under section 40-25.

total decline is the sum of:

- (a) the decline in value of the *depreciating asset since you started to *hold it; and
  - (b) if there has been roll-over relief for the asset under section 40-340—the decline in value of the asset for the transferor or an earlier successive transferor; and
  - (c) if you *hold the asset as the *legal personal representative of an individual—the decline in value of the asset for the individual.
- (3) You must further reduce the amount included in your assessable income, or the amount you can deduct, under section 40-285 for a *depreciating asset (the current asset) if:
- (a) the asset's *cost (for you) was worked out under section 40-205 (Cost of a split depreciating asset) or 40-210 (Cost of merged depreciating assets); and
  - (b) you used the depreciating asset from which the current asset was split, or a depreciating asset that was merged into the current asset, or had it *installed ready for use, for a purpose other than a *taxable purpose.
- (4) The further reduction is such amount as is reasonable having regard to the extent of the use referred to in paragraph (3)(b).

Exception: mining, quarrying or prospecting information

- (5) This section does not apply to *mining, quarrying or prospecting information.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

40-292 Adjustments where deductions for decline in value also allowable under section 73BA or 73BH of *Income Tax Assessment Act 1936

Section applies if deductions for decline in value under both this Division and section 73BA

- (1) This section applies if:
  - (a) a *balancing adjustment event occurs for a *depreciating asset you *held and:
    - (i) whose decline in value you worked out under Subdivision 40-B; or
    - (ii) whose decline in value you would have worked out under that Subdivision if you had used the asset; and
  - (b) for any income year in which you held the asset, you also deducted an amount for it under section 73BA or 73BH of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, or could have done so if:
    - (i) you had not chosen a tax offset under section 73I of that Act; or
    - (ii) section 73BAF of that Act had not been enacted.

Section 40-290 to be applied as if use for carrying on research and development activities were use for a taxable purpose

- (2) If this section applies, you must, in applying section 40-290 (including references in that section to the reduction of deductions under section 40-25) in relation to the *depreciating asset, assume that when you used it either for a taxable purpose or for the purpose of the carrying on by or on behalf of you of research and development activities, within the meaning of section 73B of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, you used it for a taxable purpose.

Increase in amounts deductible or assessable under section 40-285 where 1.25 rate deductions under section 73BA or 73BH

- (3) If:
  - (a) this section applies; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-292

---

(b) the amount you deducted under section 73BA or 73BH of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, as mentioned in paragraph (1)(b) of this section, for at least one income year was worked out by multiplying a notional Division 40 deduction (within the meaning of section 73BA) or a notional Division 42 deduction (within the meaning of section 73BJ) by 1.25 (or would have been so worked out had section 73BAF of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 not been enacted);

then subsection (4) applies.

(4) Any amount (the section 40-285 amount) that you can deduct, or that is included in your assessable income, for the *depreciating asset under section 40-285 (after applying subsection (2) of this section) is increased by the amount worked out using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Sum of all 1.25 rate notional Division 40/42 deductions}}{\text{Total decline in value}} \times \frac{\text{Adjusted section 40-285 amount}}{\text{40-285 amount}} \times 0.25$$

where:

adjusted section 40-285 amount means:

- (a) if the section 40-285 amount is a deduction—the amount of the deduction; or
- (b) if the section 40-285 amount is an amount included in your assessable income—so much of the section 40-285 amount as does not exceed the formula component total decline in value.

sum of all 1.25 rate notional Division 40/42 deductions means the sum of all notional Division 40 deductions and notional Division 42 deductions (see paragraph (3)(b)) that were multiplied by 1.25 in working out the amounts you deducted for the *depreciating asset as mentioned in paragraph (1)(b).

total decline in value means the cost of the *depreciating asset less its *adjustable value.

Note: An asset whose tax cost is set under Division 701 of this Act may have its adjustable value reduced in applying this section: see section 73BAG of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

40-295 Meaning of *balancing adjustment event

- (1) A balancing adjustment event occurs for a *depreciating asset if:
- (a) you stop *holding the asset; or
  - (b) you stop using it, or having it *installed ready for use, for any purpose and you expect never to use it, or have it installed ready for use, again; or
  - (c) you have not used it and:
    - (i) if you have had it installed ready for use—you stop having it so installed; and
    - (ii) you decide never to use it.

Note: A balancing adjustment event occurs under paragraph 40-295(1)(a) when you start holding a depreciating asset as trading stock.

- (2) A balancing adjustment event occurs for a *depreciating asset if:
- (a) for any reason, a change occurs in the *holding of, or in the interests of entities in, the asset; and
  - (b) the entity or one of the entities that had an interest in the asset before the change has an interest in it after the change; and
  - (c) the asset was a partnership asset before the change or becomes one as a result of the change.
- (3) However, a balancing adjustment event does not occur for a *depreciating asset merely because you split it into 2 or more depreciating assets or you merge it with one or more other depreciating assets.

Note: A balancing adjustment event will occur if you stop holding part of a depreciating asset.

40-300 Meaning of *termination value

- (1) The termination value of a *depreciating asset is worked out as at the time when the *balancing adjustment event occurs. It is:
- (a) if an item in the table in subsection (2) applies—the amount specified in that item; or
  - (b) otherwise—the amount you are taken to have received under section 40-305 for the asset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 40 Capital allowances

Section 40-300

---

Note: Section 230-505 provides special rules for working out the amount of consideration for an asset if the asset is a Division 230 financial arrangement or a Division 230 financial arrangement is involved in that consideration.

- (2) If more than one item applies, use the value under the last applicable item.

---

Termination value table

---

Item	For this balancing adjustment event:	The termination value is:
1	You stop using a *depreciating asset, or having it *installed ready for use, for any purpose and you expect never to use it again even though you still *hold it	The *market value of the asset when you stopped using it or having it *installed ready for use
2	You decide never to use a *depreciating asset that you have not used even though you still *hold it	The *market value of the asset when you make the decision
3	You stop using *in-house software for any purpose and you expect never to use it again even though you still *hold it	Zero
4	You decide never to use *in-house software that you have not used even though you still *hold it	Zero
5	One or more partners stop holding a *depreciating asset when it becomes a partnership asset or a *balancing adjustment event referred to in subsection 40-295(2) occurs	The *market value of the asset when the partnership started to *hold it or when the balancing adjustment event occurred
6	You stop *holding a *depreciating asset under an *arrangement and: (a) there is at least one other party to the arrangement with whom you did not deal at *arm's length; and (b) apart from this item, the *termination value would be less than its *market value	The market value of the asset just before you stopped holding it

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Termination value table

Item	For this balancing adjustment event:	The termination value is:
7	You stop *holding a *depreciating asset under an *arrangement that was private or domestic in nature to you (for example, a gift)	The *market value of the asset just before you stopped *holding it
8	A *depreciating asset is lost or destroyed	The amount or value received or receivable under an insurance policy or otherwise for the loss or destruction
9	You stop *holding a *depreciating asset because you die and the asset starts being held by the *legal personal representative	The asset's *adjustable value on the day you died or, if the asset is allocated to a low-value pool, so much of the *closing pool balance for the income year in which you died as is reasonably attributable to the asset
10	You stop *holding a *depreciating asset because it *passes directly to a beneficiary or joint tenant when you die	The *market value of the asset on the day you die
11	A *depreciating asset for which the Minister for Finance has determined an amount for you under section 52A of the Airports (Transitional) Act 1996	The amount so determined

- (3) The termination value of a *depreciating asset does not include an amount that is included in assessable income as *ordinary income under section 6-5 or as *statutory income under section 6-10 (except an amount that is statutory income under this Division).

Note: Termination value may be adjusted under Subdivision 27-B so that any GST consequences are accounted for.

40-305 Amount you are taken to have received under a balancing adjustment event

- (1) This Division applies to you as if you had received, under a *balancing adjustment event, the greater of these amounts:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 40 Capital allowances

Section 40-305

---

- (a) the sum of the amounts you have deducted or can deduct, or has been or will be taken into account in working out an amount you can deduct because of the balancing adjustment event and any amount by which the amount so deductible was reduced because of a case described in the table in this subsection; and
- (b) the sum of the applicable amounts set out in that table:

---

Amount you are taken to have received under a balancing adjustment event
Item	In this case:	The amount is:
1	You receive an amount	The amount
2	You terminate all or part of a liability to pay an amount	The amount of the liability or part when you terminate it
3	You are granted a right to receive an amount or an amount to which you are entitled is increased	The amount of the right or increase when it is granted or increased
4	You receive a *non-cash benefit	The *market value of the non-cash benefit when it is received
5	You terminate all or part of a liability to provide a *non-cash benefit	The *market value of the non-cash benefit or reduction in the non-cash benefit when the liability or part is terminated
6	You are granted a right to receive a *non-cash benefit or you become entitled to an increased non-cash benefit	The *market value of the non-cash benefit, or the increase, when it is granted or increased

---

Note 1: Item 1 includes not only amounts actually received but also amounts taken to have been received. Examples include the price of the notional sale made when a depreciating asset is converted to trading stock under section 70-30, the consideration for an asset held under a hire purchase arrangement under section 240-25 and a lessee's deemed consideration when a luxury car lease is terminated under subsection 42A-105(3) of Schedule 2E to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Note 2: Section 230-505 provides special rules for working out the amount of consideration for an asset if the asset is a Division 230 financial arrangement or a Division 230 financial arrangement is involved in that consideration.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (2) In applying the table in subsection (1) to a right you have to receive an amount or a *non-cash benefit, don't count any part of the right that has already been satisfied.

40-310 Apportionment of termination value

If you receive an amount for 2 or more things that include a *balancing adjustment event occurring for a *depreciating asset, you take into account as its *termination value only that part of what you received that is reasonably attributable to the asset.

40-320 Car to which section 40-225 applies

You must increase the *termination value of a *car the *cost of which was increased under section 40-225 by the discount portion for the car referred to in that section.

40-325 Adjustment: car limit

The termination value of a *car the *cost of which was worked out by applying section 40-230 (Car limit) is the amount worked out under subsection 40-300(1) multiplied by the fraction:

$$\frac{CL + \text{Amounts included in the second element of the *car's *cost}}{\text{Total cost of the car (ignoring the *car limit) after applying Subdivision 27-B}}$$

where:

CL is the *car limit for the *car for the *financial year in which you first used it for any purpose.

40-335 Deduction for in-house software where you will never use it

- (1) You can deduct expenditure you incurred on *in-house software if:
- (a) you incurred the expenditure with the intention of using the software for a *taxable purpose; and
  - (b) the expenditure relates to a unit of software that you have not used or had *installed ready for use; and
  - (c) the expenditure is not allocated to a software development pool (see Subdivision 40-E); and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-340

---

- (d) in the *current year, you have decided that you will never use the software, or have it installed ready for use.
- (2) The amount that you can deduct in the *current year is:
  - (a) the total of your expenditure on the *in-house software in the current year and any previous income year; less
  - (b) any amount of consideration you *derive in relation to the software or any part of it (but no more than the total in paragraph (a));but only to the extent that, when you incurred the expenditure, you intended to use the software, or have it *installed ready for use, for a *taxable purpose.

Example: Shannon has abandoned a software project that she was working on. She could not deduct expenditure on the project for the current year or any previous income year under any other provision. Shannon can deduct it under this section, to the extent that she intended to use it, or have it installed ready for use, for a taxable purpose.

Note: If an amount of the expenditure is recouped, the amount may be included in her assessable income: see Subdivision 20-A.

40-340 Roll-over relief

Automatic roll-over relief

- (1) There is roll-over relief if:
  - (a) there is a *balancing adjustment event because an entity (the transferor) disposes of a *depreciating asset in an income year to another entity (the transferee); and
  - (b) the disposal involves a *CGT event; and
  - (c) the conditions in an item in this table are satisfied.

---

CGT roll-overs that qualify transferor for relief

---

Item	Type of CGT roll-over	Conditions
1	Disposal of asset to wholly-owned company	The transferor is able to choose a roll-over under Subdivision 122-A for the *CGT event.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

CGT roll-overs that qualify transferor for relief

---

Item	Type of CGT roll-over	Conditions
2	Disposal of asset by partnership to wholly-owned company	The transferor is a partnership, the property is partnership property and the partners are able to choose a roll-over under Subdivision 122-B for the disposal by the partners of the *CGT assets consisting of their interests in the property.
2A	Transfer of a *CGT asset of a trust to a company under a trust restructure	The transferor and transferee are able to choose a roll-over under Subdivision 124-N for the *CGT event.
3	Marriage or relationship breakdown	There is a roll-over under Subdivision 126-A for the *CGT event.
4	Disposal of asset to another member of the same wholly-owned group	The transferor is able to choose a roll-over under Subdivision 126-B for the *CGT event.

---

Note: Section 40-345 sets out what the relief is.

- (2) In applying an item in the table in subsection (1), disregard the following so far as they relate to the *depreciating asset you disposed of:
- (a) an exemption in Division 118 (which contains the general exemptions from CGT); and
  - (b) subsection 122-25(3) (which excludes certain assets from roll-over relief under Subdivision 122-A); and
  - (c) subsection 124-870(5) (which excludes certain assets from roll-over relief under Subdivision 124-N).

Choosing roll-over relief

- (3) There is also roll-over relief if:
- (a) there is a *balancing adjustment event for a *depreciating asset because of subsection 40-295(2) (about a change in the holding of, or in interests in, the asset); and
  - (b) the entity or entities that had an interest in the asset before the change (also the transferor) and the entity or entities that have an interest in the asset after the change (also the transferee) jointly choose the roll-over relief.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 40 Capital allowances

Section 40-340

---

Example: The change could be a variation in the constitution of a partnership or in the interests of the partners.

Note 1: Section 40-345 sets out what the relief is.

Note 2: Subdivision 328-D sets out what the relief is for small business entities that calculate deductions for their depreciating assets under that Subdivision.

- (4) The choice must:
- (a) be in writing; and
  - (b) contain enough information about the transferor's holding of the property for the transferee to work out how this Division or Subdivision 328-D applies to the transferee's holding of the *depreciating asset; and
  - (c) be made within 6 months after the end of the transferee's income year in which the *balancing adjustment event occurred, or within a longer period allowed by the Commissioner.
- (5) If you die before the end of the time allowed for jointly choosing roll-over relief, the trustee of your estate may be a party to the choice.
- (6) The transferor must keep the choice or a copy of it for 5 years after the *balancing adjustment event occurred.

Penalty: 30 penalty units.

- (7) The transferee must keep the choice or a copy of it until the end of 5 years after the next *balancing adjustment event occurs for the *depreciating asset.

Penalty: 30 penalty units.

Exception: Subdivision 170-D applies

- (8) There can be no roll-over relief if Subdivision 170-D (about transactions by a company that is a member of a linked group) applies to the disposal of the *depreciating asset or the change in interests in it.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

40-345 What the roll-over relief is

- (1) Section 40-285 does not apply to the *balancing adjustment event for the transferor.
- (2) The transferee can deduct the decline in value of the *depreciating asset using the same method and *effective life (or *remaining effective life if that method is the *prime cost method) that the transferor was using.

40-350 Additional consequences

- (1) For the purposes of Division 45:
  - (a) if the transferor, or a partnership of which the transferor was a member, leased the *depreciating asset to another entity for most of the time that the transferor or partnership *held the asset, the transferee is taken also to have done so; and
  - (b) if the transferor, or a partnership of which the transferor was a member, leased the asset to another entity for a period on or after 22 February 1999, the transferee is taken also to have done so; and
  - (c) if the main *business of the transferor, or a partnership of which the transferor was a member, was to lease assets, the main business of the transferee is taken also to have been to lease assets.
- (2) However, subsection (1) does not apply to roll-over relief under subsection 40-340(3) if the sum of the amounts specified in paragraph 45-5(1)(e) or 45-10(1)(f), or subsection 45-5(4) or 45-10(4), is at least equal to the *market value of the *plant or interest concerned.

40-360 Notice to allow transferee to work out how this Division applies

- (1) This section applies if there is roll-over relief because of subsection 40-340(1).
- (2) The transferor must give the transferee a notice containing enough information about the transferor's *holding of the property for the

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-365

---

transferee to work out how this Division applies to the transferee's holding of the *depreciating asset.

- (3) The transferor must give the notice within 6 months after the end of the transferee's income year in which the *balancing adjustment event occurred, or within a longer period allowed by the Commissioner.
- (4) The transferee must keep the notice until the end of 5 years after the earlier of these events:
  - (a) the transferee disposes of the property;
  - (b) the property is lost or destroyed.

Penalty: 30 penalty units.

40-365 Involuntary disposals

- (1) You may exclude some or all of an amount that has been included in your assessable income for a *depreciating asset (the original asset) as a result of a *balancing adjustment event to the extent that you choose to treat it as an amount to be applied under subsection (5) for one or more replacement assets.
- (2) You can only make this choice if you stop *holding the asset because:
  - (a) the original asset is lost or destroyed; or
  - (b) the original asset is compulsorily acquired by an *Australian government agency; or
  - (c) the original asset is acquired by an entity (other than an Australian government agency or a *foreign government agency) under a power of compulsory acquisition conferred by a law covered under subsection (2A); or
  - (d) you dispose of the original asset to an entity (other than a foreign government agency) in circumstances meeting all of these conditions:
    - (i) the disposal takes place after a notice was served on you by or on behalf of the entity;
    - (ii) the notice invited you to negotiate with the entity with a view to the entity acquiring the asset by agreement;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (iii) the notice informed you that if the negotiations were unsuccessful, the asset would be compulsorily acquired by the entity;
  - (iv) the compulsory acquisition would have been under a power of compulsory acquisition conferred by a law covered under subsection (2A); or
  - (e) you dispose of land onto which the original asset was fixed to an entity (other than a foreign government agency) in circumstances meeting all of these conditions:
    - (i) a mining lease was compulsorily granted over the land;
    - (ii) the lease significantly affected your use of the land;
    - (iii) the lease was in force just before the disposal;
    - (iv) the entity to which you dispose of the land was the lessee under the lease; or
  - (f) you dispose of land onto which the original asset was fixed to an entity (other than a foreign government agency) in circumstances meeting all of these conditions:
    - (i) a mining lease would have been compulsorily granted over the land if you had not disposed of it;
    - (ii) that lease would have significantly affected your use of the land;
    - (iii) the entity to which you dispose of the land would have been the lessee under the lease.
- (2A) A law is covered under this subsection if it is:
- (a) an *Australian law (other than Chapter 6A of the Corporations Act 2001); or
  - (b) a *foreign law (other than a foreign law corresponding to Chapter 6A of the Corporations Act 2001).
- (3) You can only make this choice for a replacement asset if you incur the expenditure on the replacement asset, or you start to *hold it:
- (a) no earlier than one year, or within a further period the Commissioner allows, before the *balancing adjustment event occurred; and
  - (b) no later than one year, or within a further period the Commissioner allows, after the end of the income year in which the balancing adjustment event occurred.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-370

---

- (4) You can only make this choice for a replacement asset if:
  - (a) at the end of the income year in which you incurred the expenditure on the asset, or you started to *hold it, you used it, or had it *installed ready for use, wholly for a *taxable purpose; and
  - (b) you can deduct an amount for it.
- (5) For the purposes of applying this Act to the replacement asset:
  - (a) its *cost is reduced by the amount covered by the choice for the income year in which the asset's *start time occurs; and
  - (b) if the income year is later than the one in which the asset's *start time occurs—the sum of its *opening adjustable value for that later year and any amount included in the second element of the asset's cost for that later year is reduced by the amount covered by the choice.
- (6) If you are making the choice for 2 or more replacement assets, you apportion the amount covered by the choice between those items in proportion to their *cost.

40-370 Balancing adjustments where there has been use of different car expense methods

- (1) An amount is included in your assessable income or you can deduct an amount under this section instead of section 40-285 if:
  - (a) a *balancing adjustment event occurs for a *car you *held; and
  - (b) you have deducted or can deduct an amount for the decline in value of the car for an income year under this Division; and
  - (c) you chose:
    - (i) the “cents per kilometre” method in Subdivision 28-C; or
    - (ii) the “12% of original value” method in Subdivision 28-D;for deducting your car expenses for the car for one or more other income years.

Note 1: This means if you have only used the “log book” method or the “one-third of actual expenses” method since you began using the car, you calculate the assessable amount or deductible amount under section 40-285.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Note 2: Also, if you have only used the “cents per kilometre” method or the “12% of original value” method since you began using the car, no amount is assessable or deductible under this section or section 40-285.

- (2) Work out the amount you include in your assessable income or the amount you can deduct in this way:

Method statement

- Step 1. Subtract the *car’s *adjustable value just before the *balancing adjustment event occurred from the car’s *termination value.
- Step 2. Reduce the step 1 amount by the part of the *car’s decline in value that is attributable to your using the car, or having it *installed ready for use, for purposes other than *taxable purposes. You do this by applying the formula in subsection 40-290(2).
- Step 3. Multiply the step 2 amount by the total number of days for which you deducted the decline in value of the *car under this Division.
- Step 4. Divide the step 3 amount by the total number of days you *held the *car.
- Step 5. The step 4 amount is a deduction if it is negative or it is included in your assessable income if it is positive.

- (3) In working out the *adjustable value for the income years for which you chose the “cents per kilometre method” or the “12% of original value” method, you are to assume the decline in value was calculated under this Division on the same basis as those income years when those methods did not apply.
- (4) In working out the reduction in step 2 for the income years for which you chose the “cents per kilometre method” or the “12% of original value” method, you must assume that:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 40 Capital allowances

Section 40-420

---

- (a) you had not chosen either of those methods for the *car; and
- (b) Division 28 (car expenses) had not applied to the car; and
- (c) you used the car for *taxable purposes:
  - (i) to the extent of 20% if you used the “cents per kilometre” method; or
  - (ii) to the extent of one-third if you used the “12% of original value” method.

Subdivision 40-E—Low-value and software development pools

Guide to Subdivision 40-E

40-420 What this Subdivision is about

You may choose to work out the decline in value of low-cost assets (assets costing less than $1,000) and certain other depreciating assets through a low-value pool.

You may also choose to deduct amounts for expenditure you incur on in-house software through a software development pool.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

40-425	Allocating assets to a low-value pool
40-430	Rules for assets in low-value pools
40-435	Private or exempt use of assets
40-440	How you work out the decline in value of assets in low-value pools
40-445	Balancing adjustment events
40-450	Software development pools
40-455	How to work out your deduction
40-460	Your assessable income includes consideration for pooled software

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Operative provisions

40-425 Allocating assets to a low-value pool

- (1) You may choose to allocate a *low cost asset you *hold to a low-value pool for the income year in which you start to use it, or have it *installed ready for use, for a *taxable purpose.
- (2) A low-cost asset is a *depreciating asset, except a *horticultural plant whose *cost as at the end of the income year in which you start to use it, or have it *installed ready for use, for a *taxable purpose is less than $1,000.
- (3) You may also choose to allocate a *low-value asset to a low-value pool.
- (4) You cannot allocate a *depreciating asset to a low-value pool if:
  - (a) its *cost does not exceed $300; and
  - (b) you use the asset predominantly for the *purpose of producing assessable income that is not income from carrying on a *business; and
  - (c) the asset is not part of a set of assets that you started to hold in that income year where the total cost of the set of assets exceeds $300; and
  - (d) the total cost of the asset and any other identical, or substantially identical, asset that you start to hold in that income year does not exceed $300.
- (5) A low-value asset is a *depreciating asset, except a *horticultural plant, you *hold:
  - (a) if you have deducted or can deduct amounts for it under this Division for a previous income year—for which you used the *diminishing value method; and
  - (b) that has an *opening adjustable value for the current year of less than $1,000 (worked out using the diminishing value method); and
  - (c) that is not a *low-cost asset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-430

---

- (6) A *depreciating asset:
- (a) to which Division 58 (about assets previously owned by an exempt entity) applied for an entity sale situation; and
  - (b) for which you used the *diminishing value method; and
  - (c) whose *adjustable value as at the end of the income year before the *current year is less than $1,000;
- is also a low-value asset.

Exception: small business entities

- (7) You cannot allocate a *depreciating asset to a low-value pool if you deduct amounts for it under Subdivision 328-D (about capital allowances for small business entities).

Exception: research and development

- (8) You cannot allocate a *depreciating asset to a low-value pool if you can deduct an amount for the asset under section 73BA of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (or could so deduct an amount if you had not chosen a tax offset under section 73I of that Act) for a period before, or starting at the same time as, the allocation has effect.

40-430 Rules for assets in low-value pools

- (1) Once you have made a choice to allocate a *low-cost asset to a low-value pool for an income year, you must allocate all low-cost assets you start to *hold in that income year or a later one to the pool.

Note 1: This rule does not apply to low-value assets.

Note 2: If you are a small business entity for the income year and you calculate your deductions for your depreciating assets under Subdivision 328-D, you must deduct amounts for your depreciating assets under that Subdivision unless deductions for particular assets are specifically excluded by that Subdivision.

- (2) Once you allocate any *depreciating asset to a low-value pool, it must remain in the pool.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

40-435 Private or exempt use of assets

When you allocate a *depreciating asset to a low-value pool, you must make a reasonable estimate of the percentage (the taxable use percentage) of your use of the asset (including any past use) that will be for a *taxable purpose over:

- (a) for a *low-cost asset—its *effective life; or
- (b) for a *low-value asset—any period of its effective life that is yet to elapse at the start of the income year for which you allocate it to the pool.

40-440 How you work out the decline in value of assets in low-value pools

- (1) You work out the decline in value of *depreciating assets in a low-value pool for an income year in this way:

- Step 1. Work out the amount obtained by taking 18<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>% of the taxable use percentage of the *cost of each *low-cost asset you allocated to the pool for that year. Add those amounts.
- Step 2. Add to the step 1 amount 18<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>% of the taxable use percentage of any amounts included in the second element of the *cost for that year of:
- (a) assets allocated to the pool for an earlier income year; and
  - (b) *low-value assets allocated to the pool for the *current year.
- Step 3. Add to the step 2 amount 37<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>% of the sum of:
- (a) the *closing pool balance for the previous income year; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-445

---

- (b) the taxable use percentage of the *opening adjustable values of *low-value assets, at the start of the income year, that you allocated to the pool for that year.

Step 4. The result is the decline in value of the *depreciating assets in the pool.

- (2) The closing pool balance of a low-value pool for an income year is the sum of:
- (a) the *closing pool balance of the pool for the previous income year; and
  - (b) the taxable use percentage of the *costs of *low-cost assets you allocated to the pool for that year; and
  - (c) the taxable use percentage of the *opening adjustable values of any *low-value assets you allocated to the pool for that year as at the start of that year; and
  - (d) the taxable use percentage of any amounts included in the second element of the cost for the income year of:
    - (i) assets allocated to the pool for an earlier income year; and
    - (ii) low-value assets allocated to the pool for the *current year;

less the decline in value of the *depreciating assets in the pool worked out under subsection (1).

Note: The closing pool balance may be reduced under section 40-445 if a balancing adjustment event happens.

40-445 Balancing adjustment events

- (1) If a *balancing adjustment event happens to a *depreciating asset in a low-value pool in an income year, the *closing pool balance for that year is reduced (but not below zero) by the taxable use percentage of the asset's *termination value.
- (2) If the sum of the *termination values, or the part of it, applicable under subsection (1) exceeds the *closing pool balance of the pool for that year, the excess is included in your assessable income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

40-450 Software development pools

- (1) You may choose to allocate amounts of expenditure you incur on *in-house software in an income year to a software development pool if it is expenditure on developing, or having another entity develop, computer software.

Note: You cannot allocate expenditure on in-house software to a software development pool if it is expenditure on acquiring computer software or a right to use computer software.
- (2) Once you choose to create a software development pool for an income year, any amounts of the kind referred to in subsection (1) you incur after the pool is created (whether in that income year or a later one) must be allocated to a software development pool.
- (3) However, an amount of expenditure on *in-house software can only be allocated to a software development pool if you intend to use the software solely for a *taxable purpose.
- (4) You must create a separate software development pool for each income year for which you incur amounts of the kind referred to in subsection (1).

40-455 How to work out your deduction

For all the expenditure on *in-house software in a software development pool that was incurred in a particular income year (Year 1), you get deductions in successive income years as follows:

Deductions allowed for software development pool
Income year	Amount of expenditure you can deduct for that year
Year 1	Nil
Year 2	40%
Year 3	40%
Year 4	20%

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-460

---

40-460 Your assessable income includes consideration for pooled software

- (1) If expenditure on *in-house software is (or was) in your software development pool, your assessable income includes any amount you *derive as consideration in relation to the software.
- (2) However, subsection (1) does not apply if subsection 40-340(3) (roll-over relief) applies to the change.

Subdivision 40-F—Primary production depreciating assets

Guide to Subdivision 40-F

40-510 What this Subdivision is about

You can deduct amounts for capital expenditure on depreciating assets that are water facilities or horticultural plants.

The amount you can deduct is equal to the asset's decline in value during an income year (as measured under this Subdivision).

Table of sections

Operative provisions

40-515	Water facilities and horticultural plants
40-520	Meaning of water facility and horticultural plant
40-525	Conditions
40-530	When a water facility or horticultural plant starts to decline in value
40-535	Meaning of horticulture and commercial horticulture
40-540	How you work out the decline in value for water facilities
40-545	How you work out the decline in value for horticultural plants
40-555	Amounts you cannot deduct
40-560	Non-arm's length transactions
40-565	Extra deduction for destruction of a horticultural plant
40-570	How this Subdivision applies to partners and partnerships
40-575	Getting tax information if you acquire a horticultural plant

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Operative provisions

40-515 Water facilities and horticultural plants

- (1) You can deduct an amount equal to the decline in value for an income year (as worked out under this Subdivision) of a *depreciating asset that is one of these:
  - (a) a *water facility;
  - (b) a *horticultural plant.

Note 1: Sections 40-540 and 40-545 show you how to work out the decline.

Note 2: Generally, only one taxpayer can deduct amounts for a depreciating asset. However, if you and another taxpayer jointly hold the asset, each of you deduct amounts for it: see section 40-35.

Conditions

- (2) However, the applicable condition in section 40-525 must be satisfied for the *depreciating asset.

Limit on deduction

- (3) You cannot deduct more in total than the amount of capital expenditure incurred on the *depreciating asset.

Reduction of deduction: water facilities

- (4) You must reduce your deduction for a *water facility for an income year by the part of the facility's decline in value that is attributable to the period (if any) in the income year when it was:
  - (a) not wholly used in carrying on a *primary production business on land in Australia; or
  - (b) not wholly used for a *taxable purpose.
- (5) Paragraph (4)(a) does not apply to a *water facility if the expenditure incurred on the construction, manufacture, installation or acquisition of the water facility was incurred by an *irrigation water provider.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-520

---

Meaning of irrigation water provider

- (6) An irrigation water provider is an entity whose *business is primarily and principally the supply (otherwise than by using a *motor vehicle) of water to entities for use in *primary production businesses on land in Australia.

40-520 Meaning of water facility and horticultural plant

- (1) A water facility is:
- (a) *plant or a structural improvement, or a repair of a capital nature, or an alteration, addition or extension, to plant or a structural improvement, that is primarily and principally for the purpose of conserving or conveying water; or
  - (b) a structural improvement, or a repair of a capital nature, or an alteration, addition or extension, to a structural improvement, that is reasonably incidental to conserving or conveying water.

Example: Examples of a water facility include a dam, tank, tank stand, bore, well, irrigation channel, pipe, pump, water tower and windmill. Examples of things reasonably incidental to conserving or conveying water include a culvert, a fence to prevent livestock entering an irrigation channel and a bridge over an irrigation channel.

- (2) A horticultural plant is a live plant or fungus that is cultivated or propagated for any of its products or parts.

40-525 Conditions

Water facilities

- (1) The capital expenditure you incurred on the construction, manufacture, installation or acquisition of the *water facility must have been incurred:
- (a) primarily and principally for the purpose of conserving or conveying water for use in a *primary production business that you conduct on land in Australia; or
  - (b) for expenditure incurred by an *irrigation water provider—primarily and principally for the purpose of conserving or conveying water for use in primary production businesses

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

conducted by other entities on land in Australia, being entities supplied with water by the irrigation water provider.

Note: If Division 250 applies to you and an asset that is a water facility:

- (a) if section 250-150 applies—the condition in this subsection is taken to be satisfied for the facility to the extent specified in a determination made under subsection 250-150(3); or
- (b) otherwise—the condition in this subsection is taken not to be satisfied for the facility.

Horticultural plants

(2) One of the conditions in this table must be satisfied:

---

Conditions relating to horticultural plants

---

Item	Condition
1	You own the *horticultural plant and any holder of a lease, lesser interest or licence relating to the land does not carry on a *business of *horticulture on the land
2	The *horticultural plant is attached to land you hold under a lease, or a *quasi-ownership right granted by an *exempt Australian government agency or an *exempt foreign government agency, and: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) the lease or quasi-ownership right enables you to carry on a *business of *horticulture on the land; and</li> <li>(b) any holder of a lesser interest or licence relating to the land does not carry on a *business of *horticulture on the land.</li> </ul>
3	You: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) hold a licence relating to the land to which the *horticultural plant is attached; and</li> <li>(b) carry on a *business of *horticulture on the land as a result of holding the licence.</li> </ul>

Note: If Division 250 applies to you and an asset that is a horticultural plant:

- (a) if section 250-150 applies—a condition in this subsection is taken to be satisfied for the plant to the extent specified in a determination made under subsection 250-150(3); or
- (b) otherwise—the conditions in this subsection are taken not to be satisfied for the horticultural plant.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-530

---

40-530 When a water facility or horticultural plant starts to decline in value

A *water facility or horticultural plant starts to decline in value in the income year worked out using this table:

Start of decline in value
Item	This asset:	Starts to decline in value in:
1	A *water facility	the income year in which you first incur expenditure on the facility
2	A *horticultural plant	(a) if you are the first entity to satisfy a condition in subsection 40-525(2) for the plant—the income year in which the first commercial season starts; or (b) if not—the later of the income year in which you first satisfied that condition and the income year in which the first commercial season starts

40-535 Meaning of horticulture and *commercial horticulture

- (1) Horticulture includes:
  - (a) propagation and cultivation of a *horticultural plant in any environment (whether natural or artificial); and
  - (b) propagation and cultivation of seeds, bulbs, spores and similar things; and
  - (c) propagation and cultivation of fungi.
- (2) Use for commercial horticulture means use for the *purpose of producing assessable income in a *business of *horticulture.

40-540 How you work out the decline in value for water facilities

You work out the decline in value of a *water facility for an income year in this way for the income year in which you incurred the expenditure and the 2 following years:

$$\text{Expenditure} \times 33\frac{1}{3}\%$$

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

where:

expenditure is the amount of capital expenditure you incurred on the construction, manufacture, installation or acquisition of the *water facility.

40-545 How you work out the decline in value for horticultural plants

- (1) The decline in value of a *horticultural plant for the income year in which it starts to decline in value is all of the capital expenditure attributable to the establishment of the plant if its *effective life is less than 3 years.
- (2) You work out the decline in value for an income year of a *horticultural plant whose *effective life is 3 years or more in this way:

$$\text{Establishment expenditure} \times \frac{\text{Write-off days in income year}}{365} \times \text{Write-off rate}$$

where:

establishment expenditure is the amount of capital expenditure incurred that is attributable to the establishment of the *horticultural plant.

write-off days in income year is the number of days in the income year on which you satisfied a condition in subsection 40-525(2) for the plant and either used it for *commercial horticulture or held it ready for that use.

write-off rate is the rate shown in this table for the *horticultural plant according to its *effective life.

Write-off rate for horticultural plant
Item	Effective life of:	The write-off rate is:
1	3 to fewer than 5 years	40%
2	5 to fewer than 6 <sup>2</sup> / <sub>3</sub> years	27%
3	6 <sup>2</sup> / <sub>3</sub> to fewer than 10 years	20%

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-555

---

Write-off rate for horticultural plant
Item	Effective life of:	The write-off rate is:
4	10 to fewer than 13 years	17%
5	13 to fewer than 30 years	13%
6	30 years or more	7%

Limit on write-off days

- (3) Disregard your use of the *horticultural plant on a day outside the period that:
- (a) starts when the plant can first be used for *commercial horticulture; and
  - (b) extends for the time shown in this table (depending on the plant's *effective life).

Period after which you cannot count use of horticultural plant
Item	Effective life:	Time limit:
1	3 to fewer than 5 years	2 years and 183 days
2	5 to fewer than 6 <sup>2</sup> / <sub>3</sub> years	3 years and 257 days
3	6 <sup>2</sup> / <sub>3</sub> to fewer than 10 years	5 years
4	10 to fewer than 13 years	5 years and 323 days
5	13 to fewer than 30 years	7 years and 253 days
6	30 years or more	14 years and 105 days

40-555 Amounts you cannot deduct

Water facilities

- (1) You cannot deduct an amount for any income year for capital expenditure on the acquisition of a *water facility if any person has deducted or can deduct an amount under this Subdivision for any income year for earlier capital expenditure on:
- (a) the construction or manufacture of the facility; or
  - (b) a previous acquisition of the facility.

Note: A depreciating asset and a repair of a capital nature or an alteration, addition or extension to that asset that is a water facility are not the same depreciating asset for the purposes of section 40-50 and this Subdivision: see section 40-53.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Horticultural plants

- (3) In working out your deduction under this Subdivision for a *horticultural plant, disregard expenditure incurred:
- (a) in draining swamp or low-lying land; or
  - (b) in clearing land.

40-560 Non-arm's length transactions

If you incurred capital expenditure under an *arrangement and:

- (a) there is at least one other party to the arrangement with whom you did not deal at *arm's length; and
  - (b) apart from this section, the amount of the expenditure would be more than the *market value of what it was for;
- the amount of expenditure you take into account under this Subdivision is that market value.

40-565 Extra deduction for destruction of a horticultural plant

- (1) You can deduct the amount worked out under subsection (2) for a *horticultural plant for an income year if its *effective life is 3 years or more and it is destroyed during the income year while you own it and use it for *commercial horticulture.
- (2) Work out your deduction as follows:

Method statement

- Step 1. Work out the total of the amounts you could have deducted under this Subdivision for the *horticultural plant for the period:
- (a) starting when the plant could first be used for *commercial horticulture; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-570

---

(b) ending when it was destroyed;

assuming that, during that period, you satisfied a condition in section 40-525 for the plant and used it for commercial horticulture.

Step 2. Subtract from the capital expenditure that is attributable to the establishment of the *horticultural plant:

(a) the result from step 1; and

(b) any amount you received (under an insurance policy or otherwise) for the destruction.

The remaining amount (if any) is your deduction under subsection (1).

(3) This deduction is in addition to any deduction for the income year under section 40-545.

40-570 How this Subdivision applies to partners and partnerships

(1) This section applies to allocate expenditure to you for the purposes of this Subdivision if you were a partner in a partnership when it incurred capital expenditure during an income year.

(2) For the purposes of this Subdivision, you are taken to have incurred during that income year:

(a) the amount of the expenditure that the partners agreed you should bear; or

(b) if there was no such agreement—the proportion of the expenditure equal to the proportion of your individual interest in the net income or partnership loss of the partnership for that income year.

(3) Disregard this Subdivision when working out the net income or partnership loss of the partnership under section 90 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

40-575 Getting tax information if you acquire a horticultural plant

- (1) If you begin to satisfy a condition in section 40-525 for a *horticultural plant, you may give the last entity (if any) that satisfied such a condition for the plant a written notice requiring the entity to give you any or all of the following information:
  - (a) the amount of establishment expenditure for the plant;
  - (b) if the entity used the plant's *effective life to work out the decline in value of the plant—its effective life and the day on which it could first be used for *commercial horticulture.
- (2) The notice must:
  - (a) be given within 60 days of your beginning to satisfy that condition; and
  - (b) specify a period of at least 60 days within which the information must be given; and
  - (c) set out the effect of subsection (3).

Note: Subsections (4) and (5) explain how this subsection operates if the last owner is a partnership.

Requirement to comply with notice

- (3) The entity to whom the notice is given must not intentionally refuse or fail to comply with the notice.

Penalty: 10 penalty units.

Giving the notice to a partnership

- (4) If the entity to whom the notice is given is a partnership:
  - (a) you may give it to the partnership by giving it to any of the partners (this does not limit how else you can give it); and
  - (b) the obligation to comply with the notice is imposed on each of the partners (not on the partnership), but may be discharged by any of them.
- (5) A partner must not intentionally refuse or fail to comply with that obligation, unless another partner has already complied with it.

Penalty: 10 penalty units.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-625

---

Limits on giving a notice

- (6) Only one notice can be given in relation to the same *horticultural plant.

Subdivision 40-G—Capital expenditure of primary producers and other landholders

Guide to Subdivision 40-G

40-625 What this Subdivision is about

You can deduct amounts for capital expenditure you incur:

- on landcare operations; or
- on electricity connections or telephone lines.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

40-630	Landcare operations
40-635	Meaning of landcare operation
40-640	Meaning of approved management plan
40-645	Electricity and telephone lines
40-650	Amounts you cannot deduct under this Subdivision
40-655	Meaning of connecting power to land or upgrading the connection and metering point
40-660	Non-arm's length transactions
40-665	How this Subdivision applies to partners and partnerships
40-670	Approval of persons as farm consultants
40-675	Review of decisions relating to approvals

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Operative provisions

40-630 Landcare operations

- (1) You can deduct capital expenditure you incur at a time in an income year on a *landcare operation for:
- (a) land in Australia you use at the time for carrying on a *primary production business; or
  - (b) rural land in Australia you use at the time for carrying on a *business for a *taxable purpose from the use of that land (except a business of *mining operations).

Note: If Division 250 applies to you and an asset that is land:

- (a) if section 250-150 applies—you are taken to be using the land for the purpose of carrying on a primary production business, or a business for the purpose of producing assessable income from the use of rural land (except a business of mining operations), to the extent specified in a determination made under subsection 250-150(3); or
  - (b) otherwise—you are taken not to be using the land for such a purpose.
- (1A) A *rural land irrigation water provider can deduct capital expenditure it incurs at a time in an income year on a *landcare operation for:
- (a) land in Australia that other entities use at the time for carrying on *primary production businesses; or
  - (b) rural land in Australia that other entities use at the time for carrying on *businesses for a *taxable purpose from the use of that land (except a business of *mining operations);
- being entities supplied with water by the rural land irrigation water provider.
- (1B) A rural land irrigation water provider is:
- (a) an *irrigation water provider; or
  - (b) an entity whose *business is primarily and principally the supply (otherwise than by using a *motor vehicle) of water to entities for use in carrying on *businesses (except businesses of *mining operations) using rural land in Australia.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-630

---

Exception: plant

- (2) However, you cannot deduct an amount under this Subdivision for capital expenditure on *plant, except:
- (a) a fence erected for a purpose described in paragraph 40-635(1)(a) or (b); or
  - (b) a dam or structural improvement (except a fence) covered by paragraph (1)(c), (d), (e) or (f) of the definition of plant in section 45-40.
- (2A) In applying paragraph (2)(b) to capital expenditure incurred by a *rural land irrigation water provider on a dam or structural improvement, the requirement in paragraph 45-40(1)(c) that the land on which the dam or structural improvement is situated be used for agricultural or pastoral operations is to be disregarded.

Exception: deduction available under Subdivision 40-F

- (2B) A *rural land irrigation water provider cannot deduct an amount under this Subdivision for capital expenditure if the entity can deduct an amount for that expenditure under Subdivision 40-F.

Exception: deduction available under Subdivision 40-J

- (2C) You cannot deduct an amount under this Subdivision for capital expenditure if any entity can deduct an amount for that expenditure for any income year under Subdivision 40-J.

Reduction of deduction

- (3) You must reduce your deduction by a reasonable amount to reflect your use of the land in the income year after the time when you incurred the expenditure for a purpose other than the purpose of carrying on:
- (a) a *primary production business; or
  - (b) a *business for the *purpose of producing assessable income from the use of rural land (except a business of *mining operations).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (4) Subsection (3) does not apply to expenditure incurred by a *rural land irrigation water provider. Instead, a rural land irrigation water provider must reduce its deduction in relation to particular land by a reasonable amount to reflect an entity's use of the land in the income year after the rural land irrigation water provider incurred the expenditure for a purpose other than a *taxable purpose.

40-635 Meaning of *landcare operation

- (1) Landcare operation for land means:
- (a) erecting a fence to separate different land classes on the land in accordance with an *approved management plan for the land; or
  - (b) erecting a fence on the land primarily and principally for the purpose of excluding animals from an area affected by land degradation:
    - (i) to prevent or limit extension or worsening of land degradation in the area; and
    - (ii) to help reclaim the area; or
  - (c) constructing a levee or a similar improvement on the land; or
  - (d) constructing drainage works on the land primarily and principally for the purpose of controlling salinity or assisting in drainage control; or
  - (e) an operation primarily and principally for the purpose of:
    - (i) eradicating or exterminating from the land animals that are pests; or
    - (ii) eradicating, exterminating or destroying plant growth detrimental to the land; or
    - (iii) preventing or fighting land degradation (except by erecting fences on the land); or
  - (f) a repair of a capital nature, or an alteration, addition or extension, to an asset described in paragraph (a), (b), (c) or (d) or an extension of an operation described in paragraph (e); or
  - (g) constructing a structural improvement, or a repair of a capital nature, or an alteration, addition or extension, to a structural improvement, that is reasonably incidental to an asset described in paragraph (c) or (d).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 40 Capital allowances

Section 40-640

---

Note: A depreciating asset and a repair of a capital nature or an alteration, addition or extension to that asset are not the same asset for the purposes of section 40-50 and this Subdivision: see section 40-53.

- (2) Paragraph (1)(d) does not apply to an operation draining swamp or low-lying land.

40-640 Meaning of approved management plan

An approved management plan for *land is a plan that:

- (a) shows the different classes within the land and the location of any fencing needed to separate any of the land classes to prevent land degradation; and
- (b) describes the kind of fencing and how it will prevent land degradation; and
- (c) has been prepared by, or approved in writing as a suitable plan for the land by:
  - (i) an officer of an *Australian government agency responsible for land conservation who has authority to do so; or
  - (ii) an individual who was at the time approved as a farm consultant under this Subdivision.

40-645 Electricity and telephone lines

- (1) You can deduct amounts for capital expenditure you incur on *connecting power to land or upgrading the connection if, when you incur the expenditure:
  - (a) you have an interest in the land or are a share-farmer carrying on a *business on the land; and
  - (b) you or another entity intends to use some or all of the electricity to be supplied as a result of the expenditure in carrying on a business on the land for a *taxable purpose at a time when you have an interest in the land or are a share-farmer carrying on a business on the land.
- (2) You can also deduct amounts for capital expenditure you incur on a telephone line on or extending to land if, when you incurred the expenditure:
  - (a) a *primary production business was carried on the land; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (b) you had an interest in the land or you were a share-farmer carrying on a primary production business on the land.
- (3) The amount you can deduct is 10% of the expenditure:
- (a) for the income year in which you incur it; and
  - (b) for each of the next 9 income years.

Note 1: Various provisions may reduce the amount you can deduct or stop you deducting. For example, see:

- Division 26 of this Act (limiting deductions generally); and
- section 40-650 of this Act (specifying expenditure you cannot deduct under this Subdivision); and
- Division 245 of Schedule 2C to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (which may affect your entitlement to a deduction if your debts are forgiven).

Note 2: If you recoup an amount of the expenditure, the amount will be included in your assessable income. See Subdivision 20-A.

40-650 Amounts you cannot deduct under this Subdivision

- (1) You cannot deduct amounts for capital expenditure you incur on *connecting power to land or upgrading the connection if, during the 12 months after electricity is first supplied to the land as a result of the expenditure, no electricity supplied as a result of the expenditure is used in carrying on a *business on the land for a *taxable purpose.
- (2) If you deducted an amount for any income year under this Subdivision for the expenditure, your assessment for that income year may be amended under section 170 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 to disallow the deduction.
- (3) You cannot deduct an amount for capital expenditure you incur on *connecting power to land or upgrading the connection for:
  - (a) expenditure in providing water, light or power for use on, access to or communication with the site of *mining operations; or
  - (b) a contribution to the cost of providing water, light or power for those operations.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-650

---

- (4) You cannot deduct an amount for any income year for your capital expenditure on a part of a telephone line if:
- (a) any entity has deducted, or can deduct, an amount for any income year for the cost of that part under a provision of this Act (except this Subdivision); or
  - (b) the cost of that part has been, or must be, taken into account in working out:
    - (i) the amount of any entity's deduction (including a deduction for a *depreciating asset) for any income year under a provision of this Act (except this Subdivision); or
    - (ii) the net income, or partnership loss, of a partnership under section 90 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.
- (5) However, you can deduct an amount under this Subdivision for your expenditure on a part of a telephone line even if:
- (a) an entity that worked on installing that part has deducted, or can deduct, an amount relating to that part for any income year under this Act (except this Subdivision); or
  - (b) the cost of that part has been, or must be, taken into account:
    - (i) in working out the amount of such an entity's deduction for any income year under a provision of this Act (except this Subdivision); or
    - (ii) under section 90 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 in working out the net income, or partnership loss, of a partnership that worked on installing that part.
- (6) Subsection (5) has effect whether the entity did the work itself or through one or more employees or *agents.
- (7) If you can deduct, or have deducted, an amount for any income year under section 40-645 for your expenditure:
- (a) an entity cannot deduct an amount for any income year under a provision of this Act (except this Subdivision) for the expenditure; and
  - (b) the expenditure cannot be taken into account to work out the amount of an entity's deduction for any income year under a provision of this Act (except this Subdivision).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (8) Subsection (7) also applies in working out the net income, or partnership loss, of a partnership under section 90 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

40-655 Meaning of *connecting power to land or upgrading the connection and metering point

- (1) Each of these operations is connecting power to land or upgrading the connection:
- (a) connecting a mains electricity cable to a *metering point on the land (whether or not the point from which the cable is connected is on the land);
  - (b) providing or installing equipment designed to measure the amount of electricity supplied through a mains electricity cable to a metering point on the land;
  - (c) providing or installing equipment for use directly in connection with the supply of electricity through a mains electricity cable to a metering point on the land;
  - (d) work to increase the amount of electricity that can be supplied through a mains electricity cable to a metering point on the land;
  - (e) work to modify or replace equipment designed to measure the amount of electricity supplied through a mains electricity cable to a metering point on the land, if the modification or replacement results from increasing the amount of electricity supplied to the land;
  - (f) work to modify or replace equipment for use directly in connection with the supply of electricity through a mains electricity cable to the land, if the modification or replacement results from increasing the amount of electricity supplied to the land;
  - (g) work carried out as a result of a contribution to the cost of a project consisting of the connection of mains electricity facilities to that land and other land.
- (2) However, an operation described in subsection (1) done in the course of replacing or relocating mains electricity cable or equipment is connecting power to land or upgrading the

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-660

---

connection only if done to increase the amount of electricity that can be supplied to a *metering point on the land.

- (3) A metering point on land is a point where consumption of electricity supplied to the land through a mains electricity cable is measured.

40-660 Non-arm's length transactions

If you incurred capital expenditure under an *arrangement and:

- (a) there is at least one other party to the arrangement with whom you did not deal at *arm's length; and
- (b) apart from this section, the amount of the expenditure would be more than the *market value of what it was for;

the amount of expenditure you take into account under this Subdivision is that market value.

40-665 How this Subdivision applies to partners and partnerships

- (1) This section applies to allocate expenditure to you for the purposes of this Subdivision if you were a partner in a partnership when it incurred capital expenditure during an income year.
- (2) For the purposes of this Subdivision, you are taken to have incurred during that income year:
  - (a) the amount of the expenditure that the partners agreed you should bear; or
  - (b) if there was no such agreement—the proportion of the expenditure equal to the proportion of your individual interest in the net income or partnership loss of the partnership for that income year.
- (3) Disregard this Subdivision when working out the net income or partnership loss of the partnership under section 90 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

40-670 Approval of persons as farm consultants

- (1) A person may be approved in writing as a farm consultant by:
  - (a) the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry; or
  - (b) an officer of that Department who has been authorised in writing by that Secretary to approve persons as farm consultants.

Note: This subsection also allows the approval of an individual as a farm consultant to be revoked. See subsection 33(3) of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901.

- (2) The following matters must be taken into account when deciding whether to approve a person as a farm consultant:
  - (a) the person's qualifications, experience and knowledge relating to *land conservation and farm management;
  - (b) the person's standing in the professional community;
  - (c) any other relevant matters.

40-675 Review of decisions relating to approvals

A person may apply to the *AAT for review of a decision (as defined in the Administrative Appeals Tribunal Act 1975):

- (a) to refuse to approve the person as a farm consultant; or
- (b) to revoke the approval of the person as a farm consultant.

Subdivision 40-H—Capital expenditure that is immediately deductible

Guide to Subdivision 40-H

40-725 What this Subdivision is about

You get an immediate deduction for certain capital expenditure on:

- exploration or prospecting; and
- rehabilitation of mining or quarrying sites; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-730

---

- paying petroleum resource rent tax; and
- environmental protection activities.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

40-730	Deduction for expenditure on exploration or prospecting
40-735	Deduction for expenditure on mining site rehabilitation
40-740	Meaning of ancillary activities and mining building site
40-745	No deduction for certain expenditure
40-750	Deduction for payments of petroleum resource rent tax
40-755	Environmental protection activities
40-760	Limits on deductions from environmental protection activities
40-765	Non-arm's length transactions

Operative provisions

40-730 Deduction for expenditure on exploration or prospecting

- (1) You can deduct expenditure you incur in an income year on *exploration or prospecting for *minerals, or quarry materials, obtainable by *mining operations if, for that expenditure, you satisfy one or more of these paragraphs:
- (a) you carried on mining operations;
  - (b) it would be reasonable to conclude you proposed to carry on such operations;
  - (c) you carried on a *business of, or a business that included, exploration or prospecting for minerals or quarry materials obtainable by such operations, and the expenditure was necessarily incurred in carrying on that business.

Note: If Division 250 applies to you and an asset that is land:

- (a) if section 250-150 applies—you can deduct expenditure you incur in relation to the land to the extent specified in a determination made under subsection 250-150(3); or
- (b) otherwise—you cannot deduct such expenditure.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (2) However, you cannot deduct expenditure under subsection (1) if it is expenditure on:
- (a) development drilling for *petroleum; or
  - (b) operations in the course of working a mining property, quarrying property or petroleum field.
- (3) Also, you cannot deduct expenditure under subsection (1) to the extent that it forms part of the *cost of a *depreciating asset.
- (4) Exploration or prospecting includes:
- (a) for mining in general, and quarrying:
    - (i) geological mapping, geophysical surveys, systematic search for areas containing *minerals (except *petroleum) or quarry materials, and search by drilling or other means for such minerals or materials within those areas; and
    - (ii) search for ore within, or near, an ore-body or search for quarry materials by drives, shafts, cross-cuts, winzes, rises and drilling; and
  - (b) for petroleum mining:
    - (i) geological, geophysical and geochemical surveys; and
    - (ii) exploration drilling and appraisal drilling; and
  - (c) feasibility studies to evaluate the economic feasibility of mining minerals or quarry materials once they have been discovered; and
  - (d) obtaining *mining, quarrying or prospecting information associated with the search for, and evaluation of, areas containing minerals or quarry materials.
- (5) Minerals includes *petroleum.
- (6) Petroleum means:
- (a) any naturally occurring hydrocarbon or naturally occurring mixture of hydrocarbons, whether in a gaseous, liquid or solid state; or
  - (b) any naturally occurring mixture of:
    - (i) one or more hydrocarbons, whether in a gaseous, liquid or solid state; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-735

---

(ii) one or more of the following: hydrogen sulphide, nitrogen, helium or carbon dioxide; whether or not that substance has been returned to a natural reservoir.

(7) Mining operations means:

- (a) mining operations on a mining property for extracting *minerals (except *petroleum) from their natural site; or
- (b) mining operations for the purpose of obtaining petroleum; or
- (c) quarrying operations on a quarrying property for extracting quarry materials from their natural site; for the *purpose of producing assessable income.

(8) Mining, quarrying or prospecting information is geological, geophysical or technical information that:

- (a) relates to the presence, absence or extent of deposits of *minerals or quarry materials in an area; or
- (b) is likely to help in determining the presence, absence or extent of such deposits in an area.

40-735 Deduction for expenditure on mining site rehabilitation

- (1) You can deduct for an income year expenditure you incur in that year to the extent it is on *mining site rehabilitation of:
- (a) a site on which you:
    - (i) carried on *mining operations; or
    - (ii) conducted *exploration or prospecting; or
    - (iii) conducted *ancillary mining activities; or
  - (b) a *mining building site.

Note 1: If an amount of the expenditure is recouped, the amount may be included in your assessable income: see Subdivision 20-A.

Note 2: If Division 250 applies to you and an asset that is land:

- (a) if section 250-150 applies—you can deduct expenditure you incur in relation to the land to the extent specified in a determination made under subsection 250-150(3); or
- (b) otherwise—you cannot deduct such expenditure.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (2) However, a provision of this Act (except Division 8 (which is about deductions)) that expressly prevents or restricts the operation of that Division applies in the same way to this section.
- (3) However, you cannot deduct expenditure under subsection (1) to the extent that it forms part of the *cost of a *depreciating asset.
- (4) Mining site rehabilitation is an act of restoring or rehabilitating a site or part of a site to, or to a reasonable approximation of, the condition it was in before *mining operations, *exploration or prospecting or *ancillary mining activities were first started on the site, whether by you or by someone else.
- (5) Partly restoring or rehabilitating such a site counts as mining site rehabilitation (even if you had no intention of completing the work).
- (6) For a *mining building site, the time when *ancillary mining activities were first started on the site is the earliest time when the buildings, improvements or *depreciating assets concerned were located on the site.

40-740 Meaning of ancillary mining activities and *mining building site

- (1) Any of the following are ancillary mining activities:
  - (a) preparing a site for you to carry on *mining operations;
  - (b) providing water, light or power for, access to, or communications with, a site on which you carry on, or will carry on, mining operations;
  - (c) *minerals treatment of *minerals or minerals treatment of quarry materials, obtained by you in carrying on mining operations;
  - (d) storing (whether before or after minerals treatment) such minerals, petroleum or quarry materials in relation to the operation of a *depreciating asset for use primarily and principally in treating such minerals or quarry materials;
  - (e) liquefying natural gas obtained from mining operations you carry on.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-745

---

- (2) A mining building site is a site, or a part of a site, where there are *depreciating assets that are or were necessary for you to carry on *mining operations. However, a mining building site does not include anything covered by the definition of housing and welfare.

40-745 No deduction for certain expenditure

Expenditure on these things is not deductible under section 40-735:

- (a) acquiring land or an interest in land or a right, power or privilege to do with land;
- (b) a bond or security, however described, for performing *mining site rehabilitation;
- (c) *housing and welfare.

40-750 Deduction for payments of petroleum resource rent tax

- (1) You can deduct a payment of *petroleum resource rent tax, or an *instalment of petroleum resource rent tax, that you make in an income year.

Note 1: If an amount of the expenditure is recouped, the amount may be included in your assessable income: see Subdivision 20-A.

Note 2: If Division 250 applies to you and an asset:

- (a) if section 250-150 applies—you can deduct expenditure you incur in relation to the asset to the extent specified in a determination made under subsection 250-150(3); or
- (b) otherwise—you cannot deduct such expenditure.

- (2) You cannot deduct under subsection (1) a payment that you make under paragraph 99(c) of the Petroleum Resource Rent Tax Assessment Act 1987.

- (3) These amounts are included in your assessable income for the income year in which they are refunded, credited, paid or applied:
- (a) an amount the Commissioner pays you in total or partial discharge of a debt of the kind referred to in subsection 47(1) of the Petroleum Resource Rent Tax Assessment Act 1987; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (b) an amount the Commissioner applies under subsection 47(2) of the Petroleum Resource Rent Tax Assessment Act 1987 in total or partial discharge of a liability you have.

40-755 Environmental protection activities

- (1) You can deduct expenditure you incur in an income year for the sole or dominant purpose of carrying on *environmental protection activities.

Note: If Division 250 applies to you and an asset that is land:

- (a) if section 250-150 applies—you can deduct expenditure you incur in relation to the land to the extent specified in a determination made under subsection 250-150(3); or
  - (b) otherwise—you cannot deduct such expenditure.
- (2) Environmental protection activities are any of the following activities that are carried on by or for you:
- (a) preventing, fighting or remedying:
    - (i) pollution resulting, or likely to result, from *your earning activity; or
    - (ii) pollution of or from the site of your earning activity; or
    - (iii) pollution of or from a site where an entity was carrying on any *business that you have acquired and carry on substantially unchanged as your earning activity;
  - (b) treating, cleaning up, removing or storing:
    - (i) waste resulting, or likely to result, from your earning activity; or
    - (ii) waste that is on or from the site of *your earning activity; or
    - (iii) waste that is on or from a site where an entity was carrying on any business that you have acquired and carry on substantially unchanged as your earning activity.

No other activities are environmental protection activities.

- (3) Your earning activity is an activity you carried on, carry on, or propose to carry on:
- (a) for the *purpose of producing assessable income for an income year (except a *net capital gain); or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-760

---

- (b) for the purpose of *exploration or prospecting; or
  - (c) for the purpose of *mining site rehabilitation; or
  - (d) for purposes that include one or more of those purposes.
- (4) If *your earning activity is:
- (a) leasing a site you own; or
  - (b) granting a right to use a site you own or control; or
  - (c) a similar activity involving a site;
- that site is taken to be the site of your earning activity.

Note: This means you can deduct your expenditure on environmental protection activities relating to the site, even if the pollution or waste is caused by another entity that uses the site.

40-760 Limits on deductions from environmental protection activities

Expenditure you cannot deduct

- (1) You cannot deduct an amount under section 40-755 for an income year for:
- (a) expenditure for acquiring land; or
  - (b) capital expenditure for constructing a building, structure or structural improvement; or
  - (c) capital expenditure for constructing an extension, alteration or improvement to a building, structure or structural improvement; or
  - (d) a bond or security (however described) for performing *environmental protection activities; or
  - (e) expenditure to the extent that you can deduct an amount for it under a provision of this Act outside this Subdivision.
- Note: You may be able to deduct expenditure described in paragraph (1)(b) or (c) under Division 43 (which deals with capital works).
- (2) In particular, you cannot deduct under section 40-755 expenditure to the extent that you incur it on carrying out an activity for environmental impact assessment of your project.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (3) However, a provision of this Act (except Division 8 (which is about deductions)) that expressly prevents or restricts the operation of that Division applies in the same way to section 40-755.

40-765 Non-arm's length transactions

If you incurred capital expenditure under an *arrangement and:

- (a) there is at least one other party to the arrangement with whom you did not deal at *arm's length; and
- (b) apart from this section, the amount of the expenditure would be more than the *market value of what it was for;

the amount of expenditure you take into account under this Subdivision is that market value.

Subdivision 40-I—Capital expenditure that is deductible over time

Guide to Subdivision 40-I

40-825 What this Subdivision is about

You can deduct amounts for certain capital expenditure associated with projects you carry on. You deduct the amounts over the life of the project using a pool.

You can also deduct amounts for certain business related costs. You deduct these amounts over 5 years if the amounts are not otherwise taken into account and are not denied a deduction.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

40-830	Project pools
40-832	Project pools for post-9 May 2006 projects
40-835	Reduction of deduction
40-840	Meaning of project amount
40-845	Project life

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-830

---

40-855	When you start to deduct amounts for a project pool
40-860	Meaning of mining capital expenditure
40-865	Meaning of transport capital expenditure
40-870	Meaning of transport facility
40-875	Meaning of processed minerals and minerals treatment
40-880	Business related costs
40-885	Non-arm's length transactions

Operative provisions

40-830 Project pools

- (1) You can allocate *project amounts to a project pool.
- (2) You can deduct amounts for *project amounts that are allocated to the project pool.
- (3) You calculate your deduction for an income year for a project pool in this way:

$$\frac{\text{Pool value} \times 150\%}{DV \text{ project pool life}}$$

where:

DV project pool life is:

- (a) the *project life of the project; or
- (b) if its project life has been recalculated—its most recently recalculated project life.

pool value is:

- (a) for the first income year that a *project amount is allocated to the pool—the sum of the project amounts allocated to the pool for that year; or
- (b) for a later income year—the sum of the pool's *closing pool value for the previous income year and any project amounts allocated to the pool for the later year.

Note: The calculation is made under subsection 40-832(3) for project amounts incurred on or after 10 May 2006 for projects that start to operate on or after that day.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (4) If, in an income year, you abandon, sell or otherwise dispose of a project for which you have a project pool, you can deduct for that year the sum of the pool's *closing pool value for the previous income year and any *project amounts allocated to the pool for the income year.
- (5) Your assessable income for that income year includes any amount you receive for the abandonment, sale or other disposal.
- (6) Your assessable income for an income year includes other capital amounts that you *derive in that year in relation to a *project amount allocated to your project pool or in relation to something on which the project amount is expended.
- (7) The closing pool value of a project pool for an income year is:
  - (a) for the first income year that a *project amount is allocated to the pool—the sum of the project amounts allocated to the pool for that year less the amount you could deduct for the pool for that year (apart from section 40-835); or
  - (b) for a later income year—the sum of the pool's *closing pool value for the previous income year and any project amounts allocated to the pool for the later year less the amount you could deduct for the pool for the later year (apart from section 40-835).
- (8) Your deduction for an income year cannot be more than the amount of the component “pool value” in the formula in subsection (3) for that year.

40-832 Project pools for post-9 May 2006 projects

- (1) You calculate your deduction for an income year for a project pool in this way if the project pool contains only *project amounts incurred on or after 10 May 2006 for projects that start to operate on or after that day:

$$\frac{\text{Pool value} \times 200\%}{\text{DV project pool life}}$$

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-835

---

where:

DV project pool life has the same meaning as in subsection 40-830(3).

pool value has the same meaning as in subsection 40-830(3).

- (2) If, in an income year, you abandon, sell or otherwise dispose of a project for which you have a project pool, you can deduct for that year the sum of the pool's *closing pool value for the previous income year and any *project amounts allocated to the pool for the income year.
- (3) Your assessable income for that income year includes any amount you receive for the abandonment, sale or other disposal.
- (4) Your assessable income for an income year includes other capital amounts that you *derive in that year in relation to a *project amount allocated to your project pool or in relation to something on which the project amount is expended.
- (5) Your deduction for an income year cannot be more than the amount of the component "pool value" in the formula in subsection (1) for that year.

40-835 Reduction of deduction

You must reduce your deduction under section 40-830 or 40-832 for an income year by a reasonable amount for the extent (if any) to which the project operates in the year for purposes other than *taxable purposes.

Note: If Division 250 applies to you and an asset:

- (a) if section 250-150 applies—you are taken to be using the asset for taxable purposes to the extent specified in a determination made under subsection 250-150(3); or
- (b) otherwise—you are taken not to be using the asset for such purposes.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

40-840 Meaning of *project amount

- (1) An amount of *mining capital expenditure or *transport capital expenditure you incur is a project amount if:
  - (a) it does not form part of the *cost of a *depreciating asset you *hold or held; and
  - (b) you cannot deduct it under a provision of this Act outside this Subdivision; and
  - (c) it is directly connected with:
    - (i) for mining capital expenditure—carrying on the *mining operations in relation to which the expenditure is incurred; or
    - (ii) for transport capital expenditure—carrying on the *business in relation to which the expenditure is incurred.

- (2) Another amount of capital expenditure you incur is also a project amount so far as:
  - (a) it does not form part of the *cost of a *depreciating asset you *hold or held; and
  - (b) you cannot deduct it under a provision of this Act outside this Subdivision; and
  - (c) it is directly connected with a project you carry on or propose to carry on for a *taxable purpose; and
  - (d) it is one of these:
    - (i) an amount paid to create or upgrade community infrastructure for a community associated with the project; or
    - (ii) an amount incurred for site preparation costs for depreciating assets (except, for *horticultural plants, in draining swamp or low-lying land or in clearing land); or
    - (iii) an amount incurred for feasibility studies for the project; or
    - (iv) an amount incurred for environmental assessments for the project; or
    - (v) an amount incurred to obtain information associated with the project; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-845

---

- (vi) an amount incurred in seeking to obtain a right to *intellectual property; or
- (vii) an amount incurred for ornamental trees or shrubs.

40-845 Project life

You work out the project life of a project by estimating how long (in years, including fractions of years) it will be from when the project starts to operate until it stops operating.

40-855 When you start to deduct amounts for a project pool

You start to deduct amounts for a project pool for the first income year when the project starts to operate.

40-860 Meaning of *mining capital expenditure

- (1) Mining capital expenditure is capital expenditure you incur:
  - (a) in carrying on *mining operations; or
  - (b) in preparing a site for those operations; or
  - (c) on buildings or other improvements necessary for you to carry on those operations; or
  - (d) in providing, or in contributing to the cost of providing:
    - (i) water, light or power for use on the site of those operations; or
    - (ii) access to, or communications with, the site of those operations; or
  - (e) on buildings for use directly in connection with operating or maintaining *plant that is primarily and principally for *treating *minerals, or quarry materials, that you obtain by carrying on such operations; or
  - (f) on buildings or other improvements for use directly in connection with storing minerals or quarry materials or to facilitate *minerals treatment of them (whether the storage happens before or after the treatment).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (2) Capital expenditure you incur on *housing and welfare in carrying on *mining operations (except quarrying operations) is also mining capital expenditure, but only if:
- (a) for residential accommodation—the accommodation is provided by you, on or adjacent to a site where you carry on those operations, for the use of:
    - (i) your employees, or someone else’s employees, who are employed or engaged in those operations, or in operations of yours that are connected with those operations; or
    - (ii) dependants of such employees; or
  - (b) for health, education, recreation or other similar facilities, or facilities for meals—the facilities:
    - (i) are on or adjacent to a site where you carry on those operations, and are principally for the benefit of the employees or dependants covered by paragraph (a); and
    - (ii) are not run for profit by any person, except in the case of facilities for meals (which may be run for profit); or
  - (c) in the case of works, including works for providing water, light, power, access or communications—the works are carried out directly in connection with the accommodation or facilities covered by this section.
- (3) However, expenditure on these is not mining capital expenditure:
- (a) railway lines, roads, pipelines or other facilities, for use wholly or partly for transporting *minerals or quarry materials, or their products, other than facilities used for transport wholly within the site of *mining operations you carry on;
  - (b) works carried out in connection with, or buildings or other improvements constructed or acquired for use in connection with, establishing, operating or using a port facility or other facility for ships;
  - (c) an office building that is not at or adjacent to the site of mining operations you carry on;
  - (d) *housing and welfare in relation to quarrying operations.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-865

---

40-865 Meaning of *transport capital expenditure

- (1) Transport capital expenditure is capital expenditure you incur, in carrying on a *business for a *taxable purpose, on:
- (a) a *transport facility; or
  - (b) obtaining a right to construct or install a transport facility, or part of one, on land owned or leased by another entity or in a Petroleum Act offshore area or an Installations Act adjacent area within the meaning of section 6AA of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; or
  - (c) paying compensation for any damage or loss caused by constructing or installing a transport facility or part of one; or
  - (d) earthworks, bridges, tunnels or cuttings that are necessary for a transport facility.
- (2) Transport capital expenditure also includes capital expenditure you incur, in carrying on a *business for a *taxable purpose, by way of contribution to:
- (a) someone else's capital expenditure on a *transport facility or on anything else covered by a paragraph of subsection (1); or
  - (b) an *exempt Australian government agency's capital expenditure on railway rolling-stock.
- (3) Transport capital expenditure does not include expenditure on:
- (a) road vehicles or ships; or
  - (b) railway rolling-stock; or
  - (c) a thing covered by the definition of housing and welfare; or
  - (d) works for providing water, light or power, in connection with a port facility or other facility for ships;
- and does not include expenditure by way of contribution to that expenditure (except expenditure by way of contribution to an *exempt Australian government agency's capital expenditure on railway rolling-stock).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

40-870 Meaning of *transport facility

- (1) A transport facility is a railway, a road, a pipe-line, a port facility or other facility for ships, or another facility, that is used primarily and principally for transport of:
  - (a) *minerals or quarry materials obtained by any entity in carrying on *mining operations; or
  - (b) *processed minerals produced from minerals or quarry materials.
- (2) However, a facility used for these is not a transport facility:
  - (a) transport wholly within the site of *mining operations;
  - (b) transport of *petroleum:
    - (i) that has been treated at a refinery; or
    - (ii) that forms part of a system of reticulation to consumers; or
    - (iii) to a particular consumer or consumers.

40-875 Meaning of *processed minerals and minerals treatment

- (1) Processed minerals are any of the following:
  - (a) materials resulting from *minerals treatment of *minerals or quarry materials (except *petroleum);
  - (b) materials resulting from sintering or calcining;
  - (c) pellets or other agglomerated forms of iron;
  - (d) alumina and blister copper.
- (2) Minerals treatment means:
  - (a) cleaning, leaching, crushing, grinding, breaking, screening, grading or sizing; or
  - (b) concentration by a gravity, magnetic, electrostatic or flotation process; or
  - (c) any other treatment:
    - (i) that is applied to *minerals, or to quarry materials, before that concentration; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-880

---

- (ii) for a mineral or materials not requiring that concentration, that would, if the mineral or materials had required concentration, have been applied before the concentration;

but does not include:

- (d) sintering or calcining; or
- (e) producing alumina, or pellets or other agglomerated forms of iron, or processing connected with such production.

40-880 Business related costs

Object

- (1) The object of this section is to make certain *business capital expenditure deductible over 5 years if:
  - (a) the expenditure is not otherwise taken into account; and
  - (b) a deduction is not denied by some other provision; and
  - (c) the business is, was or is proposed to be *carried on for a *taxable purpose.

Note: If Division 250 applies to you and an asset:

- (a) if section 250-150 applies—you can deduct an amount for capital expenditure you incur in relation to the asset to the extent specified in a determination made under subsection 250-150(3); or
- (b) otherwise—you cannot deduct an amount for such expenditure.

Deduction

- (2) You can deduct, in equal proportions over a period of 5 income years starting in the year in which you incur it, capital expenditure you incur:
  - (a) in relation to your *business; or
  - (b) in relation to a business that used to be *carried on; or
  - (c) in relation to a business proposed to be carried on; or
  - (d) to liquidate or deregister a company of which you were a *member, to wind up a partnership of which you were a partner or to wind up a trust of which you were a beneficiary, that carried on a business.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Limitations and exceptions

- (3) You can only deduct the expenditure, for a *business that you *carry on, used to carry on or propose to carry on, to the extent that the business is carried on, was carried on or is proposed to be carried on for a *taxable purpose.
- (4) You can only deduct the expenditure, for a *business that another entity used to *carry on or proposes to carry on, to the extent that:
  - (a) the business was carried on or is proposed to be carried on for a *taxable purpose; and
  - (b) the expenditure is in connection with:
    - (i) your deriving assessable income from the business; and
    - (ii) the business that was carried on or is proposed to be carried on.
- (5) You cannot deduct anything under this section for an amount of expenditure you incur to the extent that:
  - (a) it forms part of the *cost of a *depreciating asset that you *hold, used to hold or will hold; or
  - (b) you can deduct an amount for it under a provision of this Act other than this section; or
  - (c) it forms part of the cost of land; or
  - (d) it is in relation to a lease or other legal or equitable right; or
  - (e) it would, apart from this section, be taken into account in working out:
    - (i) a profit that is included in your assessable income (for example, under section 6-5 or 15-15); or
    - (ii) a loss that you can deduct (for example, under section 8-1 or 25-40); or
  - (f) it could, apart from this section, be taken into account in working out the amount of a *capital gain or *capital loss from a *CGT event; or
  - (g) a provision of this Act other than this section would expressly make the expenditure non-deductible if it were not of a capital nature; or
  - (h) a provision of this Act other than this section expressly prevents the expenditure being taken into account as

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-880

---

described in paragraphs (a) to (f) for a reason other than the expenditure being of a capital nature; or

- (i) it is expenditure of a private or domestic nature; or
  - (j) it is incurred in relation to gaining or producing *exempt income or *non-assessable non-exempt income.
- (6) The exceptions in paragraphs (5)(d) and (f) do not apply to expenditure you incur to preserve (but not enhance) the value of goodwill if the expenditure you incur is in relation to a legal or equitable right and the value to you of the right is solely attributable to the effect that the right has on goodwill.
- (7) You cannot deduct an amount under paragraph (2)(c) in relation to a *business proposed to be *carried on unless, having regard to any relevant circumstances, it is reasonable to conclude that the business is proposed to be carried on within a reasonable time.
- (8) You cannot deduct anything under this section for an amount of expenditure that, because of a market value substitution rule, was excluded from the *cost of a *depreciating asset or the *cost base or *reduced cost base of a *CGT asset.
- Note: Some examples of market value substitution rules are subsection 40-180(2) (table item 8), subsection 40-190(3) (table item 1) and sections 40-765 and 112-20.
- (9) You cannot deduct anything under this section for an amount of expenditure you incur:
- (a) by way of returning an amount you have received (except to the extent that the amount was included in your assessable income or taken into account in working out an amount so included); or
  - (b) to the extent that, for another entity, the amount is a *return on or of:
    - (i) an *equity interest; or
    - (ii) a *debt interest that is an obligation of yours.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

40-885 Non-arm's length transactions

If you incurred capital expenditure, or received an amount, under an *arrangement and:

- (a) there is at least one other party to the arrangement with whom you did not deal at *arm's length; and
- (b) apart from this section:
  - (i) the amount of the expenditure would be more than the *market value of what it was for; or
  - (ii) the amount you received would be less than the market value of what it was for;

the amount of expenditure, or the amount received, you take into account under this Subdivision is that market value.

Subdivision 40-J—Capital expenditure for the establishment of trees in carbon sink forests

Guide to Subdivision 40-J

40-1000 What this Subdivision is about

You can deduct amounts for capital expenditure incurred for establishing trees that meet the requirements for constituting a carbon sink forest.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

40-1005	Deduction for expenditure for establishing trees in carbon sink forests
40-1010	Expenditure for establishing trees in carbon sink forests
40-1015	Carbon sequestration by trees
40-1020	Certain expenditure disregarded
40-1025	Non-arm's length transactions

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-1005

---

Operative provisions

40-1005 Deduction for expenditure for establishing trees in carbon sink forests

- (1) You can deduct an amount for an income year if:
  - (a) you incur capital expenditure that is covered under section 40-1010 in relation to particular trees established in the income year; and
  - (b) you satisfy a condition in subsection (5) for the trees when they are established.
- (2) The amount of the deduction is the amount of the expenditure.
- (3) You can deduct an amount for an income year if:
  - (a) you incur capital expenditure in the income year or an earlier income year for establishing particular trees; and
  - (b) that expenditure is not covered under section 40-1010 in relation to the trees, because some or all of the trees are established after the end of the income year; and
  - (c) the trees established after the end of the income year are established within 4 months after the end of the income year; and
  - (d) you could deduct the amount for the income year under subsection (1) in respect of the expenditure, assuming that, for the purposes of paragraphs 40-1010(1)(a) and (2)(a), the income year ended 4 months after it actually ended.
- (4) If:
  - (a) you can deduct an amount for an income year under subsection (3) in relation to particular trees; and
  - (b) you incur capital expenditure in the next income year for establishing other trees;in determining whether you can deduct an amount under subsection (1) for the next income year in respect of the other trees, for the purposes of paragraph 40-1010(2)(a), disregard the trees mentioned in paragraph (a).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

(5) The conditions are as follows:

Conditions for deduction for establishing trees in carbon sink forest
Item	Condition
1	You own the trees and any holder of a lease, lesser interest or licence relating to the land occupied by the trees does not use the land for the primary and principal purpose of *carbon sequestration by the trees.
2	The trees occupy land you hold under a lease, or a *quasi-ownership right granted by an *exempt Australian government agency or an *exempt foreign government agency, and:  (a) the lease or quasi-ownership right enables you to use the land for the primary and principal purpose of *carbon sequestration by the trees; and  (b) any holder of a lesser interest or licence relating to the land does not use the land for the primary and principal purpose of carbon sequestration by the trees.
3	You:  (a) hold a licence relating to the land occupied by the trees; and  (b) use the land for the primary and principal purpose of *carbon sequestration by the trees, as a result of holding the licence.

40-1010 Expenditure for establishing trees in carbon sink forests

- (1) Expenditure is covered under this section in relation to particular trees if:
- (a) the trees are established in an income year; and
  - (b) you incur the expenditure in the income year or an earlier income year for establishing the trees; and
  - (c) you are carrying on a *business in the income year; and
  - (d) your primary and principal purpose for establishing the trees is *carbon sequestration by the trees (see section 40-1015); and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 40-1010

---

- (e) your purposes for establishing the trees do not include any of the following:
    - (i) felling the trees;
    - (ii) using the trees for *commercial horticulture; and
  - (f) you do not incur the expenditure under:
    - (i) a *managed investment scheme; or
    - (ii) a *forestry managed investment scheme; and
  - (g) all of the conditions in subsection (2) are satisfied for the trees; and
  - (h) you give the Commissioner, in accordance with subsection (4), a statement that:
    - (i) sets out all information necessary to determine whether all of the conditions in subsection (2) are satisfied for the trees; and
    - (ii) is in the *approved form.
- (2) The conditions are as follows:
- (a) at the end of the income year, the trees occupy a continuous land area in Australia of 0.2 hectares or more;
  - (b) at the time the trees are established, it is more likely than not that they will:
    - (i) attain a crown cover of 20% or more; and
    - (ii) reach a height of at least 2 metres;
  - (c) on 1 January 1990, the area occupied by the trees was clear of other trees that:
    - (i) attained, or were more likely than not to attain, a crown cover of 20% or more; and
    - (ii) reached, or were more likely than not to reach, a height of at least 2 metres;
  - (d) the establishment of the trees meets the requirements of the guidelines mentioned in subsection (3).
- (3) The *Climate Change Minister must, by legislative instrument, make guidelines about environmental and natural resource management in relation to the establishment of trees for the purposes of *carbon sequestration.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (4) The statement mentioned in paragraph (1)(h) is to be given to the Commissioner no later than:
  - (a) if you lodge your *income tax return for the income year within 5 months after the end of the income year—the day you lodge that income tax return; or
  - (b) otherwise—5 months after the end of the income year.
- (5) However, expenditure is not covered under this section if the *Climate Change Secretary gives the Commissioner a notice under subsection (6) in relation to the trees.
- (6) The *Climate Change Secretary must give the Commissioner a notice in writing under this subsection if the Climate Change Secretary is satisfied that one or more of the conditions in subsection (2) have not been satisfied for the trees.
- (7) A person may apply to the *AAT for review of a decision (as defined in the Administrative Appeals Tribunal Act 1975) of the *Climate Change Secretary to give a notice under subsection (6).
- (8) The Commissioner may give the *Climate Change Secretary a copy of the statement mentioned in paragraph (1)(h), for the purposes of subsections (5), (6) and (7).

40-1015 Carbon sequestration by trees

Carbon sequestration by trees means the process by which trees absorb carbon dioxide from the atmosphere.

40-1020 Certain expenditure disregarded

In working out a deduction under this Subdivision in relation to the establishment of trees, disregard expenditure incurred:

- (a) in draining swamp or low-lying land; or
- (b) in clearing land.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 40-1025

---

40-1025 Non-arm's length transactions

If an entity incurred capital expenditure under an *arrangement and:

- (a) there is at least one other party to the arrangement with whom the entity did not deal at *arm's length; and
- (b) apart from this section, the amount of the expenditure would be more than the *market value of what it was for;

the amount of expenditure taken into account under this Subdivision is that market value.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 41—Additional deduction for certain new business investment

Guide to Division 41

41-1 What this Division is about

You may be able to deduct an amount in relation to a depreciating asset for the 2008-09, 2009-10, 2010-11 or 2011-12 income year if:

- (a) you can deduct an amount for the decline in value for the asset for the relevant year under Subdivision 40-B; and
- (b) you make certain new investments in respect of the asset in the period starting on 13 December 2008 and ending on 31 December 2009; and
- (c) the total of those new investments is at least $1000 (for small businesses) or $10,000 (for other businesses).

Table of sections

Operative provisions

41-5	Object of Division
41-10	Entitlement to deduction for investment
41-15	Amount of deduction
41-20	Recognised new investment amount
41-25	Investment commitment time
41-30	First use time
41-35	New investment threshold

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 41-5

---

Operative provisions

41-5 Object of Division

The object of this Division is to provide a temporary business tax break for Australian businesses using assets in Australia, with a view to encouraging business investment and economic activity.

41-10 Entitlement to deduction for investment

- (1) You can deduct an amount for an income year in relation to an asset if:
  - (a) the asset is a *depreciating asset, other than an intangible asset; and
  - (b) you can deduct an amount under section 40-25 in relation to the asset for the income year; and
  - (c) the income year is the 2008-09, 2009-10, 2010-11 or 2011-12 income year; and
  - (d) the total of the *recognised new investment amounts for the income year in relation to the asset equals or exceeds the *new investment threshold for the income year in relation to the asset.
- (2) Subsection 73BA(7) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (deductions regarding assets used in research and development activities) does not apply to a deduction under subsection (1).
- (3) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(b), in determining whether you can deduct the amount in relation to the asset under section 40-25 for the income year:
  - (a) disregard section 40-55 if the asset is a *car for which you use the “12% of original value” method for that income year; and
  - (aa) disregard section 40-90 (reduction in cost where debt is forgiven); and
  - (ab) disregard subsection 40-365(5) (reduction in cost for replacement asset where involuntary disposal); and
  - (b) disregard Subdivision 328-D (capital allowances for small business entities); and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (c) disregard subsection 73BA(7) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (deductions regarding assets used in research and development activities).

Counting additional recognised new investment amounts for the purposes of meeting the threshold

- (4) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(d), treat each of the following as a *recognised new investment amount for the income year in relation to the asset (the relevant asset):
- (a) a recognised new investment amount for a previous income year in relation to the relevant asset;
  - (b) a recognised new investment amount for the income year or a previous income year in relation to another asset, if:
    - (i) the other asset is part of a set of assets including the relevant asset; or
    - (ii) the other asset is identical, or substantially identical, to the relevant asset;
  - (c) a recognised new investment amount for the income year or a previous income year in relation to an asset *held by another entity, if:
    - (i) subsection 40-35(1) (jointly held depreciating assets) applies in relation to the relevant asset because it is your interest in an asset (the underlying asset); and
    - (ii) the asset held by the other entity is the other entity's interest in the underlying asset.

41-15 Amount of deduction

- (1) The amount that you can deduct is:
- (a) if the *new investment threshold for the income year in relation to the asset is $1000 (small business entities)—50% of the total of the *recognised new investment amounts for the income year in relation to the asset; or
  - (b) if paragraph (a) does not apply but subsection (3), (4) or (5) applies—10% of that total; or
  - (c) otherwise—the sum of:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 41-15

---

- (i) 30% of the total of the recognised new investment amounts for the income year in relation to the asset that meet the condition in subsection (2); and
  - (ii) 10% of the total of the other recognised new investment amounts for the income year in relation to the asset.
- (2) A *recognised new investment amount meets the condition in this subsection if:
  - (a) the *investment commitment time for the amount occurred before 1 July 2009; and
  - (b) the *first use time for the amount occurred before 1 July 2010.
- (3) This subsection applies if the income year is the 2011-12 income year.
- (4) This subsection applies if:
  - (a) you can deduct the amount because of paragraph 41-10(4)(a); and
  - (b) the *new investment threshold for the income year in relation to the asset exceeds the total of the *recognised new investment amounts for the income year in relation to the asset that meet the condition in subsection (2).
- (5) This subsection applies if:
  - (a) you can deduct the amount because of paragraph 41-10(4)(b) or (c); and
  - (b) the *new investment threshold for the income year in relation to the asset exceeds the sum of:
    - (i) the total of the *recognised new investment amounts for the income year in relation to the asset that meet the condition in subsection (2); and
    - (ii) the total of the amounts treated under paragraph 41-10(4)(b) or (c) (as the case requires) as recognised new investment amounts for the income year in relation to the asset that meet the condition in subsection (2).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

41-20 Recognised new investment amount

- (1) An amount is a recognised new investment amount for the income year in relation to the asset if:
  - (a) either:
    - (i) the amount is included in the first element of the asset's *cost (worked out in accordance with Subdivision 40-C); or
    - (ii) the amount is included in the second element of the asset's cost under paragraph 40-190(2)(a); and
  - (b) the *investment commitment time for the amount occurs in the period:
    - (i) starting at 12.01 am, by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory, on 13 December 2008; and
    - (ii) ending on 31 December 2009; and
  - (c) the *first use time for the amount occurs:
    - (i) no later than the end of the income year; and
    - (ii) no later than 31 December 2010; and
  - (d) at the first use time for the amount, it is reasonable to conclude that you will use the asset principally in Australia for the principal purpose of *carrying on a *business; and
  - (e) if the amount is included in the first element of the asset's cost—the first use time for the amount is the first time you or any other entity have used the asset, or have it installed ready for use, for any purpose; and
  - (f) you have not been entitled to a deduction under this Division for any previous income year in relation to the amount.
- (2) Treat the requirements in paragraph (1)(d) as not being met if, at the first use time for the amount, it is reasonable to conclude that the asset will never be located in Australia.
- (3) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(e), disregard any previous use of the asset that was merely for the purposes of reasonable testing or trialling.
- (4) Treat the requirements in paragraph (1)(e) as not being met if the amount becomes included in the first element of the asset's *cost at

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 41-25

---

a time because of paragraph 40-205(a) (splitting depreciating assets) or 40-210(a) (merging depreciating assets).

- (5) In determining the amount of a *recognised new investment amount, disregard:
- (a) subsection 40-90(2) (reduction in cost where debt is forgiven); and
  - (b) paragraph 40-365(5)(a) (reduction in cost for replacement asset where involuntary disposal).

41-25 Investment commitment time

- (1) The investment commitment time for the amount is:
- (a) if the amount is included in the first element of the asset's *cost—the time at which you:
    - (i) enter into a contract under which you *hold the asset at that time, or will hold the asset at a later time; or
    - (ii) start to construct the asset; or
    - (iii) start to hold the asset in some other way; or
  - (b) if the amount is included in the second element of the asset's cost—the time at which you enter into a contract, or start construction, for the economic benefit in relation to which the amount becomes, or will become, included in that element under paragraph 40-190(2)(a).

Integrity rule

- (2) Subsection (3) applies in relation to an amount if:
- (a) at a time, you:
    - (i) enter into a contract under which you *hold an asset at that time, or will hold the asset at a later time; or
    - (ii) start to construct an asset; or
    - (iii) start to hold an asset in some other way; and
  - (b) at a later time, you engage in conduct that results in you:
    - (i) entering into a contract under which you hold the asset mentioned in paragraph (a) (or an identical or substantially similar asset) at that later time, or will hold

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- that asset (or an identical or substantially similar asset) at an even later time; or
- (ii) starting to construct an asset that is identical or substantially similar to the asset mentioned in paragraph (a); or
  - (iii) starting to hold the asset mentioned in paragraph (a) (or an identical or substantially similar asset) in some other way; and
- (c) you engage in that conduct for the purpose, or for purposes that include the purpose, of becoming entitled to a deduction under this Division.
- (3) Despite paragraph (1)(a), the investment commitment time for an amount to which that paragraph would otherwise apply is the time mentioned in paragraph (2)(a).
- (3A) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(a) and subsection (2), treat yourself as having started to construct an asset at a time if you first incur expenditure in respect of the construction of the asset at that time.
- (3B) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(b), treat yourself as having started construction for an economic benefit at a time if you first incur expenditure in respect of the construction for the benefit at that time.

Options

- (4) To avoid doubt, for the purposes of this section, you do not enter into a contract under which you *hold an asset merely because you acquire an option to enter into such a contract.

41-30 First use time

The first use time for the amount is:

- (a) if the amount is included in the first element of the asset's *cost—the time at which you start to use the asset, or have it *installed ready for use; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 41 Additional deduction for certain new business investment

Section 41-35

---

- (b) if the amount is included in the second element of the asset's cost—the later of:
  - (i) the time at which it becomes included in that element under paragraph 40-190(2)(a); or
  - (ii) the time mentioned in paragraph (a).

41-35 New investment threshold

The new investment threshold for an income year (the relevant income year) in relation to an asset means:

- (a) $1000 if you are a *small business entity during any of the following income years:
  - (i) the income year in which occurs the *investment commitment time for any *recognised new investment amount for the asset in relation to the relevant income year;
  - (ii) the income year in which occurs the *first use time for any such amount;
  - (iii) the relevant income year; or
- (b) otherwise—$10,000.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 43—Deductions for capital works

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 43
43-A	Key operative provisions
43-B	Establishing the deduction base
43-C	Your area and your construction expenditure
43-D	Deductible uses of capital works
43-E	Special rules about uses
43-F	Calculation of deduction
43-G	Undeducted construction expenditure
43-H	Balancing deduction on destruction of capital works

Guide to Division 43

43-1 What this Division is about

You can deduct certain capital expenditure on assessable income producing buildings and other capital works. This Division sets out the rules for working out those deductions.

Table of sections

43-2	Key concepts used in this Division
------	------------------------------------

43-2 Key concepts used in this Division

The following graphic introduces the key concepts used in this Division and shows the relationships between them.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 43 Deductions for capital works

Section 43-2

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 43-A—Key operative provisions

Guide to Subdivision 43-A

43-5 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision contains the key operative provisions for this Division, including all of the deduction entitlement provisions. You should read all of this Subdivision to understand how this Division works.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

43-10	Deductions for capital works
43-15	Amount you can deduct
43-20	Capital works to which this Division applies
43-25	Rate of deduction
43-30	No deduction until construction is complete
43-35	Requirement for body corporate to be registered under the Industry Research and Development Act
43-40	Deduction for destruction of capital works
43-45	Certain anti-avoidance provisions
43-50	Links and signposts to other parts of the Act
43-55	Anti-avoidance—arrangement etc. with tax-exempt entity

Operative provisions

43-10 Deductions for capital works

- (1) You can deduct an amount for capital works for an income year.
- (2) You can only deduct the amount if:
  - (a) the capital works have a *construction expenditure area; and
  - (b) there is a *pool of construction expenditure for that area; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 43 Deductions for capital works

Section 43-15

---

(c) you use *your area in the income year in the way set out in Table 43-140 (Current year use).

Note 1: The deduction is limited to capital works to which this Division applies, see section 43-20.

Note 2: Amongst other things, the definition of your area ensures that only owners and certain lessees of capital works, and certain holders of quasi-ownership rights over land on which capital works are constructed, can deduct an amount under this Division.

43-15 Amount you can deduct

(1) The amount you can deduct is a portion of *your construction expenditure. However, it cannot exceed the amount of *undeducted construction expenditure for *your area.

Note: The limit in this subsection has 2 effects:

- It ensures that not more than 100% of your construction expenditure can be deducted.
- It imposes a time limit on the period over which your construction expenditure can be deducted. For capital works begun before 27 February 1992, that period will be 25 years if the rate of deduction is 4% or 40 years if the rate is 2.5%. For other capital works, the period will be 25 years or 40 years or some period between 25 and 40 years depending on their use.

(2) Your deduction is calculated under section 43-210 or 43-215.

43-20 Capital works to which this Division applies

Buildings

(1) This Division applies to capital works being a building, or an extension, alteration or improvement to a building:

- (a) begun in Australia after 21 August 1979; or
- (b) begun outside Australia after 21 August 1990.

Note: Section 43-80 explains when capital works begin.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Structural improvements

- (2) This Division also applies to capital works (other than capital works referred to in subsection (1)) begun after 26 February 1992 that are structural improvements, or extensions, alterations or improvements to structural improvements, whether they are in or outside Australia.
- (3) Some examples of structural improvements are:
  - (a) sealed roads, sealed driveways, sealed car parks, sealed airport runways, bridges, pipelines, lined road tunnels, retaining walls, fences, concrete or rock dams and artificial sports fields; and
  - (b) earthworks that are integral to the construction of a structural improvement (other than a structural improvement described in subsection (4)), for example, embankments, culverts and tunnels associated with a runway, road or railway.
- (4) This Division does not apply to structural improvements being:
  - (a) earthworks that:
    - (i) are not integral to the installation or construction of a structure; and
    - (ii) are permanent (assuming they are maintained in reasonably good order and condition); and
    - (iii) can be economically maintained in reasonably good order and condition for an indefinite period; for example, unlined channels, unlined basins, earth tanks and dirt tracks; or
  - (b) earthworks that merely create artificial landscapes, for example, grass golf course fairways and greens, gardens, and grass sports fields.

Environment protection earthworks

- (5) This Division also applies to capital works being earthworks, or extensions, alterations or improvements to earthworks, if:
  - (a) they are constructed as a result of carrying out of *environmental protection activities; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 43 Deductions for capital works

Section 43-25

---

- (b) they can be economically maintained in reasonably good order and condition for an indefinite period; and
- (c) they are not integral to the construction of capital works; and
- (d) the expenditure on the capital works was incurred after 18 August 1992.

Note: This subsection allows you to deduct an amount for some earthworks that are excluded by paragraph (4)(a) if the earthworks are constructed in carrying out an environmental protection activity.

43-25 Rate of deduction

- (1) For capital works begun after 26 February 1992, there is a basic entitlement to a rate of 2.5% for parts used as described in Table 43-140 (Current year use). The rate increases to 4% for parts used as described in Table 43-145 (Use in the 4% manner).
- (2) For capital works begun before 27 February 1992 and used as described in Table 43-140, the rate is:
  - (a) 4% if the capital works were begun after 21 August 1984 and before 16 September 1987; or
  - (b) 2.5% in any other case.

Note: Section 43-80 explains when capital works begin.

43-30 No deduction until construction is complete

You cannot deduct an amount for any period before the completion of construction of the capital works even though you used them, or part of them, before completion.

43-35 Requirement for body corporate to be registered under the Industry Research and Development Act

A body corporate may deduct an amount under this Division on the basis of using capital works for the purpose of carrying on *research and development activities only if the body corporate is registered under section 39J (Registration of eligible companies) or 39P (Joint registration) of the Industry Research and Development Act 1986.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Note: Research and development activities must be carried on in connection with a business carried on for the purpose of producing assessable income, see section 43-195.

43-40 Deduction for destruction of capital works

- (1) You can deduct an amount if all or a part of *your area is destroyed in an income year and:
  - (a) you have been allowed, or can claim, a deduction under this Division, or former Division 10C or 10D of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, for your area; and
  - (b) there is an amount of *undeducted construction expenditure for your area; and
  - (c) you were using your area in the way that applies to it under Table 43-140 (Current year use) immediately before the destruction or, if not, neither you nor any other entity used your area for any purpose since it was last used by you in that way.
- (2) The deduction is allowable in the income year in which the destruction occurs, and is calculated under section 43-250.

Note: The effect of this provision is to allow you to deduct an amount in the income year in which the capital works are destroyed for all of your construction expenditure that has not yet been deducted. However, you must reduce the deduction by any insurance and salvage receipts.

43-45 Certain anti-avoidance provisions

These anti-avoidance provisions:

- (a) section 51AD (Deductions not allowable in respect of property under certain leveraged arrangements) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936;
  - (b) Division 16D (Certain arrangements relating to the use of property) of Part III of that Act;
- apply to your deductions under this Division for an asset as if you were the owner of the asset instead of any other person.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 43-50

---

43-50 Links and signposts to other parts of the Act

Links

- (1) No part of a *pool of construction expenditure can be a deduction, or taken into account in working out the amount of a deduction, under a provision of this Act other than this Division.
- (2) No part of an amount incurred by an entity in acquiring capital works for which there is a *pool of construction expenditure can be a deduction, or taken into account in working out the amount of a deduction, under a provision of this Act other than this Division.
- (3) You will be taken not to be the owner of any part of capital works that are the subject of a lease to which you have chosen to apply section 104-115 (CGT event F2). The lessee or sublessee will be taken to be the owner of that part.

Note 1: Choosing to apply section 104-115 results in the lease being treated for CGT purposes more like an outright disposal.

Note 2: See subsection 43-180(3) for the effect of the rule in subsection (3) of this section on the need to own 10 apartments, units or flats in an apartment building.

Signposts

- (6) There are special record-keeping rules that apply to this Division in subsection 262A(4AJA) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.
- (7) Your deductions under this Division may be reduced if any of your commercial debts have been forgiven in the income year: see Subdivision 245-E of Schedule 2C to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.
- (8) Where you have had a deduction under this Division an amount may be included in your assessable income if the expenditure was financed by limited recourse debt that has terminated: see Division 243.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

43-55 Anti-avoidance—arrangement etc. with tax-exempt entity

- (1) You will not be allowed a deduction under this Division for an income year if the Commissioner is satisfied that:
  - (a) you entered into an *arrangement with:
    - (i) an entity to which section 50-5, 50-10, 50-15, 50-20, 50-25, 50-30, 50-40 or 50-45 (dealing with *exempt income) applies; or
    - (ii) an STB (within the meaning of Division 1AB of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) whose *ordinary income and *statutory income is exempt from income tax; under which you were to pay an amount, or transfer property, directly or indirectly, to the entity; and
  - (b) the amount of the payment or the value of the property is calculated by reference to the amount of a deduction allowable to you under this Division; and
  - (c) a purpose of the arrangement that is not a merely incidental purpose is to ensure that the benefit of the deduction would pass wholly or substantially to the entity, whether directly or indirectly.
- (2) Subsection (1) applies to *arrangements entered into with an entity referred to in subparagraph (1)(a)(i) after 1 May 1980 that relate to deductions for *hotel buildings or *apartment buildings begun before 1 July 1997.
- (3) Subsection (1) also applies to *arrangements entered into with an entity referred to in subparagraph (1)(a)(ii) after 30 June 1994 that relate to deductions for *hotel buildings or *apartment buildings begun before 1 July 1997.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 43-60

---

Subdivision 43-B—Establishing the deduction base

Guide to Subdivision 43-B

43-60 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision explains the meaning of the terms construction expenditure, construction expenditure area and pool of construction expenditure.

Table of sections

43-65 Explanatory material

Operative provisions

43-70 What is construction expenditure?

43-72 Meaning of forestry road, timber operation and timber mill building

43-75 Construction expenditure area

43-80 When capital works begin

43-85 Pools of construction expenditure

43-90 Table of intended use at time of completion of construction

43-95 Meaning of hotel building and apartment building

43-100 Certificates by Innovation Australia

43-65 Explanatory material

Expenditure in respect of the construction of capital works is only eligible for a deduction under this Division if there is a construction expenditure area for the capital works. The area defined as the construction expenditure area may comprise the whole of the capital works or only part of them.

Whether there is a construction expenditure area for capital works and how it is identified depends on the following factors:

- the type of expenditure incurred;
- the time when the capital works began;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- the area of the capital works that is to be owned, leased or held by the entity that incurred the expenditure;
- for capital works begun before 1 July 1997, the area of the capital works that was to be used in a particular manner.

A pool of construction expenditure is that part of an amount of construction expenditure that is attributable to a particular construction expenditure area.

Operative provisions

43-70 What is construction expenditure?

- (1) Construction expenditure is capital expenditure incurred in respect of the construction of capital works.
- (2) Construction expenditure does not include:
  - (a) expenditure on acquiring land; or
  - (b) expenditure on demolishing existing structures; or
  - (c) expenditure on clearing, levelling, filling, draining or otherwise preparing the construction site prior to carrying out excavation works; or
  - (d) expenditure on landscaping; or
  - (e) expenditure on *plant; or
  - (f) expenditure on property for which a deduction is allowable, or would be allowable if the property were for use for the *purpose of producing assessable income, under:
    - (i) Subdivision 40-F (about primary production depreciating assets), Subdivision 40-G (about capital expenditure of primary producers and other landholders), Subdivision 40-H (about capital expenditure that is immediately deductible) or Subdivision 40-I (about capital expenditure that is deductible over time); or
    - (ii) the former Division 330 of this Act or the former Division 10, 10AAA or 10AA of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (all of which dealt with mining and/or quarrying); or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 43-70

---

- (iii) section 73A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (about expenditure on scientific research); or
- (iv) the former Subdivision 387-A of this Act or the former section 75D of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (both of which allowed deductions for capital expenditure to prevent land degradation); or
- (v) the former Subdivision 387-B of this Act or the former section 75B of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (both of which allowed deductions for capital expenditure on facilities to conserve or convey water); or
- (vi) the former Subdivision 387-G of this Act or the former section 124F or 124JA of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (all of which allowed deductions for capital expenditure on forestry roads and/or timber mill buildings); or
- (fa) any of these kinds of expenditure if a deduction is allowable for the expenditure, or would be allowable if property had been used for the purpose of producing assessable income:
  - (i) *mining capital expenditure or *transport capital expenditure;
  - (ii) expenditure on a *forestry road in connection with carrying on a *timber operation for a *taxable purpose;
  - (iii) expenditure for the construction or acquisition of a *timber mill building;
  - (iv) expenditure on a *depreciating asset you can deduct under subsection 40-80(1) (about exploration and prospecting); or
- (g) expenditure on property for which a deduction is allowable, or would be allowable if the property were for use for carrying on *research and development activities, under section 73B, 73BA or 73BH of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, or would be allowable under that section of that Act if a company had not chosen a tax offset under section 73I of that Act; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (h) eligible heritage conservation expenditure within the meaning of the former Subdivision AAD of Division 17 of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Note: Paragraph (2)(g) only affects buildings begun before 21 November 1987, that were acquired or constructed under contracts entered into before that date or that were intended before that date to be used exclusively for research and development activities.

43-72 Meaning of *forestry road, timber operation and timber mill building

- (1) A forestry road is a road constructed primarily and principally for the purpose of providing access to an area to enable:

- (a) trees to be planted or tended in the area; or
- (b) timber felled in the area to be removed.

For this purpose, a road includes any bridge, culvert or similar work forming part of the road.

- (2) A timber operation is:

- (a) planting or tending trees for felling; or
- (b) felling standing timber; or
- (c) removing felled timber; or
- (d) milling felled timber or processing it in another way.

- (3) A timber mill building is a building:

- (a) for use primarily and principally:
  - (i) in carrying on your *business of milling timber for a *taxable purpose; or
  - (ii) as residential accommodation for your employees engaged in connection with the business, or for their dependants; and
- (b) located in a forest, and in or adjacent to the area where timber milled in the business is, or is to be, felled.

43-75 Construction expenditure area

- (1) The construction expenditure area of capital works begun after 30 June 1997 is the part of the capital works on which the *construction expenditure was incurred that, at the time when it

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 43 Deductions for capital works

Section 43-75

---

was incurred by an entity, was to be owned or leased by the entity or held by the entity under a *quasi-ownership right over land granted by an *exempt Australian government agency or an *exempt foreign government agency.

Note: Section 43-80 explains when capital works begin.

- (2) The construction expenditure area of capital works begun before 1 July 1997 is the part of the capital works on which the *construction expenditure was incurred that:
- (a) at the time when it was incurred by an entity, was to be owned or leased by the entity or held by the entity under a *quasi-ownership right over land granted by an *exempt Australian government agency or an *exempt foreign government agency; and
  - (b) at the time of completion of construction, was to be used in the way described in Column 3 of Table 43-90 (intended use at completion) for the time period when the capital works began as set out in Column 1.
- (3) There is taken to be a construction expenditure area for capital works purchased by an entity from another entity if:
- (a) the capital works would have had a construction expenditure area but for the fact that the other entity did not incur capital expenditure in constructing the capital works; and
  - (b) the other entity is not an *associate of the entity; and
  - (c) the other entity constructed the capital works on land that it owned or leased in the course of a business that included the construction and sale of capital works of that kind.

Note: Subsection (3) makes capital works purchased from a speculative builder eligible for deduction in the hands of the first and subsequent purchasers.

- (4) The construction of the capital works must be complete before the *construction expenditure area is determined.
- (5) Only one *construction expenditure area is created each time an entity constructs capital works.

Example: An entity undertakes the construction of a building. During the course of construction, the entity makes 3 progress payments to the builder. There is still only one construction expenditure area.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (6) A separate *construction expenditure area will be created each time an entity undertakes the construction of capital works.

Example: In the diagram below, area 1 relates to the original construction of a building which gives rise to one construction expenditure area. Area 2 is a subsequent extension of the same building which gives rise to another, while area 3 is a later renovation of the entire building which gives rise to another.

43-80 When capital works begin

Capital works are taken to begin when the first step in the construction phase starts. For example, the pouring of foundations or sinking of pilings for a building.

Note 1: Capital works begun after 15 September 1987 are taken to have begun before 16 September 1987 in certain circumstances. See section 43-220.

Note 2: The time when capital works begin is relevant for determining whether the capital works qualify for deduction, the use to which those works must be put, the rate of deduction and the calculation mechanism used. However, the time when capital works begin does not limit what qualifies as construction expenditure.

43-85 Pools of construction expenditure

- (1) A pool of construction expenditure is so much of the *construction expenditure incurred by an entity on capital works as is attributable to the *construction expenditure area.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 43 Deductions for capital works

Section 43-90

---

- (2) In applying subsection (1) in a case to which subsection 43-75(3) (dealing with purchases from speculative builders) applies, assume that the expenditure incurred by the other entity was capital expenditure, but that the limitations in subsection 43-70(2) (which sets out types of expenditure that are not *construction expenditure) still apply to the other entity's expenditure.

Note: The builder's profit margin does not form part of the construction expenditure of the purchaser.

43-90 Table of intended use at time of completion of construction

Column 1 Date capital works begin	Column 2 Type of capital works	Column 3 Intended use on completion
Time period 1: 22/8/79 to 19/7/82 (inclusive)	Hotel building	For use by any entity wholly or mainly to operate a hotel, motel or guest house that has at least 10 bedrooms that are for use wholly or mainly to provide short-term accommodation for travellers.
	Apartment building	The building consisted of: (a) at least 10 apartments, units or flats each of which was for use wholly or mainly to provide short-term accommodation for travellers; or (b) at least 10 apartments, units or flats each of which was for use for that purpose and facilities that are wholly or mainly for use in association with providing short-term accommodation for travellers in those apartments, units or flats.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Column 1 Date capital works begin	Column 2 Type of capital works	Column 3 Intended use on completion
Time period 2: 20/7/82 to 17/7/85 (inclusive)	Hotel building	As for time period 1.
	Apartment building	As for time period 1.
	Non-residential building	For: (a) use by the entity that incurred the expenditure for the *purpose of producing assessable income or exempt income; or (b) disposal by that entity to another entity for use by the other entity for the purpose of producing assessable income or exempt income.
Time period 3: 18/7/85 to 20/11/87 (inclusive)	Any building	For: (a) use by the entity that incurred the expenditure for the *purpose of producing assessable income or exempt income; or (b) disposal by that entity to another entity for use by the other entity for the purpose of producing assessable income or exempt income; or (c) use by an entity wholly or mainly for, or in association with, residential accommodation.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 43 Deductions for capital works

Section 43-90

---

Column 1 Date capital works begin	Column 2 Type of capital works	Column 3 Intended use on completion
Time period 4: 21/11/87 to 26/2/92 (inclusive)	Any building	For: (a) use by the entity that incurred the expenditure for the *purpose of producing assessable income or exempt income; or (b) disposal by that entity to another entity for use by the other entity for the purpose of producing assessable income or exempt income; or (c) use by an entity wholly or mainly for, or in association with, residential accommodation; or (d) use by the entity that incurred the expenditure to carry on *research and development activities by or for that entity, or for disposal by that entity to another entity for use by the other entity for carrying on research and development activities by or for the other entity.
Time period 5: 27/2/92 to 18/8/92 (inclusive)	Hotel building	As for time period 1.
	Apartment building	As for time period 1.
	Other buildings	As for any building in time period 4.
	Structural improvements	As for any building in time period 4.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Column 1 Date capital works begin	Column 2 Type of capital works	Column 3 Intended use on completion
Time period 6: 19/8/92 to 30/6/97 (inclusive)	Hotel building	As for time period 1.
	Apartment building	As for time period 1.
	Other buildings	As for any building in time period 4.
	Structural improvements	As for any building in time period 4.
	Environment protection earthworks	As for any building in time period 4.

- Note: There are special rules that explain or qualify the uses described in Column 3 of this Table. These rules are set out in Subdivision 43-E (sections 43-155 to 43-195). For example:
- Research and development activities must be carried on in connection with a business carried on for the purpose of producing assessable income, see section 43-195.
  - Certain facilities that are not commonly provided in a hotel, motel or guest house in Australia are taken not to be used or for use to operate a hotel, motel or guest house, see subsection 43-180(6).

43-95 Meaning of hotel building and *apartment building

- (1) A hotel building is:
- (a) a building begun after 21 August 1979 and before 18 July 1985, or after 26 February 1992 and before 1 July 1997, that, at the time of completion of its construction, was intended to be used in the way referred to in Column 3 of Table 43-90 (intended use at completion) for a hotel building; or
  - (b) a building begun after 30 June 1997 and that, in the income year, is used in the way referred to in Column 3 (time period 2) of Table 43-145 (use in the 4% manner) for a hotel building.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 43-100

---

(2) An apartment building is:

- (a) a building begun after 21 August 1979 and before 18 July 1985, or after 26 February 1992 and before 1 July 1997, that, at the time of completion of its construction, was intended to be used in the way referred to in Column 3 of Table 43-90 for an apartment building; or
- (b) a building begun after 30 June 1997 and that, in the income year, is used in the way referred to in Column 3 (time period 2) of Table 43-145 for an apartment building.

43-100 Certificates by Innovation Australia

A certificate by*Innovation Australia stating that activities carried on by or for an entity were or were not *research and development activities is conclusive for the purposes of this Division.

Subdivision 43-C—Your area and your construction expenditure

Guide to Subdivision 43-C

43-105 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision explains your area and your construction expenditure.

Table of sections

43-110 Explanatory material

Operative provisions

43-115 Your area and your construction expenditure—owners

43-120 Your area and your construction expenditure—lessees and quasi-ownership right holders

43-125 Lessees' or right holders' pools can revert to owner

43-130 Identifying your area on acquisition or disposal

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

43-110 Explanatory material

You can only get a deduction under this Division for an income year if you own, lease or hold part of a construction expenditure area of capital works. The area you own, lease or hold is called your area.

In working out your deductions, you must identify your area for each construction expenditure area of the capital works.

Your area may comprise the whole of the construction expenditure area or part of it.

Note: In certain circumstances the notional buyer of property is taken to be its owner (see subsection 240-20(2)).

Operative provisions

43-115 Your area and your construction expenditure—owners

- (1) Your area is the part of the *construction expenditure area that you own.
- (2) Your construction expenditure is the portion of the *pool of construction expenditure that is attributable to your area.

43-120 Your area and your construction expenditure—lessees and quasi-ownership right holders

Own expenditure

- (1) Your area is the part of the *construction expenditure area that you lease, or hold under a *quasi-ownership right over land granted by an *exempt Australian government agency or an *exempt foreign government agency, and that:
  - (a) is attributable to a *pool of construction expenditure that you incurred; and
  - (b) you have continuously leased or held since the construction was completed.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 43-125

---

Earlier lessees' or holders' expenditure

- (2) Your area is the part of the *construction expenditure area that you lease, or hold under a *quasi-ownership right over land granted by an *exempt Australian government agency or an *exempt foreign government agency, and that:
- (a) is attributable to a *pool of construction expenditure incurred by another lessee or holder of a quasi-ownership right over land; and
  - (b) has been continuously leased or held since the construction was completed by the lessee or holder who incurred the expenditure or an assignee of that lessee's lease or that holder's quasi-ownership right over land.
- (3) Your construction expenditure is the portion of the *pool of construction expenditure that is attributable to your area.

43-125 Lessees' or right holders' pools can revert to owner

- (1) An amount that relates to a *pool of construction expenditure that arises as a result of expenditure incurred by a lessee or a holder of a *quasi-ownership right over land:
- (a) can only be deducted by a lessee or a holder of a quasi-ownership right over land who satisfies subsection 43-120(1) or (2); and
  - (b) cannot be deducted by the owner of the capital works while there is a lessee or a holder of a quasi-ownership right over land who satisfies that subsection.
- (2) The owner of the capital works may deduct an amount that relates to that pool if there is no longer a lessee or a holder of a *quasi-ownership right over land who satisfies subsection 43-120(1) or (2).

43-130 Identifying your area on acquisition or disposal

There will be a separate *your area at each time in an income year when you:

- (a) acquire an additional part of a *construction expenditure area;
- or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

(b) dispose of some but not all of a construction expenditure area.

Example: You own half of a building (part A) throughout the income year, and you acquire the other half (part B) on 1 January. This section ensures that part A is your area for the entire year and that part B is your area for the second 6 months of the year.

Note: This ensures that the same area is not counted twice in calculating your deduction. You will have to make separate deduction calculations if you have identified more than one area as your area of the capital works.

Subdivision 43-D—Deductible uses of capital works

Guide to Subdivision 43-D

43-135 What this Subdivision is about

You can only get a deduction under this Division if you use your area in a way described in Table 43-140 or 43-145 of this Subdivision.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

43-140	Using your area in a deductible way
43-145	Using your area in the 4% manner
43-150	Meaning of industrial activities

Operative provisions

43-140 Using your area in a deductible way

- (1) The following table sets out the way you must use *your area in an income year for a deduction to be allowed under section 43-10 (the main deduction provision). The relevant use depends on the time when the capital works began (Column 1) and the type of capital works (Column 2). Column 3 sets out the use.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 43 Deductions for capital works

Section 43-140

---

Table 43-140—Current year use
Column 1 Date capital works begin	Column 2 Type of capital works	Column 3 Use of your area at some time in the income year
Time period 1: After 30/6/97	Any capital works	You use *your area for the purpose of: (a) producing assessable income; or (b) carrying on *research and development activities.
Time period 2: 27/2/92 to 30/6/97 (inclusive)	*Hotel building	You use *your area for the *purpose of producing assessable income.
	*Apartment building	You use *your area for the *purpose of producing assessable income.
	Other capital works	You use *your area for the purpose of: (a) producing assessable income; or (b) carrying on *research and development activities.
Time period 3: Before 27/2/92	*Hotel building	You use *your area for the *purpose of producing assessable income and: (a) all or part of that area is used by any entity wholly or mainly to operate a hotel, motel or guest house; and (b) that hotel, motel or guest house has at least 10 bedrooms that are used or available for use wholly to provide short-term accommodation for travellers.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Table 43-140—Current year use
Column 1 Date capital works begin	Column 2 Type of capital works	Column 3 Use of your area at some time in the income year
	*Apartment building	You use *your area for the *purpose of producing assessable income and: (a) that area is, is part of or contains an apartment, unit or flat that is used or available for use by any entity wholly to provide short-term accommodation for travellers, and you own or lease at least 9 other apartments, units or flats in the building that are used or available for use by any entity wholly to provide short-term accommodation for travellers; or (b) that area is, is part of or contains a facility that is used or available for use by any entity wholly or mainly in association with providing short-term accommodation for travellers in apartments, units or flats in the building that are used in the way described in paragraph (a).
	Other capital works	You use *your area for the purpose of: (a) producing assessable income; or (b) carrying on *research and development activities.

- Note 1: There are special rules that explain or qualify the uses described in Column 3 of this Table. These rules are set out in Subdivision 43-E (sections 43-155 to 43-195). For example:
- Your area is taken to be used, for use or available for use for a purpose or in a way if it is maintained ready for use for that purpose or in that way. See section 43-160.
  - Research and development activities must be carried on in connection with a business carried on for the purpose of producing assessable income, see section 43-195.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 43 Deductions for capital works

Section 43-145

---

Note 2: If Division 250 applies to you and an asset that is a capital work:

- (a) if section 250-150 applies—you are taken to be using the capital work for the purpose of producing assessable income, or for the purpose of carrying on research and development activities, to the extent specified in a determination made under subsection 250-150(3); or
  - (b) otherwise—you are taken not to be using the capital work for such a purpose.
- (2) This Division applies to an entity as if the entity used property for the *purpose of producing assessable income if the entity uses the property for:
- (a) *environmental protection activities; or
  - (b) the environmental impact assessment of a project;
- unless a provision of this Act expressly provides that that use is not for the purpose of producing assessable income.

43-145 Using your area in the 4% manner

You use a part of *your area in the 4% manner if you use it as described in the following Table. The relevant use depends on the time when the capital works began (Column 1) and the type of capital works (Column 2). Column 3 sets out the use.

Table 43-145—Use in the 4% manner
Column 1 Date capital works begin	Column 2 Type of capital works	Column 3 Use of a part of *your area at some time in the income year
Time period 1: After 30/6/97	Capital works that are buildings	You use the part of *your area for the *purpose of producing assessable income and: (a) that part is used by any entity wholly or mainly to operate a hotel, motel or guest house; and (b) that hotel, motel or guest house has at least 10 bedrooms that are used or available for use wholly to provide short-term accommodation for travellers.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Table 43-145—Use in the 4% manner
Column 1 Date capital works begin	Column 2 Type of capital works	Column 3 Use of a part of *your area at some time in the income year
		You use the part of *your area for the *purpose of producing assessable income and: (a) that part is, is part of or contains an apartment, unit or flat that is used or available for use by any entity wholly to provide short-term accommodation for travellers, and you own or lease at least 9 other apartments, units or flats in the building that are used or available for use by any entity wholly to provide short-term accommodation for travellers; or (b) that part is, is part of or contains a facility that is used or available for use by any entity wholly or mainly in association with providing short-term accommodation for travellers in apartments, units or flats in the building that are used in the way described in paragraph (a).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 43 Deductions for capital works

Section 43-145

Table 43-145—Use in the 4% manner
Column 1 Date capital works begin	Column 2 Type of capital works	Column 3 Use of a part of *your area at some time in the income year
		You use the part of *your area for the *purpose of producing assessable income, and that part is used by any entity: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>(a) wholly or mainly for *industrial activities; or</li><li>(b) to provide meal rooms, rest rooms, first aid rooms, change rooms or similar facilities that are wholly or mainly for use by:<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>(i) workers employed wholly or mainly to undertake the work directly involved in carrying out industrial activities; or</li><li>(ii) the immediate supervisors of those workers; or</li></ul></li><li>(c) wholly or mainly as office accommodation for the immediate supervisors of those workers.</li></ul>
Time period 2: 27/2/92 to 30/6/97 (inclusive)	*Hotel building	You use the part of *your area for the *purpose of producing assessable income and: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>(a) that part is used by any entity wholly or mainly to operate a hotel, motel or guest house; and</li><li>(b) that hotel, motel or guest house has at least 10 bedrooms that are used or available for use wholly to provide short-term accommodation for travellers.</li></ul>

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Table 43-145—Use in the 4% manner
Column 1 Date capital works begin	Column 2 Type of capital works	Column 3 Use of a part of *your area at some time in the income year
	*Apartment building	You use the part of *your area for the *purpose of producing assessable income and: (a) that part is, is part of or contains an apartment, unit or flat that is used or available for use by any entity wholly to provide short-term accommodation for travellers, and you own or lease at least 9 other apartments, units or flats in the building that are used or available for use by any entity wholly to provide short-term accommodation for travellers; or (b) that part is, is part of or contains a facility that is used or available for use by any entity wholly or mainly in association with providing short-term accommodation for travellers in apartments, units or flats in the building that are used in the way described in paragraph (a).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 43 Deductions for capital works

Section 43-150

Table 43-145—Use in the 4% manner
Column 1 Date capital works begin	Column 2 Type of capital works	Column 3 Use of a part of *your area at some time in the income year
	Other buildings	You use the part of *your area for the *purpose of producing assessable income, and that part is used by any entity: (a) wholly or mainly for *industrial activities; or (b) to provide meal rooms, rest rooms, first aid rooms, change rooms or similar facilities that are wholly or mainly for use by: (i) workers employed wholly or mainly to undertake the work directly involved in carrying out industrial activities; or (ii) the immediate supervisors of those workers; or (c) wholly or mainly as office accommodation for the immediate supervisors of those workers.

Note: There are special rules that explain or qualify the uses described in Column 3 of this Table. These rules are set out in Subdivision 43-E (sections 43-155 to 43-195). For example:

- Your area is taken to be used, for use or available for use for a purpose or in a way if it is maintained ready for use for that purpose or in that way. See section 43-160.
- A suite of rooms in a hotel building may be treated as one bedroom, see subsection 43-180(2).

43-150 Meaning of *industrial activities

Industrial activities means:

- (a) any of the following activities (core activities):
- (i) operations where manufactured items are derived from other goods even if those manufactured items are themselves used as parts or materials in the manufacture of other items;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (ii) operations (other than packing, placing in containers or labelling) by which manufactured items are brought into or maintained in the form or condition in which they are sold or used, even if they are for sale or use as parts or materials in the manufacture of other items;
  - (iii) the separation of a metal or a compound of a metal from its ore (not including crushing, grinding, breaking, screening or sizing to facilitate that separation) or the treatment or processing of a metal or a compound of a metal after its separation;
  - (iv) for a metal or a compound of a metal not requiring separation—applying to the metal or compound a treatment or process which, if the metal or compound had required separation, would not have been applied until after the separation;
  - (v) refining *petroleum;
  - (vi) scouring or carbonising wool;
  - (vii) milling timber;
  - (viii) freezing primary products;
  - (ix) printing, lithographing or engraving, or a similar process, in the course of carrying on a business as a publisher, printer, lithographer or engraver;
  - (x) curing meat or fish;
  - (xi) producing chilled or frozen meat;
  - (xii) pasteurising milk;
  - (xiii) canning or bottling foodstuffs;
  - (xiv) producing electric current, hydraulic power, steam, compressed air or gases (other than natural gas) for the purpose of sale, or use wholly or mainly in carrying on another activity mentioned in this paragraph; or
- (b) any of the following activities:
- (i) the packing, placing in containers or labelling of any goods resulting from the carrying on of core activities;
  - (ii) the disposal of waste substances resulting from the carrying on of core activities;
  - (iii) the cleansing or sterilising of bottles, vats or other containers used by the entity to store goods to be used in

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 43-155

---

carrying on core activities or goods resulting from the carrying on of core activities;

- (iv) the assembly, maintenance, cleansing, sterilising or repair of property used in carrying on core activities;
- (v) the storage, within premises in which core activities are carried on, or premises contiguous to those premises, of goods in carrying on core activities, goods in relation to which core activities have commenced but not finally been completed or goods resulting from core activities;

but does not include the preparation of food or drink (whether for consumption on the premises where it is prepared or elsewhere) in, or in premises occupied in connection with, a hotel, motel, boarding house, catering establishment, restaurant, cafe, milk-bar, coffee shop, retail shop or similar establishment.

Subdivision 43-E—Special rules about uses

Guide to Subdivision 43-E

43-155 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision contains special rules about uses of capital works. It is relevant to whether you can get a deduction for capital works and also to the rate of that deduction. The rules in this Subdivision affect the uses of capital works described in Tables 43-90, 43-140 and 43-145.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

43-160	Your area is used for a purpose if it is maintained ready for use for the purpose
43-165	Temporary cessation of use
43-170	Own use—capital works other than hotel and apartment buildings
43-175	Own use—hotel and apartment buildings
43-180	Special rules for hotel and apartment buildings
43-185	Residential or display use

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- 43-190 Use of facilities not commonly provided, and of certain buildings used to operate a hotel, motel or guest house
- 43-195 Use for research and development activities must be in connection with a business

Operative provisions

43-160 Your area is used for a purpose if it is maintained ready for use for the purpose

A part of *your area is taken to be used, for use or available for use for a particular purpose or in a particular manner at a time if, at that time:

- (a) it was maintained ready for use for that purpose or in that manner; and
- (b) it was not used or for use for any other purpose or in any other manner; and
- (c) its use or intended use for that purpose or in that manner had not been abandoned.

Note 1: Construction must be complete before you can deduct an amount, see section 43-30.

Note 2: This section affects Tables 43-140 and 43-145.

43-165 Temporary cessation of use

A part of *your area is taken to be used, for use or available for use for a particular purpose or in a particular manner if its use for that purpose or in that manner temporarily ceases because of:

- (a) the construction of an extension, alteration or improvement, or the making of repairs; or
- (b) seasonal or climatic factors.

Note: This section affects Tables 43-140 and 43-145.

43-170 Own use—capital works other than hotel and apartment buildings

- (1) A part of capital works, other than a *hotel building or an *apartment building, is taken not to be used for the *purpose of producing assessable income if that part is for use mainly for, or in

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 43 Deductions for capital works

Section 43-175

---

association with, residential accommodation by you or an *associate.

Note: This subsection affects Tables 43-140 and 43-145.

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to use by an *associate under an *arrangement:
- (a) to which you and the associate are parties; and
  - (b) that is of a kind that the parties could reasonably be expected to have entered into if they had been dealing with each other at arm's length; and
  - (c) that was not entered into for the purpose of obtaining a deduction under this Division.
- (3) If property that constitutes the whole or part of capital works, other than a *hotel building or an *apartment building, is part of an individual's home, the property is taken to be used, or for use, wholly or mainly for or in association with residential accommodation.

Note: This subsection affects Tables 43-90 and 43-140.

43-175 Own use—hotel and apartment buildings

- (1) An entity is taken not to have used a bedroom in a *hotel building, or an apartment, unit or flat in an *apartment building, for the *purpose of producing assessable income at a time if, at that time, the bedroom, apartment, unit or flat is used, or reserved for use, by:
- (a) the entity; or
  - (b) if the entity is a partnership—any of the partners in the partnership.

Note: This subsection affects Tables 43-140 and 43-145.

- (2) Also, an entity is taken not to use a bedroom in a *hotel building, or an apartment, unit or flat in an *apartment building for any purpose at a time if:
- (a) at that time, a right to use or occupy the bedroom, apartment, unit or flat was vested in the entity; and
  - (b) that right was vested in the entity because the entity was, at that time, a member of a company, a beneficiary of a trust estate or a partner in a partnership.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Note: This subsection affects Tables 43-90, 43-140 and 43-145.

43-180 Special rules for hotel and apartment buildings

Rules about counting rooms or apartments etc.

- (1) A bedroom in a *hotel building, or an apartment, unit or flat in an *apartment building, is taken to be used or available for use wholly for short-term accommodation for travellers in a period if it is used or available for use mainly for short-term accommodation for travellers in that period.

Note: This subsection ensures that a limited period of non-short-term traveller accommodation use will be disregarded in counting the number of rooms provided the bedroom, apartment, unit or flat is used mainly for short-term traveller accommodation.

- (2) For the purpose of counting the number of bedrooms in a *hotel building, if 2 or more rooms that are bedrooms or include a bedroom are for use together as a suite of rooms, the suite is taken to constitute one bedroom.
- (3) Despite subsection 43-50(3) (which treats you as not being the owner of certain capital works), you can still count an apartment, unit or flat in relation to which CGT event F2 has happened in working out whether you own or lease at least 10 apartments, units or flats in an *apartment building if you own or lease at least one other apartment, unit or flat in the building.

Note 1: CGT event F2 results in a lease with a term of 50 years or more being treated for CGT purposes more like an outright disposal.

Note 2: Subsection 43-50(3) treats you as not being the owner of capital works that are the subject of such a lease.

Rules about hotel or apartment complexes

- (4) A group of buildings that constitutes a complex of buildings is taken to be one *hotel building or *apartment building, and none of the buildings in the group is taken to be a separate building.
- (5) The construction of a *hotel building or *apartment building is taken to be an extension of another building if, after completion of

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 43 Deductions for capital works

Section 43-185

---

the construction, those buildings are taken to be one building under subsection (4).

Note: Subsections (4) and (5) ensure that a hotel or apartment building that provides short-term traveller accommodation in detached buildings will be treated as a single building so that the 10 hotel room/apartment test is applied to the complex as a whole. It also has the effect that the complex as a whole must be completed before there can be a construction expenditure area.

Rules about facilities not commonly provided in Australia

- (6) If a *hotel building contains a facility of a kind that is not commonly provided in a hotel, motel or guest house in Australia, the facility is taken not to be used or for use to operate a hotel, motel or guest house.
- (7) If an *apartment building contains a facility of a kind that is not commonly provided in a hotel, motel or guest house in Australia, the facility is taken not to be a facility for use in association with providing short-term accommodation for travellers in apartments, units or flats.

Note: Subsections (6) and (7) exclude areas such as casinos from the construction expenditure area of a hotel building or apartment building.

43-185 Residential or display use

- (1) A building, other than a *hotel building or an *apartment building, or an extension, alteration or improvement to such a building, begun after 19 July 1982 and before 18 July 1985 is taken not to be used for the *purpose of producing assessable income or exempt income if it is used or for use wholly or mainly for exhibition or display in connection with:
  - (a) the sale of all or part of any building; or
  - (b) the lease of all or part of any building for use wholly or mainly for or in association with residential accommodation.

Note: Subsection (1) affects time period 2 in Table 43-90 and time period 3 in Table 43-140.

- (2) A building, other than a *hotel building or an *apartment building, begun after 19 July 1982 and before 18 July 1985 is taken not to be used for the *purpose of producing assessable income if it is used or available for use wholly or mainly for or in association with residential accommodation.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Note: Subsection (2) affects time period 2 in Table 43-90 and time period 3 in Table 43-140.

- (3) A building, other than a *hotel building or an *apartment building, begun after 17 July 1985 and before 1 July 1997 is taken not to be used for the *purpose of producing assessable income if it is used or for use wholly or mainly for exhibition or display in connection with the sale of all or part of any building.

Note: Subsection (3) affects time periods 2 and 3 in Table 43-140.

43-190 Use of facilities not commonly provided, and of certain buildings used to operate a hotel, motel or guest house

- (1) A facility in a *hotel building or an *apartment building that is not commonly provided in a hotel, motel or guest house in Australia is taken not to be used, or for use, for or in association with residential accommodation if the facility is part of a building begun after 19 July 1982 and before 18 July 1985.

Note: This subsection means that, for time period 2 in Table 43-90, a facility referred to in subsection 43-180(6) or (7) (dealing with facilities not commonly provided in Australia) is taken to be a non-residential building if it satisfies the use test in Column 3 of that table for a building of that kind, and is therefore eligible for deduction even though it would ordinarily be taken to be used for residential accommodation.

- (2) A building, other than a *hotel building or an *apartment building, begun after 19 July 1982 and before 18 July 1985 that is used, or for use, wholly or mainly for the purpose of operating a hotel, motel or guest house is taken to be used or for use wholly or mainly for, or in association with, residential accommodation.

Note: This subsection ensures that hotels, motels and guest houses begun in the specified time period that do not satisfy the tests for hotel and apartment buildings (for example, because they had fewer than 10 bedrooms or apartments) do not qualify for a deduction under this Division.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 43-195

---

43-195 Use for research and development activities must be in connection with a business

You are taken not to use capital works for *research and development activities unless you do so in connection with a business that you carry on for the *purpose of producing assessable income.

Note: This section affects Tables 43-90 and 43-140.

Subdivision 43-F—Calculation of deduction

Guide to Subdivision 43-F

43-200 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision shows you how to calculate the amount of a deduction under section 43-10. The calculations must be made separately for each area that is identified as your area.

There are 2 separate calculation provisions: One for capital works begun before 27 February 1992; and the other for capital works begun after 26 February 1992.

Table of sections

43-205 Explanatory material

Operative provisions

43-210 Deduction for capital works begun after 26 February 1992

43-215 Deduction for capital works begun before 27 February 1992

43-220 Capital works taken to have begun earlier for certain purposes

43-205 Explanatory material

Capital works begun before 27 February 1992

The calculation for these works is based on *your construction expenditure and the applicable rate of deduction. There can be only one rate of deduction that applies to *your area. However, reductions of deductions may apply.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

You must reduce your deduction for any period in the income year that you did not own *your area and use it in the way described in Table 43-140 (Current year use). Because there are 2 use tests in Table 43-140 for *hotel buildings and *apartment buildings (a general income producing test and a more specific hotel and short-term traveller accommodation use test), there are 2 reduction steps.

The first step reduces your deduction if part of *your area was not used as a *hotel building or *apartment building. The second step reduces the deduction to the extent that your area is used only partly for the *purpose of producing assessable income. This occurs, for example, if you *derive both assessable and exempt income, or if part of your area is not used to produce assessable income for all or part of the period it was used as a hotel building or apartment building.

Capital works begun after 26 February 1992

The calculation for these works is based on a portion of *your construction expenditure and the applicable rate of deduction. There can be 2 rates of deduction for your area depending on the way you use it.

If 2 rates apply, there will be a separate calculation for the part of *your area used in the way described in Table 43-140 and for the part of *your area used in the way described in Table 43-145 (Use in the 4% manner). A gross deduction and subsequent reduction is calculated for each.

The reduction is the same as the second reduction for capital works begun before 27 February 1992.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 43-210

---

Operative provisions

43-210 Deduction for capital works begun after 26 February 1992

Step 1 Calculate the amount worked out using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Portion of your CE} \times \text{Days used} \times 0.04}{365}$$

where:

portion of your CE is the portion of *your construction expenditure that is attributable to the part of *your area that you used in the *4% manner.

days used is the number of days in the income year that:

- (a) you owned or were the lessee of that part of *your area and used it in the *4% manner; or
- (b) you were the holder of that part of *your area under a *quasi-ownership right over land granted by an *exempt Australian government agency or an *exempt foreign government agency, and used that part of your area in the 4% manner.

Step 2 Reduce the Step 1 amount by the extent to which the part referred to in Step 1 was used only partly for the *purpose of producing assessable income.

Note: This Step applies if:

- part of your income from the part referred to in Step 1 is exempt income; or
- part of the part referred to in Step 1 was not used for the purpose of producing assessable income or was not available for that use; or
- the part of the part referred to in Step 1 was not used for such a purpose during a part of the days used period.

Step 3 Calculate the amount worked out using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Portion of your CE} \times \text{Days used} \times 0.025}{365}$$

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

where:

portion of your CE is the portion of *your construction expenditure that is attributable to the part of *your area that you did not use in the *4% manner but was used as described in Table 43-140 (Current year use).

days used is the number of days in the income year that:

- (a) you owned or were the lessee of that part of *your area and used it in that manner; or
- (b) you were the holder of that part of *your area under a *quasi-ownership right over land granted by an *exempt Australian government agency or an *exempt foreign government agency, and used that part of your area in that manner.

Step 4 Reduce the Step 3 amount by the extent to which the part referred to in Step 3:

- (a) for a *hotel building or *apartment building—was used only partly for the *purpose of producing assessable income; or
- (b) for any other capital works—was used only partly for the purpose of *producing assessable income or carrying on *research and development activities.

Note: This Step applies if:

- part of your income from the part referred to in Step 3 is exempt income; or
- part of the part referred to in Step 3 was not used for the purpose of producing assessable income (or research and development activities) or was not available for that use; or
- the part of the part referred to in Step 3 was not used for such a purpose during a part of the days used period.

Step 5 Add the Step 2 and Step 4 amounts.

Step 6 The amount of your deduction is the lesser of your Step 5 amount or the *undeducted construction expenditure for *your area.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 43-215

---

43-215 Deduction for capital works begun before 27 February 1992

Step 1 Calculate the amount worked out using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Your CE} \times \text{Days used} \times \text{Applicable rate}}{365}$$

where:

your CE is *your construction expenditure.

days used is the number of days in the income year that you owned or were the lessee of *your area and used it in the way that applies to the capital works under Table 43-140 (Current year use).

applicable rate is:

- (a) 0.04 if the capital works began after 21 August 1984 and before 16 September 1987; or
- (b) 0.025 in any other case.

Note: For the purpose of working out the applicable rate, capital works begun after 15 September 1987 are taken to have begun before 16 September 1987 in certain circumstances. See section 43-220.

Step 2 This step applies only to *hotel buildings and *apartment buildings. Reduce the Step 1 amount by the extent to which:

- (a) for a hotel building—any part of *your area was not used wholly or mainly to operate a hotel, motel or guest house; or
- (b) for an apartment building—any part of *your area was not used wholly for or in association with providing short-term accommodation for travellers.

Step 3 Reduce the Step 1 or 2 amount by the extent to which:

- (a) for a *hotel building or *apartment building—*your area was used only partly for the *purpose of producing assessable income; or
- (b) for any other capital works—*your area was used only partly for the *purpose of producing assessable income or carrying on *research and development activities.

Note: This Step applies if:

- part of your income from the capital works is exempt income; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- part of the capital works were not used for the purpose of producing assessable income or were not available for that use; or
- the capital works were not used for such a purpose during a part of the days used period.

Step 4 The amount of your deduction is the lesser of your Step 3 amount or the *undeducted construction expenditure for *your area.

43-220 Capital works taken to have begun earlier for certain purposes

- (1) A building, other than a *hotel building or an *apartment building, or an extension, alteration or improvement to such a building, begun after 15 September 1987 is taken to have begun before 16 September 1987 if:
  - (a) the construction was under a contract that was entered into before 16 September 1987, or was under 2 or more contracts any of which was entered into before that date; or
  - (b) money was borrowed for a purpose that included the purpose of financing the construction under a contract or contracts entered into before 16 September 1987 by an entity that was, or by entities each of which was, a *qualifying investor, and that money was used to finance the construction.
- (2) An entity is a qualifying investor for the construction of a building if:
  - (a) at the end of 15 September 1987, the entity was the owner or lessee of the land on which the building was constructed; or
  - (b) the entity became the owner or lessee of the land under a contract entered into before 16 September 1987.
- (3) An entity is a qualifying investor for the construction of an extension, alteration or improvement to a building if:
  - (a) at the end of 15 September 1987, the entity was the owner or lessee of the building, or the part of the building to which the extension, alteration or improvement was made; or
  - (b) the entity became the owner or lessee of the building or that part under a contract entered into before 16 September 1987.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 43-225

---

Subdivision 43-G—Undeducted construction expenditure

Guide to Subdivision 43-G

43-225 What this Subdivision is about

The undeducted construction expenditure for your area is the part of your construction expenditure you have left to write off. It is used to work out:

- the number of years in which you can deduct amounts for your construction expenditure; and
- the amount that you can deduct under section 43-40 if your area or a part is destroyed.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

43-230	Calculating undeducted construction expenditure—common step
43-235	Post-26 February 1992 undeducted construction expenditure
43-240	Pre-27 February 1992 undeducted construction expenditure

Operative provisions

43-230 Calculating undeducted construction expenditure—common step

- (1) Identify the date when the capital works began.

Note 1: The date determines whether your calculation is to be made under section 43-235 (for post-26/2/92 expenditure) or 43-240 (for pre-27/2/92 expenditure).

Note 2: Section 43-80 explains when capital works begin.

- (2) If you are calculating a deduction under Subdivision 43-F, identify the period (use period) that:

- (a) started when *your area, or a part of it, was first used by any entity for any purpose after completion of the relevant construction; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) ended at the end of the preceding income year or, if you acquired your area during the income year, at the end of the day before the time of the acquisition.
- (3) If you are calculating a deduction under Subdivision 43-H, identify the period (use period) that started at the time described in paragraph (2)(a) and ended at the time of the destruction.

43-235 Post-26 February 1992 undeducted construction expenditure

Step 1 Calculate for each day in the use period the amount worked out using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Portion of your CE} \times 0.04}{365}$$

where:

portion of your CE is the portion of *your construction expenditure that is attributable to the part of *your area that you used in the *4% manner.

Step 2 Calculate for each day in the use period the amount worked out using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Portion of your CE} \times 0.025}{365}$$

where:

portion of your CE is the portion of *your construction expenditure that is attributable to the part of *your area that you did not use in the *4% manner.

Step 3 Add the aggregate of the amounts calculated under Steps 1 and 2.

Step 4 Deduct the sum of those amounts from *your construction expenditure. The result is the undeducted construction expenditure for *your area.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 43-240

---

43-240 Pre-27 February 1992 undeducted construction expenditure

Step 1 Calculate for each day in the use period the amount worked out using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{your CE} \times \text{applicable rate}}{365}$$

where:

your CE is *your construction expenditure.

applicable rate is:

- (a) 0.04 if the capital works began after 21 August 1984 and before 16 September 1987; or
- (b) 0.025 in any other case.

Note: For the purpose of working out the applicable rate, capital works begun after 15 September 1987 are taken to have begun before 16 September 1987 in certain circumstances. See section 43-220.

Step 2 Deduct the sum of the amounts calculated under Step 1 from *your construction expenditure. The result is the undeducted construction expenditure for *your area.

Subdivision 43-H—Balancing deduction on destruction of capital works

Guide to Subdivision 43-H

43-245 What this Subdivision is about

You may deduct an amount for the undeducted construction expenditure for your area if your area or part of it is destroyed in the circumstances described in section 43-40.

This Subdivision shows you how to work out that deduction.

The calculations in this Subdivision are made separately for each part of the capital works that is identified as your area.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Table of sections

Operative provisions

43-250	The amount of the balancing deduction
43-255	Amounts received or receivable
43-260	Apportioning amounts received for destruction

Operative provisions

43-250 The amount of the balancing deduction

Method statement

Step 1. Calculate the amount (if any) by which the *undeducted construction expenditure for the part of *your area that was destroyed exceeds the amounts you have received or have a right to receive for the destruction of that part.

Step 2. Reduce the amount at Step 1 if one or more of these happened to that part of *your area:

- (a) Step 2 or 4 in section 43-210, or Step 2 or 3 in section 43-215, applied to you or another person for it;
- (b) you were, or another person was, not allowed a deduction for it under this Division;
- (c) a deduction for it was not allowed or was reduced (for you or another person) under former Division 10C or 10D of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

The reduction under this step must be reasonable.

43-255 Amounts received or receivable

The amounts you have received or have a right to receive for the destruction of that part of *your area include:

- (a) an amount received under an insurance policy or otherwise for the destruction of that part; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-10 Capital allowances: rules about deductibility of capital expenditure

Division 43 Deductions for capital works

Section 43-260

---

- (b) an amount received for disposing of property that was included in that part of your area, less any demolition expenditure incurred on the property.

43-260 Apportioning amounts received for destruction

If an amount received or receivable in respect of the destruction of property relates to both the part of *your area for which you are claiming the balancing deduction and to property:

- (a) the cost of which did not form part of *your construction expenditure; or
- (b) that is capital works that was not part of your area;

you must apportion the amount received or receivable to the amount that is attributable to the part of your area that was destroyed. The apportionment must be reasonable.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 45—Disposal of leases and leased plant

Guide to Division 45

45-1 What this Division is about

This Division is designed to prevent tax being avoided through:

- (a) the disposal of leased plant, or an interest in leased plant; or
- (b) the disposal of a partnership interest in a partnership that leased plant; or
- (c) the disposal of shares in a 100% subsidiary that leased plant;

where amounts have been deducted for the decline in value of the plant.

It includes amounts in assessable income. Any benefit received, and any reduction in a liability, is taken into account in calculating the amounts included.

Where the disposal of shares in a 100% subsidiary is involved, the companies in the former wholly-owned group may be made jointly and severally liable for tax that the former subsidiary does not pay.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

45-5	Disposal of leased plant or lease
45-10	Disposal of interest in partnership
45-15	Disposal of shares in 100% subsidiary that leases plant
45-20	Disposal of shares in 100% subsidiary that leases plant in partnership
45-25	Group members liable to pay outstanding tax

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 45-5

---

- 45-30 Reduction for certain plant acquired before 21.9.99
- 45-35 Limit on amount included for plant for which there is a CGT exemption
- 45-40 Meaning of plant and written down value

Operative provisions

45-5 Disposal of leased plant or lease

- (1) An amount is included in your assessable income if:
  - (a) you have deducted or can deduct an amount for the decline in value of *plant; and
  - (b) for most of the time when you *held the plant, you leased it to another entity; and
  - (c) all or part of the lease period occurred on or after 22 February 1999; and
  - (d) on or after that day, you dispose of the plant or an interest in the plant, and that disposal constitutes a *balancing adjustment event; and
  - (e) the sum of the following amounts is more than the plant's *written down value or of that part of it that is attributable to that interest:
    - (i) the money you receive or are entitled to receive for the disposal;
    - (ii) the amount of any reduction in a liability of yours as a result of the disposal;
    - (iii) the *market value of any other benefit you receive or are entitled to receive as a result of the disposal.
- (2) The amount included is the excess referred to in paragraph (1)(e). It is included for the income year in which the disposal occurred.

Example: Sean owns a leased asset. The asset has a written down value of $20,000. He has an outstanding loan for the asset of $60,000.

Sean sells a 50% interest in the asset to Leprechaun Pty Ltd for $40,000. Leprechaun agrees to take over 50% of Sean's obligation to make debt service payments.

The excess referred to in paragraph 45-5(1)(e) is:

$$\left[ $40,000 + $30,000 = $70,000 \right] - $10,000 = $60,000$$

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

That amount is included in Sean's assessable income.

This amount would be reduced if part of it is included in Sean's assessable income under another provision (see subsection 45-5(5)).

Note 1: There is a reduction of the amount included for certain plant acquired before 21 September 1999: see section 45-30.

Note 2: There is a limit on the amount included for plant for which there is a CGT exemption: see section 45-35.

- (3) An amount is also included in your assessable income if:
- (a) you have deducted or can deduct an amount for the *plant's decline in value; and
  - (b) for most of the time when you *held the plant, you leased it to another entity; and
  - (c) all or part of the lease period occurred on or after 22 February 1999; and
  - (d) on or after that day, you dispose of:
    - (i) your interest in the plant, or part of it; or
    - (ii) a right under, or an interest in, the lease;and that disposal does not constitute a *balancing adjustment event.
- (4) The amount included is the sum of the following amounts:
- (a) the money you receive or are entitled to receive for the disposal;
  - (b) the amount of any reduction in a liability of yours as a result of the disposal;
  - (c) the *market value of any other benefit you receive or are entitled to receive as a result of the disposal;
- It is included for the income year in which the disposal occurred.
- (5) However, an amount is not included in your assessable income under this section to the extent that:
- (a) it is included in that assessable income under a provision of this Act outside this Division; or
  - (b) you apply it under section 40-365 (about offsetting balancing adjustments); or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 45-10

---

- (c) roll-over relief is available for the disposal under section 40-340.

Note: There are special rules for disposals between 22 February 1999 and 21 September 1999: see Division 45 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

45-10 Disposal of interest in partnership

- (1) An amount is included in your assessable income if:
- (a) a partnership of which you are (or were) a member has deducted or can deduct an amount for the decline in value of *plant; and
  - (b) the deductions have been or would be reflected in your interest in the partnership net income or partnership loss; and
  - (c) for most of the time when the partnership *held the plant, it leased it to another entity; and
  - (d) all or part of the lease period occurred on or after 22 February 1999; and
  - (e) on or after that day, you dispose of your interest in the plant, or part of it, and that disposal constitutes a *balancing adjustment event; and
  - (f) the sum of the following amounts is more than that part of the plant's *written down value that is attributable to that interest:
    - (i) the money you receive or are entitled to receive for the disposal;
    - (ii) the amount of any reduction in a liability of yours as a result of the disposal;
    - (iii) the *market value of any other benefit you receive or are entitled to receive as a result of the disposal.
- (2) The amount included is the excess referred to in paragraph (1)(f). It is included for the income year in which the disposal occurred.

Example: Chris has a 50% share in a partnership formed to lease an asset. The asset has a written down value of $124,000 (of which Chris' share is $62,000).

Chris assigns his partnership share to another entity for $34,000 plus the other entity agreeing to take over Chris' obligations to service his share of the partnership debt (which is $165,000). The total consideration is:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

$$$34,000 + $165,000 = $199,000$$

The amount assessable under section 45-10 is the excess referred to in paragraph 45-10(1)(f), which is:

$$$199,000 - $62,000 = $137,000$$

This amount would be reduced if part of it is included in Chris' assessable income under another provision (see subsection 45-10(5)).

Note 1: There is a reduction of the amount included for certain plant acquired before 21 September 1999: see section 45-30.

Note 2: There is a limit on the amount included for plant for which there is a CGT exemption: see section 45-35.

- (3) An amount is also included in your assessable income if:
- (a) a partnership of which you are (or were) a member has deducted or can deduct an amount for the decline in value of *plant; and
  - (b) the deductions have been or would be reflected in your interest in the partnership net income or partnership loss; and
  - (c) for most of the time when the partnership *held the plant, it leased it to another entity; and
  - (d) all or part of the lease period occurred on or after 22 February 1999; and
  - (e) on or after that day, you dispose of:
    - (i) your interest in the plant, or part of it; or
    - (ii) a right under, or an interest in, the lease;and that disposal does not constitute a *balancing adjustment event.
- (4) The amount included is the sum of the following amounts:
- (a) the money you receive or are entitled to receive for the disposal;
  - (b) the amount of any reduction in a liability of yours as a result of the disposal;
  - (c) the *market value of any other benefit you receive or are entitled to receive as a result of the disposal.

It is included for the income year in which the disposal occurred.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 45-15

---

- (5) However, an amount is not included in your assessable income under this section to the extent that:
- (a) it is included in that assessable income under a provision of this Act outside this Division; or
  - (b) you apply it under section 40-365 (about offsetting balancing adjustments).

Note: There are special rules for disposals between 22 February 1999 and 21 September 1999: see Division 45 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

45-15 Disposal of shares in 100% subsidiary that leases plant

- (1) A company (the former subsidiary) is treated as if it had disposed of *plant, received its *market value for that disposal and immediately reacquired it for the same amount if:
- (a) the former subsidiary has deducted or can deduct an amount for the decline in value of the plant; and
  - (b) the former subsidiary was a *100% subsidiary of another company in a *wholly-owned group at a time when it *held the plant; and
  - (c) for most of the time when the former subsidiary held the plant, the plant was leased to another entity; and
  - (d) the main *business of the former subsidiary was to lease assets; and
  - (e) all or part of the lease period occurred on or after 22 February 1999; and
  - (f) on or after that day, the direct or indirect beneficial ownership of more than 50% of the *shares in the former subsidiary is acquired by an entity or entities none of which is a member of the wholly-owned group; and
  - (g) the plant's *written down value at the time of that acquisition is less than its market value at that time.
- (2) However, the former subsidiary is not treated as if it had disposed of *plant and reacquired it if the main business of each of the entities that acquired the direct or indirect beneficial ownership of *shares in the former subsidiary is the same as the main business of the *wholly-owned group of which the former subsidiary was a member.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (3) The disposal and reacquisition of the *plant:
- (a) is taken to have occurred when that direct or indirect beneficial ownership was acquired; and
  - (b) is taken not to have affected any lease of the plant.

45-20 Disposal of shares in 100% subsidiary that leases plant in partnership

- (1) A company (also the former subsidiary) is treated as if it had disposed of its interest in *plant, received its *market value for that disposal and immediately reacquired it for the same amount if:
- (a) a partnership of which the former subsidiary is (or was) a member has deducted or can deduct an amount for the decline in value of the plant; and
  - (b) the former subsidiary was a *100% subsidiary of another company in a *wholly-owned group at a time when:
    - (i) it was a member of that partnership; and
    - (ii) the partnership *held the plant; and
  - (c) for most of the time when the partnership held the plant, the plant was leased to another entity; and
  - (d) the main *business of the partnership was to lease assets; and
  - (e) all or part of the lease period occurred on or after 22 February 1999; and
  - (f) on or after that day, the direct or indirect beneficial ownership of more than 50% of the *shares in the former subsidiary is acquired by an entity or entities none of which is a member of the wholly-owned group; and
  - (g) the plant's *written down value at the time of that acquisition is less than its market value at that time.
- (2) However, the former subsidiary is not treated as if it had disposed of the interest and reacquired it if the main business of each of the entities that acquired the direct or indirect beneficial ownership of *shares in the former subsidiary is the same as the main business of the *wholly-owned group of which the former subsidiary was a member.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 45-25

---

- (3) The disposal and reacquisition of the interest:
  - (a) is taken to have occurred when that direct or indirect beneficial ownership was acquired; and
  - (b) is taken not to have affected any lease of the plant.

45-25 Group members liable to pay outstanding tax

- (1) The consequences specified in subsection (2) apply if:
  - (a) an amount is included in the former subsidiary's assessable income for an income year because of section 45-15 or 45-20; and
  - (b) the former subsidiary is liable to pay an amount of income tax for that income year; and
  - (c) the former subsidiary does not pay all of that income tax within 6 months after it became payable.
- (2) The consequences are that:
  - (a) the former subsidiary remains liable to pay the outstanding amount of income tax (reduced by any payments of tax imposed by the New Business Tax System (Former Subsidiary Tax Imposition) Act 1999); and
  - (b) each company that was, just before the time when the direct or indirect beneficial ownership referred to in paragraph 45-15(1)(f) or 45-20(1)(f) was acquired, a member of the former subsidiary's former *wholly-owned group, is jointly and severally liable to pay tax imposed by the New Business Tax System (Former Subsidiary Tax Imposition) Act 1999.

45-30 Reduction for certain plant acquired before 21.9.99

- (1) The amount included in your assessable income under subsection 45-5(2) or 45-10(2) is reduced if:
  - (a) you acquired the *plant at or before 11.45 am, by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory, on 21 September 1999 and you disposed of the plant or an interest in it after that time; and
  - (b) the sum of the amounts (your proceeds) referred to in paragraph 45-5(1)(e) or 45-10(1)(f) is more than the plant's

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

*cost, or that part of it that is attributable to the interest you disposed of.

- (2) The amount included is reduced by the lesser of:
- (a) the amount (if any) by which the *plant's *cost base exceeds its *cost, or that part of the excess that is attributable to the interest you disposed of; and
  - (b) the difference between your proceeds and the plant's cost, or that part of its cost that is attributable to the interest you disposed of.
- (3) However, the amount is not reduced under this section if:
- (a) the *plant was a *pre-CGT asset at the time of the *balancing adjustment event; or
  - (b) a *capital gain or *capital loss from the plant or interest would be disregarded because of a provision listed in the table in this subsection if:
    - (i) you had made the gain or loss from *CGT event A1; and
    - (ii) that CGT event had happened at the time of the balancing adjustment event.

---

Plant for which a reduction is not made under this section

---

Item	Provision	Subject matter
1	section 118-5	cars, motor cycles and valour decorations
2	section 118-10	collectables and personal use assets
3	section 118-12	plant used to produce exempt income

45-35 Limit on amount included for plant for which there is a CGT exemption

- (1) For *plant to which subsection 45-30(3) applies there is a limit on the amount that can be included in your assessable income under subsection 45-5(2) or 45-10(2).
- (2) The limit for subsection 45-5(2) is the lesser of:
- (a) the excess referred to in paragraph 45-5(1)(e); and
  - (b) the amounts you have deducted or can deduct for the decline in value of the *plant or, if you disposed of an interest in the

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 45-40

---

plant, so much of those amounts as is attributable to that interest.

- (3) The limit for subsection 45-10(2) is the lesser of:
- (a) the excess referred to in paragraph 45-10(1)(f); and
  - (b) that part of the amounts the partnership has deducted or can deduct for the decline in value of the *plant that has been or would be reflected in your interest in the partnership net income or partnership loss (your partnership amount) or, if you disposed of part of your interest in the plant, so much of your partnership amount as is attributable to that part of that interest.

45-40 Meaning of plant and *written down value

- (1) Plant includes:
- (a) articles, machinery, tools and rolling stock; and
  - (b) animals used as beasts of burden or working beasts in a *business, other than a *primary production business; and
  - (c) fences, dams and other structural improvements, other than those used for domestic or residential purposes, on land that is used for agricultural or pastoral operations; and
  - (d) structural improvements, other than a *forestry road or structural improvements used for domestic or residential purposes, on land used in a business involving:
    - (i) planting or tending trees in a plantation or forest that are intended to be felled; or
    - (ii) felling trees in a plantation or forest; or
    - (iii) transporting trees, or parts of trees, that you felled in a plantation or forest to the place where they are first to be milled or processed, or from which they are to be transported to the place where they are first to be milled or processed; and
  - (e) structural improvements, other than those used for domestic or residential purposes, that are used wholly for operations (carried out in the course of a business) relating directly to:
    - (i) taking or culturing pearls or pearl shell; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (ii) taking or catching trochus, bêche-de-mer or green snails; and that are situated at or near a port or harbour from which the business is conducted; and
  - (f) structural improvements that are excluded from paragraph (c), (d) or (e) because they are used for domestic or residential purposes if they are provided for the accommodation of employees, tenants or sharefarmers who are engaged in or in connection with the activities referred to in that paragraph.
- (2) Plant also includes plumbing fixtures and fittings (including wall and floor tiles) provided by an entity mainly for:
- (a) either or both:
    - (i) employees in a *business carried on by the entity for the *purpose of producing assessable income; or
    - (ii) employees in a business carried on for that purpose by a company that is a member of the same *wholly-owned group of which the entity is a member; or
  - (b) *children of any of those employees.
- (3) The written down value of a *depreciating asset is its *cost less the sum of:
- (a) the amounts you have deducted or can deduct for its decline in value; and
  - (b) if section 40-340 applied to your acquisition of it—the amounts the transferor, and earlier successive transferors, deducted or can deduct for its decline in value.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Part 2-15—Non-assessable income

Division 50—Exempt entities

Table of Subdivisions

- 50-A Various exempt entities
- 50-B Endorsing charitable entities as exempt from income tax

Subdivision 50-A—Various exempt entities

Table of sections

- 50-1 Entities whose ordinary income and statutory income is exempt
- 50-5 Charity, education, science and religion
- 50-10 Community service
- 50-15 Employees and employers
- 50-20 Funds contributing to other funds
- 50-25 Government
- 50-30 Health
- 50-35 Mining
- 50-40 Primary and secondary resources, and tourism
- 50-45 Sports, culture, film and recreation
- 50-50 Special conditions for items 1.1 and 1.2
- 50-52 Special condition for items 1.1, 1.5, 1.5A, 1.5B and 4.1
- 50-55 Special conditions for items 1.3, 1.4, 6.1 and 6.2
- 50-57 Special condition for item 1.5
- 50-60 Special conditions for items 1.5A and 1.5B
- 50-65 Special conditions for item 1.6
- 50-70 Special conditions for items 1.7, 2.1, 9.1 and 9.2
- 50-72 Special condition for item 4.1
- 50-75 Certain distributions may be made overseas
- 50-80 Testamentary trusts may be treated as 2 trusts

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

50-1 Entities whose ordinary income and statutory income is exempt

The total *ordinary income and *statutory income of the entities covered by the following tables is exempt from income tax. In some cases, the exemption is subject to special conditions.

Note 1: Ordinary and statutory income that is exempt from income tax is called exempt income: see section 6-20. The note to subsection 6-15(2) describes some of the other consequences of it being exempt income.

Note 2: Even if you are an exempt entity, the Commissioner can still require you to lodge an income tax return or information under section 161 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

50-5 Charity, education, science and religion

Charity, education, science and religion
Item	Exempt entity	Special conditions
1.1	charitable institution	see sections 50-50 and 50-52
1.2	religious institution	see section 50-50
1.3	scientific institution	see section 50-55
1.4	public educational institution	see section 50-55
1.5	fund established for public charitable purposes by will before 1 July 1997	see sections 50-52 and 50-57
1.5A	trust covered by paragraph 50-80(1)(c)	see sections 50-52 and 50-60
1.5B	fund established in Australia for public charitable purposes by will or instrument of trust (and not covered by item 1.5 or 1.5A)	see sections 50-52 and 50-60
1.6	fund established to enable scientific research to be conducted by or in conjunction with a public university or public hospital	see section 50-65
1.7	society, association or club established for the encouragement of science	see section 50-70

Note 1: Section 50-52 has the effect that certain charitable institutions, funds and trusts are exempt from income tax only if they are endorsed under Subdivision 50-B.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 50 Exempt entities

Section 50-10

---

Note 2: Section 50-80 may affect which item a trust is covered by.

50-10 Community service

---

Community service
Item	Exempt entity	Special conditions
2.1	society, association or club established for community service purposes (except political or lobbying purposes)	see section 50-70

---

50-15 Employees and employers

---

Employees and employers
Item	Exempt entity	Special conditions
3.1	(a) employee association; or (b) employer association	the association: (a) is registered or recognised under the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Act 2009 or an *Australian law relating to the settlement of industrial disputes; and (b) is located in Australia, and incurs its expenditure and pursues its objectives principally in Australia
3.2	trade union	located in Australia and incurring its expenditure and pursuing its objectives principally in Australia

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

50-20 Funds contributing to other funds

Funds contributing to other funds
Item	Exempt entity	Special conditions
4.1	fund established by will or instrument of trust solely for a purpose referred to in paragraph (a) or (b) of the column headed "Recipient" in item 2 of the table in section 30-15 (and not covered by item 1.5, 1.5A or 1.5B of the table in section 50-5)	see sections 50-52 and 50-72

50-25 Government

Government
Item	Exempt entity	Special conditions
5.1	(a) a municipal corporation; or (b) a *local governing body	none
5.2	a public authority constituted under an *Australian law	none
5.3	a *constitutionally protected fund	none

Note: The ordinary and statutory income of a State or Territory body is exempt: see Division 1AB of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

50-30 Health

Health
Item	Exempt entity	Special conditions
6.1	public hospital	see section 50-55
6.2	hospital carried on by a society or association	not carried on for the profit or gain of its individual members, see also section 50-55

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 50 Exempt entities

Section 50-35

---

---

Health

---

Item	Exempt entity	Special conditions
6.3	private health insurer within the meaning of the Private Health Insurance Act 2007	not carried on for the profit or gain of its individual members

---

50-35 Mining

---

Mining

---

Item	Exempt entity	Special conditions
7.1	the Phosphate Mining Company of Christmas Island Limited (incorporated in the Australian Capital Territory)	none
7.2	the British Phosphate Commissioners Banaba Contingency Fund (established on 1 June 1981)	none

---

50-40 Primary and secondary resources, and tourism

---

Primary and secondary resources, and tourism

---

Item	Exempt entity	Special conditions
8.1	a society or association established for the purpose of promoting the development of: (a) aviation; or (b) tourism	not carried on for the profit or gain of its individual members

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 50-45

---

Primary and secondary resources, and tourism

---

Item	Exempt entity	Special conditions
8.2	a society or association established for the purpose of promoting the development of any of the following Australian resources: (a) agricultural resources; (b) horticultural resources; (c) industrial resources; (d) manufacturing resources; (e) pastoral resources; (f) viticultural resources; (g) aquacultural resources; (h) fishing resources	not carried on for the profit or gain of its individual members
8.3	a society or association established for the purpose of promoting the development of Australian information and communications technology resources	not carried on for the profit or gain of its individual members

---

50-45 Sports, culture, film and recreation

---

Sports, culture, film and recreation

---

Item	Exempt entity	Special conditions
9.1	a society, association or club established for the encouragement of: (a) animal racing; or (b) art; or (c) a game or sport; or (d) literature; or (e) music	see section 50-70
9.2	a society, association or club established for musical purposes	see section 50-70

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 50-50

---

---

Sports, culture, film and recreation
Item	Exempt entity	Special conditions
9.3	the Australian Film Finance Corporation Pty Limited (incorporated under the Companies Act 1981 on 12 July 1988)	none
9.4	the Commonwealth Games Federation	only income *derived on or after 1 January 2000 and before 1 July 2007

---

50-50 Special conditions for items 1.1 and 1.2

An entity covered by item 1.1 or 1.2 is not exempt from income tax unless the entity:

- (a) has a physical presence in Australia and, to that extent, incurs its expenditure and pursues its objectives principally in Australia; or
- (b) is an institution that meets the description and requirements in item 1 of the table in section 30-15; or
- (c) is a prescribed institution which is located outside Australia and is exempt from income tax in the country in which it is resident; or
- (d) is a prescribed institution that has a physical presence in Australia but which incurs its expenditure and pursues its objectives principally outside Australia.

Note 1: Certain distributions may be disregarded: see section 50-75.

Note 2: The entity must also meet other conditions to be exempt from income tax: see section 50-52.

50-52 Special condition for items 1.1, 1.5, 1.5A, 1.5B and 4.1

- (1) An entity covered by item 1.1, 1.5, 1.5A, 1.5B or 4.1 is not exempt from income tax unless the entity is endorsed as exempt from income tax under Subdivision 50-B.

Note: The entity will not be exempt from income tax unless it also meets other conditions: see section 50-50 (for an entity covered by item 1.1), 50-57 (for an entity covered by item 1.5), 50-60 (for an entity covered by item 1.5A or 1.5B) or section 50-72 (for an entity covered by item 4.1).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (3) This section has effect despite all the other sections of this Subdivision.

Note: This means that an entity covered both by an item other than 1.1, 1.5, 1.5A, 1.5B or 4.1 and by one of those items is not exempt from income tax unless the entity is endorsed under Subdivision 50-B as exempt from income tax and the entity meets the requirements of whichever of sections 50-50, 50-57, 50-60 and 50-72 is relevant.

50-55 Special conditions for items 1.3, 1.4, 6.1 and 6.2

An entity covered by item 1.3, 1.4, 6.1 or 6.2 is not exempt from income tax unless the entity:

- (a) has a physical presence in Australia and, to that extent, incurs its expenditure and pursues its objectives principally in Australia; or
- (b) is an institution that meets the description and requirements in item 1 of the table in section 30-15; or
- (c) is a prescribed institution which is located outside Australia and is exempt from income tax in the country in which it is resident.

Note: Certain distributions may be disregarded: see section 50-75.

50-57 Special condition for item 1.5

A fund covered by item 1.5 is not exempt from income tax unless the fund is applied for the purpose for which it was established.

Note: The fund must also meet another condition to be exempt from income tax: see section 50-52.

50-60 Special conditions for items 1.5A and 1.5B

A fund covered by item 1.5A or 1.5B is not exempt from income tax unless the fund is applied for the purposes for which it was established and:

- (a) incurs, and has at all times since 1 July 1997 incurred, its expenditure principally in Australia and pursues, and has at all times since 1 July 1997 pursued, its charitable purposes solely in Australia; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 50-65

---

- (b) is a fund which is referred to in a table in Subdivision 30-B or in item 2 of the table in section 30-15; or
- (c) distributes solely, and has at all times since 1 July 1997 distributed solely, to either or both of the following:
  - (i) a charitable fund, foundation or institution which, to the best of the trustee's knowledge, is located in Australia and incurs its expenditure principally in Australia and pursues its charitable purposes solely in Australia;
  - (ii) a charitable fund, foundation or institution that, to the best of the trustee's knowledge, meets the description and requirements in item 1 or 2 of the table in section 30-15.

Note 1: Certain distributions may be disregarded: see section 50-75.

Note 2: The fund must also meet other conditions to be exempt from income tax: see section 50-52.

50-65 Special conditions for item 1.6

A fund covered by item 1.6 is not exempt from tax unless the fund is applied for the purposes for which it was established and is:

- (a) a fund that is located in, and which incurs its expenditure principally in, Australia and that is established for the purpose of enabling scientific research to be conducted principally in Australia by or in conjunction with a public university or public hospital; or
- (b) a scientific research fund that meets the description and requirements in item 1 or 2 of the table in section 30-15.

Note: Certain distributions may be disregarded: see section 50-75.

50-70 Special conditions for items 1.7, 2.1, 9.1 and 9.2

An entity covered by item 1.7, 2.1, 9.1 or 9.2 is not exempt from tax unless the entity is a society, association or club that is not carried on for the purpose of profit or gain of its individual members and that:

- (a) has a physical presence in Australia and, to that extent, incurs its expenditure and pursues its objectives principally in Australia; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) is a society, association or club that meets the description and requirements in item 1 of the table in section 30-15; or
- (c) is a prescribed society, association or club which is located outside Australia and is exempt from income tax in the country in which it is resident.

Note: Certain distributions may be disregarded: see section 50-75.

50-72 Special condition for item 4.1

- (1) A fund covered by item 4.1 is not exempt from income tax unless the fund:
  - (a) is applied for the purposes for which it is established; and
  - (b) distributes solely, and has at all times since the time mentioned in subsection (2) distributed solely, to a fund, authority or institution that:
    - (i) meets the description and requirements in item 1 of the table in section 30-15; and
    - (ii) is an *exempt entity.
- (2) The time is the start of the income year after the income year in which the Tax Laws Amendment (2005 Measures No. 3) Act 2005 receives the Royal Assent.

50-75 Certain distributions may be made overseas

- (1) In determining for the purposes of this Subdivision whether an institution, fund or other body incurs its expenditure or pursues its objectives principally in Australia, distributions of any amount received by the institution, fund or other body as a gift (whether of money or other property) or by way of government grant are to be disregarded.
- (2) In determining for the purposes of this Subdivision whether an institution, fund or other body incurs its expenditure or pursues its objectives principally in Australia, distributions of any amount from a fund that is referred to in a table in Subdivision 30-B and operated by the institution, fund or other body are to be disregarded.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 50-80

---

- (3) In determining for the purposes of section 50-60 whether a fund:
- (a) incurs, and has at all times since 1 July 1997 incurred, its expenditure principally in Australia and pursues, and has at all times since 1 July 1997, pursued its charitable purposes solely in Australia; or
  - (b) distributes solely, and has at all times since 1 July 1997 distributed solely, to a charitable fund, foundation or institution described in subparagraph 50-60(c)(i) or (ii);
- distributions of any amount received by the fund as a gift (whether of money or property) or by way of government grant are to be disregarded.

50-80 Testamentary trusts may be treated as 2 trusts

- (1) If:
- (a) a trust (the existing trust) covered by item 1.5 was in existence immediately before 1 July 1997; and
  - (b) on or after 1 July 1997 one or more assets are given to the existing trust (other than in return for valuable consideration) or become part of the trust property under a will;
- then, for the purposes of this Subdivision and Subdivision 50-B, the existing trust is taken to be 2 separate trusts (the new trust and the old trust) as follows:
- (c) the new trust is taken to be a trust created after the start of 1 July 1997 that consists of so much of the trust property as consists of those assets together with any income *derived from those assets; and
  - (d) the old trust is taken to be a trust created before 1 July 1997 that consists of the remainder of the trust property.
- (2) Where an asset is received in substitution for another asset, subsection (1) applies as if the substituted asset were the other asset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 50-B—Endorsing charitable entities as exempt from income tax

Guide to Subdivision 50-B

50-100 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision sets out rules about endorsement of charitable institutions and trust funds for charitable purposes as exempt from income tax. Such entities are only exempt from income tax if they are endorsed.

Table of sections

Endorsing charitable entities as exempt from income tax

- 50-105 Endorsement by Commissioner
50-110 Entitlement to endorsement

Endorsing charitable entities as exempt from income tax

50-105 Endorsement by Commissioner

The Commissioner must endorse an entity as exempt from income tax if the entity:

- (a) is entitled to be endorsed as exempt from income tax; and
- (b) has applied for that endorsement in accordance with Division 426 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

Note: For procedural rules relating to endorsement, see Division 426 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

50-110 Entitlement to endorsement

General rule

- (1) An entity is entitled to be endorsed as exempt from income tax if the entity meets all the relevant requirements of this section.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 50-110

---

Which entities are entitled to be endorsed?

- (2) To be entitled, the entity must be an entity covered by item 1.1, 1.5, 1.5A or 1.5B of the table in section 50-5 or item 4.1 of the table in section 50-20.

Requirement for ABN

- (3) To be entitled, the entity must have an *ABN.
- (4) However, for a trust:
- (a) covered by item 1.5 of the table in section 50-5 because the trust is covered by paragraph 50-80(1)(d); or
  - (b) covered by item 1.5A of the table in section 50-5 (because the trust is covered by paragraph 50-80(1)(c));
- to be entitled, the existing trust mentioned in paragraph 50-80(1)(a) must have an *ABN.

Requirement to meet special conditions

- (5) To be entitled:
- (a) the entity must meet the relevant conditions referred to in the column headed “Special conditions” of whichever of items 1.1, 1.5, 1.5A and 1.5B of the table in section 50-5 and item 4.1 of the table in section 50-20 covers the entity; or
  - (b) both of the following conditions must be met:
    - (i) the entity must not have carried on any activities as a charitable institution (if the entity is covered by item 1.1 of the table in section 50-5) or for public charitable purposes (if the entity is covered by item 1.5, 1.5A or 1.5B of that table);
    - (ii) there must be reasonable grounds for believing that the entity will meet the relevant conditions referred to in the column headed “Special conditions” of whichever of items 1.1, 1.5, 1.5A or 1.5B of the table in section 50-5 covers the entity; or
  - (c) if the entity is covered by item 4.1 of the table in section 50-20 and has not made any distributions—there must be reasonable grounds for believing that the entity will satisfy section 50-72.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (6) To avoid doubt, the condition set out in section 50-52 (requiring the entity to be endorsed under this Subdivision) is not a relevant condition for the purposes of subsection (5).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 51—Exempt amounts

Table of sections

51-1	Amounts of ordinary income and statutory income that are exempt
51-5	Defence
51-10	Education and training
51-30	Welfare
51-32	Compensation payments for loss of deployment allowance for warlike service
51-33	Compensation payments for loss of pay and/or allowances as a Defence reservist
51-35	Payments to a full-time student at a school, college or university
51-40	Payments to a secondary student
51-42	Bonuses for early completion of an apprenticeship
51-43	Income collected or derived by a copyright collecting society
51-50	Maintenance payments to a spouse or child
51-52	Income derived from eligible venture capital investments by ESVCLPs
51-54	Gain or profit from disposal of eligible venture capital investments
51-55	Gain or profit from disposal of venture capital equity
51-57	Interest on judgment debt relating to personal injury
51-60	Prime Minister's Prizes

51-1 Amounts of ordinary income and statutory income that are exempt

The amounts of *ordinary income and *statutory income covered by the following tables are exempt from income tax. In some cases, the exemption is subject to exceptions or special conditions, or both.

Note 1: Ordinary and statutory income that is exempt from income tax is called exempt income: see section 6-20. The note to subsection 6-15(2) describes some of the other consequences of it being exempt income.

Note 2: Even if an exempt payment is made to you, the Commissioner can still require you to lodge an income tax return or information under section 161 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

51-5 Defence

Defence
Item	If you are:	... the following amounts are exempt from income tax:	... subject to these exceptions and special conditions:
1.1	a member of the Defence Force	(a) payments of allowances or bounty of a kind prescribed in the regulations; and  (b) the * market value of rations and quarters supplied to you without charge	none
1.1A	a member of the Defence Force	compensation payments for loss of deployment allowance for warlike service	see section 51-32
1.2	a recipient of a payment in respect of a member of the Defence Force	payments of allowances or bounty of a kind prescribed in the regulations	none
1.4	a member of: (a) the Naval Reserve; or (b) the Army Reserve; or (c) the Air Force Reserve	pay and allowances as a member	except pay and allowances for continuous full time service
1.5	a former member of: (a) the Naval Reserve; or (b) the Army Reserve; or (c) the Air Force Reserve	compensation payments for loss of pay and/or allowances as a member	see section 51-33

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 51 Exempt amounts

Section 51-10

---

---

Defence

---

Item	If you are:	... the following amounts are exempt from income tax:	... subject to these exceptions and special conditions:
1.6	a recipient of an ex-gratia payment from the Commonwealth known as the F-111 Deseal/Reseal Ex-gratia Lump Sum Payment	the ex-gratia payment	none

---

51-10 Education and training

---

Education and training

---

Item	If you are:	... the following amounts are exempt from income tax:	... subject to these exceptions and special conditions:
2.1A	a full-time student at a school, college or university	a scholarship, bursary, educational allowance or educational assistance	see section 51-35
2.1B	(a) a student; or (b) a recipient of a payment in respect of a student	a payment under a Commonwealth scheme for assistance of: (a) secondary education; or (b) the education of isolated children	see section 51-40
2.1	a recipient of a grant made by the Australian-American Educational Foundation	the grant	the grant is from funds made available to the Foundation under the agreement establishing it

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Education and training

---

Item	If you are:	... the following amounts are exempt from income tax:	... subject to these exceptions and special conditions:
2.2	an employer	payments under the CRAFT Scheme (the Commonwealth Rebate for Apprentice Full-Time Training Scheme)	each payment is for an apprentice who most recently started work with you before 1 January 1998
2.3	a recipient of a scholarship known as a Commonwealth Trade Learning Scholarship	the scholarship	none
2.4	a recipient of a payment known as the Apprenticeship Wage Top-Up	the payment	none
2.5	a recipient of: (a) a research fellowship under the Endeavour Awards; or (b) an Endeavour Executive Award	the fellowship or award	none
2.6	a recipient of a bonus for early completion of an apprenticeship	so much of the bonus as does not exceed $1,000	see section 51-42
2.7	a recipient of a payment under the program known as Skills for Sustainability for Australian Apprentices	the payment	none

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 51 Exempt amounts

Section 51-30

---

---

Education and training

---

Item	If you are:	... the following amounts are exempt from income tax:	... subject to these exceptions and special conditions:
2.8	a recipient of a payment under the program known as Tools for Your Trade (within the program known as the Australian Apprenticeships Incentives Program)	the payment	none

---

51-30 Welfare

---

Welfare

---

Item	If you are:	... the following amounts are exempt from income tax:	... subject to these exceptions and special conditions:
5.1	an individual in receipt of periodic payments in the nature of maintenance	the payments	see section 51-50

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Welfare

---

Item	If you are:	... the following amounts are exempt from income tax:	... subject to these exceptions and special conditions:
5.2	an individual in receipt of an ex-gratia payment from the Commonwealth known as Income Recovery Subsidy for the Victorian bushfires of January and February 2009	the payment	the payment must be claimed: (a) after 28 January 2009; and (b) before 13 May 2009
5.3	an individual in receipt of an ex-gratia payment from the Commonwealth known as Income Recovery Subsidy for the North Queensland floods of January and February 2009	the payment	the payment must be claimed: (a) after 30 January 2009; and (b) before 13 May 2009

---

51-32 Compensation payments for loss of tax exempt payments

- (1) A compensation payment for the loss of pay or an allowance for your warlike service is exempt from income tax if:
- (a) the compensation payment is made under the Safety, Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 1988 in respect of an injury (as defined in that Act) you suffered; and
  - (b) you suffered your injury while covered by a certificate in force under paragraph 23AD(1)(a) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; and
  - (c) your injury or disease caused the loss of your pay or allowance; and
  - (d) your pay or allowance was payable under the Defence Act 1903 or under a determination under that Act.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 51-32

---

- (2) A compensation payment for the loss of pay or an allowance for your warlike service is exempt from income tax if:
- (a) the compensation payment is made under the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004 in respect of a service injury or disease (as defined in that Act); and
  - (b) you sustained your service injury or contracted your service disease, or your service injury or disease was aggravated or materially contributed to, while covered by a certificate in force under paragraph 23AD(1)(a) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; and
  - (c) your injury or disease caused the loss of your pay or allowance; and
  - (d) your pay or allowance was payable under the Defence Act 1903 or under a determination under that Act.
- (3) Subsections (4) and (5) apply to:
- (a) a deployment allowance; or
  - (b) some other allowance that is exempt from income tax specified in writing by the Minister administering section 1 of the Defence Act 1903 for the purposes of this subsection; that is payable under a determination under that Act for your non-warlike service.
- (4) A compensation payment for the loss of the allowance is exempt from income tax if:
- (a) the compensation payment is made under the Safety, Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 1988 in respect of an injury (as defined in that Act) you suffered; and
  - (b) your injury caused the loss of your allowance.
- (5) A compensation payment for the loss of the allowance is exempt from income tax if:
- (a) the compensation payment is made under the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004 in respect of a service injury or disease (as defined in that Act); and
  - (b) your injury or disease caused the loss of your allowance.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

51-33 Compensation payments for loss of pay and/or allowances as a Defence reservist

- (1) A compensation payment for the loss of your pay or an allowance is exempt from income tax if:
  - (a) the compensation payment is made under the Safety, Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 1988 in respect of an injury (as defined in that Act) you suffered; and
  - (b) you suffered your injury while serving as a member of the Naval Reserve, Army Reserve or Air Force Reserve (but not while on continuous full time service); and
  - (c) your pay or allowance was payable for service of a kind described in paragraph (b).

- (2) A compensation payment for the loss of your pay or an allowance is exempt from income tax if:
  - (a) the compensation payment is made under the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004 in respect of a service injury or disease (as defined in that Act); and
  - (b) you sustained your service injury or contracted your service disease, or your service injury or disease was aggravated or materially contributed to, while serving as a member of the Naval Reserve, Army Reserve or Air Force Reserve; and
  - (c) your pay or allowance was payable for service of a kind described in paragraph (b); and
  - (d) the compensation payment is worked out by reference to your normal earnings (as defined in that Act) as a part-time Reservist (as defined in that Act).

51-35 Payments to a full-time student at a school, college or university

The following payments made to or on behalf of a full-time student at a school, college or university are not exempt from income tax under item 2.1A of the table in section 51-10:

- (a) a payment by the Commonwealth for assistance for secondary education or in connection with education of isolated children;
- (b) a *Commonwealth education or training payment;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 51-40

---

- (c) a payment by an entity or authority on the condition that the student will (or will if required) become, or continue to be, an employee of the entity or authority;
- (d) a payment by an entity or authority on the condition that the student will (or will if required) enter into, or continue to be a party to, a contract with the entity or authority that is wholly or principally for the labour of the student;
- (e) a payment under a scholarship where the scholarship is not provided principally for educational purposes;
- (f) an education entry payment under Part 2.13A of the Social Security Act 1991.

Note: The whole or part of a Commonwealth education or training payment may be exempt under Subdivision 52-E or 52-F.

51-40 Payments to a secondary student

The following payments made to or on behalf of a student are not exempt from income tax under item 2.1B of the table in section 51-10:

- (a) a *Commonwealth education or training payment;
- (b) an education entry payment under Part 2.13A of the Social Security Act 1991.

Note: The whole or part of a Commonwealth education or training payment may be exempt under Subdivision 52-E or 52-F.

51-42 Bonuses for early completion of an apprenticeship

- (1) The bonus must be provided under a scheme provided by a State or Territory, and the scheme must be specified in the regulations for the purposes of this section.
- (2) The apprenticeship:
  - (a) must be for an occupation of a kind specified in the regulations; and
  - (b) must be completed within a time frame specified in the regulations for apprenticeships of that kind.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

51-43 Income collected or derived by a copyright collecting society

- (1) This section applies to a *copyright collecting society if Division 6 of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 applies to the income of the society.
- (2) The following are exempt from income tax:
  - (a) *copyright income collected or *derived by the society in an income year;
  - (b) *non-copyright income derived by the society in an income year to the extent that it does not exceed the lesser of:
    - (i) 5% of the total amount of the copyright income and non-copyright income collected and derived by the society in the income year; and
    - (ii) $5 million or such other amount as is prescribed by the regulations for the purposes of this subparagraph.

51-50 Maintenance payments to a spouse or child

- (1) This section sets out the conditions on which a periodic payment, in the nature of maintenance, that:
  - (a) is made by an individual (the maintenance payer); or
  - (b) is attributable to a payment made by an individual (also the maintenance payer);is exempt from income tax under item 5.1 of the table in section 51-30.
- (2) The maintenance payment is exempt from income tax only if it is made:
  - (a) to an individual who is or has been the maintenance payer's *spouse; or
  - (b) to or for the benefit of an individual who is or has been:
    - (i) a *child of the maintenance payer; or
    - (ii) a child who is or has been a child of an individual who is or has been a *spouse of the maintenance payer.
- (3) The maintenance payment is not exempt if, in order to make it or a payment to which it is attributable, the maintenance payer:
  - (a) divested any income-producing assets; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 51-52

---

- (b) diverted *ordinary income or *statutory income upon which the maintenance payer would otherwise have been liable to income tax.

51-52 Income derived from eligible venture capital investments by ESVCLPs

General

- (1) An entity's share of income derived from an *eligible venture capital investment is exempt from income tax if:
  - (a) the entity is a partner in a *limited partnership; and
  - (b) the partnership made the investment; and
  - (c) the investment meets all of the *additional investment requirements for ESVCLPs for the investment; and
  - (d) when the partnership made the investment, the partnership was an *early stage venture capital limited partnership that was *unconditionally registered; and
  - (e) when the income was derived, the partnership:
    - (i) owned the investment; and
    - (ii) was an early stage venture capital limited partnership that was unconditionally registered.

Partners in AFOFs

- (2) An entity's share of income derived from an *eligible venture capital investment is exempt from income tax if:
  - (a) the entity is a partner in an *AFOF; and
  - (b) the AFOF is a partner in a partnership that made the investment; and
  - (c) when the partnership made the investment, the partnership was an *early stage venture capital limited partnership that was *unconditionally registered; and
  - (d) the investment meets all of the *additional investment requirements for ESVCLPs for the investment; and
  - (e) when the income was derived, the partnership:
    - (i) owned the investment; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (ii) was an early stage venture capital limited partnership that was unconditionally registered.

Residency requirements for general partners

- (3) However, if the entity is a *general partner in the partnership, this section does not apply to the entity unless the entity is:
- (a) an Australian resident; or
  - (b) a resident of a foreign country in respect of which a double tax agreement (as defined in Part X of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) is in force that is an agreement of a kind referred to in subparagraph (b)(i), (ia), (ii), (iii), (iv) or (v) of that definition.
- (4) For the purposes of this section, the place of residence of a *general partner in a *limited partnership:
- (a) that is a company or limited partnership; and
  - (b) that is not an Australian resident;
- is the place in which the general partner has its central management and control.

Beneficiaries' shares of capital gains made by unit trusts

- (5) For the purposes of this section, an entity's share of income derived from an *eligible venture capital investment that is an investment in a unit trust includes any present entitlement of the entity, as a beneficiary, to a share of an amount included in the assessable income of the unit trust under section 102-5.

Carried interests

- (6) This section does not apply to an entity's share of income derived from an *eligible venture capital investment to the extent that the income is a payment of a *carried interest of a *general partner in an *ESVCLP or an *AFOF.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 51-54

---

51-54 Gain or profit from disposal of eligible venture capital investments

Partners in VCLPs and ESVCLPs

- (1) An entity's share of any gain or profit made from the disposal or other realisation of an *eligible venture capital investment is exempt from income tax if:
  - (a) it is made by a *VCLP, or an *ESVCLP, that is *unconditionally registered; and
  - (b) were that disposal or other realisation to be a *disposal of a *CGT asset, the entity's share of any *capital gain or *capital loss would be disregarded under section 118-405 or 118-407.

Partners in AFOFs

- (2) An entity's share of any gain or profit made from the disposal or other realisation of an *eligible venture capital investment is exempt from income tax if:
  - (a) it is made by:
    - (i) an *AFOF that is *unconditionally registered; or
    - (ii) a *VCLP, or an *ESVCLP, that is unconditionally registered and in which an AFOF that is *unconditionally registered is a partner; and
  - (b) were that disposal or other realisation to be a *disposal of a *CGT asset, the entity's share of any *capital gain or *capital loss would be disregarded under section 118-410.

Eligible venture capital investors

- (3) Any gain or profit made from the disposal or other realisation of an *eligible venture capital investment is exempt from income tax if:
  - (a) you are an *eligible venture capital investor; and
  - (b) were that disposal or other realisation to be a *disposal of a *CGT asset, any *capital gain or *capital loss would be disregarded under section 118-415.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

51-55 Gain or profit from disposal of venture capital equity

Any gain or profit made from the disposal or other realisation of *venture capital equity in a *resident investment vehicle is exempt from income tax if:

- (a) it is made by a *venture capital entity or a *limited partnership referred to in subsection 118-515(2); and
- (b) if that disposal or other realisation were a *disposal of a *CGT asset, any *capital gain or *capital loss would be disregarded under Subdivision 118-G.

51-57 Interest on judgment debt relating to personal injury

(1) An amount paid by way of interest on a judgment debt, whether payable under an *Australian law, or otherwise, is exempt from income tax if:

- (a) the judgment debt arose from a judgment (the original judgment) given by, or entered in, a court for an award of damages for personal injury; and
- (b) the amount is in respect of the whole or any part of the period:
  - (i) beginning at the time of the original judgment, or, if the judgment debt is taken to have arisen at an earlier time, at that earlier time; and
  - (ii) ending when the original judgment is finalised.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), an original judgment is finalised at whichever of the following times is applicable:

- (a) if the period for lodging an appeal against either the original judgment or a subsequent related judgment ends without an appeal being lodged—the end of the period;
- (b) if an appeal from either the original judgment or a subsequent related judgment is lodged and final judgment on the appeal is given by, or entered in, a court—when the final judgment takes effect;
- (c) if an appeal from either the original judgment or a subsequent related judgment is lodged but is settled or discontinued—when the settlement or discontinuance takes effect.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 51-60

---

- (3) For the purposes of paragraph (2)(b), a judgment is a final judgment if:
- (a) no appeal lies against the judgment; or
  - (b) leave to appeal against the judgment has been refused.

51-60 Prime Minister's Prizes

- (1) To the extent that the Prime Minister's Prize for Australian History would otherwise be assessable income, it is exempt from income tax.
- (2) To the extent that the Prime Minister's Prize for Science would otherwise be assessable income, it is exempt from income tax.
- (3) To the extent that a Prime Minister's Literary Award would otherwise be assessable income, it is exempt from income tax.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 52—Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Guide to Division 52

52-1 What this Division is about

Certain payments made under various Acts are wholly or partly exempt from income tax. This Division tells you if a payment is exempt and how much is exempt.

Table of Subdivisions

52-A	Exempt payments under the Social Security Act 1991
52-B	Exempt payments under the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986
52-C	Exempt payments made because of the Veterans' Entitlements (Transitional Provisions and Consequential Amendments) Act 1986
52-CA	Exempt payments under the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004
52-CB	Exempt payments under the Australian Participants in British Nuclear Tests (Treatment) Act 2006
52-D	Exempt payments made by the Commonwealth to reimburse certain expenditure
52-E	Exempt payments under the ABSTUDY scheme
52-F	Exemption of Commonwealth education or training payments
52-G	Exempt payments under the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) (Administration) Act 1999
52-H	Other exempt payments

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 52-5

---

Subdivision 52-A—Exempt payments under the Social Security Act 1991

Guide to Subdivision 52-A

52-5 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision tells you:

- (a) the payments under the Social Security Act 1991 that are wholly or partly exempt from income tax; and
- (b) any special circumstances, conditions or exceptions that apply to a payment in order for it to be exempt; and
- (c) how to work out how much of a payment is exempt.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

52-10	How much of a social security payment is exempt?
52-15	Supplementary amounts of payments
52-20	Tax-free amount of an ordinary payment after the death of your partner
52-25	Tax-free amount of certain bereavement lump sum payments
52-30	Tax-free amount of certain other bereavement lump sum payments
52-35	Tax-free amount of a lump sum payment made because of the death of a person you are caring for
52-40	Provisions of the Social Security Act 1991 under which payments are made

Operative provisions

52-10 How much of a social security payment is exempt?

- (1) The table in this section tells you about the income tax treatment of social security payments, other than payments of:
  - (a) pension bonus and pension bonus bereavement payment; or
  - (aa) child disability assistance; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (ab) carer supplement; or
- (b) one-off payment to the aged; or
- (ba) 2006 one-off payment to older Australians; or
- (baa) 2007 one-off payment to older Australians; or
- (bab) 2008 one-off payment to older Australians; or
- (bb) payments under a scheme referred to in subsection (1CB); or
- (c) one-off payment to carers (carer payment related); or
- (d) one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related); or
- (e) 2005 one-off payment to carers (carer payment related); or
- (f) 2005 one-off payment to carers (carer service pension related); or
- (g) 2005 one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related); or
- (h) 2006 one-off payment to carers (carer payment related); or
- (i) 2006 one-off payment to carers (wife pension related); or
- (j) 2006 one-off payment to carers (partner service pension related); or
- (k) 2006 one-off payment to carers (carer service pension related); or
- (l) 2006 one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related); or
- (m) 2007 one-off payment to carers (carer payment related); or
- (n) 2007 one-off payment to carers (wife pension related); or
- (o) 2007 one-off payment to carers (partner service pension related); or
- (p) 2007 one-off payment to carers (carer service pension related); or
- (q) 2007 one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related); or
- (r) 2008 one-off payment to carers (carer payment related); or
- (s) 2008 one-off payment to carers (wife pension related); or
- (t) 2008 one-off payment to carers (partner service pension related); or
- (u) 2008 one-off payment to carers (carer service pension related); or
- (v) 2008 one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related); or
- (w) payments under a scheme referred to in subsection (1E); or
- (x) economic security strategy payment under the Social Security Act 1991; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-10

---

- (y) training and learning bonus under the Social Security Act 1991; or
- (z) farmers hardship bonus under the Social Security Act 1991; or
- (za) education entry payment supplement under the Social Security Act 1991.

Note: Section 52-40 sets out the provisions of the Social Security Act 1991 under which the payments are made.

- (1A) Payments of pension bonus and pension bonus bereavement payment under Part 2.2A of the Social Security Act 1991 are exempt from income tax.
- (1AA) Child disability assistance under Part 2.19AA of the Social Security Act 1991 is exempt from income tax.
- (1AB) Carer supplement under Part 2.19B of the Social Security Act 1991 is exempt from income tax.
- (1B) One-off payment to the aged under Division 1 of Part 2.2B of the Social Security Act 1991 is exempt from income tax.
- (1C) Payments made by the Commonwealth and known as the one-off payment to the aged are exempt from income tax.
- (1CA) The following payments under the Social Security Act 1991 are exempt from income tax:
  - (a) 2006 one-off payment to older Australians (see Division 2 of Part 2.2B of that Act);
  - (b) 2007 one-off payment to older Australians (see Division 3 of Part 2.2B of that Act);
  - (c) 2008 one-off payment to older Australians (see Division 4 of Part 2.2B of that Act).
- (1CB) Payments to older Australians under the following schemes are exempt from income tax:
  - (a) a scheme determined under item 1 of Schedule 2 to the Social Security and Veterans' Entitlements Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments to Increase Assistance for Older Australians and Carers and Other Measures) Act 2006;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) a scheme determined under item 1 of Schedule 2 to the Social Security and Veterans' Affairs Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments and Other 2007 Budget Measures) Act 2007;
  - (c) a scheme determined under item 1 of Schedule 2 to the Social Security and Veterans' Entitlements Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments and Other Budget Measures) Act 2008.
- (1D) The following payments under the Social Security Act 1991 are exempt from income tax:
- (a) one-off payment to carers (carer payment related) (see Division 1 of Part 2.5A of that Act);
  - (b) one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related) (see Division 1 of Part 2.19A of that Act);
  - (c) 2005 one-off payment to carers (carer payment related) (see Division 2 of Part 2.5A of that Act);
  - (d) 2005 one-off payment to carers (carer service pension related) (see Division 3 of Part 2.5A of that Act);
  - (e) 2005 one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related) (see Division 2 of Part 2.19A of that Act);
  - (f) 2006 one-off payment to carers (carer payment related) (see Division 4 of Part 2.5A of that Act);
  - (g) 2006 one-off payment to carers (wife pension related) (see Division 5 of Part 2.5A of that Act);
  - (h) 2006 one-off payment to carers (partner service pension related) (see Division 6 of Part 2.5A of that Act);
  - (i) 2006 one-off payment to carers (carer service pension related) (see Division 7 of Part 2.5A of that Act); or
  - (j) 2006 one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related) (see Division 3 of Part 2.19A of that Act);
  - (k) 2007 one-off payment to carers (carer payment related) (see Division 8 of Part 2.5A of that Act);
  - (l) 2007 one-off payment to carers (wife pension related) (see Division 9 of Part 2.5A of that Act);
  - (m) 2007 one-off payment to carers (partner service pension related) (see Division 10 of Part 2.5A of that Act);

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-10

---

- (n) 2007 one-off payment to carers (carer service pension related) (see Division 11 of Part 2.5A of that Act);
  - (o) 2007 one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related) (see Division 4 of Part 2.19A of that Act);
  - (p) 2008 one-off payment to carers (carer payment related) (see Division 12 of Part 2.5A of that Act);
  - (q) 2008 one-off payment to carers (wife pension related) (see Division 13 of Part 2.5A of that Act);
  - (r) 2008 one-off payment to carers (partner service pension related) (see Division 14 of Part 2.5A of that Act);
  - (s) 2008 one-off payment to carers (carer service pension related) (see Division 15 of Part 2.5A of that Act);
  - (t) 2008 one-off payment to carers (carer allowance related) (see Division 5 of Part 2.19A of that Act).
- (1E) Payments to carers under the following schemes are exempt from income tax:
- (a) a scheme determined under Schedule 3 to the Family Assistance Legislation Amendment (More Help for Families—One-off Payments) Act 2004;
  - (b) a scheme determined under Schedule 2 to the Social Security Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments for Carers) Act 2005;
  - (c) a scheme determined under Schedule 4 to the Social Security and Veterans' Entitlements Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments to Increase Assistance for Older Australians and Carers and Other Measures) Act 2006;
  - (d) a scheme determined under Schedule 4 to the Social Security and Veterans' Affairs Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments and Other 2007 Budget Measures) Act 2007;
  - (e) a scheme determined under Schedule 4 to the Social Security and Veterans' Entitlements Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments and Other Budget Measures) Act 2008.
- (1F) Economic security strategy payment under the Social Security Act 1991 is exempt from income tax.
- (1G) Training and learning bonus under the Social Security Act 1991 is exempt from income tax.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (1H) Farmers hardship bonus under the Social Security Act 1991 is exempt from income tax.
- (1J) Education entry payment supplement under the Social Security Act 1991 is exempt from income tax.
- (2) Expressions used in this Subdivision that are also used in the Social Security Act 1991 have the same meaning as in that Act.
- (3) Ordinary payment means a payment other than a payment made because of a person's death.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Explanation of the table

The table:
• lists all the payments under the Social Security Act 1991 that are wholly or partly exempt from income tax; and
• deals with 4 different cases.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Income tax treatment of social security payments
Item	Payment	Case 1	Case 2	Case 3	Case 4
1.1	Advance pharmaceutical supplement	Exempt	Exempt	Not applicable	Not applicable
2.1	Age pension	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)
2AA.1	Australian Government Disaster Recovery Payment	Exempt	Exempt	Not applicable	Not applicable
2A.1	Austudy payment	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-30)
3.1	Bereavement allowance	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Exempt	Not applicable
3A.1	Carer allowance	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt	Not applicable

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-10

---

Income tax treatment of social security payments
Item	Payment	Case 1	Case 2	Case 3	Case 4
4.1	Carer payment: you are pension age or over	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt, but if it is made under section 236A of the Social Security Act 1991 , exempt only up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-35)	Exempt up to the tax-free amount if it is made under section 239 of the Social Security Act 1991 (see section 52-25)
4.2	Carer payment: the care receiver or any of the care receivers is pension age or over	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt, but if it is made under section 236A of the Social Security Act 1991 , exempt only up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-35)	Exempt up to the tax-free amount if it is made under section 239 of the Social Security Act 1991 (see section 52-25)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 52-10

Income tax treatment of social security payments
Item	Payment	Case 1	Case 2	Case 3	Case 4
4.3	Carer payment: both you and the care receiver or all of the care receivers are under pension age	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt, but if it is made under section 236A of the Social Security Act 1991 , exempt only up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-35)	Exempt up to the tax-free amount if it is made under section 239 of the Social Security Act 1991 (see section 52-25)
4.4	Carer payment: you are under pension age and any of the care receivers has died	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt, but if it is made under section 236A of the Social Security Act 1991 , exempt only up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-35)	Exempt up to the tax-free amount if it is made under section 239 of the Social Security Act 1991 (see section 52-25)
5.1	Crisis payment	Exempt	Exempt	Not applicable	Not applicable
6.1	Disability support pension: you are pension age or over	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-10

---

Income tax treatment of social security payments
Item	Payment	Case 1	Case 2	Case 3	Case 4
6.2	Disability support pension: you are under pension age	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)
9.1	Double orphan pension	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt	Not applicable
13A.1	Fares allowance	Exempt	Exempt	Not applicable	Not applicable
15.1	Mature age allowance (paid under Part 2.12A)	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)
16.1	Mature age allowance (paid under Part 2.12B)	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-30)
17.1	Mature age partner allowance	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)
18.1	Mobility allowance	Exempt	Exempt	Not applicable	Not applicable

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 52-10

Income tax treatment of social security payments
Item	Payment	Case 1	Case 2	Case 3	Case 4
19.1	Newstart allowance	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-30)
21A.1	Parenting payment (benefit PP (partnered))	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-30)
21A.3	Parenting payment (pension PP (single))	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Exempt	Not applicable
22.1	Partner allowance	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-30)
22A.1	Pensioner education supplement	Exempt	Exempt	Not applicable	Not applicable
22B.1	Seniors concession allowance	Exempt	Exempt	Not applicable	Not applicable

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-10

---

Income tax treatment of social security payments
Item	Payment	Case 1	Case 2	Case 3	Case 4
23.1	Sickness allowance	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-30)
25.1	Special benefit	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-30)
26.1	Special needs age pension	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)
27.1	Special needs disability support pension: you are pension age or over	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 52-10

Income tax treatment of social security payments
Item	Payment	Case 1	Case 2	Case 3	Case 4
27.2	Special needs disability support pension: you are under pension age	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)
29.1	Special needs widow B pension	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Not applicable	Not applicable
30.1	Special needs wife pension: you are pension age or over	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)
30.2	Special needs wife pension: your partner is pension age or over	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)
30.3	Special needs wife pension: both you and your partner are under pension age	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-10

---

Income tax treatment of social security payments
Item	Payment	Case 1	Case 2	Case 3	Case 4
30.4	Special needs wife pension: you are under pension age and your partner has died	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)
31.1	Telephone allowance	Exempt	Exempt	Not applicable	Not applicable
31A.1	Utilities allowance	Exempt	Exempt	Not applicable	Not applicable
32.1	Widow allowance	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Not applicable	Not applicable
33.1	Widow B pension	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Exempt	Not applicable
34.1	Wife pension: you are pension age or over	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Income tax treatment of social security payments
Item	Payment	Case 1	Case 2	Case 3	Case 4
34.2	Wife pension: your partner is pension age or over	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)
34.3	Wife pension: both you and your partner are under pension age	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)
34.4	Wife pension: you are under pension age and your partner has died	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-25)
35.1	Youth allowance	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-15)	Supplementary amount, and tax-free amount, are exempt (see sections 52-15 and 52-20)	Exempt	Exempt up to the tax-free amount (see section 52-30)

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 52-15

---

52-15 Supplementary amounts of payments

You work out the supplementary amount of a social security payment using the following table:

Supplementary amount of a social security payment
Item	For this category of social security payment:	the supplementary amount is the total of:
1	Age pension Bereavement allowance Carer payment Mature age allowance (paid under Part 2.12A) Mature age partner allowance Sickness allowance Special benefit Special needs age pension Special needs disability support pension Special needs widow B pension Special needs wife pension Widow B pension Wife pension	(a) so much of the payment as is included by way of rental assistance; and (b) so much of the payment as is included by way of remote area allowance; and (c) so much of the payment as is included by way of pharmaceutical allowance

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Supplementary amount of a social security payment

---

Item	For this category of social security payment:	the supplementary amount is the total of:
2	Disability support pension	(a) so much of the payment as is included by way of rental assistance; and (b) so much of the payment as is included by way of remote area allowance; and (c) so much of the payment as is included by way of pharmaceutical allowance; and (d) so much of the payment as is included by way of incentive allowance; and (e) so much of the payment as is included by way of language, literacy and numeracy supplement
3	Mature age allowance (paid under Part 2.12B) Newstart allowance Parenting payment (benefit (PP partnered)) Parenting payment (pension (PP single)) Partner allowance Widow allowance Youth allowance	(a) so much of the payment as is included by way of rental assistance; and (b) so much of the payment as is included by way of remote area allowance; and (c) so much of the payment as is included by way of pharmaceutical allowance; and (d) so much of the payment as is included by way of language, literacy and numeracy supplement

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 52-20

---

---

Supplementary amount of a social security payment

---

Item	For this category of social security payment:	the supplementary amount is the total of:
4	Austudy payment	(a) so much of the payment as is included by way of rental assistance; and (b) so much of the payment as is included by way of remote area allowance; and (c) so much of the payment as is included by way of pharmaceutical allowance

---

52-20 Tax-free amount of an ordinary payment after the death of your partner

- (1) You work out under this section the *tax-free amount of an *ordinary payment made under the Social Security Act 1991 after the death of your partner if:
- (a) you do not qualify for payments under a *bereavement Subdivision; and
  - (b) the ordinary payment became due to you during the bereavement period.

Note: For the provisions of the Social Security Act 1991 that tell you if you qualify for payments under a bereavement Subdivision: see subsection (3).

- (2) This is how to work out the tax-free amount:

Method statement

Step 1. Work out the *supplementary amount of the payment.

Note: The supplementary amount is also exempt and is worked out under section 52-15.

Step 2. Subtract the *supplementary amount from the amount of the payment.

Step 3. Work out what would have been the amount of the payment if your partner had not died.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- Step 4. Work out what would have been the *supplementary amount of the payment if your partner had not died.
- Step 5. Subtract the amount at Step 4 from the amount at Step 3.
- Step 6. Subtract the amount at Step 5 from the amount at Step 2: the result is the tax-free amount.

- (3) This table sets out:
- (a) the Subdivisions of the Social Security Act 1991 that are bereavement Subdivisions; and
  - (b) the provision of that Act that tells you if you qualify for payments under the relevant bereavement Subdivision.

Bereavement Subdivisions
Item	For this bereavement Subdivision:	This provision tells you if you qualify for payments under it:
1	Subdivision A of Division 9 of Part 2.2	paragraph 82(1)(e)
2	Subdivision A of Division 10 of Part 2.3	paragraph 146F(1)(e)
3	Subdivision B of Division 9 of Part 2.5	paragraph 237(1)(e)
5	Subdivision A of Division 10 of Part 2.9	paragraph 469(1)(e)
5A	Division 10 of Part 2.11	paragraph 567(1)(f)
5B	Division 10 of Part 2.11A	paragraph 592(1)(f)
6	Subdivision AA of Division 9 of Part 2.12	paragraph 660LA(1)(f)
7	Subdivision A of Division 11 of Part 2.12A	paragraph 660XKA(1)(e)
8	Subdivision C of Division 11 of Part 2.12B	paragraph 660YKC(1)(e)
9	Subdivision AA of Division 9 of Part 2.14	paragraph 728PA(1)(f)
10	Subdivision AA of Division 9 of Part 2.15	paragraph 768A(1)(f)
11	Subdivision A of Division 10 of Part 2.16	paragraph 822(1)(e)

52-25 Tax-free amount of certain bereavement lump sum payments

- (1) This section applies if a lump sum of any of these categories of social security payments becomes due to you because of your partner's death.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 52-25

---

Category of social security payment

Age pension

Carer payment

Disability support pension

Mature age allowance (paid under Part 2.12A)

Mature age partner allowance

Special needs age pension

Special needs disability support pension

Special needs wife pension

Wife pension

- (2) The total of the following are exempt up to the *tax-free amount:
- (a) the lump sum payment;
  - (b) all other payments that become due to you under the Social Security Act 1991 during the bereavement lump sum period.
- (3) This is how to work out the tax-free amount:

Method statement

Step 1. Work out the payments under the Social Security Act 1991 that would have become due to you during the bereavement lump sum period if:

- (a) your partner had not died; and
- (b) your partner had been under pension age; and
- (c) immediately before your partner died, you and your partner had been neither an illness separated couple nor a respite care couple.

Step 2. Work out how much of those payments would have been exempt in those circumstances.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- Step 3. Work out the payments under the Social Security Act 1991 or Part III of the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 that would have become due to your partner during the bereavement lump sum period if:
- (a) your partner had not died; and
  - (b) immediately before your partner died, you and your partner were neither an illness separated couple nor a respite care couple;
- even if the payments would not have been exempt.
- Step 4. Total the payments worked out at Steps 2 and 3: the result is the tax-free amount.

Example: You are receiving a disability support pension of $300 a fortnight and a pharmaceutical allowance of $5 a fortnight. You are over pension age. Your partner is receiving a partner allowance of $250 a fortnight and rental assistance of $75 a fortnight.

Your partner dies. Seven instalments are due to you during the bereavement lump sum period. You work out the tax-free amount as follows:

Step 1: The instalments that would have become due to you during the bereavement lump sum period are:

$$$300 + $5 = $305$$

The total for the period is $2,135.

Step 2: The exempt component of each instalment is $5. The total for the 7 instalments is $35.

Step 3: The instalments that would have become due to your partner during the same period are:

$$$250 + $75 = $325$$

The total for the period is $2,275.

Step 4: The tax-free amount is:

$$$35 + $2,275 = $2,310$$

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 52-30

---

52-30 Tax-free amount of certain other bereavement lump sum payments

- (1) This section applies if a lump sum of any of these categories of social security payments becomes due to you because of your partner's death.

---

Category of social security payment

---

Austudy payment

---

Mature age allowance (paid under Part 2.12B)

---

Newstart allowance

---

Parenting payment (benefit PP (partnered))

---

Partner allowance

---

Sickness allowance

---

Special benefit

---

Youth allowance

---

- (2) The total of the following are exempt up to the *tax-free amount:
- (a) the lump sum payment;
  - (b) all other payments that become due to you under the Social Security Act 1991 during the bereavement lump sum period.
- (3) This is how to work out the tax-free amount:

Method statement

Step 1. Work out the payments under the Social Security Act 1991 that would have become due to you during the bereavement lump sum period if:

- (a) your partner had not died; and
- (b) your partner had been under pension age; and
- (c) immediately before your partner died, you and your partner had been neither an illness separated couple nor a respite care couple.

Step 2. Work out how much of those payments would have been exempt in those circumstances.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- Step 3. Work out the payments under the Social Security Act 1991 that would have become due to your partner during the bereavement lump sum period if your partner had not died, even if the payments would not have been exempt.
- Step 4. Total the payments worked out at Steps 2 and 3: the result is the tax-free amount.

52-35 Tax-free amount of a lump sum payment made because of the death of a person you are caring for

- (1) This section applies if a lump sum payment becomes due to you under section 236A of the Social Security Act 1991 because of the death of the care receiver or any of the care receivers.
- (2) The total of the following are exempt up to the *tax-free amount:
  - (a) the lump sum payment;
  - (b) all other payments that become due to you under the Social Security Act 1991 during the bereavement lump sum period.
- (3) This is how to work out the tax-free amount:

Method statement

- Step 1. Work out the payments under the Social Security Act 1991 that would have become due to you during the bereavement lump sum period if:
- (a) the care receiver had not died; and
  - (b) the care receiver had been under* pension age.
- Step 2. Work out how much of those payments would have been exempt in those circumstances.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-40

---

- Step 3. Work out the payments under the Social Security Act 1991 that would have become due to the care receiver during the bereavement lump sum period if the care receiver had not died, even if the payments would not have been exempt.
- Step 4. Total the payments worked out at Steps 2 and 3: the result is the tax-free amount.

52-40 Provisions of the Social Security Act 1991 under which payments are made

This table lists the provisions of the Social Security Act 1991 under which social security payments are made that are wholly or partly exempt from income tax under this Subdivision.

---

Provisions under which social security payments are made

---

Item	Category of social security payment	Ordinary payment	Payment made because of a person's death (unless covered by next column)	Lump sum payment made because of your partner's death
1	Advance pharmaceutical supplement	Part 2.23	Not applicable	Not applicable
2	Age pension	Part 2.2	Sections 83, 86 and 91	Section 84
2AA	Australian Government Disaster Recovery Payment	Part 2.24	Not applicable	Not applicable
2A	Austudy payment	Part 2.11A	Section 592A	Section 592B
3	Bereavement allowance	Part 2.7	Section 359	Not applicable
3A	Carer allowance	Part 2.19	Sections 992K and 992M	Not applicable

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Provisions under which social security payments are made
Item	Category of social security payment	Ordinary payment	Payment made because of a person's death (unless covered by next column)	Lump sum payment made because of your partner's death
4	Carer payment	Part 2.5	Sections 236A, 238, 241 and 246	Section 239
5	Crisis payment	Part 2.23A	Not applicable	Not applicable
6	Disability support pension	Part 2.3	Sections 146G, 146K and 146Q	Section 146H
9	Double orphan pension	Part 2.20	Sections 1034 and 1034A	Not applicable
13A	Fares allowance	Part 2.26	Not applicable	Not applicable
15	Mature age allowance (paid under Part 2.12A)	Part 2.12A	Sections 660XKB, 660XKE and 660XKG	Section 660XKC
16	Mature age allowance (paid under Part 2.12B)	Part 2.12B	Section 660YKD	Section 660YKE
17	Mature age partner allowance	Part 2.12A	Sections 660XKK and 660XKM	Section 660XKL
18	Mobility allowance	Part 2.21	Not applicable	Not applicable
19	Newstart allowance	Part 2.12	Section 660LB	Section 660LC
21A	Parenting payment (benefit PP (partnered))	Part 2.10	Sections 513A and 514B	Section 514C
21C	Parenting payment (pension PP (single))	Part 2.10	Section 513	Not applicable

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general applicationPart 2-15 Non-assessable incomeDivision 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-40

Provisions under which social security payments are made
Item	Category of social security payment	Ordinary payment	Payment made because of a person's death (unless covered by next column)	Lump sum payment made because of your partner's death
22	Partner allowance	Part 2.15A	Section 771NW	Section 771NX
22A	Pensioner education supplement	Part 2.24A	Not applicable	Not applicable
22B	Seniors concession allowance	Part 2.25B	Not applicable	Not applicable
23	Sickness allowance	Part 2.14	Section 728PB	Section 728PC
25	Special benefit	Part 2.15	Section 768B	Section 768C
26	Special needs age pension	Section 77 2	Sections 823, 826 and 830	Section 824
27	Special needs disability support pension	Section 77 3	Sections 823, 826 and 830	Section 824
29	Special needs widow B pension	Section 77 8	Not applicable	Not applicable
30	Special needs wife pension	Section 77 4	Sections 823, 826 and 830	Section 824
31	Telephone allowance	Part 2.25	Not applicable	Not applicable
31A	Utilities allowance	Part 2.25A	Not applicable	Not applicable
32	Widow allowance	Part 2.8A	Not applicable	Not applicable
33	Widow B pension	Part 2.8	Section 407	Not applicable
34	Wife pension	Part 2.4	Sections 189 and 191	Section 190

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Provisions under which social security payments are made

---

Item	Category of social security payment	Ordinary payment	Payment made because of a person's death (unless covered by next column)	Lump sum payment made because of your partner's death
35	Youth allowance	Part 2.11	Section 567A	Section 567B

---

Subdivision 52-B—Exempt payments under the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986

Guide to Subdivision 52-B

52-60 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision tells you:

- (a) the payments under the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 that are wholly or partly exempt from income tax; and
- (b) any special circumstances, conditions or exceptions that apply to a payment in order for it to be exempt; and
- (c) how to work out how much of a payment is exempt.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 52-65

---

Table of sections

Operative provisions

52-65	How much of a veterans' affairs payment is exempt?
52-70	Supplementary amounts of payments
52-75	Provisions of the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 under which payments are made

Operative provisions

52-65 How much of a veterans' affairs payment is exempt?

- (1) The table in this section tells you about the income tax treatment of veterans' affairs payments, other than:
- (a) payments of pension bonus, pension bonus bereavement payment, DFISA bonus or DFISA bonus bereavement payment; or
  - (b) 2008 one-off payment to older Australians; or
  - (c) payments under a scheme referred to in subsection (1C); or
  - (d) economic security strategy payment under the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986.

Note: Section 52-75 sets out the provisions of the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 under which the payments are made.

- (1A) The following payments under the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 are exempt from income tax:
- (a) pension bonus and pension bonus bereavement payment under Part IIIAB;
  - (b) DFISA bonus and DFISA bonus bereavement payment under Part VIIAB.
- (1B) Payments of 2008 one-off payment to older Australians under Part VIIF of the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 are exempt from income tax.
- (1C) Payments to older Australians under a scheme determined under item 2 of Schedule 2 to the Social Security and Veterans' Entitlements Legislation Amendment (One-off Payments and Other Budget Measures) Act 2008 are exempt from income tax.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (1D) Economic security strategy payment under the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 is exempt from income tax.
- (2) Expressions (except "pension age") used in this Subdivision that are also used in the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 have the same meaning as in that Act.
- (3) Pension age has the meaning given by subsection 23(1) of the Social Security Act 1991.
- (4) Ordinary payment means a payment other than a payment made because of a person's death.

---

Income tax treatment of veterans' affairs payments

---

Item	Category of veterans' affairs payment	Ordinary payment	Payment made because of a person's death
1.1	Age service pension	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-70)	Exempt
2.1	Attendant allowance	Exempt	Not applicable
3.1	Carer service pension: unless covered by item 3.2 or 3.3	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-70)	Exempt
3.2	Carer service pension: both you and your partner are under pension age and your partner is receiving an invalidity service pension	Exempt	Exempt
3.3	Carer service pension: you are under pension age, your partner has died and was receiving an invalidity service pension at death	Exempt	Exempt
4.1	Clothing allowance	Exempt	Not applicable
5.1	Decoration allowance	Exempt	Not applicable

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-65

---

---

Income tax treatment of veterans' affairs payments
Item	Category of veterans' affairs payment	Ordinary payment	Payment made because of a person's death
5A.1	Defence Force Income Support Allowance: the whole of the social security pension, or the whole of the social security benefit, that is also payable to you on the day this allowance is payable to you is exempt from income tax under section 52-10	Exempt	Not applicable
6.1	Income support supplement: unless covered by item 6.2, 6.3, 6.4 or 6.5	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-70)	Exempt
6.2	Income support supplement: you are under pension age and receiving the supplement on the grounds of permanent incapacity	Exempt	Exempt
6.3	Income support supplement: both you and the severely handicapped person you are caring for are under pension age and you are receiving the supplement for providing constant care for that person	Exempt	Exempt
6.4	Income support supplement: both you and your partner are under pension age and your partner is an invalidity service pensioner or a disability support pensioner	Exempt	Exempt
6.5	Income support supplement: both you and your partner are under pension age and your partner is receiving the supplement on the grounds of permanent incapacity	Exempt	Exempt

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Income tax treatment of veterans' affairs payments
Item	Category of veterans' affairs payment	Ordinary payment	Payment made because of a person's death
7.1	Invalidity service pension: you are pension age or over	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-70)	Exempt
7.2	Invalidity service pension: you are under pension age	Exempt	Exempt
8.1	Loss of earnings allowance	Exempt	Not applicable
9.1	Partner service pension: unless covered by item 9.2 or 9.3	Supplementary amount is exempt (see section 52-70)	Exempt
9.2	Partner service pension: both you and your partner are under pension age and your partner is receiving an invalidity service pension	Exempt	Exempt
9.3	Partner service pension: you are under pension age, your partner has died and was receiving an invalidity service pension at death	Exempt	Exempt
10.1	Pension for defence-caused death or incapacity	Exempt	Not applicable
11.1	Pension for war-caused death or incapacity	Exempt	Not applicable
12.1	Pharmaceutical allowance	Exempt	Not applicable
13.1	Recreation transport allowance	Exempt	Not applicable
14.1	Section 98A Bereavement payment	Not applicable	Exempt
14.2	Section 98AA Bereavement payment	Not applicable	Exempt
15.1	Section 99 funeral benefit	Not applicable	Exempt
16.1	Section 100 funeral benefit	Not applicable	Exempt
16A.1	Seniors concession allowance	Exempt	Not applicable

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-70

---

---

Income tax treatment of veterans' affairs payments
Item	Category of veterans' affairs payment	Ordinary payment	Payment made because of a person's death
17.1	Special assistance	Exempt	Not applicable
18.1	Telephone allowance	Exempt	Not applicable
19.1	Temporary incapacity allowance	Exempt	Not applicable
20.1	Travelling expenses	Exempt	Not applicable
20A.1	Utilities allowance	Exempt	Not applicable
21.1	Vehicle Assistance Scheme	Exempt	Not applicable
22.1	Victoria Cross allowance	Exempt	Not applicable

---

52-70 Supplementary amounts of payments

The supplementary amount of a veterans' affairs payment is the total of:

- (a) so much of the payment as is included by way of rental assistance; and
- (b) so much of the payment as is included by way of an additional amount for each of your dependent *children; and
- (c) so much of the payment as is included by way of remote area allowance.

52-75 Provisions of the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 under which payments are made

This table lists the provisions of the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 under which veterans' affairs payments are made that are wholly or partly exempt from income tax under this Subdivision.

---

Provisions under which veterans' affairs payments are made
Item	Category of veterans' affairs payment	Ordinary payment	Payment made because of a person's death
1C	2008 one-off payment to older Australians	Part VIIF	Not applicable

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Provisions under which veterans' affairs payments are made
Item	Category of veterans' affairs payment	Ordinary payment	Payment made because of a person's death
1	Age service pension	Division 3 of Part III	Parts III and IIIA
2	Attendant allowance	Section 98	Not applicable
3	Carer service pension	Division 6 of Part III	Parts III and IIIA
4	Clothing allowance	Section 97	Not applicable
5	Decoration allowance	Section 102	Not applicable
5A	Defence Force Income Support Allowance	Part VIIAB	Not applicable
5B	Economic security strategy payment	Part VIIG	Not applicable
6	Income support supplement	Part IIIA	Parts III and IIIB
7	Invalidity service pension	Division 4 of Part III	Parts III and IIIA
8	Loss of earnings allowance	Section 108	Not applicable
9	Partner service pension	Division 5 of Part III	Parts III and IIIA
10	Pension for defence-caused death or incapacity	Part IV	Not applicable
11	Pension for war-caused death or incapacity	Part II	Not applicable
12	Pharmaceutical allowance	Part VIIA	Not applicable
13	Recreation transport allowance	Section 104	Not applicable
14	Section 98A Bereavement payment	Not applicable	Section 98A
14A	Section 98AA Bereavement payment	Not applicable	Section 98AA
15	Section 99 funeral benefit	Not applicable	Section 99
16	Section 100 funeral benefit	Not applicable	Section 100
16A	Seniors concession allowance	Part VIIAD	Not applicable
17	Special assistance	Section 106	Not applicable

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-100

---

Provisions under which veterans' affairs payments are made

---

Item	Category of veterans' affairs payment	Ordinary payment	Payment made because of a person's death
18	Telephone allowance	Part VIIB	Not applicable
19	Temporary incapacity allowance	Section 107	Not applicable
20	Travelling expenses	Section 110	Not applicable
20A	Utilities allowance	Part VIIAC	Not applicable
21	Vehicle Assistance Scheme	Section 105	Not applicable
22	Victoria Cross allowance	Section 103	Not applicable

Subdivision 52-C—Exempt payments made because of the Veterans' Entitlements (Transitional Provisions and Consequential Amendments) Act 1986

Guide to Subdivision 52-C

52-100 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision tells you:

- (a) the payments made because of the Veterans' Entitlements (Transitional Provisions and Consequential Amendments) Act 1986 that are wholly or partly exempt from income tax; and
- (b) any special circumstances, conditions or exceptions that apply to a payment in order for it to be exempt; and
- (c) how to work out how much of a payment is exempt.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

52-105 Supplementary amount of a payment made under the Repatriation Act 1920 is exempt

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

52-110 Other exempt payments

Operative provisions

52-105 Supplementary amount of a payment made under the Repatriation Act 1920 is exempt

- (1) The *supplementary amount of a payment made to you is exempt from income tax if:
  - (a) you are a *parent of a *member of the Forces who has died (but you are neither a widow nor a woman divorced or deserted by her husband) and you are of *pension age or over; or
  - (b) you are the mother of a *member of the Forces who has died and you are also a widow, or divorced or deserted by your husband;and the payment is covered by subsection (2).
- (2) The payment must be made in circumstances that are a prescribed case under:
  - (a) Table A in Schedule 3 to the Repatriation Act 1920; or
  - (b) that Table as applying because of the Repatriation (Far East Strategic Reserve) Act 1956; or
  - (c) that Table as applying because of the Repatriation (Special Overseas Service) Act 1962; or
  - (d) that Table as applying because of the Interim Forces Benefits Act 1947;as in force because of subsection 4(6) of the Veterans' Entitlements (Transitional Provisions and Consequential Amendments) Act 1986.
- (3) The supplementary amount is the total of:
  - (a) so much of the payment as is included by way of rental assistance; and
  - (b) so much of the payment as is included by way of an additional amount for each of your dependent *children; and
  - (c) so much of the payment as is included by way of remote area allowance.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 52-110

---

- (4) Member of the Forces has the same meaning as in the Act referred to in the relevant paragraph of subsection (2).
- (5) Expressions (except pension age) used in this Subdivision that are also used in the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 have the same meaning as in that Act.
- (6) Pension age has the meaning given by subsection 23(1) of the Social Security Act 1991.

52-110 Other exempt payments

Payments (except those covered by section 52-105) made because of subsection 4(6) of the Veterans' Entitlements (Transitional Provisions and Consequential Amendments) Act 1986 are exempt from income tax.

Subdivision 52-CA—Exempt payments under the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004

Guide to Subdivision 52-CA

52-112 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision tells you:

- (a) the payments under the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004 that are wholly or partly exempt from income tax; and
- (b) any special circumstances, conditions or exceptions that apply to a payment in order for it to be exempt; and
- (c) how to work out how much of a payment is exempt.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

52-114 How much of a payment under the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act is exempt?

Operative provisions

52-114 How much of a payment under the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act is exempt?

- (1) The table in this section tells you about the income tax treatment of payments under the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004. References in the table to provisions are to provisions of that Act.
- (2) Expressions used in this Subdivision that are also used in the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004 have the same meanings as in that Act.
- (3) Ordinary payment means a payment other than a payment made because of a person's death.

---

Income tax treatment of Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act payments

Item	Category of payment and provision under which it is paid	Ordinary payment	Payment because of a person's death
1	Alterations to aids and appliances relating to rehabilitation (section 57)	Exempt	Not applicable
2	Compensation for journey and accommodation costs (sections 47, 290, 291 and 297 and subsection 328(4))	Exempt	Not applicable

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-114

---

---

Income tax treatment of Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act payments

---

Item	Category of payment and provision under which it is paid	Ordinary payment	Payment because of a person's death
3	Compensation for permanent impairment (sections 68, 71, 75 and 80)	Exempt	Exempt
4	Compensation for financial advice (sections 81, 205 and 239)	Exempt	Not applicable
5	Compensation for incapacity for Permanent Forces member or continuous full-time Reservist (section 85)	See section 51-32	Exempt
6	Compensation for incapacity for part-time Reservists (section 86)	See section 51-33	Exempt
7	Compensation by way of Special Rate Disability Pension (section 200)	Exempt	Not applicable
8	Compensation under the Motor Vehicle Compensation Scheme (section 212)	Exempt	Not applicable
9	Compensation for household services and attendant care services (sections 214 and 217)	Exempt	Not applicable
10	Telephone allowance (sections 221 and 245)	Exempt	Not applicable

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Income tax treatment of Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act payments

---

Item	Category of payment and provision under which it is paid	Ordinary payment	Payment because of a person's death
11	Compensation for loss or damage to medical aids (section 226)	Exempt	Not applicable
12	Compensation for a wholly dependent partner for a member's death (section 233)	Not applicable	Exempt
13	Continuing permanent impairment and incapacity etc. compensation for a wholly dependent partner (subparagraphs 242(1)(a)(i) and (iii))	Not applicable	Exempt
14	Compensation for eligible young persons who were dependent on deceased member (section 253)	Not applicable	Exempt
15	Continuing permanent impairment and incapacity etc. compensation for eligible young persons (subparagraphs 255(1)(c)(i) and (iii))	Not applicable	Exempt
16	Education and training, or a payment, under the education scheme for certain eligible young persons (section 258)	Exempt if provided for or made to a person under 16	Exempt

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-117

---

---

Income tax treatment of Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act payments

---

Item	Category of payment and provision under which it is paid	Ordinary payment	Payment because of a person's death
17	Compensation for other persons who were dependent on deceased member (section 262)	Not applicable	Exempt
18	Compensation for cost of a funeral (section 266)	Not applicable	Exempt
19	Compensation for treatment costs (sections 271, 272 and 273)	Exempt	Not applicable
20	Pharmaceutical allowance (section 300)	Exempt	Not applicable
21	Special assistance (section 424)	Exempt	Exempt

---

Subdivision 52-CB—Exempt payments under the Australian Participants in British Nuclear Tests (Treatment) Act 2006

52-117 Payments of travelling expenses are exempt

A payment made to you under Part 3 of the Australian Participants in British Nuclear Tests (Treatment) Act 2006 is exempt from income tax.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Subdivision 52-D—Exempt payments made by the Commonwealth to reimburse certain expenditure

52-125 Private health insurance incentive payments are exempt

A payment made to you under Division 26 of the Private Health Insurance Act 2007 is exempt from income tax.

Subdivision 52-E—Exempt payments under the ABSTUDY scheme

Guide to Subdivision 52-E

52-130 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision tells you:

- (a) the payments under the ABSTUDY scheme that are wholly or partly exempt from income tax; and
- (b) any special circumstances, conditions or exceptions that apply to a payment in order for it to be exempt; and
- (c) how to work out how much of a payment is exempt.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

52-131	Payments under ABSTUDY scheme
52-132	Supplementary amounts of payments
52-133	Tax-free amount of ordinary payment on death of partner if no bereavement payment payable
52-134	Tax-free amount if you receive a bereavement lump sum payment

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 52-131

---

Operative provisions

52-131 Payments under ABSTUDY scheme

- (1) This section tells you about the income tax treatment of a payment under the ABSTUDY scheme made in respect of a period commencing at a time when you were at least 16 years old.

Note: The whole of a payment made under the ABSTUDY scheme in respect of a period commencing at a time when you are under 16 years old may be exempt under section 51-10.

- (2) A crisis payment made to you under the ABSTUDY scheme is exempt from income tax.

- (3) If:

- (a) an *ordinary payment becomes due to you; and
- (b) the payment is not covered by subsection (4) or (6);

the *supplementary amount of the ordinary payment is exempt from income tax.

Note: To work out the supplementary amount of the ordinary payment, see section 52-132.

- (4) If:

- (a) your partner dies; and
- (b) you do not qualify for a payment under the ABSTUDY scheme in respect of that death; and
- (c) an *ordinary payment becomes due to you during the bereavement period;

the *supplementary amount and the *tax-free amount of the ordinary payment are exempt from income tax.

Note 1: To work out the supplementary amount of the ordinary payment, see section 52-132.

Note 2: To work out the tax-free amount of the ordinary payment, see section 52-133.

- (5) If a payment becomes due to you under the ABSTUDY scheme because of a person's death (except a lump sum payment because of your partner's death), the payment is exempt from income tax.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (6) If:
- (a) your partner dies; and
  - (b) a lump sum payment under the ABSTUDY scheme becomes due to you because of your partner's death;
- the total of the following are exempt from income tax up to the *tax free amount:
- (c) the lump sum payment; and
  - (d) all other payments that become due to you under the ABSTUDY scheme during the bereavement lump sum period.

Note: To work out the tax-free amount, see section 52-134.

- (7) ABSTUDY scheme means the scheme known as ABSTUDY.
- (8) Ordinary payment means a payment under the ABSTUDY scheme, other than:
- (a) a crisis payment; or
  - (b) a payment made because of a person's death.
- (9) The following expressions used in this Subdivision have the same meaning as in the ABSTUDY Policy Manual:
- (a) bereavement lump sum period;
  - (b) bereavement period;
  - (c) illness separated couple;
  - (d) lump sum payment;
  - (e) partner;
  - (f) pension age;
  - (g) respite care couple.

Note: In 2007, the ABSTUDY Policy Manual was accessible through the website of the Department of Education, Science and Training.

52-132 Supplementary amount of payment

The *supplementary amount of a payment is the total of:

- (a) so much of the payment as is included to assist you with, or to reimburse you for, the costs of any one or more of the following:
  - (i) rent;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 52 Certain pensions, benefits and allowances are exempt from income tax

Section 52-132

---

- (ii) living in a remote area;
  - (iii) commencing employment;
  - (iv) travel to, or participation in, courses, interviews, education or training;
  - (v) a child or children wholly or substantially dependent on you;
  - (vi) telephone bills;
  - (vii) living away from your usual residence;
  - (viii) maintaining your usual residence while living away from that residence;
  - (ix) accommodation, books or equipment;
  - (x) discharging a HEC assessment debt (within the meaning of Chapter 4 of the Higher Education Funding Act 1988);
  - (xi) discharging a compulsory repayment amount (within the meaning of the Higher Education Support Act 2003);
  - (xii) transport in travelling to undertake education or training, or to visit your usual residence when undertaking education or training away from that residence;
  - (xiii) if you are disabled—acquiring any special equipment, services or transport as a result of the disability;
  - (xiv) anything that would otherwise prevent you from beginning, continuing or completing any education or training; and
- (b) so much of the payment as is included by way of pharmaceutical allowance.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

52-133 Tax-free amount of ordinary payment on death of partner if no bereavement payment payable

This is how to work out the tax-free amount of an *ordinary payment for the purposes of subsection 52-131(4):

Method statement

Step 1. Work out the *supplementary amount of the payment.

Note: The supplementary amount is also exempt and is worked out under section 52-132.

Step 2. Subtract the *supplementary amount from the amount of the payment.

Step 3. Work out what would have been the amount of the payment if your partner had not died.

Step 4. Work out what would have been the *supplementary amount of the payment if your partner had not died.

Step 5. Subtract the amount at Step 4 from the amount at Step 3.

Step 6. Subtract the amount at Step 5 from the amount at Step 2: the result is the tax-free amount.

52-134 Tax-free amount if you receive a bereavement lump sum payment

This is how to work out the tax-free amount for the purposes of subsection 52-131(6):

Method statement

Step 1. Work out the payments under the ABSTUDY scheme that would have become due to you during the bereavement lump sum period if:

- (a) your partner had not died; and
- (b) your partner had been under pension age; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 52-140

---

- (c) immediately before your partner died, you and your partner had been neither an illness separated couple nor a respite care couple.
- Step 2. Work out how much of those payments would have been exempt in those circumstances.
- Step 3. Work out the payments under the ABSTUDY scheme or the Social Security Act 1991 that would have become due to your partner during the bereavement lump sum period if your partner had not died, even if the payments would not have been exempt.
- Step 4. Total the payments worked out at Steps 2 and 3: the result is the tax-free amount.

Subdivision 52-F—Exemption of Commonwealth education or training payments

Table of sections

52-140	Supplementary amount of a Commonwealth education or training payment is exempt
52-145	Meaning of Commonwealth education or training payment

52-140 Supplementary amount of a Commonwealth education or training payment is exempt

- (1) This section tells you about the income tax treatment of a *Commonwealth education or training payment (other than a payment to or on behalf of a student under the scheme known as ABSTUDY).

Note: The income tax treatment of payments under the scheme known as ABSTUDY is dealt with in Subdivision 52-E.

- (2) The *supplementary amount of the payment is exempt from income tax.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (3) The supplementary amount is the total of:
- (a) so much of the payment as is included to assist you with, or to reimburse you for, the costs of any one or more of the following:
    - (i) rent;
    - (ii) living in a remote area;
    - (iii) commencing employment;
    - (iv) travel to, or participation in, courses, interviews, education or training;
    - (v) a child or children wholly or substantially dependent on you;
    - (vi) telephone bills;
    - (vii) living away from your usual residence;
    - (viii) maintaining your usual residence while living away from that residence;
    - (ix) accommodation, books or equipment;
    - (x) discharging a HEC assessment debt (within the meaning of Chapter 4 of the Higher Education Funding Act 1988);
    - (xa) discharging a compulsory repayment amount (within the meaning of the Higher Education Support Act 2003);
    - (xi) transport in travelling to undertake education or training, or to visit your usual residence when undertaking education or training away from that residence;
    - (xii) if you are disabled—acquiring any special equipment, services or transport as a result of the disability;
    - (xiii) anything that would otherwise prevent you from beginning, continuing or completing any education or training; and
  - (b) so much of the payment as is included by way of pharmaceutical allowance.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

52-145 Meaning of Commonwealth education or training payment

- (1) A Commonwealth education or training payment is a payment by the Commonwealth, or in connection with a payment by the Commonwealth, of an allowance or reimbursement:
- (a) to or on behalf of a participant in a *Commonwealth labour market program; or
  - (b) to or on behalf of a student under:
    - (i) the scheme known as ABSTUDY; or
    - (ii) the scheme known as the Assistance for Isolated Children Scheme; or
    - (iii) the scheme known as the Veterans' Children Education Scheme; or
    - (iiia) the scheme under section 258 of the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004 to provide education and training; or
    - (iv) the scheme known as youth allowance; or
    - (v) the scheme known as austudy payment;in respect of a period commencing at a time when the student was at least 16 years old.
- (2) A Commonwealth labour market program is a program administered by the Commonwealth under which:
- (a) unemployed persons are given training in skills to improve their employment prospects; or
  - (b) unemployed persons are assisted in obtaining employment or to become self-employed; or
  - (c) employed persons are given training in skills and other assistance to aid them in continuing to be employed by their current employer or in obtaining other employment.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 52-G—Exempt payments under the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) (Administration) Act 1999

52-150 Family assistance payments are exempt

- (1) A payment of child care benefit, child care rebate, family tax benefit, baby bonus, maternity immunisation allowance, one-off payment to families, economic security strategy payment to families, back to school bonus or single income family bonus made to you under the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) (Administration) Act 1999 is exempt from income tax.
- (2) Payments to families under the scheme determined under Schedule 3 to the Family Assistance Legislation Amendment (More Help for Families—One-off Payments) Act 2004 are exempt from income tax.

Subdivision 52-H—Other exempt payments

52-160 Economic security strategy payments are exempt

Payments under the scheme determined under Schedule 4 to the Social Security and Other Legislation Amendment (Economic Security Strategy) Act 2008 are exempt from income tax.

52-165 Household stimulus payments are exempt

Payments under the scheme determined under Schedule 4 to the Household Stimulus Package Act (No. 2) 2009 are exempt from income tax.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 53—Various exempt payments

Guide to Division 53

53-1 What this Division is about

This Division tells you:

- (a) about various payments that are wholly or partly exempt from income tax; and
- (b) any special conditions that apply to a payment in order for it to be exempt; and
- (c) how to work out how much of a payment is exempt.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

53-10	Exemption of various types of payments
53-15	Supplementary amount of exceptional circumstances relief payment or farm help income support
53-20	Exemption of similar Australian and United Kingdom veterans' payments

Operative provisions

53-10 Exemption of various types of payments

This table tells you about the income tax treatment of various types of payments.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Exemption of various payments

---

Item	This type of payment:	... made under:	... is exempt subject to these exceptions and special conditions:
1	Carer adjustment payment	The power of the Commonwealth to make ex-gratia payments	None
2	Disability services payment	Part III of the Disability Services Act 1986	None
3	Exceptional circumstances relief payment or farm help income support: payment made other than because of a person's death	The Farm Household Support Act 1992	Only the supplementary amount is exempt (see section 53-15)
4	Exceptional circumstances relief payment or farm help income support: payment made because of a person's death	Paragraph 49(b) of the Farm Household Support Act 1992	None
4B	Sugar industry exit grant	The program known as the Sugar Industry Reform Program	As a condition of receiving the grant, you entered into an undertaking not to become the owner or operator of any agricultural *enterprise within 5 years after receiving the grant
4C	Tobacco industry exit grant	The program known as the Tobacco Growers Adjustment Assistance Programme 2006	As a condition of receiving the grant, you entered into an undertaking not to become the owner or operator of any agricultural *enterprise within 5 years after receiving the grant

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 53-15

---

---

Exemption of various payments

---

Item	This type of payment:	... made under:	... is exempt subject to these exceptions and special conditions:
5	Wounds and disability pension	Not applicable	The payment must be: (a) of a kind specified in subsection 315(2) of the Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 of the United Kingdom; and (b) similar in nature to payments that are exempt under Division 52 or this Division

---

Note 1: References in this section to exceptional circumstances relief payment also cover amounts paid as drought relief payment—see item 4 of Schedule 3 to the Farm Household Support Amendment (Restart and Exceptional Circumstances) Act 1997.

Note 2: A sugar industry exit grant referred to in table item 4B is included in assessable income if the recipient becomes the owner or operator of an agricultural enterprise (except a sugar industry enterprise) within 5 years after receiving the grant: see subsection 15-65(2).

53-15 Supplementary amount of exceptional circumstances relief payment or farm help income support

The supplementary amount of an exceptional circumstances relief payment or a payment of farm help income support is the total of:

- (a) so much of the payment as is included by way of rental assistance; and
- (b) so much of the payment as would have been included by way of remote area allowance if it had been a payment of newstart allowance under the Social Security Act 1991 instead of an exceptional circumstances relief payment or a payment of farm help income support;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

53-20 Exemption of similar Australian and United Kingdom veterans' payments

The following payments made by the Government of Australia, or the Government of the United Kingdom, are exempt from income tax:

- (a) payments similar to payments under the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 that are exempt under Subdivision 52-B;
- (b) payments similar to payments that are made because of the Veterans' Entitlements (Transitional Provisions and Consequential Amendments) Act 1986 and are exempt under Subdivision 52-C.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 54—Exemption for certain payments made under structured settlements and structured orders

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 54
54-A	Definitions
54-B	Tax exemption for personal injury annuities
54-C	Tax exemption for personal injury lump sums
54-D	Miscellaneous

Guide to Division 54

54-1 What this Division is about

Certain annuities and lump sums provided under structured settlements and structured orders are exempt from income tax. This Division tells you what a structured settlement is and what a structured order is, and when such an annuity or lump sum is exempt.

Subdivision 54-A—Definitions

Table of sections

Operative provisions
54-5	Definitions
54-10	Meaning of structured settlement and structured order

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Operative provisions

54-5 Definitions

In this Division:

date of the settlement or order:

- (a) for a *structured settlement, means:
  - (i) the date on which the agreement that is the structured settlement was entered into; or
  - (ii) if that agreement depends, for its effectiveness, on being approved (however described) by an order of a court, or on being embodied in a consent order made by a court, the date on which that order was made; and
- (b) for a *structured order, means the date on which the order was made.

personal injury annuity means an *annuity:

- (a) that is purchased under the terms of a *structured settlement as mentioned in paragraph 54-10(1)(e); or
- (b) that is purchased under the terms of a *structured order as mentioned in paragraph 54-10(1A)(e).

personal injury lump sum means a lump sum:

- (a) that is purchased under the terms of a *structured settlement as mentioned in paragraph 54-10(1)(e); or
- (b) that is purchased under the terms of a *structured order as mentioned in paragraph 54-10(1A)(e).

54-10 Meaning of structured settlement and structured order

- (1) A structured settlement is a settlement of a claim that satisfies the following conditions:
  - (a) the claim:
    - (i) is for compensation or damages for, or in respect of, personal injury suffered by a person (the injured person); and
    - (ii) is made by the injured person or by his or her *legal personal representative;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 54 Exemption for certain payments made under structured settlements and structured orders

Section 54-10

---

- (b) the claim is based on the commission of a wrong, or on a right created by statute;
  - (c) the claim is made against a person (the defendant) and satisfies the following conditions:
    - (i) the claim is not made against the defendant in his or her capacity as an employer, or *associate of an employer, of the injured person;
    - (ii) the claim is not made under a *workers' compensation law, and is not made as an alternative to a claim under such a law;
  - (d) the settlement takes the form of a written agreement between the parties to the claim (whether or not that agreement is approved by an order of a court, or is embodied in a consent order made by a court);
  - (e) under the terms of the settlement, some or all of the compensation or damages is to be used by the defendant (or by a person with whom the defendant has insurance against the liability to which the claim relates) to purchase from one or more *life insurance companies or State insurers:
    - (i) an *annuity or annuities to be paid to the injured person, or to a trustee for the benefit of the injured person; or
    - (ii) such an annuity or annuities, together with one or more lump sums that are also to be paid to the injured person, or to a trustee for the benefit of the injured person.
- (1A) A structured order is an order of a court that satisfies the following conditions:
- (a) the order is made in respect of a claim that:
    - (i) is for compensation or damages for, or in respect of, personal injury suffered by a person (the injured person); and
    - (ii) is made by the injured person or by his or her *legal personal representative;
  - (b) the order is not an order approving or endorsing an agreement as mentioned in paragraph (1)(d);
  - (c) the claim is based on the commission of a wrong, or on a right created by statute;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (d) the claim is made against a person (the defendant) and satisfies the following conditions:
  - (i) the claim is not made against the defendant in his or her capacity as an *employer, or *associate of an employer, of the injured person;
  - (ii) the claim is not made under a *workers' compensation law, and is not made as an alternative to a claim under such a law;
- (e) under the terms of the order, some or all of the compensation or damages is to be used by the defendant (or by a person with whom the defendant has insurance against the liability to which the claim relates) to purchase from one or more *life insurance companies or State insurers:
  - (i) an *annuity or annuities to be paid to the injured person, or to a trustee for the benefit of the injured person; or
  - (ii) such an annuity or annuities, together with one or more lump sums that are also to be paid to the injured person, or to a trustee for the benefit of the injured person.
- (2) For the purposes of paragraphs (1)(e) and (1A)(e), a State insurer is a body that carries on State insurance, within the meaning of paragraph 51(xiv) of the Constitution.
- (3) If a claim is both:
  - (a) for compensation or damages for personal injury suffered by a person; and
  - (b) for some other remedy (for example, compensation or damages for loss of, or damage to, property);this section applies to the claim, but only to the extent that it relates to the compensation or damages referred to in paragraph (a), and only to annuities or lump sums that, in the settlement agreement, or in the order, are identified as being solely in payment of that compensation or those damages.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 54-15

---

Subdivision 54-B—Tax exemption for personal injury annuities

Table of sections

Operative provisions

54-15	Personal injury annuity exemption for injured person
54-20	Lump sum compensation etc. would not have been assessable
54-25	Requirements of the annuity instrument
54-30	Requirements for payments of the annuity
54-35	Payments during the guarantee period on the death of the injured person
54-40	Requirement for minimum monthly level of support

Operative provisions

54-15 Personal injury annuity exemption for injured person

A payment of a *personal injury annuity that is made to the *injured person is exempt from income tax if the conditions in this Subdivision are satisfied.

Note: Section 54-70 provides a tax exemption if the payment is instead made to the trustee of a trust.

54-20 Lump sum compensation etc. would not have been assessable

If the compensation or damages that were used to purchase the *annuity had instead been paid to the *injured person in a single lump sum on the *date of the settlement or order, the compensation or damages would not have been assessable income.

Note: Paragraph 118-37(1)(b) disregards a capital gain or capital loss that arises from compensation or damages the injured person receives for any wrong he or she suffers personally.

54-25 Requirements of the annuity instrument

The *annuity instrument must:

- (a) identify the *structured settlement or *structured order under which the *annuity is provided; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) only allow for payments of the annuity to be made to:
  - (i) the injured person; or
  - (ii) a trustee of a trust of which the injured person is the beneficiary; or
  - (iii) a reversionary beneficiary, or the injured person's estate, in accordance with section 54-35; and
- (c) contain a statement to the effect that the annuity cannot be assigned, and cannot be commuted except as mentioned in section 54-35.

Note: Division 2A of Part 10 of the Life Insurance Act 1995 makes a purported assignment or commutation that is contrary to paragraph (c) ineffective.

54-30 Requirements for payments of the annuity

- (1) The *annuity instrument must provide that payments of the *annuity are to be made at least annually:
  - (a) over a period of at least 10 years during the life of the *injured person; or
  - (b) for the life of the injured person.
- (2) The *annuity instrument must specify:
  - (a) the date of the first payment of the *annuity; and
  - (b) if the annuity instrument specifies a period of years—the date of the last payment in that period; and
  - (c) the amount of each periodic payment of the annuity.
- (3) The *annuity instrument may only allow the amount of a payment to be varied by increasing the amount:
  - (a) in order to maintain its real value:
    - (i) by indexation by reference to increases in the *All Groups Consumer Price Index number; or
    - (ii) by indexation by reference to increases in the full-time adult average weekly ordinary time earnings, published by the Australian Statistician; or
  - (b) by a percentage specified in the annuity instrument.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 54-35

---

- (4) The *annuity instrument may only allow the amount of a particular payment to be varied:
- (a) by only one of the methods referred to in subsection (3); or
  - (b) by whichever of 2 or more of those methods would result in the biggest or smallest increase.
- (5) A reference in this section to specifying a date or percentage requires an actual date or figure to be specified, not merely a method of determining a date or figure.

Example: Under subsection (2), “13 September 2002” would be allowed, but “The date on which the annuitant finishes university” would not be allowed.

54-35 Payments during the guarantee period on the death of the injured person

- (1) This section applies if the *annuity instrument provides for payments to be made to the *injured person during any part of the period ending 10 years after the *date of the settlement or order (whether the *annuity is expressed to be for the life of the person or for a period of years).
- (2) The *annuity instrument may specify a period (the guarantee period) of up to 10 years after the *date of the settlement or order, during which, if the *injured person dies, the payments (the remaining payments) for the remainder of the guarantee period that would have been paid to the injured person are to be paid instead to:

- (a) the injured person’s estate; or
- (b) a reversionary beneficiary.

Note: For tax exemptions in this situation, see sections 54-65 and 54-70.

- (3) If the *annuity instrument provides for the remaining payments to be made to a reversionary beneficiary, the instrument must:
- (a) name the beneficiary; and
  - (b) allow the beneficiary to choose either:
    - (i) to be paid the amounts of the remaining payments when the injured person would have received them; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (ii) to commute those payments into a lump sum worked out under subsection (5).
- (4) The *injured person's estate may only be paid the lump sum worked out under subsection (5) (and not the periodic payments).
- (5) The amount of the lump sum under subparagraph (3)(b)(ii) or subsection (4) is the *policy termination value of the *life insurance policy that is the *annuity instrument, as calculated by an *actuary as at the date of the injured person's death. In making this calculation, the following are to be disregarded:
  - (a) any payments of the annuity due to be made after the end of the guarantee period;
  - (b) any *structured settlement lump sums that are also provided for by that policy.
- (6) In this section:

pay to a person includes pay to the trustee of a trust of which the person is the beneficiary.

pay to the injured person's estate includes pay to the trustee of a trust established by the *injured person's will.

54-40 Requirement for minimum monthly level of support

- (1) Either:
  - (a) the *annuity instrument must provide; or
  - (b) if there is more than one *annuity provided under the *structured settlement or *structured order—the annuity instruments for all of those annuities that satisfy the other conditions in this Subdivision, taken as a whole, must provide;that at least once a month for the life of the *injured person, he or she is to be paid an amount that equals or exceeds the minimum monthly level of support.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 54-40

---

(2) The minimum monthly level of support means:

- (a) for the year starting on the *date of the settlement or order—one twelfth of the amount that is, on that date, the sum of:
  - (i) the maximum basic rate of age pension payable to a person in accordance with item 1 of Table B in point 1064-B1 of Pension Rate Calculator A in section 1064 of the Social Security Act 1991; and
  - (ii) the amount of a person's pension supplement, worked out (using that maximum basic rate) in accordance with Module BA of that Pension Rate Calculator; and
- (b) for any subsequent year starting on an anniversary of the date of the settlement or order:
  - (i) if the indexation factor for the year (see subsection (3)) is greater than 1—the amount worked out under subsection (4); or
  - (ii) otherwise—the minimum monthly level of support for the previous year.

Note: In working out the rate and amount that count for the purposes of paragraph (a), the effect of the indexation provisions in sections 1191 to 1195 of the Social Security Act 1991 must be taken into account. The indexed figures are available from Centrelink.

(3) The indexation factor for a year is to be worked out on the anniversary of the *date of the settlement or order in accordance with the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Most recently published *All Groups Consumer Price Index number for a *quarter}}{\text{*All Groups Consumer Price Index number for the same *quarter in the base year}}$$

where:

base year means:

- (a) if there have been one or more previous years for which the indexation factor was greater than 1—the year ending immediately before the most recent year for which the indexation factor was greater than 1; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(b) otherwise—the year ending immediately before the *date of the settlement or order.

Note: This has effect subject to subsection (6).

(4) If the indexation factor for a year is greater than 1, then the minimum monthly level of support for the year is the amount worked out in accordance with the following formula:

$$\begin{array}{r} \text{Indexation factor} \\ \text{for the year} \end{array} \times \begin{array}{r} \text{Minimum monthly level of support} \\ \text{for the previous year} \end{array}$$

(5) The results under subsections (3) and (4) must be rounded to 3 decimal places (rounding up if the fourth decimal place is 5 or more).

(6) The indexation factor for a year must be worked out by reference to figures for the same *quarter (for example, the March quarter) as has been used in previous years, even if, on the anniversary of the *date of the settlement or order, the *All Groups Consumer Price Index number for that quarter has not yet been published. If this happens, the calculation must be made as soon as practicable after the number for that quarter is published.

(7) In this section:

pay to a person includes pay to the trustee of a trust of which the person is the beneficiary.

Subdivision 54-C—Tax exemption for personal injury lump sums

Table of sections

Operative provisions

54-45	Personal injury lump sum exemption for injured person
54-50	Lump sum compensation would not have been assessable
54-55	Requirements of the instrument under which the lump sum is paid
54-60	Requirements for payments of the lump sum

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 54-45

---

Operative provisions

54-45 Personal injury lump sum exemption for injured person

A payment of a *personal injury lump sum that is made to the *injured person is exempt from income tax if:

- (a) there is at least one *personal injury annuity (provided under the same *structured settlement or *structured order) that satisfies the conditions in Subdivision 54-B; and
- (b) the other conditions in this Subdivision are satisfied.

Note: Section 54-70 provides a tax exemption if the payment is instead made to the trustee of a trust.

54-50 Lump sum compensation would not have been assessable

If the compensation or damages that were used to purchase the *personal injury lump sum had instead been paid to the *injured person on the *date of the settlement or order, the compensation or damages would not have been assessable income.

Note: Paragraph 118-37(1)(b) disregards a capital gain or capital loss that arises from compensation or damages the injured person receives for any wrong he or she suffers personally.

54-55 Requirements of the instrument under which the lump sum is paid

The instrument under which the *personal injury lump sum is paid must:

- (a) identify the *structured settlement or *structured order under which the lump sum is provided; and
- (b) only allow for the payment of the lump sum to be made to:
  - (i) the *injured person; or
  - (ii) a trustee of a trust of which the injured person is the beneficiary; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (c) contain a statement to the effect that the right to receive the lump sum cannot be assigned, and cannot be commuted or otherwise cashed-out early.

Note: Division 2A of Part 10 of the Life Insurance Act 1995 makes a purported assignment or commutation (or cashing-out) that is contrary to paragraph (c) ineffective.

54-60 Requirements for payments of the lump sum

- (1) The instrument under which the *personal injury lump sum is paid must specify the date and amount of the payment of the lump sum.
- (2) The instrument may only allow the amount of the payment to be varied by increasing the amount:
  - (a) in order to maintain its real value:
    - (i) by indexation by reference to increases in the *All Groups Consumer Price Index number; or
    - (ii) by indexation by reference to increases in the full-time adult average weekly ordinary time earnings, published by the Australian Statistician; or
  - (b) by a percentage specified in the instrument.
- (3) The instrument may only allow the amount of the payment to be varied:
  - (a) by only one of the methods referred to in subsection (2); or
  - (b) by whichever of 2 or more of those methods would result in the biggest or smallest increase.
- (4) A reference in this section to specifying a date or percentage requires an actual date or figure to be specified, not merely a method of determining a date or figure.

Example: Under subsection (1), “13 September 2002” would be allowed, but “The date on which the annuitant finishes university” would not be allowed.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 54-65

---

Subdivision 54-D—Miscellaneous

Table of sections

Operative provisions

54-65	Exemption for certain payments to reversionary beneficiaries
54-70	Special provisions about trusts
54-75	Minister to arrange for review and report

Operative provisions

54-65 Exemption for certain payments to reversionary beneficiaries

A payment that is made to the reversionary beneficiary of a *personal injury annuity for which there is a *guarantee period is exempt from income tax if:

- (a) the payment is a periodic or lump sum payment made in accordance with subsection 54-35(3); and
- (b) either:
  - (i) if subparagraph 54-35(3)(b)(i) applies—the payment; or
  - (ii) if subparagraph 54-35(3)(b)(ii) applies—each of the payments taken into account in working out the amount of the lump sum under subsection 54-35(5);would be exempt from income tax under this Division if the *injured person were still alive and the payment, or each of the payments, were instead made to the injured person.

54-70 Special provisions about trusts

- (1) A payment of a *personal injury annuity or a *personal injury lump sum to the trustee of a trust is exempt from income tax for the trustee if:
  - (a) the beneficiary of the trust is the *injured person; and
  - (b) because of Subdivision 54-B or 54-C, the payment would have been exempt from income tax if it had been made directly to the beneficiary.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (2) A payment made in accordance with paragraph 54-35(3)(b) to the trustee of a trust is exempt from income tax for the trustee if:
  - (a) the beneficiary of the trust is the reversionary beneficiary;
and
  - (b) because of section 54-65, the payment would have been exempt from income tax if it had been made directly to the beneficiary.
- (3) A payment of a lump sum in accordance with subsection 54-35(4) to the trustee of a trust is exempt from income tax for the trustee.
- (4) If a payment is exempt from income tax for a trustee because of this section, the payment is also exempt from income tax for a beneficiary, or the beneficiary, of the trust, even if the trustee:
  - (a) pays all or part of the payment to the beneficiary; or
  - (b) applies all or part of the payment for the benefit of the beneficiary.

54-75 Minister to arrange for review and report

- (1) The Minister must cause a person to review, and to report to the Minister in writing about, the operation of the following provisions (the structured settlements and orders provisions):
  - (a) the other provisions of this Division;
  - (b) Division 2A of Part 10 of the Life Insurance Act 1995.
- (2) The person must be someone who, in the Minister's opinion, is suitably qualified and appropriate to conduct the review.
- (3) The review and report must relate to the period beginning when this Division commences and ending after 4 years and 6 months.
- (4) The person must give the report to the Minister as soon as practicable, and in any event within 6 months, after the end of that period.
- (5) The report may include suggestions for changes to the structured settlements and orders provisions that, in the person's opinion, are needed to overcome, or would help overcome, problems identified during the review and set out in the report.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 54 Exemption for certain payments made under structured settlements and structured orders

Section 54-75

---

- (6) The person must provide a reasonable opportunity for members of the public to make submissions to him or her about matters to which the review relates.
- (7) The Minister must cause a copy of the report to be laid before each House of the Parliament within 15 sitting days of that House after the Minister receives the report.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 55—Payments that are not exempt from income tax

Guide to Division 55

55-1 What this Division is about

A variety of payments are not exempt from income tax even though they are similar in nature to payments that are wholly or partly exempt under this Part.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

55-5	Occupational superannuation payments
55-10	Education entry payments

Operative provisions

55-5 Occupational superannuation payments

- (1) This Part does not exempt from income tax any amount or pension paid under the following provisions or Acts, or under schemes established under any of them:
  - (a) Defence Force Retirement and Death Benefits Act 1973;
  - (b) Defence Forces Retirement Benefits Act 1948;
  - (c) Military Superannuation and Benefits Act 1991;
  - (d) Papua New Guinea (Staffing Assistance) Act 1973;
  - (e) Parliamentary Contributory Superannuation Act 1948;
  - (f) section 10 of the Superannuation (Pension Increases) Act 1971;
  - (g) section 9 or 14 of the Superannuation Act (No. 2) 1956;
  - (h) subsection 8(1) of the Superannuation Act 1948;
  - (i) Superannuation Act 1922;
  - (j) Superannuation Act 1976;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 55 Payments that are not exempt from income tax

Section 55-10

---

(k) Superannuation Act 1990;

(l) Superannuation Act 2005.

- (2) This section operates despite anything contained in any other provision of this Part.

55-10 Education entry payments

This Part does not exempt from income tax an education entry payment under Part 2.13A of the Social Security Act 1991.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Income Tax Assessment Act 1997

Act No. 38 of 1997 as amended

This compilation was prepared on 2 July 2009
taking into account amendments up to Act No. 62 of 2009

Volume 3 includes: Table of Contents
Sections 58-1 to 122-205

The text of any of those amendments not in force
on that date is appended in the Notes section

The operation of amendments that have been incorporated may be affected by application provisions that are set out in the Notes section

Chapter 2—Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15—Non-assessable income

---

Contents

Chapter 2—Liability rules of general application	i
Part 2-15—Non-assessable income	i
Division 58—Capital allowances for depreciating assets     previously owned by an exempt entity	1
Guide to Division 58	1
58-1 What this Division is about .....	1
Subdivision 58-A—Application	1
58-5 Application of Division .....	2
58-10 When an asset is acquired in connection with the acquisition of a business .....	3
Subdivision 58-B—Calculating decline in value of privatised         assets under Division 40	4
58-60 Purpose of rules in this Subdivision .....	5
58-65 Choice of method to work out cost of privatised asset .....	5
58-70 Application of Division 40 .....	5
58-75 Meaning of notional written down value .....	6
58-80 Meaning of undeducted pre-existing audited book value .....	8
58-85 Pre-existing audited book value of depreciating asset .....	9
58-90 Method and effective life for transition entity .....	10
Division 59—Particular amounts of non-assessable non-exempt     income	11
Guide to Division 59	11
59-1 What this Division is about .....	11
Operative provisions	11
59-5 Bonus payments made to certain older Australians .....	11
59-10 Compensation under firearms surrender arrangements.....	12
59-15 Mining payments.....	12
59-20 Taxable amounts relating to franchise fees windfall tax.....	12
59-25 Taxable amounts relating to Commonwealth places windfall tax.....	13
59-30 Amounts you must repay.....	13
59-35 Amounts that would be mutual receipts but for prohibition on distributions to members .....	13
59-40 Issue of rights .....	13
59-45 Tax bonus for the 2007-08 income year .....	14
59-50 Clean-up and Restoration Grants for 2009 Victorian bushfires .....	14

---

Part 2-20—Tax offsets	15
Division 61—Generally applicable tax offsets	15
Subdivision 61-G—Private health insurance offset complementary to Part 2-2 of the Private Health Insurance Act 2007	15
Guide to Subdivision 61-G	15
61-200 What this Subdivision is about .....	15
Operative provisions	16
61-205 Entitlement to the private health insurance tax offset.....	16
61-210 Amount of the private health insurance tax offset .....	17
61-215 Tax offset after a person 65 years or over ceases to be covered by policy .....	18
61-220 How to work out the incentive amount.....	19
Subdivision 61-I—First child tax offset (baby bonus)	20
Guide to Subdivision 61-I	20
61-350 What this Subdivision is about .....	20
Entitlement to a first child tax offset	21
61-355 Who is entitled to a tax offset under this section .....	21
61-360 What is a child event?.....	22
61-365 First child only.....	22
61-370 Another carer with entitlement for another child.....	23
61-375 Selection rules .....	23
61-380 Special rules for death of first child.....	24
Transferring an entitlement	24
61-385 You may transfer your entitlement to a tax offset .....	24
61-390 Transfer is irrevocable.....	25
61-395 Transferor is not entitled to tax offset.....	25
61-400 Transferee is entitled to tax offset.....	25
Claiming a first child tax offset	25
61-405 How to claim a tax offset for a child .....	25
61-410 Claim is irrevocable.....	25
Amount of a first child tax offset	26
61-415 Formula for working out amount of tax offset.....	26
61-420 Component of formula—entitlement amount .....	26
61-425 Component of formula—total of the entitlement days .....	27
61-430 What is your base year?.....	27
Additional tax offset if a child is in your care before you legally adopt the child	28
61-440 Additional tax offset if a child is in your care before you legally adopt the child .....	28
61-445 When a child is first in your care.....	29

---

---

61-450	What is your base year if a child is in your care before you legally adopt the child?.....	29
61-455	Old Subdivision applies if you would be worse off.....	30
Subdivision 61-IA—Child care tax offset		31
Guide to Subdivision 61-IA		31
61-460	What this Subdivision is about .....	31
Operative provisions		32
61-465	Object of this Subdivision .....	32
Entitlement to the child care tax offset		32
61-470	Who is entitled to the tax offset.....	32
61-475	Meaning of approved child care .....	33
61-480	Meaning of entitled to child care benefit and entitlement to child care benefit .....	33
Amount of the child care tax offset		35
61-485	Amount of the child care tax offset .....	35
61-490	Component of formula— approved child care fees .....	36
61-495	Component of formula— child care offset limit .....	37
Transfer of entitlement to unused balance of child care tax offset		37
61-496	Entitlement to transfer .....	37
61-497	Form of transfer.....	38
Subdivision 61-J—25% entrepreneurs’ tax offset		38
Guide to Subdivision 61-J		38
61-500	What this Subdivision is about .....	38
Operative provisions		39
61-505	25% entrepreneurs’ tax offset: individual or company .....	39
61-510	25% entrepreneurs’ tax offset: partner in a partnership .....	41
61-515	25% entrepreneurs’ tax offset: trustee of a trust .....	42
61-520	25% entrepreneurs’ tax offset: beneficiary of a trust .....	44
61-525	Meaning of net small business income and small business entity turnover .....	45
Subdivision 61-K—Mature age worker tax offset		46
Guide to Subdivision 61-K		46
61-550	What this Subdivision is about .....	46
Operative provisions		46
61-555	Object of this Subdivision .....	46
61-560	Entitlement to the mature age worker tax offset .....	47
61-565	The amount of the tax offset.....	47
61-570	Definition of net income from working .....	47

---

---

Subdivision 61-L—Tax offset for Medicare levy surcharge (lump sum payments in arrears)	48
Guide to Subdivision 61-L	48
61-575 What this Subdivision is about .....	48
Operative provisions	49
61-580 Entitlement to a tax offset.....	49
61-585 The amount of a tax offset.....	51
61-590 Definition of MLS lump sums .....	51
Subdivision 61-M—Education expenses tax offset	53
Guide to Subdivision 61-M	53
61-600 What this Subdivision is about .....	53
Entitlement to education expenses tax offset	53
61-610 Entitlement to education expenses tax offset.....	53
61-620 Eligibility in respect of another individual .....	55
61-630 Schooling requirement.....	56
61-640 Education expenses .....	57
Amount of education expenses tax offset	59
61-650 Amount of education expenses tax offset .....	59
61-660 Education expenses tax offset limit .....	61
61-670 Shared care .....	62
61-680 Excess education expenses .....	64
Division 63—Common rules for tax offsets	65
Guide to Division 63	65
63-1 What this Division is about .....	65
63-10 Priority rules.....	65
Division 65—Tax offset carry forward rules	67
Guide to Division 65	67
65-10 What this Division is about .....	67
Operative provisions	67
65-30 Amount carried forward .....	67
65-35 How to apply carried forward tax offsets .....	68
65-40 When a company cannot apply a tax offset .....	68
65-50 Effect of bankruptcy .....	69
65-55 Deduction for amounts paid for debts incurred before bankruptcy .....	69
Division 67—Refundable tax offset rules	71
Guide to Division 67	71
67-10 What this Division is about .....	71

---

---

Operative provisions	71
67-20 Which tax offsets this Division applies to .....	71
67-23 Refundable tax offsets .....	71
67-25 Refundable tax offsets—franked distributions .....	72
Part 2-25—Trading stock	75
Division 70—Trading stock	75
Guide to Division 70	75
70-1 What this Division is about .....	75
70-5 The 3 key features of tax accounting for trading stock .....	76
Subdivision 70-A—What is trading stock	76
70-10 Meaning of trading stock .....	76
Subdivision 70-B—Acquiring trading stock	77
70-15 In which income year do you deduct an outgoing for trading stock?.....	77
70-20 Non-arm’s length transactions .....	78
70-25 Cost of trading stock is not a capital outgoing.....	78
70-30 Starting to hold as trading stock an item you already own .....	78
Subdivision 70-C—Accounting for trading stock you hold at the start or end of the income year	81
General rules	82
70-35 You include the value of your trading stock in working out your assessable income and deductions.....	82
70-40 Value of trading stock at start of income year .....	82
70-45 Value of trading stock at end of income year .....	82
Special valuation rules	84
70-50 Valuation if trading stock obsolete etc.....	84
70-55 Working out the cost of natural increase of live stock.....	84
70-60 Valuation of horse breeding stock .....	84
70-65 Working out the horse opening value and the horse reduction amount.....	85
70-70 Valuing interests in FIFs.....	86
Subdivision 70-D—Assessable income arising from disposals of trading stock and certain other assets	87
Guide to Subdivision 70-D	87
70-75 What this Subdivision is about .....	87
70-80 Why the rules in this Subdivision are necessary.....	87
Operative provisions	88
70-85 Application of this Subdivision to certain other assets .....	88
70-90 Assessable income on disposal of trading stock outside the ordinary course of business .....	88

---

---

70-95	Purchase price is taken to be market value .....	89
70-100	Notional disposal when you stop holding an item as trading stock .....	89
70-105	Death of owner .....	91
70-110	You stop holding an item as trading stock but still own it.....	92
70-115	Compensation for lost trading stock .....	93
Subdivision 70-E—Miscellaneous		93
70-120	Deducting capital costs of acquiring trees .....	93
Part 2-40—Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments		96
Division 80—General rules		96
Guide to Division 80		96
80-1	What this Division is about .....	96
Operative provisions		96
80-5	Holding of an office.....	96
80-10	Application to the termination of employment .....	97
80-15	Transfer of property.....	97
80-20	Payments for your benefit or at your direction or request.....	97
Division 82—Employment termination payments		99
Guide to Division 82		99
82-1	What this Division is about .....	99
Subdivision 82-A—Employment termination payments: life benefits		99
Guide to Subdivision 82-A		99
82-5	What this Subdivision is about .....	99
Operative provisions		100
82-10	Taxation of life benefit termination payments .....	100
Subdivision 82-B—Employment termination payments: death benefits		101
Guide to Subdivision 82-B		101
82-60	What this Subdivision is about .....	101
Operative provisions		102
82-65	Death benefits for dependants .....	102
82-70	Death benefits for non-dependants .....	103
82-75	Death benefits paid to trustee of deceased estate .....	104
Subdivision 82-C—Key concepts		105
Guide to Subdivision 82-C		105
82-125	What this Subdivision is about .....	105

---

---

Operative provisions	106
82-130 What is an employment termination payment ?	106
82-135 Payments that are not employment termination payments	107
82-140 Tax free component of an employment termination payment	109
82-145 Taxable component of an employment termination payment	109
82-150 What is an invalidity segment of an employment termination payment?	109
82-155 What is a pre-July 83 segment of an employment termination payment?	110
82-160 What is the ETP cap amount ?	111
Division 83—Other payments on termination of employment	112
Guide to Division 83	112
83-1 What this Division is about	112
Subdivision 83-A—Unused annual leave payments	112
Guide to Subdivision 83-A	112
83-5 What this Subdivision is about	112
Operative provisions	113
83-10 Unused annual leave payment is assessable	113
83-15 Entitlement to tax offset	114
Subdivision 83-B—Unused long service leave payments	114
Guide to Subdivision 83-B	114
83-65 What this Subdivision is about	114
General	115
83-70 Application—long service leave	115
83-75 Meaning of unused long service leave payment	115
83-80 Taxation of unused long service leave payments	116
83-85 Entitlement to tax offset	116
83-90 Meaning of pre-16/8/78 period, pre-18/8/93 period, post-17/8/93 period and long service leave employment period	117
Employment wholly full-time or wholly part-time	118
83-95 How to work out amount of payment attributable to each period	118
83-100 How to work out unused days of long service leave for each period	118
83-105 How to work out long service leave accrued in each period	119
Employment partly full-time and partly part-time	120
83-110 Leave accrued in pre-16/8/78, pre-18/8/93 and post-17/8/93 periods—employment full-time and part-time	120

---

---

Long service leave taken at less than full pay	121
83-115 Working out used days of long service leave if leave taken at less than full pay .....	121
Subdivision 83-C—Genuine redundancy payments and early retirement scheme payments	122
Guide to Subdivision 83-C	122
83-165 What this Subdivision is about .....	122
Operative provisions	122
83-170 Tax-free treatment of genuine redundancy payments and early retirement scheme payments.....	122
83-175 What is a genuine redundancy payment ?.....	123
83-180 What is an early retirement scheme payment ?.....	124
Subdivision 83-D—Foreign termination payments	126
Guide to Subdivision 83-D	126
83-230 What this Subdivision is about .....	126
Operative provisions	126
83-235 Termination payments tax free—foreign resident period .....	126
83-240 Termination payments tax free—Australian resident period .....	127
Subdivision 83-E—Other payments	128
Guide to Subdivision 83-E	128
83-290 What this Subdivision is about .....	128
Operative provisions	128
83-295 Termination payments made more than 12 months after termination etc. ....	128
Part 2-42—Personal services income	129
Division 84—Introduction	129
Guide to Part 2-42	129
84-1 What this Part is about.....	129
Operative provisions	129
84-5 Meaning of personal services income .....	129
84-10 This Part does not imply that individuals are employees.....	130
Division 85—Deductions relating to personal services income	131
Guide to Division 85	131
85-1 What this Division is about .....	131
Operative provisions	131
85-5 Object of this Division.....	131
85-10 Deductions for non-employees relating to personal services income .....	132
85-15 Deductions for rent, mortgage interest, rates and land tax .....	133

---

---

85-20	Deductions for payments to associates etc.....	133
85-25	Deductions for superannuation for associates.....	133
85-30	Exception: personal services businesses.....	134
85-35	Exception: employees, office holders and religious practitioners.....	134
85-40	Application of Subdivision 900-B to individuals who are not employees.....	135
Division 86—Alienation of personal services income		136
Guide to Division 86		136
86-1	What this Division is about .....	136
86-5	A simple description of what this Division does .....	136
Subdivision 86-A—General		138
86-10	Object of this Division.....	138
86-15	Effect of obtaining personal services income through a personal services entity.....	138
86-20	Offsetting the personal services entity’s deductions against personal services income .....	139
86-25	Apportionment of entity maintenance deductions among several individuals .....	141
86-27	Deduction for net personal services income loss .....	143
86-30	Assessable income etc. of the personal services entity .....	143
86-35	Later payments of, or entitlements to, personal services income to be disregarded for income tax purposes.....	143
86-40	Salary payments shortly after an income year .....	144
Subdivision 86-B—Entitlement to deductions		145
86-60	General rule for deduction entitlements of personal services entities .....	145
86-65	Entity maintenance deductions .....	146
86-70	Car expenses.....	146
86-75	Superannuation.....	147
86-80	Salary or wages promptly paid .....	148
86-85	Deduction entitlements of personal services entities for amounts included in an individual’s assessable income .....	148
86-87	Personal services entity cannot deduct net personal services income loss.....	148
86-90	Application of Divisions 28 and 900 to personal services entities .....	149
Division 87—Personal services businesses		150
Guide to Division 87		150
87-1	What this Division is about .....	150
87-5	Diagram showing the operation of this Division .....	151
Subdivision 87-A—General		153
87-10	Object of this Division.....	153

---

---

87-15	What is a personal services business?.....	153
87-18	The results test for a personal services business .....	155
87-20	The unrelated clients test for a personal services business .....	156
87-25	The employment test for a personal services business.....	157
87-30	The business premises test for a personal services business .....	157
87-35	Personal services income from Australian government agencies .....	158
87-40	Application of this Division to certain agents.....	159
Subdivision 87-B—Personal services business determinations		161
87-60	Personal services business determinations for individuals .....	161
87-65	Personal services business determinations for personal services entities.....	164
87-70	Applying etc. for personal services business determinations.....	166
87-75	When personal services business determinations have effect.....	167
87-80	Revoking personal services business determinations .....	167
87-85	Review of decisions.....	168
Chapter 3—Specialist liability rules		169
Part 3-1—Capital gains and losses: general topics		169
Division 100—A Guide to capital gains and losses		169
General overview		169
100-1	What this Division is about .....	169
100-5	Effect of this Division .....	170
100-10	Fundamentals of CGT .....	170
100-15	Overview of Steps 1 and 2.....	171
Step 1—Have you made a capital gain or a capital loss?		172
100-20	What events attract CGT?.....	172
100-25	What are CGT assets? .....	173
100-30	Does an exception or exemption apply?.....	173
100-33	Can there be a roll-over? .....	174
Step 2—Work out the amount of the capital gain or loss		175
100-35	What is a capital gain or loss? .....	175
100-40	What factors come into calculating a capital gain or loss? .....	175
100-45	How to calculate the capital gain or loss for most CGT events.....	176
Step 3—Work out your net capital gain or loss for the income year		176
100-50	How to work out your net capital gain or loss .....	176
100-55	How do you comply with CGT?.....	177
Keeping records for CGT purposes		177
100-60	Why keep records? .....	177
100-65	What records?.....	177

---

---

100-70	How long you need to keep records.....	178
Division 102—Assessable income includes net capital gain		179
Guide to Division 102		179
102-1	What this Division is about .....	179
102-3	Concessions in working out your net capital gain .....	179
Operative provisions		180
102-5	Assessable income includes net capital gain.....	180
102-10	How to work out your net capital loss .....	182
102-15	How to apply net capital losses .....	183
102-20	Ways you can make a capital gain or a capital loss .....	183
102-22	Amounts of capital gains and losses .....	184
102-23	CGT event still happens even if gain or loss disregarded .....	184
102-25	Order of application of CGT events .....	184
102-30	Exceptions and modifications.....	185
Division 103—General rules		189
Guide to Division 103		189
103-1	What this Division is about .....	189
Operative provisions		189
103-5	Giving property as part of a transaction.....	189
103-10	Entitlement to receive money or property .....	189
103-15	Requirement to pay money or give property .....	190
103-25	Choices.....	190
103-30	Reduction of cost base etc. by net input tax credits .....	191
Division 104—CGT events		192
Guide to Division 104		192
104-1	What this Division is about .....	192
104-5	Summary of the CGT events .....	193
Subdivision 104-A—Disposals		203
104-10	Disposal of a CGT asset: CGT event A1 .....	203
Subdivision 104-B—Use and enjoyment before title passes		205
104-15	Use and enjoyment before title passes: CGT event B1 .....	205
Subdivision 104-C—End of a CGT asset		206
104-20	Loss or destruction of a CGT asset: CGT event C1 .....	206
104-25	Cancellation, surrender and similar endings: CGT event C2.....	207
104-30	End of option to acquire shares etc.: CGT event C3.....	208
Subdivision 104-D—Bringing into existence a CGT asset		209
104-35	Creating contractual or other rights: CGT event D1 .....	209
104-40	Granting an option: CGT event D2.....	211
104-45	Granting a right to income from mining: CGT event D3.....	212
104-47	Conservation covenants: CGT event D4.....	212

---

---

Subdivision 104-E—Trusts	214
104-55 Creating a trust over a CGT asset: CGT event E1 .....	214
104-60 Transferring a CGT asset to a trust: CGT event E2 .....	215
104-65 Converting a trust to a unit trust: CGT event E3 .....	216
104-70 Capital payment for trust interest: CGT event E4.....	216
104-71 Adjustment of non-assessable part .....	218
104-72 Reducing your capital gain under CGT event E4 if you are a trustee .....	221
104-75 Beneficiary becoming entitled to a trust asset: CGT event E5.....	222
104-80 Disposal to beneficiary to end income right: CGT event E6 .....	223
104-85 Disposal to beneficiary to end capital interest: CGT event E7 .....	224
104-90 Disposal by beneficiary of capital interest: CGT event E8.....	225
104-95 Making a capital gain .....	226
104-100 Making a capital loss .....	228
104-105 Creating a trust over future property: CGT event E9.....	230
Subdivision 104-F—Leases	231
104-110 Granting a lease: CGT event F1 .....	231
104-115 Granting a long-term lease: CGT event F2.....	232
104-120 Lessor pays lessee to get lease changed: CGT event F3 .....	233
104-125 Lessee receives payment for changing lease: CGT event F4.....	233
104-130 Lessor receives payment for changing lease: CGT event F5 .....	234
Subdivision 104-G—Shares	234
104-135 Capital payment for shares: CGT event G1 .....	235
104-145 Liquidator or administrator declares shares or financial instruments worthless: CGT event G3.....	236
Subdivision 104-H—Special capital receipts	238
104-150 Forfeiture of deposit: CGT event H1 .....	238
104-155 Receipt for event relating to a CGT asset: CGT event H2.....	239
Subdivision 104-I—Australian residency ends	240
104-160 Individual or company stops being an Australian resident: CGT event I1 .....	240
104-165 Exception for individuals.....	241
104-170 Trust stops being a resident trust: CGT event I2 .....	242
Subdivision 104-J—CGT events relating to roll-overs	243
104-175 Company ceasing to be member of wholly-owned group after roll-over: CGT event J1.....	243
104-180 Sub-group break-up .....	245
104-182 Consolidated group break-up.....	246
104-185 Change in relation to replacement asset or improved asset after a roll-over under Subdivision 152-E: CGT event J2 .....	246
104-190 Modifying or extending the replacement asset period .....	249
104-195 Trust failing to cease to exist after roll-over under Subdivision 124-N: CGT event J4.....	249

---

---

104-197	Failure to acquire replacement asset and to incur fourth element expenditure after a roll-over under Subdivision 152-E: CGT event J5 .....	251
104-198	Cost of acquisition of replacement asset or amount of fourth element expenditure, or both, not sufficient to cover disregarded capital gain: CGT event J6 .....	252
Subdivision 104-K—Other CGT events		253
104-210	Bankrupt pays amount in relation to debt: CGT event K2 .....	253
104-215	Asset passing to tax-advantaged entity: CGT event K3 .....	254
104-220	CGT asset starts being trading stock: CGT event K4 .....	255
104-225	Special collectable losses: CGT event K5 .....	255
104-230	Pre-CGT shares or trust interest: CGT event K6 .....	257
104-235	Balancing adjustment events for depreciating assets and section 73BA depreciating assets: CGT event K7 .....	260
104-240	Working out capital gain or loss for CGT event K7: general case .....	261
104-245	Working out capital gain or loss for CGT event K7: pooled assets .....	262
104-250	Direct value shifts: CGT event K8 .....	264
104-255	Carried interests: CGT event K9 .....	264
104-260	Certain short-term forex realisation gains: CGT event K10 .....	265
104-265	Certain short-term forex realisation losses: CGT event K11 .....	266
104-270	Foreign hybrids: CGT event K12 .....	266
Subdivision 104-L—Consolidated groups and MEC groups		266
104-500	Loss of pre-CGT status of membership interests in entity becoming subsidiary member: CGT event L1 .....	267
104-505	Where pre-formation intra-group roll-over reduction results in negative allocable cost amount: CGT event L2 .....	268
104-510	Where tax cost setting amounts for retained cost base assets exceeds joining allocable cost amount: CGT event L3 .....	269
104-515	Where no reset cost base assets and excess of net allocable cost amount on joining: CGT event L4 .....	269
104-520	Where amount remaining after step 4 of leaving allocable cost amount is negative: CGT event L5 .....	270
104-525	Error in calculation of tax cost setting amount for joining entity's assets: CGT event L6 .....	270
104-530	Discharged amount of liability differs from amount for allocable cost amount purposes: CGT event L7 .....	273
104-535	Where reduction in tax cost setting amounts for reset cost base assets cannot be allocated: CGT event L8 .....	274
Division 106—Entity making the gain or loss		275
Guide to Division 106		275
106-1	What this Division is about .....	275

---

---

Subdivision 106-A—Partnerships	275
106-5 Partnerships .....	275
Subdivision 106-B—Bankruptcy and liquidation	277
106-30 Effect of bankruptcy .....	278
106-35 Effect of liquidation.....	278
Subdivision 106-C—Absolutely entitled beneficiaries	278
106-50 Absolutely entitled beneficiaries .....	278
Subdivision 106-D—Security holders	279
106-60 Acts by security holders .....	279
Division 108—CGT assets	280
Guide to Division 108	280
108-1 What this Division is about .....	280
Subdivision 108-A—What a CGT asset is	280
108-5 CGT assets.....	280
108-7 Interest in CGT assets as joint tenants .....	281
Subdivision 108-B—Collectables	281
108-10 Losses from collectables to be offset only against gains from collectables .....	281
108-15 Sets of collectables .....	282
108-17 Cost base of a collectable .....	283
Subdivision 108-C—Personal use assets	283
108-20 Losses from personal use assets must be disregarded.....	284
108-25 Sets of personal use assets .....	284
108-30 Cost base of a personal use asset .....	285
Subdivision 108-D—Separate CGT assets	285
Guide to Subdivision 108-D	285
108-50 What this Subdivision is about .....	285
Operative provisions	286
108-55 When is a building a separate asset from land? .....	286
108-60 Depreciating asset that is part of a building is a separate asset.....	286
108-65 Land adjacent to land acquired before 20 September 1985 .....	287
108-70 When is a capital improvement a separate asset? .....	287
108-75 Capital improvements to CGT assets for which a roll-over may be available .....	289
108-80 Deciding if capital improvements are related to each other.....	291
108-85 Meaning of improvement threshold.....	291
Division 109—Acquisition of CGT assets	292
Guide to Division 109	292
109-1 What this Division is about .....	292

---

---

Subdivision 109-A—Operative rules	292
109-5 General acquisition rules .....	293
109-10 When you acquire a CGT asset without a CGT event.....	295
109-15 Exceptions .....	296
Subdivision 109-B—Signposts to other acquisition rules	296
109-50 Effect of this Subdivision .....	296
109-55 Other acquisition rules.....	296
109-60 Acquisition rules outside this Part and Part 3-3.....	302
Division 110—Cost base and reduced cost base	305
Guide to Division 110	305
110-1 What this Division is about .....	305
110-5 Modifications to general rules .....	305
110-10 Rules about cost base not relevant for some CGT events .....	305
Subdivision 110-A—Cost base	307
110-25 General rules about cost base .....	308
110-35 Incidental costs .....	310
110-36 Indexation.....	311
What does not form part of the cost base	312
110-37 Expenditure forming part of cost base or element .....	312
110-38 Exclusions .....	313
110-40 Assets acquired before 7.30 pm on 13 May 1997.....	313
110-43 Partnership interests acquired before 7.30 pm on 13 May 1997.....	314
110-45 Assets acquired after 7.30 pm on 13 May 1997 .....	314
110-50 Partnership interests acquired after 7.30 pm on 13 May 1997.....	317
110-53 Exceptions to application of sections 110-45 and 110-50.....	319
110-54 Debt deductions disallowed by thin capitalisation rules .....	319
Subdivision 110-B—Reduced cost base	319
110-55 General rules about reduced cost base .....	320
110-60 Reduced cost base for partnership assets .....	323
Division 112—Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base	325
Guide to Division 112	325
112-1 What this Division is about .....	325
112-5 Discussion of modifications .....	325
Subdivision 112-A—General modifications	326
112-15 General rule for replacement modifications.....	326
112-20 Market value substitution rule .....	326
112-25 Split, changed or merged assets.....	328
112-30 Apportionment rules.....	329
112-35 Assumption of liability rule .....	330
112-37 Put options.....	331

---

---

Subdivision 112-B—Finding tables for special rules	331
112-40 Effect of this Subdivision .....	332
112-45 CGT events.....	332
112-48 Gifts acquired by associates.....	333
112-50 Main residence .....	333
112-53 Scrip for scrip roll-over .....	334
112-53AA Statutory licences.....	334
112-53A MDO roll-over.....	335
112-53B Exchange of stapled ownership interests for units in a unit trust.....	335
112-54 Demergers .....	335
112-55 Effect of you dying .....	336
112-60 Bonus shares or units.....	336
112-65 Rights .....	336
112-70 Convertible interests.....	337
112-75 Employee share schemes .....	337
112-77 Exchangeable interests .....	337
112-80 Leases.....	338
112-85 Options .....	339
112-87 Residency .....	339
112-90 An asset stops being a pre-CGT asset.....	340
112-92 Demutualisation of certain entities .....	340
112-95 Transfer of tax losses and net capital losses within wholly-owned groups of companies.....	340
112-97 Modifications outside this Part and Part 3-3.....	341
Subdivision 112-C—Replacement-asset roll-overs	348
112-100 Effect of this Subdivision .....	348
112-105 What is a replacement-asset roll-over?.....	348
112-110 How is the cost base of the replacement asset modified? .....	349
112-115 Table of replacement-asset roll-overs.....	349
Subdivision 112-D—Same-asset roll-overs	350
112-135 Effect of this Subdivision .....	350
112-140 What is a same-asset roll-over? .....	351
112-145 How is the cost base of the asset modified? .....	351
112-150 Table of same-asset roll-overs .....	351
Division 114—Indexation of cost base	353
114-1 Indexing elements of cost base .....	353
114-5 When indexation relevant.....	354
114-10 Requirement for 12 months ownership.....	355
114-15 Cost base modifications.....	357
114-20 When expenditure is incurred for roll-overs .....	358

---

---

Division 115—Discount capital gains and trusts’ net capital gains	360
Guide to Division 115	360
115-1 What this Division is about .....	360
Subdivision 115-A—Discount capital gains	361
What is a discount capital gain?	361
115-5 What is a discount capital gain ? .....	361
115-10 Who can make a discount capital gain? .....	361
115-15 Discount capital gain must be made after 21 September 1999 .....	362
115-20 Discount capital gain must not have indexed cost base .....	362
115-25 Discount capital gain must be on asset acquired at least 12 months before .....	363
115-30 Special rules about time of acquisition .....	364
What are not discount capital gains?	367
115-40 Capital gain resulting from agreement made within a year of acquisition .....	367
115-45 Capital gain from equity in an entity with newly acquired assets .....	367
115-50 Discount capital gain from equity in certain entities .....	370
Subdivision 115-B—Discount percentage	372
115-100 What is the discount percentage for a discount capital gain .....	372
Subdivision 115-C—Rules about trusts with net capital gains	372
Guide to Subdivision 115-C	372
115-200 What this Division is about .....	372
Operative provisions	373
115-210 When this Subdivision applies .....	373
115-215 Assessing presently entitled beneficiaries .....	374
115-220 Special rule for assessing trustee under paragraph 98(3)(b) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 .....	376
115-222 Special rule for assessing trustee under subsection 98(4) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 .....	376
115-225 Special rule for assessing trustee under section 99A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 .....	377
115-230 Assessing capital gains of resident testamentary trusts .....	377
Subdivision 115-D—Tax relief for shareholders in listed investment companies	380
Guide to Subdivision 115-D	380
115-275 What this Subdivision is about .....	380
Operative provisions	380
115-280 Deduction for certain dividends .....	380
115-285 Meaning of LIC capital gain .....	383

---

---

115-290	Meaning of listed investment company .....	384
115-295	Maintaining records.....	385
Division 116—Capital proceeds		386
Guide to Division 116		386
116-1	What this Division is about .....	386
116-5	General rules.....	387
116-10	Modifications to general rules .....	387
General rules		388
116-20	General rules about capital proceeds .....	388
Modifications to general rules		390
116-25	Table of modifications to the general rules.....	390
116-30	Market value substitution rule: modification 1 .....	392
116-35	Companies and trusts that are not widely held .....	394
116-40	Apportionment rule: modification 2 .....	395
116-45	Non-receipt rule: modification 3 .....	396
116-50	Repaid rule: modification 4 .....	396
116-55	Assumption of liability rule: modification 5.....	397
116-60	Misappropriation rule: modification 6 .....	397
Special rules		398
116-65	Disposal etc. of a CGT asset the subject of an option.....	398
116-70	Option requiring both acquisition and disposal etc.....	398
116-75	Special rule for CGT event happening to a lease.....	399
116-80	Special rule if CGT asset is shares or an interest in a trust .....	399
116-85	Section 47A of 1936 Act applying to rolled-over asset .....	399
116-95	Company changes residence from an unlisted country .....	400
116-100	Gifts of property .....	402
116-105	Conservation covenants.....	402
Division 118—Exemptions		404
Guide to Division 118		404
118-1	What this Division is about .....	404
Subdivision 118-A—General exemptions		405
Exempt assets		406
118-5	Cars, motor cycles and valour decorations .....	406
118-10	Collectables and personal use assets.....	406
118-12	Assets used to produce exempt income etc.....	407
118-13	Shares in a PDF .....	408
Anti-overlap provisions		409
118-20	Reducing capital gains if amount otherwise assessable.....	409
118-21	Carried interests.....	411
118-22	Superannuation lump sums and employment termination payments.....	412

---

---

118-24	Depreciating assets and section 73BA depreciating assets .....	412
118-25	Trading stock .....	412
118-27	Division 230 financial arrangements .....	413
118-30	Film copyright .....	414
118-35	Research and development .....	414
Exempt or loss-denying transactions		415
118-37	Compensation, damages etc. ....	415
118-40	Expiry of a lease .....	418
118-42	Transfer of stratum units.....	418
118-45	Sale of rights to mine.....	418
118-55	Foreign currency hedging gains and losses .....	419
118-60	Certain gifts .....	419
118-65	Later distributions of personal services income.....	420
118-70	Transactions by exempt entities.....	420
118-75	Marriage or relationship breakdown settlements .....	420
Boat capital gains		421
118-80	Reduction of boat capital gain .....	421
Subdivision 118-B—Main residence		421
Guide to Subdivision 118-B		421
118-100	What this Subdivision is about .....	421
118-105	Map of this Subdivision.....	423
Basic case and concepts		424
118-110	Basic case .....	424
118-115	Meaning of dwelling .....	424
118-120	Extension to adjacent land.....	425
118-125	Meaning of ownership period .....	425
118-130	Meaning of ownership interest in land or a dwelling .....	425
Rules that may extend the exemption		426
118-135	Moving into a dwelling.....	426
118-140	Changing main residences .....	426
118-145	Absences.....	427
118-150	If you build, repair or renovate a dwelling .....	428
118-155	Where individual referred to in section 118-150 dies.....	428
118-160	Destruction of dwelling and sale of land .....	429
Rules that may limit the exemption		430
118-165	Separate CGT event for adjacent land or other structures .....	430
118-170	Spouse having different main residence .....	430
118-175	Dependent child having different main residence.....	431
Roll-overs under Subdivision 126-A		431
118-178	Previous roll-over under Subdivision 126-A .....	431

---

---

118-180 Acquisition of dwelling from company or trust on marriage or relationship breakdown—roll-over provision applying.....	432
Partial exemption rules	432
118-185 Partial exemption where dwelling was your main residence during part only of ownership period .....	432
118-190 Use of dwelling for producing assessable income .....	433
118-192 Special rule for first use to produce income .....	435
Dwellings acquired from deceased estates	436
118-195 Dwelling acquired from a deceased estate.....	436
118-197 Special rule for surviving joint tenant.....	438
118-200 Partial exemption for deceased estate dwellings.....	438
118-205 Adjustment if dwelling inherited from deceased individual .....	439
118-210 Trustee acquiring dwelling under will .....	440
Subdivision 118-D—Insurance and superannuation	442
118-300 Insurance policies .....	442
118-305 Superannuation.....	443
118-310 RSA's .....	444
118-313 Superannuation agreements under the Family Law Act .....	444
118-315 Segregated exempt assets of life insurance companies.....	444
118-320 Segregated current pension assets of a complying superannuation entity.....	445
Subdivision 118-E—Units in pooled superannuation trusts	445
118-350 Units in pooled superannuation trusts.....	445
Subdivision 118-F—Venture capital investment	445
Guide to Subdivision 118-F	445
118-400 What this Subdivision is about .....	445
Operative provisions	447
118-405 Exemption for certain foreign venture capital investments through venture capital limited partnerships.....	447
118-407 Exemption for certain venture capital investments through early stage venture capital limited partnerships.....	448
118-410 Exemption for certain foreign venture capital investments through Australian venture capital funds of funds.....	451
118-415 Exemption for certain venture capital investments by foreign residents.....	454
118-420 Meaning of eligible venture capital partner etc. ....	455
118-425 Meaning of eligible venture capital investment —investments in companies.....	457
118-427 Meaning of eligible venture capital investment —investments in unit trusts.....	464
118-428 Additional investment requirements for ESVCLPs .....	471
118-430 Meaning of at risk .....	472

---

---

118-435 Special rule relating to investment in foreign resident holding companies.....	472
118-440 Meaning of permitted entity value .....	473
118-445 Meaning of committed capital .....	476
Subdivision 118-G—Venture capital: investment by superannuation funds for foreign residents	476
Guide to Subdivision 118-G	476
118-500 What this Subdivision is about .....	476
118-505 Exemption for certain foreign venture capital .....	477
118-510 Meaning of resident investment vehicle .....	477
118-515 Meaning of venture capital entity .....	478
118-520 Meaning of superannuation fund for foreign residents .....	479
118-525 Meaning of venture capital equity .....	479
Subdivision 118-H—Demutualisation of Tower Corporation	481
118-550 Demutualisation of Tower Corporation .....	481
Division 121—Record keeping	483
Guide to Division 121	483
121-10 What this Division is about .....	483
Operative provisions	483
121-20 What records you must keep.....	483
121-25 How long you must retain the records .....	485
121-30 Exceptions .....	486
121-35 Asset register entries.....	486
Part 3-3—Capital gains and losses: special topics	488
Division 122—Roll-over for the disposal of assets to, or the creation of assets in, a wholly-owned company	488
Guide to Division 122	488
122-1 What this Division is about .....	488
Subdivision 122-A—Disposal or creation of assets by an individual or trustee to a wholly-owned company	489
Guide to Subdivision 122-A	489
122-5 What this Subdivision is about .....	489
When is a roll-over available	490
122-15 Disposal or creation of assets—wholly-owned company .....	490
122-20 What you receive for the trigger event .....	490
122-25 Other requirements to be satisfied .....	491
122-35 What if the company undertakes to discharge a liability (disposal case) .....	493
122-37 Rules for working out what a liability in respect of an asset is.....	494

---

---

Replacement-asset roll-over if you dispose of a CGT asset	495
122-40 Disposal of a CGT asset .....	495
Replacement-asset roll-over if you dispose of all the assets of a business	496
122-45 Disposal of all the assets of a business .....	496
122-50 All assets acquired on or after 20 September 1985 .....	496
122-55 All assets acquired before 20 September 1985 .....	497
122-60 Assets acquired before and after 20 September 1985 .....	498
Replacement-asset roll-over for a creation case	499
122-65 Creation of asset .....	499
Same-asset roll-over consequences for the company (disposal case)	499
122-70 Consequences for the company (disposal case) .....	499
Same-asset roll-over consequences for the company (creation case)	500
122-75 Consequences for the company (creation case) .....	500
Subdivision 122-B—Disposal or creation of assets by partners to a wholly-owned company	501
Guide to Subdivision 122-B	501
122-120 What this Subdivision is about .....	501
When is a roll-over available	502
122-125 Disposal or creation of assets—wholly-owned company .....	502
122-130 What the partners receive for the trigger event .....	502
122-135 Other requirements to be satisfied .....	503
122-140 What if the company undertakes to discharge a liability (disposal case) .....	505
122-145 Rules for working out what a liability in respect of an interest in an asset is .....	507
Replacement-asset roll-over if partners dispose of a CGT asset	508
122-150 Capital gain or loss disregarded .....	508
122-155 Disposal of post-CGT or pre-CGT interests .....	508
122-160 Disposal of both post-CGT and pre-CGT interests .....	508
Replacement-asset roll-over if the partners dispose of all the assets of a business	509
122-170 Capital gain or loss disregarded .....	509
122-175 Other consequences .....	509
122-180 All interests acquired on or after 20 September 1985 .....	510
122-185 All interests acquired before 20 September 1985 .....	510
122-190 Interests acquired before and after 20 September 1985 .....	511
Replacement-asset roll-over for a creation case	512
122-195 Creation of asset .....	512

---

---

Same-asset roll-over consequences for the company (disposal case)	513
122-200 Consequences for the company (disposal case).....	513
Same-asset roll-over consequences for the company (creation case)	514
122-205 Consequences for the company (creation case).....	514

Division 58—Capital allowances for depreciating assets previously owned by an exempt entity

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 58
58-A	Application
58-B	Calculating decline in value of privatised assets under Division 40

Guide to Division 58

58-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out special rules that apply in calculating deductions for the decline in value of depreciating assets and balancing adjustments for assets previously owned by an exempt entity if the assets:

- continue to be owned by that entity after the entity becomes taxable; or
- are acquired from that entity, in connection with the acquisition of a business, by a purchaser that is a taxable entity.

There is a choice of 2 methods for each depreciating asset:

- the notional written down value method; and
- the undeducted pre-existing audited book value method.

Subdivision 58-A—Application

Table of sections

58-5	Application of Division
58-10	When an asset is acquired in connection with the acquisition of a business

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 58-5

---

58-5 Application of Division

- (1) This Division applies in 2 situations.

Entity sale

- (2) The first (an entity sale situation) is where:
- (a) at a particular time on or after 1 July 2001, an entity is an *exempt entity; and
  - (b) just after that time, the entity's *ordinary income or *statutory income becomes to any extent assessable income.
- (3) In an entity sale situation:
- (a) the entity is a transition entity; and
  - (b) the time when the entity's *ordinary income or *statutory income becomes to that extent assessable is the transition time; and
  - (c) the income year in which the *transition time occurs is the transition year for the entity; and
  - (d) the *depreciating assets the *transition entity *held just before the transition time are privatised assets.

Asset sale

- (4) The second (an asset sale situation) is where:
- (a) at a particular time on or after 1 July 2001, an entity (the purchaser) whose *ordinary income or statutory income is to any extent assessable acquires a *depreciating asset from the Commonwealth, a State, a Territory or an *exempt entity; and
  - (b) the asset is acquired in connection with the acquisition of a *business from the Commonwealth, the State, the Territory or the exempt entity.
- (5) In an asset sale situation:
- (a) the Commonwealth, the State, the Territory or the *exempt entity is the tax exempt vendor; and
  - (b) the time when the *depreciating asset is acquired is the acquisition time; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (c) the income year in which the *acquisition time occurs is the acquisition year; and
- (d) each *depreciating asset the purchaser acquires from the *tax exempt vendor at the acquisition time is a privatised asset.

58-10 When an asset is acquired in connection with the acquisition of a business

- (1) A *depreciating asset is taken to be acquired in connection with the acquisition of a *business from the Commonwealth, the State, the Territory or the *exempt entity if and only if:
  - (a) the asset was used by the Commonwealth, the State, the Territory or the exempt entity in carrying on a business and the purchaser or another entity uses the asset in carrying on the business; or
  - (b) subsection (2) applies.
- (2) This subsection applies if:
  - (a) the asset was used by the Commonwealth, the State, the Territory or the *exempt entity in performing functions, or engaging in activities, that did not constitute the carrying on of a *business by the Commonwealth, the State, the Territory or the exempt entity and the asset is used by the purchaser or another entity in performing those functions or engaging in those activities as part of carrying on a business; or
  - (b) all of these subparagraphs apply:
    - (i) the acquisition by the purchaser of the asset was connected with the acquisition of another asset by the purchaser or another entity from the Commonwealth, the State, the Territory or the exempt entity or from an *associate of the Commonwealth, the State, the Territory or the exempt entity;
    - (ii) ownership of the other asset gives the purchaser or other entity a right, or imposes on the purchaser or other entity an obligation, to perform functions or engage in activities as part of the carrying on of a business or confers on the purchaser or other entity a commercial advantage or opportunity in connection with performing

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 58 Capital allowances for depreciating assets previously owned by an exempt entity

Section 58-10

---

functions or engaging in activities as part of the carrying on of a business;

- (iii) the asset is used by the purchaser or other entity in performing those functions or engaging in those activities under the right or obligation or in taking the benefit of the advantage or opportunity; or

- (c) the asset was acquired by the purchaser under an *arrangement under which the purchaser or another entity acquired another asset from the Commonwealth, the State, the Territory or the exempt entity or from an associate of the Commonwealth, the State, the Territory or the exempt entity and:

- (i) the other asset is taken by paragraph (1)(a), or by paragraph (a) or (b) of this subsection; or

- (ii) where the other asset is not a depreciating asset, it would, if it were a depreciating asset, be taken by paragraph (1)(a), or by paragraph (a) or (b) of this subsection; to be acquired in connection with the acquisition of a business from the Commonwealth, the State, the Territory or the exempt entity.

- (3) Paragraphs (2)(a), (b) and (c) do not apply if the asset is used by the purchaser solely to *derive assessable income from the provision of office or residential accommodation.

Subdivision 58-B—Calculating decline in value of privatised assets under Division 40

Table of sections

58-60	Purpose of rules in this Subdivision
58-65	Choice of method to work out cost of privatised asset
58-70	Application of Division 40
58-75	Meaning of notional written down value
58-80	Meaning of undeducted pre-existing audited book value
58-85	Pre-existing audited book value of depreciating asset
58-90	Method and effective life for transition entity

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

58-60 Purpose of rules in this Subdivision

This Subdivision sets out rules that affect the way in which the *transition entity or the purchaser work out the decline in value of, and balancing adjustments for, *privatised assets under Division 40 after the *transition time or the *acquisition time.

58-65 Choice of method to work out cost of privatised asset

- (1) The *transition entity or the purchaser has a choice to work out the first element of the *cost of each *privatised asset.
- (2) The choice is to use either:
  - (a) the *notional written down value of the asset; or
  - (b) the *undeducted pre-existing audited book value (if any) of the asset.
- (3) The choice must be made:
  - (a) for the *transition entity—by the day on which the transition entity lodges its *income tax return for the *transition year; or
  - (b) for the purchaser—by the day on which the purchaser lodges the purchaser's income tax return for the *acquisition year; or within a further period allowed by the Commissioner.
- (4) The choice, once made, cannot be changed.

58-70 Application of Division 40

Application of Division 40

- (1) The *transition entity and the purchaser work out the decline in value of, and the effect of a *balancing adjustment event occurring for, each *privatised asset using Division 40 (Capital allowances) as if the asset had been acquired under a contract entered into on or after 1 July 2001.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 58 Capital allowances for depreciating assets previously owned by an exempt entity

Section 58-75

---

Entity sale situation

- (2) Division 40 applies to a *privatised asset *held by the *transition entity as if the asset had not been used, or *installed ready for use, for any purpose before the *transition time.
- (3) The first element of the *cost to the *transition entity at the *transition time is the *notional written down value of the asset or the *undeducted pre-existing audited book value of the asset (depending on the choice made for the asset).
- (4) No amount incurred before the *transition time is included in the second element of the *cost of a *privatised asset.

Asset sale situation

- (5) The first element of the *cost of a *privatised asset to the purchaser at the *acquisition time is the sum of:
  - (a) the *notional written down value of the asset or the *undeducted pre-existing audited book value of the asset (depending on the choice made for the asset); and
  - (b) the amount of any incidental costs to the purchaser in acquiring the asset.

58-75 Meaning of *notional written down value

- (1) The notional written down value of a *privatised asset is its *adjustable value in the hands of:
  - (a) the *transition entity just before the *transition time; or
  - (b) the *tax exempt vendor just before the *acquisition time;worked out using the assumptions in this section.

Application of Division 40

- (2) Assume that Division 40 had always applied to work out the decline in value of the *privatised asset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Use for taxable purposes

- (3) Assume that, in applying Division 40 to the *privatised asset, it had always been used by the *transition entity or the *tax exempt vendor wholly for *taxable purposes.

Cost and acquisition time: exempt Australian government agency

- (4) If the *transition entity or the *tax exempt vendor was an *exempt Australian government agency just before the *transition time and had acquired the *privatised asset from another exempt Australian government agency:
- (a) assume that the transition entity or tax exempt vendor acquired it at the time when it was acquired or constructed by the other exempt Australian government agency and that the first element of its *cost to the transition entity or tax exempt vendor is the amount that was its cost to the other exempt Australian government agency; or
  - (b) if it had, before its acquisition by the transition entity or tax exempt vendor, been successively *held by 2 or more exempt Australian government agencies—assume that:
    - (i) the transition entity or tax exempt vendor acquired it at the time when it was acquired or constructed by the first of those exempt Australian government agencies that owned it; and
    - (ii) the first element of its cost to the transition entity or tax exempt vendor is the sum of the amount that was the first element of its cost to the first of those exempt Australian government agencies that owned it and any amount included in the second element of its cost for that first agency or a later successive agency.

Effective life

- (5) Assume that:
- (a) the *transition entity or the *tax exempt vendor had chosen to use an *effective life determined by the Commissioner for the *privatised asset as in force at the *transition time or the *acquisition time; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 58-80

---

(b) subsection 40-95(2) did not apply.

(5A) Assume that section 40-102 did not apply to a *privatised asset unless all of the following are satisfied:

- (a) it is an entity sale situation within the meaning of section 58-5;
- (b) a *capped life applies to the asset under subsection 40-102(4) or (5) at both the asset's *start time and the *transition time;
- (c) the *transition entity chooses, for the purposes of this section, to have section 40-102 apply to the asset.

If section 40-102 is to be applied to the asset, disregard paragraphs 40-102(2)(a) and (b) and assume that the relevant time for the purposes of the application of that section to the asset were the transition time.

(6) Assume also that section 40-110 (about recalculating effective life) did not apply.

58-80 Meaning of *undeducted pre-existing audited book value

- (1) The undeducted pre-existing audited book value of a *privatised asset is its *adjustable value in the hands of:
  - (a) the *transition entity just before the *transition time; or
  - (b) the *tax exempt vendor just before the *acquisition time; worked out using the assumptions in this section.

Application of Division 40

- (2) Assume that Division 40 had always applied to work out the decline in value of the *privatised asset.

Use for taxable purposes

- (3) Assume that, in applying Division 40 to the *privatised asset, it had always been used by the *transition entity or the *tax exempt vendor wholly for *taxable purposes.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Cost

- (4) Assume that:
- (a) the first element of the *privatised asset's *cost to the *transition entity or the *tax exempt vendor is its *pre-existing audited book value as at the latest time (the test time) at which it had a pre-existing audited book value; and
  - (b) no amount was included in the second element of the asset's cost before the test time; and
  - (c) any amount included in the second element of the asset's cost after the test time had been incurred by the transition entity or the tax exempt vendor.

Acquisition time

- (5) Assume that the *transition entity or the *tax exempt vendor had acquired the *privatised asset at the test time.

Effective life

- (6) Assume that:
- (a) the *transition entity or the *tax exempt vendor had chosen to use an *effective life determined by the Commissioner for the *privatised asset as in force at the *transition time or the *acquisition time; and
  - (b) subsection 40-95(2) did not apply.

Note: Section 40-102 does not apply to a privatised asset for the purposes of this section.

- (7) Assume also that section 40-110 (about recalculating effective life) did not apply.

58-85 Pre-existing audited book value of depreciating asset

- (1) A *privatised asset has a pre-existing audited book value if:
- (a) a balance sheet, as at the end of an annual accounting period (the balance date), that was prepared as part of the final accounts of the Commonwealth, a State, a Territory or an *exempt entity for that period showed the asset as an asset of the relevant entity and specified a value for it; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-15 Non-assessable income

Division 58 Capital allowances for depreciating assets previously owned by an exempt entity

Section 58-90

---

- (b) a qualified independent auditor who was engaged, or was required by law, to undertake an audit of those accounts had prepared and signed, before 4 August 1997, a final audit report on those accounts; and
  - (c) the report did not state that the auditor was not satisfied that the specified value fairly represented the value of the asset.
- The asset is taken to have had a pre-existing audited book value at the balance date of an amount equal to the specified value.
- (2) If a balance sheet did not specify a value for the asset but specified a total value for 2 or more assets including the asset, the balance sheet is taken to have specified as the value of the asset so much of that total value as is reasonably attributable to the asset.

58-90 Method and effective life for transition entity

- (1) The *transition entity must, in working out the decline in value of a *privatised asset, use the *diminishing value method or the *prime cost method for the asset that it used to work out the *notional written down value, or the *undeducted pre-existing audited book value, of the asset.
- (2) In working out the decline in value of a *privatised asset held by a *transition entity:
  - (a) if section 40-102 applied to the asset for the purposes of subsection 58-75(5A)—section 40-102 applies to the asset and applies as if the relevant time for the asset for the purposes of that section were the *transition time; or
  - (b) if section 40-102 did not apply to the asset for the purposes of subsection 58-75(5A) or section 58-80—section 40-102 does not apply to the asset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 59—Particular amounts of non-assessable non-exempt income

Guide to Division 59

59-1 What this Division is about

This Division details particular amounts that are non-assessable non-exempt income.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

59-5	Bonus payments made to certain older Australians
59-10	Compensation under firearms surrender arrangements
59-15	Mining payments
59-20	Taxable amounts relating to franchise fees windfall tax
59-25	Taxable amounts relating to Commonwealth places windfall tax
59-30	Amounts you must repay
59-35	Amounts that would be mutual receipts but for prohibition on distributions to members
59-40	Issue of rights
59-45	Tax bonus for the 2007-08 income year
59-50	Clean-up and Restoration Grants for 2009 Victorian bushfires

Operative provisions

59-5 Bonus payments made to certain older Australians

A payment made to you under the A New Tax System (Bonuses for Older Australians) Act 1999 is not assessable income and is not *exempt income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

59-10 Compensation under firearms surrender arrangements

A payment made to you by way of compensation under *firearms surrender arrangements for any loss of business is not assessable income and is not *exempt income.

59-15 Mining payments

- (1) These are not assessable income and are not *exempt income:
  - (a) a *mining payment made to a *distributing body;
  - (b) a mining payment made to one or more *Aboriginals, or applied for their benefit.
- (2) A payment:
  - (a) made to a *distributing body; or
  - (b) made to one or more *Aboriginals, or applied for their benefit;is not assessable income and is not *exempt income if the payment is made by a *distributing body out of a *mining payment that it has received.
- (3) A payment made to a *distributing body by another distributing body, out of a *mining payment received by the other distributing body, is taken to be a mining payment for the purposes of:
  - (a) any further applications of subsection (2); and
  - (b) any further applications of this subsection.
- (4) Subsection (2) does not apply to a payment by a *distributing body for the purposes of meeting its administrative costs.
- (5) This section does not apply to an amount paid to or applied for the benefit of a person if it is remuneration or consideration for goods or services provided by that person.

59-20 Taxable amounts relating to franchise fees windfall tax

Taxable amounts on which tax is imposed by the Franchise Fees Windfall Tax (Imposition) Act 1997 are not assessable income and are not *exempt income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

59-25 Taxable amounts relating to Commonwealth places windfall tax

Taxable amounts on which tax is imposed by the Commonwealth Places Windfall Tax (Imposition) Act 1998 are not assessable income and are not *exempt income.

59-30 Amounts you must repay

- (1) An amount you receive is not assessable income and is not *exempt income for an income year if:
  - (a) you must repay it; and
  - (b) you repay it in a later income year; and
  - (c) you cannot deduct the repayment for any income year.
- (2) It does not matter if:
  - (a) you received the amount as part of a larger amount; or
  - (b) the obligation to repay existed when you received the amount or it came into existence later.
- (3) This section does not apply to an amount you must repay because you received a lump sum as compensation or damages for a wrong or injury you suffered in your occupation.

59-35 Amounts that would be mutual receipts but for prohibition on distributions to members

An amount of *ordinary income of an entity is not assessable income and not *exempt income if:

- (a) the amount would be a mutual receipt, but for the entity's constituent document preventing the entity from making any *distribution, whether in money, property or otherwise, to its members; and
- (b) apart from this section, the amount would be assessable income only because of section 6-5.

59-40 Issue of rights

- (1) The *market value, as at the time of issue (the issue time), of rights issued to you:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 59-45

---

(a) by a company to *acquire *shares in that company; or
(b) by a trustee of a unit trust to acquire units in that trust; is not assessable income and is not *exempt income as at the issue time if the conditions in subsection (2) are satisfied.

(2) The conditions are as follows:

- (a) at the issue time, you must already own *shares in the company or units in the unit trust (the original interests);
- (b) the rights must be issued to you because of your ownership of the original interests;
- (c) the original interests and the rights must not be *revenue assets or *trading stock at the issue time;
- (d) the rights must not have been acquired (within the meaning of section 139G of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) under an *employee share scheme;
- (e) the original interests and the rights must not be *traditional securities;
- (f) the original interests must not be *convertible interests.

59-45 Tax bonus for the 2007-08 income year

A tax bonus paid in accordance with the Tax Bonus for Working Australians Act (No. 2) 2009 is not assessable income and is not *exempt income.

59-50 Clean-up and Restoration Grants for 2009 Victorian bushfires

The following payments administered by the Rural Finance Corporation of Victoria in relation to the Victorian bushfires of 2009 are not assessable income and are not *exempt income:

- (a) Clean-up and Restoration Grants for primary producers;
- (b) Clean-up and Restoration Grants for small businesses.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Part 2-20—Tax offsets

Division 61—Generally applicable tax offsets

Table of Subdivisions

61-G	Private health insurance offset complementary to Part 2-2 of the Private Health Insurance Act 2007
61-I	First child tax offset (baby bonus)
61-IA	Child care tax offset
61-J	25% entrepreneurs' tax offset
61-K	Mature age worker tax offset
61-L	Tax offset for Medicare levy surcharge (lump sum payments in arrears)
61-M	Education expenses tax offset

Subdivision 61-G—Private health insurance offset complementary to Part 2-2 of the Private Health Insurance Act 2007

Guide to Subdivision 61-G

61-200 What this Subdivision is about

You can choose to claim a tax offset for a premium, or an amount in respect of a premium, paid under a private health insurance policy instead of having the premium reduced under Division 23 of the Private Health Insurance Act 2007 or receiving a payment under Division 26 of that Act.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

61-205	Entitlement to the private health insurance tax offset
--------	--

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-20 Tax offsets

Division 61 Generally applicable tax offsets

Section 61-205

---

- 61-210 Amount of the private health insurance tax offset
- 61-215 Tax offset after a person 65 years or over ceases to be covered by policy
- 61-220 How to work out the incentive amount

Operative provisions

61-205 Entitlement to the private health insurance tax offset

- (1) If you are an individual (other than an individual in the capacity of an employer), you are entitled to a *tax offset for the 2007-08 income year or a later income year if:
  - (a) a premium, or an amount in respect of a premium, was paid by you, or by your employer as a *fringe benefit for you, under a complying private health insurance policy (within the meaning of the Private Health Insurance Act 2007), on or after 1 July 2007; and
  - (b) the premium, or amount in respect of a premium, was paid during the income year; and
  - (c) each person insured under the complying health insurance policy during the period covered by the premium or amount is, for the whole of the time that he or she is insured under the policy during that period, an eligible person within the meaning of section 3 of the Health Insurance Act 1973, or treated as such because of section 6, 6A or 7 of that Act.
- (2) You are also entitled to the *tax offset if:
  - (a) you are a trustee who is liable to be assessed under section 98 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 in respect of a share of the net income of a trust estate; and
  - (b) the beneficiary who is presently entitled to the share of the income of the trust estate would be entitled to the tax offset because of subsection (1).
- (3) However, you are not entitled to the *tax offset in respect of the payment of any premium, or any amount in respect of a premium, if:
  - (a) you have received an amount under Division 26 of the Private Health Insurance Act 2007 in relation to the payment; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (b) the premium, or the amount in respect of a premium, was less than it would otherwise have been because of the operation of Division 23 of that Act.

Note: In certain circumstances you can get a refund of the tax offset under Division 67.

61-210 Amount of the private health insurance tax offset

- (1) The amount of the *tax offset for an income year is the sum of:
- (a) 30% of the amount of the premium, or of the amount in respect of a premium, paid by you, or by your employer as a *fringe benefit for you, under the policy in respect of days in the income year on which no person covered by the policy was aged 65 years or over; and
  - (b) 35% of the amount of the premium, or of the amount in respect of a premium, paid by you, or by your employer as a fringe benefit for you, under the policy in respect of days in the income year on which:
    - (i) at least one person covered by the policy was aged 65 years or over; and
    - (ii) no person covered by the policy was aged 70 years or over; and
  - (c) 40% of the amount of the premium, or of the amount in respect of a premium, paid by you, or by your employer as a fringe benefit for you, under the policy in respect of days in the income year on which at least one person covered by the policy was aged 70 years or over.
- (2) However, if, before 1 January 1999, a person was registered, or eligible to be registered, under the Private Health Insurance Incentives Act 1997 in respect of the policy for the income year, the amount of the *tax offset for the income year is the greater of:
- (a) the amount worked out under subsection (1); and
  - (b) the *incentive amount for the policy for the income year.
- (3) If, because of the operation of Division 23 of the Private Health Insurance Act 2007, an amount paid by you, or by your employer as a *fringe benefit for you, under a policy was less than the amount that would otherwise have been payable, the *tax offset in respect of the amount paid is reduced by the amount of the difference.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

61-215 Tax offset after a person 65 years or over ceases to be covered by policy

(1) If:

- (a) at any time, the amount of a *tax offset in respect of premiums payable under an insurance policy (the original policy) was 35% or 40% of the premiums payable under the policy because a person aged 65 years or over (the entitling person) was insured under the original policy; and
- (b) at that time, another person (other than a dependent child) was insured under the original policy; and
- (c) the entitling person subsequently ceases to be insured under the policy;

subsections 61-210(1) and (2) apply in relation to a complying health insurance policy (whether or not the original policy) under which the other person is insured (other than for the purposes of working out the *incentive amount) as if:

- (d) the entitling person were also insured under that policy; and
  - (e) the entitling person were the same age as the age at which he or she ceased to be insured under the original policy.
- (2) Subsection (1) ceases to apply if a person (other than a dependent child) who was not insured under the original policy at the time the entitling person ceased to be insured under it becomes insured under the complying health insurance policy.
- (3) Subsection (1) does not apply if its application would result in the amount of the *tax offset under subsection 61-210(1) or (2) being less than it would otherwise have been.
- (4) Paragraph (1)(a) applies in relation to an amount of a *tax offset that is 35% or 40% of the premiums payable under an insurance policy whether the tax offset was available under this Subdivision or Subdivision 61-H as in force before 1 July 2007.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

(5) In this section:

complying health insurance policy has the same meaning as in the Private Health Insurance Act 2007.

dependent child:

- (a) has the meaning given in the Private Health Insurance Act 2007; and
- (b) in paragraph (1)(b), in relation to a time before 1 July 2007, includes a dependent child within the meaning of the Private Health Insurance Incentives Act 1998.

61-220 How to work out the incentive amount

(1) The incentive amount for a complying private health insurance policy (within the meaning of the Private Health Insurance Act 2007) for an income year is the amount worked out under this table:

Incentive amount
Item	Number and kinds of people covered by the policy	Policy covers *hospital treatment but not *general treatment	Policy covers *general treatment but not *hospital treatment	Policy covers *hospital treatment and *general treatment
1	3 or more people	$350	$100	$450
2	One dependent child and one other person	$350	$100	$450
3	2 people neither of whom is a dependent child	$200	$50	$250
4	One person	$100	$25	$125

(2) If the amount of the premium, or the amount in respect of a premium, paid by you, or by your employer as a *fringe benefit for you, under the policy is for part only of the income year, the incentive amount is worked out using this formula:

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 61-350

---

$$\text{Amount worked out under subsection (1)} \times \frac{\text{Number of days in that part of the income year}}{365}$$

Subdivision 61-I—First child tax offset (baby bonus)

Guide to Subdivision 61-I

61-350 What this Subdivision is about

You are entitled to a tax offset for your first child, for income years up to and including the year the child turns 5, if you meet certain conditions.

The amount of the offset is usually based on your tax liability in the year before you became responsible for the child, and on a comparison between your taxable income in that year and the year you are claiming for. However, if you are a low income taxpayer, a minimum offset will generally be available.

Instead of claiming the offset yourself, you may transfer your entitlement to your spouse.

If you are entitled to a tax offset because you adopt a child, you might also be entitled to an offset if the child was in your care before the adoption.

Table of sections

Entitlement to a first child tax offset

61-355	Who is entitled to a tax offset under this section
61-360	What is a child event?
61-365	First child only
61-370	Another carer with entitlement for another child
61-375	Selection rules
61-380	Special rules for death of first child

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Transferring an entitlement

- 61-385 You may transfer your entitlement to a tax offset
61-390 Transfer is irrevocable
61-395 Transferor is not entitled to tax offset
61-400 Transferee is entitled to tax offset

Claiming a first child tax offset

- 61-405 How to claim a tax offset for a child
61-410 Claim is irrevocable

Amount of a first child tax offset

- 61-415 Formula for working out amount of tax offset
61-420 Component of formula—entitlement amount
61-425 Component of formula—total of the entitlement days
61-430 What is your base year?

Additional tax offset if a child is in your care before you legally adopt the child

- 61-440 Additional tax offset if a child is in your care before you legally adopt the child
61-445 When a child is first in your care
61-450 What is your base year if a child is in your care before you legally adopt the child?
61-455 Old Subdivision applies if you would be worse off

Entitlement to a first child tax offset*61-355 Who is entitled to a tax offset under this section

- (1) You are entitled to a *tax offset for a child for an income year if you meet the conditions in subsection (3) at any time in the income year.

Note: If you are entitled to a tax offset because you adopt a child, you might also be entitled to an offset if the child was in your care before the adoption (see section 61-440).

- (2) To meet those conditions for a child at a given time is to have a primary entitlement to the *tax offset for the child at that time.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 61-360

---

- (3) The conditions are that:
- (a) you have had a *child event (see section 61-360) in relation to the child (whether or not in the income year); and
  - (b) section 61-365 (first child only) does not prevent you from having a *primary entitlement to the offset for the child; and
  - (c) at the time:
    - (i) the child is less than 5; and
    - (ii) you are *legally responsible for the child; and
    - (iii) the child is in your care; and
    - (iv) you are an Australian resident; and
    - (v) section 61-370 (another carer) does not prevent you from having a primary entitlement to the offset for the child; and
    - (vi) if section 61-375 (selection rules) applies—you are selected by subsection (3) of that section.

61-360 What is a child event?

You have a child event at a particular time (the event time) if:

- (a) you become *legally responsible for a child at the event time; and Example: Giving birth is generally an example of becoming legally responsible for a child.

- (b) the event time is on or after 1 July 2001 and before 1 July 2004; and
- (c) you are an Australian resident at the event time; and
- (d) you were not legally responsible for the child at any time before 1 July 2001; and
- (e) there is no other person who is also legally responsible for the child at the event time and who was legally responsible for the child at any time before 1 July 2001.

61-365 First child only

You cannot have a *primary entitlement to a *tax offset under section 61-355 for a child if:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (a) you have had a *child event in relation to another child that was earlier than the child event you had for the first-mentioned child; and
- (b) you meet, or met at any time, the conditions in subparagraphs 61-355(3)(c)(i) to (iv) for that other child.

61-370 Another carer with entitlement for another child

You cannot have a *primary entitlement to a *tax offset under section 61-355 for a child at a time if:

- (a) at that time:
  - (i) another person is *legally responsible for the child; and
  - (ii) the child is in the other person's care; and
- (b) the other person has, or had at any time, a primary entitlement to a tax offset for another child.

61-375 Selection rules

- (1) This section applies if the conditions in subsection 61-355(3) (other than subparagraph (c)(vi)) are met by more than one person at the same time in relation to the same child.
- (2) Only one of those persons can have a *primary entitlement to a *tax offset under section 61-355 for the child at that time.
- (3) The person who gets the *primary entitlement to the offset at that time is selected in the following order of priority:
  - (a) the natural mother;
  - (b) if only one is the adoptive mother—the adoptive mother;
  - (c) if only one is a woman—the woman;
  - (d) the natural father;
  - (e) if only one is the adoptive father—the adoptive father;
  - (f) the person determined by the Commissioner, having regard to:
    - (i) any agreement between the persons; and
    - (ii) any other matters that the Commissioner considers relevant.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

61-380 Special rules for death of first child

Child dies aged less than 5

- (1) This section applies if your *primary entitlement to a *tax offset under section 61-355 for a child ends because the child dies aged less than 5.

Special extension of time in year of death

- (2) Your *primary entitlement is extended until the end of the income year in which the death occurred.

Limit on application of first child only rule

- (3) Section 61-365 does not prevent you from having a *primary entitlement to a *tax offset for another child after the end of the income year in which the death occurred.

Transferring an entitlement

61-385 You may transfer your entitlement to a tax offset

- (1) If you are entitled to a *tax offset for a child for an income year under section 61-355 or 61-440, you may transfer that entitlement to another person.
- (1A) However, if you are entitled to a *tax offset for a child for a particular income year under both of sections 61-355 and 61-440, you may only transfer one of those entitlements to another person if you also transfer the other entitlement to the same person.
- (2) A transfer has effect only if:
  - (a) the transferee was your *spouse at all times when you had a *primary entitlement for the child for the income year; and
  - (b) the transferee does not have a primary entitlement for that, or another, child for any time during the income year; and
  - (c) you have not already claimed the *tax offset for the income year; and
  - (d) you make the transfer after the end of the income year; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

(e) the transfer is in the *approved form.

61-390 Transfer is irrevocable

A transfer cannot be changed or revoked.

61-395 Transferor is not entitled to tax offset

You are no longer yourself entitled to a *tax offset for a child for an income year if you transfer the entitlement under section 61-385 for that income year.

61-400 Transferee is entitled to tax offset

If an entitlement to a *tax offset is transferred under section 61-385, the transferee is entitled to the offset for the income year.

Claiming a first child tax offset

61-405 How to claim a tax offset for a child

If you are entitled under this Subdivision to a *tax offset for an income year, you may claim the offset only:

- (a) in the *income tax return you give the Commissioner, before 1 July 2014, for the income year for which you are entitled to the offset; or
- (b) if you are not required to give the Commissioner a return for the income year—in the *approved form given to the Commissioner before 1 July 2014.

61-410 Claim is irrevocable

A claim for a *tax offset under this Subdivision cannot be revoked.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Amount of a first child tax offset

61-415 Formula for working out amount of tax offset

The amount of your *tax offset under sections 61-355 and 61-440 for an income year is the amount (rounded up to the nearest whole dollar) worked out using the formula:

$$\text{Entitlement amount} \times \frac{\text{Total of the entitlement days}}{365}$$

where:

entitlement amount has the meaning given by section 61-420.

total of the entitlement days has the meaning given by section 61-425.

61-420 Component of formula—entitlement amount

- (1) In section 61-415, the entitlement amount is the amount (rounded up to the nearest whole dollar) worked out using the formula:

$$\text{Base amount} \times \left[ 1 - \frac{\text{Your taxable income for income year}}{\text{Your taxable income for *base year}} \right]$$

where:

base amount is the lesser of:

- (a) one-fifth of your basic income tax liability for your *base year (as worked out in step 2 of the method statement in subsection 4-10(3)); and
  - (b) $2,500.
- (2) However, if:
- (a) the current income year is not your *base year; and
  - (b) your taxable income for the current income year is not more than $25,000; and
  - (c) the amount worked out under subsection (1) is less than $500;
- then the entitlement amount is $500.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (3) If the amount worked out under subsection (1) is negative, then, unless subsection (2) applies, the entitlement amount is nil.

61-425 Component of formula—total of the entitlement days

- (1) In section 61-415, the total of the entitlement days is the total number of days for which the primary person (see subsection (3)) had a *primary entitlement to a *tax offset under either or both of sections 61-355 and 61-440 for the child for the income year.
- (2) In addition, if:
- (a) the relevant *child event happened in the primary person's *base year; and
  - (b) the primary person did not transfer the entitlement under section 61-385 for the primary person's base year; and
  - (c) the relevant child turns 5 during the income year;
- the total of the entitlement days also includes the number of days in the base year for which the primary person had a primary entitlement to a *tax offset under either or both of sections 61-355 and 61-440 for the child.
- (3) In this section, the primary person is:
- (a) if you are claiming the offset as a person who has a *primary entitlement to the offset for the child—you; or
  - (b) if you are claiming the offset as a transferee under section 61-400—the transferor.

61-430 What is your base year?

Primary entitlement

- (1) Your base year for an entitlement to a *tax offset for a child under section 61-355 is:
- (a) if you were an Australian resident at any time in the income year just before the income year in which the *child event for the child happened (the event year)—the income year just before the event year; and
  - (b) otherwise—the event year.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 61-440

---

Note: If a child is in your care before you adopt the child, your base year can instead be the year the child was first in your care or the year before that (see section 61-450).

- (2) If paragraph (1)(a) applies to you, you may choose the event year to be your base year, in the *approved form. A choice cannot be revoked.
- (3) A choice cannot be made:
  - (a) after you have claimed the *tax offset under section 61-355 for any income year; or
  - (b) after you have transferred your entitlement to the tax offset under section 61-355 for any income year.

Transferred entitlement

- (4) Your base year for an entitlement transferred to you under section 61-385 is the income year before the first income year for which the entitlement for the child was transferred to you.

Additional tax offset if a child is in your care before you legally adopt the child

61-440 Additional tax offset if a child is in your care before you legally adopt the child

- (1) You are entitled to a *tax offset for a child for an income year if:
  - (a) you meet the conditions in paragraph (3)(a) at any time in the income year; and
  - (b) you meet the conditions in paragraphs (3)(b), (c) and (d).

Note: You are not entitled to a tax offset under this section if section 61-455 applies to you.

- (2) To meet those conditions for a child at a given time is to have a primary entitlement to the *tax offset for the child at that time.
- (3) The conditions are that:
  - (a) at the time:
    - (i) the child is less than 5; and
    - (ii) the child is in your care (but you are not legally responsible for the child); and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (iii) you are an Australian resident; and
- (b) you meet the conditions in subsection 61-355(3) in relation to the child in that year or a later income year; and
- (c) you have become legally responsible for the child by adopting the child; and
- (d) the time is on or after 1 July 2001 and before 1 July 2004.

Note: See section 61-445 for when a child is first in your care.

61-445 When a child is first in your care

For the purposes of sections 61-440 and 61-450, a child is first in your care on the date evidenced in writing by a court or relevant department of the relevant State or Territory.

61-450 What is your base year if a child is in your care before you legally adopt the child?

Your base year can relate to a year during which a child was in your care before you adopted the child

- (1) This section defines your base year if you are entitled to a *tax offset for a child under section 61-440 (which is where a child is in your care before you legally adopt the child).

Primary entitlement

- (2) Your base year for a *tax offset under sections 61-355 and 61-440 is:
  - (a) if you were an Australian resident at any time in the income year (the previous income year) just before the income year in which the child was first in your care—the later of the following years:
    - (i) the previous income year;
    - (ii) the income year commencing on 1 July 2000; and
  - (b) otherwise—the later of the following years:
    - (i) the earliest income year in which you were an Australian resident and the child was in your care;
    - (ii) the income year commencing on 1 July 2001.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-20 Tax offsets

Division 61 Generally applicable tax offsets

Section 61-455

---

Note: See section 61-445 for when a child is first in your care.

- (3) If paragraph (2)(a) applies to you, you may choose, in the *approved form, the later of the following years to be your base year:
- (a) the year the child was first in your care;
  - (b) the income year commencing on 1 July 2001.
- A choice cannot be revoked.
- (4) A choice cannot be made:
- (a) after you have claimed the *tax offset under section 61-440 for any income year; or
  - (b) after you have transferred your entitlement to the tax offset under section 61-440 for any income year.

Transferred entitlement

- (5) Your base year for an entitlement transferred to you under section 61-385 is the income year before the first income year for which the entitlement for the child was transferred to you.

61-455 Old Subdivision applies if you would be worse off

This Subdivision as in force on 30 June 2004 (instead of this Subdivision as amended by Schedule 10 to the Tax Laws Amendment (2004 Measures No. 6) Act 2005) continues to apply to you if the amount of all *tax offsets to which you would be entitled under this Subdivision as in force on that date is more than the amount of all tax offsets to which you would be entitled under the amended Subdivision.

Note: The effect of this is that:

- (a) you are only entitled to a tax offset in respect of days for which you are legally responsible for the child (and not days during which the child is in your care); and
- (b) your base year is the income year in which the child event happened or the year before.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Subdivision 61-IA—Child care tax offset*Guide to Subdivision 61-IA*61-460 What this Subdivision is about

You are entitled to a tax offset for an income year for child care fees if you meet certain conditions.

The amount of the offset is 30% of the difference between the amounts for each child, in the previous year, of child care fees incurred and child care benefit entitlement. This is subject to an indexed cap of $4,000 per child.

If the amount of the tax offset exceeds the amount of your income tax liability, the excess may be transferred to your spouse as a tax offset.

Table of sections*Operative provisions

61-465 Object of this Subdivision

Entitlement to the child care tax offset

61-470 Who is entitled to the tax offset

61-475 Meaning of approved child care

61-480 Meaning of entitled to child care benefit and entitlement to child care benefit

Amount of the child care tax offset

61-485 Amount of the child care tax offset

61-490 Component of formula—approved child care fees

61-495 Component of formula—child care offset limit

Transfer of entitlement to unused balance of child care tax offset

61-496 Entitlement to transfer

61-497 Form of transfer

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Operative provisions

61-465 Object of this Subdivision

The object of this Subdivision is to provide a *tax offset to assist families with the cost of child care.

Entitlement to the child care tax offset

61-470 Who is entitled to the tax offset

- (1) You are entitled to a *tax offset for an income year ending before 1 July 2007 (the child care offset year) for *approved child care provided in the previous income year (the child care base year) if:
- (a) you are an individual; and
  - (b) there is at least 1 *child care base week for you and a particular child in the child care base year.

Example: If there is at least 1 child care base week for you and a child in the 2004-2005 income year (the child care base year), you are entitled to a tax offset for the child for the 2005-2006 income year (the child care offset year).

- (2) A week is a child care base week for you and a particular child in the child care base year if:
- (a) the week starts on a Monday in the child care base year (whether or not it finishes in the child care base year); and
  - (b) you are *entitled to child care benefit for *approved child care provided for the child in the week; and
  - (c) one or more of the following limits applies under Subdivision G of Division 4 of Part 3 of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999 to your *entitlement to child care benefit for that week:
    - (i) the 50 hour limit (see section 54 of that Act);
    - (ii) the more than 50 hour limit (see section 55 of that Act);
    - (iii) the 24 hour care limit for a particular session (or sessions) of care (see section 56 of that Act).

Note: If one of the paragraph (c) limits applies, you satisfy the paragraph (c) condition even if you have not used approved child care for the child during the week up to the full extent of the limit.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (3) If you are *entitled to child care benefit subject to a limit of only 24 hours for a week under subsection 53(3) of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999, the condition mentioned in paragraph (2)(c) is not satisfied for the week.
- (4) The 50 hour limit is taken, for the purposes of paragraph (2)(c), to apply to your entitlement for child care benefit for the week if it would have applied but for the fact that you failed to meet the requirements of paragraph 17A(1)(b) of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999 in relation to the week.

61-475 Meaning of approved child care

- (1) Approved child care, for a particular child, is care provided for the child by a child care service that is approved under section 195 of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) (Administration) Act 1999.
- (2) Approved child care is also taken to have been provided by such a child care service for the child during a period of absence from care if section 10 or 10A of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999 applies to the period of absence.

Note: If a child is absent from care during a period for which child care fees are incurred for the child, but neither of sections 10 or 10A of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999 apply to the period of absence, approved child care would not be taken to have been provided for the child. As a result, child care fees incurred for the child during the period would not count as approved child care fees for which the child care tax offset is payable (see sections 61-485 and 61-490).

61-480 Meaning of entitled to child care benefit and entitlement to child care benefit

- (1) You are entitled to child care benefit for *approved child care for a child as provided in this section, and not otherwise. The amount of your entitlement to child care benefit for the care is as provided in this section, and not otherwise.

Note: Child care benefit is a benefit provided for by the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 61-480

---

General rule—actual determination of entitlement must have been made

- (2) You are only entitled to child care benefit for the care if you are so entitled because of a determination made under section 51B or 52E of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) (Administration) Act 1999. The amount of your entitlement to child care benefit for the care is the amount worked out under that Act by reference to that determination.

Entitlement based on fee reductions under a determination of conditional entitlement

- (3) However, if:
- (a) a determination (the conditional determination) has been made under section 50F of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) (Administration) Act 1999 that you are conditionally eligible for child care benefit by fee reduction for the care; and
  - (b) under section 219A of that Act as it applies in relation to the determination, fees for the care have been reduced;
- you are, subject to subsections (4) and (5), taken to be entitled to child care benefit for the care. The amount of your entitlement to child care benefit for the care is the amount of the reduction.
- (4) Despite subsection (3), if:
- (a) a determination (the final determination) is subsequently made under section 51B of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) (Administration) Act 1999 of your entitlement to be paid child care benefit by fee reduction for the care; and
  - (b) the amount (the final determination amount) of your entitlement to child care benefit for the care, as worked out by reference to the final determination, differs from the amount of the reduction referred to in paragraph (3)(b);
- the amount of your entitlement to child care benefit for the care is taken to be, and always to have been, the final determination amount.
- (5) Despite subsection (3), if a determination is subsequently made under section 51C of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

(Administration) Act 1999 that you are not entitled to be paid child care benefit by fee reduction for the care, you are taken not to be, and never to have been, entitled to be paid any child care benefit for the care.

Entitlement does not end with receipt

- (6) In applying this Act at a particular time in relation to yourself and the care, the fact that you have, by that time, received some or all of your entitlement to child care benefit for the care does not mean that you are no longer to be regarded as being entitled to child care benefit for the care.

Later determinations, variations and substitutions to be taken into account

- (7) If, after applying this Act at a particular time in relation to yourself and the care, a determination mentioned in this section is made or varied, or is set aside and a new determination substituted, the question of your entitlement to child care benefit for the care is to be redetermined taking account of the making, variation or substitution.

Amount of the child care tax offset

61-485 Amount of the child care tax offset

The amount of your *tax offset for a child care offset year is worked out in this way:

Method statement

- Step 1. For each child in relation to whom you are entitled to the *tax offset for the child care offset year, work out amounts in accordance with steps 2, 3 and 4.
- Step 2. Work out the total amount of your *approved child care fees for the child in each *child care base week for you and the child in the child care base year.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- Step 3. Work out the total amount of your *entitlement to child care benefit for *approved child care for the child in each *child care base week for you and the child in the child care base year.
- Step 4. Work out the lesser of the following amounts (the child offset) for the child:
- (a) the amount worked out using the formula:
$$30\% \times \left( \text{Step 2 amount} - \text{Step 3 amount} \right)$$
  - (b) the *child care offset limit for the child care base year.
- Step 5. Total the child offsets for each of those children. The result is the amount of your *tax offset for the child care offset year.

61-490 Component of formula—*approved child care fees

General rule—approved child care fees for a child care base week for you and a child

- (1) The amount of your approved child care fees for a child for a *child care base week for you and the child is the amount of fees for *approved child care for the child during the week that are incurred by:
- (a) you; or
  - (b) your partner, within the meaning of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999, during the week.

Subject to subsection (2), it does not matter whether you are *entitled to child care benefit for all of that care.

Special rule if the week is also a child care base week for your partner and the child

- (2) If the *child care base week is also a child care base week for your partner and the child, your approved child care fees for the week

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

do not include any fees incurred by your partner for *approved child care, for the child in the week, for which you are not *entitled to child care benefit.

If fee reduction applies, count unreduced amount of fees

- (3) If fees for *approved child care have been reduced under section 219A of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) (Administration) Act 1999, then for this section, a reference to the fees incurred for the care is taken to be a reference to the fees that would have been incurred for the care if they had not been so reduced.

61-495 Component of formula—*child care offset limit

- (1) The child care offset limit for the 2004-2005 child care base year is $4,000. The limit is indexed annually.

Note: Subdivision 960-M shows you how to index amounts.

- (2) In applying the indexation formula in subsection 960-275(1) to determine the child care offset limit for the 2005-2006 child care base year or a later child care base year, the relevant financial year is the child care base year rather than the child care offset year for which the offset is being calculated.

Transfer of entitlement to unused balance of child care tax offset

61-496 Entitlement to transfer

- (1) You may transfer your entitlement to so much of your *tax offset as is equal to the excess to the individual who was your *spouse as at the last day of the child care offset year.

Note: The excess part of a tax offset is worked out under Division 63.

- (2) If you make a transfer:
- the transferee is entitled to the transferred part of the *tax offset for the child care offset year; and
  - you are no longer entitled to the transferred part of the tax offset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 61-497

---

- (3) A transfer cannot be revoked.
- (4) If you die during the child care offset year, the reference to your *spouse in subsection (1) is taken to be a reference to your spouse just before your death.

61-497 Form of transfer

- (1) A transfer has effect only if you have applied for it in the *approved form.
- (2) The *approved form must require the inclusion of:
  - (a) your *tax file number; and
  - (b) the tax file number of the transferee; and
  - (c) the transferee's signed consent to:
    - (i) the transfer; and
    - (ii) the disclosure of his or her tax file number in the form.
- (3) Subsection (2) does not limit what may be required by the *approved form.

Subdivision 61-J—25% entrepreneurs' tax offset

Guide to Subdivision 61-J

61-500 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision provides a 25% tax offset on your income tax liability related to the business income of a small business entity with aggregated turnover of less than $75,000.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Your entitlement to the offset varies depending on what kind of entity you are. The amount of your offset varies depending on whether your aggregated turnover is $50,000 or less or is more than $50,000.

You may be entitled to more than 1 tax offset. For example, if you are an individual running your own small business, you may be entitled to a tax offset under section 61-505. If you are also a beneficiary of a trust that is a small business entity, you may be entitled to a tax offset under section 61-520.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

61-505	25% entrepreneurs' tax offset: individual or company
61-510	25% entrepreneurs' tax offset: partner in a partnership
61-515	25% entrepreneurs' tax offset: trustee of a trust
61-520	25% entrepreneurs' tax offset: beneficiary of a trust
61-525	Meaning of net small business income and small business entity turnover

Operative provisions

61-505 25% entrepreneurs' tax offset: individual or company

Entitlement

- (1) You are entitled to a *tax offset for an income year if:
  - (a) you are an individual or a company; and
  - (b) you are a *small business entity for the year; and
  - (c) your *aggregated turnover for the year is less than $75,000;
and
  - (d) you have *net small business income for the year.

Amount

- (2) The amount of your *tax offset is worked out in this way:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Method statement

- Step 1. Work out your taxable income for the income year.
- Step 2. Work out 25% of your basic income tax liability for the year (as worked out in step 2 of the method statement in subsection 4-10(3)).
- Step 3. Work out the percentage (the small business percentage) using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Your *net small business income for the year}}{\text{Your taxable income for the year}} \times 100$$

If that percentage is more than 100%, the small business percentage is 100%.

- Step 4. If your *aggregated turnover for the year is $50,000 or less, multiply the amount at step 2 by the small business percentage: the result is the amount of your *tax offset.
- Step 5. If your *aggregated turnover for the year is more than $50,000, work out the fraction (the small business phase-out fraction) using the formula:

$$\frac{$75,000 - \text{Your *aggregated turnover for the year}}{$25,000}$$

The amount of your *tax offset is worked out using the formula:

$$\text{Step 2 amount} \times \frac{\text{Small business percentage}}{\text{Small business percentage}} \times \frac{\text{Small business phase-out fraction}}{\text{Small business phase-out fraction}}$$

Example: A company runs a local sports business. The company is a small business entity for the year. The company's aggregated turnover for the year is $50,000, the company's net small business income for the year is $40,000 and the company's taxable income for the year is $80,000.

The company is entitled to a tax offset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

The amount of the offset is worked out in this way:

The step 1 amount is $80,000.

The step 2 amount is $6,000: 25% of the company's basic income tax liability of $24,000 ($80,000 multiplied by the 30% company tax rate).

The step 3 small business percentage is:

$$\frac{$40,000}{$80,000} \times 100 = 50\%$$

The amount of the company's tax offset (step 4) is:

$$$6,000 \times 50\% = $3,000$$

61-510 25% entrepreneurs' tax offset: partner in a partnership

Entitlement

- (1) You are entitled to a *tax offset for an income year if:
- (a) you are a partner in a partnership during the year; and
  - (b) the partnership is a *small business entity for the year; and
  - (c) the partnership's *aggregated turnover for the year is less than $75,000; and
  - (d) the partnership has *net small business income for the year; and
  - (e) your assessable income for the year includes a share (your net small business income share) of that net small business income.

Amount

- (2) The amount of your *tax offset is worked out in this way:

Method statement

Step 1. Work out your taxable income for the income year.

Step 2. Work out 25% of your basic income tax liability for the year (as worked out in step 2 of the method statement in subsection 4-10(3)).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 61-515

---

Step 3. Work out the percentage (the small business percentage) using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Your net small business income share}}{\text{Your taxable income for the year}} \times 100$$

If that percentage is more than 100%, the small business percentage is 100%.

Step 4. If the partnership's *aggregated turnover for the year is $50,000 or less, multiply the amount at step 2 by the small business percentage: the result is the amount of your *tax offset.

Step 5. If the partnership's *aggregated turnover for the year is more than $50,000, work out the fraction (the small business phase-out fraction) using the formula:

$$\frac{$75,000 - \text{The partnership's *aggregated turnover for the year}}{$25,000}$$

The amount of your *tax offset is worked out using the formula:

$$\text{Step 2 amount} \times \text{Small business percentage} \times \text{Small business phase-out fraction}$$

61-515 25% entrepreneurs' tax offset: trustee of a trust

Entitlement

- (1) You are entitled to a *tax offset for an income year if:
- (a) you are a trustee of a trust during the year; and
  - (b) the trust is a *small business entity for the year; and
  - (c) the trust's *aggregated turnover for the year is less than $75,000; and
  - (d) the trust has *net small business income for the year; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (e) you are liable to be assessed under section 98, 99 or 99A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 on a share (your net small business income share) of that net small business income.

Amount

- (2) The amount of your *tax offset is worked out in this way:

Method statement

Step 1. Work out the *net income of the trust for the income year.

Step 2. Work out 25% of the amount of income tax you are liable to pay for the year on that *net income (apart from any *tax offsets).

Step 3. Work out the percentage (the small business percentage) using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Your net small business income share}}{\text{The *net income of the trust for the year}} \times 100$$

If that percentage is more than 100%, the small business percentage is 100%.

Step 4. If the trust's *aggregated turnover for the year is $50,000 or less, multiply the amount at step 2 by the small business percentage: the result is the amount of your *tax offset.

Step 5. If the trust's *aggregated turnover for the year is more than $50,000, work out the fraction (the small business phase-out fraction) using the formula:

$$\frac{$75,000 - \text{The trust's *aggregated turnover for the year}}{$25,000}$$

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 61-520

---

The amount of your *tax offset is worked out using the formula:

$$\text{Step 2 amount} \times \text{Small business percentage} \times \text{Small business phase-out fraction}$$

61-520 25% entrepreneurs' tax offset: beneficiary of a trust

Entitlement

- (1) You are entitled to a *tax offset for an income year if:
  - (a) you are a beneficiary of a trust during the year; and
  - (b) the trust is a *small business entity for the year; and
  - (c) the trust's *aggregated turnover for the year is less than $75,000; and
  - (d) the trust has *net small business income for the year; and
  - (e) your assessable income for the year includes a share (your net small business income share) of that net small business income.

Amount

- (2) The amount of your *tax offset is worked out in this way:

Method statement

- Step 1. Work out your taxable income for the income year.
- Step 2. Work out 25% of your basic income tax liability for the year (as worked out in step 2 of the method statement in subsection 4-10(3)).
- Step 3. Work out the percentage (the small business percentage) using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Your net small business income share}}{\text{Your taxable income for the year}} \times 100$$

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

If that percentage is more than 100%, the small business percentage is 100%.

Step 4. If the trust's *aggregated turnover for the year is $50,000 or less, multiply the amount at step 2 by the small business percentage: the result is the amount of your *tax offset.

Step 5. If the trust's *aggregated turnover for the year is more than $50,000, work out the fraction (the small business phase-out fraction) using the formula:

$$\frac{$75,000 - \text{The trust's *aggregated turnover for the year}}{$25,00}$$

The amount of your *tax offset is worked out using the formula:

$$\text{Step 2 amount} \times \text{Small business percentage} \times \text{Small business phase-out fraction}$$

61-525 Meaning of net small business income and *small business entity turnover

Net small business income

- (1) An entity's net small business income for an income year is the amount by which the entity's *small business entity turnover for the year is more than the sum of the entity's deductions attributable to that turnover.

Small business entity turnover

- (2) An entity's small business entity turnover for an income year is the total *ordinary income that the entity *derives in the income year in the ordinary course of carrying on a *business.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 61-550

---

- (3) In working out an entity's *small business entity turnover for an income year, do not include any amount that is *non-assessable non-exempt income under section 17-5 (which is about GST).

Subdivision 61-K—Mature age worker tax offset

Guide to Subdivision 61-K

61-550 What this Subdivision is about

You may get a tax offset under this Subdivision if you are an Australian resident individual who is aged 55 or over at the end of the income year and who has worked during the year.

The amount of the offset depends on the amount of your net income from working, but is up to a maximum of $500. (Basically, your net income from working is the total of amounts of assessable income that are mainly a reward for your personal efforts or skills, less any relevant deductions.)

Table of sections

Operative provisions

61-555	Object of this Subdivision
61-560	Entitlement to the mature age worker tax offset
61-565	The amount of the tax offset
61-570	Definition of net income from working

Operative provisions

61-555 Object of this Subdivision

The object of this Subdivision is to provide a *tax offset (subject to certain income conditions) as an incentive to Australians aged 55 or over to remain in work.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

61-560 Entitlement to the mature age worker tax offset

You are entitled to a *tax offset for an income year if you are an Australian resident individual who is aged 55 or over at the end of the income year.

Note: However, the amount of the tax offset is nil if you have no net income from working or your net income from working is over $63,000 (or $58,000 for the 2004-2005 income year).

61-565 The amount of the tax offset

(1) If your *net income from working for the income year is equal to or less than $53,000, the amount of the *tax offset is the lesser of the amount worked out under the following formula and $500:
 $5\% \times \text{Your net income from working for the year}$

(2) If your *net income from working for the income year is greater than $53,000, the amount of the *tax offset is the amount worked out under the following formula (but not below nil):

$$$500 - \left[ 5\% \times \left( \text{Your net income from working for the year} - $53,000 \right) \right]$$

Special rule for the 2004-2005 income year

(3) For the 2004-2005 income year, references in subsections (1) and (2) to $53,000 are taken instead to be references to $48,000.

61-570 Definition of *net income from working

(1) Your net income from working for an income year is the sum of the following amounts (excluding amounts covered by subsection (2)):

- (a) your assessable income for the year to the extent that it consists of the following:
  - (i) *personal services income;
  - (ii) assessable income from a *business you carry on;
  - (iii) an amount included under section 393-15 of Schedule 2G to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 as

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 61-575

---

a result of the repayment of a *farm management deposit;

(b) your *reportable fringe benefits total for the year;

(c) the total of your *reportable employer superannuation contributions for the year;

less the sum of any amounts you can deduct for the year to the extent that they relate to assessable income mentioned in subparagraph (a)(i) or (ii).

(2) Your net income from working for an income year does not include your assessable income for the year to the extent that it consists of the following:

(a) amounts of *superannuation lump sums or *employment termination payments;

(b) amounts of *unused annual leave payments or *unused long service leave payments;

(c) amounts of passive income (within the meaning of section 6 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936).

Subdivision 61-L—Tax offset for Medicare levy surcharge (lump sum payments in arrears)

Guide to Subdivision 61-L

61-575 What this Subdivision is about

You may get a tax offset under this Subdivision if:

(a) Medicare levy surcharge is payable by you for the current year; and

(b) a substantial lump sum was paid to you in the current year; and

(c) the lump sum accrued in whole or in part in a previous year.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

The amount of the offset is the amount of additional Medicare levy surcharge payable by you for the current year because of your lump sums and your spouse's lump sums.

Alternatively, you may get a tax offset under this Subdivision if your spouse gets a tax offset under this Subdivision. The amount of the offset is the amount of additional Medicare levy surcharge payable by you for the current year because of your spouse's lump sums.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

61-580	Entitlement to a tax offset
61-585	The amount of a tax offset
61-590	Definition of MLS lump sums

Operative provisions

61-580 Entitlement to a tax offset

Tax offset for MLS lump sums paid to you

- (1) You are entitled to a *tax offset for the *current year if:
- (a) you are an individual; and
  - (b) *Medicare levy surcharge is payable by you for the current year because of:
    - (i) section 8B, 8C or 8D of the Medicare Levy Act 1986; or
    - (ii) the A New Tax System (Medicare Levy Surcharge—Fringe Benefits) Act 1999; and
  - (c) your assessable income or *exempt foreign employment income for the current year includes one or more *MLS lump sums paid to you; and
  - (d) the total of the MLS lump sums paid to you is greater than or equal to one-eleventh of the total of the following amounts:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-20 Tax offsets

Division 61 Generally applicable tax offsets

Section 61-580

---

- (i) your normal taxable income (within the meaning of section 159ZR of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) for the current year;
- (ii) your exempt foreign employment income for the current year;
- (iii) your *reportable fringe benefits total for the current year;
- (iv) the amounts that would be included in your assessable income for the current year if, and only if, subsection 271-105(1) (family trust distribution tax) in Schedule 2F to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 were ignored;
- (v) your *reportable superannuation contributions for the current year;
- (vi) your *total net investment loss for the current year.

Note: The test in paragraph (d) is similar to the 10% test in paragraph 159ZRA(1)(b) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, which also deals with a tax offset for lump sum payments in arrears.

Tax offset for MLS lump sums paid to your spouse

- (2) You are also entitled to a *tax offset for the *current year if:
  - (a) during all or part of the current year, you were married to an individual (within the meaning of section 3 of the Medicare Levy Act 1986 or section 7 of the A New Tax System (Medicare Levy Surcharge—Fringe Benefits) Act 1999); and
  - (b) the individual is entitled to a tax offset for the current year under subsection (1); and
  - (c) *Medicare levy surcharge is payable by you for the current year because of:
    - (i) section 8D of the Medicare Levy Act 1986; or
    - (ii) Division 4 of Part 3 of the A New Tax System (Medicare Levy Surcharge—Fringe Benefits) Act 1999;(which are about Medicare Levy surcharge for individuals who are married); and
  - (d) you are not entitled to a tax offset for the current year under subsection (1); and
  - (e) less of the Medicare levy surcharge referred to in paragraph (c) would be payable by you for the current year if the *MLS lump sums paid to the individual referred to in paragraph (a) were disregarded.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

61-585 The amount of a tax offset

- (1) The amount of a *tax offset under subsection 61-580(1) is the amount worked out using the following formula:

$$\text{Total Medicare levy surcharge} - \frac{\text{Total non-arrears Medicare levy surcharge}}{\text{Medicare levy surcharge}}$$

where:

total Medicare levy surcharge means the total of the *Medicare levy surcharge referred to in paragraph 61-580(1)(b) that is payable by you for the *current year.

total non-arrears Medicare levy surcharge means the amount that would be the total Medicare levy surcharge if the *MLS lump sums paid to you (and the MLS lump sums paid to the individual referred to in paragraph 61-580(2)(a)) were disregarded.

- (2) The amount of a *tax offset under subsection 61-580(2) is the amount worked out using the following formula:

$$\frac{\text{Total family Medicare levy surcharge}}{\text{Medicare levy surcharge}} - \frac{\text{Total non-arrears family Medicare levy surcharge}}{\text{Medicare levy surcharge}}$$

where:

total family Medicare levy surcharge means the total of the *Medicare levy surcharge referred to in paragraph 61-580(2)(c) that is payable by you for the *current year.

total non-arrears family Medicare levy surcharge means the amount that would be the total family Medicare levy surcharge if the *MLS lump sums referred to in paragraph 61-580(2)(e) were disregarded.

61-590 Definition of *MLS lump sums

Both of the following are MLS lump sums paid to an individual:

- (a) a lump sum payment of eligible income (within the meaning of section 159ZR of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-20 Tax offsets

Division 61 Generally applicable tax offsets

Section 61-590

---

that is included in the individual's assessable income for the *current year (but only to the extent that it accrued in an earlier income year);

- (b) a lump sum payment that is included in the individual's *exempt foreign employment income for the current year (but only to the extent that it accrued during a period ending more than 12 months before the date on which it was paid).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 61-M—Education expenses tax offset

Guide to Subdivision 61-M

61-600 What this Subdivision is about

You may get a refundable tax offset for education expenses incurred for a school student in your care, or for yourself if you are an independent student.

There is a limit on the amount of the tax offset.

Education expenses over the limit can be taken into account in the next year of income.

Table of sections

Entitlement to education expenses tax offset

61-610	Entitlement to education expenses tax offset
61-620	Eligibility in respect of another individual
61-630	Schooling requirement
61-640	Education expenses

Amount of education expenses tax offset

61-650	Amount of education expenses tax offset
61-660	Education expenses tax offset limit
61-670	Shared care
61-680	Excess education expenses

Entitlement to education expenses tax offset

61-610 Entitlement to education expenses tax offset

Entitlement in respect of another individual

- (1) You are entitled to a *tax offset for an income year if:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 61-610

---

- (a) you satisfy subsection 61-620(1), (2), (3) or (4) on a day in the income year for an individual; and
- (b) the individual satisfies the schooling requirement in section 61-630 on that day; and
- (c) an expense covered by section 61-640 for the individual's education is incurred on that day.

Entitlement for independent students

- (2) You are also entitled to a *tax offset for an income year if:
  - (a) on a day in the income year you are receiving:
    - (i) payments under a prescribed educational scheme (within the meaning of the Social Security Act 1991); or
    - (ii) a social security pension (within the meaning of that Act); or
    - (iii) a social security benefit (within the meaning of that Act); or
    - (iv) payments under a program included in the programs known as Labour Market Programs; and
  - (b) an independence requirement (however described) that you satisfy is relevant to the amount of the payment; and
  - (c) on that day you are:
    - (i) an Australian resident (within the meaning of the Social Security Act 1991) or a special category visa holder (within the meaning of the Migration Act 1958); and
    - (ii) residing in Australia; and
  - (d) you are aged under 25 on that day; and
  - (e) you satisfy the schooling requirement in section 61-630 on that day; and
  - (f) another individual or entity is not entitled to a tax offset for the income year for that day in respect of you under subsection (1); and
  - (g) an expense covered by section 61-640 for your education is incurred on that day.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

61-620 Eligibility in respect of another individual

You are entitled to Family Tax Benefit (Part A)

- (1) You satisfy this section on a day in an income year for an individual if:
  - (a) you are entitled to be paid family tax benefit for the individual in relation to that day under the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) (Administration) Act 1999; and
  - (b) your daily rate of family tax benefit for that day consists of, or includes, a Part A rate worked out under Part 2 or 3 of Schedule 1 to the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999 that is greater than nil.

You care for an individual entitled to certain payments

- (2) You satisfy this section on a day in an income year for an individual if:
  - (a) one or more of the following:
    - (i) payments under a prescribed educational scheme (within the meaning of the Social Security Act 1991); or
    - (ii) a social security pension (within the meaning of that Act); or
    - (iii) a social security benefit (within the meaning of that Act); or
    - (iv) payments under a program included in the programs known as Labour Market Programs;is received on that day by the individual, or by you or another person on the individual's behalf; and
  - (b) the individual would be your FTB child (within the meaning of Subdivision A of Division 1 of Part 3 of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999) on that day if that payment were disregarded.

Approved care organisation

- (3) An approved care organisation (within the meaning of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999) satisfies this section on a day in an income year for an individual if the approved care

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 61-630

---

organisation is entitled, under the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) (Administration) Act 1999, to be paid family tax benefit for that individual on that day.

Individual finishing full-time schooling—cut-out amount disregarded

- (4) You satisfy this section on a day in an income year for an individual if:
- (a) the individual satisfies the schooling requirement in section 61-630 on that day; and
  - (b) during the income year, the individual ceased to be covered by either subsection 61-630(2) or (4); and
  - (c) the individual was not covered by either of those subsections at the end of the year of income; and
  - (d) the Commissioner is of the opinion that you would satisfy one or more of subsections (1), (2) and (3) for the individual on that day if:
    - (i) paragraph (a) of item 2 of the table in subsection 22A(1) of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999 (which deals with the cut-out amount) were disregarded; or
    - (ii) for approved care organisations (within the meaning of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999)—paragraph (a) of item 2 of the table in subsection 35(1) of that Act (which also deals with the cut-out amount) were disregarded.

61-630 Schooling requirement

- (1) An individual satisfies the schooling requirement in this section on every day in a 6 month period beginning on 1 July or 1 January if there is at least one day in that 6 month period on which the individual:
- (a) is covered by subsection (2) or (4); and
  - (b) attended the course of study or instruction, or received the home schooling, referred to in that subsection.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Primary school student

- (2) An individual is covered by this section if the individual is a student enrolled or registered:
- (a) in a course of study or instruction that is a primary course within the meaning of the *GST Act; or
  - (b) with the education authority of the State or Territory in which the individual resides as a home schooled student (however described) allocated to the primary level of education; or
  - (c) in a course of study or instruction to which subsection (3) applies.
- (3) The Minister administering the Student Assistance Act 1973 (the Education Minister) may, by legislative instrument, determine that a course of study or instruction is a course to which this subsection applies.

Secondary school student

- (4) An individual is covered by this section if the individual is a student enrolled or registered:
- (a) in a course of study or instruction that is a secondary course within the meaning of the *GST Act; or
  - (b) with the education authority of the State or Territory in which the individual resides as a home schooled student (however described) allocated to the secondary level of education; or
  - (c) in a course of study or instruction to which subsection (5) applies.
- (5) The Education Minister may, by legislative instrument, determine that a course of study or instruction is a course to which this subsection applies.

61-640 Education expenses

- (1) An expense incurred on a day is covered for you by this section if:
- (a) the expense is incurred by:
    - (i) you; or
    - (ii) your partner (within the meaning of the Social Security Act 1991); and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 61-640

---

- (b) the expense directly relates to the education of:
    - (i) one or more individuals in relation to whom paragraphs 61-610(1)(a) and (b) are satisfied on the day; or
    - (ii) if you are covered by paragraphs 61-610(2)(a), (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) on the day—yourself; and
  - (c) the expense is of a kind mentioned in subsection (4).
- (2) However, an expense is not covered by this section to the extent that the expense:
- (a) is deductible under this Act; or
  - (b) is subject to a *tax offset under this Act (other than this Subdivision); or
  - (c) is covered by a payment or property you receive, or are entitled to receive, as reimbursement or payment of your expenses under a benefit, grant or subsidy:
    - (i) the provision of which was authorised under a *Commonwealth law or an instrument of a legislative character made under a Commonwealth law; or
    - (ii) to which paragraph (3)(a) applies.
- (3) The regulations may provide the following:
- (a) that a benefit, grant or subsidy is a benefit, grant or subsidy to which this paragraph applies;
  - (b) that an expense of a particular kind is not an expense covered by this section.
- (4) The expenses are those mentioned in column 3 of an item in the following table relating to a thing mentioned in column 2 of that item.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Item	Thing to which expense relates	Kind of expense
1	Computer for: (a) home use (including, in the case of an individual who has no home, use in a setting that equates to a residential setting for the person); or (b) use in an educational institution in place of paper based educational material	(a) cost of acquiring (whether by way of purchase, lease, hire or hire-purchase); and (b) cost of repairing; and (c) costs associated with running.
2	Computer-related equipment for a use referred to in item 1, including: (a) printers; and (b) disability aids	(a) cost of acquiring (whether by way of purchase, lease, hire or hire-purchase); and (b) cost of repairing; and (c) costs associated with running.
3	Home internet connection	(a) cost of establishing; and (b) cost of maintaining.
4	Item of computer software	cost of acquiring (whether by way of purchase, lease, hire or hire-purchase).
5	School textbooks, other paper based school learning material and stationery	cost of acquiring (whether by way of purchase, lease, hire or hire-purchase).
6	A tool of trade	cost of acquiring (whether by way of purchase, lease, hire or hire-purchase).

Amount of education expenses tax offset

61-650 Amount of education expenses tax offset

- (1) The amount of your *tax offset for an income year (the current year) is the amount (rounded up to the nearest whole dollar) that is the lesser of:
- (a) one half of the sum of:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 61-650

---

- (i) all of the expenses covered for you by section 61-640 for the current year; and
  - (ii) your expenses covered by section 61-680 (about excess education expenses) for the income year ending immediately before the current year; and
- (b) your offset limit under section 61-660 for the current year.

Effect of shared care arrangements

(2) If:

- (a) on a particular day, you and your partner (within the meaning of the Social Security Act 1991) (your partner) satisfy subsection 61-620(1) for an individual; and
- (b) a determination has been made under section 28 or 29 of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999 of your percentage, and of your partner's percentage, of the family tax benefit for the individual for a period that includes that day; and
- (c) an expense covered for you by section 61-640 was incurred on that day;

for the purposes of subparagraph (1)(a)(i) you and your partner may each count only a portion of the expense corresponding to your percentage.

(3) If:

- (a) on a particular day, you are a member of a couple (within the meaning of the Social Security Act 1991); and
- (b) both you and your partner (within the meaning of that Act) (your partner) satisfy subsection 61-620(2) or (4) for one or more individuals on that day; and
- (c) an expense covered for you by section 61-640 was incurred on that day;

for the purposes of subparagraph (1)(a)(i) the expense only counts as follows:

- (d) if you and your partner have made a written agreement nominating one of you as the member who can claim the offset under this Subdivision in respect of the individual or individuals for a period including that day:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (i) the nominated member may count the whole of each expense covered for you by section 61-640 incurred on that day; and
- (ii) the other member must not count any of the expense; or
- (e) if paragraph (d) does not apply—you and your partner may each count only half of the expense.

61-660 Education expenses tax offset limit

- (1) Your offset limit is:
  - (a) if you satisfy paragraphs 61-610(1)(a), (b) and (c) for one or more individuals in the current year—the sum of the amounts worked out under the method statement for each such individual; and
  - (b) if you are an independent student covered by subsection 61-610(2)—the amount worked out for yourself under the method statement.

Method statement

Step 1. Start with this amount:

- (a) for an individual who satisfies the schooling requirement in subsection 61-630(4) (for secondary school students) on a day in the current year—$750; or
- (b) if paragraph (a) does not apply and the individual satisfies the schooling requirement in subsection 61-630(2) (for primary school students) on a day in the current year—$375.

Note: The effect of step 1 is that the secondary school student starting amount applies for the whole year where an individual completes primary school in the first half of the financial year and starts secondary school in the second half of the financial year.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 61-670

---

Step 2. Add up the number of days in the current year on which:

- (a) paragraphs 61-610(1)(a) and (b) are satisfied for you and the individual; or

Note: There are modifications to step 2(a) in section 61-670.

- (b) if you are an independent student covered by subsection 61-610(2)—paragraphs 61-610(2)(a), (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) apply to you.

Step 3. Divide the result of step 2 by the number of days in the current year. Round the result to 2 decimal places (rounding up if the third decimal place is 5 or more).

Step 4. Multiply the result from step 1 by the result from step 3.

- (2) The amounts specified in step 1 of the method statement in subsection (1) are indexed annually.

Note: Subdivision 960-M shows you how to index amounts.

61-670 Shared care

- (1) This section modifies the operation of step 2 of the method statement in subsection 61-660(1).

Modification for shared care determinations

- (2) If:

- (a) on a particular day, you satisfy subsection 61-620(1) for an individual; and
- (b) a determination has been made under section 28 or 29 of the A New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999 of your percentage of the family tax benefit for the individual for a period that includes that day; and
- (c) step 2 applies to that day;

only a portion of that day corresponding to that percentage may be counted for the purposes of step 2.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(3) If:

- (a) on a particular day, you satisfy subsection 61-620(1) for an individual; and
- (b) you have a shared care percentage under section 59 of the New Tax System (Family Assistance) Act 1999 for the individual for a period that includes that day; and
- (c) step 2 (including that step as affected by subsection (2)) applies to that day;

only a portion of that day (or only a portion of the portion referred to in subsection (2)) corresponding to the shared care percentage may be counted for the purposes of step 2 (or that step as affected by subsection (2)).

Modification for members of a couple

(4) If:

- (a) on a particular day, you are a member of a couple (within the meaning of the Social Security Act 1991); and
- (b) both you and your partner (within the meaning of that Act) (your partner) satisfy subsection 61-620(2) or (4) for one or more individuals on that day; and
- (c) step 2 applies to that day;

for the purposes of step 2 the day only counts as follows:

- (d) if you and your partner have made a written agreement nominating one of you as the member who can claim the offset under this Subdivision in respect of the individual or individuals for that period:
  - (i) the nominated member may, subject to subsection (5), count the whole of each day in the period for each such individual; and
  - (ii) the other member must not count any days in the period for each such individual; or
- (e) if paragraph (d) does not apply—only half of each day in the period may, subject to subsection (5), be counted.

Modification for individuals not members of a couple

- (5) If you and one or more other entities (other than your partner (within the meaning of the Social Security Act 1991)) each satisfy

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 61-680

---

subsection 61-620(2) or (4) for an individual on a day, you may only count for the purposes of step 2 (or that step as affected by subsection (4)) a portion of that day that is reasonable having regard to:

- (a) the objects of this subsection; and
  - (b) the living arrangements of the individual.
- (6) The objects of subsection (5) are:
- (a) to determine the extent to which the individual was in your care on a day; and
  - (b) to prevent double counting in distributing the tax offset under this Subdivision between you and others who share the care of the individual.

61-680 Excess education expenses

- (1) You have an amount covered by this section from an income year if the amount worked out under paragraph 61-650(1)(a) for the year exceeds your offset limit for the year under section 61-660.
- (2) The amount that is covered by this section is the lesser of:
  - (a) all of the expenses covered for you by section 61-640 for the year that can be counted for the purposes of subparagraph 61-650(1)(a)(i); and
  - (b) twice the amount of the excess.

Note: The excess is worked out by comparing half of the education expenses to the offset limit (see section 61-650). Paragraph (b) doubles any excess so that the excess expenses have their original value and can be counted in full the next year.

Example: A family with one child in full-time secondary schooling has incurred education expenses of $2,000 in an income year. Under section 61-650, these expenses are halved ($1,000) and then compared to the offset limit ($750). The excess of $250 is doubled under subsection (2) to restore it to the original expense amount. In the next year, the family can count this $500 of expenses towards the offset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Division 63—Common rules for tax offsets*Guide to Division 63*63-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out some rules that are common to all tax offsets.

Table of sections

63-10 Priority rules

63-10 Priority rules

- (1) If you have one or more *tax offsets for an income year, apply them against your basic income tax liability in the order shown in the table. To the extent that an amount of a tax offset remains, the table tells you what happens to it.

Order of applying tax offsets

Item	Tax offset	What happens to any excess
5	*Tax offset under section 160AAAA of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (tax offset for low income aged persons)	Your entitlement to it is transferred in accordance with regulations made under that Act
10	*Tax offset under section 160AAAB of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (tax offset for low income aged persons—trustee assessed under section 98)	Your entitlement to it is transferred in accordance with regulations made under that Act
15	*Tax offset under section 160AAA of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (tax offset in respect of certain pensions)	Your entitlement to it is transferred in accordance with regulations made under that Act

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-20 Tax offsets

Division 63 Common rules for tax offsets

Section 63-10

---

---

Order of applying tax offsets

---

Item	Tax offset	What happens to any excess
20	Any * tax offset not covered by another item in this table	You cannot get a refund of it, you cannot transfer it and you cannot carry it forward to a later income year
22	*Tax offset for *foreign income tax under Division 770	You cannot get a refund of it, you cannot transfer it and you cannot carry it forward to a later income year
25	Child care *tax offset under Subdivision 61-IA	You may transfer your entitlement to it to your *spouse (under sections 61-496 and 61-497)
30	Landcare and water facility *tax offset under the former Subdivision 388-A	You may carry it forward to a later income year (under Division 65)
40	*Tax offset that is subject to the refundable tax offset rules (see Division 67)	You can get a refund of the remaining amount
45	*Tax offset arising from payment of *franking deficit tax (see section 205-70)	You may carry it forward to a later income year (under section 205-70)

---

Note 1: Section 13-1 lists tax offsets.

Note 2: Former Division 388 was repealed by the New Business Tax System (Capital Allowances—Transitional and Consequential) Act 2001.

Note 4: The remaining amount of a carry forward tax offset may be reduced by section 65-30 or 65-35 to take account of net exempt income.

Note 5: Tax offsets mentioned in items 5 and 10 are more commonly referred to as the Senior Australians Tax Offset.

(2) Within each item, apply the tax offsets in the order in which they arose.

Note: This would be relevant if you have carry forward tax offsets of the same category for different income years.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 65—Tax offset carry forward rules

Guide to Division 65

65-10 What this Division is about

This Division sets out the rules about carrying forward excess tax offsets to later income years.

You can only carry forward certain tax offsets.

Before you can apply a tax offset to reduce the amount of income tax that you will pay in a later year, you must apply it to reduce certain amounts of net exempt income.

The same rules that prevent companies from using certain losses that are carried forward prevent companies from applying tax offsets that they have carried forward.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

65-30	Amount carried forward
65-35	How to apply carried forward tax offsets
65-40	When a company cannot apply a tax offset
65-50	Effect of bankruptcy
65-55	Deduction for amounts paid for debts incurred before bankruptcy

Operative provisions

65-30 Amount carried forward

The amount of the *tax offset that is carried forward is the amount of the excess worked out under Division 63. However, if you have a taxable income for the income year, reduce the tax offset by the following amount:

\*Net exempt income  $\times$  0.3

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

65-35 How to apply carried forward tax offsets

- (1) A *tax offset that you have carried forward decreases the amount of income tax that you would otherwise have to pay under section 4-10 in a later income year.
- (2) You apply a *tax offset that is carried forward to a later year in accordance with the priorities set out in Division 63 as if it were a tax offset for that later year.
- (3) Before you apply a *tax offset to reduce the amount of income tax that you pay in a later income year in which you have a taxable income, you must apply it to reduce to nil any *net exempt income for:
  - (a) that later income year; or
  - (b) any income year after the year in which the tax offset arose and before the later income year in which you had a taxable income but did not apply the tax offset to reduce the amount of income tax you had to pay.

In reducing net exempt income, each 30 cents of tax offset reduces the net exempt income by $1.

Note: Paragraph (b) would apply to cases such as where your taxable income was below your tax-free threshold or where you had other tax offsets that reduced your income tax to nil.

- (4) You can only apply a *tax offset that you have carried forward to the extent that it has not already been applied.

Note: Section 65-40 contains special restrictions on applying carried forward tax offsets.

65-40 When a company cannot apply a tax offset

- (1) In working out its *tax offset for the *current year, a company cannot apply a *tax offset it has carried forward if, assuming:
  - (a) the tax offset were a *tax loss of the company for the income year in which it became entitled to the tax offset; and
  - (b) section 165-20 (deducting part of a tax loss) were disregarded;Subdivision 165-A would prevent the company from deducting it for the current year.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Note: Subdivision 165-A deals with the deductibility of a company's tax loss for an earlier income year if there has been a change in the ownership or control of the company in the loss year or the income year.

- (2) If subsection (1) prevents the company from applying the *tax offset, it can apply the part of the tax offset that it is reasonable to consider relates to a part of the income year in which it became entitled to the tax offset, but only if, assuming that part of that income year had been treated as the whole of it, the company would have been entitled to apply the tax offset.

65-50 Effect of bankruptcy

- (1) If during the *current year:
- (a) you became bankrupt; or
  - (b) you were released from debts under a law relating to bankruptcy;
- you cannot apply a *tax offset that you have carried forward from an earlier income year in working out the tax offset for the current year or a later income year.
- (2) Subsection (1) applies even though your bankruptcy is annulled if:
- (a) the annulment happens under section 74 of the Bankruptcy Act 1966 because your creditors have accepted your proposal for a composition or scheme of arrangement; and
  - (b) under the composition or scheme of arrangement concerned, you were, will be or may be released from debts from which you would have been released if instead you had been discharged from the bankruptcy.

65-55 Deduction for amounts paid for debts incurred before bankruptcy

- (1) If:
- (a) you pay an amount in the *current year for a debt that you incurred in an earlier income year; and
  - (b) you have a *tax offset referred to in section 65-50 for that earlier income year;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 65-55

---

you can deduct the amount paid, but only to the extent that it does not exceed so much of the debt as the Commissioner is satisfied was taken into account in calculating the amount of the tax offset.

- (2) The total of the following amounts cannot exceed the total of the expenditure that the Commissioner is satisfied was taken into account in calculating the amount of the *tax offset that you are unable to apply because of section 66-50:
- (a) your deductions under subsection (1) for amounts paid in the *current year or an earlier income year for debts incurred in the income year for which you have the tax offset; and
  - (b) the expenditure that the Commissioner is satisfied was taken into account in calculating any amounts of the tax offset that, apart from section 65-50, would have been applied in reducing your *net exempt income for the current year or earlier income years.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 67—Refundable tax offset rules

Guide to Division 67

67-10 What this Division is about

If your total tax offsets exceed your basic income tax liability, and some of those offsets are subject to the refundable tax offset rules, you may get a refund instead of paying income tax (see section 63-10). This Division tells you which tax offsets are subject to the refundable tax offset rules.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

- 67-20 Which tax offsets this Division applies to
- 67-23 Refundable tax offsets
- 67-25 Refundable tax offsets—franked distributions

Operative provisions

67-20 Which tax offsets this Division applies to

This Division only applies to a *tax offset if it is stated to be subject to the refundable tax offset rules.

67-23 Refundable tax offsets

The following *tax offsets are subject to the refundable tax offset rules:

Refundable tax offsets
Item	Subject matter	Tax offset
5	private health insurance	private health insurance tax offsets under Subdivision 61-G, other than those arising

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-20 Tax offsets

Division 67 Refundable tax offset rules

Section 67-25

---

---

Refundable tax offsets

---

Item	Subject matter	Tax offset
		under subsection 61-205(2)
10	children	first child tax offsets under Subdivision 61-I
15	no-TFN contributions income	the *tax offset available under Subdivision 295-J
20	films	the *tax offsets available under Division 376
25	National Urban Water and Desalination Plan	urban water tax offset under Subdivision 402-W
30	life insurance company's subsidiary joining consolidated group	the *tax offset available under subsection 713-545(5)
35	research and development	the *tax offset available under section 73I of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936

---

Note 1: Subsection 61-205(2) of this Act deals with tax offsets for trustees who are assessed and liable to pay tax under section 98 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Note 2: For the tax offsets available under Division 207 and Subdivision 210-H (franked distributions), see section 67-25.

67-25 Refundable tax offsets—franked distributions

(1) *Tax offsets available under Division 207 (which sets out the effects of receiving a *franked distribution) or Subdivision 210-H (which sets out the effects of receiving a *distribution *franked with a venture capital credit) are subject to the refundable tax offset rules, unless otherwise stated in this section.

(1A) Where the trustee of a *non-complying superannuation fund or a *non-complying approved deposit fund is entitled to a *tax offset under Division 207 because a *franked distribution is made to, or *flows indirectly to, the trustee, the tax offset is not subject to the refundable tax offset rules.

(1B) If:

(a) the trustee of a trust to whom a *franked distribution *flows indirectly under subsection 207-50(4) is entitled to a *tax offset under Division 207 for an income year because of the distribution; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (b) the trustee is liable to be assessed under section 98 or 99A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 on a share of, or all or a part of, the trust's *net income for that income year;
the tax offset is not subject to the refundable tax offset rules.
- (1C) Where a *corporate tax entity is entitled to a *tax offset under Division 207 because a *franked distribution is made to the entity, the tax offset is not subject to the refundable tax offset rules unless:
- (a) the entity is an *exempt institution that is eligible for a refund; or
  - (b) the entity is a *life insurance company and the *membership interest on which the distribution was made was not held by the company on behalf of its shareholders at any time during the period:
    - (i) starting at the beginning of the income year of the company in which the distribution is made; and
    - (ii) ending when the distribution is made.
- (1D) Where a *corporate tax entity is entitled to a *tax offset under Division 207 because a *franked distribution *flows indirectly to the entity, the tax offset is not subject to the refundable tax offset rules unless:
- (a) the entity is an *exempt institution that is eligible for a refund; or
  - (b) the entity is a *life insurance company and the company's interest in the *membership interest on which the distribution was made was not held by the company on behalf of its shareholders at any time during the period:
    - (i) starting at the beginning of the income year of the company in which the distribution is made; and
    - (ii) ending when the distribution is made.
- (1DA) A *tax offset is not subject to the refundable tax offset rules if:
- (a) an entity is entitled to the tax offset under Division 207 because a *franked distribution is made, or *flows indirectly, to the entity; and
  - (b) the entity is a foreign resident and carries on business in Australia at or through a permanent establishment of the

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 67-25

---

entity in Australia, being a permanent establishment within the meaning of:

- (i) a double tax agreement (as defined in Part X of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) that relates to a foreign country and affects the entity; or
  - (ii) subsection 6(1) of that Act, if there is no such agreement; and
- (c) the distribution is attributable to the permanent establishment.
- (1E) Where a *corporate tax entity is entitled to a *tax offset under Subdivision 210-H because a *distribution *franked with a venture capital credit is made to the entity, the tax offset is not subject to the refundable tax offset rules unless:
- (a) the entity is a *life insurance company; and
  - (b) the *membership interest on which the distribution was made was not held by the company on behalf of its shareholders at any time during the period:
    - (i) starting at the beginning of the income year of the company in which the distribution is made; and
    - (ii) ending when the distribution is made.

Education expenses tax offset

- (7) The *tax offset available under Subdivision 61-M is subject to the refundable tax offset rules.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Part 2-25—Trading stock

Division 70—Trading stock

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 70
70-A	What is trading stock
70-B	Acquiring trading stock
70-C	Accounting for trading stock you hold at the start or end of the income year
70-D	Assessable income arising from disposals of trading stock and certain other assets
70-E	Miscellaneous

Guide to Division 70

70-1 What this Division is about

This Division deals with amounts you can deduct, and amounts included in your assessable income, because of these situations:

- you acquire an item of trading stock;
- you carry on a business and hold trading stock at the start or the end of the income year;
- you dispose of an item of trading stock outside the ordinary course of business, or it ceases to be trading stock in certain other circumstances.

Table of sections

70-5	The 3 key features of tax accounting for trading stock
------	--

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

70-5 The 3 key features of tax accounting for trading stock

The purpose of income tax accounting for trading stock is to produce an overall result that (apart from concessions) properly reflects your activities with your trading stock during the income year.

There are 3 key features:

- (1) You bring your gross outgoings and earnings to account, not your net profits and losses on disposal of trading stock.
- (2) Those outgoings and earnings are on revenue account, not capital account. As a result:
  - (a) the gross outgoings are usually deductible as general deductions under section 8-1 (when the trading stock becomes trading stock on hand); and
  - (b) the gross earnings are usually assessable as ordinary income under section 6-5 (when the trading stock stops being trading stock on hand).
- (3) You must bring to account any difference between the value of your trading stock on hand at the start and at the end of the income year. This is done in such a way that, in effect:
  - (a) you account for the value of your trading stock as assessable income; and
  - (b) you carry that value over as a corresponding deduction for the next income year.

Note: You may not have to bring to account that difference if you are a small business entity: see Division 328.

Subdivision 70-A—What is trading stock

Table of sections

70-10 Meaning of trading stock

70-10 Meaning of trading stock

Trading stock includes:

- (a) anything produced, manufactured or acquired that is held for purposes of manufacture, sale or exchange in the ordinary course of a *business; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(b) *live stock;

but does not include a *Division 230 financial arrangement.

Note 1: Shares in a PDF are not trading stock. See section 124ZO of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Note 2: If a company becomes a PDF, its shares are taken not to have been trading stock before it became a PDF. See section 124ZQ of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Subdivision 70-B—Acquiring trading stock

Table of sections

70-15	In which income year do you deduct an outgoing for trading stock?
70-20	Non-arm's length transactions
70-25	Cost of trading stock is not a capital outgoing
70-30	Starting to hold as trading stock an item you already own

70-15 In which income year do you deduct an outgoing for trading stock?

- (1) This section tells you in which income year to deduct under section 8-1 (about general deductions) an outgoing incurred in connection with acquiring an item of *trading stock. (The outgoing must be deductible under that section.)
- (2) If the item becomes part of your *trading stock on hand before or during the income year in which you incur the outgoing, deduct it in that income year.
- (3) Otherwise, deduct the outgoing in the first income year:
  - (a) during which the item becomes part of your *trading stock on hand; or
  - (b) for which an amount is included in your assessable income in connection with the disposal of that item.

Note You can deduct your capital costs of acquiring land carrying trees or of acquiring a right to fell trees, to the extent that the trees are felled for sale, or for use in manufacture, by you. (This is because the trees will then usually become your trading stock.) See section 70-120.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

70-20 Non-arm's length transactions

If:

- (a) you incur an outgoing that is directly attributable to your buying or obtaining delivery of an item of your *trading stock; and
- (b) you and the seller of the item did not deal with each other at arm's length; and
- (c) the amount of the outgoing is greater than the *market value of what the outgoing is for;

the amount of the outgoing is instead taken to be that market value. This has effect for the purposes of applying this Act to you and also to the seller.

Note 1: This section also affects the value of the item of trading stock at the end of an income year if you value it at its cost under section 70-45 (Value of trading stock at end of income year).

Note 2: This section is disregarded in applying Division 13 (about transfer-pricing arrangements) of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

70-25 Cost of trading stock is not a capital outgoing

An outgoing you incur in connection with acquiring an item of *trading stock is not an outgoing of capital or of a capital nature.

Note: This means that paragraph 8-1(2)(a) does not prevent the outgoing from being a general deduction under section 8-1.

70-30 Starting to hold as trading stock an item you already own

- (1) If you start holding as *trading stock an item you already own, but do not hold as trading stock, you are treated as if:
  - (a) just before it became trading stock, you had sold the item to someone else (at arm's length) for whichever of these amounts you elect:
    - its cost (as worked out under subsection (3) or (4));
    - its *market value just before it became trading stock; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(b) you had immediately bought it back for the same amount.

Example: You start holding a depreciating asset as part of your trading stock. You are treated as having sold it just before that time, and immediately bought it back, for its cost or market value, whichever you elect. (Subdivision 40-D provides for the consequences of selling depreciating assets.)

The same amount is normally a general deduction under section 8-1 as an outgoing in connection with acquiring trading stock. The amount is also taken into account in working out the item's cost for the purposes of section 70-45 (about valuing trading stock at the end of the income year).

Note: Depending on how you elect under paragraph (1)(a), the sale may or may not give rise to a capital gain or a capital loss for the purposes of Parts 3-1 and 3-3 (about CGT). It does not if you elect to be treated as having sold the item for what would have been its cost: see subsection 118-25(2). However, it can if you elect market value.

When you must make the election

- (2) You must make the election by the time you lodge your *income tax return for the income year in which you start holding the item as *trading stock. (If you do not make the election by then because you do not realise until later that you started to hold the item as trading stock, you must make the election as soon as is reasonable after realising that.)

However, the Commissioner can allow you to make it later (in either case).

How to work out the item's cost

- (3) The item's cost is what would have been its cost for the purposes of section 70-45 (about valuing trading stock at the end of the income year) if it had been your *trading stock ever since you last acquired it. In working that out, disregard section 70-55 (about acquiring live stock by natural increase).
- (4) However, if you last acquired the item for no consideration, its cost is worked out using this table:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Cost of item acquired for no consideration
Item	In this case:	The cost is:
1	you acquired the item during or after the 1998-99 income year, and the acquisition involved a *CGT event	the item's *market value when you last acquired it
2	you acquired the item before or during the 1997-98 income year, and the acquisition involved a disposal of the item to you within the meaning of former Part IIIA (Capital gains and capital losses) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936	the item's *market value when you last acquired it
3	your acquisition of the item involved the item: (a) devolving to you as someone's *legal personal representative; or (b) *passing to you as a beneficiary in someone's estate; and, if a *CGT event had happened in relation to the item just before you started holding it as *trading stock, a *capital gain or *capital loss could have resulted that would have been taken into account in working out your *net capital gain or *net capital loss for the income year of the event	(a) if the person died during or after his or her 1998-99 income year—the dead person's *cost base for the item just before his or her death; or (b) if the person died before or during his or her 1997-98 income year—the dead person's indexed cost base (within the meaning of former Part IIIA (Capital gains and capital losses) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 ) for the item just before his or her death (but worked out disregarding former section 160ZG (which affects the indexed cost base for a non-listed personal use asset) of that Act)
4	any other case where you last acquired the item for no consideration	a nil amount

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Exceptions

(5) Subsection (1) does not apply if you start holding any of the following as *trading stock because they are severed from land:

- (a) standing or growing crops;
- (b) crop-stools;
- (c) trees planted and tended for sale.

(This does not prevent subsection (1) from applying to a severed item that you later start holding as *trading stock.)

Note: A transaction that this section treats as having occurred is disregarded for the purposes of these provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936:

- subsection 47A(10) (which treats certain benefits as dividends paid by a CFC)
- paragraph 103A(3A)(c) (which affects whether a company is a public company for an income year).

Subdivision 70-C—Accounting for trading stock you hold at the start or end of the income year

Table of sections

General rules

70-35	You include the value of your trading stock in working out your assessable income and deductions
70-40	Value of trading stock at start of income year
70-45	Value of trading stock at end of income year

Special valuation rules

70-50	Valuation if trading stock obsolete etc.
70-55	Working out the cost of natural increase of live stock
70-60	Valuation of horse breeding stock
70-65	Working out the horse opening value and the horse reduction amount
70-70	Valuing interests in FIFs

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

General rules

70-35 You include the value of your trading stock in working out your assessable income and deductions

- (1) If you carry on a *business, you compare:
  - (a) the *value of all your *trading stock on hand at the start of the income year; and
  - (b) the *value of all your *trading stock on hand at the end of the income year.

Note: You may not need to do this stocktaking if you are a small business entity: see Division 328.

- (2) Your assessable income includes any excess of the *value at the end of the income year over the value at the start of the income year.
- (3) On the other hand, you can deduct any excess of the *value at the start of the income year over the value at the end of the income year.

70-40 Value of trading stock at start of income year

- (1) The value of an item of *trading stock on hand at the start of an income year is the same amount at which it was taken into account under this Division or Subdivision 328-E (about trading stock for small business entities) at the end of the last income year.
- (2) The value of the item is a nil amount if the item was not taken into account under this Division or Subdivision 328-E (about trading stock for small business entities) at the end of the last income year.

70-45 Value of trading stock at end of income year

- (1) You must elect to value each item of *trading stock on hand at the end of an income year at:
  - (a) its *cost; or
  - (b) its market selling value; or
  - (c) its replacement value.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Note: An item's market selling value at a particular time may not be the same as its market value.

- (1A) In working out the *cost, market selling value or replacement value of an item of *trading stock (other than an item the *supply of which cannot be a *taxable supply) at the end of an income year, disregard an amount equal to the amount of the *input tax credit (if any) to which you would be entitled if:
- (a) you had *acquired the item at that time; and
  - (b) the acquisition had been solely for a *creditable purpose; and

Note: Some assets, such as shares, cannot be the subject of a taxable supply.

- (2) The rest of this Subdivision deals with cases where the normal operation of this section is modified, or where a different valuation method may or must be used. The table sets out other cases where that happens because of provisions outside this Subdivision.

---

Rules about the value of trading stock

---

Item	For this situation:	See:
2	In working out the attributable income of a non-resident trust estate, trading stock is taken to be valued at cost.	Section 102AAY of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
3	In working out the attributable income of a controlled foreign corporation, the corporation must value at cost.	Section 397 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
4	Some anti-avoidance provisions reduce the amount that is taken to be the cost of an item of trading stock.	Subsections 52A(7), 82KH(1N), 82KL(6) and 100A(6B) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
5	The value of the item at the end of an income year may be the same as at the start of the year for a small business entity	Subdivision 328-E of this Act

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Special valuation rules

70-50 Valuation if trading stock obsolete etc.

You may elect to value an item of your *trading stock below all the values in section 70-45 if:

- (a) that is warranted because of obsolescence or any other special circumstances relating to that item; and
- (b) the value you elect is reasonable.

70-55 Working out the cost of natural increase of live stock

- (1) The cost of an animal you hold as *live stock that you acquired by natural increase is whichever of these you elect:
  - (a) the actual cost of the animal;
  - (b) the cost prescribed by the regulations for each animal in the applicable class of live stock.
- (2) However, if you incur a service fee for insemination and, as a result, acquire a horse by natural increase, its cost is the greater of:
  - (a) the amount worked out under subsection (1); and
  - (b) the part of the service fee that is attributable to your acquiring the horse.
- (3) An election under this section must be made by the time you lodge your *income tax return for the income year in which you acquired the animal. However, the Commissioner can allow you to make it later.

70-60 Valuation of horse breeding stock

- (1) For a horse at least 3 years old that you acquired under a contract and hold for breeding, you can elect a value other than the values in section 70-45.
- (2) The value you can elect for the horse at the end of the income year is worked out using the table:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Value of horse breeding stock
If the horse is:	... you can value it at this amount: female 12 years or over	$1
any other horse	the *horse opening value less the *horse reduction amount (see section 70-65)

- (3) However, if the value worked out under subsection (2) would be less than $1, you must elect the value of $1.
- (4) A horse's age is to be measured in whole years as at the end of the relevant income year. The age of a horse not born on 1 August is determined as if the horse had been born on the last 1 August before it was actually born.

70-65 Working out the horse opening value and the horse reduction amount

- (1) The horse opening value is:
- (a) if the horse has been your *live stock ever since the start of the income year—its *value as *trading stock at the start of the income year; or
- (b) otherwise—the horse's base amount (see subsection (3)).

- (2) The horse reduction amount is worked out as follows:

- (a) for female horses under 12 years of age:

$$\frac{\text{Base amount}}{\text{Reduction factor}} \times \frac{\text{Breeding days}}{\text{Days in income year}}$$

- (b) for any male horse:

$$\text{Base amount} \times \frac{\text{Nominated percentage}}{100} \times \frac{\text{Breeding days}}{\text{Days in income year}}$$

- (3) In this section:

base amount is the lesser of:

- (a) the horse's *cost; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 70-70

---

- (b) the horse's *adjustable value when it most recently became your *live stock.

breeding days is the number of whole days in the income year since you most recently began to hold the horse for breeding.

nominated percentage is any percentage, up to 25%, you nominate when you make the election in section 70-60.

reduction factor is the greater of:

- (a) 3; and
(b) the difference between 12 and the horse's age when you most recently began to hold it for breeding.

70-70 Valuing interests in FIFs

- (1) You must value at its cost an item of your *trading stock that is an interest in a *foreign investment fund (a *FIF).

Note: For special rules about valuing an interest in a FIF that was an item of your trading stock on hand at the start of the 1991-92 income year, see section 70-70 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

- (2) However, you may elect to value all your interests in *FIFs at their *market value instead. If you make this election, then for the income year of the election, and for all later income years, you must value at their market value all your interests in FIFs.
- (3) You can only make this election before you lodge your *income tax return for the first income year in which a *notional accounting period of any *FIF you have an interest in ends.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Subdivision 70-D—Assessable income arising from disposals of trading stock and certain other assets*Guide to Subdivision 70-D*70-75 What this Subdivision is about

Your assessable income includes the market value of an item of trading stock if you dispose of it outside the ordinary course of business or it ceases to be trading stock in certain other circumstances.

This Subdivision treats certain other assets in the same way as trading stock.

Table of sections

70-80 Why the rules in this Subdivision are necessary

Operative provisions

70-85 Application of this Subdivision to certain other assets

70-90 Assessable income on disposal of trading stock outside the ordinary course of business

70-95 Purchase price is taken to be market value

70-100 Notional disposal when you stop holding an item as trading stock

70-105 Death of owner

70-110 You stop holding an item as trading stock but still own it

70-115 Compensation for lost trading stock

70-80 Why the rules in this Subdivision are necessary

- (1) When you dispose of an item of your trading stock in the ordinary course of business, what you get for it is included in your assessable income (under section 6-5) as ordinary income.
- (2) If an item stops being your trading stock for certain other reasons, an amount is generally included in your assessable income to balance the reduction in trading stock on hand, which is a transaction on revenue account.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (3) The other reasons for an item to stop being your trading stock are:
- (a) you dispose of it outside the ordinary course of *business; or
  - (b) interests in it change; or
  - (c) you die; or
  - (d) you stop holding it as trading stock.

Operative provisions

70-85 Application of this Subdivision to certain other assets

This Subdivision (except section 70-115) applies to certain assets of a *business as if they were *trading stock on hand of the entity that carries on that business. The assets are:

- (a) standing or growing crops; and
- (b) crop-stools; and
- (c) trees planted and tended for sale.

Note: Section 70-115 assesses insurance or indemnity amounts for lost trading stock.

70-90 Assessable income on disposal of trading stock outside the ordinary course of business

- (1) If you dispose of an item of your *trading stock outside the ordinary course of a *business:
- (a) that you are carrying on; and
  - (b) of which the item is an asset;
- your assessable income includes the *market value of the item on the day of the disposal.
- (1A) If the disposal is the giving of a gift of property by you for which a valuation under section 30-212 is obtained, you may choose that the *market value is replaced with the value of the property as determined under the valuation. You can only make this choice if the valuation was made no more than 90 days before or after the disposal.
- (2) Any amount that you actually receive for the disposal is not included in your assessable income (nor is it *exempt income).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- Note 1: In the case of an asset covered by section 70-85 (which applies this Subdivision to certain other assets), the disposal will usually involve disposing of the land of which the asset forms part.
- Note 2: For certain disposals of live stock by primary producers, special rules apply: see Subdivision 385-E.
- Note 3: If the disposal is by way of gift, you may be able to deduct the gift: see Division 30 (Gifts).
- Note 4: If the disposal is of trees, you can deduct the relevant portion of your capital costs of acquiring the land carrying the trees or of acquiring a right to fell the trees: see section 70-120.
- Note 5: This section and section 70-95 also apply to disposals of certain items on hand at the end of 1996-97 that are not trading stock but were trading stock as defined in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936: see section 70-10 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

70-95 Purchase price is taken to be market value

If an entity disposes of an item of the entity's *trading stock outside the ordinary course of *business, the entity acquiring the item is treated as having bought it for the amount included in the disposing entity's assessable income under section 70-90.

70-100 Notional disposal when you stop holding an item as trading stock

- (1) An item of *trading stock is treated as having been disposed of outside the ordinary course of *business if it stops being trading stock on hand of an entity (the transferor) and, immediately afterwards:
- (a) the transferor is not the item's sole owner; but
  - (b) an entity that owned the item (alone or with others) immediately beforehand still has an interest in the item.

Example: A grocer decides to take her daughters into partnership with her. Her trading stock becomes part of the partnership assets, owned by the partners equally. As a result, it becomes trading stock on hand of the partnership instead of the grocer. This section treats the grocer as having disposed of the trading stock to the partnership outside the ordinary course of her business.

Note: If the transferor is the item's sole owner after it stops being trading stock on hand of the transferor, section 70-110 applies instead of this section.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 70-100

---

- (2) As a result, the transferor's assessable income includes the *market value of the item on the day it stops being *trading stock on hand of the transferor.
- (3) The entity or entities (the transferee) that own the item immediately after it stops being *trading stock on hand of the transferor are treated as having bought the item for the same value on that day.

Election to treat item as disposed of at closing value

- (4) However, an election can be made to treat the item as having been disposed of for what would have been its *value as *trading stock of the transferor on hand at the end of an income year ending on that day.
- (5) If this election is made, this *value is included in the transferor's assessable income for the income year that includes that day. The transferee is treated as having bought the item for the same value on that day.
- (6) This election can only be made if:
  - (a) immediately after the item stops being *trading stock on hand of the transferor, it is an asset of a *business carried on by the transferee; and
  - (b) immediately after the item stops being *trading stock on hand of the transferor, the entities that owned it immediately beforehand have (between them) interests in the item whose total value is at least 25% of the item's *market value on that day; and
  - (c) the *value elected is less than that market value; and
  - (d) the item is not a thing in action.
- (7) Also, the election can only be made before 1 September following the end of the *financial year in which the item stops being *trading stock on hand of the transferor. However, the Commissioner can allow the election to be made later.
- (8) An election must be in writing and signed by or on behalf of each of:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (a) the entities that own the item immediately before it stops being *trading stock on hand of the transferor; and
  - (b) the entities that own it immediately afterwards.
- (9) If a person whose signature is required for the election has died, the *legal personal representative of that person's estate may sign instead.

When election has no effect

- (10) An election has no effect if:
- (a) the item stops being *trading stock on hand of the transferor outside the course of ordinary family or commercial dealing; and
  - (b) the *consideration receivable by the transferor (or by any of the entities constituting the transferor) substantially exceeds what would reasonably be expected to be the consideration receivable by the entity concerned if the *market value of the item immediately before it stops being *trading stock on hand of the transferor were the *value elected under subsection (4).

Note: Section 960-255 may be relevant to determining family relationships for the purposes of paragraph (10)(a).

- (11) Consideration receivable by an entity means so much of the value of any benefit as it is reasonable to expect that the entity will obtain in connection with the item ceasing to be *trading stock on hand of the transferor.

70-105 Death of owner

- (1) When you die, your assessable income up to the time of your death includes the *market value at that time of the *trading stock of your *business (if any).

Note: In the case of trees, you can deduct the relevant portion of your capital costs of acquiring the land carrying the trees or of acquiring a right to fell the trees: see section 70-120.

- (2) The entity on which the *trading stock devolves is treated as having bought it for its *market value at that time.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 70-110

---

- (3) However, your *legal personal representative can elect to have included in your assessable income (instead of the *market value) the amount that would have been the *value of the *trading stock at the end of an income year ending on the day of your death.
- (4) In the case of an asset covered by section 70-85 (which applies this Subdivision to certain other assets), your *legal personal representative can elect to have a nil amount included in your assessable income (instead of the *market value).
- (5) Your *legal personal representative can make an election only if:
  - (a) the *business is carried on after your death; and
  - (b) the *trading stock continues to be held as trading stock of that business, or the asset continues to be held as an asset of that business, as appropriate.
- (6) If an election is made, the entity on which the *trading stock devolves is treated as having bought it for the amount referred to in subsection (3) or (4).
- (7) An election can only be made on or before the day when your *legal personal representative lodges your *income tax return for the period up to your death. However, the Commissioner can allow it to be made later.

70-110 You stop holding an item as trading stock but still own it

If you stop holding an item as *trading stock, but still own it, you are treated as if:

- (a) just before it stopped being trading stock, you had sold it to someone else (at arm's length and in the ordinary course of business) for its *cost; and
- (b) you had immediately bought it back for the same amount.

Example 1: You are a sheep grazier and take a sheep from your stock to slaughter for personal consumption. You are treated as having sold it for its cost. This amount is assessable income, just like the proceeds of sale of any of your trading stock.

Although you are also treated as having bought the sheep for the same amount, it would not be deductible because the sheep is for personal consumption.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Example 2: You stop holding an item as trading stock and begin to use it as a depreciating asset for the purpose of producing your assessable income. You are treated as having sold it for its cost. This amount is assessable income, just like the proceeds of sale of any of your trading stock.

You are also treated as having bought the item for the same amount, which is relevant to working out the item's cost for capital allowance purposes (see Subdivision 40-C) and the item's cost base for CGT purposes (see Division 110).

Note: A transaction that this section treats as having occurred is disregarded for the purposes of these provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936:

- subsection 47A(10) (which treats certain benefits as dividends paid by a CFC)
- paragraph 103A(3A)(c) (which affects whether a company is a public company for an income year).

70-115 Compensation for lost trading stock

Your assessable income includes an amount that:

- (a) you receive by way of insurance or indemnity for a loss of *trading stock; and
- (b) is not assessable as *ordinary income under section 6-5.

Subdivision 70-E—Miscellaneous

Table of sections

70-120    Deducting capital costs of acquiring trees

70-120 Deducting capital costs of acquiring trees

- (1) This section gives you deductions for your capital costs of acquiring land carrying trees or of acquiring a right to fell trees.

Note: This section is included in this Division because:

- trees felled for sale, or for use in manufacture, by you will usually become your trading stock; and
- before they are felled, the trees are covered by sections 70-90 and 70-105 because of section 70-85.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Land carrying trees

(2) You can deduct the amount you paid to acquire land carrying trees if:

- (a) some or all of the trees are felled during the income year for sale, or for use in manufacture, by you for the *purpose of producing assessable income; or
- (b) some or all of the trees are felled during the income year under a right you granted to another entity in consideration of payments as or by way of *royalty; or
- (c) the *market value of some or all of the trees is included in your assessable income for the income year by section 70-90 (because you disposed of the trees outside the ordinary course of *business) or section 70-105 (because of your death).

(It does not matter when you acquired the land.)

Note: The market value of trees is not included in your assessable income for the income year by section 70-105 (because of your death) if your legal personal representative elects under subsection 70-105(4) to have a nil amount included instead.

Right to fell trees

(3) You can deduct the amount you paid to acquire a right to fell trees if:

- (a) some or all of the trees are felled during the income year for sale, or for use in manufacture, by you for the *purpose of producing assessable income; or
- (b) some or all of the trees are felled during the income year under a right you granted to another entity in consideration of payments as or by way of *royalty.

(It does not matter when you acquired the right.)

How much you can deduct for costs of acquiring land or right

(4) You can deduct for the income year so much of the amount you paid as is attributable to the trees covered by a paragraph of subsection (2) or (3).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (5) If you can deduct an amount because of paragraph (2)(c), you can also deduct for the income year so much of any other capital expenditure you incurred as is attributable to acquiring the trees covered by that paragraph (except so far as you have deducted it, or can deduct it, for any income year under a provision of this Act outside this section).

No deduction for carbon sink forests

- (5A) You cannot deduct under this section so much of an amount you paid or incurred as is attributable to the establishment of trees for which any entity has deducted, or can deduct, an amount for any income year under Subdivision 40-J.

Non-arm's length transactions

- (6) If:
- (a) you can deduct an amount under this section for expenditure incurred in connection with a transaction; and
  - (b) the parties to the transaction did not deal with each other at arm's length; and
  - (c) the amount of the expenditure is greater than the *market value of what the expenditure is for;
- the amount of the expenditure is instead taken to be that market value. This has effect for the purposes of working out what you can deduct under this section.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Part 2-40—Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments

Division 80—General rules

Table of Subdivisions

Guide to Division 80

Guide to Division 80

80-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out rules that apply throughout the Part. The rules are about holding an office, the termination of employment, the transfer of property and receiving and making payments.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

80-5	Holding of an office
80-10	Application to the termination of employment
80-15	Transfer of property
80-20	Payments for your benefit or at your direction or request

Operative provisions

80-5 Holding of an office

If a person holds (or has held) an office, this Part applies to the person in the same way as it would apply if the person were (or had been) employed.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

80-10 Application to the termination of employment

For the purposes of this Part, treat the termination of employment as including:

- (a) retirement from employment; and
- (b) the cessation of employment because of death.

80-15 Transfer of property

- (1) Any of the following payments covered by this Part (but no others covered by this Part) can be or include a transfer of property:
  - (a) an *employment termination payment;
  - (b) a *genuine redundancy payment;
  - (c) an *early retirement scheme payment;
  - (d) a payment covered by Subdivision 83-D (Foreign termination payments);
  - (e) a payment that would be an employment termination payment but for paragraph 82-130(1)(b) (see Subdivision 83-E).

Note: An unused annual leave payment or an unused long service leave payment cannot include a transfer of property.

- (2) The amount of the payment is or includes the *market value of the property.
- (3) The *market value is reduced by the value of any consideration given for the transfer of the property.

80-20 Payments for your benefit or at your direction or request

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of:
  - (a) determining whether Division 82 or 83 applies to a payment; and
  - (b) determining whether a payment mentioned in Division 82 or 83 is made to you, or received by you.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-40 Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments

Division 80 General rules

Section 80-20

---

- (2) A payment is treated as being made to you, or received by you, if it is made:
- (a) for your benefit; or
  - (b) to another person or to an entity at your direction or request.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 82—Employment termination payments

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 82
82-A	Employment termination payments: life benefits
82-B	Employment termination payments: death benefits
82-C	Key concepts

Guide to Division 82

82-1 What this Division is about

This Division tells you how employment termination payments are treated for the purpose of income tax.

Subdivision 82-A—Employment termination payments: life benefits

Guide to Subdivision 82-A

82-5 What this Subdivision is about

If you receive a life benefit termination payment, part of the payment may be tax free (the tax free component).

You are entitled to a tax offset on the remaining part of the payment (the taxable component), subject to limitations.

The extent of your entitlement to the offset depends on your age in the year you receive the offset, on the total amount of payments you receive in the same year, and on the total amount of payments you receive in consequence of the same employment termination.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 82-10

---

Table of sections

Operative provisions

82-10 Taxation of life benefit termination payments

Operative provisions

82-10 Taxation of life benefit termination payments

Tax free component

- (1) The *tax free component of a *life benefit termination payment you receive is not assessable income and is not *exempt income.

Taxable component

- (2) The *taxable component of the payment is assessable income.
- (3) You are entitled to a *tax offset that ensures that the rate of income tax on the amount mentioned in subsection (4) does not exceed:
- (a) if you are your *preservation age or older on the last day of the income year in which you receive the payment—15%; or
  - (b) otherwise—30%.

Note: The remainder of the taxable component is taxed at the top marginal rate in accordance with the Income Tax Rates Act 1986.

- (4) The amount is so much of the *taxable component of the payment as does not exceed the lesser of:
- (a) the *ETP cap amount, reduced (but not below zero) by the amount worked out under this subsection for each *life benefit termination payment you have received earlier in the income year; and
  - (b) the ETP cap amount, reduced (but not below zero) by the amount worked out under this subsection for each life benefit termination payment you have received earlier in consequence of the same employment termination, whether in the income year or an earlier income year.

Note 1: For the ETP cap amount, see section 82-160.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- Note 2: If you have also received a death benefit termination payment in the same income year, your entitlement to a tax offset under this section is not affected by your entitlement (if any) to a tax concession for the death benefit termination payment (under section 82-65 or 82-70).
- Note 3: Certain other life benefit termination payments made before 1 July 2012 may be treated as earlier payments under paragraph (4)(b): see section 82-10H of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

Subdivision 82-B—Employment termination payments: death benefits

Guide to Subdivision 82-B

82-60 What this Subdivision is about

If you receive a death benefit termination payment after the death of a person, part of the payment may be tax free (the tax free component).

You are entitled to a tax offset on the remaining part of the payment (the taxable component), subject to limitations.

The extent of your entitlement to the offset depends on whether or not you were a death benefits dependant of the deceased, and on the total amount of payments you receive in consequence of the same employment termination.

If a death benefit termination payment is payable to the trustee of the estate of the deceased for the benefit of another person, the payment is taxed in the hands of the trustee in the same way as it would be taxed if it had been paid directly to the other person.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

82-65	Death benefits for dependants
82-70	Death benefits for non-dependants
82-75	Death benefits paid to trustee of deceased estate

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 82-65

---

Operative provisions

82-65 Death benefits for dependants

Tax free component

- (1) The *tax free component of a *death benefit termination payment that you receive after the death of a person of whom you are a *death benefits dependant is not assessable income and is not *exempt income.

Taxable component

- (2) If you receive a *death benefit termination payment after the death of a person of whom you are a *death benefits dependant:
- (a) the part of the *taxable component of the payment mentioned in subsection (3) is not assessable income and is not *exempt income; and
  - (b) the remainder of the taxable component (if any) of the payment is assessable income.

Note: The remainder of the taxable component is taxed at the top marginal rate in accordance with the Income Tax Rates Act 1986.

- (3) The amount is so much of the *taxable component of the payment as does not exceed the *ETP cap amount.

Note: For the ETP cap amount, see section 82-160.

- (4) The *ETP cap amount is reduced (but not below zero) by the amount worked out under subsection (3) for each *death benefit termination payment (if any) you have received earlier in consequence of the same employment termination, whether in the income year or an earlier income year.

Note 1: See subsection 82-75(2) for the tax treatment of any amount by which you may have benefited from an employment termination payment to the trustee of the estate of the deceased.

Note 2: If you have also received a life benefit termination payment in the same income year, your entitlement to a tax concession under this section is not affected by your entitlement (if any) to an offset for the life benefit termination payment (under section 82-10).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

82-70 Death benefits for non-dependants

Tax free component

- (1) The *tax free component of a *death benefit termination payment that you receive after the death of a person of whom you are not a *death benefits dependant is not assessable income and is not *exempt income.

Taxable component

- (2) If you receive a *death benefit termination payment after the death of a person of whom you are not a *death benefits dependant, the *taxable component of the payment is assessable income.
- (3) You are entitled to a *tax offset that ensures that the rate of income tax on the amount mentioned in subsection (4) does not exceed 30%.

Note: The remainder of the taxable component is taxed at the top marginal rate in accordance with the Income Tax Rates Act 1986.

- (4) The amount is so much of the *taxable component of the payment as does not exceed the *ETP cap amount.

Note: For the ETP cap amount, see section 82-160.

- (5) The *ETP cap amount is reduced (but not below zero) by the amount worked out under subsection (4) for each *death benefit termination payment (if any) you have received earlier in consequence of the same employment termination, whether in the income year or an earlier income year.

Note 1: See subsection 82-75(3) for the tax treatment of any amount by which you may have benefited from an employment termination payment to the trustee of the estate of the deceased.

Note 2: If you have also received a life benefit termination payment in the same income year, your entitlement to a tax offset under this section is not affected by your entitlement (if any) to an offset for the life benefit termination payment (under section 82-10).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-40 Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments

Division 82 Employment termination payments

Section 82-75

---

82-75 Death benefits paid to trustee of deceased estate

- (1) This section applies to you if:
- (a) you are the trustee of a deceased estate; and
  - (b) a *death benefit termination payment is made to you in your capacity as trustee.

Note: See also subsection 101A(3) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Dependants of deceased benefit from payment

- (2) To the extent that 1 or more beneficiaries of the estate who were *death benefits dependants of the deceased have benefited, or may be expected to benefit, from the payment:
- (a) the payment is treated as if it had been made to you as a person who was a death benefits dependant of the deceased; and
  - (b) the payment is taken to be income to which no beneficiary is presently entitled.

Note: Section 82-65 deals with the taxation of employment termination payments made to persons who are death benefits dependants of deceased persons.

Non-dependants of deceased benefit from payment

- (3) To the extent that 1 or more beneficiaries of the estate who were not *death benefits dependants of the deceased have benefited, or may be expected to benefit, from the payment:
- (a) the payment is treated as if it had been made to you as a person who was not a death benefits dependant of the deceased; and
  - (b) the payment is taken to be income to which no beneficiary is presently entitled.

Note: Section 82-70 deals with the taxation of employment termination payments made to persons who are not death benefits dependants of deceased persons.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 82-C—Key concepts

Guide to Subdivision 82-C

82-125 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision defines an employment termination payment as a payment made in consequence of the termination of a person's employment that is received no later than 12 months after the termination (though the 12 month restriction is relaxed in some circumstances).

An employment termination payment can be a life benefit termination payment (received by the person whose employment is terminated) or a death benefit termination payment (received by another person after the death of a person whose employment is terminated).

Certain types of payments are declared not to be employment termination payments.

Various other terms used in describing the taxation treatment of employment termination payments are defined in the Subdivision.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

82-130	What is an employment termination payment ?
82-135	Payments that are not employment termination payments
82-140	Tax free component of an employment termination payment
82-145	Taxable component of an employment termination payment
82-150	What is an invalidity segment of an employment termination payment?
82-155	What is a pre-July 83 segment of an employment termination payment?
82-160	What is the ETP cap amount ?

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Operative provisions

82-130 What is an employment termination payment?

- (1) A payment is an employment termination payment if:
- (a) it is received by you:
    - (i) in consequence of the termination of your employment; or
    - (ii) after another person's death, in consequence of the termination of the other person's employment; and
  - (b) it is received no later than 12 months after that termination (but see subsection (4)); and
  - (c) it is not a payment mentioned in section 82-135.

Note 1: If a payment would be an employment termination payment but for paragraph (b), see subsection (4) and section 83-295.

Note 2: The holding of an office is treated as employment for this Part: see section 80-5. Also, the termination of employment is treated as including the termination of employment by retirement or by death: see section 80-10.

Types of employment termination payment

- (2) A life benefit termination payment is an *employment termination payment to which subparagraph (1)(a)(i) applies.
- (3) A death benefit termination payment is an *employment termination payment to which subparagraph (1)(a)(ii) applies.

Exemption from 12 month rule

- (4) Paragraph (1)(b) does not apply to you if:
- (a) you are covered by a determination under subsection (5) or (7); or
  - (b) the payment is a *genuine redundancy payment or an *early retirement scheme payment.

Note: The part of a genuine redundancy payment or an early retirement scheme payment worked out under section 83-170 is not an employment termination payment: see section 82-135.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (5) The Commissioner may determine, in writing, that paragraph (1)(b) does not apply to you if the Commissioner considers the time between the employment termination and the payment to be reasonable, having regard to the following:
  - (a) the circumstances of the employment termination, including any dispute in relation to the termination;
  - (b) the circumstances of the payment;
  - (c) the circumstances of the person making the payment;
  - (d) any other relevant circumstances.
- (6) A determination under subsection (5) is not a legislative instrument.
- (7) The Commissioner may, by legislative instrument, determine that paragraph (1)(b) does not apply to either or both of the following, as specified in the determination:
  - (a) a class of payments;
  - (b) a class of recipients of payments.
- (8) A determination under subsection (7) may provide for paragraph (1)(b) not to apply in circumstances relating to any (or all) of the following, as specified in the determination:
  - (a) a class of employment termination (including a class described by reference to disputes of a specified type);
  - (b) a class of payments;
  - (c) a class of persons making payments;
  - (d) the period after the employment termination until payment is received;
  - (e) any other relevant circumstances.

82-135 Payments that are not *employment termination payments

The following payments you receive are not employment termination payments:

- (a) a *superannuation benefit (see Divisions 301 to 307);
- (b) a payment of a pension or an *annuity (whether or not the payment is a superannuation benefit); and
- (c) an *unused annual leave payment (see Subdivision 83-A);

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-40 Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments

Division 82 Employment termination payments

Section 82-135

---

- (d) an *unused long service leave payment (see Subdivision 83-B);
- (e) the part of a *genuine redundancy payment or an *early retirement scheme payment worked out under section 83-170 (see Subdivision 83-C);
- (f) a payment to which Subdivision 83-D (Foreign termination payments) applies;
- (fa) a payment (or part of one) made by a company or trust as mentioned in subsection 152-310(2);
- (g) a payment that is an advance or a loan to you on terms and conditions that would apply if you and the payer were dealing at *arm's length;
- (h) a payment that is deemed to be a *dividend under this Act;
- (i) a capital payment for, or in respect of, personal injury to you so far as the payment is reasonable having regard to the nature of the personal injury and its likely effect on your capacity to *derive income from personal exertion (within the meaning of the definition of income derived from personal exertion in subsection 6(1) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936);
- (j) a capital payment for, or in respect of, a legally enforceable contract in restraint of trade by you so far as the payment is reasonable having regard to the nature and extent of the restraint;
- (k) a payment:
  - (i) received by you, or to which you are entitled, as the result of the commutation of a pension payable from a *constitutionally protected fund; and
  - (ii) wholly applied in paying any superannuation contributions surcharge (as defined in section 37 of the Superannuation Contributions Tax (Members of Constitutionally Protected Superannuation Funds) Assessment and Collection Act 1997);
- (l) a payment:
  - (i) received by you, or to which you are entitled, as the result of the commutation of a pension payable by a superannuation provider (within the meaning of the

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Superannuation Contributions Tax (Assessment and Collection) Act 1997); and

- (ii) wholly applied in paying any superannuation contributions surcharge (as defined in section 43 of that Act);
- (m) an amount included in your assessable income under Division 13A of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (which deals with employee share schemes).

Note: For paragraph (e)—the remaining part of a genuine redundancy payment or an early retirement scheme payment (apart from the amount mentioned in the paragraph) is an employment termination payment if section 82-130 applies to that part.

82-140 Tax free component of an employment termination payment

The tax free component of an *employment termination payment is so much of the payment as consists of the following:

- (a) the *invalidity segment of the payment;
- (b) the *pre-July 83 segment of the payment.

82-145 Taxable component of an employment termination payment

The taxable component of an *employment termination payment is the amount of the payment less the *tax free component of the payment (see section 82-140).

82-150 What is an invalidity segment of an employment termination payment?

- (1) An *employment termination payment includes an invalidity segment if:
  - (a) the payment was made to a person because he or she stops being *gainfully employed; and
  - (b) the person stopped being gainfully employed because he or she suffered from ill-health (whether physical or mental); and
  - (c) the gainful employment stopped before the person's *last retirement day; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-40 Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments

Division 82 Employment termination payments

Section 82-155

---

(d) 2 legally qualified medical practitioners have certified that, because of the ill-health, it is unlikely that the person can ever be gainfully employed in capacity for which he or she is reasonably qualified because of education, experience or training.

(2) Work out the amount of the invalidity segment by applying the following formula:

$$\text{Amount of *employment termination payment} \times \frac{\text{Days to retirement}}{\text{Employment days} + \text{Days to retirement}}$$

where:

days to retirement is the number of days from the day on which the person's employment was terminated to the *last retirement day.

employment days is the number of days of employment to which the payment relates.

82-155 What is a pre-July 83 segment of an employment termination payment?

- (1) An *employment termination payment includes a pre-July 83 segment if any of the employment to which the payment relates occurred before 1 July 1983.
- (2) Work out the amount of the pre-July 83 segment as follows:

Step 1. Subtract the *invalidity segment (if any) from the *employment termination payment.

Step 2. Multiply the amount at step 1 by the fraction:

$$\frac{\text{Number of days of employment to which the payment relates that occurred before 1 July 1983}}{\text{Total number of days of employment to which the payment relates}}$$

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

82-160 What is the ETP cap amount?

The ETP cap amount for the 2007-2008 income year is $140,000. This amount is indexed annually.

Note 1: Subdivision 960-M shows how to index amounts. However, annual indexation does not necessarily increase the ETP cap amount: see section 960-285.

Note 2: The ETP cap amount may be reduced for the purpose of working out tax offsets for individual employment termination payments.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-40 Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments

Division 83 Other payments on termination of employment

Section 83-1

---

Division 83—Other payments on termination of employment

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 83
83-A	Unused annual leave payments
83-B	Unused long service leave payments
83-C	Genuine redundancy payments and early retirement scheme payments
83-D	Foreign termination payments
83-E	Other payments

Guide to Division 83

83-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out the taxation treatment for a variety of payments, other than employment termination payments, that are made in consequence of the termination of employment.

Subdivision 83-A—Unused annual leave payments

Guide to Subdivision 83-A

83-5 What this Subdivision is about

You are entitled to a tax offset for a payment that you receive in consequence of the termination of your employment that is for unused annual leave.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

83-10	Unused annual leave payment is assessable
83-15	Entitlement to tax offset

Operative provisions

83-10 Unused annual leave payment is assessable

Application—annual leave

- (1) This section applies to leave (annual leave) of the following types (whether it is made available as an entitlement or as a privilege):
  - (a) leave ordinarily known as annual leave, including recreational leave and annual holidays;
  - (b) any other leave made available in circumstances similar to those in which the leave mentioned in paragraph (a) is ordinarily made available.

Unused annual leave payments

- (2) Your assessable income includes an *unused annual leave payment that you receive.
- (3) A payment that you receive in consequence of the termination of your employment is an unused annual leave payment if:
  - (a) it is for annual leave you have not used; or
  - (b) it is a bonus or other additional payment for annual leave you have not used; or
  - (c) it is for annual leave, or is a bonus or other additional payment for annual leave, to which you were not entitled just before the employment termination, but that would have been made available to you at a later time if it were not for the employment termination.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-40 Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments

Division 83 Other payments on termination of employment

Section 83-15

---

83-15 Entitlement to tax offset

You are entitled to a *tax offset to ensure that the rate of tax on an *unused annual leave payment does not exceed 30%, to the extent that:

- (a) the payment was made in connection with a payment that includes, or consists of, any of the following:
  - (i) a *genuine redundancy payment;
  - (ii) an *early retirement scheme payment;
  - (iii) the *invalidity segment of an *employment termination payment or *superannuation benefit; or
- (b) the payment was made in respect of employment before 18 August 1993.

Subdivision 83-B—Unused long service leave payments

Guide to Subdivision 83-B

83-65 What this Subdivision is about

You are entitled to a tax offset for a payment that you receive in consequence of the termination of your employment that is for unused long service leave.

Table of sections

General

- 83-70 Application—long service leave
- 83-75 Meaning of unused long service leave payment
- 83-80 Taxation of unused long service leave payments
- 83-85 Entitlement to tax offset
- 83-90 Meaning of pre-16/8/78 period, pre-18/8/93 period, post-17/8/93 period and long service leave employment period

Employment wholly full-time or wholly part-time

- 83-95 How to work out amount of payment attributable to each period
- 83-100 How to work out unused days of long service leave for each period

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

83-105 How to work out long service leave accrued in each period

Employment partly full-time and partly part-time

83-110 Leave accrued in pre-16/8/78, pre-18/8/93 and post-17/8/93 periods—employment full-time and part-time

Long service leave taken at less than full pay

83-115 Working out used days of long service leave if leave taken at less than full pay

General

83-70 Application—long service leave

This Subdivision applies to leave (long service leave) of the following types (whether it is made available as an entitlement or as a privilege), other than annual leave to which section 83-10 applies:

- (a) leave ordinarily known as long service leave, including long leave, furlough and extended leave;
- (b) any other leave made available in circumstances similar to those in which the leave mentioned in paragraph (a) is ordinarily made available;
- (c) if your employer has entered into a *scheme or *arrangement for leave and, because of the existence and nature of the scheme or arrangement, the employer does not have to comply with the requirements of a law of the Commonwealth, or of a State or Territory, relating to leave mentioned in paragraph (a) or (b)—leave made available under the scheme or arrangement.

83-75 Meaning of *unused long service leave payment

A payment that you receive in consequence of the termination of your employment is an unused long service leave payment if:

- (a) it is for long service leave you have not used; or
- (b) it is for long service leave to which you were not entitled just before the employment termination, but that would have been

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-40 Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments

Division 83 Other payments on termination of employment

Section 83-80

---

made available to you at a later time if it were not for the employment termination.

83-80 Taxation of unused long service leave payments

Assessable and tax-free parts of unused long service leave payments

- (1) If you receive an *unused long service leave payment, your assessable income includes the part of the payment shown in this table:

---

*Unused long service leave payments

---

Item	To the extent the payment is attributable to the ...	Your assessable income includes this part of it ...
1	*pre-16/8/78 period	5%
2	*pre-18/8/93 period	100%
3	*post-17/8/93 period	100%

---

- (2) The remainder of that part (if any) of an *unused long service leave payment that is attributable to the *pre-16/8/78 period is not assessable income and is not *exempt income.

Note 1: If your employment was wholly full-time or wholly part-time during a period, see sections 83-95, 83-100 and 83-105 to work out the amount of an unused long service leave payment that is attributable to the period.

Note 2: If your employment was partly full-time and partly part-time during a period, see section 83-110 to work out the amount of an unused long service leave payment that is attributable to the period.

83-85 Entitlement to tax offset

- (1) You are entitled to a *tax offset on an *unused long service leave payment that ensures that the rate of income tax on the amount of the payment mentioned in subsection (2) does not exceed 30%.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (2) The amount is the part of the *unused long service leave payment included in your assessable income under subsection 83-80(1):
- (a) to the extent that it is attributable to the *pre-18/8/93 period; and
  - (b) to the extent that it is attributable to the *post-17/8/93 period, if the payment was made in connection with a payment that includes, or consists of, any of the following:
    - (i) a *genuine redundancy payment; or
    - (ii) an *early retirement scheme payment; or
    - (iii) an *invalidity segment of an *employment termination payment or a *superannuation benefit.

83-90 Meaning of pre-16/8/78 period, pre-18/8/93 period, post-17/8/93 period and *long service leave employment period

- (1) The pre-16/8/78 period consists of each day (if any) in your *long service leave employment period that occurred before 16 August 1978.
- (2) The pre-18/8/93 period consists of each day (if any) in your *long service leave employment period to which the payment relates that occurred after 15 August 1978 and before 18 August 1993.
- (3) The post-17/8/93 period consists of each day (if any) in your *long service leave employment period to which the payment relates that occurred after 17 August 1993.
- (4) Your long service leave employment period, for a period of long service leave, is:
  - (a) the period of employment to which the long service leave relates; or
  - (b) if your entitlement to long service leave changes so that it accrues over a shorter period—the period that would apply under paragraph (a) assuming the change had not happened.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Employment wholly full-time or wholly part-time

83-95 How to work out amount of payment attributable to each period

- (1) Work out how much of an *unused long service leave payment is attributable to a period as follows:
  - (a) for the *pre-18/8/93 period or to the *post-17/8/93 period—use the formula in subsection (2);
  - (b) for the *pre-16/8/78 period—subtract the sum of the amounts (if any) worked out for paragraph (a) for the other 2 periods from the total amount of the payment.
- (2) For the *pre-18/8/93 period or the *post-17/8/93 period, the formula is:

$$\text{Amount of payment} \times \frac{\text{Unused long service leave days in the relevant period}}{\text{Total unused long service leave days}}$$

where:

total unused long service leave days means the total number of unused days of long service leave in the *long service leave employment period for the payment.

unused long service leave days in the relevant period means the number of unused days of long service leave in the *pre-18/8/93 period or the *post-17/8/93 period (as applicable), worked out under section 83-100.

Note 1: For the meaning of unused days of long service leave, see section 83-100.

Note 2: Section 83-110 explains how to work out the period of unused long service leave if your employment was partly full-time and partly part-time during the period.

83-100 How to work out unused days of long service leave for each period

- (1) The number of unused days of long service leave for each of the *pre-16/8/78 period, the *pre-18/8/93 period and the *post-17/8/93

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

period is the number of days of long service leave that accrued to you during that period less the number of days of long service leave that you used in the period.

Exception if days used exceed days accrued in the pre-18/8/93 period and the post-17/8/93 period

- (2) To the extent that the number of days of long service leave that you used during the *pre-18/8/93 period or the *post-17/8/93 period exceeds the number of days of long service leave that accrued to you during the period, apply the excess days as shown in this table:

How to apply excess days

Item	If there are excess days in this period:	Apply the excess days as follows:	If, after you apply the excess days as shown in column 2, excess days remain, apply the remaining days as follows:
1	*pre-18/8/93 period	Subtract the excess days from the unused days in the *post-17/8/93 period	Subtract the excess days from the unused days in the *pre-16/8/78 period
2	*post-17/8/93 period	Subtract the excess days from the unused days in the *pre-18/8/93 period	Subtract the excess days from the unused days in the *pre-16/8/78 period

- (3) The number of unused days of long service leave in each period is the number of days after applying the table.

Note: Section 83-115 explains how to work out the number of days of long service leave you are taken to have used if you took long service leave at less than the full pay rate.

83-105 How to work out long service leave accrued in each period

- (1) Work out the number of days of long service leave that accrued to you during each part of your *long service leave employment period as follows:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-40 Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments

Division 83 Other payments on termination of employment

Section 83-110

---

- (a) for the *pre-18/8/93 period or the *post-17/8/93 period—use the formula in subsection (2);
  - (b) for the *pre-16/8/78 period—subtract the sum of the number of days (if any) worked out under paragraph (a) for the other 2 periods from the total number of days of long service leave accrued to you during the long service leave employment period.
- (2) For the *pre-18/8/93 period or the *post-17/8/93 period, the formula is:

$$\frac{\text{Days of long service leave accrued during *long service leave employment period}}{\text{Days in *long service leave employment period}} \times \frac{\text{Days in relevant period}}{\text{Days in *long service leave employment period}}$$

where:

relevant period means the *pre-18/8/93 period or the *post 17/8/93 period (as applicable).

How to treat fraction of day

- (3) If long service leave accrued to you during the *pre-18/8/93 period and the *post-17/8/93 period but not during the *pre-16/8/78 period, and the number of days worked out under subsection (2) for the post-17/8/93 period includes a fraction, treat the fraction as having accrued during the pre-18/8/93 period.
- (4) If long service leave accrued to you during all 3 periods and the number of days worked out under subsection (2) for the *post-17/8/93 period or the *pre-18/8/93 period includes a fraction, treat the fraction as having accrued during the *pre-16/8/78 period.

Employment partly full-time and partly part-time

83-110 Leave accrued in pre-16/8/78, pre-18/8/93 and post-17/8/93 periods—employment full-time and part-time

- (1) This section applies if the *long service leave employment period for an *unused long service leave payment includes:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) 1 or more periods when you were employed on a full-time basis; and
  - (b) 1 or more periods when you were employed on a part-time basis.
- (2) Work out how much of the payment is attributable to the period or periods when you were employed on a full-time basis (the full-time payment) and how much to the period or periods when you were employed on a part-time basis (the part-time payment).
- (3) The amount of the payment that is attributable to each of the *pre-16/8/78 period, the *pre-18/8/93 period and the *post-17/8/93 period is the sum of the amounts worked out in accordance with sections 83-95, 83-100 and 83-105 that would be attributable to those periods if the full-time payment and the part-time payment were each *unused long service leave payments.

Long service leave taken at less than full pay

83-115 Working out used days of long service leave if leave taken at less than full pay

If you used days of long service leave at a rate of pay that is less than the rate to which you are entitled, the number of days of long service leave you are taken to have used (disregarding fractions of days) is as follows:

$$\text{Actual days of long service leave} \times \frac{\text{Rate of pay at which leave was actually taken}}{\text{Rate of pay to which you were entitled when taking leave}}$$

Example: If you took 100 actual days of long service leave at a rate of pay of $30 per hour, while the rate of pay to which you were entitled when taking leave is $40 per hour, you are taken to have used 75 days of long service leave, worked out as follows:

$$100 \text{ actual days of long service leave} \times \frac{30}{40} = 75 \text{ days of long service leave you are taken to have used}$$

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-40 Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments

Division 83 Other payments on termination of employment

Section 83-165

---

Subdivision 83-C—Genuine redundancy payments and early retirement scheme payments

Guide to Subdivision 83-C

83-165 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision defines what are genuine redundancy payments and early retirement scheme payments.

If you receive a genuine redundancy payment or an early retirement scheme payment, you do not have to pay income tax on the payment so far as it does not exceed a certain amount worked out under this Subdivision.

A part of a genuine redundancy payment or an early retirement scheme payment that is not tax free under this Subdivision will normally be an employment termination payment.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

- 83-170 Tax-free treatment of genuine redundancy payments and early retirement scheme payments
- 83-175 What is a genuine redundancy payment?
- 83-180 What is an early retirement scheme payment?

Operative provisions

83-170 Tax-free treatment of genuine redundancy payments and early retirement scheme payments

- (1) This section applies if you receive a *genuine redundancy payment or an *early retirement scheme payment.

Note: A payment cannot be both a genuine redundancy payment and an early retirement scheme payment, because of the nature of each of these types of payment: see sections 83-175 and 83-180.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(2) So much of the relevant payment as does not exceed the amount worked out under subsection (3) is not assessable income and is not *exempt income.

(3) Work out the amount using the formula:

$$\text{Base amount} + \left( \text{Service amount} \times \text{Years of service} \right)$$

where:

base amount means:

- (a) for the income year 2006-2007—$6,783; and
- (b) for a later income year—the amount mentioned in paragraph (a) indexed annually.

Note: Subdivision 960-M shows you how to index the base amount.

service amount means:

- (a) for the income year 2006-2007—$3,392; and
- (b) for a later income year—the amount mentioned in paragraph (a) indexed annually.

Note: Subdivision 960-M shows you how to index the service amount.

years of service means the number of whole years in the period, or sum of periods, of employment to which the payment relates.

Note: The remaining part of a genuine redundancy payment or an early retirement scheme payment (apart from the amount mentioned in subsection (3)) is an employment termination payment if section 82-130 applies to that part.

83-175 What is a genuine redundancy payment?

(1) A genuine redundancy payment is so much of a payment received by an employee who is dismissed from employment because the employee's position is genuinely redundant as exceeds the amount that could reasonably be expected to be received by the employee in consequence of the voluntary termination of his or her employment at the time of the dismissal.

(2) A genuine redundancy payment must satisfy the following conditions:

- (a) the employee is dismissed before the earlier of the following:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-40 Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments

Division 83 Other payments on termination of employment

Section 83-180

---

- (i) the day he or she turned 65;
  - (ii) if the employee's employment would have terminated when he or she reached a particular age or completed a particular period of service—the day he or she would reach the age or complete the period of service (as the case may be);
  - (b) if the dismissal was not at *arm's length—the payment does not exceed the amount that could reasonably be expected to be made if the dismissal were at arm's length;
  - (c) at the time of the dismissal, there was no *arrangement between the employee and the employer, or between the employer and another person, to employ the employee after the dismissal.
- (3) However, a genuine redundancy payment does not include any part of a payment that was received by the employee in lieu of *superannuation benefits to which the employee may have become entitled at the time the payment was received or at a later time.

Payments not covered

- (4) A payment is not a genuine redundancy payment if it is a payment mentioned in section 82-135 (apart from paragraph 82-135(e)).

Note: Paragraph 82-135(e) provides that the part of a genuine redundancy payment or an early retirement scheme payment worked out under section 83-170 is not an employment termination payment.

83-180 What is an early retirement scheme payment?

- (1) An early retirement scheme payment is so much of a payment received by an employee because the employee retires under an *early retirement scheme as exceeds the amount that could reasonably be expected to be received by the employee in consequence of the voluntary termination of his or her employment at the time of the retirement.
- (2) An early retirement scheme payment must satisfy the following conditions:
- (a) the employee retires before the earlier of the following:
    - (i) the day he or she turned 65;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (ii) if the employee's employment would have terminated when he or she reached a particular age or completed a particular period of service—the day he or she would reach the age or complete the period of service (as the case may be);
  - (b) if the retirement is not at *arm's length—the payment does not exceed the amount that could reasonably be expected to be made if the retirement were at arm's length;
  - (c) at the time of the retirement, there was no *arrangement between the employee and the employer, or between the employer and another person, to employ the employee after the retirement.
- (3) A scheme is an early retirement scheme if:
  - (a) all the employer's employees who comprise such a class of employees as the Commissioner approves may participate in the scheme; and
  - (b) the employer's purpose in implementing the scheme is to rationalise or re-organise the employer's operations by making any change to the employer's operations, or the nature of the work force, that the Commissioner approves; and
  - (c) before the scheme is implemented, the Commissioner, by written instrument, approves the scheme as an early retirement scheme for the purposes of this section.
- (4) A scheme is also an early retirement scheme if:
  - (a) paragraph (3)(a) or (b) does not apply; and
  - (b) the Commissioner is satisfied that special circumstances exist in relation to the scheme that make it reasonable to approve the scheme; and
  - (c) before the scheme is implemented, the Commissioner, by written instrument, approves the scheme as an early retirement scheme for the purposes of this section.
- (5) However, an early retirement scheme payment does not include any part of the payment that was paid to the employee in lieu of *superannuation benefits to which the employee may have become entitled at the time the payment was made or at a later time.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-40 Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments

Division 83 Other payments on termination of employment

Section 83-230

---

Payments not covered

- (6) A payment is not an early retirement scheme payment if it is a payment mentioned in section 82-135 (apart from paragraph 82-135(e)).

Note: Paragraph 82-135(e) provides that the part of a genuine redundancy payment or an early retirement scheme payment worked out under section 83-170 is not an employment termination payment.

Subdivision 83-D—Foreign termination payments

Guide to Subdivision 83-D

83-230 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision deals with termination payments that arise out of foreign employment.

These payments are not employment termination payments, and are tax free (except for amounts worked out under this Subdivision).

Table of sections

Operative provisions

- 83-235 Termination payments tax free—foreign resident period
83-240 Termination payments tax free—Australian resident period

Operative provisions

83-235 Termination payments tax free—foreign resident period

A payment received by you is not assessable income and is not *exempt income if:

- (a) it was received in consequence of the termination of your employment in a foreign country; and
(b) it is not a *superannuation benefit; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (c) it is not a payment of a pension or an *annuity (whether or not the payment is a superannuation benefit); and
- (d) it relates only to a period of employment when you were not an Australian resident.

83-240 Termination payments tax free—Australian resident period

- (1) A payment received by you is not assessable income and is not *exempt income if:
  - (a) it was received in consequence of:
    - (i) the termination of your employment in a foreign country; or
    - (ii) the termination of your engagement on qualifying service on an approved project (within the meaning of section 23AF of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936), in relation to a foreign country; and
  - (b) it relates only to the period of that employment or engagement; and
  - (c) it is not a *superannuation benefit; and
  - (d) it is not a payment of a pension or an *annuity (whether or not the payment is a superannuation benefit); and
  - (e) you were an Australian resident during the period of the employment or engagement; and
  - (f) the payment is not exempt from income tax under the law of the foreign country; and
  - (g) for a period of employment—your foreign earnings from the employment are exempt from income tax under section 23AG of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; and
  - (h) for a period of engagement—your *eligible foreign remuneration from the service is exempt from income tax under section 23AF of that Act.
- (2) For the purposes of subparagraph (1)(a)(ii), treat the termination of engagement on qualifying service on an approved project as including:
  - (a) retirement from the engagement; and
  - (b) cessation of the engagement because of the person's death.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 2 Liability rules of general application

Part 2-40 Rules affecting employees and other taxpayers receiving PAYG withholding payments

Division 83 Other payments on termination of employment

Section 83-290

---

Note: The termination of a person's employment is treated in the same way: see section 80-10.

Subdivision 83-E—Other payments

Guide to Subdivision 83-E

83-290 What this Subdivision is about

If a payment you receive in consequence of the termination of your employment is made more than 12 months after the termination of your employment, it does not qualify as an employment termination payment, subject to certain exceptions (see section 82-130).

The payment is treated as assessable income and no tax concession is allowed under Division 82.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

83-295 Termination payments made more than 12 months after termination etc.

Operative provisions

83-295 Termination payments made more than 12 months after termination etc.

A payment received by you that would be an *employment termination payment but for paragraph 82-130(1)(b) is assessable income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Part 2-42—Personal services income

Division 84—Introduction

Guide to Part 2-42

84-1 What this Part is about

This Part is about 2 issues relating to personal services income.

Division 85 limits the entitlements of individuals to deductions relating to their personal services income.

Division 86 sets out the tax consequences of individuals' personal services income being diverted to other entities (often called alienation of the income).

These Divisions do not affect individuals or other entities that conduct personal services businesses. Division 87 defines personal services businesses.

Note: This Part may not apply until the 2002-03 income year to participants in the prescribed payments system on 13 April 2000: see item 26 of Schedule 1 to the New Business Tax System (Alienation of Personal Services Income) Act 2000.

Table of sections

84-5	Meaning of personal services income
84-10	This Part does not imply that individuals are employees

Operative provisions

84-5 Meaning of *personal services income

- (1) Your *ordinary income or *statutory income, or the ordinary income or statutory income of any other entity, is your personal services income if the income is mainly a reward for your personal

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 84-10

---

efforts or skills (or would mainly be such a reward if it was your income).

Example 1: NewIT Pty. Ltd. provides computer programming services, but Ron does all the work involved in providing those services. Ron uses the clients' equipment and software to do the work. NewIT's ordinary income from providing the services is Ron's personal services income because it is a reward for his personal efforts or skills.

Example 2: Trux Pty. Ltd. owns one semi-trailer, and Tom is the only person who drives it. Trux's ordinary income from transporting goods is not Tom's personal services income because it is produced mainly by use of the semi-trailer, and not mainly as a reward for Tom's personal efforts or skills.

Example 3: Jim works as an accountant for a large accounting firm that employs many accountants. None of the firm's ordinary income or statutory income is Jim's personal services income because it is produced mainly by the firm's business structure, and not mainly as a reward for Jim's personal efforts or skills.

- (2) Only individuals can have personal services income.
- (3) This section applies whether the income is for doing work or is for producing a result.
- (4) The fact that the income is payable under a contract does not stop the income being mainly a reward for your personal efforts or skills.

84-10 This Part does not imply that individuals are employees

The application of this Part to an individual does not imply, for the purposes of any *Australian law or any instrument made under an Australian law, that the individual is an employee.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 85—Deductions relating to personal services income

Guide to Division 85

85-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out amounts, relating to personal services income, that an individual cannot deduct. In particular, deductions that are unavailable to an employee are similarly unavailable to an individual who has personal services income and who is not an employee.

However, this Division does not apply if the individual is conducting a personal services business or receives the income as an employee or office holder.

Table of sections

85-5	Object of this Division
85-10	Deductions for non-employees relating to personal services income
85-15	Deductions for rent, mortgage interest, rates and land tax
85-20	Deductions for payments to associates etc.
85-25	Deductions for superannuation for associates
85-30	Exception: personal services businesses
85-35	Exception: employees, office holders and religious practitioners
85-40	Application of Subdivision 900-B to individuals who are not employees

Operative provisions

85-5 Object of this Division

The object of this Division is to ensure that individuals who are not conducting *personal services businesses cannot deduct certain amounts (such as amounts that employees cannot deduct).

Note: This Division also affects the extent to which a personal services entity is entitled to deductions relating to gaining or producing an individual's personal services income: see section 86-60.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

85-10 Deductions for non-employees relating to personal services income

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act an amount to the extent that it relates to gaining or producing that part of your *ordinary income or *statutory income that is your *personal services income if:
- (a) the income is not payable to you as an employee; and
  - (b) you would not be able to deduct the amount under this Act if the income were payable to you as an employee.

Example: Ruth is an architect who works as an independent contractor for one firm. She is not conducting a personal services business. On most days she travels from her home to the business premises of the firm, where she does her work. She also has a home office, where she does some of her work.

This section confirms that Ruth cannot deduct her expenses of travelling between her home and the firm's premises because she could not deduct them if she were an employee.

- (2) Subsection (1) does not stop you deducting an amount to the extent that it relates to:
- (a) gaining work; or
Examples: Advertising, tendering and quoting for work.
  - (b) insuring against loss of your income or your income earning capacity; or Examples: Sickness, accident and disability insurance.
  - (c) insuring against liability arising from your acts or omissions in the course of earning income; or Examples: Public liability insurance and professional indemnity insurance.
  - (d) engaging an entity that is not your *associate to perform work; or
  - (e) engaging your *associate to perform work that forms part of the principal work for which you gain or produce your *personal services income; or
  - (f) contributing to a fund in order to obtain *superannuation benefits for yourself or for your *SIS dependants in the event of your death; or

Note: For deductions for superannuation contributions: see Subdivision 290-C.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (g) meeting your obligations under a *workers' compensation law to pay premiums, contributions or similar payments or to make payments to an employee in respect of *compensable work-related trauma; or
- (h) meeting your obligations, or exercising your rights, under the *GST law.

85-15 Deductions for rent, mortgage interest, rates and land tax

You cannot deduct under this Act an amount of rent, mortgage interest, rates or land tax:

- (a) for some or all of your residence; or
  - (b) for some or all of your *associate's residence;
- to the extent that the amount relates to gaining or producing your *personal services income.

85-20 Deductions for payments to associates etc.

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act:
  - (a) any payment you make to your *associate; or
  - (b) any amount you incur arising from an obligation you have to your associate;to the extent that the payment or amount relates to gaining or producing your *personal services income.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not stop you deducting a payment or amount to the extent that it relates to engaging your *associate to perform work that forms part of the principal work for which you gain or produce your *personal services income.
- (3) An amount or payment that you cannot deduct because of this section is neither assessable income nor *exempt income of your *associate.

85-25 Deductions for superannuation for associates

- (1) You cannot deduct under this Act a contribution you make to a fund or an *RSA to provide for *superannuation benefits payable

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 85-30

---

for your *associate, to the extent that the associate's work for you relates to gaining or producing your *personal services income.

- (2) Subsection (1) does not stop you deducting a contribution to the extent that your *associate's performance of work forms part of the principal work for which you gain or produce your *personal services income.
- (3) However, if subsection (2) applies, your deduction cannot exceed the amount you would have to contribute, for the benefit of the *associate, to a *complying superannuation fund or an *RSA in order to ensure that you did not have any *individual superannuation guarantee shortfalls in respect of the associate for any of the *quarters in the income year.
- (4) To work out the amount you would have to contribute for the purposes of subsection (3), the *associate's salary or wages, for the purposes of the Superannuation Guarantee (Administration) Act 1992, are taken to be the amount that neither section 85-10 nor 85-20 prevent you deducting for salary or wages you paid to the associate.

Note: See paragraph 85-10(2)(e) for deductions relating to employment of associates.

85-30 Exception: personal services businesses

This Division does not apply to an amount, payment or contribution to the extent that the amount, payment or contribution relates to income from you conducting a *personal services business.

85-35 Exception: employees, office holders and religious practitioners

- (1) This Division does not apply to an amount, payment or contribution to the extent that the amount, payment or contribution relates to *personal services income that you receive as:
  - (a) an employee; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) an individual referred to in paragraph 12-45(1)(a), (b), (c), (d) or (e) (about payments to office holders) in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953.
- (2) This Division does not apply to an amount, payment or contribution to the extent that the amount, payment or contribution relates to a payment referred to in section 12-47 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 (payments to *religious practitioners).

85-40 Application of Subdivision 900-B to individuals who are not employees

This Division does not have the effect of applying Subdivision 900-B (about substantiating work expenses) to an individual who is not an employee.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 86—Alienation of personal services income

Table of Subdivisions

Guide to Division 86

- 86-A General
- 86-B Entitlement to deductions

Guide to Division 86

86-1 What this Division is about

Income from the rendering of your personal services is treated as your assessable income if it is the income of another entity and is not promptly paid to you as salary.

However, this does not apply if the other entity is conducting a personal services business.

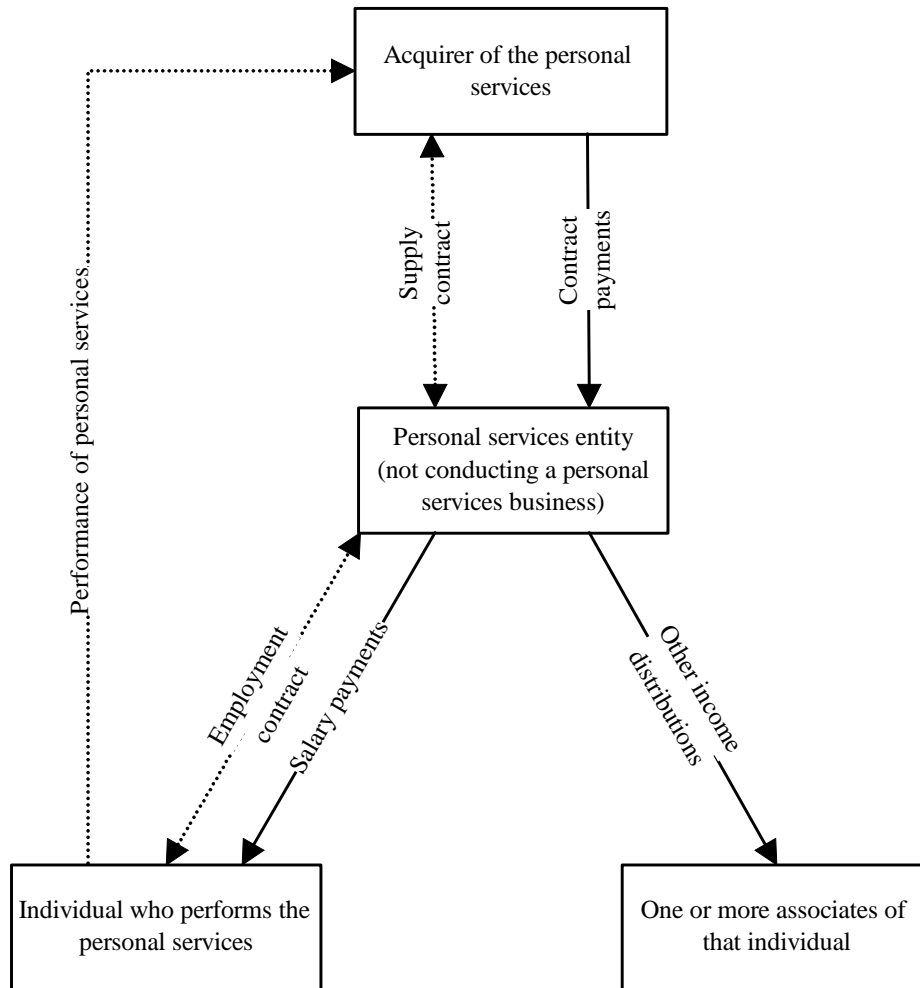

There are limits to the other entity's entitlement to deductions to offset against the amount treated as your income.

86-5 A simple description of what this Division does

- (1) This diagram shows an example of a simple arrangement for the alienation of personal services income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Note 1: Solid lines indicate actual payments between the parties. Dotted lines indicate other interactions between the parties.

Note 2: This Division also applies to different and more complex arrangements.

- (2) This Division has the effect of attributing the personal services entity's income from the personal services to the individual who performed them (unless the income is promptly paid to the individual as salary). Certain deduction entitlements of the personal services entity can reduce the amount of the attribution.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Subdivision 86-A—General

Table of sections

86-10	Object of this Division
86-15	Effect of obtaining personal services income through a personal services entity
86-20	Offsetting the personal services entity's deductions against personal services income
86-25	Apportionment of entity maintenance deductions among several individuals
86-27	Deduction for net personal services income loss
86-30	Assessable income etc. of the personal services entity
86-35	Later payments of, or entitlements to, personal services income to be disregarded for income tax purposes
86-40	Salary payments shortly after an income year

86-10 Object of this Division

The object of this Division is to ensure that individuals cannot reduce or defer their income tax (and other liabilities) by alienating their *personal services income through companies, partnerships or trusts that are not conducting *personal services businesses.

Note: The general anti-avoidance provisions of Part IVA of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 may still apply to cases of alienation of personal services income that fall outside this Division.

86-15 Effect of obtaining personal services income through a personal services entity

Amounts included in your assessable income

- (1) Your assessable income includes an amount of *ordinary income or *statutory income of a *personal services entity that is your *personal services income.

Example: Continuing example 1 in section 84-5: Assume that NewIT only provides services to one client. Ron's assessable income includes ordinary income of NewIT from providing the computer programming services, because the income is Ron's personal services income.

Note: The amount included in your assessable income can be reduced by certain deductions to which the personal services entity is entitled: see section 86-20.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (2) A personal services entity is a company, partnership or trust whose *ordinary income or *statutory income includes the *personal services income of one or more individuals.

Exception: personal services businesses

- (3) This section does not apply if that amount is income from the *personal services entity conducting a *personal services business.

Note: Even if the entity is conducting a personal services business, it is possible that some of its income is not income from conducting that business.

Exception: amounts promptly paid to you as salary or wages

- (4) This section does not apply to the extent that:
- (a) the *personal services entity pays that amount to you, as an employee, as salary or wages; and
  - (b) the payment is made before the end of the 14th day after the *PAYG payment period during which the amount became *ordinary income or *statutory income of the entity.

Note: The entity is obliged to withhold amounts from salary or wages paid before the end of that day: see section 12-35 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

Exception: exempt income etc.

- (5) This section only applies to the extent that that amount would be assessable income of the personal services entity if this Division did not apply.

Example: If the entity's income includes an amount that is your personal services income for a service on which GST is payable, the amount included in your assessable income will not include the GST, because the GST is neither assessable income nor exempt income of the entity: see section 17-5.

86-20 Offsetting the personal services entity's deductions against personal services income

- (1) The amount of your *personal services income included in your assessable income under section 86-15 may be reduced (but not

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 86-20

---

below nil) by the amount of certain deductions to which the *personal services entity is entitled.

Note 1: Subdivision 86-B limits a personal services entity's entitlement to deductions.

Note 2: If the amount of the deductions exceeds the amount of the personal services income, a deduction for the excess is available to you under section 86-27. The personal services entity cannot deduct the amount of the excess: see section 86-87.

- (2) Use this method statement to work out whether, and by how much, the amount is reduced:

Method statement

Step 1. Work out, for the income year, the amount of any deductions (other than *entity maintenance deductions or deductions for amounts of salary or wages paid to you) to which the *personal services entity is entitled that are deductions relating to your *personal services income.

Step 2. Work out, for the income year, the amount of any *entity maintenance deductions to which the *personal services entity is entitled.

Step 3. Work out the *personal services entity's assessable income for that income year, disregarding any income it receives that is your *personal services income or the personal services income of anyone else.

Step 4. Subtract the amount under step 3 from the amount under step 2.

Note 1: Step 4 ensures that, before entity maintenance deductions can contribute to the reduction, they are first exhausted against any income of the entity that is not personal services income.

Note 2: If the personal services entity receives another individual's personal services income, see section 86-25.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- Step 5. If the amount under step 4 is greater than zero, the amount of the reduction under subsection (1) is the sum of the amounts under steps 1 and 4.
- Step 6. If the amount under step 4 is not greater than zero, the amount of the reduction under subsection (1) is the amount under step 1.

Example 1: Continuing example 1 in section 84-5: Assume these additional facts:

- $120,000 of NewIT's income is Ron's personal services income;
- NewIT has deductions (including superannuation contributions) of $50,000 relating to Ron's personal services income (step 1);
- NewIT has entity maintenance deductions of $8,000 (step 2);
- NewIT has investments that produce income. NewIT's assessable income, disregarding Ron's or anyone else's personal services income, is $20,000 (step 3).

Because the step 4 amount is less than zero (-$12,000), step 5 does not apply and, under step 6, the amount of the reduction is $50,000. Therefore the amount included in Ron's assessable income is:

$$$120,000 - $50,000 = $70,000$$

Example 2: Assume, as an alternative set of facts, that NewIT's assessable income under step 3 was only $2,000.

The step 4 amount would have been $6,000, and, under step 5, the amount of the reduction would have been $56,000 (adding the amounts under steps 1 and 4). The amount included in Ron's assessable income would then have been:

$$$120,000 - $56,000 = $64,000$$

Note: The personal services entity's deductions that do not relate to your personal services income and that are not entity maintenance deductions cannot reduce the amount included in your assessable income under section 86-15.

86-25 Apportionment of entity maintenance deductions among several individuals

If, in the income year:

- (a) the amount worked out under step 4 of the method statement in section 86-20 is greater than zero; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 86-25

---

Note: This happens if the entity has entity maintenance deductions that form some or all of the reduction under section 86-20.

- (b) the *ordinary income or *statutory income of the *personal services entity includes another individual's *personal services income (as well as your personal services income); and
- (c) the other individual's personal services income is included in the other individual's assessable income under section 86-15; the amount worked out under step 4 is taken to be:

$$\text{Original step 4 amount} \times \frac{\text{Your personal services income}}{\text{Total personal services income}}$$

where:

original step 4 amount is the amount that would be the amount worked out under step 4 if this section did not apply.

total personal services income is the sum of all the amounts of personal services income (whether your personal services income or someone else's) that are included in the personal services entity's ordinary income or statutory income for the income year.

your personal services income is the sum of all the amounts of your personal services income that are included in the personal services entity's ordinary income or statutory income for the income year.

Example: Continuing example 2 in section 86-20: Assume that Robyn, another computer consultant, joined NewIT, and NewIT's ordinary income from providing the services also includes Robyn's personal services income of $168,000.

Because NewIT now receives the personal services income of someone else, Ron's step 4 amount is reduced as follows:

$$$6,000 \times \frac{$120,000}{$288,000} = $2,500$$

Under step 5 of the method statement in section 86-20, the amount of the reduction under that section is therefore $52,500, and the amount included in Ron's assessable income is $67,500.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

86-27 Deduction for net personal services income loss

If your personal services deduction amount exceeds your unreduced personal services income, then you can deduct the excess amount. For this purpose:

- (a) your personal services deduction amount is the amount of deductions relating to your *personal services income worked out under step 1 of the method statement in section 86-20, increased by the amount (if greater than zero) worked out under step 4 of the method statement; and
- (b) your unreduced personal services income is the personal services income that would have been included in your assessable income for the income year if there had not been any reduction under section 86-20.

86-30 Assessable income etc. of the personal services entity

*Ordinary income or *statutory income of the *personal services entity is neither assessable income nor *exempt income of the entity, to the extent that it is *personal services income included in your assessable income under section 86-15.

Note: Subsection 118-20(4) prevents this income being treated as a capital gain.

86-35 Later payments of, or entitlements to, personal services income to be disregarded for income tax purposes

- (1) To the extent that a payment by the *personal services entity, or by your *associate, is a payment to you or any of your associates of:
  - (a) *personal services income included in your assessable income under section 86-15; or
  - (b) any other amount that is attributable to that income;the payment:
  - (c) is neither assessable income nor *exempt income of the entity receiving it; andNote: Subsection 118-20(4) prevents this income being treated as a capital gain.
  - (d) is not an amount that the entity making it can deduct.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 86-40

---

Note: Section 118-65 prevents this amount being treated as a capital loss.

Example: Continuing example 2 in section 86-20: Assume that NewIT had paid Jill, Ron's wife, an amount for work that is not the principal work of NewIT. The payment is made from money already included in Ron's assessable income under section 86-15.

The amount is neither assessable income nor exempt income of Jill, and NewIT cannot deduct the amount.

- (2) To the extent that you are entitled, or any of your *associates are entitled, to a share of the net income of the *personal services entity, or of any of your associates, and that income is:
- (a) *personal services income included in your assessable income under section 86-15; or
  - (b) any other amount that is attributable to that income;
- that share is neither assessable income nor *exempt income of the entity receiving it or entitled to receive it.

86-40 Salary payments shortly after an income year

- (1) If:
- (a) before the end of 14 July in a particular income year, you receive, as salary or wages, *personal services income of yours from the *personal services entity; and
  - (b) failure to make the payment before the end of 14 July would have resulted in an amount of income being included in your assessable income under section 86-15 for the preceding income year;
- you are taken to have received the payment on 30 June of that preceding income year.

Example: Continuing example 2 in section 86-20: Assume that NewIT is a small withholder for PAYG withholding purposes, and its PAYG payment period covering April 2001 to June 2001 is the quarter ending on 30 June 2001. NewIT's income for that period (after taking into account any reductions under sections 86-20 and 86-25) includes $20,000 that is Ron's personal services income, and NewIT pays this to Ron on 12 July 2001.

The $20,000 that Ron receives is assessable income for the income year ended on 30 June 2001.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (2) However, this section does not affect the time at which the *personal services entity is treated as having paid the salary or wages.

Note 1: Therefore neither the timing of the entity's deduction for the payment, nor the timing of the obligation to withhold amounts under section 12-35 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953, is affected.

Note 2: However, these payments are treated as relating to the preceding income year for the purposes of the rules relating to payment summaries and PAYG credits (see Subdivisions 16-C and 18-A in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953).

Subdivision 86-B—Entitlement to deductions

Table of sections

86-60	General rule for deduction entitlements of personal services entities
86-65	Entity maintenance deductions
86-70	Car expenses
86-75	Superannuation
86-80	Salary or wages promptly paid
86-85	Deduction entitlements of personal services entities for amounts included in an individual's assessable income
86-87	Personal services entity cannot deduct net personal services income loss
86-90	Application of Divisions 28 and 900 to personal services entities

86-60 General rule for deduction entitlements of personal services entities

A *personal services entity cannot deduct under this Act an amount to the extent that it relates to gaining or producing an individual's *personal services income, unless:

- (a) the individual could have deducted the amount under this Act if the circumstances giving rise to the entity's entitlement to deduct the amount had applied instead to the individual; or

Note: In particular, Division 85 specifies limits on an individual's entitlements to deductions relating to the individual's personal services income.

- (b) the entity receives the individual's *personal services income in the course of conducting a *personal services business.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

86-65 Entity maintenance deductions

- (1) Section 86-60 does not stop a *personal services entity deducting an amount to the extent that it is an *entity maintenance deduction.

Note: See section 86-25 for how entity maintenance deductions are offset against a personal services entity's income.

- (2) Each of these is an entity maintenance deduction:
- (a) any fee or charge payable by the entity for opening, operating or closing an account with an *ADI;
  - (b) any deduction under section 25-5 (about tax-related expenses);
  - (c) any loss or outgoing incurred in relation to preparation or lodgment of any document the entity is required to lodge under the Corporations Act 2001;
  - (d) any fee or charge payable by the entity to an *Australian government agency for any licence, permission, approval, authorisation, registration or certification (however described) that is granted or given under an *Australian law.
- (3) However, paragraph (2)(c) does not include any payment that the entity makes to an *associate.

86-70 Car expenses

Cars used solely for business

- (1) Section 86-60 does not stop a *personal services entity deducting a *car expense for a *car of which there is no *private use.

Other cars

- (2) Section 86-60 does not stop a *personal services entity deducting:
- (a) a *car expense; or
  - (b) an amount of tax payable under the Fringe Benefits Tax Assessment Act 1986 for a *car fringe benefit;
- for a *car of which there is *private use. However, there cannot be, at the same time, more than one car for which such deductions can arise in relation to gaining or producing the same individual's *personal services income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (3) If there is more than one *car to which subsection (2) could apply at the same time, the entity must choose the car to which subsection (2) applies at that time. The choice remains in effect until the entity ceases to *hold that car.

Example: Continuing example 2 in section 86-20: Assume that NewIT provides 3 cars to Ron. Car 1 is used solely for business purposes and cars 2 and 3 are used for private purposes.

NewIT can deduct all the car expenses it incurs for car 1. It can also deduct all the car expenses it incurs for its choice of either car 2 or car 3, as well as the fringe benefits tax it pays for that car. However, it cannot deduct any car expenses or fringe benefits tax for the car that it does not choose.

Note: If car expenses for a car are not deductible because of section 86-60, the car benefit being provided is an exempt benefit for the purposes of fringe benefits tax: see subsection 8(4) of the Fringe Benefits Tax Assessment Act 1986.

86-75 Superannuation

- (1) Section 86-60 does not stop a *personal services entity deducting a contribution the entity makes to a fund or an *RSA for the purpose of making provision for *superannuation benefits payable for an individual whose *personal services income is included in the entity's *ordinary income or *statutory income.

For deductions for superannuation contributions: see Subdivision AA of Division 3 of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

- (2) However, if:
- (a) the individual performs less than 20% (by *market value) of the entity's principal work; and
  - (b) the individual is an *associate of another individual whose *personal services income is included in the entity's *ordinary income or *statutory income;
- the entity's deduction cannot exceed the amount it would have to contribute, for the benefit of the individual, to a *complying superannuation fund or an *RSA in order to ensure that it did not have any *individual superannuation guarantee shortfalls in respect of the individual for any of the *quarters in the income year.
- (3) To work out the amount the entity would have to contribute for the purposes of subsection (2), the individual's salary or wages, for the

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 86-80

---

purposes of the Superannuation Guarantee (Administration) Act 1992, are taken to be the amount that section 86-60 does not prevent the entity deducting for salary or wages it paid to the individual.

Note: Section 86-60 will apply the limitations under sections 85-10 and 85-20 on an individual's entitlement to deductions (but see paragraph 85-10(2)(e) on employment of associates).

86-80 Salary or wages promptly paid

Section 86-60 does not stop a *personal services entity deducting an amount for salary or wages it pays to the individual referred to in that section before the end of the 14th day after the *PAYG payment period during which the amount became *ordinary income or *statutory income of the entity.

86-85 Deduction entitlements of personal services entities for amounts included in an individual's assessable income

The fact that a *personal services entity:

- (a) incurs an amount in gaining or producing an individual's assessable income; or
- (b) uses a *depreciating asset, or has it installed ready for use, for the *purpose of producing assessable income of an individual;

does not stop the entity deducting the loss or outgoing, or deducting an amount for the decline in value of the asset, under this Act if:

- (c) the entity incurs the amount in gaining or producing, or uses or installs the depreciating asset for the purpose of producing, its *ordinary income or *statutory income; and
- (d) the income is included in the individual's assessable income under section 86-15.

86-87 Personal services entity cannot deduct net personal services income loss

The total amount of the deductions to which a *personal services entity is entitled for an income year is reduced by the amount of any deduction that an individual, whose *personal services income is ordinary or statutory income of the entity for that income year, is entitled to under section 86-27.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

86-90 Application of Divisions 28 and 900 to personal services entities

This Division does not have the effect of applying Division 28 (about car expenses) or Division 900 (about substantiation rules) to a *personal services entity.

Note: Divisions 28 and 900 can still apply to a personal services entity that is a partnership: see subsections 28-10(2) and 900-5(2).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 87—Personal services businesses

Table of Subdivisions

Guide to Division 87

87-A General

87-B Personal services business determinations

Guide to Division 87

87-1 What this Division is about

Divisions 85 and 86 do not apply to personal services income that is income from conducting a personal services business.

It is not intended that the Divisions apply to independent contractors.

A personal services business exists if there is a personal services business determination or if one or more of 4 tests for what is a personal services business are met.

Regardless of how much of your personal services income is paid from one source, you can self-assess against the results test to determine whether you are an independent contractor. The results test is based on the traditional tests for determining independent contractors and it is intended that it apply accordingly.

However, you cannot “self-assess” whether you meet any of the other 3 tests if 80% or more of your personal services income is from one source. In these cases, you need a personal services business determination in order to be treated as conducting a personal services business.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

87-5 Diagram showing the operation of this Division

This diagram shows how this Division operates to ascertain whether personal services income is income from conducting a personal services business.

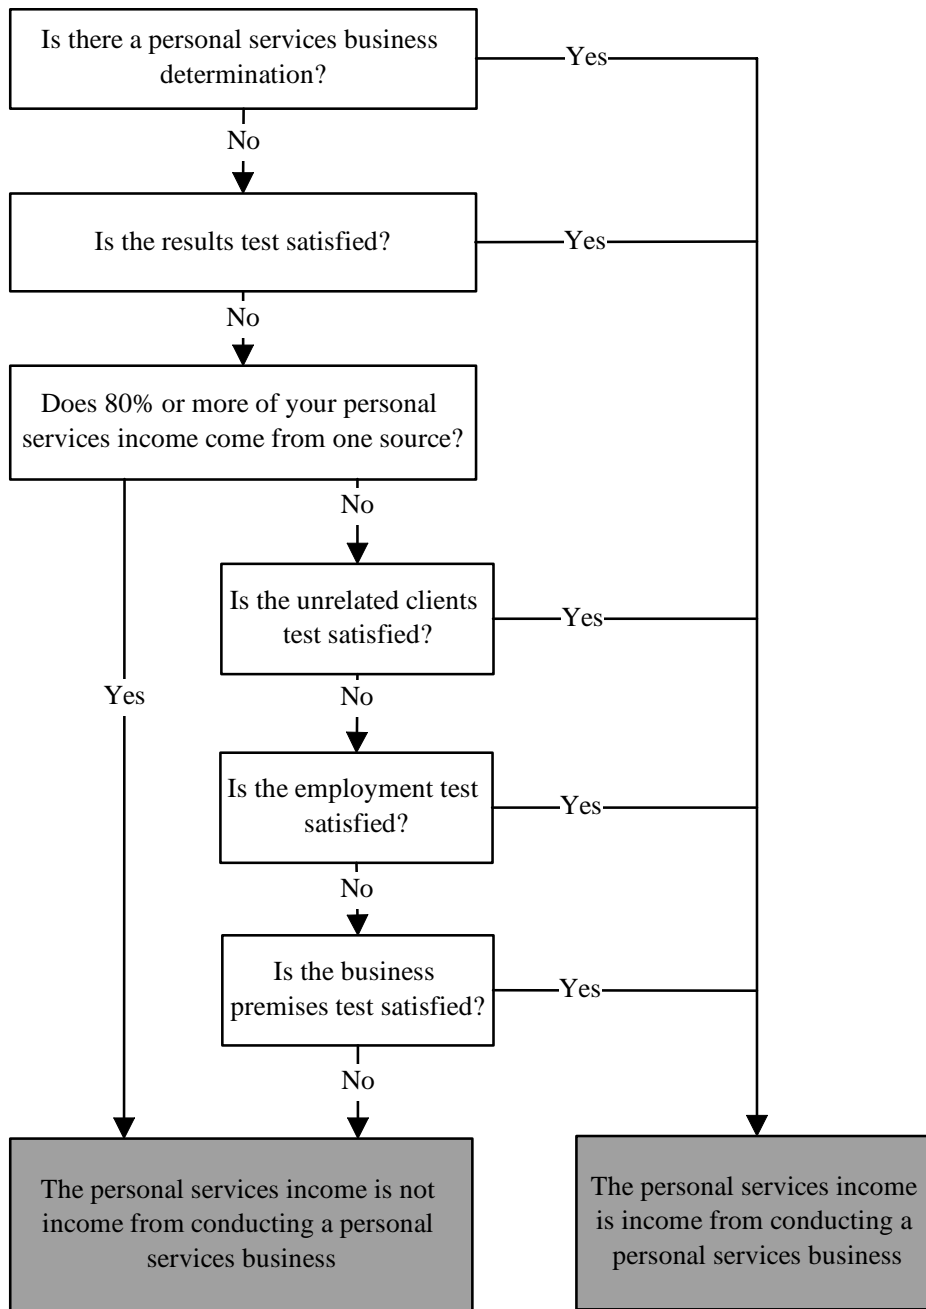

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 87-5

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 87-A—General

Table of sections

87-10	Object of this Division
87-15	What is a personal services business?
87-18	The results test for a personal services business
87-20	The unrelated clients test for a personal services business
87-25	The employment test for a personal services business
87-30	The business premises test for a personal services business
87-35	Personal services income from Australian government agencies
87-40	Application of this Division to certain agents

87-10 Object of this Division

The object of this Division is to define *personal services businesses in a way that ensures that it covers genuine businesses but not situations that are merely arrangements for dealing with the *personal services income of individuals.

87-15 What is a personal services business?

- (1) An individual or *personal services entity conducts a personal services business if:
- (a) for an individual—a *personal services business determination is in force relating to the individual's *personal services income; or
  - (b) for a personal services entity—a personal services business determination is in force relating to an individual whose personal services income is included in the entity's *ordinary income or *statutory income; or
  - (c) in any case—the individual or entity meets at least one of the 4 *personal services business tests in the income year for which the question whether the individual or entity is conducting a personal services business is in issue.

Note 1: For personal services business determinations, see Subdivision 87-B.

Note 2: Under subsection (3), the personal services business tests, apart from the results test under section 87-18, do not apply if 80% or more of your personal services income is from one source (but they can still be

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 87-15

---

used in deciding whether to make a personal services business determination).

- (2) The 4 personal services business tests are:
- (a) the results test under section 87-18; and
  - (b) the unrelated clients test under section 87-20; and
  - (c) the employment test under section 87-25; and
  - (d) the business premises test under section 87-30.
- (3) However, if 80% or more of an individual's *personal services income (not including income referred to in subsection (4)) during an income year is income from the same entity (or one entity and its *associates), and:
- (a) the individual's personal services income is not included in a *personal services entity's *ordinary income or *statutory income during an income year, and the individual does not meet the results test under section 87-18 in that income year; or
  - (b) the individual's personal services income is included in a personal services entity's ordinary income or statutory income during an income year, and the entity does not, in relation to the individual, meet the results test under section 87-18 in that income year;
- the individual's personal services income is not taken to be from conducting a *personal services business unless:
- (c) when the personal services income is gained or produced, a *personal services business determination is in force relating to the individual's personal services income; and
  - (d) if the determination was made on the application of a personal services entity—the individual's personal services income is income from the entity conducting the personal services business.
- Note: Sections 87-35 and 87-40 affect the operation of subsection (3) in relation to Australian government agencies and certain agents.
- (4) Subsection (3) does not apply to income:
- (a) that the individual receives as an employee; or
  - (b) that the individual receives as an individual referred to in paragraph 12-45(1)(a), (b), (c), (d) or (e) (payments to office

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

holders) in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953; or

- (c) to the extent that it is a payment referred to in section 12-47 (payments to *religious practitioners) in that Schedule.

87-18 The results test for a personal services business

- (1) An individual meets the results test in an income year if, in relation to at least 75% of the individual's *personal services income (not including income referred to in subsection (2)) during the income year:
- (a) the income is for producing a result; and
  - (b) the individual is required to supply the *plant and equipment, or tools of trade, needed to perform the work from which the individual produces the result; and
  - (c) the individual is, or would be, liable for the cost of rectifying any defect in the work performed.
- (2) Paragraph (1)(a) does not apply to income:
- (a) that the individual receives as an employee; or
  - (b) that the individual receives as an individual referred to in paragraph 12-45(1)(a), (b), (c), (d) or (e) (payments to office holders) in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953; or
  - (c) to the extent that it is a payment referred to in section 12-47 (payments to *religious practitioners) in that Schedule.
- (3) A *personal services entity meets the results test in an income year if, in relation to at least 75% of the *personal services income of one or more individuals that is included in the personal services entity's *ordinary income or *statutory income during the income year:
- (a) the income is for producing a result; and
  - (b) the personal services entity is required to supply the *plant and equipment, or tools of trade, needed to perform the work from which the personal services entity produces the result; and
  - (c) the personal services entity is, or would be, liable for the cost of rectifying any defect in the work performed.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 87-20

---

- (4) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(a), (b) or (c) or (3)(a), (b) or (c), regard is to be had to whether it is the custom or practice, when work of the kind in question is performed by an entity other than an employee:
- (a) for the *personal services income from the work to be for producing a result; and
  - (b) for the entity to be required to supply the *plant and equipment, or tools of trade, needed to perform the work; and
  - (c) for the entity to be liable for the cost of rectifying any defect in the work performed;
- as the case requires.

87-20 The unrelated clients test for a personal services business

- (1) An individual or a *personal services entity meets the unrelated clients test in an income year if:
- (a) during the year, the individual or personal services entity gains or produces income from providing services to 2 or more entities that are not *associates of each other, and are not associates of the individual or of the personal services entity; and
  - (b) the services are provided as a direct result of the individual or personal services entity making offers or invitations (for example, by advertising), to the public at large or to a section of the public, to provide the services.

Note: Sections 87-35 and 87-40 affect the operation of paragraph (1)(a) in relation to Australian government agencies and certain agents.

- (2) The individual or *personal services entity is not treated, for the purposes of paragraph (1)(b), as having made offers or invitations to provide services merely by being available to provide the services through an entity that conducts a *business of arranging for persons to provide services directly for clients of the entity.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

87-25 The employment test for a personal services business

- (1) An individual meets the employment test in an income year if:
  - (a) the individual engages one or more entities (other than *associates of the individual that are not individuals) to perform work; and
  - (b) that entity performs, or those entities together perform, at least 20% (by *market value) of the individual's principal work for that year.
- (2) A *personal services entity meets the employment test in an income year if:
  - (a) the entity engages one or more other entities to perform work, other than:
    - (i) individuals whose *personal services income is included in the entity's *ordinary income or *statutory income; or
    - (ii) *associates of the entity that are not individuals; and
  - (b) that other entity performs, or those other entities together perform, at least 20% (by *market value) of the entity's principal work for that year.
- (2A) If the *personal services entity is a partnership, work that a partner performs is taken, for the purposes of subsection (2), to be work that the personal services entity engages another entity to perform.
- (3) An individual or a *personal services entity also meets the employment test in an income year if, for at least half the income year, the individual or entity has one or more apprentices.

87-30 The business premises test for a personal services business

- (1) An individual or a *personal services entity meets the business premises test in an income year if, at all times during the income year, the individual or entity maintains and uses business premises:
  - (a) at which the individual or entity mainly conducts activities from which *personal services income is gained or produced; and
  - (b) of which the individual or entity has exclusive use; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 87-35

---

- (c) that are physically separate from any premises that the individual or entity, or any *associate of the individual or entity, uses for private purposes; and
  - (d) that are physically separate from the premises of the entity to which the individual or entity provides services and from the premises of any associate of the entity to which the individual or entity provides services.
- (2) The individual or entity need not maintain and use the same business premises throughout the income year.

87-35 Personal services income from Australian government agencies

- (1) *Australian government agencies are not treated as *associates of each other for the purposes of subsection 87-15(3) and paragraph 87-20(1)(a).

Example: You receive 60% of your personal services income from a Department of a State government and 40% of your personal services income from a corporation in which that State has a majority shareholding.

You are not treated as if 80% or more of your personal services income is income from the same entity and that entity's associates, and therefore you will not need a personal services business determination to satisfy subsection 87-15(3).

In addition, you satisfy the first limb (but not necessarily the second limb) of the unrelated clients test in subsection 87-20(1), because you receive your personal services income from 2 entities that are not treated as associates of each other.

- (2) Each Agency within the meaning of the Public Service Act 1999:
- (a) is treated as a separate entity; and
  - (b) is not treated as an *associate of any other such Agency, or of any *Australian government agency;
- for the purposes of subsection 87-15(3) and paragraph 87-20(1)(a).

Example: You receive 70% of your personal services income from the Commonwealth Department of Treasury and 30% of your personal services income from the Australian Taxation Office (neither body has a legal identity separate from the Commonwealth Government).

You are not treated as if 80% or more of your personal services income is income from the same entity, or from the same entity and that entity's associates, and therefore you will not need a personal services business determination to satisfy subsection 87-15(3).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

In addition, you satisfy the first limb (but not necessarily the second limb) of the unrelated clients test in subsection 87-20(1), because you receive your personal services income from 2 bodies that are treated as separate entities and that are not treated as associates of each other.

- (3) Each part of the government of a State or Territory, and each part of an authority of the State or Territory, that has, under a law of the State or Territory, a status corresponding to an Agency within the meaning of the Public Service Act 1999:
- (a) is treated as a separate entity; and
  - (b) is not treated as an *associate of any other part of such a government or authority, or of any *Australian government agency;
- for the purposes of subsection 87-15(3) and paragraph 87-20(1)(a).

87-40 Application of this Division to certain agents

Object of this section

- (1) The object of this section is to modify the operation of this Division for *agents who bear entrepreneurial risk in the way they provide services.

Agent rules do not apply

- (1A) The rules in section 960-105 (Certain entities treated as agents) do not apply to this section.

Agents covered by this section

- (2) Subsection 87-15(3) and section 87-20 apply, in the manner specified in this section, to an individual or *personal services entity if:
- (a) the individual or personal services entity is an *agent of another entity (the principal) but not the principal's employee; and
  - (b) the agent receives income from the principal that is for services that the agent provides to other entities (customers) on the principal's behalf; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 87-40

---

- (c) at least 75% of that income is commissions, or fees, based on the agent's performance in providing services to the customers on the principal's behalf; and
- (d) the agent actively seeks other entities to whom the agent could provide services on the principal's behalf; and
- (e) the agent does not provide any services to the customers, on the principal's behalf, using premises:
  - (i) that the principal or an *associate of the principal owns; or
  - (ii) in which the principal or an associate of the principal has a leasehold interest;unless the agent uses the premises under an arrangement entered into at arm's length.

Whether personal services income is from one source

- (3) If the *agent is an individual, in applying subsection 87-15(3) to the *personal services income of the agent during an income year, any part of the agent's personal services income from the principal that:
  - (a) the agent gains or produces during the income year; and
  - (b) is for services that the agent provided to a customer on the principal's behalf in the income year or an earlier income year;is treated as if it were personal services income from the customer, and not personal services income from the principal.
- (4) If the *agent is a *personal services entity, in applying subsection 87-15(3) to an individual's *personal services income that is included in the entity's *ordinary income or *statutory income during an income year, any part of the individual's personal services income from the principal that:
  - (a) the agent gains or produces during the income year; and
  - (b) is for services that the individual or the agent provided to a customer on the principal's behalf in the income year or an earlier income year;is treated as if it were personal services income from the customer, and not personal services income from the principal.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

The unrelated clients test for a personal services business

- (5) In determining whether, during an income year, the *agent meets the unrelated clients test under section 87-20, any services the agent provided in the income year or an earlier income year:
- (a) for which the agent gains or produces, during the income year, personal services income from the principal; and
  - (b) that were provided to a customer on the principal's behalf;
- are treated for the purposes of paragraph 87-20(1)(a) as if the agent, and not the principal, provided them to the customer.

Subdivision 87-B—Personal services business determinations

Table of sections

87-60	Personal services business determinations for individuals
87-65	Personal services business determinations for personal services entities
87-70	Applying etc. for personal services business determinations
87-75	When personal services business determinations have effect
87-80	Revoking personal services business determinations
87-85	Review of decisions

87-60 Personal services business determinations for individuals

Making etc. personal services business determinations

- (1) The Commissioner may, by giving written notice to an individual:
- (a) make a personal services business determination relating to the individual; or
  - (b) vary such a determination.
- (2) The Commissioner may, in the notice, specify:
- (a) the day on which the determination or variation takes effect, or took effect;
  - (b) the period for which the determination has effect;
  - (c) conditions to which the determination is subject.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 87-60

---

Matters about which the Commissioner must be satisfied

- (3) The Commissioner must not make the determination unless satisfied that, in the income year during which the determination first has effect, or is taken to have first had effect, the conditions in one or more of subsections (3A), (3B), (5) and (6) are met.

First alternative—results, employment or business premises test met or reasonably expected to be met

- (3A) The conditions in this subsection are that:
- (a) the individual could reasonably be expected to meet, or met, the results test under section 87-18, the employment test under section 87-25, the business premises test under section 87-30 or more than one of those tests; and
  - (b) the individual's *personal services income could reasonably be expected to be, or was, from the individual conducting activities that met one or more of those tests.

Second alternative—unusual circumstances prevented the results, employment or business premises test from being met

- (3B) The conditions in this subsection are that:
- (a) but for unusual circumstances applying to the individual in that year, the individual could reasonably have been expected to meet, or would have met, the results test under section 87-18, the employment test under section 87-25, the business premises test under section 87-30 or more than one of those tests; and
  - (b) the individual's *personal services income could reasonably be expected to be, or was, from the individual conducting activities that met one or more of those tests.
- (4) For the purposes of paragraph (3B)(a) but without limiting the scope of that paragraph, unusual circumstances include providing services to an insufficient number of entities to meet the unrelated clients test under section 87-20 if:
- (a) the individual starts a *business during the income year, and can reasonably be expected to meet the test in subsequent income years; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) the individual provides services to only one entity during the income year, but met the test in one or more preceding income years and can reasonably be expected to meet the test in subsequent income years.

Third alternative—unrelated clients test was met but 80% or more of income from same source because of unusual circumstances

- (5) The conditions in this subsection are that:
  - (a) the individual could reasonably be expected to meet, or met, the unrelated clients test under section 87-20; and
  - (b) because of unusual circumstances applying to the individual in the income year, 80% or more of the individual's *personal services income (not including income mentioned in subsection 87-15(4)) could reasonably have been expected to be, or would have been, income from the same entity (or one entity and its *associates); and
  - (c) the individual's personal services income could reasonably be expected to be, or was, from the individual conducting activities that met the unrelated clients test under section 87-20.

Fourth alternative—unrelated clients test not met because of unusual circumstances

- (6) The conditions in this subsection are that:
  - (a) but for unusual circumstances applying to the individual in that year, the individual could reasonably have been expected to meet, or would have met, the unrelated clients test under section 87-20; and
  - (b) if 80% or more of the individual's *personal services income (not including income mentioned in subsection 87-15(4)) could reasonably have been expected to be, or would have been, income from the same entity (or one entity and its *associates)—that is the case only because of unusual circumstances applying to the individual in the income year; and
  - (c) the individual's personal services income could reasonably be expected to be, or was, from the individual conducting

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 87-65

---

activities that met the unrelated clients test under section 87-20.

87-65 Personal services business determinations for personal services entities

Making etc. personal services business determinations

- (1) The Commissioner may, by giving written notice to a *personal services entity whose *ordinary income or *statutory income includes some or all of an individual's *personal services income:
  - (a) make a personal services business determination relating to the individual's personal services income included in the entity's ordinary income or statutory income; or
  - (b) vary such a determination.
- (2) The Commissioner may, in the notice, specify:
  - (a) the day on which the determination or variation takes effect, or took effect;
  - (b) the period for which the determination has effect;
  - (c) conditions to which the determination is subject.

Matters about which the Commissioner must be satisfied

- (3) The Commissioner must not make the determination unless satisfied that, in the income year during which the determination first has effect, or is taken to have first had effect, the conditions in one or more of subsections (3A), (3B), (5) and (6) are met.

First alternative—results, employment or business premises test met or reasonably expected to be met

- (3A) The conditions in this subsection are that:
  - (a) the entity could reasonably be expected to meet, or met, the results test under section 87-18, the employment test under section 87-25, the business premises test under section 87-30 or more than one of those tests; and
  - (b) the individual's *personal services income included in the entity's *ordinary income or *statutory income could

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

reasonably be expected to be, or was, from the entity conducting activities that met one or more of those tests.

Second alternative—unusual circumstances prevented the results, employment or business premises test from being met

- (3B) The conditions in this subsection are that:
- (a) but for unusual circumstances applying to the entity in that year, the entity could reasonably have been expected to meet, or would have met, the results test under section 87-18, the employment test under section 87-25, the business premises test under section 87-30 or more than one of those tests; and
  - (b) the individual's *personal services income included in the entity's *ordinary income or *statutory income could reasonably be expected to be, or was, from the entity conducting activities that met one or more of those tests.
- (4) For the purposes of paragraph (3B)(a) but without limiting the scope of that paragraph, unusual circumstances include providing services to an insufficient number of entities to meet the unrelated clients test under section 87-20 if:
- (a) the *personal services entity starts a *business during the income year, and can reasonably be expected to meet that test in subsequent income years; or
  - (b) the personal services entity provides services to only one entity during the income year, but met the test in one or more preceding income years and can reasonably be expected to meet the test in subsequent income years.

Third alternative—unrelated clients test was met but 80% or more of income from same source because of unusual circumstances

- (5) The conditions in this subsection are that:
- (a) the entity could reasonably be expected to meet, or met, the unrelated clients test under section 87-20; and
  - (b) because of unusual circumstances applying to the entity in the income year, 80% or more of the individual's *personal services income (not including income mentioned in subsection 87-15(4)) included in the entity's *ordinary income or *statutory income could reasonably have been

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 87-70

---

expected to be, or would have been, income from the same entity (or one entity and its *associates); and

- (c) the individual's personal services income included in the entity's ordinary income or statutory income could reasonably be expected to be, or was, from the entity conducting activities that met the unrelated clients test under section 87-20.

Fourth alternative—unrelated clients test not met because of unusual circumstances

- (6) The conditions in this subsection are that:
  - (a) but for unusual circumstances applying to the entity in that year, the entity could reasonably have been expected to meet, or would have met, the unrelated clients test under section 87-20; and
  - (b) if 80% or more of the individual's *personal services income (not including income mentioned in subsection 87-15(4)) included in the entity's *ordinary income or *statutory income could reasonably have been expected to be, or would have been, income from the same entity (or one entity and its *associates)—that is the case only because of unusual circumstances applying to the entity in the income year; and
  - (c) the individual's personal services income included in the entity's ordinary income or statutory income could reasonably be expected to be, or was, from the entity conducting activities that met the unrelated clients test under section 87-20.

87-70 Applying etc. for personal services business determinations

- (1) An individual or a *personal services entity may apply to the Commissioner, in the *approved form:
  - (a) for a *personal services business determination; or
  - (b) for a variation of a personal services business determination.
- (2) The Commissioner may request the applicant to give the Commissioner specified information, or a specified document, that the Commissioner needs to decide the application.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (3) If the Commissioner has not decided the application within 60 days after it is made, the applicant may, at any time, give the Commissioner written notice that the applicant wishes to treat the application as having been refused.
- (4) If the applicant gives notice under subsection (3), the Commissioner is taken, for the purposes of section 87-85, to have refused the application on the day on which the notice is given.
- (5) For the purposes of measuring the 60 days mentioned in subsection (3), disregard each period (if any):
  - (a) starting on the day when the Commissioner requests the applicant under subsection (2) to give the Commissioner specified information or a specified document; and
  - (b) ending at the end of the day the applicant gives the Commissioner the specified information or document.

87-75 When personal services business determinations have effect

- (1) The determination, or a variation of the determination, has effect, or is taken to have had effect, on and from:
  - (a) the day specified in the notice as the day on which the determination or variation takes effect, or took effect; or
  - (b) if a day is not specified—the day on which the notice is given.
- (2) The determination ceases to have effect at the end of the earliest day on which one or more of these occurs:
  - (a) one or more conditions to which the determination is subject are not met;
  - (b) the Commissioner revokes the determination;
  - (c) the period for which the determination has effect comes to an end.

87-80 Revoking personal services business determinations

The Commissioner must, by giving written notice to the individual or *personal services entity on whose application a *personal services business determination was made, revoke the determination if the Commissioner is no longer satisfied that there are grounds on which the determination could be made.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

87-85 Review of decisions

A person who is dissatisfied with;

- (a) a decision of the Commissioner to make, vary or revoke a *personal services business determination; or
- (b) the Commissioner's refusal of an application for a personal services business determination or for a variation of a personal services business determination;

may object against the decision in the manner set out in Part IVC of the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 3—Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1—Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 100—A Guide to capital gains and losses

General overview

100-1 What this Division is about

This Division is a simplified outline of the capital gains and capital losses provisions, commonly referred to as capital gains tax (CGT). It will help you to understand your current liabilities, and to factor CGT into your on-going financial affairs.

Table of sections

- 100-5 Effect of this Division
- 100-10 Fundamentals of CGT
- 100-15 Overview of Steps 1 and 2

Step 1—Have you made a capital gain or a capital loss?

- 100-20 What events attract CGT?
- 100-25 What are CGT assets?
- 100-30 Does an exception or exemption apply?
- 100-33 Can there be a roll-over?

Step 2—Work out the amount of the capital gain or loss

- 100-35 What is a capital gain or loss?
- 100-40 What factors come into calculating a capital gain or loss?
- 100-45 How to calculate the capital gain or loss for most CGT events

Step 3—Work out your net capital gain or loss for the income year

- 100-50 How to work out your net capital gain or loss
- 100-55 How do you comply with CGT?

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 100 A Guide to capital gains and losses

Section 100-5

---

Keeping records for CGT purposes

- 100-60 Why keep records?
- 100-65 What records?
- 100-70 How long you need to keep records

100-5 Effect of this Division

This Division is a *Guide.

Note: In interpreting an operative provision, a Guide may be considered only for limited purposes: see section 950-150.

100-10 Fundamentals of CGT

- (1) CGT affects your income tax liability because your assessable income includes your net capital gain for the income year. Your net capital gain is the total of your capital gains for the income year, reduced by certain capital losses you have made.

See later in this Guide (section 100-50) for more detail.

- (2) When you prepare your income tax return, you need to check whether you have made any capital gains for the income year.

You also need to check whether you have made any capital losses. You cannot deduct a capital loss from your assessable income, but it will reduce your capital gain in the current income year or later income years.

- (3) You will also need to consider the impact of CGT when doing your financial planning. In particular, you will need adequate record-keeping to deal most effectively with any immediate or future CGT liability.

To give you a sense of the range of things affected by CGT, if you are involved with any of the following, you may have a CGT liability now or at some time in the future:

leases	marriage or relationship breakdown inheritance	working from home
subdividing land	shares
goodwill	a civil court case

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

contracts
options
a company liquidation leaving Australia

trusts
bankruptcy
incorporating a company

100-15 Overview of Steps 1 and 2

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 100 A Guide to capital gains and losses

Section 100-20

---

Note: Capital proceeds and cost base are not relevant for some CGT events, for example CGT event K7 or any of the CGT events created by Subdivision 104-L.

Step 1—Have you made a capital gain or a capital loss?

100-20 What events attract CGT?

- (1) You can make a capital gain or loss only if a CGT event happens.
- (2) There are a wide range of CGT events. Some happen often and affect many different taxpayers. Others are rare and affect only a few.

---

Some examples of CGT events

---

Situation	Event	Which CGT event?
You own shares you acquired on or after 20 September 1985	You sell them	CGT event A1
You sell a business	You agree with the purchaser not to operate a similar business in the same area	CGT event D1
You are a lessor	You receive a payment for changing the lease	CGT event F5
You own shares in a company	The company makes a payment (not a dividend) to you as a shareholder	CGT event G1

---

A summary of all the CGT events is in section 104-5.

Identifying the time of a CGT event

- (3) The specific time when a CGT event happens is important for various reasons: in particular, for working out whether a capital gain or loss from the event affects your income tax for the current or another income year.

If a CGT event involves a contract, the time of the event will often be when the contract is made, not when it is completed.

The time of each CGT event is explained early in the relevant section in Division 104.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

100-25 What are CGT assets?

- (1) Most CGT events involve a CGT asset. (For many, there is an exception if the CGT asset was acquired before 20 September 1985.) However, many CGT events are concerned directly with capital receipts and do not involve a CGT asset.

See the summary of the CGT events in section 104-5.

- (2) Some CGT assets are reasonably well-known:

- land and buildings, for example, a weekender;
- shares;
- units in a unit trust;
- collectables which cost over $500, for example, jewellery or an artwork;
- personal use assets which cost over $10,000, for example, a boat.

- (3) Other CGT assets are not so well-known. For example:

- your home;
- contractual rights;
- goodwill;
- foreign currency.

For a full explanation of what things are CGT assets: see Division 108.

100-30 Does an exception or exemption apply?

- (1) Once you identify a CGT event which applies to you, you need to know if there is an exception or exemption that would reduce the capital gain or loss or allow you to disregard it.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 100-33

---

(2) There are 4 categories of exemptions:

1. exempt assets: for example, cars;
2. exempt or loss-denying transactions: for example, compensation for personal injury or your tenancy comes to an end;
3. anti-overlap provisions (that reduce your capital gain by the amount that is otherwise assessable);
4. small business relief.

Note: Most of the exceptions are in Division 104. You will find most of the possible exemptions in Division 118. The small business relief provisions are in Division 152.

Some exemptions are limited

(3) Take the family home for example. Generally, you are exempt from CGT when you make a capital gain on disposing of your main residence.

But this can change depending on how you came to own the house and what you have done with it. For example, if you rent it out, you may be liable to CGT when you sell it.

For the limits on the general exemption of your main residence:
see Subdivision 118-B.

100-33 Can there be a roll-over?

(1) Roll-overs allow you to defer or disregard a capital gain or loss from a CGT event. They apply in specific situations. Some require a choice (for example, where an asset is compulsorily acquired: see Subdivision 124-B) and some are automatic (for example, where an asset is transferred because of marriage or relationship breakdown: see Subdivision 126-A).

(2) There are 2 types of roll-over:

1. a replacement-asset roll-over allows you to defer a capital gain or loss from one CGT event until a later CGT event happens where a CGT asset is replaced with another one;
2. a same-asset roll-over allows you to disregard a capital gain or loss from a CGT event where the same CGT asset is involved.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Note: The replacement-asset roll-overs are listed in section 112-115, and the same-asset roll-overs are listed in section 112-150.

Step 2—Work out the amount of the capital gain or loss

100-35 What is a capital gain or loss?

For most CGT events:

- You make a capital gain if you receive (or are entitled to receive) capital amounts from the CGT event which exceed your total costs associated with that event.
- You make a capital loss if your total costs associated with the CGT event exceed the capital amounts you receive (or are entitled to receive) from the event.

100-40 What factors come into calculating a capital gain or loss?

Capital proceeds

- (1) For most CGT events, the capital amounts you receive (or are entitled to receive) from the event are called the capital proceeds.

To work out the capital proceeds: see Division 116.

Cost base and reduced cost base

- (2) For most CGT events, your total costs associated with the event are worked out in 2 different ways:
  - For the purpose of working out a capital gain, those costs are called the cost base of the CGT asset.
  - For the purpose of working out a capital loss, those costs are called the reduced cost base of the asset.

One of the main differences is that the costs may be indexed for inflation occurring before 1 October 1999 in working out a capital gain for a CGT asset acquired at or before 11.45 am on 21 September 1999 (which reduces the size of the gain), but not in working out a capital loss.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

To work out the cost base and reduced cost base: see Division 110.

100-45 How to calculate the capital gain or loss for most CGT events

1. Work out your capital proceeds from the CGT event.
2. Work out the cost base for the CGT asset.
3. Subtract the cost base from the capital proceeds.
4. If the proceeds exceed the cost base, the difference is your capital gain.
5. If not, work out the reduced cost base for the asset.
6. If the reduced cost base exceeds the capital proceeds, the difference is your capital loss.
7. If the capital proceeds are less than the cost base but more than the reduced cost base, you have neither a capital gain nor a capital loss.

Step 3—Work out your net capital gain or loss for the income year

100-50 How to work out your net capital gain or loss

1. Reduce your capital gains for the income year, in the order you choose, by your capital losses for the income year. (If the capital losses for the income year exceed the capital gains, the difference is your net capital loss. You cannot deduct a net capital loss from your assessable income.)
2. Reduce any remaining capital gains, in the order you choose, by any unapplied net capital losses for previous income years.
3. Reduce any remaining discount capital gains by the discount percentage.

To find out what is a discount capital gain and the discount percentage:
see Division 115.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

4. If you carry on a small business, apply the small business concessions in further reduction of your capital gains (whether or not the gains are discount capital gains).

For the small business concessions:
see Division 152.

5. Add up:
  - (a) any remaining capital gains that are not discount capital gains; and
  - (b) any remaining discount capital gains.

The total is your net capital gain.

For the rules on working out your net capital gain or loss:
see Division 102.

100-55 How do you comply with CGT?

Declare any net capital gain as assessable income in your income tax return.

Defer any net capital loss to the next income year for which you have capital gains that exceed the capital losses for that income year.

Keeping records for CGT purposes

100-60 Why keep records?

1. To ensure you do not disadvantage yourself.
2. To comply as easily as possible.
3. To plan for your CGT position in future income years.
4. The law requires you to: see Division 121.

100-65 What records?

Keeping full records will make it easier for you to comply. For example, keep records of:

- receipts of purchase or transfer;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 100 A Guide to capital gains and losses

Section 100-70

---

- interest on money you borrowed;
- costs of agents, accountants, legal, advertising etc.;
- insurance costs and land rates or taxes;
- any market valuations;
- costs of maintenance, repairs or modifications;
- brokerage on shares;
- legal costs.

100-70 How long you need to keep records

The law requires you to keep records for 5 years after a CGT event has happened.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 102—Assessable income includes net capital gain

Guide to Division 102

102-1 What this Division is about

This Division tells you how to work out if you have made a net capital gain or a net capital loss for the income year. A net capital gain is included in your assessable income. However, you cannot deduct a net capital loss. (Amounts otherwise included in your assessable income do not form part of a net capital gain.)

102-3 Concessions in working out your net capital gain

- (1) Concessional rules apply to working out the net capital gain of some entities (see subsection (2)) if:
  - (a) they have a capital gain (a discount capital gain) from a CGT asset acquired at least 12 months before the CGT event that caused the capital gain; and
  - (b) they have not chosen to include indexation in the cost base of the asset for working out the capital gain (if relevant).

Note 1: Division 115 explains what is a discount capital gain.

Note 2: Under Division 110, the entity can choose to include indexation in the cost base of a CGT asset acquired at or before 11.45 am on 21 September 1999.

- (2) Only these entities get the concession:
  - (a) individuals;
  - (b) complying superannuation entities;
  - (c) trusts;
  - (d) life insurance companies, in relation to discount capital gains for CGT events in respect of CGT assets that are complying superannuation/FHSA assets.

Note: Shareholders in a listed investment company can also receive a concession equivalent to a discount capital gain: see Subdivision 115-D.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 102 Assessable income includes net capital gain

Section 102-5

---

- (3) The concession is that the net capital gain includes only part of the amount of the discount capital gain left after applying capital losses and net capital losses from earlier income years.

See subsection 102-5(1).

Table of sections

Operative provisions

102-5	Assessable income includes net capital gain
102-10	How to work out your net capital loss
102-15	How to apply net capital losses
102-20	Ways you can make a capital gain or a capital loss
102-22	Amounts of capital gains and losses
102-23	CGT event still happens even if gain or loss disregarded
102-25	Order of application of CGT events
102-30	Exceptions and modifications

Operative provisions

102-5 Assessable income includes net capital gain

- (1) Your assessable income includes your net capital gain (if any) for the income year. You work out your net capital gain in this way:

Working out your net capital gain

Step 1. Reduce the *capital gains you made during the income year by the *capital losses (if any) you made during the income year.

Note 1: You choose the order in which you reduce your capital gains. You have a net capital loss for the income year if your capital losses exceed your capital gains: see section 102-10.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Note 2: Some provisions of this Act (such as Divisions 104 and 118) permit or require you to disregard certain capital gains or losses when working out your net capital gain. Subdivision 152-B permits you, in some circumstances, to disregard a capital gain on an asset you held for at least 15 years.

Step 2. Apply any previously unapplied *net capital losses from earlier income years to reduce the amounts (if any) remaining after the reduction of *capital gains under step 1 (including any capital gains not reduced under that step because the *capital losses were less than the total of your capital gains).

Note 1: Section 102-15 explains how to apply net capital losses.

Note 2: You choose the order in which you reduce the amounts.

Step 3. Reduce by the *discount percentage each amount of a *discount capital gain remaining after step 2 (if any).

Note: Only some entities can have discount capital gains, and only if they have capital gains from CGT assets acquired at least a year before making the gains. See Division 115.

Step 4. If any of your *capital gains (whether or not they are *discount capital gains) qualify for any of the small business concessions in Subdivisions 152-C, 152-D and 152-E, apply those concessions to each capital gain as provided for in those Subdivisions.

Note 1: The basic conditions for getting these concessions are in Subdivision 152-A.

Note 2: Subdivision 152-C does not apply to CGT events J2, J5 and J6. In addition, Subdivision 152-E does not apply to CGT events J5 and J6.

Step 5. Add up the amounts of *capital gains (if any) remaining after step 4. The sum is your net capital gain for the income year.

Note: For exceptions and modifications to these rules: see section 102-30.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 102-10

---

- (2) However, if during the income year:
- (a) you became bankrupt; or
  - (b) you were released from debts under a law relating to bankruptcy;
- any *net capital loss you made for an earlier income year must be disregarded in working out whether you made a *net capital gain for the income year or a later one.
- (3) Subsection (2) applies even though your bankruptcy is annulled if:
- (a) the annulment happens under section 74 of the Bankruptcy Act 1966; and
  - (b) under the composition or scheme of arrangement concerned, you were, will be or may be released from debts from which you would have been released if instead you had been discharged from the bankruptcy.

102-10 How to work out your net capital loss

- (1) You work out if you have a net capital loss for the income year in this way:

Working out your net capital loss

- Step 1. Add up the *capital losses you made during the income year. Also add up the *capital gains you made.
- Step 2. Subtract your *capital gains from your *capital losses.
- Step 3. If the Step 2 amount is more than zero, it is your net capital loss for the income year.

Note: For exceptions and modifications to these rules: see section 102-30.

- (2) You cannot deduct from your assessable income a *net capital loss for any income year.

Note: However, it can be applied against your capital gains for a later income year: see section 102-5 and subsection 102-15(3).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

102-15 How to apply net capital losses

- (1) In working out if you have a *net capital gain, your *net capital losses are applied in the order in which you made them.
- (2) A *net capital loss can be applied only to the extent that it has not already been applied.
- (3) To the extent that a *net capital loss cannot be applied in an income year, it can be carried forward to a later income year.

Example: You have capital gains for the income year of $1,000 and capital losses for the income year of $600. Your capital losses are subtracted from your capital gains to leave a balance of $400.

You have available net capital losses of $300 (for last year) and $200 (for the year before that).

The $400 is reduced to zero by applying the available net capital losses in the order in which you made them. This leaves $100 of the $300 to be carried forward and extinguishes the $200.

Note: For applying a net capital loss for the 1997-98 income year or an earlier income year: see section 102-15 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

102-20 Ways you can make a capital gain or a capital loss

You can make a *capital gain or *capital loss if and only if a *CGT event happens. The gain or loss is made at the time of the event.

Note 1: The full list of CGT events is in section 104-5.

Note 2: The gain or loss may be affected by an exemption, or may be able to be rolled-over. For exemptions generally, see Division 118. For roll-overs, see Divisions 122, 123, 124 and 126.

Note 3: You may make a capital gain or capital loss as a result of a CGT event happening to another entity: see subsections 115-215(3), 170-275(1) and 170-280(3).

Note 4: You cannot make a capital loss from a CGT event that happens to your original interests during a trust restructuring period if you choose a roll-over under Subdivision 124-N.

Note 5: The capital loss may be affected if the CGT asset was owned by a member of a demerger group just before a demerger: see section 125-170.

Note 5: Under subsection 230-310(4) gains and losses are taken to arise from a CGT event in particular circumstances.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

102-22 Amounts of capital gains and losses

Most *CGT events provide for calculating a *capital gain or *capital loss by comparing 2 different amounts. The amount of the gain or loss is the difference between those amounts.

102-23 CGT event still happens even if gain or loss disregarded

A *CGT event still happens even if:

- (a) it does not result in a *capital gain or *capital loss; or
- (b) a capital gain or capital loss from the event is disregarded.

Example: Lindy sells a car. Section 118-5 says that any capital gain or loss from a CGT event happening to a car is disregarded. However, the sale is still an example of CGT event A1.

102-25 Order of application of CGT events

- (1) Work out if a *CGT event (except *CGT events D1 and H2) happens to your situation. If more than one event can happen, the one you use is the one that is the most specific to your situation.
- (2) However, there are 3 exceptions: one for *CGT event J2, one for CGT event K5 and one for CGT event K12.
- (2A) If the circumstances that gave rise to *CGT event J2 constitute another CGT event, CGT event J2 applies in addition to the other event.

Example: CGT event J2 happens because a replacement asset for a small business roll-over under Subdivision 152-E becomes your trading stock (in circumstances where CGT event K4 happens). Both CGT events apply.

- (2B) *CGT event K5 happens if CGT event A1, C2 or E8 happens. CGT event K5 applies in addition to the other event.
- (2C) If:
  - (a) *CGT events happen for which you make *capital gains or *capital losses; and
  - (b) the capital gains or losses are taken into account in working out a *foreign hybrid net capital loss amount; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (c) the foreign hybrid net capital loss amount is itself taken into account in determining that *CGT event K12 happens; CGT event K12 applies in addition to the other CGT events.
- (3) If no *CGT event (except *CGT events D1 and H2) happens:
- (a) work out if CGT event D1 happens and use that event if it does; and
  - (b) if it does not, work out if CGT event H2 happens and use that event if it does.

Note: The full list of CGT events is in section 104-5.

102-30 Exceptions and modifications

Provisions of this Act are in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

---

Special rules affecting capital gains and capital losses

---

Item	For this kind of entity:	There are these special rules:	See:
1	All entities	You can subtract capital losses from collectables only from your capital gains from collectables.	section 108-10
2	All entities	Disregard capital losses you make from personal use assets.	section 108-20

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 102 Assessable income includes net capital gain

Section 102-30

---

Special rules affecting capital gains and capital losses

---

Item	For this kind of entity:	There are these special rules:	See:
2AA	Beneficiary of trust whose net income includes a net capital gain	The beneficiary is treated as having: (a) an extra capital gain equal to each amount of the beneficiary's share of the net income that is attributable to the trust's capital gains that are not reduced under step 3 of the method statement in subsection 102-5(1) or Subdivision 152-C; and (b) an extra capital gain of double each amount of the beneficiary's share of the net income that is attributable to the trust's capital gains that are reduced under either step 3 of the method statement or Subdivision 152-C but not both; and (c) an extra capital gain of 4 times each amount of the beneficiary's share of the net income that is attributable to the trust's capital gains that are reduced under both step 3 of the method statement and Subdivision 152-C.	Subdivision 115-C
3	All entities	If any of your commercial debts have been forgiven in the income year, your net capital losses (including net capital losses from collectables) may be reduced.	sections 245-130 and 245-135 of Schedule 2C to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
4	A company	If it has a change of ownership or control during the income year, and has not satisfied the same business test, it works out its net capital gain and net capital loss in a special way.	Subdivision 165-CB

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Special rules affecting capital gains and capital losses

---

Item	For this kind of entity:	There are these special rules:	See:
5	A company	It cannot apply a net capital loss unless: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the same people owned the company during the loss year, the income year and any intervening year; and</li> <li>• no person controlled the company's voting power at any time during the income year who did not also control it during the whole of the loss year and any intervening year;</li> </ul> or the company has satisfied the same business test.	Subdivision 165-CA
6	A company	If one or more of these things happen: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• a capital gain or loss is injected into it;</li> <li>• a tax benefit is obtained from its available net capital losses or current year capital losses;</li> <li>• a tax benefit is obtained because of its available capital gains;</li> </ul> the Commissioner can disallow its net capital losses or current year capital losses, and it may have to work out its net capital loss in a special way.	Division 175
7	A company	A company can transfer a surplus amount of its net capital loss to another company so that the other company can apply the amount in the income year of the transfer. (Both companies must be members of the same wholly-owned group.)	Subdivision 170-B
7A	The head company of a consolidated group or a MEC group	The head company of a consolidated group or a MEC group must apply the capital loss from CGT event L1 over at least 5 income years	section 104-500

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 102 Assessable income includes net capital gain

Section 102-30

---

---

Special rules affecting capital gains and capital losses

---

Item	For this kind of entity:	There are these special rules:	See:
8	A PDF	If it is a PDF at the end of an income year for which it has a net capital loss, it can apply the loss in a later income year only if it is a PDF throughout the last day of the later income year.	section 195-25
9	A PDF	If it becomes a PDF during an income year, it works out its net capital gain and net capital loss for the income year in a special way.	section 195-35
10	Body that has ceased to be an STB	Net capital losses made before cessation disregarded. Special rules apply in cessation year where net capital gain before cessation and net capital loss after cessation.	section 24AX
11	A life insurance company	Division 320 contains special rules that apply to capital gains and capital losses	Division 320
12	A company	The capital gain or capital loss a company makes from a CGT event that happened to a share in a company that is a foreign resident may be reduced.	Subdivision 768-G
13	A PDF	Sections 102-5 and 102-10 do not apply to the calculation of net capital gains and losses. Capital gains and losses are instead allocated to separate classes of income.	Subdivision C of Division 10E of Part III
14	A CFC	In calculating the CFC's attributable income, pre-1 July 1990 capital losses are disregarded.	section 409

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 103—General rules

Guide to Division 103

103-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out some general rules that apply to the provisions dealing with capital gains and capital losses.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

103-5	Giving property as part of a transaction
103-10	Entitlement to receive money or property
103-15	Requirement to pay money or give property
103-25	Choices
103-30	Reduction of cost base etc. by net input tax credits

Operative provisions

103-5 Giving property as part of a transaction

There are a number of provisions in this Part and Part 3-3 that say that a payment, cost or expenditure can include giving property.

To the extent that such a provision does say that a payment, cost or expenditure can include giving property, use the *market value of the property in working out the amount of the payment, cost or expenditure.

103-10 Entitlement to receive money or property

- (1) This Part and Part 3-3 apply to you as if you had received money or other property if it has been applied for your benefit (including by discharging all or part of a debt you owe) or as you direct.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 103-15

---

- (2) Those Parts apply to you as if you are entitled to receive money or other property:
  - (a) if you are entitled to have it so applied; or
  - (b) if:
    - (i) you will not receive it until a later time; or
    - (ii) the money is payable by instalments.

103-15 Requirement to pay money or give property

This Part and Part 3-3 apply to you as if you are required to pay money or give other property even if:

- (a) you do not have to pay or give it until a later time; or
- (b) the money is payable by instalments.

103-25 Choices

- (1) A choice you can make under this Part or Part 3-3 must be made:
  - (a) by the day you lodge your *income tax return for the income year in which the relevant *CGT event happened; or
  - (b) within a further time allowed by the Commissioner.
- (2) The way you (and any other entity making the choice) prepare your *income tax returns is sufficient evidence of the making of the choice.
- (3) However, there are some exceptions:
  - (aa) subsection 115-230(3) (relating to assessment of *capital gains of resident testamentary trusts) requires a trustee to make a choice by the time specified in subsection 115-230(5); and
  - (a) subsections 124-380(7) and 124-465(5) (relating to replacement asset roll-overs) require a company to make the choice at the earlier time specified in those subsections; and
  - (b) subsections 152-315(4) and (5) (relating to the small business retirement exemption) require a choice to be made in writing.

Note: This section is modified in calculating the attributable income of a CFC: see section 421 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

103-30 Reduction of cost base etc. by net input tax credits

Reduce the *cost base and *reduced cost base of a *CGT asset, and any other amount that could be involved in the calculation of an entity's *capital gain or *capital loss, by the amount of any *net input tax credit of the entity in relation to that amount.

Example: The other amount could be expenditure in the case of some CGT events (see, for example, CGT event D1).

Note: Subsection 116-20(5) deals with the effect of net GST on supplies for the purposes of capital proceeds.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 104—CGT events

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 104
104-A	Disposals
104-B	Use and enjoyment before title passes
104-C	End of a CGT asset
104-D	Bringing into existence a CGT asset
104-E	Trusts
104-F	Leases
104-G	Shares
104-H	Special capital receipts
104-I	Australian residency ends
104-J	CGT events relating to roll-overs
104-K	Other CGT events
104-L	Consolidated groups and MEC groups

Guide to Division 104

104-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out all the CGT events for which you can make a capital gain or loss. It tells you how to work out if you have made a gain or loss from each event and the time of each event. It also contains exceptions for gains and losses for many events (such as the exception for CGT assets acquired before 20 September 1985) and some cost base adjustment rules.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

104-5 Summary of the CGT events

CGT events
Event number and description	Time of event is:	Capital gain is:	Capital loss is:
A1 Disposal of a CGT asset  [See section 104-10]	when disposal contract is entered into or, if none, when entity stops being asset's owner	capital proceeds from disposal less asset's cost base	asset's reduced cost base less capital proceeds
B1 Use and enjoyment before title passes  [See section 104-15]	when use of CGT asset passes	capital proceeds less asset's cost base	asset's reduced cost base less capital proceeds
C1 Loss or destruction of a CGT asset  [See section 104-20]	when compensation is first received or, if none, when loss discovered or destruction occurred	capital proceeds less asset's cost base	asset's reduced cost base less capital proceeds
C2 Cancellation, surrender and similar endings  [See section 104-25]	when contract ending asset is entered into or, if none, when asset ends	capital proceeds from ending less asset's cost base	asset's reduced cost base less capital proceeds
C3 End of option to acquire shares etc.  [See section 104-30]	when option ends	capital proceeds from granting option less expenditure in granting it	expenditure in granting option less capital proceeds
D1 Creating contractual or other rights  [See section 104-35]	when contract is entered into or right is created	capital proceeds from creating right less incidental costs of creating it	incidental costs of creating right less capital proceeds

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-5

CGT events
Event number and description	Time of event is:	Capital gain is:	Capital loss is:
D2 Granting an option  [See section 104-40]	when option is granted	capital proceeds from grant less expenditure to grant it	expenditure to grant option less capital proceeds
D3 Granting a right to income from mining  [See section 104-45]	when contract is entered into or, if none, when right is granted	capital proceeds from grant of right less expenditure to grant it	expenditure to grant right less capital proceeds
D4 Entering into a conservation covenant  [See section 104-47]	when covenant is entered into	capital proceeds from covenant less cost base apportioned to the covenant	reduced cost base apportioned to the covenant less capital proceeds from covenant
E1 Creating a trust over a CGT asset  [See section 104-55]	when trust is created	capital proceeds from creating trust less asset's cost base	asset's reduced cost base less capital proceeds
E2 Transferring a CGT asset to a trust  [See section 104-60]	when asset transferred	capital proceeds from transfer less asset's cost base	asset's reduced cost base less capital proceeds
E3 Converting a trust to a unit trust  [See section 104-65]	when trust is converted	market value of asset at that time less its cost base	asset's reduced cost base less that market value

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

CGT events

---

Event number and description

Time of event is:

Capital gain is:

Capital loss is:

E4 Capital payment for trust interest

when trustee makes payment non-assessable part of the payment less cost base of the trust interest

no capital loss

[See section 104-70]

E5 Beneficiary becoming entitled to a trust asset when beneficiary becomes absolutely entitled for trustee—market value of CGT asset at that time less its cost base; for beneficiary—that market value less cost base of beneficiary's capital interest for trustee—reduced cost base of CGT asset at that time less that market value; for beneficiary—reduced cost base of beneficiary's capital interest less that market value

[See section 104-75]

E6 Disposal to beneficiary to end income right

the time of the disposal

for trustee—market value of CGT asset at that time less its cost base; for beneficiary—that market value less cost base of beneficiary's right to income

for trustee—reduced cost base of CGT asset at that time less that market value; for beneficiary—reduced cost base of beneficiary's right to income less that market value

[See section 104-80]

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-5

CGT events
Event number and description	Time of event is:	Capital gain is:	Capital loss is:
E7 Disposal to beneficiary to end capital interest  [See section 104-85]	the time of the disposal	for trustee—market value of CGT asset at that time less its cost base; for beneficiary—that market value less cost base of beneficiary's capital interest	for trustee—reduced cost base of CGT asset at that time less that market value; for beneficiary—reduced cost base of beneficiary's capital interest less that market value
E8 Disposal by beneficiary of capital interest  [See section 104-90]	when disposal contract entered into or, if none, when beneficiary ceases to own CGT asset	capital proceeds less appropriate proportion of the trust's net assets	appropriate proportion of the trust's net assets less capital proceeds
E9 Creating a trust over future property  [See section 104-105]	when entity makes agreement	market value of the property (as if it existed when agreement made) less incidental costs in making agreement	incidental costs in making agreement less market value of the property (as if it existed when agreement made)

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

CGT events

---

Event number and description

Time of event is:

Capital gain is:

Capital loss is:

F1 Granting a lease

for grant of lease—when entity enters into lease contract or, if none, at start of lease;
 for lease renewal or extension—at start of renewal or extension capital proceeds less expenditure on grant, renewal or extension expenditure on grant, renewal or extension less capital proceeds

[See section 104-110]

F2 Granting a long term lease for grant of lease—when lessor grants lease;

 for lease renewal or extension—at start of renewal or extension capital proceeds from grant, renewal or extension less cost base of leased property reduced cost base of leased property less capital proceeds from grant, renewal or extension

[See section 104-115]

F3 Lessor pays lessee to get lease changed

when lease term is varied or waived

no capital gain

amount of expenditure to get lessee's agreement

[See section 104-120]

F4 Lessee receives payment for changing lease

when lease term is varied or waived

capital proceeds less cost base of lease

no capital loss

[See section 104-125]

F5 Lessor receives payment for changing lease

when lease term is varied or waived

capital proceeds less expenditure in relation to variation or waiver expenditure in relation to variation or waiver less capital proceeds

[See section 104-130]

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules
Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics
Division 104 CGT events

Section 104-5

CGT events
Event number and description	Time of event is:	Capital gain is:	Capital loss is:
G1 Capital payment for shares [See section 104-135]	when company pays non-assessable amount	payment less cost base of shares	no capital loss
G3 Liquidator or administrator declares shares or financial instruments worthless [See section 104-145]	when declaration was made	no capital gain	shares' or financial instruments' reduced cost base
H1 Forfeiture of a deposit [See section 104-150]	when deposit is forfeited	deposit less expenditure in connection with prospective sale	expenditure in connection with prospective sale less deposit
H2 Receipt for event relating to a CGT asset [See section 104-155]	when act, transaction or event occurred	capital proceeds less incidental costs	incidental costs less capital proceeds
I1 Individual or company stops being an Australian resident [See section 104-160]	when individual or company stops being Australian resident	for each CGT asset the person owns, its market value less its cost base	for each CGT asset the person owns, its reduced cost base less its market value
I2 Trust stops being a resident trust [See section 104-170]	when trust ceases to be resident trust for CGT purposes	for each CGT asset the trustee owns, its market value of asset less its cost base	for each CGT asset the trustee owns, its reduced cost base less its market value

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

CGT events

---

Event number and description	Time of event is:	Capital gain is:	Capital loss is:
J1 Company stops being member of wholly-owned group after roll-over [See section 104-175]	when the company stops	market value of asset at time of event less its cost base	reduced cost base of asset less that market value
J2 Change in relation to replacement asset or improved asset after a roll-over under Subdivision 152-E [See section 104-185]	when the change happens	the amount mentioned in subsection 104-185(5)	no capital loss
J4 Trust fails to cease to exist after a roll-over under Subdivision 124-N [See section 104-195]	when the failure happens	market value of asset less asset's cost base	reduced cost base of asset less asset's market value
J5 Failure to acquire replacement asset and to incur fourth element expenditure after a roll-over under Subdivision 152-E [See section 104-197]	at the end of the replacement asset period	the amount of the capital gain that you disregarded under Subdivision 152-E	no capital loss
J6 Cost of acquisition of replacement asset or amount of fourth element expenditure, or both, not sufficient to cover disregarded capital gain [See section 104-198]	at the end of the replacement asset period	the amount mentioned in subsection 104-198(3)	no capital loss
K2 Bankrupt pays amount in relation to debt  [See section 104-210]	when payment is made	no capital gain	so much of payment as relates to denied part of a net capital loss

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-5

CGT events
Event number and description	Time of event is:	Capital gain is:	Capital loss is:
K3 Asset passing to tax-advantaged entity  [See section 104-215]	when individual dies	market value of asset at death less its cost base	reduced cost base of asset less that market value
K4 CGT asset starts being trading stock [See section 104-220]	when asset starts being trading stock	market value of asset less its cost base	reduced cost base of asset less its market value
K5 Special capital loss from collectable that has fallen in market value  [See section 104-225]	when CGT event A1, C2 or E8 happens to shares in the company, or an interest in the trust, that owns the collectable	no capital gain	market value of the shares or interest (as if the collectable had not fallen in market value) less the capital proceeds from CGT event A1, C2 or E8
K6 Pre-CGT shares or trust interest  [See section 104-230]	when another CGT event involving the shares or interest happens	capital proceeds from the shares or trust interest (so far as attributable to post-CGT assets owned by the company or trust) less the assets' cost bases	no capital loss

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

CGT events
Event number and description	Time of event is:	Capital gain is:	Capital loss is:
K7 Balancing adjustment occurs for a depreciating asset that you used for purposes other than taxable purposes [See section 104-235]	When balancing adjustment event occurs	Termination value less cost times fraction	Cost less termination value times fraction
K8 Direct value shifts affecting your equity or loan interests in a company or trust [See section 104-250 and Division 725]	the decrease time for the interests	the gain worked out under section 725-365	no capital loss
K9 Entitlement to receive payment of a carried interest [See section 104-255]	when you become entitled to receive payment	capital proceeds from entitlement	no capital loss
K10 You make a forex realisation gain covered by item 1 of the table in subsection 775-70(1) [See section 104-260]	when the forex realisation event happens	the forex realisation gain	no capital loss
K11 You make a forex realisation loss covered by item 1 of the table in subsection 775-75(1) [See section 104-265]	when the forex realisation event happens	no capital gain	the forex realisation loss
K12 Foreign hybrid loss exposure adjustment [See section 104-270]	just before the end of the income year	no capital gain	the amount stated in subsection 104-270(3)

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-5

CGT events
Event number and description	Time of event is:	Capital gain is:	Capital loss is:
L1 Reduction under section 705-57 in tax cost setting amount of assets of entity becoming subsidiary member of consolidated group or MEC group [See section 104-500]	Just after entity becomes subsidiary member	no capital gain	amount of reduction
L2 Amount remaining after step 3A etc. of joining allocable cost amount is negative [See section 104-505]	Just after entity becomes subsidiary member	amount remaining	no capital loss
L3 Tax cost setting amounts for retained cost base assets exceed joining allocable cost amount [See section 104-510]	Just after entity becomes subsidiary member	amount of excess	no capital loss
L4 No reset cost base assets against which to apply excess of net allocable cost amount on joining [See section 104-515]	Just after entity becomes subsidiary member	no capital gain	amount of excess
L5 Amount remaining after step 4 of leaving allocable cost amount is negative [See section 104-520]	When entity ceases to be subsidiary member	amount remaining	no capital loss
L6 Error in calculation of tax cost setting amount for joining entity's assets: CGT event L6 [See section 104-525]	start of the income year when the Commissioner becomes aware of the errors	the net overstated amount resulting from the errors, or a portion of that amount	the net understated amount resulting from the errors, or a portion of that amount

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

CGT events

---

Event number and description	Time of event is:	Capital gain is:	Capital loss is:
L7 Discharged amount of liability differs from amount for allocable cost amount purposes: CGT event L7 [See section 104-530]	start of the income year in which the liability is realised	your allocable cost amount less what it would have been had you used the correct amount for the liability	what your allocable cost amount would have been had you used the correct amount for the liability less your allocable cost amount
L8 Reduction in tax cost setting amount for reset cost base assets on joining cannot be allocated [See section 104-535]	Just after entity becomes subsidiary member	no capital gain	amount of reduction that cannot be allocated

Note: Subsection 230-310(4) (which deals with hedging financial arrangements) provides that in certain circumstances a CGT event is taken to have occurred in relation to a hedging financial arrangement at the same time as a CGT event actually occurs in relation to a hedged item covered by the arrangement.

Subdivision 104-A—Disposals

104-10 Disposal of a CGT asset: CGT event A1

- (1) CGT event A1 happens if you *dispose of a *CGT asset.
- (2) You dispose of a *CGT asset if a change of ownership occurs from you to another entity, whether because of some act or event or by operation of law. However, a change of ownership does not occur:
  - (a) if you stop being the legal owner of the asset but continue to be its beneficial owner; or
  - (b) merely because of a change of trustee.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-10

---

- (3) The time of the event is:
- (a) when you enter into the contract for the *disposal; or
  - (b) if there is no contract—when the change of ownership occurs.

Example: In June 1999 you enter into a contract to sell land. The contract is settled in October 1999. You make a capital gain of $50,000.

The gain is made in the 1998-99 income year (the year you entered into the contract) and not the 1999-2000 income year (the year that settlement takes place).

Note 1: If the contract falls through before completion, this event does not happen because no change in ownership occurs.

Note 2: If the asset was compulsorily acquired from you: see subsection (6).

- (4) You make a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from the disposal are more than the asset's *cost base. You make a capital loss if those capital proceeds are less than the asset's *reduced cost base.

Exceptions

- (5) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make is disregarded if:
- (a) you *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985; or
  - (b) for a lease that you granted:
    - (i) it was granted before that day; or
    - (ii) if it has been renewed or extended—the start of the last renewal or extension occurred before that day.

Note 1: You can make a gain if you dispose of shares in a company, or an interest in a trust, that you acquired before that day: see CGT event K6.

Note 2: A capital gain or loss you make because you assign a right under or in relation to a general insurance policy you held with an HIH company to the Commonwealth, the trustee of the HIH Trust or a prescribed entity is also disregarded: see section 322-15.

Note 3: A capital gain or loss made by a demerging entity from CGT event A1 happening as a result of a demerger is also disregarded: see section 125-155.

Note 4: A capital gain or loss you make because of section 16AI of the Banking Act 1959 is disregarded: see section 253-10 of this Act. Section 16AI of the Banking Act 1959:

- (a) reduces your right to be paid an amount by an ADI in connection with an account to the extent of your entitlement under

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Division 2AA of Part II of that Act to be paid an amount by APRA; and

- (b) provides that, to the extent of the reduction, the right becomes a right of APRA.

Note 5: A capital gain or loss you make because, under section 62ZZL of the Insurance Act 1973, you dispose of a CGT asset consisting of your rights against a general insurance company to APRA is disregarded: see section 322-30 of this Act.

Compulsory acquisition

- (6) If the asset was *acquired from you by an entity under a power of compulsory acquisition conferred by an *Australian law or a *foreign law, the time of the event is the earliest of:
- (a) when you received compensation from the entity; or
  - (b) when the entity became the asset's owner; or
  - (c) when the entity entered it under that power; or
  - (d) when the entity took possession under that power.

Note: You may be able to choose a roll-over if an asset is compulsorily acquired: see Subdivision 124-B.

- (7) CGT event A1 does not happen if the *disposal of the asset was done:
- (a) to provide or redeem a security; or
  - (b) because of the vesting of the asset in a trustee under the Bankruptcy Act 1966 or under a similar *foreign law; or
  - (c) because of the vesting of the asset in a liquidator of a company, or the holder of a similar office under a foreign law.

Subdivision 104-B—Use and enjoyment before title passes

104-15 Use and enjoyment before title passes: CGT event B1

- (1) CGT event B1 happens if you enter into an agreement with another entity under which:
- (a) the right to the use and enjoyment of a *CGT asset you own passes to the other entity; and
  - (b) title in the asset will or may pass to the other entity at or before the end of the agreement.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-20

---

Note: Division 240 provides for the inclusion of amounts under hire purchase agreements in assessable income.

- (2) The time of the event is when the other entity first obtains the use and enjoyment of the asset.
- (3) You make a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from the agreement are more than the asset's *cost base. You make a capital loss if those capital proceeds are less than the asset's *reduced cost base.

Exceptions

- (4) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make is disregarded if:
  - (a) title in the asset does not pass to the other entity at or before the end of the agreement; or
  - (b) you *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985.

Subdivision 104-C—End of a CGT asset

Table of sections

104-20	Loss or destruction of a CGT asset: CGT event C1
104-25	Cancellation, surrender and similar endings: CGT event C2
104-30	End of option to acquire shares etc.: CGT event C3

104-20 Loss or destruction of a CGT asset: CGT event C1

- (1) CGT event C1 happens if a *CGT asset you own is lost or destroyed.

Note: This event can apply to part of a CGT asset: see section 108-5 (definition of CGT asset).

- (2) The time of the event is:
  - (a) when you first receive compensation for the loss or destruction; or
  - (b) if you receive no compensation—when the loss is discovered or the destruction occurred.
- (3) You make a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from the loss or destruction are more than the asset's *cost base. You make a

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

capital loss if those capital proceeds are less than the asset's *reduced cost base.

Exception

- (4) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make is disregarded if you *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985.

104-25 Cancellation, surrender and similar endings: CGT event C2

- (1) CGT event C2 happens if your ownership of an intangible *CGT asset ends by the asset:
- (a) being redeemed or cancelled; or
  - (b) being released, discharged or satisfied; or
  - (c) expiring; or
  - (d) being abandoned, surrendered or forfeited; or
  - (e) if the asset is an option—being exercised; or
  - (f) if the asset is a *convertible interest—being converted.
- (2) The time of the event is:
- (a) when you enter into the contract that results in the asset ending; or
  - (b) if there is no contract—when the asset ends.
- (3) You make a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from the ending are more than the asset's *cost base. You make a capital loss if those capital proceeds are less than the asset's *reduced cost base.

Note: The capital proceeds referred to in this subsection are reduced if the gain or loss was for shares and an amount was taken into account as a capital gain for the shares under former section 160ZL of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 for the 1997-98 income year or an earlier income year: see section 104-25 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

- (4) A lease is taken to have expired even if it is extended or renewed.

Exceptions

- (5) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make is disregarded if:
- (a) you *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985; or
  - (b) for a lease that you granted:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 104-30

---

- (i) it was granted before that day; or
- (ii) if it has been renewed or extended—the start of the last renewal or extension occurred before that day.

Note 1: There are other exceptions if:

- your lease expires and you did not use it mainly to produce assessable income: see section 118-40; or
- you exercise rights to acquire shares or units: see section 130-40; or
- you acquire shares or units by converting a convertible interest: see section 130-60; or
- you exercise an option: see section 134-1.

Note 2: A company can agree to forgo any capital loss it makes as a result of forgiving a commercial debt owed to it by another company where the companies are under common ownership: see section 245-90 of Schedule 2C to the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Note 3: A capital gain or loss a company makes because shares in its 100% subsidiary are cancelled (an example of CGT event C2) on the liquidation of the subsidiary may be reduced if there was a roll-over for a CGT asset under Subdivision 126-B: see section 126-85.

Note 4: A capital gain on the repayment of certain debt given to an ultimate holding company is disregarded where an entity obtains a roll-over under Subdivision 124-M for interests acquired or cancelled: see section 124-784.

Note 5: Cost base adjustments are made only under Subdivision 125-B if there is a roll-over under that Subdivision for CGT event C2 happening as a result of a demerger.

Note 6: A capital gain or loss made by a demerging entity from CGT event C2 happening as a result of a demerger is also disregarded: see section 125-155.

Note 7: A capital gain or loss you make from the meeting of your entitlement under Division 2AA (Financial claims scheme for account-holders with insolvent ADIs) of Part II of the Banking Act 1959 or Part VC (Financial claims scheme for account-holders with insolvent general insurers) of the Insurance Act 1973 is disregarded: see sections 253-10 and 322-30 of this Act.

104-30 End of option to acquire shares etc.: CGT event C3

- (1) CGT event C3 happens if an option a company or a trustee of a unit trust granted to an entity to *acquire a *CGT asset that is:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) *shares in the company or units in the unit trust; or
  - (b) *debentures of the company or unit trust;
- ends in one of these ways:
- (c) it is not exercised by the latest time for its exercise;
  - (d) it is cancelled;
  - (e) it is released or abandoned.
- (2) The time of the event is when the option ends.
- (3) The company or trustee makes a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from the grant of the option are more than the expenditure incurred in granting it. It makes a capital loss if those capital proceeds are less.
- (4) The expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5. However, it does not include an amount you have received as *recoupment of it and that is not included in your assessable income.

Exception

- (5) A *capital gain or *capital loss the company or trustee makes is disregarded if it granted the option before 20 September 1985.

Note: This subsection is modified for the purpose of calculating the attributable income of a CFC: see section 418 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Subdivision 104-D—Bringing into existence a CGT asset

Table of sections

104-35	Creating contractual or other rights: CGT event D1
104-40	Granting an option: CGT event D2
104-45	Granting a right to income from mining: CGT event D3
104-47	Conservation covenants: CGT event D4

104-35 Creating contractual or other rights: CGT event D1

- (1) CGT event D1 happens if you create a contractual right or other legal or equitable right in another entity.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-35

---

Example: You enter into a contract with the purchaser of your business not to operate a similar business in the same town. The contract states that $20,000 was paid for this.

You have created a contractual right in favour of the purchaser. If you breach the contract, the purchaser can enforce that right.

- (2) The time of the event is when you enter into the contract or create the other right.
- (3) You make a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from creating the right are more than the *incidental costs you incurred that relate to the event. You make a capital loss if those capital proceeds are less.

Example: To continue the example: If you paid your lawyer $1,500 to draw up the contract, you make a capital gain of:

$$$20,000 - $1,500 = $18,500$$

- (4) The costs can include giving property: see section 103-5. However, they do not include an amount you have received as *recoupment of them and that is not included in your assessable income, or an amount to the extent that you have deducted or can deduct it.

Exceptions

- (5) CGT event D1 does not happen if:
- (a) you created the right by borrowing money or obtaining credit from another entity; or
  - (b) the right requires you to do something that is another *CGT event that happens to you; or
  - (c) a company issues or allots *equity interests or *non-equity shares in the company; or
  - (d) the trustee of a unit trust issues units in the trust; or
  - (e) a company grants an option to acquire equity interests, non-equity shares or *debentures in the company; or
  - (f) the trustee of a unit trust grants an option to acquire units or debentures in the trust.

Example: You agree to sell land. You have created a contractual right in the buyer to enforce completion of the transaction. The sale results in you disposing of the land, an example of CGT event A1. This means that CGT event D1 does not happen.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

104-40 Granting an option: CGT event D2

- (1) CGT event D2 happens if you grant an option to an entity, or renew or extend an option you had granted.
Note: Some options are not covered: see subsections (6) and (7).
- (2) The time of the event is when you grant, renew or extend the option.
- (3) You make a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from the grant, renewal or extension of the option are more than the expenditure you incurred to grant, renew or extend it. You make a capital loss if those capital proceeds are less.
- (4) The expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5. However, it does not include an amount you have received as *recoupment of it and that is not included in your assessable income, or an amount to the extent that you have deducted or can deduct it.

Exceptions

- (5) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from the grant, renewal or extension of the option is disregarded if the option is exercised.
Note 1: Section 134-1 sets out the consequences of an option being exercised.
Note 2: A capital gain or capital loss you made for the 1997-98 income year or an earlier income year under former Part IIIA of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 is also disregarded where the option is exercised in the 1998-99 income year or a later one: see section 104-40 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.
- (6) This section does not apply to an option granted, renewed or extended by a company or the trustee of a unit trust to *acquire a *CGT asset that is:
  - (a) *shares in the company or units in the unit trust; or
  - (b) debentures of the company or unit trust.Note: Section 104-30 deals with this situation.
- (7) Nor does it apply to an option relating to a *personal use asset or a *collectable.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

104-45 Granting a right to income from mining: CGT event D3

- (1) CGT event D3 happens if you own a *prospecting entitlement or *mining entitlement, or an interest in one, and you grant another entity a right to receive *ordinary income or *statutory income from operations permitted to be carried on by the entitlement.

Note: If this event applies, there is no disposal of the entitlement.

- (2) The time of the event is:
- (a) when you enter into the contract with the other entity; or
  - (b) if there is no contract—when you grant the right to receive *ordinary income or *statutory income.
- (3) You make a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from the grant of the right are more than the expenditure you incurred in granting it. You make a capital loss if those capital proceeds are less.
- (4) The expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5. However, it does not include an amount you have received as *recoupment of it and that is not included in your assessable income, or an amount to the extent that you have deducted or can deduct it.

104-47 Conservation covenants: CGT event D4

- (1) CGT event D4 happens if you enter into a *conservation covenant over land you own.
- (2) The time of the event is when you enter into the covenant.
- (3) You make a *capital gain if the *capital proceeds from entering into the covenant are more than that part of the *cost base of the land that is apportioned to the covenant. You make a *capital loss if those capital proceeds are less than the part of the *reduced cost base of the land that is apportioned to the covenant.

Note: The capital proceeds from entering into the covenant are modified if you do not receive anything for entering into the covenant: see section 116-105.

- (4) The part of the *cost base of the land that is apportioned to the covenant is worked out in this way:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

$$\text{*Cost base of land} \times \frac{\text{*Capital proceeds from entering into the covenant}}{\text{Those capital proceeds plus the *market value of the land just after you enter into the covenant}}$$

The part of the *reduced cost base of the land that is apportioned to the covenant is worked out similarly.

- (5) The *cost base and *reduced cost base of the land are reduced by the part of the cost base or reduced cost base of the land that is apportioned to the covenant.

Example: Lisa receives $10,000 for entering into a conservation covenant that covers 15% of the land she owns. Lisa uses the following figures in calculating the cost base of the land that is apportioned to the covenant:

The cost base of the entire land is $200,000.

The market value of the entire land before entering into the covenant is $300,000, and its market value after entering into the covenant is $285,000.

Lisa calculates the cost base of the land that is apportioned to the covenant to be:

$$$200,000 \times 10,000 \div \left[ 10,000 + 285,000 \right] = $6,780$$

She reduces the cost base of the land by the part that is apportioned to the covenant:

$$$200,000 - $6,780 = $193,220$$

Exceptions

- (6) *CGT event D4 does not happen if:
- (a) you did not receive any *capital proceeds for entering into the covenant; and
  - (b) you cannot deduct an amount under Division 31 for entering into the covenant.

Note: In this case, CGT event D1 will apply.

- (7) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make is disregarded if you *acquired the land before 20 September 1985.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 104-E—Trusts

Table of sections

104-55	Creating a trust over a CGT asset: CGT event E1
104-60	Transferring a CGT asset to a trust: CGT event E2
104-65	Converting a trust to a unit trust: CGT event E3
104-70	Capital payment for trust interest: CGT event E4
104-71	Adjustment of non-assessable part
104-72	Reducing your capital gain under CGT event E4 if you are a trustee
104-75	Beneficiary becoming entitled to a trust asset: CGT event E5
104-80	Disposal to beneficiary to end income right: CGT event E6
104-85	Disposal to beneficiary to end capital interest: CGT event E7
104-90	Disposal by beneficiary of capital interest: CGT event E8
104-95	Making a capital gain
104-100	Making a capital loss
104-105	Creating a trust over future property: CGT event E9

104-55 Creating a trust over a CGT asset: CGT event E1

- (1) CGT event E1 happens if you create a trust over a *CGT asset by declaration or settlement.
- (2) The time of the event is when the trust over the asset is created.
- (3) You make a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from the creation are more than the asset's *cost base. You make a capital loss if those capital proceeds are less than the asset's *reduced cost base.

Cost base rule

- (4) If you are the trustee of the trust and no beneficiary is absolutely entitled to the asset as against you (disregarding any legal disability), the first element of the asset's *cost base and *reduced cost base in your hands is its *market value when the trust is created.

Exceptions

- (5) CGT event E1 does not happen if:
  - (a) you are the sole beneficiary of the trust and:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (i) you are absolutely entitled to the asset as against the trustee (disregarding any legal disability); and
  - (ii) the trust is not a unit trust; or
  - (b) the trust is created by transferring the asset from another trust, and the beneficiaries and terms of both trusts are the same.
- (6) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make is disregarded if you *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985.

104-60 Transferring a CGT asset to a trust: CGT event E2

- (1) CGT event E2 happens if you transfer a *CGT asset to an existing trust.
- (2) The time of the event is when the asset is transferred.
- (3) You make a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from the transfer are more than the asset's *cost base. You make a capital loss if those capital proceeds are less than the asset's *reduced cost base.
- (4) If you are the trustee of the trust and no beneficiary is absolutely entitled to the asset as against you (disregarding any legal disability), the first element of the asset's *cost base and *reduced cost base in your hands is its *market value when the asset is transferred.

Exceptions

- (5) CGT event E2 does not happen if:
- (a) you are the sole beneficiary of the trust and:
    - (i) you are absolutely entitled to the asset as against the trustee (disregarding any legal disability); and
    - (ii) the trust is not a unit trust; or
  - (b) you transferred the asset from another trust and the beneficiaries and terms of both trusts are the same.

Note: There is also an exception for employee share trusts: see section 130-90.

- (6) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make is disregarded if you *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

104-65 Converting a trust to a unit trust: CGT event E3

- (1) CGT event E3 happens if:
  - (a) a trust (that is not a unit trust) over a *CGT asset is converted to a unit trust; and
  - (b) just before the conversion, a beneficiary under the trust was absolutely entitled to the asset as against the trustee (disregarding any legal disability the beneficiary is under).
- (2) The time of the event is when the trust is converted.
- (3) The beneficiary makes a capital gain if the *market value of the asset (when the trust is converted) is more than the asset's *cost base. The beneficiary makes a capital loss if that market value is less than the asset's *reduced cost base.

Exception

- (4) A *capital gain or *capital loss the beneficiary makes is disregarded if it *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985.

104-70 Capital payment for trust interest: CGT event E4

- (1) CGT event E4 happens if:
  - (a) the trustee of a trust makes a payment to you in respect of your unit or your interest in the trust (except for *CGT event A1, C2, E1, E2, E6 or E7 happening in relation to it); and
  - (b) some or all of the payment (the non-assessable part) is not included in your assessable income.

To avoid doubt, in applying paragraph (b) to work out what part of the payment is included in your assessable income, disregard your share of the trust's net income that is subject to the rules in subsection 115-215(3).

Note 1: Subsections 104-71(1) (tax-exempted amounts), 104-71(3) (tax-free amounts) and 104-71(4) (CGT concession amounts) can affect the calculation of the non-assessable part.

Note 2: The non-assessable part includes amounts (tax-deferred amounts) associated with the small business 50% reduction, frozen indexation, building allowance and accounting differences in income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Note 3: A payment made to you after you stop owning the unit or interest in the trust forms part of the capital proceeds for the CGT event that happened when you stopped owning it.

- (2) The payment can include giving property (see section 103-5).
- (3) The time of the event is:
  - (a) just before the end of the income year in which the trustee makes the payment; or
  - (b) if another *CGT event (except CGT event E4) happens in relation to the unit or interest or part of it after the trustee makes the payment but before the end of that income year—just before the time of that other CGT event.
- (4) You make a capital gain if the sum of the amounts of the non-assessable parts of the payments made in the income year made by the trustee in respect of the unit or interest is more than its *cost base.

Note: You cannot make a capital loss.

- (5) If you make a *capital gain, the *cost base and *reduced cost base of the unit or interest are reduced to nil.

Note: A capital gain under former section 160ZM of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 is also taken into account for the purposes of this subsection: see subsection 104-70(3) of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

- (6) However, if that sum is not more than the *cost base:
  - (a) the cost base is reduced by that sum; and
  - (b) the *reduced cost base is reduced by that sum (without the adjustment in subsection 104-71(3)).

Example: Mandy owns units in a unit trust that she bought on 1 July 1998 for $10 each. During the 1999-2000 income year the trustee makes 4 non-assessable payments of $0.50 per unit. If at the end of the income year Mandy's cost base for each unit (including indexation) would otherwise be $10.10, the payments require that it be reduced by $2, giving a new cost base of $8.10. If Mandy sells the units (CGT event A1) in the 2000-01 year for more than their cost base at that time, she will make a capital gain equal to the difference.

Note: Cost base adjustments are made only under Subdivision 125-B if there is a roll-over under that Subdivision for CGT event E4 happening as a result of a demerger.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 104-71

---

Exceptions

- (7) A *capital gain you make from *CGT event E4 is disregarded if you *acquired the *CGT asset that is the unit or interest before 20 September 1985.
- (8) CGT event E4 does not happen to the extent that the payment is reasonably attributable to a *LIC capital gain.
- (9) CGT event E4 does not happen for a payment made to a foreign resident to the extent that the payment is reasonably attributable to *ordinary income or *statutory income from sources other than an *Australian source. However, this exception does not apply if the trust is a *corporate unit trust or a *public trading trust.

104-71 Adjustment of non-assessable part

- (1) In working out the non-assessable part referred to in section 104-70, disregard any part of the payment that is:
  - (a) *non-assessable non-exempt income; or
  - (c) paid from an amount that has been assessed to the trustee; or
  - (d) paid from an amount that is *personal services income included in your assessable income, or another entity's assessable income, under section 86-15; or
  - (e) repaid by you; or
  - (f) compensation you paid that can reasonably be regarded as a repayment of all or part of the payment; or
  - (g) an amount referred to in section 152-125 (which exempts a payment of a small business 15-year exemption amount) as an exempt amount.The payment can include giving property (see section 103-5).
- (2) However, the non-assessable part is not reduced by any part of the payment that you can deduct.
- (3) The amount of the non-assessable part referred to in section 104-70 is adjusted to exclude any part of it that is attributable to:
  - (a) an amount that is not included in the assessable income of an entity because of:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (i) section 124ZM or 124ZN (which exempt income arising from *shares in a *PDF) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; or
- (ii) section 159GZZZZE (which exempts certain payments related to infrastructure borrowings) of that Act; or
- (b) proceeds from a *CGT event that happens in relation to *shares in a company that was a *PDF when that event happened.
- (4) The amount of the non-assessable part referred to in section 104-70 for an entity shown in the table is adjusted to exclude the amount or amounts applicable to the entity under the table.

Adjustment of non-assessable part

Item	Entity	Amount excluded
1	Any entity	So much of the amount of a *discount capital gain excluded from the *net capital gain of the trust making the payment because of step 3 of the method statement in subsection 102-5(1) and that is reflected in the payment to the entity
2	Individual, company or trust that has a *capital loss or *net capital loss to reduce its *capital gain described in paragraph 115-215(3)(b) where the trust gain referred to in subsection 115-215(3) is reduced under Subdivision 152-C	1/2 of the amount of the capital loss or net capital loss
3	Individual or trust that has a *capital loss or *net capital loss to reduce its *capital gain described in paragraph 115-215(3)(c)	1/4 of the amount of the capital loss or net capital loss

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-71

Adjustment of non-assessable part
Item	Entity	Amount excluded
4	Company that has a * capital loss or *net capital loss to reduce its * capital gain described in paragraph 115-215(3)(c) where: (a) that capital loss or net capital loss is more than 1/2 of the trust gain referred to in subsection 115-215(3); and (b) that trust gain is reduced by an amount (the reduction amount) under Subdivision 152-C	The excess of the reduction amount over the Subdivision 152-C reduction to the paragraph 115-215(3)(c) amount
5	*Complying superannuation entity that has a * capital loss or *net capital loss to reduce its * capital gain described in paragraph 115-215(3)(b) where: (a) that capital loss or net capital loss is more than 1/2 of the trust gain referred to in subsection 115-215(3); and (b) that trust gain is reduced under Subdivision 152-C	1/2 of the amount of the capital loss or net capital loss
6	*Complying superannuation entity that has a * capital loss or *net capital loss to reduce its * capital gain described in paragraph 115-215(3)(c) where: (a) that capital loss or net capital loss is more than 1/4 of the trust gain referred to in subsection 115-215(3); and (b) that trust gain is reduced by an amount (also the reduction amount) under Subdivision 152-C	The excess of the reduction amount over the Subdivision 152-C reduction to the paragraph 115-215(3)(c) amount
7	Any entity receiving the payment where the trust making the payment, or another trust that is part of the same *chain of trusts, has a * capital loss or *net capital loss to reduce its * capital gain described in subsection 115-215(3)	The proportion of the capital loss or net capital loss reflected in the payment

Example: Claude is paid $100 by the trustee of a unit trust. The trustee advises that the amount comprises $50 CGT discount, $25 small business 50% reduction and $25 net income from a capital gain made by the trust.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

In applying the rules in Subdivision 115-C of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, Claude reduces his capital gain of $100 by a $20 net capital loss from an earlier year. He then reduces the remaining $80 gain by $40 (CGT discount) and $20 (small business 50% reduction) leaving a net capital gain of $20.

In applying the rules in CGT event E4, the $100 payment is reduced by $25 (being the amount assessed under section 97 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936). It is further reduced by $50 under item 1 of the table and $5 under item 3. Claude's non-assessable part is $20.

Effectively, CGT event E4 applies to the $20 small business 50% reduction allowed to Claude in applying Subdivision 115-C of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

- Note 1: Step 3 of the method statement in subsection 102-5(1) (see table item 1) reduces by 50% the trust's discount capital gains remaining after applying capital losses and earlier net capital losses. That 50% is excluded from the trust's net capital gain.
- Note 2: Subdivision 152-C (small business 50% reduction—see table items 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7) reduces by 50% the trust's capital gains or discount capital gains remaining after applying step 3 of the method statement in subsection 102-5(1). That 50% is also excluded from the trust's net capital gain.
- Note 3: Paragraph 115-215(3)(b) or (c) (see table items 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6) treats a beneficiary as having an extra capital gain if an amount of the trust's net income that is included in the beneficiary's assessable income is attributable to trust gains that were reduced by step 3 of the method statement in subsection 102-5(1) and/or the small business 50% reduction.

- (5) A chain of trusts consists of 2 or more trusts where at least one of these conditions is satisfied for each of the trusts:
- (a) the trustee of the trust owns units or interests in another of the trusts; or
  - (b) the trustee of another of the trusts owns units or interests in the trust.

104-72 Reducing your capital gain under CGT event E4 if you are a trustee

- (1) A *capital gain you make under subsection 104-70(4) is reduced if:
- (a) you are the trustee of another trust that is a *fixed trust and is not a *complying superannuation entity; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 104-75

---

- (b) you are taken to have a *capital gain under paragraph 115-215(3)(b) or (c) (your notional gain) in respect of a corresponding trust gain (the trust gain); and
  - (c) some or all (the attributable amount) of the total of the non-assessable parts referred to in subsection 104-70(4) is attributable to proceeds from the trust gain.
- (2) The *capital gain is reduced (but not below 0) by the lesser of:
- (a) your notional gain; and
  - (b) the attributable amount.

104-75 Beneficiary becoming entitled to a trust asset: CGT event E5

- (1) CGT event E5 happens if a beneficiary becomes absolutely entitled to a *CGT asset of a trust (except a unit trust or a trust to which Division 128 applies) as against the trustee (disregarding any legal disability the beneficiary is under).

Note: Division 128 deals with the effect of death.

- (2) The time of the event is when the beneficiary becomes absolutely entitled to the asset.

Trustee makes a capital gain or loss

- (3) The trustee makes a capital gain if the *market value of the asset (at the time of the event) is more than its *cost base. The trustee makes a capital loss if that market value is less than the asset's *reduced cost base.

Exception for trustee

- (4) A *capital gain or *capital loss the trustee makes is disregarded if it *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985.

Note: There is also an exception for employee share trusts: see section 130-90.

Beneficiary makes a capital gain or loss

- (5) The beneficiary makes a capital gain if the *market value of the asset (at the time of the event) is more than the *cost base of the beneficiary's interest in the trust capital to the extent it relates to the asset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

The beneficiary makes a capital loss if that market value is less than the *reduced cost base of that beneficiary's interest in the trust capital to the extent it relates to the asset.

Exceptions for beneficiary

- (6) A *capital gain or *capital loss the beneficiary makes is disregarded if the beneficiary:
- (a) *acquired the *CGT asset that is the interest (except by way of an assignment from another entity) for no expenditure; or
  - (b) acquired it before 20 September 1985.

Expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5.

Note: There is also an exception for employee share trusts: see section 130-90.

104-80 Disposal to beneficiary to end income right: CGT event E6

- (1) CGT event E6 happens if the trustee of a trust (except a unit trust or a trust to which Division 128 applies) *disposes of a *CGT asset of the trust to a beneficiary in satisfaction of the beneficiary's right, or part of it, to receive *ordinary income or *statutory income from the trust.

Note: Division 128 deals with the effect of death.

- (2) The time of the event is when the disposal occurs.

Trustee makes a capital gain or loss

- (3) The trustee makes a capital gain if the *market value of the asset (at the time of the disposal) is more than its *cost base. It makes a capital loss if that market value is less than the asset's *reduced cost base.

Exception for trustee

- (4) A *capital gain or *capital loss the trustee makes is disregarded if it *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-85

---

Beneficiary makes a capital gain or loss

- (5) The beneficiary makes a capital gain if the *market value of the asset (at the time of the disposal) is more than the *cost base of the right, or the part of it. The beneficiary makes a capital loss if that market value is less than the *reduced cost base of the right or part.

Note: If the beneficiary did not pay anything for the right, the market value substitution rule does not apply: see section 112-20.

Exception for beneficiary

- (6) A *capital gain or *capital loss the beneficiary makes is disregarded if it *acquired the *CGT asset that is the right before 20 September 1985.

104-85 Disposal to beneficiary to end capital interest: CGT event E7

- (1) CGT event E7 happens if the trustee of a trust (except a unit trust or a trust to which Division 128 applies) *disposes of a *CGT asset of the trust to a beneficiary in satisfaction of the beneficiary's interest, or part of it, in the trust capital.

Note: Division 128 deals with the effect of death.

- (2) The time of the event is when the disposal occurs.

Trustee makes a capital gain or loss

- (3) The trustee makes a capital gain if the *market value of the asset (at the time of the disposal) is more than its *cost base. It makes a capital loss if that market value is less than the asset's *reduced cost base.

Exception for trustee

- (4) A *capital gain or *capital loss the trustee makes is disregarded if it *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985.

Beneficiary makes a capital gain or loss

- (5) The beneficiary makes a capital gain if the *market value of the asset (at the time of the disposal) is more than the *cost base of the interest, or the part of it, being satisfied. The beneficiary makes a capital loss if that market value is less than the *reduced cost base of that interest or part.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Exceptions for beneficiary

- (6) A *capital gain or *capital loss the beneficiary makes is disregarded if the beneficiary:
- (a) *acquired the *CGT asset that is the interest (except by way of an assignment from another entity) for no expenditure; or
  - (b) acquired it before 20 September 1985.

Expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5.

104-90 Disposal by beneficiary of capital interest: CGT event E8

- (1) CGT event E8 happens if:
- (a) you are the beneficiary under a trust (except a unit trust or a trust to which Division 128 applies); and
  - (b) you did not give any money or property to *acquire the *CGT asset that is your interest in the trust capital and you did not acquire it by assignment; and
  - (c) you *dispose of the interest, or part of it (but not to the trustee).

Note: Division 128 deals with the effect of death.

- (2) The time of the event is:
- (a) when you enter into the contract for the *disposal; or
  - (b) if there is no contract—when you stop owning the interest or part.

Note 1: You work out if you have made a capital gain or capital loss under sections 104-95 and 104-100.

Note 2: There is a special indexation rule for this event: see section 114-10.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

104-95 Making a capital gain

You are the only beneficiary

- (1) If you are the only beneficiary with an interest in the trust capital and you *dispose of that interest, you work out if you have made a *capital gain in this way:

Working out your capital gain

- Step 1. Work out the *capital proceeds from the *disposal.
Step 2. Work out the *net asset amount.
Step 3. If the Step 1 amount is greater, you make a capital gain equal to the difference.

- (2) The net asset amount is worked out in this way:

Working out the net asset amount

- Step 1. Work out the total of the *cost bases (at the time of the disposal) of the *CGT assets that the trustee *acquired on or after 20 September 1985 and that formed part of the trust capital at that time.
Step 2. Work out the total of the *market values (at the time of the disposal) of the *CGT assets that the trustee *acquired before 20 September 1985 and that formed part of the trust capital at that time.
Step 3. Work out the amount of money that formed part of the trust capital at the time of the disposal.
Step 4. Add up the Step 1, 2 and 3 amounts.
Step 5. Subtract from the Step 4 amount any liabilities of the trust at the time of the disposal.
Step 6. The result is the net asset amount.

Example: You dispose of your interest in the trust capital for $10,000 (the capital proceeds).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

The total of the cost bases of the CGT assets that the trustee acquired on or after 20 September 1985 is $6,000.

The total of the market values of the CGT assets that the trustee acquired before 20 September 1985 is $2,500.

There is $1,000 in the trust. The trust liabilities are $500.

The net asset amount is:

$$$6,000 + $2,500 + $1,000 - $500 = $9,000$$

You make a capital gain of:

$$$10,000 - $9,000 = $1,000$$

- (3) If you *dispose of only part of that interest, any *capital gain is worked out using the method statement in subsection (1), except that the Step 2 amount is replaced by:

The net asset amount  $\times$   $\frac{\text{The part of the interest you are disposing of}}{\text{(expressed as a fraction)}}$

Example: To vary the example in subsection (2), suppose you dispose of 50% of your interest for $5,000 (the capital proceeds).

The Step 2 amount becomes:

$$$9,000 \times 50\% = $4,500$$

You make a capital gain of:

$$$5,000 - $4,500 = $500$$

There is more than one beneficiary

- (4) If you are not the only beneficiary with an interest in the trust capital and you *dispose of your interest, any *capital gain is worked out using the method statement in subsection (1), except that the Step 2 amount is replaced by:

The net asset amount  $\times$   $\frac{\text{Your interest in the trust capital}}{\text{(expressed as a fraction)}}$

Example: To vary the example in subsection (2), suppose you have a 20% interest in the trust capital and you dispose of it for $4,000 (the capital proceeds).

The Step 2 amount becomes:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-100

---

$$$9,000 \times 20\% = $1,800$$

You make a capital gain of:

$$$4,000 - $1,800 = $2,200$$

- (5) If you are not the only beneficiary with an interest in the trust capital and you *dispose of part of your interest, any *capital gain is worked out using the method statement in subsection (1), except that the Step 2 amount is replaced by:

$$\begin{array}{l} \text{The net asset} \\ \text{amount} \end{array} \times \begin{array}{l} \text{Your interest in} \\ \text{the trust capital} \\ \text{(expressed as a fraction)} \end{array} \times \begin{array}{l} \text{The part of the interest} \\ \text{you are disposing of} \\ \text{(expressed as a fraction)} \end{array}$$

Example: To vary the example in subsection (2), suppose you have a 50% interest in the trust capital. You dispose of 20% of it for $1,000 (the capital proceeds).

The Step 2 amount becomes:

$$$9,000 \times 50\% \times 20\% = $900$$

You make a capital gain of:

$$$1,000 - $900 = $100$$

Exception

- (6) A *capital gain you make is disregarded if you *acquired the *CGT asset that is the interest in the trust capital before 20 September 1985.

Note: You can make a gain if you dispose of an interest in a trust that you acquired before that day: see CGT event K6.

104-100 Making a capital loss

You are the only beneficiary

- (1) If you are the only beneficiary with an interest in the trust capital and you *dispose of that interest, you work out if you have made a *capital loss in this way:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Working out your capital loss

- Step 1. Work out the *capital proceeds from the *disposal.
- Step 2. Work out the *reduced net asset amount.
- Step 3. If the Step 1 amount is less, you make a capital loss equal to the difference.

- (2) The reduced net asset amount is worked out in this way:

Working out the reduced net asset amount

- Step 1. Work out the total of the *reduced cost bases (at the time of the disposal) of the *CGT assets that the trustee *acquired on or after 20 September 1985 and that formed part of the trust capital at that time.
- Step 2. Work out the total of the *market values (at the time of the disposal) of the *CGT assets that the trustee *acquired before 20 September 1985 and that formed part of the trust capital at that time.
- Step 3. Work out the amount of money that formed part of the trust capital at the time of the disposal.
- Step 4. Add up the Step 1, 2 and 3 amounts.
- Step 5. Subtract from the Step 4 amount any liabilities of the trust at the time of the disposal.
- Step 6. The result is the reduced net asset amount.

- (3) If you *dispose of only part of that interest, any *capital loss is worked out using the method statement in subsection (1), except that the Step 2 amount is replaced by:

$$\text{The reduced net asset amount} \times \frac{\text{The part of the interest you are disposing of (expressed as a fraction)}}{1}$$

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-105

---

There is more than one beneficiary

- (4) If you are not the only beneficiary with an interest in the trust capital and you *dispose of your interest, any *capital loss is worked out using the method statement in subsection (1), except that the Step 2 amount is replaced by:

$$\text{The reduced net asset amount} \times \frac{\text{Your interest in the trust capital}}{\text{(expressed as a fraction)}}$$

- (5) If you are not the only beneficiary with an interest in the trust capital and you *dispose of part of your interest, any *capital loss is worked out using the method statement in subsection (1), except that the Step 2 amount is replaced by:

$$\text{The reduced net asset amount} \times \frac{\text{Your interest in the trust capital}}{\text{(expressed as a fraction)}} \times \frac{\text{The part of the interest you are disposing of}}{\text{(expressed as a fraction)}}$$

Exception

- (6) A *capital loss you make is disregarded if you *acquired the *CGT asset that is the interest in the trust capital before 20 September 1985.

104-105 Creating a trust over future property: CGT event E9

- (1) CGT event E9 happens if:
- (a) you agree for consideration that when property comes into existence you will hold it on trust; and
  - (b) at the time of the agreement, no potential beneficiary under the trust has a beneficial interest in the rights created by the agreement.
- (2) The time of the event is when you made the agreement.
- (3) You make a capital gain if the *market value the property would have had if it had existed when you made the agreement is more than any *incidental costs you incurred that relate to the event. You make a capital loss if that market value is less.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (4) The costs can include giving property: see section 103-5. However, they do not include an amount you have received as *recoupment of them and that is not included in your assessable income, or an amount to the extent that you have deducted or can deduct it.

Subdivision 104-F—Leases

Table of sections

104-110	Granting a lease: CGT event F1
104-115	Granting a long-term lease: CGT event F2
104-120	Lessor pays lessee to get lease changed: CGT event F3
104-125	Lessee receives payment for changing lease: CGT event F4
104-130	Lessor receives payment for changing lease: CGT event F5

104-110 Granting a lease: CGT event F1

- (1) CGT event F1 happens if a lessor grants, renews or extends a lease.
- Note 1: Other CGT events can apply to leases. An assignment of a lease is an example of CGT event A1.
- Note 2: There are special rules that apply to some lease transactions: see Division 132.
- (2) The time of the event is:
- (a) for the grant of a lease:
    - (i) when the contract for the lease is entered into; or
    - (ii) if there is no contract—at the start of the lease; or
  - (b) for a renewal or extension—at the start of the renewal or extension.
- (3) The lessor makes a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from the grant, renewal or extension are more than the expenditure it incurred on the grant, renewal or extension. It makes a capital loss if those capital proceeds are less.
- (4) The expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5. However, it does not include an amount you have received as *recoupment of it and that is not included in your assessable income, or an amount to the extent that you have deducted or can deduct it.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Exception

- (5) The lessor can choose to apply section 104-115 to certain long term leases. If it does so, this section does not apply.

104-115 Granting a long-term lease: CGT event F2

- (1) CGT event F2 happens if:
- (a) a lessor grants a lease over land (whether or not the lessor owns an estate in fee simple in the land), or renews or extends a lease over land; and
  - (b) the lease, renewal or extension is for at least 50 years and:
    - (i) at the time of the grant, renewal or extension, it was reasonable to expect that it would continue for at least 50 years; and
    - (ii) the terms of the lease, renewal or extension as they apply to the lessee are substantially the same as those under which the lessor owned the land or held a lease of the land; and
  - (c) the lessor chooses to apply this section instead of section 104-110.

Note: Section 103-25 tells you when the choice must be made.

- (2) The time of the event is when the lessor grants the lease, or at the start of the renewal or extension, as appropriate.
- (3) The lessor makes a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from the event are more than the *cost base of the lessor's interest in the land. The lessor makes a capital loss if those capital proceeds are less than the *reduced cost base of that interest.

Exceptions

- (4) A *capital gain or *capital loss the lessor makes is disregarded if:
- (a) it *acquired the *CGT asset that is the land, or the lease to the lessor was granted, before 20 September 1985; or
  - (b) the lease to the lessor has been renewed or extended and the last renewal or extension started before that day.

Note: For any later CGT event that happens to the land or the lessor's lease of it: see section 132-10.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

104-120 Lessor pays lessee to get lease changed: CGT event F3

- (1) CGT event F3 happens if a lessor incurs expenditure in getting the lessee's agreement to vary or waive a term of the lease. The lessor makes a capital loss equal to the amount of expenditure it incurred. (The expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5.)
- (2) The time of the event is when the term is varied or waived.

Exception

- (3) However, this event does not apply to expenditure for a lease to which the lessor has chosen to apply section 104-115.

104-125 Lessee receives payment for changing lease: CGT event F4

- (1) CGT event F4 happens if a lessee receives a payment from the lessor for agreeing to vary or waive a term of the lease.
The payment can include giving property: see section 103-5.
- (2) The time of the event is when the term is varied or waived.
- (3) The lessee makes a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from the event are more than the lease's *cost base (at the time of the event). If the lessee makes a *capital gain, the lease's cost base is also reduced to nil.

Note: The lessee cannot make a capital loss.

- (4) On the other hand, if those *capital proceeds are less, the lease's *cost base is reduced by that amount at the time of the event.

Example: On 1 January 1999 a lessee enters a lease. On 1 May 1999 the lessee agrees to waive a term. The lessor pays the lessee $1,000 for this.

If the lease's cost base at the time of the waiver is $2,500, it is reduced from $2,500 to $1,500.

On 1 September 1999 the lessee agrees to waive another term. The lessor pays the lessee $2,000 for this.

If the lease's cost base at the time of the waiver is $1,500, the lessee makes a capital gain of $500, and the cost base is reduced to nil.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 104-130

---

Exceptions

- (5) A *capital gain the lessee makes is disregarded if:
- (a) the lease was granted before 20 September 1985; or
  - (b) for a lease that has been renewed or extended—the start of the last renewal or extension occurred before that day.

104-130 Lessor receives payment for changing lease: CGT event F5

- (1) CGT event F5 happens if a lessor receives a payment from the lessee for agreeing to vary or waive a term of the lease.

The payment can include giving property: see section 103-5.

- (2) The time of the event is when the term is varied or waived.
- (3) The lessor makes a capital gain if the *capital proceeds from the event are more than the expenditure the lessor incurs in relation to the variation or waiver. The lessor makes a capital loss if those capital proceeds are less.

Example: You own a shopping centre. The lessee of a shop in the centre pays you $10,000 for agreeing to change the terms of its lease. You incur expenses of $1,000 for a solicitor and $500 for a valuer. You make a capital gain of $8,500.

- (4) The expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5. However, it does not include an amount you have received as *recoupment of it and that is not included in your assessable income.

Exceptions

- (5) A *capital gain or *capital loss the lessor makes is disregarded if:
- (a) the lease was granted before 20 September 1985; or
  - (b) for a lease that has been renewed or extended—the start of the last renewal or extension occurred before that day.

Subdivision 104-G—Shares

Table of sections

104-135 Capital payment for shares: CGT event G1

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

104-145 Liquidator or administrator declares shares or financial instruments worthless: CGT event G3

104-135 Capital payment for shares: CGT event G1

(1) CGT event G1 happens if:

- (a) a company makes a payment to you in respect of a *share you own in the company (except for *CGT event A1 or C2 happening in relation to the share); and
- (b) some or all of the payment (the non-assessable part) is not a *dividend, or an amount that is taken to be a dividend under section 47 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; and
- (c) the payment is not included in your assessable income.

The payment can include giving property: see section 103-5.

(1A) In working out the non-assessable part, disregard any part of the payment that is:

- (aa) *non-assessable non-exempt income; or
- (a) repaid by you; or
- (b) compensation you paid that can reasonably be regarded as a repayment of all or part of the payment; or
- (c) an amount referred to in section 152-125 (which exempts a payment of a small business 15-year exemption amount) as an exempt amount.

The payment can include giving property: see section 103-5.

(1B) However, the non-assessable part is not reduced by any part of the payment that you can deduct.

(2) The time of the event is when the company makes the payment.

(3) You make a capital gain if the amount of the non-assessable part is more than the *share's *cost base. If you make a *capital gain, the share's *cost base and *reduced cost base are reduced to nil.

Note 1: You cannot make a capital loss.

Note 2: A capital gain under former section 160ZL of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 is also taken into account for the purposes of this subsection: see section 104-135 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 104-145

---

- (4) However, if the amount of the non-assessable part is not more than the *share's *cost base, that cost base and its *reduced cost base are reduced by the amount of the non-assessable part.

Note: Cost base adjustments are made only under Subdivision 125-B if there is a roll-over under that Subdivision for CGT event G1 happening as a result of a demerger.

Exceptions

- (5) A *capital gain you make is disregarded if you *acquired the *CGT asset that is the *share before 20 September 1985.
- (6) You disregard a payment by a liquidator for the purposes of this section if the company ceases to exist within 18 months of the payment.
- Note: The payment will be part of your capital proceeds for CGT event C2 happening when the share ends.
- (7) You also disregard a payment that is *personal services income included in your assessable income, or another entity's assessable income, under section 86-15.

104-145 Liquidator or administrator declares shares or financial instruments worthless: CGT event G3

- (1) CGT event G3 happens if you own *shares in a company, or financial instruments issued by or created by or in relation to a company, and a liquidator or administrator of the company declares in writing that the liquidator or administrator has reasonable grounds to believe (as at the time of the declaration) that:
- (a) for shares—there is no likelihood that shareholders in the company, or shareholders of the relevant class of shares, will receive any further distribution for their shares; or
  - (b) for financial instruments—the instruments, or a class of instruments that includes instruments of that kind, have no value or have only negligible value.
- (2) The time of the event is when the declaration was made.
- (3) Examples of financial instruments referred to in subsection (1) are:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (a) *debentures, bonds or promissory notes issued by the company; and
  - (b) loans to the company; and
  - (c) futures contracts, forward contracts or currency swap contracts relating to the company; and
  - (d) rights or options to acquire an asset referred to in a preceding paragraph of this subsection; and
  - (e) rights or options to acquire *shares in the company.
- (4) You can choose to make a capital loss equal to the *reduced cost base of your *shares or financial instruments (as at the time of the declaration).
- (5) If you make the choice, the *cost base and *reduced cost base of the *shares or financial instruments are reduced to nil just after the declaration was made.

Note: This is for the purpose of working out if you make a capital gain or loss from any later CGT event in relation to the shares or financial instruments.

Exceptions

- (6) You cannot choose to make a *capital loss if:
- (a) you *acquired the shares or financial instruments before 20 September 1985; or
  - (b) the shares or financial instruments were *revenue assets at the time when the declaration was made.
- (7) You cannot choose to make a *capital loss for a *qualifying share if:
- (a) you did not make an election for the *share under section 139E of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 for the income year in which you acquired (within the meaning of Subdivision C of Division 13A of Part III of that Act) the share; and
  - (b) the declaration was made no later than 30 days after the *cessation time for the share.
- (8) You cannot choose to make a *capital loss for a financial instrument that is a right you acquired (within the meaning of Subdivision C of Division 13A of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936), or would have so acquired apart from section 139DD of that Act, under an *employee share scheme.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Subdivision 104-H—Special capital receipts

Table of sections

104-150	Forfeiture of deposit: CGT event H1
104-155	Receipt for event relating to a CGT asset: CGT event H2

104-150 Forfeiture of deposit: CGT event H1

- (1) CGT event H1 happens if a deposit paid to you is forfeited because a prospective sale or other transaction does not proceed.

The payment can include giving property: see section 103-5.

Example: You decide to sell land. Before entering into a contract of sale, the prospective purchaser pays you a 2 month holding deposit of $1,000.

The negotiations fail and the deposit is forfeited.

- (1A) The amount of the deposit is reduced by any part of the deposit that is:

- (a) repaid by you; or
- (b) compensation you paid that can reasonably be regarded as a repayment of all or part of the deposit.

The payment can include giving property: see section 103-5.

- (1B) However, the deposit is not reduced by any part of the payment that you can deduct.

- (2) The time of the event is when the deposit is forfeited.

- (3) You make a capital gain if the deposit is more than the expenditure you incur in connection with the prospective sale or other transaction. You make a capital loss if the deposit is less.

- (4) The expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5. However, it does not include an amount you have received as *recoupment of it and that is not included in your assessable income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Example: To continue the example: if you gave a lawyer wine worth $400 in connection with the prospective sale, you make a capital gain of:

$$$1,000 - $400 = $600$$

104-155 Receipt for event relating to a CGT asset: CGT event H2

- (1) CGT event H2 happens if:
- (a) an act, transaction or event occurs in relation to a *CGT asset that you own; and
  - (b) the act, transaction or event does not result in an adjustment being made to the asset's *cost base or *reduced cost base.

Example: You own land on which you intend to construct a manufacturing facility. A business promotion organisation pays you $50,000 as an inducement to start construction early.

No contractual rights or obligations are created by the arrangement.

The payment is made because of an event (the inducement to start construction early) in relation to your land.

Note: This event does not apply if any other CGT event applies: see section 102-25.

- (2) The time of the event is when the act, transaction or event occurs.
- (3) You make a capital gain if the *capital proceeds because of the *CGT event are more than the *incidental costs you incurred that relate to the event. You make a capital loss if those capital proceeds are less.
- (4) The costs can include giving property: see section 103-5. However, they do not include an amount you have received as *recoupment of them and that is not included in your assessable income.

Exceptions

- (5) CGT event H2 does not happen if:
- (a) the act, transaction or event is the borrowing of money or the obtaining of credit from another entity; or
  - (b) the act, transaction or event requires you to do something that is another *CGT event that happens to you; or
  - (c) a company issues or allots *equity interests or *non-equity shares in the company; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-160

---

- (d) the trustee of a unit trust issues units in the trust; or
- (e) a company grants an option to acquire equity interests, non-equity shares or *debentures in the company; or
- (ea) a company grants an option to dispose of *shares in the company to the company; or
- (f) the trustee of a unit trust grants an option to acquire units or debentures in the trust; or
- (g) a company or a trust that is a member of a *demerger group issues new *ownership interests under a *demerger.

Note: For demergers, see Division 125.

Subdivision 104-I—Australian residency ends

Table of sections

104-160	Individual or company stops being an Australian resident: CGT event I1
104-165	Exception for individuals
104-170	Trust stops being a resident trust: CGT event I2

104-160 Individual or company stops being an Australian resident: CGT event I1

- (1) CGT event I1 happens if you stop being an Australian resident.
- (2) The time of the event is when you stop being one.
- (3) You need to work out if you have made a *capital gain or a *capital loss for each *CGT asset that you owned just before the time of the event, except one that is *taxable Australian property:
  - (a) covered by item 1 or 3 of the table in section 855-15; or
  - (b) covered by item 4 of that table because it is an option or right to *acquire a *CGT asset covered by item 1 or 3 of that table.
- (4) You make a capital gain if the *market value of the asset (at the time of the event) is more than its *cost base. You make a capital loss if that market value is less than the asset's *reduced cost base.
- (4A) If the asset is an *indirect Australian real property interest, or an option or right to acquire such an interest, this Part and Part 3-3 apply to the asset as if the first element of the *cost base and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

*reduced cost base of the asset (just after the time of the event) were its *market value at the time of the event.

- (4B) Subsection (4A) does not apply if the *capital gain or *capital loss you make is disregarded under subsection (5) or (6), or subsection 104-165(2).

Exceptions

- (5) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make is disregarded if you *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985.
- (6) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make is disregarded if:
- (a) the asset is a *qualifying share or *qualifying right; and
  - (b) the asset is not covered by an election under section 139E of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; and
  - (c) the *cessation time for the share or right has not occurred.

Note 1: An individual may be able disregard the gain or loss if he or she was a short term Australian resident: see section 104-166.

Note 1A: An individual may disregard the gain or loss if he or she was a temporary resident immediately before he or she stopped being an Australian resident: see section 768-915.

Note 2: An individual can choose to disregard a capital gain or loss he or she makes until another CGT event happens in relation to the asset where he or she ceases to own the asset or he or she becomes an Australian resident again: see section 104-165.

104-165 Exception for individuals

Choosing to disregard making a gain or loss

- (2) If you are an individual, you can choose to disregard making a *capital gain or a *capital loss from all *CGT assets covered by *CGT event I1.
- (3) If you do so choose, each of those assets is taken to be *taxable Australian property until the earlier of:
- (a) a *CGT event happening in relation to the asset, if the CGT event involves you ceasing to own the asset;
  - (b) you again becoming an Australian resident.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 104-170

---

Note: If you are an individual who was in Australia on 6 April 2006, and you remain an Australian resident from that day until you stop being one, and you were an Australian resident for less than 5 years during the 10 years before you stopped being one, see section 104-166 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

104-170 Trust stops being a resident trust: CGT event I2

- (1) CGT event I2 happens if a trust stops being a *resident trust for CGT purposes.
- (2) The time of the event is when the trust stops being one.
- (3) The trustee needs to work out if it has made a *capital gain or a *capital loss for each *CGT asset that it owned (in the capacity as trustee of the trust) just before the time of the event except one that is *taxable Australian property:
  - (a) covered by item 1 or 3 of the table in section 855-15; or
  - (b) covered by item 4 of that table because it is an option or right to *acquire a *CGT asset covered by item 1 or 3 of that table.
- (4) The trustee makes a capital gain if the *market value of the asset (at the time of the event) is more than the asset's *cost base. The trustee makes a capital loss if that market value is less than the asset's *reduced cost base.
  - (4A) If the asset is an *indirect Australian real property interest, or an option or right to acquire such an interest, this Part and Part 3-3 apply to the asset as if the first element of the *cost base and *reduced cost base of the asset (just after the time of the event) were its *market value at the time of the event.
  - (4B) Subsection (4A) does not apply if the *capital gain or *capital loss the trustee makes is disregarded under subsection (5).

Exception

- (5) A *capital gain or *capital loss the trustee makes is disregarded if it *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 104-J—CGT events relating to roll-overs

Table of sections

104-175	Company ceasing to be member of wholly-owned group after roll-over: CGT event J1
104-180	Sub-group break-up
104-182	Consolidated group break-up
104-185	Change in relation to replacement asset or improved asset after a roll-over under Subdivision 152-E: CGT event J2
104-190	Modifying or extending the replacement asset period
104-195	Trust failing to cease to exist after roll-over under Subdivision 124-N: CGT event J4
104-197	Failure to acquire replacement asset and to incur fourth element expenditure after a roll-over under Subdivision 152-E: CGT event J5
104-198	Cost of acquisition of replacement asset or amount of fourth element expenditure, or both, not sufficient to cover disregarded capital gain: CGT event J6

104-175 Company ceasing to be member of wholly-owned group after roll-over: CGT event J1

- (1) CGT event J1 happens if:
- (a) there is a roll-over under Subdivision 126-B for a *CGT event (the roll-over event) that happens in relation to a *CGT asset (the roll-over asset) involving 2 companies that are members of the same *wholly-owned group; and
  - (b) the company (the recipient company) that owns the roll-over asset just after the roll-over stops being a 100% subsidiary of a company in the group in the circumstances set out in subsection (2) or (3); and
  - (c) at the time of the roll-over, the recipient company was a *100% subsidiary of:
    - (i) the other company involved in the roll-over event (the originating company); or
    - (ii) another member of the same *wholly-owned group.

Note: If the roll-over was under former section 160ZZO of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, CGT event J1 does not happen if there would not have been a deemed disposal and re-acquisition under that Act: see section 104-175 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-175

---

- (2) This condition applies if there has been only one roll-over within the *wholly-owned group under Subdivision 126-B involving the roll-over asset.

The recipient company must stop, at a time (the break-up time) when it still owns the roll-over asset, being a *100% subsidiary of a member of the group (the ultimate holding company) that is not a 100% subsidiary of any other member of the group at the time of the roll-over event.

- (3) This condition applies if the roll-over event was the last in a series of *CGT events involving the roll-over asset and there was a roll-over within the *wholly-owned group under Subdivision 126-B for all the events.

The recipient company must stop, at a time (also the break-up time) when it still owns the roll-over asset, being a *100% subsidiary of another member of the group (also the ultimate holding company) that was not a 100% subsidiary of any other member of the group at the time of the first of the events.

- (4) The time of the event is the break-up time.
- (5) The recipient company makes a capital gain if the roll-over asset's *market value (at the break-up time) is more than its *cost base. It makes a capital loss if that market value is less than its *reduced cost base.

Exceptions

- (6) CGT event J1 does not happen if the conditions in section 104-180 or 104-182 are satisfied.
- (7) A *capital gain or *capital loss the recipient company makes is disregarded if the roll-over asset is taken to have been *acquired by it before 20 September 1985 under Subdivision 126-B (except where the roll-over asset has stopped being a *pre-CGT asset, for example, because of Division 149).

Note: CGT event J1 does not happen to a demerged entity or a member of a demerger group if CGT event A1 or C2 happens to a demerging entity under a demerger: see section 125-160.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Acquisition rule

- (8) The recipient company is taken to have *acquired the roll-over asset at the break-up time.

Cost base adjustment

- (9) The first element of the recipient company's *cost base and *reduced cost base of the roll-over asset (just after the break-up time) is its *market value (at the break-up time).

104-180 Sub-group break-up

- (1) The condition in subsection (2) must have been satisfied at each time when there is a roll-over within the *wholly-owned group under Subdivision 126-B for a *CGT event happening in relation to the roll-over asset.
- (2) The originating company and the recipient company must have been members of a group of 2 or more companies (the sub-group) within the *wholly-owned group (excluding the ultimate holding company) for which one of these is satisfied:
- (a) if the sub-group consists of 2 companies, either the recipient company is a 100% subsidiary of the other company (the holding company), or the other company is a 100% subsidiary of the recipient company (also the holding company);
  - (b) if the sub-group consists of 3 or more companies:
    - (i) the recipient company is a 100% subsidiary of one of those other companies (also the holding company) and so are the other companies (except the holding company) in the sub-group; or
    - (ii) each of the companies in the sub-group (except the recipient company) is a 100% subsidiary of the recipient company (also the holding company).
- (3) If the roll-over event was the last in a series of *CGT events involving the roll-over asset and there was a roll-over within the *wholly-owned group under Subdivision 126-B for all the events, each company that was the originating company or the recipient

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 104-182

---

company for the purposes of that Subdivision for one of those roll-overs must have been members of the sub-group at the time of each of the roll-overs.

- (4) The conditions in subsection (5) or (6) must be satisfied just after the break-up time.
- (5) If the recipient company was the holding company of the sub-group, none of its *shares can be owned by:
  - (a) the ultimate holding company; or
  - (b) a company that is a *100% subsidiary of the ultimate holding company just after the break-up time.
- (6) If the recipient company was not the holding company of the sub-group, no *shares in it or in the holding company can be owned by:
  - (a) the ultimate holding company; or
  - (b) a company that is a *100% subsidiary of the ultimate holding company just after the break-up time.

104-182 Consolidated group break-up

*CGT event J1 does not happen if the recipient company ceases to be a *subsidiary member of a *consolidated group at the break-up time (whether or not it becomes a subsidiary member of another consolidated group at that time).

104-185 Change in relation to replacement asset or improved asset after a roll-over under Subdivision 152-E: CGT event J2

- (1) CGT event J2 happens if you choose a small business roll-over under Subdivision 152-E for a *CGT event that happens in relation to a *CGT asset in an income year and:
  - (a) you *acquire a replacement asset (the replacement asset), or you incur *fourth element expenditure in relation to a CGT asset (also the replacement asset), or you do both, by the end of the period (the replacement asset period) starting one year before, and ending 2 years after, the last CGT event in the income year for which you obtain the roll-over; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) the replacement asset is your *active asset at the end of the replacement asset period; and
- (c) if the replacement asset is a *share in a company or an interest in a trust, at the end of the replacement asset period:
  - (i) either you, or an entity *connected with you, is a *CGT concession stakeholder in the company or trust; or
  - (ii) CGT concession stakeholders in the company or trust have a *small business participation percentage in you of at least 90%; and
- (d) a change of a kind specified in subsection (2) or (3) happens after the end of the replacement asset period.

Note 1: The replacement asset period may be modified or extended, see section 104-190.

Note 2: There is an exception: see subsection (8).

Note 3: There may be 2 or more replacement assets.

Note 4: CGT event J2 can also happen in relation to a capital gain you rolled-over under Division 17A of former Part IIIA of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 or Division 123 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 if the status of the replacement asset changes: see section 104-185 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

- (2) For any replacement asset that satisfied paragraph (1)(b) and, if applicable, paragraph (1)(c), the change is:
  - (a) the asset stops being your *active asset; or
  - (b) the asset becomes your *trading stock; or
  - (c) you make a testamentary gift of the asset under the Cultural Bequests Program; or
  - (d) you start to use the asset solely to produce your *exempt income or *non-assessable non-exempt income.
- (3) In addition, for a *share in a company or an interest in a trust, the change is:
  - (a) *CGT event G3 or I1 happens in relation to it; or
  - (b) paragraph (1)(c) stops being satisfied.

Note: The full list of CGT events is in section 104-5.

- (4) The time of the event is when the change happens.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (5) You make a capital gain equal to:
- (a) if there is only one replacement asset that satisfied paragraph (1)(b) and, if applicable, paragraph (1)(c)—the amount of the capital gain that you disregarded under Subdivision 152-E (the 152-E amount); or
  - (b) if there are 2 or more replacement assets that satisfied paragraph (1)(b) and, if applicable, paragraph (1)(c) and a change of a kind specified in subsection (2) or (3) occurs for all of them—the 152-E amount; or
  - (c) if there are 2 or more replacement assets that satisfied paragraph (1)(b) and, if applicable, paragraph (1)(c) and such a change occurs for one or more but not all of them—so much (if any) of the 152-E amount as exceeds the sum of the following:
    - (i) the first element of the *cost base of each of those replacement assets *acquired;
    - (ii) the *incidental costs you incurred to acquire each of those replacement assets (which can include giving property, see section 103-5);
    - (iii) the amount of *fourth element expenditure incurred in relation to each of those replacement assets; in relation to which such a change did not occur.
- (6) If *CGT event J6 has happened in relation to the small business roll-over under Subdivision 152-E, subsection (5) applies to the 152-E amount reduced by the amount of the capital gain under that event.
- (7) If *CGT event J2 happens again in a later income year in relation to the small business roll-over under Subdivision 152-E, subsection (5) applies to any remaining part of the 152-E amount reduced by the amount of the capital gain under the earlier event.
- (8) CGT event J2 does not happen because of paragraph (2)(a) for a *share in a company or an interest in a trust if the share or interest ceased to be an *active asset only because of changes in the *market values of assets that were owned by the company or trust when you *acquired the share or interest or incurred the *fourth element expenditure.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (9) You incur fourth element expenditure in relation to a *CGT asset if you incur capital expenditure that is included, under subsection 110-25(5), in the fourth element of the *cost base of the asset.

104-190 Modifying or extending the replacement asset period

- (1) The replacement asset period is modified if your *capital proceeds for the *CGT event are increased under subsection 116-45(2) or 116-60(3) after the end of that period. Instead, you have until 12 months after you receive those additional proceeds to *acquire a replacement asset, or incur *fourth element expenditure in relation to a *CGT asset, or do both.

Note: Section 116-45 applies if you do not receive your capital proceeds despite having taken all reasonable steps to get them, and section 116-60 applies if your capital proceeds are misappropriated by your employee or agent.

- (2) The Commissioner may extend the replacement asset period, or that period as modified by subsection (1).

104-195 Trust failing to cease to exist after roll-over under Subdivision 124-N: CGT event J4

- (1) CGT event J4 happens if:
- (a) there is a roll-over under Subdivision 124-N for a trust *disposing of a *CGT asset to a company under a trust restructure; and
  - (b) the trust fails to cease to exist:
    - (i) within 6 months after the start of the *trust restructuring period; or
    - (ii) if that is not possible because of circumstances outside the control of the trustee—as soon as practicable after the end of that 6 month period; and
  - (c) the company owns the asset when the failure happens.

Example: Circumstances would be outside the control of the trustee if the trustee is involved in litigation concerning the trust and cannot wind up the trust until the litigation is finished.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (2) CGT event J4 also happens if:
- (a) there is a roll-over under Subdivision 124-N for an entity (the shareholding entity) receiving a *share in a company in exchange for a unit or interest in a trust under a trust restructure; and
  - (b) the trust fails to cease to exist:
    - (i) within 6 months after the start of the *trust restructuring period; or
    - (ii) if that is not possible because of circumstances outside the control of the trustee—as soon as practicable after the end of that 6 month period; and
  - (c) the shareholding entity owns the share when the failure happens.
- (3) The time of the event is when the failure to cease to exist happens.
- (4) The company makes a capital gain if the *CGT asset's *market value at the time the company *acquired the asset is more than its *cost base at that time. The company makes a capital loss if that market value is less than the asset's *reduced cost base at that time.
- (5) This Part and Part 3-3 apply to the company from just after the time of the event as if the first element of the *cost base and *reduced cost base of the asset were its *market value at the time the company *acquired the asset.
- (6) The shareholding entity makes a capital gain if the *share's *market value at the time the entity *acquired the share is more than its *cost base at that time. The shareholding entity makes a capital loss if that market value is less than the share's *reduced cost base at that time.
- (7) This Part and Part 3-3 apply to the shareholding entity from just after the time of the event as if the first element of the *cost base and *reduced cost base of the *share were its *market value at the time the entity *acquired the share.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Exception

- (8) This section does not apply to a *CGT asset acquired under a trust restructure that happened before the day on which the Taxation Laws Amendment Act (No. 4) 2002 received the Royal Assent.

104-197 Failure to acquire replacement asset and to incur fourth element expenditure after a roll-over under Subdivision 152-E: CGT event J5

- (1) CGT event J5 happens if you choose a small business roll-over under Subdivision 152-E for a *CGT event that happens in relation to a *CGT asset in an income year and, by the end of the replacement asset period:
- (a) you have not *acquired a replacement asset (the replacement asset), and have not incurred *fourth element expenditure in relation to a CGT asset (also the replacement asset); or
  - (b) the replacement asset does not satisfy the conditions set out in subsection (2).

Note: You do not have to satisfy the basic conditions in Subdivision 152-A for the gain in relation to CGT event J5 (see subsection 152-305(4)).

- (2) The conditions are:
- (a) the replacement asset must be your *active asset; and
  - (b) if the replacement asset is a *share in a company or an interest in a trust:
    - (i) you, or an entity *connected with you, must be a *CGT concession stakeholder in the company or trust; or
    - (ii) CGT concession stakeholders in the company or trust must have a *small business participation percentage in you of at least 90%.

Example: Joseph owns 50% of the shares in Company A and Company B. He is therefore a CGT concession stakeholder in the companies: see section 152-60. The companies are connected with Joseph (see section 328-125) because he controls both of them.

Company A owns land which it leases to Joseph for use in a business. It sells the land at a profit and buys shares in Company B.

Subsection (2) is satisfied for the shares because Joseph is connected with Company A and is a CGT concession stakeholder in Company B.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 104-198

---

- (3) The time of the event is at the end of the replacement asset period.
- (4) You make a capital gain equal to the amount of the *capital gain that you disregarded under Subdivision 152-E.
- (5) The replacement asset period may be modified or extended as mentioned in section 104-190.

104-198 Cost of acquisition of replacement asset or amount of fourth element expenditure, or both, not sufficient to cover disregarded capital gain: CGT event J6

- (1) CGT event J6 happens if you choose a small business roll-over under Subdivision 152-E for a *CGT event that happens in relation to a *CGT asset in an income year and:
  - (a) by the end of the replacement asset period, you have done either or both of the following:
    - (i) *acquired a replacement asset (the replacement asset);
    - (ii) incurred *fourth element expenditure in relation to a CGT asset (also the replacement asset); and
  - (b) at the end of the replacement asset period, the replacement asset is your *active asset; and
  - (c) if the replacement asset is a *share in a company or an interest in a trust, at the end of the replacement asset period:
    - (i) you, or an entity *connected with you, are a *CGT concession stakeholder in the company or trust; or
    - (ii) CGT concession stakeholders in the company or trust have a *small business participation percentage in you of at least 90%; and
  - (d) the total (the amount incurred) of the following, in relation to each replacement asset that satisfied paragraph (b) and, if applicable, paragraph (c), is less than the amount of the capital gain that you disregarded:
    - (i) the first element of the *cost base;
    - (ii) the *incidental costs you incurred (which can include giving property, see section 103-5);
    - (iii) the amount of fourth element expenditure incurred.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Note: You do not have to satisfy the basic conditions in Subdivision 152-A for the gain in relation to CGT event J6 (see subsection 152-305(4)).

- (2) The time of the event is at the end of the replacement asset period.
- (3) You make a capital gain equal to the difference between:
  - (a) the amount of the *capital gain that you disregarded under Subdivision 152-E; and
  - (b) the amount incurred.
- (4) The replacement asset period may be modified or extended as mentioned in section 104-190.

Subdivision 104-K—Other CGT events

Table of sections

104-210	Bankrupt pays amount in relation to debt: CGT event K2
104-215	Asset passing to tax-advantaged entity: CGT event K3
104-220	CGT asset starts being trading stock: CGT event K4
104-225	Special collectable losses: CGT event K5
104-230	Pre-CGT shares or trust interest: CGT event K6
104-235	Balancing adjustment events for depreciating assets and section 73BA depreciating assets: CGT event K7
104-240	Working out capital gain or loss for CGT event K7: general case
104-245	Working out capital gain or loss for CGT event K7: pooled assets
104-250	Direct value shifts: CGT event K8
104-255	Carried interests: CGT event K9
104-260	Certain short-term forex realisation gains: CGT event K10
104-265	Certain short-term forex realisation losses: CGT event K11
104-270	Foreign hybrids: CGT event K12

104-210 Bankrupt pays amount in relation to debt: CGT event K2

- (1) CGT event K2 happens if:
  - (a) you made a *net capital loss for an income year that, because of subsection 102-5(2), cannot be applied in working out whether you made a *net capital gain for the income year or a later one; and
  - (b) you make a payment in an income year (the payment year) in respect of a debt that was taken into account in working out the amount of that net capital loss; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-215

---

- (c) ignoring subsection 102-5(2), some part of the net capital loss (the denied part) would have been applied (if you had made sufficient *capital gains) in working out whether you had made a *net capital gain for the payment year.
The payment can include giving property: see section 103-5.
- (2) The time of the event is when you make the payment.
- (3) You make a capital loss equal to the smallest of:
  - (a) the amount you paid; or
  - (b) that part of it that was taken into account in working out the denied part; or
  - (c) the denied part less the sum of *capital losses you made as a result of previous payments you made in respect of the debt that was taken into account in working out the denied part.
- (4) In calculating that capital loss, disregard any amount you have received as *recoupment of the payment and that is not included in your assessable income.

104-215 Asset passing to tax-advantaged entity: CGT event K3

- (1) CGT event K3 happens if you die and a *CGT asset you owned just before dying *passes to a beneficiary in your estate who (when the asset passes):
  - (a) is an *exempt entity; or
  - (b) is the trustee of a *complying superannuation entity; or
  - (c) is a foreign resident.
- (2) If the asset passes to a beneficiary who is a foreign resident, CGT event K3 happens only if:
  - (a) you were an Australian resident just before dying; and
  - (b) the asset (in the hands of the beneficiary) is not *taxable Australian property.
- (3) The time of the event is just before you die.
- (4) A capital gain is made if the *market value of the asset on the day you died is more than the asset's *cost base. A capital loss is made if that market value is less than the asset's *reduced cost base.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Note: The trustee of the estate must include in the date of death return any net capital gain for the income year when you died.

Exception

- (5) A *capital gain or *capital loss is disregarded if you *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985.

Note: There is also an exception for certain philanthropic testamentary gifts: see section 118-60.

104-220 CGT asset starts being trading stock: CGT event K4

- (1) CGT event K4 happens if:
- (a) you start holding as *trading stock a *CGT asset you already own but do not hold as trading stock; and
  - (b) you elect under paragraph 70-30(1)(a) to be treated as having sold the asset for its *market value.

Note 1: Paragraph 70-30(1)(a) allows you to elect the cost of the asset, or its market value, just before it became trading stock.

Note 2: There is an exemption if you elect its cost: see section 118-25.

- (2) The time of the event is when you start.
- (3) You make a capital gain if the asset's *market value (just before it became *trading stock) is more than its *cost base. You make a capital loss if that market value is less than its *reduced cost base.

Exception

- (4) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make is disregarded if you *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985.

104-225 Special collectable losses: CGT event K5

- (1) CGT event K5 happens if the requirements in subsections (2), (3) and (4) are satisfied.
- (2) There is a fall in the *market value of a *collectable of a company or trust.
- (3) *CGT event A1, C2 or E8 happens to:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 104-225

---

- (a) *shares you own in the company (or in a company that is a member of the same *wholly-owned group); or
- (b) an interest you have in the trust;
- and there is no roll-over for that CGT event.
- (4) As a result of the *capital proceeds from that event being replaced under section 116-80:
- (a) you make a *capital gain that you would not otherwise have made; or
- (b) you do not make the *capital loss you would otherwise have made; or
- (c) you make a capital loss that is less than you would otherwise have made.
- Note: The capital proceeds from that event are replaced with the market value of the shares or the interest in the trust as if the fall in the market value of collectables and personal use assets had not occurred: see section 116-80.
- (5) The time of CGT event K5 is the time of *CGT event A1, C2 or E8.
- (6) You make a capital loss from a *collectable equal to:

- the *market value of the *shares or the interest in the trust (worked out as at the time of *CGT event A1, C2 or E8 as if the fall in market value of the collectable had not occurred);

less:

- the actual *capital proceeds from CGT event A1, C2 or E8.

Example: You own 50% of the shares in a company. You bought them in 1999 for $60,000. The company owns a painting worth $100,000 and another asset worth $20,000. The painting falls in value to $50,000.

In 1999 you sell your shares for $35,000 (the actual capital proceeds). You would otherwise make a capital loss of $25,000.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

However, the actual capital proceeds are replaced with $60,000 (the market value of the shares if the painting had not fallen in value). You do not make a capital loss from selling the shares.

You do make a collectable loss equal to:

$$$60,000 - $35,000 = $25,000$$

Note: You can subtract capital losses from collectables only from your capital gains from collectables: see section 108-10.

104-230 Pre-CGT shares or trust interest: CGT event K6

- (1) CGT event K6 happens if:
  - (a) you own *shares in a company or an interest in a trust you *acquired before 20 September 1985; and
  - (b) *CGT event A1, C2, E1, E2, E3, E5, E6, E7, E8, J1 or K3 happens in relation to the shares or interest; and
  - (c) there is no roll-over for the other CGT event; and
  - (d) the applicable requirement in subsection (2) is satisfied.
- (2) Just before the other event happened:
  - (a) the *market value of property of the company or trust (that is not its *trading stock) that was *acquired on or after 20 September 1985; or
  - (b) the market value of interests the company or trust owned through interposed companies or trusts in property (except trading stock) that was *acquired on or after 20 September 1985;must be at least 75% of the *net value of the company or trust.
- (5) The time of CGT event K6 is when the other event happens.
- (6) You make a *capital gain equal to that part of the *capital proceeds from the *share or interest that is reasonably attributable to the amount by which the *market value of the property referred to in subsection (2) is more than the sum of the *cost bases of that property.

Note: You cannot make a capital loss.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 104-230

---

- (7) This section applies to property that a company that is a foreign resident *acquired after 15 August 1989 from another company as if it were acquired before 20 September 1985 if:
- (a) the other company acquired it before 20 September 1985; and
  - (b) the companies are members of the same *wholly-owned group; and
  - (c) the property is not *taxable Australian property.
- (8) In working out the *net value of a company or trust for the purposes of subsection (2), disregard:
- (a) the discharge or release of any liabilities; or
  - (b) the *market value of any *CGT assets acquired;
- if the discharge or release, or the *acquisition, was done for a purpose that included ensuring that the requirement in subsection (2) would not be satisfied in a particular situation.

Exceptions

- (9) CGT event K6 does not happen if:
- (a) for a company referred to in subsection (2)—some of its *shares were listed for quotation in the official list of a stock exchange in Australia or a foreign country at the time of the other event and at all times in the period of 5 years before the time of the other event; or
  - (b) for a trust referred to in subsection (2) that is a unit trust—some of its units were so listed, or were ordinarily available to the public for subscription or purchase, at the time of the other event and at all times in that period.
- (9A) Paragraph (9)(a) applies to a case where:
- (a) the company referred to in subsection (2) is a *demerged entity; and
  - (b) *shares in the demerged entity do not satisfy the test referred to in that paragraph; and
  - (c) the demerger happened not more than 5 years before the other CGT event happened;
- as if shares in the demerged entity were listed for quotation in the official list of a stock exchange in Australia or a foreign country at all times when some of the shares in the *head entity of the *demerger group were so listed.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Example: Louise owns shares in a company which has been listed for 3 years. The company is the head entity of a demerger group. As part of a demerger, she receives new interests in a demerged entity. The demerged entity then lists in its own right.

Since the head entity was listed for only 3 years, the demerged entity must remain listed for 2 years before Louise's new interests become eligible for the exception from CGT event K6.

- (9B) Paragraph (9)(b) applies to a case where:
- (a) the trust referred to in subsection (2) is a *demerged entity and a unit trust; and
  - (b) units in the demerged entity do not satisfy the test referred to in that paragraph; and
  - (c) the demerger happened not more than 5 years before the other CGT event happened;

as if units in the demerged entity were listed for quotation in the official list of a stock exchange in Australia or a foreign country, or were ordinarily available to the public for subscription or purchase, at all times when some of the units in the *head entity of the *demerger group were so listed or available.

- (10) A *capital gain is disregarded for a *share in a company or an interest in a trust to the extent that, had you *acquired it on or after 20 September 1985, you could have chosen a roll-over for the other *CGT event under Subdivision 124-M (scrip for scrip roll-over).

Example: Bill owns a unit in a trust that he acquired before 20 September 1985. He exchanges the unit for a unit in another trust worth $60 and $40 cash. He makes a capital gain of $50 because of CGT event K6.

Had the unit been acquired after 20 September 1985, Bill would have been entitled to a partial roll-over of the capital gain under Subdivision 124-M to the extent that his capital proceeds constituted a replacement unit.

Bill can therefore disregard  $\frac{60}{100}$  of the \$50 gain (\$30). The cost base of Bill's replacement unit is reduced by this amount. Bill must include the remaining \$20 of the CGT event K6 gain in the calculation of his net capital gain or loss for the year.

Note: A capital gain or loss made by a demerging entity from CGT event K6 happening as a result of a demerger is also disregarded: see section 125-155.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

104-235 Balancing adjustment events for depreciating assets and section 73BA depreciating assets: CGT event K7

- (1) CGT event K7 happens if:
- (a) a *balancing adjustment event occurs for a *depreciating asset you *held; and
  - (b) at some time when you held the asset, you used it, or had it *installed ready for use, for a purpose other than a *taxable purpose.
- (1A) However, subsection (1) does not apply if:
- (a) you are an eligible company (within the meaning of section 73B of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) and the *depreciating asset is a section 73BA depreciating asset (within the meaning of section 73BB of that Act); or
  - (b) there is roll-over relief for the *balancing adjustment event under section 40-340 of this Act; or
  - (c) the asset is one for which you or another entity has deducted or can deduct amounts under Subdivision 40-F or 40-G.
- (1B) CGT event K7 also happens if:
- (a) you are an eligible company; and
  - (b) a *balancing adjustment event occurs for a section 73BA depreciating asset you *held; and
  - (c) at some time when you held the asset:
    - (i) you used it other than for a taxable purpose or the purpose of the carrying on by or on behalf of you of research and development activities (within the meaning of section 73B of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936); or
    - (ii) you had it installed ready for use other than for a taxable purpose.
- (2) The time of *CGT event K7 is when the *balancing adjustment event occurs.
- (3) Any *capital gain or *capital loss is worked out:
- (a) under section 104-240; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (b) under section 104-245 if the *depreciating asset was allocated to a low-value pool.
- (4) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make is disregarded if:
  - (a) the *depreciating asset or the section 73BA depreciating asset is a *pre-CGT asset; or
  - (b) you can deduct an amount for the asset under Division 328 (about small business entities) for the income year in which the *balancing adjustment event occurred.

104-240 Working out capital gain or loss for CGT event K7: general case

- (1) You make a capital gain if the *termination value of the *depreciating asset or the section 73BA depreciating asset is more than its *cost. The amount of the *capital gain is:

$$\left[ \text{* Termination value} - \text{*Cost} \right] \times \frac{\text{Sum of reductions}}{\text{Total decline}}$$

where:

sum of reductions is the sum of:

- (a) in the case of the *depreciating asset—the reductions in your deductions for the asset under section 40-25; or
- (b) in the case of the section 73BA depreciating asset—the reductions that would have been required under section 40-25 (including as applied for the purposes of section 73BC of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) on the assumption that when you used the asset either for a taxable purpose or for the purpose of the carrying on by or on behalf of you of research and development activities you used it for a taxable purpose.

total decline is the decline in value of the *depreciating asset or the section 73BA depreciating asset since you started to *hold it.

Note: The CGT concepts of cost base and capital proceeds are not relevant for this event.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-245

---

- (2) You make a capital loss if the *cost of the *depreciating asset or the section 73BA depreciating asset is more than its *termination value. The amount of the *capital loss is:

$$\left[ \text{Cost} - \text{ Termination value} \right] \times \frac{\text{Sum of reductions}}{\text{Total decline}}$$

where:

sum of reductions and total decline have the same meanings as in subsection (1).

- (3) In applying subsection (1) or (2), reduce the *termination value of the *depreciating asset by so much of an amount misappropriated by your employee or *agent (whether by theft, embezzlement, larceny or otherwise) as represents an amount applicable to you under:
- (a) item 8 of the table in subsection 40-300(2); or
  - (b) item 1, 3, 4 or 6 of the table in subsection 40-305(1);
- in relation to the *balancing adjustment event.
- (4) If you later receive an amount as *recoupment of all or part of the amount misappropriated, the amount applicable under subsection (3) is increased by the amount received.
- (5) Section 170 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 does not prevent the amendment of an assessment for the purposes of giving effect to this section for an income year if:
- (a) you discover the misappropriation, or you receive an amount as *recoupment of all or part of the amount misappropriated, after you lodged your *income tax return for the income year; and
  - (b) the amendment is made at any time during the period of 4 years starting immediately after you discover the misappropriation or receive the amount.

104-245 Working out capital gain or loss for CGT event K7: pooled assets

- (1) You make a capital gain if the *depreciating asset's *termination value is more than its *cost. The amount of the *capital gain is:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

$$\left[ \text{*Termination value} - \text{*Cost} \right] \times \left[ 1 - \text{Taxable use fraction} \right]$$

where:

taxable use fraction is the taxable use percentage (expressed as a fraction) that you estimated for the asset when you allocated it to the pool.

Note: The CGT concepts of cost base and capital proceeds are not relevant for this event.

- (2) You make a capital loss if the *depreciating asset's *cost is more than its *termination value. The amount of the *capital loss is:

$$\left[ \text{*Cost} - \text{*Termination value} \right] \times \left[ 1 - \text{Taxable use fraction} \right]$$

where:

taxable use fraction has the same meaning as in subsection (1).

- (3) In applying subsection (1) or (2), reduce the *termination value of the *depreciating asset by so much of an amount misappropriated by your employee or *agent (whether by theft, embezzlement, larceny or otherwise) as represents an amount applicable to you under:
- (a) item 8 of the table in subsection 40-300(2); or
  - (b) item 1, 3, 4 or 6 of the table in subsection 40-305(1);
- in relation to the *balancing adjustment event.
- (4) If you later receive an amount as *recoupment of all or part of the amount misappropriated, the amount applicable under subsection (3) is increased by the amount received.
- (5) Section 170 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 does not prevent the amendment of an assessment for the purposes of giving effect to this section for an income year if:
- (a) you discover the misappropriation, or you receive an amount as *recoupment of all or part of the amount misappropriated, after you lodged your *income tax return for the income year; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) the amendment is made at any time during the period of 4 years starting immediately after you discover the misappropriation or receive the amount.

104-250 Direct value shifts: CGT event K8

- (1) CGT event K8 happens if there is a *taxing event generating a gain for a *down interest under section 725-245.

Note: That section sets out some of the CGT consequences of a direct value shift for affected owners of down interests. See also the rest of Division 725.

- (2) The time of the event is the *decrease time for the *down interest.
- (3) You make a capital gain equal to the gain generated for the taxing event.
- Note: You cannot make a capital loss.
- (4) If, because of the same *direct value shift, there are 2 or more *taxing events generating a gain that are covered by subsection (1), CGT event K8 happens for each of those taxing events, and you make a separate capital gain for each.

Exceptions

- (5) A *capital gain is disregarded if the *down interest is a *pre-CGT asset.

104-255 Carried interests: CGT event K9

- (1) CGT event K9 happens if you become entitled to receive a payment of a *carried interest of a *general partner in a *VCLP, an *ESVCLP or an *AFOF or a *limited partner in a *VCMP.
- (2) The time of the event is the time you become entitled to receive the payment.
- (3) You make a capital gain equal to the *capital proceeds from the *CGT event.

Note: You cannot make a capital loss.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Meaning of carried interest

- (4) The carried interest of a *general partner in a *VCLP, an *ESVCLP or an *AFOF is the partner's entitlement to a distribution from the VCLP, ESVCLP or AFOF, to the extent that the distribution is contingent upon the attainment of profits for the *limited partners in the VCLP, ESVCLP or AFOF.
- (5) The carried interest of a *limited partner in a *VCMP is the partner's entitlement to a distribution from the VCMP, to the extent that the distribution is contingent upon the attainment of profits for the *limited partners in the VCLP, ESVCLP or AFOF in which the VCMP is a *general partner.
- (6) The *carried interest does not include:
  - (a) any part of the partner's entitlement to that distribution that is attributable to a fee (by whatever name called) for the management of the *VCLP, *ESVCLP, *AFOF or *VCMP; or
  - (b) any part of the partner's entitlement to that distribution that is attributable to the partner's *equity interest in the VCLP, ESVCLP, AFOF or VCMP.

Meaning of payment of carried interest

- (7) Payment, of a *carried interest, includes:
  - (a) a payment that is attributable to the carried interest; or
  - (b) the giving of property in satisfaction of the carried interest: see section 103-5; or
  - (c) the giving of property in satisfaction of an entitlement that is attributable to the carried interest: see section 103-5.

104-260 Certain short-term forex realisation gains: CGT event K10

- (1) CGT event K10 happens if:
  - (a) you make a *forex realisation gain as a result of forex realisation event 2; and
  - (b) item 1 of the table in subsection 775-70(1) applies.
- (2) The time of the event is when the forex realisation event happens.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 104-265

---

- (3) You make a capital gain equal to the *forex realisation gain.

Note: You cannot make a capital loss under CGT event K10. However, if you make a forex realisation loss covered by item 1 of the table in subsection 775-75(1), you will make a capital loss under CGT event K11 (see section 104-265).

104-265 Certain short-term forex realisation losses: CGT event K11

- (1) CGT event K11 happens if:
- (a) you make a *forex realisation loss as a result of forex realisation event 2; and
  - (b) item 1 of the table in subsection 775-75(1) applies.
- (2) The time of the event is when the forex realisation event happens.
- (3) You make a capital loss equal to the *forex realisation loss.

Note: You cannot make a capital gain under CGT event K11. However, if you make a forex realisation gain covered by item 1 of the table in subsection 775-70(1), you will make a capital gain under CGT event K10 (see section 104-260).

104-270 Foreign hybrids: CGT event K12

- (1) CGT event K12 happens if, in accordance with paragraph 830-50(2)(b) or (3)(b), you make a *capital loss under this section for an income year.
- (2) The time of the event is just before the end of the income year.
- (3) You make a capital loss equal to the amount applicable under paragraph 830-50(2)(b) or (3)(b).

Subdivision 104-L—Consolidated groups and MEC groups

Table of sections

104-500	Loss of pre-CGT status of membership interests in entity becoming subsidiary member: CGT event L1
104-505	Where pre-formation intra-group roll-over reduction results in negative allocable cost amount: CGT event L2
104-510	Where tax cost setting amounts for retained cost base assets exceeds joining allocable cost amount: CGT event L3

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- 104-515 Where no reset cost base assets and excess of net allocable cost amount on joining: CGT event L4
- 104-520 Where amount remaining after step 4 of leaving allocable cost amount is negative: CGT event L5
- 104-525 Error in calculation of tax cost setting amount for joining entity's assets: CGT event L6
- 104-530 Discharged amount of liability differs from amount for allocable cost amount purposes: CGT event L7
- 104-535 Where reduction in tax cost setting amounts for reset cost base assets cannot be allocated: CGT event L8

104-500 Loss of pre-CGT status of membership interests in entity becoming subsidiary member: CGT event L1

- (1) CGT event L1 happens if, under section 705-57 (including in its application in accordance with Subdivisions 705-B to 705-E), there is a reduction in the *tax cost setting amount of assets of an entity that becomes a *subsidiary member of a *consolidated group or a *MEC group.
- (2) The time of the event is just after the entity becomes a *subsidiary member of the group.
- (3) For the head company core purposes mentioned in subsection 701-1(2), the *head company makes a capital loss equal to the reduction.
- (4) The amount of the capital loss that can be applied to reduce the head company's \*capital gains for the first income year ending after the entity becomes a \*subsidiary member of the group (the first income year) cannot exceed  $\frac{1}{5}$  of the \*capital loss.
- (5) The amount of the *net capital loss from the first income year, to the extent the amount is attributable to the *capital loss (the extent being the event L1 attributable loss), that can be applied to reduce the head company's *capital gains for a later income year cannot exceed the amount worked out for the year using the following table:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 104-505

Limit on applying event L1 attributable loss

Item	For this income year:	The amount of the event L1 attributable loss that can be applied cannot exceed:
1	For the second income year ending after the entity became a *subsidiary member	The difference between: (a) 2/5 of the *capital loss; and (b) the amount of the capital loss that was applied in accordance with subsection (4) for the first income year.
2	For the third income year ending after the entity became a *subsidiary member	The difference between: (a) 3/5 of the *capital loss; and (b) the sum of the amount mentioned in paragraph (b) of item 1 and the amount of the event L1 attributable loss that was applied to reduce the entity's *capital gains for the next income year after the first income year.
3	For the fourth income year ending after the entity became a *subsidiary member	The difference between: (a) 4/5 of the *capital loss; and (b) the sum of the amount mentioned in paragraph (b) of item 1 and the amounts of the event L1 attributable loss that were applied to reduce the entity's *capital gains for earlier income years ending after the first income year.
4	For the fifth income year ending after the entity became a *subsidiary member, or for any later income year	The difference between: (a) the *capital loss; and (b) the sum of the amount mentioned in paragraph (b) of item 1 and the amounts of the event L1 attributable loss that were applied to reduce the entity's *capital gains for earlier income years ending after the first income year.

104-505 Where pre-formation intra-group roll-over reduction results in negative allocable cost amount: CGT event L2

- (1) CGT event L2 happens if:
- (a) an entity becomes a *subsidiary member of a *consolidated group or a *MEC group; and

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) in working out the group's *allocable cost amount for the entity, the amount remaining after applying step 3A of the table in section 705-60 (after any application of section 705-150) is negative.
- (2) The time of the event is just after the entity becomes a *subsidiary member of the group.
- (3) For the head company core purposes mentioned in subsection 701-1(2), the *head company makes a capital gain equal to the amount remaining.

104-510 Where tax cost setting amounts for retained cost base assets exceeds joining allocable cost amount: CGT event L3

- (1) CGT event L3 happens if:
  - (a) an entity becomes a *subsidiary member of a *consolidated group or a *MEC group; and
  - (b) the sum of the *tax cost setting amounts for all *retained cost base assets that are taken into account under paragraph 705-35(1)(b) in working out the tax cost setting amount of each reset cost base asset of the entity exceeds the group's *allocable cost amount for the entity.
- (2) The time of the event is just after the entity becomes a *subsidiary member of the group.
- (3) For the head company core purposes mentioned in subsection 701-1(2), the *head company makes a capital gain equal to the excess.

104-515 Where no reset cost base assets and excess of net allocable cost amount on joining: CGT event L4

- (1) CGT event L4 happens if:
  - (a) an entity becomes a *subsidiary member of a *consolidated group or a *MEC group; and
  - (b) in working out the *tax cost setting amount for assets of the entity in accordance with section 705-35 (including in its application in accordance with Subdivisions 705-B to

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 104-520

---

705-D), there is an amount that results after applying paragraphs 705-35(1)(b) and (c) (including in their application in accordance with those Subdivisions); and

Note: Section 705-35 is about the tax cost setting amount for reset cost base assets.

- (c) it is not possible to allocate, in accordance with the latter paragraph, the amount that results because there are no reset cost base assets of the kind mentioned in that paragraph.
- (2) The time of the event is just after the entity becomes a *subsidiary member of the group.
- (3) For the head company core purposes mentioned in subsection 701-1(2), the *head company makes a capital loss equal to the amount that results.

104-520 Where amount remaining after step 4 of leaving allocable cost amount is negative: CGT event L5

- (1) CGT event L5 happens if:
  - (a) an entity ceases to be a *subsidiary member of a *consolidated group or a *MEC group; and
  - (b) in working out the group's *allocable cost amount for the entity, the amount remaining after applying step 4 of the table in section 711-20 is negative.
- (2) The time of the event is when the entity ceases to be a *subsidiary member of the group.
- (3) For the head company core purposes mentioned in subsection 701-1(2), the *head company makes a capital gain equal to the amount remaining.

104-525 Error in calculation of tax cost setting amount for joining entity's assets: CGT event L6

- (1) CGT event L6 happens if:
  - (a) you are the *head company of a *consolidated group or a *MEC group; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) the conditions in section 705-315 (about errors in tax cost setting amounts) are satisfied for a *subsidiary member of the group; and
  - (c) you have a *net overstated amount or a *net understated amount for the subsidiary member.
- (2) The time of the event is the start of the income year in which the Commissioner becomes aware of the errors.
- (3) You work out whether you have a net overstated amount or net understated amount using this table:

---

Meaning of net overstated amount and *net understated amount

---

Item	In this situation:	There is this result:
1	There are one or more overstated amounts under section 705-315 for the *subsidiary member but no understated amount under that section for the subsidiary member	There is a net overstated amount . It is the overstated amount, or the sum of the overstated amounts.
2	There are one or more understated amounts under section 705-315 for the *subsidiary member but no overstated amount under that section for the subsidiary member	There is a net understated amount . It is the understated amount, or the sum of the understated amounts.
3	There are both one or more overstated amounts and one or more understated amounts under section 705-315 for the *subsidiary member and the sum of the overstated amounts exceeds the sum of the understated amounts	There is a net overstated amount . It is the difference between those sums
4	There are both one or more overstated amounts and one or more understated amounts under section 705-315 for the *subsidiary member and the sum of the overstated amounts is less than the sum of the understated amounts	There is a net understated amount . It is the difference between those sums

- (4) If the time when the Commissioner becomes aware of the errors is within the period within which the Commissioner may amend all of the assessments necessary to correct the errors, then, for the head company core purposes mentioned in subsection 701-1(2):

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) if you have a *net overstated amount—you make a capital gain equal to that amount; or
  - (b) if you have a *net understated amount—you make a capital loss equal to that amount.
- (5) If the time when the Commissioner becomes aware of the errors is not within that period, then, for the head company core purposes mentioned in subsection 701-1(2):
- (a) if you have a *net overstated amount—you make a capital gain of the amount worked out under subsection (6); or
  - (b) if you have a *net understated amount—you make a capital loss of the amount worked out under subsection (6).

- (6) The amount of the *capital gain or *capital loss is worked out as follows:

$$\text{Stated amount} \times \frac{\text{Current asset setting amount}}{\text{Original asset setting amount}}$$

where:

current asset setting amount means the *tax cost setting amount for all assets referred to in subsection 705-315(2) as reset cost base assets that the *head company of the *consolidated group or the *MEC group held continuously from the time when the *subsidiary member joined the group until the start of the head company's income year that is the earliest income year for which the Commissioner could amend the head company's assessment to correct any of the errors.

original asset setting amount means the *tax cost setting amount for all assets referred to in subsection 705-315(2) as reset cost base assets that the *subsidiary member held at the time it joined the group.

stated amount means the *net overstated amount or the *net understated amount, as the case requires.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

104-530 Discharged amount of liability differs from amount for allocable cost amount purposes: CGT event L7

- (1) CGT event L7 happens if you are the *head company of a *consolidated group or a *MEC group and the conditions relating to a liability in subsection (3) are satisfied.
- (2) The time of the event is the start of your income year in which the liability is discharged.
- (3) The conditions are that:
  - (a) a liability of an entity that became a *subsidiary member of the group was taken into account in working out your *allocable cost amount for the subsidiary member in accordance with Division 705 (your ACA); and
  - (b) the liability was later discharged (whether by the making of a payment or by the release, waiver or other extinguishment of the liability) and the sum (the realised amount) of:
    - (i) the amount of any payment made to discharge the liability; and
    - (ii) the *market value of any other consideration given to discharge the liability;differs from the amount for the liability that was taken into account in working out your ACA; and
  - (c) that ACA is different to what it would have been (your true ACA) if you had taken the realised amount into account in working out your ACA.
- (4) You make a capital gain for the head company core purposes mentioned in subsection 701-1(2) if your ACA would have been smaller had you used the realised amount in working out your ACA. The amount of the gain is the difference between the amount you worked out and your true ACA.
- (5) You make a capital loss for the head company core purposes mentioned in subsection 701-1(2) if your ACA would have been greater had you used the realised amount in working out your ACA. The amount of the loss is the difference between the amount you worked out and your true ACA.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

104-535 Where reduction in tax cost setting amounts for reset cost base assets cannot be allocated: CGT event L8

- (1) CGT event L8 happens if:
  - (a) an entity becomes a *subsidiary member of a *consolidated group or a *MEC group; and
  - (b) the *tax cost setting amount for a reset cost base asset of the entity is reduced under subsection 705-40(1) (including in its application in accordance with Subdivisions 705-B to 705-D); and
  - (c) some or all (the unallocated amount) of the reduction cannot be allocated as mentioned in subsection 705-40(2).
- (2) The time of the event is just after the entity becomes a *subsidiary member of the group.
- (3) For the head company core purposes mentioned in subsection 701-1(2), the *head company makes a capital loss equal to the unallocated amount.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 106—Entity making the gain or loss

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 106
106-A	Partnerships
106-B	Bankruptcy and liquidation
106-C	Absolutely entitled beneficiaries
106-D	Security holders

Guide to Division 106

106-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out the cases where a capital gain or loss is made by someone other than the entity to which a CGT event happens.

The entities affected are:

- partnerships (Subdivision 106-A);
- bankruptcy trustees and company liquidators (Subdivision 106-B);
- trustees where there is an absolutely entitled beneficiary (Subdivision 106-C);
- security holders (Subdivision 106-D).

Subdivision 106-A—Partnerships

106-5 Partnerships

- (1) Any *capital gain or *capital loss from a *CGT event happening in relation to a partnership or one of its *CGT assets is made by the partners individually.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 106-5

---

Each partner's gain or loss is calculated by reference to the partnership agreement, or partnership law if there is no agreement.

Example 1: A partnership creates contractual rights in another entity (CGT event D1). Each partner's capital gain or loss is calculated by allocating an appropriate share of the capital proceeds from the event and the incidental costs that relate to the event (according to the partnership agreement, or partnership law if there is no agreement).

Example 2: Helen and Clare set up a business in partnership. Helen contributes a block of land to the partnership capital. Their partnership agreement recognises that Helen has a 75% interest in the land and Clare 25%. The agreement is silent as to their interests in other assets and profit sharing.

When the land is sold, Helen's capital gain or loss will be determined on the basis of her 75% interest. For other partnership assets, Helen's gain or loss will be determined on the basis of her 50% interest (under the relevant Partnership Act).

- (2) Each partner has a separate *cost base and *reduced cost base for the partner's interest in each *CGT asset of the partnership.
- (3) If a partner leaves a partnership, a remaining partner *acquires a separate *CGT asset to the extent that the remaining partner acquires a share of the departing partner's interest in a partnership asset.

Note: The remaining partners would not be affected if the departing partner sells its interests to an entity that was not a partner.

Example: (Indexation is ignored for the purpose of this example).

John, Wil and Patricia form a partnership (in equal shares).

John contributes a building (which is a pre-20 September 1985 asset) having a market value of $200,000. Wil and Patricia contribute $200,000 each in cash.

The partnership buys another asset for $400,000.

John is taken to have disposed of  $\frac{2}{3}$  of his interest in the building ( $\frac{1}{3}$  to Wil and  $\frac{1}{3}$  to Patricia). His remaining  $\frac{1}{3}$  share in the building remains a pre-CGT asset. The  $\frac{1}{3}$  shares that Wil and Patricia acquire are post-CGT assets.

Wil retires from the partnership when the partnership assets have a market value of $1,200,000 ($500,000 for the building and $700,000 for the other asset). John and Patricia pay Wil $400,000 for his interest in the partnership.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Wil has a capital gain of \$100,000 on the building and \$100,000 on the other asset. John and Patricia each acquire an additional  $\frac{1}{6}$  interest in the partnership assets. These additional interests are separate assets and post-CGT assets.

- (4) If a new partner is admitted to a partnership:
- (a) the new partner *acquires a share (according to the partnership agreement, or partnership law if there is no agreement) of each partnership asset; and
  - (b) the existing partners are treated as having *disposed of part of their interest in each partnership asset to the extent that the new partner has acquired it.

Example: (Indexation is ignored for the purpose of this example).

Lyn and Barry form a partnership, each contributing $15,000 to its capital. The partnership buys land for $30,000.

The land increases in value to $300,000.

Andrew is admitted as an equal partner, paying Lyn and Barry \$50,000 each to acquire a  $\frac{1}{3}$  share in the land. His cost base is \$100,000.

Lyn and Barry have each disposed of  $\frac{1}{3}$  of their interest in the land. Each has a cost base for that interest of \$5,000, and capital proceeds of \$50,000, leaving them with a capital gain of \$45,000 each on Andrew's admission to the partnership.

The land is sold for its market value.

Andrew has no capital gain on the land.

Lyn and Barry have disposed of their remaining  $\frac{2}{3}$  original interest in the land for capital proceeds of \$100,000, leaving each of them with a capital gain of:

$$$100,000 - \left( $15,000 - $5,000 \right) = $90,000$$

Subdivision 106-B—Bankruptcy and liquidation

Table of sections

106-30	Effect of bankruptcy
106-35	Effect of liquidation

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 106-30

---

106-30 Effect of bankruptcy

- (1) For the purposes of this Part and Part 3-3, the vesting of the individual's *CGT assets in the trustee under the Bankruptcy Act 1966 or under a similar foreign law is ignored.
- (2) This Part and Part 3-3 apply to an act done in relation to a *CGT asset of an individual in these circumstances as if it had been done by the individual:
  - (a) as a result of the bankruptcy of the individual by the Official Trustee in Bankruptcy or a registered trustee, or the holder of a similar office under a *foreign law;
  - (b) by a trustee under a personal insolvency agreement made under Part X of the Bankruptcy Act 1966, or under a similar instrument under a foreign law;
  - (c) by a trustee as a result of an arrangement with creditors under that Act or a foreign law.

106-35 Effect of liquidation

This Part and Part 3-3 apply to an act done by a liquidator of a company, or the holder of a similar office under a *foreign law, as if the act had been done instead by the company.

Example: Ben, a liquidator of a company, sells a CGT asset of the company. Any capital gain or loss is made by the company, not by Ben.

Subdivision 106-C—Absolutely entitled beneficiaries

106-50 Absolutely entitled beneficiaries

If you are absolutely entitled to a *CGT asset as against the trustee of a trust (disregarding any legal disability), this Part and Part 3-3 apply to an act done by the trustee in relation to the asset as if you had done it.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Subdivision 106-D—Security holders

106-60 Acts by security holders

This Part and Part 3-3 apply to an act done by an entity (or an *agent of the entity) in relation to a *CGT asset for the purpose of enforcing or giving effect to a security, charge or encumbrance the entity holds over the asset as if the act had been done instead by the person who provided the security.

Example: A lender sells property under a power of sale after the failure of the owner of the property to make payments on the loan. Any capital gain or loss is made by the owner of the property, not the lender.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 108—CGT assets

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 108
108-A	What a CGT asset is
108-B	Collectables
108-C	Personal use assets
108-D	Separate CGT assets

Guide to Division 108

108-1 What this Division is about

This Division defines the various categories of assets that are relevant to working out your capital gains and losses. They are CGT assets, collectables and personal use assets.

It also tells you how capital losses from collectables and personal use assets are relevant to working out your net capital gain or loss.

It also sets out when land, buildings and capital improvements are taken to be separate CGT assets.

Subdivision 108-A—What a CGT asset is

Table of sections

108-5	CGT assets
108-7	Interest in CGT assets as joint tenants

108-5 CGT assets

- (1) A CGT asset is:
- (a) any kind of property; or
  - (b) a legal or equitable right that is not property.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(2) To avoid doubt, these are CGT assets:

- (a) part of, or an interest in, an asset referred to in subsection (1);
- (b) goodwill or an interest in it;
- (c) an interest in an asset of a partnership;
- (d) an interest in a partnership that is not covered by paragraph (c).

Note 1: Examples of CGT assets are:

- land and buildings;
- shares in a company and units in a unit trust;
- options;
- debts owed to you;
- a right to enforce a contractual obligation;
- foreign currency.

Note 2: An asset is not a CGT asset if the asset was last acquired before 26 June 1992 and was not an asset for the purposes of former Part IIIA of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936: see section 108-5 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

108-7 Interest in CGT assets as joint tenants

Individuals who own a *CGT asset as joint tenants are treated as if they each owned a separate CGT asset constituted by an equal interest in the asset and as if each of them held that interest as a tenant in common.

Note: Section 128-50 contains rules that apply when a joint tenant dies.

Subdivision 108-B—Collectables

Table of sections

108-10	Losses from collectables to be offset only against gains from collectables
108-15	Sets of collectables
108-17	Cost base of a collectable

108-10 Losses from collectables to be offset only against gains from collectables

- (1) In working out your *net capital gain or *net capital loss for the income year, *capital losses from *collectables can be used only to reduce *capital gains from collectables.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 108-15

---

Note: You choose the order in which you reduce your capital gains from collectables by your capital losses from collectables.

Example: Your capital gains from collectables total $200 and your capital losses from collectables total $400. You have other capital gains of $500. You have a net capital gain of $500 and a net capital loss from collectables of $200.

The losses from collectables cannot be used to reduce the $500 capital gain.

(2) A collectable is:

- (a) *artwork, jewellery, an antique, or a coin or medallion; or
- (b) a rare folio, manuscript or book; or
- (c) a postage stamp or first day cover;

that is used or kept mainly for your (or your *associate's) personal use or enjoyment.

(3) These are also collectables:

- (a) an interest in any of the things covered by subsection (2); or
- (b) a debt that arises from any of those things; or
- (c) an option or right to *acquire any of those things.

Note: Collectables acquired for $500 or less are exempt. However, you get an exemption for an interest in one only if the market value of all the interests combined is $500 or less: see Subdivision 118-A.

(4) If some or all of a *capital loss from a *collectable cannot be applied in an income year, the unapplied amount can be applied in the next income year for which your *capital gains from *collectables exceed your *capital losses (if any) from collectables.

Example: You have a capital gain from a collectable for the income year of $200 and a capital loss from another collectable of $600.

Your capital loss from one collectable reduces your capital gain from the other to zero. You cannot apply the remaining $400 of the capital loss in this income year, but you can apply it in a later income year.

(5) If you have 2 or more unapplied *net capital losses from *collectables, you must apply them in the order you made them.

108-15 Sets of collectables

(1) This section sets out what happens if:

- (a) you own *collectables that are a set; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) they would ordinarily be *disposed of as a set; and
- (c) you dispose of them in one or more transactions for the purpose of trying to obtain the exemption in section 118-10.

Example: You buy a set of 3 books for $900. You apportion the $900 among each book: see section 112-30. If the books are of equal value, you have acquired each one for $300.

If you dispose of each book individually, you would ordinarily obtain the exemption in section 118-10, because you acquired each one for less than $500.

- (2) The set of *collectables is taken to be a single *collectable and each of your *disposals is a disposal of part of that collectable.

Example: To continue the example, the 3 books are taken to be a single collectable. You will not obtain the exemption in section 118-10, because you acquired the set for more than $500.

You work out if you make a capital gain or loss from a disposal of part of an asset by comparing the capital proceeds from it with the cost base or reduced cost base (as appropriate) of the disposed part.

Note 1: Section 112-30 tells you how to apportion the cost base and reduced cost base of a CGT asset on a disposal of part of an asset.

Note 2: This section does not apply to a collectable you last acquired before 16 December 1995: see section 108-15 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

108-17 Cost base of a collectable

In working out the *cost base of a *collectable, disregard the third element (about costs of ownership).

Subdivision 108-C—Personal use assets

Table of sections

108-20	Losses from personal use assets must be disregarded
108-25	Sets of personal use assets
108-30	Cost base of a personal use asset

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

108-20 Losses from personal use assets must be disregarded

- (1) In working out your *net capital gain or *net capital loss for the income year, any *capital loss you make from a *personal use asset is disregarded.
- (2) A personal use asset is:
  - (a) a *CGT asset (except a *collectable) that is used or kept mainly for your (or your *associate's) personal use or enjoyment; or
  - (b) an option or right to *acquire a *CGT asset of that kind; or
  - (c) a debt arising from a *CGT event in which the *CGT asset the subject of the event was one covered by paragraph (a); or
  - (d) a debt arising other than:
    - (i) in the course of gaining or producing your assessable income; or
    - (ii) from your carrying on a *business.

Note 1: There is an exemption for a personal use asset you acquire for $10,000 or less: see section 118-10.

Note 2: A debt arising from a CGT event involving a CGT asset kept mainly for your personal use and enjoyment is a personal use asset to prevent any loss arising from the debt being a normal capital loss.

- (3) A personal use asset does not include land, a *stratum unit or a building or structure that is taken to be a separate *CGT asset because of Subdivision 108-D.

108-25 Sets of personal use assets

- (1) This section sets out what happens if:
  - (a) you own *personal use assets that are a set; and
  - (b) they would ordinarily be *disposed of as a set; and
  - (c) you dispose of them in one or more transactions for the purpose of trying to obtain the exemption in section 118-10.
- (2) The set of *personal use assets is taken to be a single *personal use asset and each of your *disposals is a disposal of part of that asset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

108-30 Cost base of a personal use asset

In working out the *cost base of a *personal use asset, disregard the third element (about the costs of ownership).

Subdivision 108-D—Separate CGT assets

Guide to Subdivision 108-D

108-50 What this Subdivision is about

For CGT purposes, there are:

- exceptions to the common law principle that what is attached to the land is part of the land; and
- special rules about buildings and adjacent land; and
- rules about when a capital improvement to a CGT asset is treated as a separate CGT asset.

Note: In addition to the circumstances set out in this Subdivision, separate asset treatment can apply under section 124-595 (about a roll-over for a Crown lease), section 124-725 (about a roll-over for a prospecting or mining entitlement) and sections 124-895, 124-915 and 124-920 (about roll-overs for FSR transitions).

Table of sections

Operative provisions

108-55	When is a building a separate asset from land?
108-60	Depreciating asset that is part of a building is a separate asset
108-65	Land adjacent to land acquired before 20 September 1985
108-70	When is a capital improvement a separate asset?
108-75	Capital improvements to CGT assets for which a roll-over may be available
108-80	Deciding if capital improvements are related to each other
108-85	Meaning of improvement threshold

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Operative provisions

108-55 When is a building a separate asset from land?

- (1) A building or structure on land that you *acquired on or after 20 September 1985 is taken to be a separate *CGT asset from the land if one of these balancing adjustment provisions applies to the building or structure (whether or not there is a balancing adjustment):
- (a) for *depreciating assets—Subdivision 40-D; or
  - (b) for research and development—section 73B, 73BF or 73BM of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Example: You construct a timber mill building on land you own. The building is subject to a balancing adjustment on its disposal, loss or destruction. It is taken to be a separate CGT asset from the land.

- (2) A building or structure that is constructed on land that you *acquired before 20 September 1985 is taken to be a separate *CGT asset from the land if:
- (a) you entered into a contract for the construction on or after that day; or
  - (b) if there is no contract—the construction started on or after that day.

Example: You bought a block of land with a building on it on 10 August 1984. On 1 December 1999 you construct another building on the land. The other building is taken to be a separate CGT asset from the land.

108-60 Depreciating asset that is part of a building is a separate asset

A *depreciating asset that is part of a building or structure is taken to be a separate *CGT asset from the building or structure.

Example: You own a factory from which you carry on a business. You install rest rooms for your employees. The plumbing fixtures and fittings are depreciating assets. These are taken to be a separate CGT asset from the factory.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

108-65 Land adjacent to land acquired before 20 September 1985

Land that you *acquire on or after 20 September 1985 that is adjacent to land (the original land) you acquired before that day is taken to be a separate *CGT asset from the original land if it and the original land are amalgamated into one title.

Example: On 1 April 1984 you bought a block of land. On 1 June 1999 you bought another block of land adjacent to the first block. You amalgamate the titles to the 2 blocks into 1 title.

The second block is treated as a separate CGT asset. You can make a capital gain or loss from it if you sell the whole area of land.

108-70 When is a capital improvement a separate asset?

Improvements to land

- (1) A capital improvement to land is taken to be a separate *CGT asset from the land if one of the balancing adjustment provisions set out in subsection 108-55(1) applies to the improvement (whether or not there is a balancing adjustment).

Example: You own land that you use for pastoral operations. You build some fences that are destroyed by fire. The fences are depreciating assets and are subject to a balancing adjustment on their destruction under Division 40. The fences are taken to be a separate CGT asset from the land.

Unrelated improvements to pre-CGT assets

- (2) A capital improvement to a *CGT asset (the original asset) that you *acquired before 20 September 1985 (that is not related to any other capital improvement to the asset) is taken to be a separate *CGT asset if its *cost base (assuming it were a separate CGT asset) when a CGT event happens (except one that happens because of your death) in relation to the original asset is:
  - (a) more than the *improvement threshold for the income year in which the event happened; and
  - (b) more than 5% of the *capital proceeds from the event.

Example: In 1983 you bought a boat. In 1999 you install a new mast (a capital improvement) for $30,000. Later, you sell the boat for $150,000.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 108-70

---

If the cost base of the improvement in the sale year is $41,000 and the improvement threshold for that year is $96,000, the improvement will not be treated as a separate asset.

Note 1: Section 108-80 sets out the factors for deciding whether capital improvements are related to each other.

Note 2: If the improvement is a separate asset, the capital proceeds from the event must be apportioned between the original asset and the improvement: see section 116-40.

Related improvements to pre-CGT assets

- (3) Capital improvements to a *CGT asset (the original asset) that you *acquired before 20 September 1985 that are related to each other are taken to be a separate *CGT asset if the total of their *cost bases (assuming each one were a separate CGT asset) when a *CGT event happens in relation to the original asset is:
- (a) more than the *improvement threshold for the income year in which the event happened; and
  - (b) more than 5% of the *capital proceeds from the event.

Note: If the improvements are a separate asset, the capital proceeds from the event must be apportioned between the original asset and the improvements: see section 116-40.

Some improvements not relevant

- (4) This section does not apply to a capital improvement:
- (a) that took place under a contract that you entered into before 20 September 1985; or
  - (b) if there is no contract—that started or occurred before that day.
- (5) Subsections (2) and (3) do not apply if the capital improvement is made to:
- (a) a *Crown lease; or
  - (b) a *prospecting entitlement or *mining entitlement; or
  - (c) a *statutory licence; or
  - (d) a *depreciating asset to which Subdivision 124-K applies.

Note: Section 108-75 deals with this situation.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (6) This section does not apply to a capital improvement consisting of repairs to or restoration of a *CGT asset *acquired before 20 September 1985 in circumstances where there is a roll-over under Subdivision 124-B.

108-75 Capital improvements to CGT assets for which a roll-over may be available

- (1) This section is relevant only if a *CGT event happens in relation to a *CGT asset that is:
- (a) a *Crown lease; or
  - (b) a *prospecting entitlement or *mining entitlement; or
  - (c) a *statutory licence; or
  - (d) a *depreciating asset to which Subdivision 124-K applies.

You must have *acquired it before 20 September 1985.

Note: Division 124 treats you as having acquired a CGT asset before that day in some situations.

- (2) There are possible consequences if there has been one or more capital improvements to:
- (a) the *CGT asset the subject of the *CGT event; or
  - (b) any *CGT assets of the same kind that were in existence before the CGT asset and came to an end where a roll-over was obtained under a provision set out in this table:

Roll-over provisions
Item	For this CGT asset:	Roll-over is obtained under this provision:
1	A *Crown lease	Subdivision 124-J
2	A prospecting or mining entitlement	Subdivision 124-L
3	A *statutory licence	Subdivision 124-C or 124-O
4	A *depreciating asset	Subdivision 124-K

Note: Roll-overs under former sections 160ZWA, 160ZZF, 160ZZPE and 160ZWC of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 are also relevant: see section 108-75 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 108-75

---

Example: In 1984 you acquired a commercial fishing licence. In 1986 you paid $62,000 to get an extra right (a capital improvement) attached to the licence.

In June 1999 the licence expired and you got a new licence. You obtained a roll-over for the old licence expiring. In April 2000 you sold the new fishing licence for $200,000.

- (3) Any capital improvement that is not related to another capital improvement is taken to be a separate *CGT asset if its *cost base (assuming it were a separate CGT asset) when the *CGT event happens is:
- (a) more than the *improvement threshold for the income year in which the event happened; and
  - (b) more than 5% of the *capital proceeds from the event.

Example: To continue the example, suppose the cost base of the right is $101,000 and the improvement threshold for the 1999-2000 income year is $96,000.

Since the cost base of the right is more than the improvement threshold and more than 5% of the capital proceeds, the right is taken to be a separate CGT asset.

Note 1: Section 108-80 sets out the factors for deciding whether capital improvements are related to each other.

Note 2: If the improvement is a separate asset, the capital proceeds from the event must be apportioned between the asset and the improvement: see section 116-40.

- (4) Any capital improvements that are related to each other are taken to be a separate *CGT asset if the total of their *cost bases (assuming each one were a separate CGT asset) when the *CGT event happens is:
- (a) more than the *improvement threshold for the income year in which the event happened; and
  - (b) more than 5% of the *capital proceeds from the event.

Note: If the improvements are a separate asset, the capital proceeds from the event must be apportioned between the asset and the improvements: see section 116-40.

- (5) This section does not apply to any capital improvement:
- (a) that took place under a contract that you entered into before 20 September 1985; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) if there is no contract—that started or occurred before that day.

108-80 Deciding if capital improvements are related to each other

In deciding whether capital improvements are related to each other, the factors to be considered include:

- (a) the nature of the *CGT asset to which the improvements are made; and
- (b) the nature, location, size, value, quality, composition and utility of each improvement; and
- (c) whether an improvement depends in a physical, economic, commercial or practical sense on another improvement; and
- (d) whether the improvements are part of an overall project; and
- (e) whether the improvements are of the same kind; and
- (f) whether the improvements are made within a reasonable period of time of each other.

108-85 Meaning of improvement threshold

- (1) The improvement threshold for the 1997-98 income year is $89,992.
- (2) The *improvement threshold is indexed annually.
Note: Subdivision 960-M shows you how to index amounts.
- (3) The Commissioner must publish before the beginning of each *financial year the *improvement threshold for that year.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 109—Acquisition of CGT assets

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 109
109-A	Operative rules
109-B	Signposts to other acquisition rules

Guide to Division 109

109-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out the ways in which you can acquire a CGT asset and the time of acquisition.

The time of acquisition is important for indexation, and for the exemption of assets acquired before 20 September 1985.

Generally, you acquire a CGT asset when you become its owner. You can also acquire a CGT asset:

- as a result of a CGT event happening: see section 109-5; or
- in other circumstances: see section 109-10.

This Division also directs you to special acquisition rules in other Divisions.

Subdivision 109-A—Operative rules

Table of sections

109-5	General acquisition rules
109-10	When you acquire a CGT asset without a CGT event
109-15	Exceptions

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

109-5 General acquisition rules

- (1) In general, you acquire a *CGT asset when you become its owner. In this case, the time when you *acquire the asset is when you become its owner.
- (2) This table sets out specific rules for the circumstances in which, and the time at which, you acquire a *CGT asset as a result of a *CGT event happening.

Note: The full list of CGT events is in section 104-5.

Acquisition rules (CGT events)
Event Number	In these circumstances:	You acquire the asset at this time:
A1 (case 1)	An entity *disposes of a CGT asset to you (except where you compulsorily acquire it)	when the disposal contract is entered into or, if none, when the entity stops being the asset's owner
A1 (case 2)	You compulsorily acquire a *CGT asset from another entity	the earliest of: (a) when you paid compensation to the entity; or (b) when you became the asset's owner; or (c) when you entered the asset under the power of compulsory acquisition; or (d) when you took possession of it under that power
B1	You enter into an agreement to obtain the use and enjoyment of a *CGT asset	when you first obtain the use and enjoyment of the asset (unless title does not pass to you at or before the end of the agreement)
D1	An entity creates contractual or other rights in you	when the contract is entered into or the right created
D2	An entity grants an option to you	when the option is granted
D3	An entity grants you a right to receive *ordinary income from mining	when the contract is entered into or, if none, when the right is granted

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 109-5

Acquisition rules (CGT events)
Event Number	In these circumstances:	You acquire the asset at this time:
D4	You enter into a * conservation covenant as a covenantee	when the covenant is entered into
E1	An entity creates a trust over a *CGT asset and you are the trustee	when the trust is created
E2	An entity transfers a *CGT asset to a trust and you are the trustee	when the asset is transferred
E3	A trust over a *CGT asset is converted to a unit trust and you are the trustee	when the trust is converted
E5	You as beneficiary under a trust become absolutely entitled to a *CGT asset of the trust as against the trustee (disregarding any legal disability)	when you become absolutely entitled
E6	Trustee *disposes of a *CGT asset of the trust to you to satisfy a right you had to receive *ordinary income from the trust	when the *disposal occurs
E7	Trustee *disposes of a *CGT asset of the trust to you to satisfy your interest, or part of it, in trust capital	when the *disposal occurs
E8	Beneficiary under a trust *disposes of its interest, or part of it, in trust capital to you	when disposal contract is entered into or, if none, when beneficiary stops being interest's owner
E9	An entity creates a trust over future property and you are the trustee	when the entity makes the agreement to create the trust
F1	A lessor grants a lease to you, or renews or extends a lease	for grant of lease—when the contract is entered into or, if none, at the start of lease; for lease renewal or extension—at the start of renewal or extension

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Acquisition rules (CGT events)

---

Event Number	In these circumstances:	You acquire the asset at this time:
F2	A lessor grants a lease to you, or renews or extends a lease, and term is at least 50 years	for grant of lease—when lessor grants the lease; for lease renewal or extension—at the start of renewal or extension
K3	An individual dies and a *CGT asset of the individual *passes to you (as a tax advantaged entity)	when the individual dies
K6	A *CGT event happens to *shares or an interest in a trust you own	when the other CGT event happens

Note 1: For CGT events E1, E2 and E3, if the circumstances specified in the second column of the table happened to an asset before 12 January 1994, there may be no acquisition: see section 109-5 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

Note 2: The acquisition rule for CGT event E9 in the table does not apply to you as trustee if the agreement to create the trust was made before 12 noon on 12 January 1994: see section 109-5 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

109-10 When you acquire a CGT asset without a CGT event

This table sets out some specific rules for the circumstances in which, and the time at which, you acquire a *CGT asset otherwise than as a result of a *CGT event happening.

---

Acquisition rules (no CGT event)

---

Item	In these circumstances	You acquire the asset at this time:
1	You (or your *agent) construct or create a *CGT asset, and you own it when the construction is finished or the asset is created	when the construction, or work that resulted in the creation, started
2	A company issues or allots *equity interests or *non-equity shares in the company to you	when contract is entered into or, if none, when equity interests or non-equity shares issued or allotted
3	A trustee of a unit trust issues units in the trust to you	when contract is entered into or, if none, when units issued

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 109-15

---

109-15 Exceptions

You do not acquire a *CGT asset if the asset was *disposed of:

- (a) to provide or redeem a security; or
- (b) because of the vesting of the asset in a trustee under the Bankruptcy Act 1966 or under a similar *foreign law; or
- (c) because of the vesting of the asset in a liquidator of a company, or the holder of a similar office under a foreign law.

Subdivision 109-B—Signposts to other acquisition rules

Table of sections

109-50	Effect of this Subdivision
109-55	Other acquisition rules
109-60	Acquisition rules outside this Part and Part 3-3

109-50 Effect of this Subdivision

This Subdivision is a *Guide.

109-55 Other acquisition rules

This table sets out other acquisition rules in this Part and Part 3-3. Some of the rules have effect only for limited purposes.

---

Other acquisition rules
Item	In these circumstances	You acquire the asset at this time:	See:
1	A CGT asset devolves to you as legal personal representative of a deceased individual	when the individual died	section 128-15
2	A CGT asset passes to you as beneficiary in the estate of a deceased individual	when the individual died	sections 128-15 and 128-25

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Other acquisition rules

---

Item	In these circumstances	You acquire the asset at this time:	See:
3	A surviving joint tenant acquires deceased joint tenant's interest in a CGT asset	when the deceased died	section 128-50
4	You get only a partial exemption under Subdivision 118-B for a CGT event happening to a CGT asset that is a dwelling, but you would have got a full exemption if the CGT event had happened just before the first time the dwelling was used for that purpose	at that time	section 118-192
5	The trustee of a deceased estate acquires a dwelling under the deceased's will for you to occupy, and you obtain an interest in it	when the trustee acquired it	section 118-210
6	You obtain a replacement-asset roll-over for replacing an asset you acquired before 20 September 1985	before 20 September 1985	Divisions 122 and 124
6A	A new owner obtains a replacement-asset roll-over for replacing an asset that the original owner acquired before 20 September 1985	before 20 September 1985	sections 124-915 and 124-920

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 109 Acquisition of CGT assets

Section 109-55

---

---

Other acquisition rules

---

Item	In these circumstances	You acquire the asset at this time:	See:
7	You obtain a replacement-asset roll-over for a Crown lease, or a prospecting or mining entitlement that is renewed or replaced and part of the new entitlement relates to a part of the old one that you acquired before 20 September 1985	before 20 September 1985 (for that part of the new entitlement that relates to the pre-CGT part of the old one)	sections 124-595 and 124-725
7A	You obtain a replacement-asset roll-over in relation to an FSR transition and a replacement asset or part of a replacement asset relates to an original asset that you acquired before 20 September 1985	before 20 September 1985 (for that replacement asset or that part of a replacement asset that relates to a pre-CGT original asset)	section 124-895
7B	A new owner obtains a replacement-asset roll-over in relation to an FSR transition and a replacement asset or part of a replacement asset relates to an original asset that the original owner acquired before 20 September 1985	before 20 September 1985 (for that replacement asset or that part of a replacement asset that relates to a pre-CGT original asset)	sections 124-915 and 124-920
8	You obtain a same-asset roll-over for a CGT asset the transferor acquired before 20 September 1985	before 20 September 1985	Subdivision 124-N and Divisions 122 and 126

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Other acquisition rules

---

Item	In these circumstances	You acquire the asset at this time:	See:
8A	There is a same-asset roll-over for a CGT event that happens to a CGT asset (acquired on or after 20 September 1985) because the trust deed of a fund is changed and you are the fund that owns the asset after the CGT event	at the time of the CGT event	Subdivision 126-C
8B	There is a same-asset roll-over for a CGT event that happens to a CGT asset	when the entity that owned the asset before the roll-over acquired it	section 115-30
8C	You obtain a replacement-asset roll-over for replacing a CGT asset	when you acquired the original asset involved in the roll-over	section 115-30
8D	A CGT asset devolves to you as legal personal representative of a deceased individual	when the deceased acquired the asset (unless it was a pre-CGT asset just before his or her death)	section 115-30
8E	A CGT asset passes to you as beneficiary in the estate of a deceased individual	when the deceased acquired the asset (unless it was a pre-CGT asset just before his or her death)	section 115-30
8F	A surviving joint tenant acquires a deceased joint tenant's interest in a CGT asset	when the deceased acquired the interest	section 115-30

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 109 Acquisition of CGT assets

Section 109-55

---

---

Other acquisition rules

---

Item	In these circumstances	You acquire the asset at this time:	See:
9	A company or trustee of a unit trust issues you with bonus equities and no amount is included in your assessable income	if the original equities are post-CGT assets, or are pre-CGT assets and fully paid—when you acquired the original equities; or if the original equities are pre-CGT assets and you had to pay an amount for the bonus equities—when the liability to pay arose	section 130-20
10	You own shares in a company or units in a unit trust and you exercise rights to acquire new equities in the company or trust	for the rights if you acquired them from the company or trustee—when you acquired the original equities; or for the new equities—when you exercise the rights	section 130-40
11	You acquire shares in a company or units in a unit trust by converting a convertible interest	when the conversion of the convertible interest happened	section 130-60
11A	You acquire shares in a company in exchange for the disposal of an exchangeable interest, and the disposal of the exchangeable interest was to: (a) the issuer of the exchangeable interest; or (b) a connected entity of the issuer of the exchangeable interest	when the disposal of the exchangeable interest happened	section 130-105

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Other acquisition rules

---

Item	In these circumstances	You acquire the asset at this time:	See:
11B	You acquire shares in a company in exchange for the redemption of an exchangeable interest	when the redemption of the exchangeable interest happened	section 130-105
12	You acquire a share or right under an employee share scheme from an employee share trust	at the time you first acquired a beneficial interest in the share or right	section 115-30
13	You (as a lessee of land) acquire the reversionary interest of the lessor and there is no roll-over for the acquisition	if term of lease was for 99 years or more—when the lease was granted or assigned to you; or if term of lease less than 99 years—when the reversionary interest acquired	section 132-15
14	You acquired a CGT asset before 20 September 1985, and there has since been a change in the majority underlying interests in the asset	at the time of the change	Division 149
15	You become an Australian resident (but not a temporary resident) and you owned a CGT asset that you acquired on or after 20 September 1985 and that was not *taxable Australian property	when you become an Australian resident (but not a temporary resident)	section 855-45

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 109-60

---

Other acquisition rules

---

Item	In these circumstances	You acquire the asset at this time:	See:
15A	You are a temporary resident, you then cease to be a temporary resident (but remain, at that time, an Australian resident) and you owned a CGT asset that you acquired on or after 20 September 1985 and that was not *taxable Australian property	when you cease to be a temporary resident	section 768-955
16	A trust of which you are trustee becomes a resident trust for CGT purposes and you owned a CGT asset that you acquired on or after 20 September 1985 and that was not *taxable Australian property	when the trust becomes a resident trust for CGT purposes	section 855-50
17	There is a roll-over under Subdivision 126-B for a CGT event and you are the company owning the roll-over asset just after the roll-over and you stop being a 100% subsidiary of another company in the wholly-owned group	when you stop	section 104-175

---

109-60 Acquisition rules outside this Part and Part 3-3

This table sets out other acquisition rules outside this Part and Part 3-3.

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 are in bold.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Other acquisition rules
Item	In these circumstances:	The asset is acquired at this time:	See:
1	CGT event happens to Cocos (Keeling) Islands asset	30 June 1991	section 24P
2	Lender acquires a replacement security	before 20 September 1985	subsection 26BC(6A)
3	Trust ceases to be a resident trust for CGT purposes and there is an attributable taxpayer	when it ceases	section 102AAZBA
4	CGT event happens to CGT asset in connection with the demutualisation of an insurance company	on the demutualisation resolution day	section 121AS
5	CGT event happens to assets of NSW State Bank	at the first taxing time	section 121EN
6	You own shares in a company that stops being a PDF	just after it stops	section 124ZR
7	You acquire a number of shares that results in you obtaining a 10% (threshold) interest in a SME	when you obtained the threshold interest	section 128TI
8	A CGT asset of a CFC (that it owned on its commencing day)	on the CFC's commencing day	section 411
9	A CGT asset is owned by a tax exempt entity and it becomes taxable	at the transition time	section 57-25 of Schedule 2D
10	CGT event happens to CGT asset in connection with the demutualisation of a mutual entity other than an insurance company or health insurer	on the demutualisation resolution day	Division 326 of Schedule 2H
11	You stop holding an item as trading stock	when you stop	paragraph 70-110(b)

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules
Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics
Division 109 Acquisition of CGT assets

Section 109-60

Other acquisition rules
Item	In these circumstances:	The asset is acquired at this time:	See:
12	CGT event happens to 30 June 1988 asset of complying superannuation fund, complying approved deposit fund or pooled superannuation trust	30 June 1988	section 295-90
13	You are issued with a share or right under a demutualisation of a health insurer	the time the share or right is issued	sections 315-80, 315-210 and 315-260
14	You are transferred a share or right by a lost policy holders trust under a demutualisation of a health insurer	the time the share or right is issued	sections 315-145, 315-210 and 315-260
15	A CGT asset is transferred to or from a life insurance company's complying superannuation/FHSA asset pool	at the time of the transfer	Division 320
16	A CGT asset is transferred to or from the segregated exempt assets of a life insurance company	at the time of the transfer	Division 320
17	Entity becomes a subsidiary member of a consolidated group	at the time it becomes a subsidiary member	701-5
18	Entity ceases to be a subsidiary member of a consolidated group	at the time it ceases	701-40

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Division 110—Cost base and reduced cost base

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 110
110-A	Cost base
110-B	Reduced cost base

Guide to Division 110

110-1 What this Division is about

This Division tells you how to work out the cost base and reduced cost base of a CGT asset. You need to know these to work out if you make a capital gain or loss from most CGT events.

Table of sections

110-5	Modifications to general rules
110-10	Rules about cost base not relevant for some CGT events

110-5 Modifications to general rules

After you have read the general rules, you need to know if there are any modifications to them. Division 112 lists each situation that may result in a modification and tells you where you can find the detailed provisions for each situation.

110-10 Rules about cost base not relevant for some CGT events

This table sets out each CGT event for which you do not need to know what the cost base or reduced cost base of a CGT asset is to work out if you make a capital gain or loss. The section describing the event tells you what amount is relevant instead.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 110 Cost base and reduced cost base

Section 110-10

---

---

Rules about cost base not relevant for some CGT events

---

Event number	Description of event:	See section:
C3	End of option to acquire shares etc.	104-30
D1	Creating contractual or other rights	104-35
D2	Granting an option	104-40
D3	Granting a right to income from mining	104-45
E9	Creating a trust over future property	104-105
F1	Granting a lease	104-110
F3	Lessor pays lessee to get lease changed	104-120
F5	Lessor receives payment for changing lease	104-130
H1	Forfeiture of deposit	104-150
H2	Receipt for event relating to a CGT asset	104-155
J5	Failure to acquire replacement asset and to incur fourth element expenditure after a roll-over	104-197
J6	Cost of acquisition of replacement asset or amount of fourth element expenditure, or both, not sufficient to cover disregarded capital gain	104-198
K2	Bankrupt pays amount in relation to debt	104-210
K7	Balancing adjustment event happens to depreciating asset	104-235
K9	Carried interests	104-255
K10	You make a forex realisation gain covered by item 1 of the table in subsection 775-70(1)	104-260
K11	You make a forex realisation loss covered by item 1 of the table in subsection 775-75(1)	104-265
K12	Foreign hybrid loss exposure adjustment	104-270
L1	Reduction under section 705-57 in tax cost setting amount of assets of entity becoming subsidiary member of consolidated group or MEC group	104-500
L2	Amount remaining after step 3A etc. of joining allocable cost amount is negative	104-505

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Rules about cost base not relevant for some CGT events

---

Event number	Description of event:	See section:
L3	Tax cost setting amounts for retained cost base assets exceed joining allocable cost amount	104-510
L4	No reset cost base assets against which to apply excess of net allocable cost amount on joining	104-515
L5	Amount remaining after step 4 of leaving allocable cost amount is negative	104-520
L6	Errors in tax cost setting amounts for entity joining consolidated group or MEC group	104-525
L7	Discharged amount of liability differs from amount for allocable cost amount purposes	104-530
L8	Reduction in tax cost setting amount for reset cost base assets on joining cannot be allocated	104-535

---

Subdivision 110-A—Cost base

Table of sections

110-25	General rules about cost base
110-35	Incidental costs
110-36	Indexation

What does not form part of the cost base

110-37	Expenditure forming part of cost base or element
110-38	Exclusions
110-40	Assets acquired before 7.30 pm on 13 May 1997
110-43	Partnership interests acquired before 7.30 pm on 13 May 1997
110-45	Assets acquired after 7.30 pm on 13 May 1997
110-50	Partnership interests acquired after 7.30 pm on 13 May 1997
110-53	Exceptions to application of sections 110-45 and 110-50
110-54	Debt deductions disallowed by thin capitalisation rules

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

110-25 General rules about *cost base

- (1) The cost base of a *CGT asset consists of 5 elements.

Note 1: You need to keep records of each element: see Division 121.

Note 2: The cost base is reduced by net input tax credits: see section 103-30.

Note 3: An amount that makes up all or part of an element of the cost base of an asset may be determined under section 230-505, if the amount is provided for acquiring a thing, and you start or cease to have a Division 230 financial arrangement as consideration for the acquisition of the thing.

5 elements of the cost base

- (2) The first element is the total of:

- (a) the money you paid, or are required to pay, in respect of *acquiring it; and
- (b) the *market value of any other property you gave, or are required to give, in respect of acquiring it (worked out as at the time of the acquisition).

Note 1: There are special rules for working out when you are required to pay money or give other property: see section 103-15.

Note 2: This element is replaced with another amount in many situations: see Division 112.

- (3) The second element is the *incidental costs you incurred. These costs can include giving property: see section 103-5.

Note: There is one situation to do with options in which the incidental costs relating to the CGT event are modified: see section 112-85.

- (4) The third element is the costs of owning the *CGT asset you incurred (but only if you *acquired the asset after 20 August 1991). These costs include:

- (a) interest on money you borrowed to acquire the asset; and
- (b) costs of maintaining, repairing or insuring it; and
- (c) rates or land tax, if the asset is land; and
- (d) interest on money you borrowed to refinance the money you borrowed to acquire the asset; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (e) interest on money you borrowed to finance the capital expenditure you incurred to increase the asset's value.

These costs can include giving property: see section 103-5.

Note: This element does not apply to personal use assets or collectables: see sections 108-17 and 108-30.

- (5) The fourth element is capital expenditure you incurred:
  - (a) the purpose or the expected effect of which is to increase or preserve the asset's value; or
  - (b) that relates to installing or moving the asset.

The expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5.

Note: There are 3 situations involving leases in which this element is modified: see section 112-80.

- (5A) Subsection (5) does not apply to capital expenditure incurred in relation to goodwill.
- (6) The fifth element is capital expenditure that you incurred to establish, preserve or defend your title to the asset, or a right over the asset. (The expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5.)

Assume a CGT event for purposes of working out cost base at a particular time

- (12) If:
  - (a) it is necessary to work out the * cost base at a particular time; and
  - (b) a *CGT event does not happen in relation to the asset at or just after that time;

assume, for the purpose only of working out the cost base at the particular time, that such an event does happen in relation to the asset at or just after that time.

Note 1: For example, in order to apply subsection 110-37(1), it is necessary for there to be a CGT event.

Note 2: The assumption that a CGT event happens does not have any consequence beyond that stated. For example, it does not mean that the asset is afterwards to be treated as having been acquired at the particular time with a first element of cost base equal to all of its former cost base elements.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

110-35 Incidental costs

- (1) There are a number of incidental costs you may have incurred. Except for the ninth, they are costs you may have incurred:
  - (a) to *acquire a *CGT asset; or
  - (b) that relate to a *CGT event.
- (2) The first is remuneration for the services of a surveyor, valuer, auctioneer, accountant, broker, *agent, consultant or legal adviser. However, remuneration for professional advice about the operation of this Act is not included unless it is provided by a *recognised tax adviser.

Note: Expenditure for professional advice about taxation incurred before 1 July 1989 does not form part of the cost base of a CGT asset: see section 110-35 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.
- (3) The second is costs of transfer.
- (4) The third is stamp duty or other similar duty.
- (5) The fourth is:
  - (a) if you *acquired a *CGT asset—costs of advertising or marketing to find a seller; or
  - (b) if a *CGT event happened—costs of advertising or marketing to find a buyer.
- (6) The fifth is costs relating to the making of any valuation or apportionment for the purposes of this Part or Part 3-3.
- (7) The sixth is search fees relating to a *CGT asset.
- (8) The seventh is the cost of a conveyancing kit (or a similar cost).
- (9) The eighth is borrowing expenses (such as loan application fees and mortgage discharge fees).
- (10) The ninth is expenditure that:
  - (a) is incurred by the *head company of a *consolidated group to an entity that is not a *member of the group; and
  - (b) reasonably relates to a *CGT asset *held by the head company; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

(c) is incurred because of a transaction that is between members of the group.

Example: Land is transferred by one company to another company. The companies are members of a consolidated group. Stamp duty is payable as a result of the transaction.

The transaction has no taxation consequences because of its intra-group nature.

The stamp duty is included in the cost base and reduced cost base of the land.

Note: Intra-group assets are not held by the head company because of the operation of subsection 701-1(1) (the single entity rule). An example of an intra-group asset is a debt owed by a member of the consolidated group to another member of the group.

110-36 Indexation

- (1) The cost base of a *CGT asset *acquired at or before 11.45 am (by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory) on 21 September 1999 also includes indexation of the elements of the cost base (except the third element) if the requirements of Division 114 are met.
- (2) However, for the purposes of working out the *capital gain of an entity mentioned in an item of the table from a *CGT event happening after 11.45 am (by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory) on 21 September 1999, the cost base includes indexation only if the entity mentioned in the item chooses that the cost base includes indexation.

---

Choice of indexation

Item	For the purposes of working out the capital gain of this entity:	The cost base includes indexation only if this entity chooses so:
1	An individual	The individual
2	A *complying superannuation entity	The trustee of the complying superannuation entity
3	A trust	The trustee of the trust
4	A listed investment company	The company

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 110 Cost base and reduced cost base

Section 110-37

---

Note 1: Section 103-25 specifies when you must make the choice and provides that the way you prepare your income tax return is evidence of your choice.

Note 2: For each CGT asset whose cost base you need to work out, you may either choose to index the expenditure included in the asset's cost base or not make that choice. If you do not choose to index the expenditure, your net capital gain includes only part of your capital gain on the CGT asset as worked out on the basis of the cost base not including indexation and reduced by your capital losses.

- (3) Also, for the purpose of working out the *capital gain of a *life insurance company from a *CGT event happening after 30 June 2000 in respect of a *CGT asset that is a *complying superannuation/FHSA asset, the cost base includes indexation only if the life insurance company chooses that the cost base includes indexation.

Note: Section 110-25 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997 provides that, in working out the capital gain from a CGT event after 11.45 am on 21 September 1999 and before 1 July 2000 in respect of an asset of a life insurance company or registered organisation, the cost base includes indexation only if the company or organisation chooses it.

What does not form part of the cost base

110-37 Expenditure forming part of cost base or element

- (1) If a later provision of this Subdivision says that:
- (a) certain expenditure does not form part of the *cost base of a *CGT asset; or
  - (b) the cost base is reduced by certain expenditure;
- the expenditure is initially included in the cost base, which is then reduced by the amount of the expenditure just before a *CGT event happens in relation to the asset.

Note: This has the effect of recognising in the cost base any indexed component relating to the expenditure.

- (2) On the other hand, if such a provision says that:
- (a) certain expenditure does not form part of one or more elements of the *cost base of a *CGT asset; or
  - (b) one or more elements of the cost base are reduced by certain expenditure;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

the expenditure is never included in the relevant elements of the cost base.

Note: This has the effect of not recognising to any extent this expenditure in the cost base.

110-38 Exclusions

- (1) Expenditure does not form part of any element of the cost base to the extent that section 26-54 prevents it being deducted (even if some other provision also prevents it being deducted).

Note: Section 26-54 prevents deductions for expenditure related to certain offences.

- (2) Expenditure does not form part of any element of the cost base to the extent that it is a *bribe to a foreign public official or a *bribe to a public official.

- (3) Expenditure does not form part of any element of the cost base to the extent that it is in respect of providing *entertainment.

- (4) Expenditure does not form part of any element of the cost base to the extent that section 26-5 prevents it being deducted (even if some other provision also prevents it being deducted).

Note: Section 26-5 denies deductions for penalties.

- (5) Expenditure does not form part of any element of the cost base to the extent that section 26-47 prevents it being deducted.

Note: Section 26-47 denies deductions for the excess of boat expenditure over boat income.

110-40 Assets acquired before 7.30 pm on 13 May 1997

- (1) This section prevents some expenditure from forming part of one or more elements of the *cost base of a *CGT asset *acquired at or before 7.30 pm, by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory, on 13 May 1997. (The expenditure mentioned in this section can include giving property: see section 103-5.)

Note: For the cost base of a partnership interest you acquire at or before that time, see section 110-43.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 110-43

---

- (2) Expenditure does not form part of the second or third element of the cost base to the extent that you have deducted or can deduct it.
- (3) Expenditure does not form part of any element of the cost base to the extent of any amount you have received as *recoupment of it, except so far as the amount is included in your assessable income.
- (4) Subsection (2) does not apply in relation to amounts that you have deducted or can deduct under Division 243.

110-43 Partnership interests acquired before 7.30 pm on 13 May 1997

- (1) This section prevents some expenditure from forming part of one or more elements of the *cost base of your interest in a *CGT asset of a partnership if you *acquired the interest at or before 7.30 pm, by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory, on 13 May 1997. (The expenditure mentioned in this section can include giving property: see section 103-5.)
- (2) Expenditure does not form part of the second or third element of the cost base to the extent that you, or a partnership in which you are or were a partner, have deducted or can deduct it.
- (3) Expenditure does not form part of any element of the cost base to the extent of any amount that you, or a partnership in which you are or were a partner, have received as *recoupment of the expenditure, except so far as the amount is included in your assessable income or the partnership's assessable income.
- (4) Subsection (2) does not apply in relation to amounts that you have deducted or can deduct under Division 243.

110-45 Assets acquired after 7.30 pm on 13 May 1997

- (1) This section prevents some expenditure from forming part of the *cost base, or of an element of the cost base, of a *CGT asset *acquired after 7.30 pm, by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory, on 13 May 1997. (The expenditure mentioned in this section can include giving property: see section 103-5.)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

For the cost base of interests in partnership assets acquired after that time, see section 110-50.

For exceptions to the application of this section, see section 110-53.

- (1A) This section also applies to expenditure incurred after 30 June 1999 on land or a building if:
- (a) the land or building was *acquired at or before the time mentioned in subsection (1); and
  - (b) the expenditure forms part of the fourth element of the *cost base of the land or building.

Deductible expenditure excluded from second and third elements

- (1B) Expenditure does not form part of the second or third element of the cost base to the extent that you have deducted or can deduct it.

Other deductible expenditure

- (2) Expenditure (except expenditure excluded by subsection (1B)) does not form part of the cost base to the extent that you have deducted or can deduct it for an income year, except so far as:
- (a) the deduction has been reversed by an amount being included in your assessable income for an income year by a provision of this Act (outside this Part and Part 3-3 and Division 243); or
  - (b) the deduction is under Division 243; or
  - (b) the deduction would have been so reversed apart from a provision listed in the table (relief from including a balancing charge in your assessable income).

Note: In the table, provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 are identified in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

---

Provisions for relief from including a balancing charge in your assessable income

---

Item	Provision	Subject matter
1	section 40-340	Roll-over relief for *depreciating asset

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Provisions for relief from including a balancing charge in your assessable income

---

Item	Provision	Subject matter
2	section 40-365	Involuntary disposal of *depreciating asset
3	Section 73E	Research and development activity expenditure

---

Recouped expenditure

- (3) Expenditure does not form part of any element of the cost base to the extent of any amount you have received as *recoupment of it, except so far as the amount is included in your assessable income.

Capital expenditure by previous owner that you can deduct after acquisition

- (4) The cost base is reduced to the extent that you have deducted or can deduct for an income year capital expenditure incurred by another entity in respect of the *CGT asset. (This rule does not apply so far as the deduction is covered by paragraph (2)(a) or (b).)

Example: Under Division 43 you can deduct expenditure incurred by a previous owner of capital works you own.

Landcare and water facility expenditure giving rise to a tax offset

- (5) Expenditure does not form part of the cost base to the extent that you choose a *tax offset for it under the former section 388-55 (about the landcare and water facility tax offset) instead of deducting it.

Heritage conservation expenditure giving rise to a tax offset

- (6) Expenditure does not form part of the cost base to the extent that:
- (a) it is eligible heritage conservation expenditure (as determined under former section 159UO of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936); and
  - (b) you could have deducted it for an income year under any of these Divisions (about capital works):
    - (i) Division 43 of this Act;
    - (ii) former Division 10C or 10D of Part III of that Act;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

but for the exclusions in paragraph 43-70(2)(h) of this Act and former subsections 124ZB(4) and 124ZG(5) of that Act.

Note: Because eligible heritage conservation expenditure is the subject of a tax offset, it is also not deductible.

110-50 Partnership interests acquired *after 7.30 pm on 13 May 1997

- (1) This section prevents some expenditure from forming part of the *cost base, or of an element of the cost base, of your interest in a *CGT asset of a partnership if you *acquired the interest after 7.30 pm, by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory, on 13 May 1997. (The expenditure mentioned in this section can include giving property: see section 103-5.)

For exceptions to the application of this section, see section 110-53.

- (1A) This section also applies to expenditure incurred after 30 June 1999 on land or a building if:
- (a) the land or building was *acquired at or before the time mentioned in subsection (1); and
  - (b) the expenditure forms part of the fourth element of the *cost base of the land or building.

Deductible expenditure excluded from second and third elements

- (1B) Expenditure does not form part of the second or third element of the cost base to the extent that you, or a partnership in which you are or were a partner, have deducted or can deduct it.

Other deductible expenditure

- (2) Expenditure (except expenditure excluded by subsection (1B)) does not form part of the cost base to the extent that you, or a partnership in which you are or were a partner, have deducted or can deduct it for an income year, except so far as:
- (a) the deduction has been reversed by an amount being included in your assessable income for an income year, or in the assessable income of a partnership in which you are or were a partner, by a provision of this Act (outside this Part and Part 3-3 and Division 243); or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 110 Cost base and reduced cost base

Section 110-50

---

Note: Division 20 contains some of the provisions that reverse deductions. Section 20-5 lists some others.

- (ab) the deduction is under Division 243; or
- (b) the deduction would have been so reversed apart from a provision listed in the table in subsection 110-45(2) (relief from including a balancing charge in your assessable income).

Recouped expenditure

- (3) Expenditure does not form part of any element of the cost base to the extent of any amount that you, or a partnership in which you are or were a partner, have received as *recoupment of it, except so far as the amount is included in your assessable income or the partnership's assessable income.

Capital expenditure by previous owner of the asset

- (4) The cost base is reduced to the extent that you, or a partnership in which you are or were a partner, have deducted or can deduct for an income year capital expenditure incurred by another entity in respect of the *CGT asset. (This rule does not apply so far as the deduction is covered by paragraph (2)(a) or (b).)

Example: Under Division 43 an entity can deduct expenditure incurred by a previous owner of capital works that the entity owns.

Landcare and water facility expenditure giving rise to a tax offset

- (5) Expenditure does not form part of the cost base to the extent that you choose a *tax offset for it under the former section 388-55 (about the landcare and water facility tax offset) instead of deducting it.

Heritage conservation expenditure giving rise to a tax offset

- (6) Expenditure does not form part of the cost base to the extent that:
  - (a) it is eligible heritage conservation expenditure (as determined under former section 159UO of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936); and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) you, or a partnership in which you are or were a partner, could have deducted it for an income year under any of these Divisions (about capital works):
- (i) Division 43 of this Act;
  - (ii) former Division 10C or 10D of Part III of that Act;
- but for the exclusions in paragraph 43-70(2)(h) of this Act and former subsections 124ZB(4) and 124ZG(5) of that Act.

Note: Because eligible heritage conservation expenditure is the subject of a tax offset, it is also not deductible.

110-53 Exceptions to application of sections 110-45 and 110-50

- (1) Subsection 110-45(2), (4), (5) or (6) or 110-50(2), (4), (5) or (6) does not prevent expenditure from forming part of the cost base to the extent that the deduction mentioned in that subsection could reasonably be regarded as arising before 7.30 pm, by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory, on 13 May 1997, or as relating to a period before that time.
- (2) Subsections 110-45(5) and (6) and 110-50(5) and (6) do not apply to expenditure incurred before the day on which the Bill that became the Taxation Laws Amendment Act (No. 1) 1999 was introduced into the House of Representatives.

110-54 Debt deductions disallowed by thin capitalisation rules

Expenditure does not form part of the third element of the cost base to the extent that Division 820 (Thin capitalisation rules) prevented or prevents you, or a partnership in which you are or were a partner, from deducting it.

Subdivision 110-B—Reduced cost base

Table of sections

110-55	General rules about reduced cost base
110-60	Reduced cost base for partnership assets

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

110-55 General rules about reduced cost base

- (1) The reduced cost base of a *CGT asset consists of 5 elements. It does not include indexation of those elements.

Note: The reduced cost base is reduced by net input tax credits: see section 103-30.

5 elements of the reduced cost base

- (2) All of the elements (except the third one) of the reduced cost base of a *CGT asset are the same as those for the *cost base.
- (3) The third element is:
- (a) any amounts worked out under whichever of the following subparagraphs applies:
    - (i) if Division 58 does not apply to the asset—any amount included in your assessable income for any income year because of a balancing adjustment for the asset;
    - (ii) if Division 58 applies to the asset and an amount has been included in your assessable income for an income year because of a balancing adjustment for the asset—any part of that amount that was attributable to amounts you have deducted or can deduct for the decline in value of the asset; and
  - (b) any amount that would have been so included apart from any of these (which provide relief from including a balancing charge in your assessable income):
    - (i) section 40-365; or
    - (ii) any of these former sections—section 42-285, 42-290 or 42-293; or
    - (iii) former subsection 59(2A) or (2D) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

What does not form part of the reduced cost base

- (4) The reduced cost base does not include an amount to the extent that you have deducted or can deduct it (including because of a balancing adjustment) or could have deducted apart from paragraph 43-70(2)(h).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Note: That paragraph excludes from deductibility under Division 43 expenditure that qualifies for the heritage conservation rebate.

- (5) The reduced cost base does not include an amount that you could have deducted for a *CGT asset had you used it wholly for the *purpose of producing assessable income.
- (6) Expenditure does not form part of the reduced cost base to the extent of any amounts you have received as *recoupment of it. However, this rule does not apply to the extent that the amounts are included in your assessable income.
- (6A) Expenditure does not form part of the reduced cost base to the extent that you chose a *tax offset for it under the former section 388-55 (about the landcare and water facility tax offset) instead of deducting it.
- (7) If your *CGT asset is a *share in a company, its reduced cost base is reduced by the amount calculated under subsection (8) if:
- (aa) you are a *corporate tax entity; and
  - (a) the company makes a distribution to you under an *arrangement; and
  - (b) an amount (the attributable amount) representing the distribution or part of it is reasonably attributable to profits *derived by the company before you <sup>c</sup>acquired the share; and
  - (c) you are entitled to a *tax offset under Division 207 on the part of the distribution that is a *dividend (the dividend amount); and
  - (d) you were a *controller (for CGT purposes) of the company, or an *associate of such a controller, when the arrangement was made or carried out.
- (8) The amount of the reduction is:
- $$\text{Attributable amount} \times \frac{\text{Amount of *tax offset}}{\text{Dividend amount} \times \text{*Corporate tax rate}}$$
- (9) The reduced cost base is to be reduced by any amount that you have deducted or can deduct, or could have deducted except for Subdivision 170-D, as a result of a *CGT event that happens in relation to a *CGT asset. However, do not make a reduction for an

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 110-55

---

amount that relates to a cost that could never have formed part of the reduced cost base or is excluded from the reduced cost base as a result of another provision of this section.

- (9A) Expenditure does not form part of the reduced cost base to the extent that section 26-54 prevents it being deducted (even if some other provision also prevents it being deducted).

Note: Section 26-54 prevents deductions for expenditure related to certain offences.

- (9B) Expenditure does not form part of the reduced cost base to the extent that it is a *bribe to a foreign public official or a *bribe to a public official.

- (9C) Expenditure does not form part of the reduced cost base to the extent that it is in respect of providing *entertainment.

- (9D) Expenditure does not form part of the reduced cost base to the extent that section 26-5 prevents it being deducted (even if some other provision also prevents it being deducted).

Note: Section 26-5 denies deductions for penalties.

- (9E) Expenditure does not form part of the reduced cost base to the extent that section 26-47 prevents it being deducted.

Note: Section 26-47 denies deductions for the excess of boat expenditure over boat income.

Assume a CGT event for purposes of working out reduced cost base at a particular time

- (10) If:

- (a) it is necessary to work out the *reduced cost base at a particular time; and
- (b) a *CGT event does not happen in relation to the asset at or just after that time;

assume, for the purpose only of working out the reduced cost base at the particular time, that such an event does happen in relation to the asset at or just after that time.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

110-60 Reduced cost base for partnership assets

- (1) The third element of an entity's reduced cost base for its interest in a *CGT asset of a partnership is the entity's share of:
  - (a) any amounts worked out under whichever of the following subparagraphs applies:
    - (i) if Division 58 does not apply to the asset—any amount included in the assessable income of the partnership for any income year because of a balancing adjustment for the asset;
    - (ii) if Division 58 applies to the asset and an amount has been included in the assessable income of the partnership for an income year because of a balancing adjustment for the asset—any part of that amount that was attributable to amounts that the partnership has deducted or can deduct for depreciation of the asset; and
  - (b) any amount that would have been so included apart from any of these (which provide relief from including a balancing charge in your assessable income):
    - (i) section 40-365; or
    - (ii) any of these former sections—section 42-285, 42-290 or 42-293; or
    - (iii) former subsection 59(2A) or (2D) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936;calculated according to the entity's share in the partnership net income or net loss.
- (2) Expenditure does not form part of an entity's reduced cost base for its interest in a *CGT asset of a partnership to the extent that a partnership in which the entity is or was a partner has deducted or can deduct it (including because of a balancing adjustment), or could have deducted it apart from paragraph 43-70(2)(h).
- (3) Expenditure does not form part of an entity's reduced cost base for its interest in a *CGT asset of a partnership to the extent that a partnership in which the entity is or was a partner could have deducted an amount for the asset if it had used it wholly for the *purpose of producing assessable income.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 110 Cost base and reduced cost base

Section 110-60

---

- (4) Expenditure does not form part of an entity's reduced cost base for its interest in a *CGT asset of a partnership to the extent of any amounts that a partnership in which the entity is or was a partner has received as *recoupment of it and that are not included in the assessable income of the partnership.
- (4A) Expenditure does not form part of an entity's reduced cost base for its interest in a *CGT asset of a partnership to the extent that the entity chose a *tax offset for the expenditure under the former section 388-55 (about the landcare and water facility tax offset) instead of deducting it.
- (7) The reduced cost base of an entity's interest in a *CGT asset of a partnership is to be reduced by the entity's share of any amount that the partnership has deducted or can deduct, or could have deducted except for Subdivision 170-D, as a result of a *CGT event that happens in relation to the asset. However, a reduction is not to be made for an amount that relates to a cost that could never have formed part of the reduced cost base or is excluded from the reduced cost base as a result of another provision of this section.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 112—Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 112
112-A	General modifications
112-B	Finding tables for special rules
112-C	Replacement-asset roll-overs
112-D	Same-asset roll-overs

Guide to Division 112

112-1 What this Division is about

This Division tells you the situations that may modify the general rules about the cost base and reduced cost base of a CGT asset.

112-5 Discussion of modifications

- (1) Modifications can occur from the time you acquired the CGT asset to when a CGT event happens in relation to it.
Note: You should keep records of the modifications: see Division 121.
- (2) Most modifications replace the first element (what you paid for a CGT asset) of the cost base and reduced cost base of the asset.
- (3) Subdivision 112-A contains operative provisions setting out the general situations that may result in a modification to the general rules.
- (4) Subdivision 112-B (which is a guide) has a number of tables (each one covering a specialist topic) that tell you each situation that may result in a modification to the general rules.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 112 Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base

Section 112-15

---

- (5) Subdivision 112-C (which is a guide) explains what a replacement-asset roll-over is and how it can modify the cost base or reduced cost base.
- (6) Subdivision 112-D (which is a guide) explains what a same-asset roll-over is and how it can modify the cost base or reduced cost base.
- (7) Section 230-505 provides special rules for working out the amount of consideration for an asset if the asset is a *Division 230 financial arrangement or a Division 230 financial arrangement is involved in that consideration.

Subdivision 112-A—General modifications

Table of sections

112-15	General rule for replacement modifications
112-20	Market value substitution rule
112-25	Split, changed or merged assets
112-30	Apportionment rules
112-35	Assumption of liability rule
112-37	Put options

112-15 General rule for replacement modifications

If a cost base modification replaces an element of the *cost base of a *CGT asset with an amount, this Part and Part 3-3 apply to you as if you had paid that amount.

Example: An individual pays $10,000 to acquire an option. The individual dies and the option devolves to his legal personal representative, who exercises the option.

Section 134-1 applies to the legal personal representative as if the representative had paid $10,000 for the option.

112-20 Market value substitution rule

- (1) The first element of your *cost base and *reduced cost base of a *CGT asset you *acquire from another entity is its *market value (at the time of acquisition) if:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) you did not incur expenditure to acquire it, except where your acquisition of the asset resulted from:
  - (i) *CGT event D1 happening; or
  - (ii) another entity doing something that did not constitute a CGT event happening; or
- (b) some or all of the expenditure you incurred to acquire it cannot be valued; or
- (c) you did not deal at arm's length with the other entity in connection with the acquisition.

The expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5.

- (2) Despite paragraph (1)(c), if:
  - (a) you did not deal at arm's length with the other entity; and
  - (b) your *acquisition of the *CGT asset resulted from another entity doing something that did not constitute a CGT event happening;

the *market value is substituted only if what you paid to acquire the CGT asset was more than its market value (at the time of acquisition).

The payment can include giving property: see section 103-5.

- (3) There are some situations in which the rule in subsection (1) does not apply. They include the situations set out in this table:

---

Exceptions to the market value substitution rule

---

Item	You *acquired this CGT asset:	...in this situation:
1	A right to receive *ordinary income or *statutory income from a trust (except a unit trust or a trust that arises because of someone's death)	(a) you did not pay or give anything for the right; and (b) you did not acquire the right by way of an assignment from another entity
2	A decoration awarded for valour or brave conduct	you did not pay or give anything for it
3	A contractual or other legal or equitable right resulting from *CGT event D1 happening	you did not pay or give anything for it

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 112-25

Exceptions to the market value substitution rule

Item	You *acquired this CGT asset:	...in this situation:
4	Rights to *acquire: (a) *shares, or options to acquire *shares, in a company; or (b) units, or options to acquire units, in a unit trust; in a situation covered by Subdivision 130-B	you did not pay or give anything for the rights
5	A *share in a company or a right to *acquire a share or *debenture in a company	it was issued or allotted to you by the company and you did not pay or give anything for it
6	A unit in a unit trust or a right to *acquire a unit or debenture in a unit trust	it was issued to you by the trustee of the unit trust and you did not pay or give anything for it
7	A right to *dispose of a *share in a company	it was issued to you by the company and was exercised by you or by another entity who became the owner of the right

Note: Disregard subsections (2) and (3) for shares or units that you acquired before 16 August 1989: see section 112-20 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

112-25 Split, changed or merged assets

Split or changed assets

- (1) This section sets out what happens if:
- (a) a *CGT asset (the original asset) is split into 2 or more assets (the new assets); or
  - (b) a *CGT asset (also the original asset) changes in whole or in part into an asset (also the new asset) of a different nature;
- and you are the beneficial owner of the original asset and each new asset.

Example: You subdivide a block of land into 3 separate blocks. Each of those blocks is a new asset.

- (2) The splitting or change is not a *CGT event.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (3) You work out the *cost base and *reduced cost base of each new asset as follows:

Method statement

- Step 1. Work out each element of the *cost base and *reduced cost base of the original asset at the time of the event referred to in subsection (1).
- Step 2. Apportion in a reasonable way each element to each new asset. The result is each corresponding element of the new asset's *cost base and *reduced cost base.

Merged assets

- (4) If 2 or more *CGT assets (the original assets) are merged into a single asset (the new asset) and you are the beneficial owner of the original assets and the new asset:
- (a) the merger is not a *CGT event; and
  - (b) each element of the *cost base and *reduced cost base of the new asset (at the time of the merging) is the sum of the corresponding elements of each original asset.

112-30 Apportionment rules

Apportionment on acquisition of an asset

- (1) If you *acquire a *CGT asset because of a transaction and only part of the expenditure you incurred under the transaction relates to the acquisition of the asset, the first element of your *cost base and *reduced cost base of the asset is that part of the expenditure that is reasonably attributable to the acquisition of the asset.

The expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5.

Apportionment of expenditure in other elements

- (1A) If you incur expenditure and only part of it relates to another element of the *cost base or *reduced cost base of a *CGT asset, that element includes that part of the expenditure that is reasonably attributable to that element.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 112-35

---

Apportionment for CGT asset that was part of another asset

- (2) The *cost base and *reduced cost base of a *CGT asset is apportioned if a *CGT event happens to some part of the asset, but not to the remainder of it.

Note: The full list of CGT events is in section 104-5.

- (3) The *cost base for the *CGT asset representing the part to which the *CGT event happened is worked out using the formula:

$$\text{Cost base of the asset} \times \frac{\text{Capital proceeds for the CGT event happening to the part}}{\text{Those capital proceeds plus the market value of the remainder of the asset}}$$

The *reduced cost base is worked out similarly.

- (4) The remainder of the *cost base and *reduced cost base of the asset is attributed to the part that remains.

Example: You acquire a truck for $24,000 and sell its motor for $9,000. Suppose the market value of the remainder of the truck is $16,000.

Under subsection (3), the cost base of the motor is:

$$$24,000 \times \frac{$9,000}{$9,000 + $16,000} = $8,640$$

Under subsection (4), the cost base of the remainder of the truck is:

$$$24,000 - $8,640 = $15,360$$

- (5) However, an amount forming part of the *cost base or *reduced cost base of the asset is not apportioned if, on the facts, that amount is wholly attributable to the part to which the *CGT event happened or to the remaining part.

112-35 Assumption of liability rule

If you *acquire a *CGT asset from another entity that is subject to a liability, the first element of your *cost base and *reduced cost base of the asset includes the amount of the liability you assume.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Example: You acquire a block of land for $150,000. You pay $50,000 and assume a liability for an outstanding mortgage of $100,000. The first element of your cost base and reduced cost base is $150,000.

Note: The first element of cost base is dealt with in subsection 110-25(2). The first element of reduced cost base is the same: see subsection 110-55(2).

112-37 Put options

The first element of the *cost base and *reduced cost base of a right to *dispose of a *share in a company that you *acquire as a result of *CGT event D2 happening to the company is the sum of:

- (a) the amount that is included in your assessable income as ordinary income as a result of your acquisition of the right; and
- (b) the amount (if any) that you paid to acquire the right.

Subdivision 112-B—Finding tables for special rules

Table of sections

112-40	Effect of this Subdivision
112-45	CGT events
112-48	Gifts acquired by associates
112-50	Main residence
112-53	Scrip for scrip roll-over
112-53AA	Statutory licences
112-53A	MDO roll-over
112-53B	Exchange of stapled ownership interests for units in a unit trust
112-54	Demerges
112-55	Effect of you dying
112-60	Bonus shares or units
112-65	Rights
112-70	Convertible interests
112-75	Employee share schemes
112-77	Exchangeable interests
112-80	Leases
112-85	Options
112-87	Residency
112-90	An asset stops being a pre-CGT asset
112-92	Demutualisation of certain entities

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 112 Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base

Section 112-40

---

- 112-95 Transfer of tax losses and net capital losses within wholly-owned groups of companies
- 112-97 Modifications outside this Part and Part 3-3

112-40 Effect of this Subdivision

- (1) This Subdivision is a *Guide.

Note: In interpreting an operative provision, a Guide may be considered only for limited purposes: see section 950-150.

- (2) It sets out which element of the cost base or reduced cost base of a CGT asset is affected by various situations.

112-45 CGT events

---

CGT events
Event number	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
D4	A conservation covenant is entered into over land	The total cost base and reduced cost base	104-47
E1	A trust is created over a CGT asset	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	104-55
E2	A CGT asset is transferred to a trust	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	104-60
E4	A trustee makes a capital payment to you in relation to units or an interest in the trust	The total cost base and reduced cost base	104-70
F4	A lessee receives payment for changing lease	The total cost base	104-125
G1	A company makes a capital payment to you in relation to your shares	The total cost base and reduced cost base	104-135
G3	A liquidator or administrator declares shares or financial instruments to be worthless	The total cost base and reduced cost base	104-145

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

CGT events

---

Event number	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
K8	Direct value shifts affecting your equity or loan interests in a company or trust	The total cost base and reduced cost base	Subdivision 725-D
J4	Trust fails to cease to exist after a roll-over under Subdivision 124-N	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	104-195

---

112-48 Gifts acquired by associates

---

Gifts acquired by associates

---

Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	A gift of property is covered by subsection 118-60(1) or (2) and the property is later *acquired by an associate for less than market value	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	118-60

---

112-50 Main residence

---

Main residence

---

Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	A dwelling that is your main residence begins to be used for the first time for the purpose of producing assessable income	The total cost base and reduced cost base	118-192

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 112 Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base

Section 112-53

---

112-53 Scrip for scrip roll-over

---

Scrip for scrip roll-over

---

Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	Interest is acquired by an entity where there is a roll-over under Subdivision 124-M and there is a significant or common stakeholder under an arrangement	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	124-782
2	Equity or debt is acquired by an ultimate holding company under that arrangement from a member of its wholly-owned group	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	124-784
2A	Interest is acquired by an entity where there is a roll-over under Subdivision 124-M and the arrangement is taken to be a restructure	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	124-784B
3	You exchange an interest you acquired before 20 September 1985 for an interest in another entity	The total cost base and reduced cost base	124-800

---

112-53AA Statutory licences

---

New statutory licence

---

Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	New statutory licences	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	124-150, 124-155 and 124-160

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

112-53A MDO roll-over

MDO roll-over
Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	Exchange of an interest in an MDO for an interest in another MDO	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	124-985

112-53B Exchange of stapled ownership interests for units in a unit trust

Exchange of stapled ownership interests for units in a unit trust
Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	Exchange of stapled ownership interests	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	124-1055 and 124-1060

112-54 Demergers

Demergers
Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	There is a roll-over under Subdivision 125-B after a demerger	First element of cost base and reduced cost base of new interests and remaining original interests	125-80
2	There is a CGT event under a demerger but no roll-over under Subdivision 125-B	First element of cost base and reduced cost base of new interests and remaining original interests	125-85
3	There is a cost base adjustment under Subdivision 125-B but no CGT event under a demerger	First element of cost base and reduced cost base of new interests and remaining original interests	125-90

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 112 Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base

Section 112-55

---

112-55 Effect of you dying

---

Effect of an individual dying

---

Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	CGT asset devolves to the legal personal representative	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	128-15
2	CGT asset passes to a beneficiary	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	128-15
3	CGT asset passes to a trustee of a complying superannuation entity	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	128-25
4	Surviving joint tenant acquires deceased joint tenant's interest in CGT asset	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	128-50

---

112-60 Bonus shares or units

---

Bonus shares or units

---

Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	A company issues you with bonus shares	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	130-20
2	A unit trust issues you with bonus units	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	130-20

---

112-65 Rights

---

Exercise of rights

---

Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	You exercise rights to acquire shares, or options to acquire shares, in a company	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	130-40
2	You exercise rights to acquire units, or options to acquire units, in a unit trust	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	130-40

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

112-70 Convertible interests

Convertible interests
Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	You acquire shares, or units in a unit trust, by converting a convertible interest	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	130-60

112-75 Employee share schemes

Employee share schemes
Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	You acquire a share or right at a discount under an employee share scheme	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	130-80 130-83 130-85

112-77 Exchangeable interests

Exchangeable interests
Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	You acquire shares in a company in exchange for the disposal of an exchangeable interest, and the disposal of the exchangeable interest was to:  (a) the issuer of the exchangeable interest; or  (b) a connected entity of the issuer of the exchangeable interest	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	130-105

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 112 Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base

Section 112-80

---

---

Exchangeable interests

---

Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
2	You acquire shares in a company in exchange for the redemption of an exchangeable interest	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	130-105

---

112-80 Leases

---

Leases

---

Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	A lessee incurs expenditure in obtaining the lessor's agreement to vary or waive a term of the lease	Fourth element of cost base and reduced cost base	132-1
2	A lessor pays an amount to the lessee for improvements made by the lessee to the property	Fourth element of cost base and reduced cost base	132-5
3	A lessor of a long-term lease incurs expenditure in obtaining the lessee's agreement to vary or waive a term of the lease or to forfeit or surrender the lease	Fourth element of cost base and reduced cost base	132-10
4	A lessee of land acquires the reversionary interest of the lessor	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	132-15

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

112-85 Options

Exercise of options
Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	Grantee of option acquires the CGT asset the subject of the option	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	134-1
2	Grantor of option acquires the CGT asset the subject of the option	For the grantor—the first element of cost base and reduced cost base; For the grantee—the second element of cost base and reduced cost base	134-1

112-87 Residency

Residency
Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	An individual or company becomes an Australian resident (but not a temporary resident)	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	855-45
1A	A temporary resident ceases to be a temporary resident (but remains, at that time, an Australian resident)	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	768-955
2	A trust becomes a resident trust for CGT purposes	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	855-50

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 112 Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base

Section 112-90

---

112-90 An asset stops being a pre-CGT asset

---

An asset stops being a pre-CGT asset
Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	An asset of a non-public entity stops being a pre-CGT asset	The total cost base and reduced cost base	149-35
2	An asset of a public entity stops being a pre-CGT asset	The total cost base and reduced cost base	149-75

---

112-92 Demutualisation of certain entities

---

Demutualisation of certain entities
Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	Just before the mutual entity known in New Zealand as Tower Corporation ceased to be a mutual entity, you had membership rights in that entity	The total cost base and reduced cost base	118-550

---

112-95 Transfer of tax losses and net capital losses within wholly-owned groups of companies

---

Transfer of tax losses and net capital losses within wholly-owned groups of companies
Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
1	An amount of a tax loss is transferred and a company has a direct or indirect equity interest in the loss company	The total cost base and reduced cost base	170-210
2	An amount of a tax loss is transferred and a company has a direct or indirect debt interest in the loss company	The reduced cost base	170-210

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Transfer of tax losses and net capital losses within wholly-owned groups of companies

---

Item	In this situation:	Element affected:	See section:
3	An amount of a tax loss is transferred and a company has a direct or indirect equity or debt interest in the income company	The total cost base and reduced cost base	170-215
4	An amount of a net capital loss is transferred and a company has a direct or indirect equity interest in the loss company	The total cost base and reduced cost base	170-220
5	An amount of a net capital loss is transferred and a company has a direct or indirect debt interest in the loss company	The reduced cost base	170-220
6	An amount of a net capital loss is transferred and a company has a direct or indirect equity or debt interest in the gain company	The total cost base and reduced cost base	170-225

---

112-97 Modifications outside this Part and Part 3-3

This table sets out other cost base modifications outside this Part and Part 3-3.

Provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 are in bold.

---

Modifications outside this Part and Part 3-3

---

Item	In this situation	Element affected:	See:
1	You stop holding an item as trading stock	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	Paragraph 70-110(b)
2	CGT event happens to Cocos (Keeling) Islands asset	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	section 24P

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 112 Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base

Section 112-97

---

---

Item	In this situation	Element affected:	See:
2A	Lender acquires a replacement security	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	subsection 26BC(6B)
3	CGT event happens by the borrower disposing of the borrowed security to a third party	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	paragraph 26BC(9)(a)
4	CGT event happens to replacement security and compensatory payment was incurred by the borrower	Second element of cost base and reduced cost base	subsection 26BC(9A)
5	CGT event happens to CGT asset in connection with the demutualisation of an insurance company	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	section 121AS
5A	CGT event happens to CGT asset in connection with the demutualisation of a mutual entity other than an insurance company or health insurer	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	Division 326 of Schedule 2H
6	CGT event happens to assets of NSW State Bank	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	section 121EN
7	Trust ceases to be a resident trust for CGT purposes and there is an attributable taxpayer	The total cost base and reduced cost base	section 102AAZBA
8	You own shares in a company that stops being a PDF	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	section 124ZR
9	You acquire a number of shares that results in you obtaining a 10% (threshold) interest in a SME	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	section 128TI

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Modifications outside this Part and Part 3-3
Item	In this situation	Element affected:	See:
10	CGT event happens to CGT asset used in gold mining	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	section 112-100 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997
12	Shares in a holding company are cancelled	The total cost base and reduced cost base	section 159GZZZH
12A	You own an interest in infrastructure borrowing just before and just after the end of an exemption period	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	section 159GZZZZE
12B	Entity has interest in loss company immediately before alteration time	The total reduced cost base	sections 165-115ZA and 165-115ZB
13	CGT event happens to 30 June 1988 asset of a complying superannuation entity	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	section 295-85 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997
14	CGT event happens to CGT asset of complying superannuation fund, complying approved deposit fund or pooled superannuation trust	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	section 295-100 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997
15	A CGT asset of a CFC is taken into account in calculating its attributable income	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	section 412
16	A CGT asset of a CFC is taken into account in calculating its attributable income	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	subsection 413(2)
17	A CGT asset of a CFC is taken into account in calculating its attributable income	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	subsection 413(3)

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 112 Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base

Section 112-97

---

Modifications outside this Part and Part 3-3

---

Item	In this situation	Element affected:	See:
18	A CGT asset of a CFC is taken into account in calculating its attributable income	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	section 414
19	A commercial debt is forgiven	The total cost base and reduced cost base of CGT assets of the debtor (except assets that are excluded assets under Schedule 2C)	sections 245-175 to 245-190 of Schedule 2C
20	A tax exempt entity becomes taxable	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	section 57-25 of Schedule 2D
20A	An entity becomes or ceases to be a foreign hybrid	The total cost base and reduced cost base	Sections 830-80 and 830-85
21	A CGT asset is transferred to or from a life insurance company's complying superannuation/FHSA asset pool	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	Division 320
22	A CGT asset is transferred to or from the segregated exempt assets of a life insurance company	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	Division 320
22A	A CGT event happens in relation to forestry interest in a forestry managed investment scheme for a subsequent participant	The total cost base and reduced cost base	Subsection 394-30(9)
22B	You start or cease to have a *Division 230 financial arrangement as consideration for the acquisition of a thing	All elements of cost base and reduced cost base	section 230-505
23	The arrangement period for the tax preferred use of an asset ends	The total cost base and reduced cost base	subsection 250-285(3)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Modifications outside this Part and Part 3-3
Item	In this situation	Element affected:	See:
24	An entity becomes a subsidiary member of a consolidated group	The total cost base and reduced cost base for the head company of the subsidiary's assets	Section 701-10
24A	An entity ceases to be a subsidiary member of a consolidated group	The total cost base and reduced cost base for the head company of membership interests in the subsidiary	Section 701-15
24B	An entity ceases to be a subsidiary member of a consolidated group	The total cost base and reduced cost base for the head company of liabilities owed by the subsidiary	Section 701-20
24C	An entity ceases to be a subsidiary member of a consolidated group and an asset becomes an asset of the entity because the single entity rule ceases to apply	The total cost base and reduced cost base for the entity of a liability owed to the entity	Section 701-45
24D	2 or more entities cease to be subsidiary members of a consolidated group	The total cost base and reduced cost base of the membership interests that one subsidiary member holds in another	Section 701-50
24E	Determining an asset's tax cost setting amount	The total cost base and reduced cost base of the asset	Section 701-55
24F	Eligible tier-1 company ceases to be a subsidiary member of a MEC group or a CGT event happens to a pooled interest in the company	The total cost base and reduced cost base	Section 719-565

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 112 Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base

Section 112-97

---

---

Modifications outside this Part and Part 3-3

---

Item	In this situation	Element affected:	See:
25	You make a forex realisation gain as a result of forex realisation event 4, and: (a) you incurred the obligation to pay foreign currency: (i) in return for the acquisition of a CGT asset; or (ii) as the second, third, fourth or fifth element of the cost base of a CGT asset; and (b) the foreign currency became due for payment within 12 months after the time when: (i) in the case of the acquisition of a CGT asset—you acquired the CGT asset; or (ii) in the case of the second, third, fourth or fifth element of the cost base of a CGT asset—you incurred the relevant expenditure	total cost base and reduced cost base	section 775-70

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Modifications outside this Part and Part 3-3

---

Item	In this situation	Element affected:	See:
26	You make a forex realisation loss as a result of forex realisation event 4, and: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) you incurred the obligation to pay foreign currency:                             <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(i) in return for the acquisition of a CGT asset; or</li> <li>(ii) as the second, third, fourth or fifth element of the cost base of a CGT asset; and</li> </ul> </li> <li>(b) the foreign currency became due for payment within 12 months after the time when:                             <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(i) in the case of the acquisition of a CGT asset—you acquired the CGT asset; or</li> <li>(ii) in the case of the second, third, fourth or fifth element of the cost base of a CGT asset—you incurred the relevant expenditure</li> </ul> </li> </ul>	total cost base and reduced cost base	section 775-75
27	You acquire foreign currency as a result of forex realisation event 2	first element of cost base and reduced cost base	section 775-125
28	On 10 May 2005, a foreign resident holds certain membership interests	first element of *cost base and *reduced cost base	subsection 855-25(3)
29	You are issued with an asset under a demutualisation of a health insurer	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	sections 315-80, 315-210 and 315-260

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 112 Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base

Section 112-100

---

---

Modifications outside this Part and Part 3-3

---

Item	In this situation	Element affected:	See:
30	You are transferred an asset by a lost policy holders trust under a demutualisation of a health insurer	First element of cost base and reduced cost base	sections 315-145, 315-210 and 315-260
31	An entitlement arises under Division 2AA of Part II of the Banking Act 1959 in connection with an account-holder's account with an ADI	The total cost base, and reduced cost base, of the entitlement and of the remainder (if any) of the right to be paid by the ADI in connection with the account	Section 253-15

---

Subdivision 112-C—Replacement-asset roll-overs

Table of sections

112-100	Effect of this Subdivision
112-105	What is a replacement-asset roll-over?
112-110	How is the cost base of the replacement asset modified?
112-115	Table of replacement-asset roll-overs

112-100 Effect of this Subdivision

This Subdivision is a *Guide.

Note: In interpreting an operative provision, a Guide may be considered only for limited purposes: see section 950-150.

112-105 What is a replacement-asset roll-over?

- (1) A replacement-asset roll-over allows you to defer the making of a capital gain or a capital loss from one CGT event until a later CGT event happens.
- (2) It involves your ownership of one CGT asset (the original asset) ending and you acquiring another one (the replacement asset).
- (3) All replacement-asset roll-overs are set out in the table in section 112-115.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

112-110 How is the cost base of the replacement asset modified?

If you acquired the original asset on or after 20 September 1985:

- (a) the first element of the replacement asset's cost base is replaced by the original asset's cost base at the time you acquired the replacement asset; and
- (b) the first element of the replacement asset's reduced cost base is replaced by the original asset's reduced cost base at the time you acquired the replacement asset.

Note 1: Some replacement-asset roll-overs involve other rules that affect the cost base or reduced cost base of the replacement asset.

Note 2: If you acquired the original asset before 20 September 1985, you are taken to have acquired the replacement asset before that day: see Subdivision 124-A.

Note 3: The reduced cost base may be further modified if the replacement asset roll-over happens after a demerger: see section 125-170.

112-115 Table of replacement-asset roll-overs

This table sets out all the replacement-asset roll-overs and tells you where you can find more detail about each one.

Provisions of this Act are in normal text. The other provisions, in bold, are provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Replacement-asset roll-overs
Item	For the rules about this roll-over:	See:
1	Disposal or creation of assets by individual or trustee to a wholly-owned company	sections 122-40 to 122-65
2	Disposal or creation of assets by partners to a wholly-owned company	sections 122-150 to 122-195
4	Asset compulsorily acquired, lost or destroyed	Subdivision 124-B
5	New statutory licences	Subdivision 124-C
6	Strata title conversion	Subdivision 124-D
7	Exchange of shares in the same company or units in the same unit trust	Subdivision 124-E
8	Exchange of rights or options to acquire shares in a company or units in a unit trust	Subdivision 124-F

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 112 Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base

Section 112-135

---

Replacement-asset roll-overs
Item	For the rules about this roll-over:	See:
9	Exchange of shares in one company for shares in an interposed company	Subdivision 124-G
10	Exchange of units in a unit trust for shares in a company	Subdivision 124-H
11	Body is converted to an incorporated company	Subdivision 124-I
12	Crown leases	Subdivision 124-J
13	Depreciating assets	Subdivision 124-K
14	Prospecting and mining entitlements	Subdivision 124-L
14A	Scrip for scrip	Subdivision 124-M
14B	Exchange of interests in a trust as a result of a trust restructure	Subdivision 124-N
14BA	Replacement assets acquired during an FSR transition	Subdivision 124-O
14BB	Exchange of an interest in an MDO for an interest in another MDO	Subdivision 124-P
14BC	Exchange of stapled ownership interests	Subdivision 124-Q
14C	Demergers	Division 125
15	Disposal of a security under a securities lending arrangement	section 26BC

Subdivision 112-D—Same-asset roll-overs

Table of sections

112-135	Effect of this Subdivision
112-140	What is a same-asset roll-over?
112-145	How is the cost base of the asset modified?
112-150	Table of same-asset roll-overs

112-135 Effect of this Subdivision

This Subdivision is a *Guide.

Note: In interpreting an operative provision, a Guide may be considered only for limited purposes: see section 950-150.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

112-140 What is a same-asset roll-over?

A same-asset roll-over allows one entity (the transferor) to disregard a capital gain or loss it makes from disposing of a CGT asset to, or creating a CGT asset in, another entity (the transferee). Any gain or loss is deferred until another CGT event happens in relation to the asset (in the hands of the transferee).

All same-asset roll-overs are set out in the table in section 112-150.

112-145 How is the cost base of the asset modified?

If the transferor acquired the asset on or after 20 September 1985:

- (a) the first element of the asset's cost base (in the hands of the transferee) is replaced by the asset's cost base at the time the transferee acquired it; and
- (b) the first element of the asset's reduced cost base (in the hands of the transferee) is replaced by the asset's reduced cost base at the time the transferee acquired it.

Note 1: If the transferor acquired the asset before 20 September 1985, the transferee is taken to have acquired it before that day: see Subdivision 126-A.

Note 2: The reduced cost base may be further modified if the same asset roll-over happens after a demerger: see section 125-170.

112-150 Table of same-asset roll-overs

This table sets out all the same-asset roll-overs and tells you where you can find more detail about each one.

Same-asset roll-overs
Item	For the rules about this roll-over:	See:
1	Transfer of a CGT asset from one spouse to the other because of a marriage or relationship breakdown	Subdivision 126-A
2	Transfer of a CGT asset from a company or trust to a spouse because of a marriage or relationship breakdown	Subdivision 126-A

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 112 Modifications to cost base and reduced cost base

Section 112-150

---

Same-asset roll-overs
Item	For the rules about this roll-over:	See:
3	Transfer of a CGT asset to a wholly-owned company	sections 122-70 and 122-75
4	Transfer of a CGT asset of a partnership to a wholly-owned company	Sections 122-200 and 122-205
4A	Transfer of a CGT asset of a trust to a company under a trust restructure	Subdivision 124-N
5	Transfer of a CGT asset between certain related companies	Subdivision 126-B
6	CGT event happens because a trust deed of a complying approved deposit fund, a complying superannuation fund or a fund that accepts worker entitlement contributions is changed	Subdivision 126-C
7	Transfer of a CGT asset from a small superannuation fund to another complying superannuation fund because of a marriage or relationship breakdown	Subdivision 126-D
8	Beneficiary becomes absolutely entitled to a share following a roll-over under Subdivision 124-M	Subdivision 126-E
9	Transfer of CGT assets between 30 June 2004 and 1 July 2006 from a superannuation fund whose trustee is not licensed to one or more superannuation funds whose trustees are or will be licensed	Subdivision 126-F

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Division 114—Indexation of cost base

Table of sections

114-1	Indexing elements of cost base
114-5	When indexation relevant
114-10	Requirement for 12 months ownership
114-15	Cost base modifications
114-20	When expenditure is incurred for roll-overs

114-1 Indexing elements of cost base

In working out the *cost base of a *CGT asset *acquired at or before 11.45 am (by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory) on 21 September 1999, index expenditure incurred at or before that time in each element. (The expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5).

Note 1: Subdivision 960-M shows you how to index amounts. The indexation does not take account of inflation after 30 September 1999.

Note 2: You have to work out the cost base of a CGT asset if a CGT event happens in relation to it or if there is a cost base modification.

Note 3: You cannot index expenditure in the third element (costs of ownership): see subsection 960-275(4).

Note 4: Indexation is not relevant to expenditure incurred after 11.45 am on 21 September 1999 or any expenditure relating to a CGT asset acquired after that time.

Example: Peter purchases a building as an investment on 1 January 1994 for $250,000. This amount forms the first element of his cost base.

He sold the building on 1 February 1996.

The index number for the quarter in which he sold the building (the March quarter 1996) is 119.0. The index number for the quarter in which he purchased the building (the March quarter 1994) is 110.4.

Applying section 960-275, work out the indexation factor as follows:

$$\frac{119.0}{110.4} = 1.078$$

The indexed first element of Peter's cost base is:

$$$250,000 \times 1.078 = $269,500$$

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 114-5

---

114-5 When indexation relevant

- (1) Indexation is only relevant if the *cost base of a *CGT asset is relevant to a *CGT event.

Note 1: The table in section 110-10 sets out the CGT events for which cost base is not relevant.

Note 2: Indexation is not relevant to the reduced cost base of a CGT asset.

Indexation for some entities only if indexation chosen

- (2) Indexation is not relevant to the *capital gain of an entity mentioned in an item of the table from a *CGT event happening after 11.45 am (by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory) on 21 September 1999, unless the relevant entity mentioned in that item has chosen that the *cost base include indexation:

---

Entities for which indexation is not relevant unless chosen

Item	Indexation is not relevant to the capital gain of this entity:	Unless this entity has chosen that the cost base include indexation:
1	An individual	The individual
2	A *complying superannuation entity	The trustee of the complying superannuation entity
3	A trust	The trustee of the trust
4	A listed investment company	The company

- (3) Indexation is not relevant to the *capital gain of a *life insurance company from a *CGT event happening after 30 June 2000 in respect of a *CGT asset that is a *complying superannuation/FHSA asset unless the company has chosen that the *cost base include indexation.

Note: Section 114-5 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997 provides that indexation is not relevant to the capital gain of a life insurance company or registered organisation from a CGT event after 11.45 am on 21 September 1999 and before 1 July 2000 unless the company or organisation chooses it.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

114-10 Requirement for 12 months ownership

- (1) You only index expenditure in the *cost base of a *CGT asset for a *CGT event happening in relation to the asset if you, or the entity whose cost base is being worked out, had *acquired the asset at or before 11.45 am (by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory) on 21 September 1999 and at least 12 months before the time of that *CGT event.

Note: Generally, expenditure is indexed from when it is incurred: see subsection 960-275(2). The exception is when there is an acquisition that did not result from a CGT event. The first element in this case is indexed from when the expenditure was paid: see subsection 960-275(3).

- (2) There are 5 exceptions:
- one for *CGT event E8: see subsection (3); and
  - one for roll-overs: see subsections (4) and (5); and
  - one for deceased estates: see subsection (6); and
  - one for a surviving joint tenant: see subsection (7); and
  - one for *CGT event J1: see subsection (8).

CGT event E8

- (3) For *CGT event E8, the beneficiary indexes the *cost bases of the *CGT assets of the trust only if the beneficiary *acquired the *CGT asset that is the interest in the trust capital at least 12 months before *disposing of it.

It does not matter (for indexation from the beneficiary's point of view) how long the trustee owned any of the assets of the trust.

Same asset roll-overs

- (4) The 12 month rule is satisfied for both the entity that owned a *CGT asset before a *same-asset roll-over and the entity that owned it after the roll-over if the sum of their periods of ownership of the asset (and the sum of the periods of ownership of the asset of

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 114-10

---

other entities involved in an unbroken series of roll-overs) is at least 12 months.

Replacement asset roll-overs

- (5) The 12 month rule is satisfied for an entity obtaining a *replacement-asset roll-over for a *CGT event happening in relation to a *CGT asset if the period of the entity's ownership of the original asset (and of other assets for an unbroken series of replacement-asset roll-overs) and of the replacement asset are together at least 12 months.

Example: Company A transfers a CGT asset to Company B (which is a member of the same wholly-owned group and a foreign resident) 5 months after acquiring it. There is a roll-over for the transfer under Subdivision 126-B.

Company B sells the asset 8 months after the transfer.

Company A indexes expenditure in its cost base up to the transfer. That cost base becomes the first element of Company B's cost base. Company B indexes its cost base from the transfer to the sale.

Deceased estates

- (6) If a *CGT asset you owned just before dying devolves to your *legal personal representative or *passes to a beneficiary in your estate, the 12 month rule applies to the legal personal representative or the beneficiary as if that entity had *acquired the asset when you acquired it.

Surviving joint tenant

- (7) If individuals own a *CGT asset as joint tenants and one of them dies, the 12 month rule applies to the surviving joint tenant as if the surviving joint tenant had *acquired the deceased's interest in the asset when the deceased acquired it.

Note: The surviving joint tenant is taken to have acquired the deceased's interest in the asset: see section 128-50.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

CGT event J1

- (8) If *CGT event J1 happens, the company that owns the roll-over asset ignores (for indexation purposes) the acquisition rule in subsection 104-175(8).

114-15 Cost base modifications

- (1) There are a number of modifications to the *cost base of *CGT assets (see sections 112-20 and 112-35 and Subdivisions 112-B, 112-C and 112-D). These affect the way indexation works.
- (2) If a cost base modification replaces an element of the *cost base of a *CGT asset with an amount, or includes an amount in such an element, you index the element or the amount as if expenditure equal to the amount had been incurred in the quarter in which the modification occurred.

Example: A trust is declared over a CGT asset (an example of CGT event E1). The first element of the cost base in the hands of the trustee is its market value. The trustee indexes that market value from the quarter in which the trust was declared.

- (3) A different rule applies if a cost base modification reduces the total *cost base of a *CGT asset.

Method statement

- Step 1. Work out the *cost base (all elements) of the asset as at the quarter in which the modification occurred.
- Step 2. Subtract the amount of the reduction.
- Step 3. The Step 2 amount forms a new first element of your *cost base, and is later indexed as if you had incurred expenditure equal to that amount in the quarter in which the modification occurred.

Example: Margaret receives a capital payment of $1,000 for shares (an example of CGT event G1). The first element of her cost base is $10,250 (indexed to the quarter in which the payment was made) and the second element (similarly indexed) is $210. Add those amounts ($10,460) and subtract the $1,000. Her new first element of the cost base is $9,460. There are no other elements at that time.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 114-20

---

- (4) Despite subsection (2), there are different rules for the exercise of an option or the conversion of a *convertible interest.

Exercise of options

- (5) The amount you paid for the option, and the amount you paid to exercise it, are indexed from the quarter in which the liabilities to pay the amounts were incurred.

Example: On 1 April 1997, Robyn grants Andrew an option to buy land she owns. The option fee is $10,000, and the option is to buy the land on 30 June 1998 for $100,000.

Andrew exercises the option and acquires the land on 30 June 1998. To work out whether there is a capital gain when Andrew disposes of the land, indexation is available if the land is disposed of 12 months or more after its acquisition.

The $10,000 option fee can be indexed from 1 April 1997 (when the liability to pay it was incurred). The $100,000 exercise price can be indexed from 30 June 1998 (when the liability to pay the price was incurred).

Convertible interests

- (6) If you *acquire *shares in a company or units in a unit trust by converting a *convertible interest, the amount paid for the convertible interest, and the amount paid to convert it, are indexed from the quarter in which the liabilities to pay the amounts were incurred.

Note: If shares or units are acquired as a result of the exercise of the option or the conversion of the convertible interest, and an amount is paid to the company or trust on the shares or units after the day of acquisition, that amount is indexed from the time it is paid: see subsection 960-275(3).

114-20 When expenditure is incurred for roll-overs

If there is a roll-over for a *CGT event happening in relation to a *CGT asset and the first element of the *cost base of the asset is the whole of the cost base of:

- (a) for a *replacement-asset roll-over, the original asset; or
(b) for a *same-asset roll-over, the CGT asset;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

you index that element as if expenditure equal to the amount in that element had been incurred in the quarter in which the CGT event happened.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 115—Discount capital gains and trusts' net capital gains

Table of Subdivisions

Guide to Division 115

115-A Discount capital gains

115-B Discount percentage

115-C Rules about trusts with net capital gains

115-D Tax relief for shareholders in listed investment companies

Guide to Division 115

115-1 What this Division is about

A discount capital gain remaining after the application of any capital losses and net capital losses from previous income years is reduced by the discount percentage when working out your net capital gain.

A capital gain from a CGT asset is a discount capital gain only if the entity making the gain acquired the asset at least a year before the CGT event causing the gain and no choice has been made to include indexation in the cost base of the asset.

Special rules apply to the net income of trusts with net capital gains, to ensure that the appropriate discount percentage is applied and to let beneficiaries apply their capital losses against their share of the trust's capital gains.

Special rules apply to certain capital gains made by listed investment companies to enable shareholders receiving dividends that include these gains to obtain benefits similar to those conferred by the CGT discount.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 115-A—Discount capital gains

Table of sections

What is a discount capital gain?

- 115-5 What is a discount capital gain?
- 115-10 Who can make a discount capital gain?
- 115-15 Discount capital gain must be made after 21 September 1999
- 115-20 Discount capital gain must not have indexed cost base
- 115-25 Discount capital gain must be on asset acquired at least 12 months before
- 115-30 Special rules about time of acquisition

What are not discount capital gains?

- 115-40 Capital gain resulting from agreement made within a year of acquisition
- 115-45 Capital gain from equity in an entity with newly acquired assets
- 115-50 Discount capital gain from equity in certain entities

What is a discount capital gain?

115-5 What is a discount capital gain?

A discount capital gain is a *capital gain that meets the requirements of sections 115-10, 115-15, 115-20 and 115-25.

Note: Sections 115-40, 115-45 and 775-70 identify capital gains that are not discount capital gains, despite this section.

115-10 Who can make a discount capital gain?

To be a *discount capital gain, the *capital gain must be made by:

- (a) an individual; or
- (b) a *complying superannuation entity; or
- (c) a trust; or
- (d) a *life insurance company in relation to a *discount capital gain from a *CGT event in respect of a *CGT asset that is a *complying superannuation/FHSA asset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

115-15 Discount capital gain must be made after 21 September 1999

To be a *discount capital gain, the *capital gain must result from a *CGT event happening after 11.45 am (by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory) on 21 September 1999.

115-20 Discount capital gain must not have indexed cost base

- (1) To be a *discount capital gain, the *capital gain must have been worked out:
- (a) using a *cost base that has been calculated without reference to indexation at any time; or
  - (b) for a capital gain that arose under *CGT event K7—using the *cost of the *depreciating asset concerned.

Note: A listed investment company must also calculate capital gains without reference to indexation in order to allow its shareholders to access the concessions in Subdivision 115-D.

- (2) For the purposes of working out whether the *capital gain is a *discount capital gain and the amount of that gain, the *cost base taken into account in working out the capital gain may be recalculated without reference to indexation if the cost base had an element including indexation because of another provision of this Act. This subsection has effect despite that other provision.

Note: This lets a capital gain of an entity (the gain entity) on a CGT asset be a discount capital gain even if:

- (a) another provision of this Act (such as a provision for a same-asset roll-over or Division 128) set the gain entity's cost base for the asset by reference to the cost base for the asset when it was owned by another entity (the earlier owner), and the earlier owner's cost base for the asset included indexation; or
- (b) another provision of this Act (such as a provision for a replacement-asset roll-over) set the cost base of the asset by reference to the cost base of the original asset involved in the roll-over, and the original asset's cost base included indexation.

Example: In 1995 Elizabeth acquired land from her ex-husband under an order made by a court under the Family Law Act 1975. Former section 160ZZM of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 treated her as having paid $56,000 for the land, equal to her ex-husband's indexed cost base for it. His cost base for the land then was $40,000.

In 2000, she sold the land for capital proceeds of $150,000.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Her discount capital gain on the land is $110,000 (equal to the capital proceeds less the cost base for the land without indexation).

- (3) This section does not apply to a *capital gain worked out under subsection 104-255(3) (about carried interests).

115-25 Discount capital gain must be on asset acquired at least 12 months before

- (1) To be a *discount capital gain, the *capital gain must result from a *CGT event happening to a *CGT asset that was *acquired by the entity making the capital gain at least 12 months before the CGT event.

Note: Even if the capital gain results from a CGT event happening at least a year after the CGT asset was acquired, the gain may not be a discount capital gain, depending on the cause of the CGT event (see section 115-40) and the nature of the asset (see sections 115-45 and 115-50).

- (2) To avoid doubt, subsection (1) applies to the *CGT asset shown in the table for a *CGT event listed in the table.

CGT assets to which subsection (1) applies
Item	CGT event	CGT asset to which subsection (1) applies
1A	D4	the land over which the *conservation covenant is entered into
1	E8	the interest or part interest in the trust capital
2	K6	the *share or interest *acquired before 20 September 1985

- (2A) If the *capital gain results from a *CGT event K9 happening:
- (a) subsection (1) does not apply; and
  - (b) to be a *discount capital gain, the *carried interest to which the CGT event relates must arise under a partnership agreement entered into at least 12 months before the CGT event.
- (3) A *capital gain from one of these *CGT events is not a discount capital gain (despite section 115-5):
- (a) *CGT event D1;
  - (b) *CGT event D2;

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 115-30

---

- (c) *CGT event D3;
- (d) *CGT event E9;
- (e) *CGT event F1;
- (f) *CGT event F2;
- (g) *CGT event F5;
- (h) *CGT event H2;
- (ha) *CGT event J2;
- (hb) *CGT event J5;
- (hc) *CGT event J6;
- (i) *CGT event K10.

Note: Capital gains from the CGT events mentioned in paragraphs (3)(a) to (f) are not discount capital gains because the CGT asset involved in the CGT event comes into existence at the time of the event, so it is impossible to meet the requirement in this section that the asset have been acquired at least 12 months before the event.

115-30 Special rules about time of acquisition

Entity is treated as acquiring some CGT assets early

- (1) Sections 115-25, 115-40 and 115-45 (the affected sections) apply as if an entity (the acquirer) had acquired a *CGT asset described in an item of the table at the time mentioned in the item:

When the acquirer is treated as having acquired a CGT asset
Item	The affected sections apply as if the acquirer had acquired this CGT asset:	At this time:
1	A *CGT asset the acquirer *acquired in circumstances giving rise to a *same-asset roll-over	(a) when the entity that owned the CGT asset before the roll-over *acquired it; or (b) if the asset has been involved in an unbroken series of roll-overs—when the entity that owned it before the first roll-over in the series *acquired it

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

When the acquirer is treated as having acquired a CGT asset

---

Item	The affected sections apply as if the acquirer had acquired this CGT asset:	At this time:
2	A *CGT asset that the acquirer *acquired as a replacement asset for a *replacement-asset roll-over	(a) when the acquirer acquired the original asset involved in the roll-over; or (b) if the acquirer acquired the replacement asset for a roll-over that was the last in an unbroken series of replacement-asset roll-overs—when the acquirer acquired the original asset involved in the first roll-over in the series
3	A *CGT asset the acquirer *acquired as the *legal personal representative of a deceased individual, except one that was a *pre-CGT asset of the deceased immediately before his or her death	When the deceased *acquired the asset
4	A *CGT asset that *passed to the acquirer as the beneficiary of a deceased individual's estate, except one that was a *pre-CGT asset of the deceased immediately before his or her death	When the deceased *acquired the asset
5	A *CGT asset that: (a) the acquirer *acquired as the *legal personal representative of a deceased individual; and (b) was a *pre-CGT asset of the deceased immediately before his or her death	When the deceased died
6	A *CGT asset that: (a) *passed to the acquirer as the beneficiary of a deceased individual's estate; and (b) was a *pre-CGT asset of the deceased immediately before his or her death	When the deceased died

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

When the acquirer is treated as having acquired a CGT asset

---

Item	The affected sections apply as if the acquirer had acquired this CGT asset:	At this time:
7	The interest (or share of an interest) the acquirer is taken under section 128-50 to have *acquired in another *CGT asset that the acquirer and another individual held as joint tenants immediately before he or she died	When the deceased *acquired his or her interest in the other CGT asset
8	A *CGT asset that is a *share or right where: (a) the share or right was *acquired under an *employee share scheme; and (b) the share or right was acquired from an *employee share trust; and (c) if the share is a *qualifying share or the right is a *qualifying right—the acquirer made an election under section 139E of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936	When the acquirer first acquired a beneficial interest in the share or right

Note: Under section 128-50, the acquirer is taken to acquire the interest of a deceased individual in a CGT asset the acquirer and the deceased held as joint tenants immediately before the deceased's death (or an equal share of that interest if there are other surviving joint tenants).

- (1A) A *share or right that, under section 139DQ of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, is treated as if it were a continuation of another share, right or stapled security (as defined in Division 13A of Part III of that Act) for the purposes of that Division is treated in the same way for the purposes of item 8 of the table in subsection (1) of this section.
- (1B) A *CGT asset that forms part of a stapled security (as defined in Division 13A of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) that is treated under section 139DQ of that Act as if it were a continuation of another *share or stapled security for the purposes of that Division, is treated for the purposes of item 8 of the table in subsection (1) of this section as if it were a continuation of each CGT asset that was, or was a part of, the other share or stapled security.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Note: This Part applies in relation to a CGT asset that forms part of a stapled security acquired under an employee share scheme in the same way as it applies in relation to a share acquired under an employee share scheme: see section 130-97.

CGT event E8

- (2) For the purposes of applying sections 115-25 and 115-40 in relation to *CGT event E8 and the *CGT asset consisting of a beneficiary's interest in trust capital, it does not matter how long the trustee owned any of the assets of the trust.

Note: Section 115-45 limits the effect of this subsection in some cases.

Relationship with Subdivision 109-A and Division 128

- (3) This section has effect despite Subdivision 109-A and Division 128 (which contain rules about the time when you *acquire a *CGT asset).

What are not discount capital gains?

115-40 Capital gain resulting from agreement made within a year of acquisition

Your *capital gain on a *CGT asset from a *CGT event is not a discount capital gain (despite section 115-5) if the CGT event occurred under an agreement you made within 12 months of *acquiring the CGT asset.

Note: Section 115-30 may affect the time when you are treated as having acquired the CGT asset.

115-45 Capital gain from equity in an entity with newly acquired assets

Purpose of this section

- (1) The purpose of this section is to deny you a *discount capital gain on your *share in a company or interest in a trust if you would not have had *discount capital gains on the majority of *CGT assets (by cost and by value) underlying the share or interest if:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 115-45

---

- (a) you had owned them for the time the company or trust did; and
- (b) *CGT events had happened to them when the CGT event happened to your share or interest.

When a capital gain is not a discount capital gain

- (2) Your *capital gain from a *CGT event happening to:
  - (a) your *share in a company; or
  - (b) your *trust voting interest, unit or other fixed interest in a trust; is not a discount capital gain if the 3 conditions in subsections (3), (4) and (5) are met. This section has effect despite section 115-5 and subsection 115-30(2).

Note: This section does not prevent a capital gain from being a discount capital gain if there are at least 300 members or beneficiaries of the company or trust and control of the company or trust is not and cannot be concentrated (see section 115-50).

You had at least 10% of the equity in the entity before the event

- (3) The first condition is that, just before the *CGT event, you and your *associates beneficially owned:
  - (a) at least 10% by value of the *shares in the company (except shares that carried a right only to participate in a distribution of profits or capital to a limited extent); or
  - (b) at least 10% of the *trust voting interests, issued units or other fixed interests (as appropriate) in the trust.

Cost bases of new assets are more than 50% of all cost bases of entity's assets

- (4) The second condition is that the total of the *cost bases of *CGT assets that the company or trust owned at the time of the *CGT event and had *acquired less than 12 months before then is more than half of the total of the *cost bases of the *CGT assets the company or trust owned at the time of the event.

Note: Section 115-30 may affect the time when the company or trust is treated as having acquired a CGT asset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Net capital gain on entity's new assets would be more than 50% of net capital gain on all the entity's assets

- (5) The third condition is that the amount worked out under subsection (6) is more than half of the amount worked out under subsection (7).
- (6) Work out the amount that would be the *net capital gain of the company or trust for the income year if:
- (a) just before the *CGT event, the company or trust had *disposed of all of the *CGT assets that it owned then and had *acquired less than 12 months before the *CGT event; and
  - (b) it had received the *market value of those assets for the disposal; and
  - (c) the company or trust did not have any *capital gains or *capital losses from *CGT events other than the disposal; and
  - (d) the company or trust did not have a *net capital loss for an earlier income year.

Note: Section 115-30 may affect the time when the company or trust is treated as having acquired a CGT asset.

- (7) Work out the amount that would be the *net capital gain of the company or trust for the income year if:
- (a) just before the *CGT event, the company or trust had *disposed of all of the *CGT assets that it owned then; and
  - (b) it had received the *market value of those assets for the disposal; and
  - (c) all of the *capital gains and *capital losses from those assets were taken into account in working out the net capital gain, despite any rules providing that one or more of those capital gains or losses are not to be taken into account in working out the net capital gain; and
  - (d) the company or trust did not have any *capital gains or *capital losses from *CGT events other than the disposal; and
  - (e) the company or trust did not have a *net capital loss for an earlier income year.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

115-50 Discount capital gain from equity in certain entities

Capital gain from share in company with 300 members

- (1) Section 115-45 does not prevent a *capital gain from a *CGT event happening to a *share in a company with at least 300 *members from being a *discount capital gain, unless subsection (3) or (6) applies in relation to the company.

Capital gain from interest in fixed trust with 300 beneficiaries

- (2) Section 115-45 does not prevent a *capital gain from a *CGT event happening to an interest in a trust from being a *discount capital gain if:
- (a) entities have fixed entitlements to all of the income and capital of the trust; and
  - (b) the trust has at least 300 beneficiaries; and
  - (c) neither subsection (4) nor subsection (6) applies in relation to the trust.

No discount capital gain if ownership is concentrated

- (3) Section 115-45 may prevent a *capital gain from a *share in a company from being a *discount capital gain if an individual owns, or up to 20 individuals own between them, directly or indirectly (through one or more interposed entities) and for their own benefit, *shares in the company:
- (a) carrying fixed entitlements to:
    - (i) at least 75% of the company's income; or
    - (ii) at least 75% of the company's capital; or
  - (b) carrying at least 75% of the voting rights in the company.
- (4) Section 115-45 may prevent a *capital gain from an interest in a trust from being a *discount capital gain if an individual owns, or up to 20 individuals own between them, directly or indirectly (through one or more interposed entities) and for their own benefit, interests in the trust:
- (a) carrying fixed entitlements to:
    - (i) at least 75% of the trust's income; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (ii) at least 75% of the trust's capital; or
  - (b) if beneficiaries of the trust have a right to vote in respect of activities of the trust—carrying at least 75% of those voting rights.
- (5) Subsections (3) and (4) operate as if all of these were a single individual:
- (a) an individual, whether or not the individual holds *shares in the company or interests in the trust (as appropriate);
  - (b) the individual's *associates;
  - (c) for any *shares or interests in respect of which other individuals are nominees of the individual or of the individual's associates—those other individuals.

No discount capital gain if rights can be varied to concentrate ownership

- (6) Section 115-45 may prevent a *capital gain from a *share in a company, or from an interest in a trust, from being a *discount capital gain if, because of anything listed in subsection (7), it is reasonable to conclude that the rights attaching to any of the *shares in the company or interests in the trust (as appropriate) can be varied or abrogated in such a way that subsection (3) or (4) would be satisfied.
- (7) These are the things:
- (a) any provision in the constituent document of the company or trust, or in any contract, agreement or instrument:
    - (i) authorising the variation or abrogation of rights attaching to any of the *shares in the company or interests in the trust (as appropriate); or
    - (ii) relating to the conversion, cancellation, extinguishment or redemption of any of those shares or interests;
  - (b) any contract, *arrangement, option or instrument under which a person has power to acquire any of those shares or interests;
  - (c) any power, authority or discretion in a person in relation to the rights attaching to any of those shares or interests.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 115 Discount capital gains and trusts' net capital gains

Section 115-100

---

- (8) It does not matter for the purposes of subsection (6) whether or not the rights attaching to any of the *shares or interests are varied or abrogated in the way described in that subsection.

Subdivision 115-B—Discount percentage

Table of sections

115-100 What is the discount percentage for a discount capital gain

115-100 What is the discount percentage for a discount capital gain

The discount percentage for an amount of a *discount capital gain is:

- (a) 50% if the gain is made:
  - (i) by an individual; or
  - (ii) by a trust (other than a trust that is a *complying superannuation entity or *FHSA trust); or
- (b) 33<sup>1</sup>/<sub>3</sub>% if the gain is made:
  - (i) by a complying superannuation entity; or
  - (ii) by an FHSA trust; or
  - (iii) by a *life insurance company from a *CGT asset that is a *complying superannuation/FHSA asset.

Subdivision 115-C—Rules about trusts with net capital gains

Guide to Subdivision 115-C

115-200 What this Division is about

This Subdivision sets out rules for dealing with the net income of a trust that has a net capital gain. The rules treat parts of the net income attributable to the trust's net capital gain as capital gains made by the beneficiary entitled to those parts. This lets the beneficiary reduce those parts by any capital losses and unapplied net capital losses it has.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

If the trust's capital gain was reduced by either the general 50% discount in step 3 of the method statement in subsection 102-5(1) or by the small business 50% reduction in Subdivision 152-C (but not both), then the gain is doubled. The beneficiary can then apply its capital losses to the gain before applying the appropriate discount percentage (if any) or the small business 50% reduction.

If the trust's capital gain was reduced by both the general 50% discount and the small business 50% reduction, then the gain is multiplied by 4. The beneficiary can then apply its capital losses to the gain before applying the appropriate discount percentage (if any) and the small business 50% reduction.

The rules also give the beneficiary a deduction if necessary to prevent it from being taxed twice on the same parts of the trust's net income.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

- 115-210 When this Subdivision applies
- 115-215 Assessing presently entitled beneficiaries
- 115-220 Special rule for assessing trustee under paragraph 98(3)(b) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
- 115-222 Special rule for assessing trustee under subsection 98(4) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
- 115-225 Special rule for assessing trustee under section 99A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
- 115-230 Assessing capital gains of resident testamentary trusts

Operative provisions

115-210 When this Subdivision applies

- (1) This Subdivision applies if a trust estate has a *net capital gain for an income year that is taken into account in working out the trust estate's net income (as defined in section 95 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) for the income year.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 115-215

---

- (2) If the trust estate has a beneficiary that is a *complying superannuation entity that is a trust, this Subdivision applies in relation to the complying superannuation entity as a beneficiary but not as a trust estate. This Subdivision does not apply otherwise to a *complying superannuation entity that is a trust.

115-215 Assessing presently entitled beneficiaries

Purpose

- (1) The purpose of this section is to ensure that appropriate amounts of the trust estate's net income attributable to the trust estate's *capital gains are treated as a beneficiary's capital gains when assessing the beneficiary, so:
- (a) the beneficiary can apply *capital losses against gains; and
  - (b) the beneficiary can apply the appropriate *discount percentage (if any) to gains.

Application

- (2) This section treats you as having certain extra *capital gains, and gives you a deduction, if:
- (a) you are the beneficiary of the trust estate; and
  - (b) your assessable income for the income year includes an amount (the trust amount):
    - (i) under paragraph 97(1)(a) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; or
    - (ii) under subsection 98A(1) or (3) of that Act; or
    - (iii) under section 100 of that Act.

Extra capital gains

- (3) For each *capital gain (the trust gain) of the trust estate, Division 102 applies to you as if you had:
- (a) if the trust gain was not reduced under either step 3 of the method statement in subsection 102-5(1) (*discount capital gains) or Subdivision 152-C (small business 50% reduction)—a capital gain equal to the part (if any) of the trust amount that is attributable to the trust gain; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) if the trust gain was reduced under either step 3 of the method statement or Subdivision 152-C but not both (even if it was further reduced by the other small business concessions)—a capital gain equal to twice the part (if any) of the trust amount that is attributable to the trust gain; and
  - (c) if the trust gain was reduced under both step 3 of the method statement and Subdivision 152-C (even if it was further reduced by the other small business concessions)—a capital gain equal to 4 times the part (if any) of the trust amount that is attributable to the trust gain.
- (4) For each *capital gain of yours mentioned in paragraph (3)(b) or (c):
- (a) if the relevant trust gain was reduced under step 3 of the method statement in subsection 102-5(1)—Division 102 also applies to you as if your capital gain were a *discount capital gain, if you are the kind of entity that can have a discount capital gain; and
  - (b) if the relevant trust gain was reduced under Subdivision 152-C—the capital gain remaining after you apply step 3 of the method statement is reduced by 50%.

Note: This ensures that your share of the trust estate's net capital gain is taxed as if it were a capital gain you made (assuming you made the same choices about cost bases including indexation as the trustee).

- (4A) To avoid doubt, subsection (3) treats you as having a *capital gain for the purposes of Division 102, despite section 102-20.

Section 118-20 does not reduce extra capital gains

- (5) To avoid doubt, section 118-20 does not reduce a *capital gain that subsection (3) treats you as having for the purpose of applying Division 102.

Deduction

- (6) You can deduct for the income year the part (if any) of the trust amount that is attributable to the trust estate's *net capital gain mentioned in subsection 102-5(1).

Note: This deduction ensures you are not taxed twice on the part of the trust amount that is attributable to the trust estate's net capital gain.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

115-220 Special rule for assessing trustee under paragraph 98(3)(b) of the *Income Tax Assessment Act 1936

Purpose

- (1) The purpose of this section is to ensure a trustee assessed under paragraph 98(3)(b) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (in respect of the share of the net income to which a beneficiary that is a company is entitled) does not get the benefit in that assessment of the *discount percentage that the company would not have got if it had been assessed in respect of the share.

Modification of paragraph 98(3)(b)

- (2) The trustee is to be assessed (and pay tax) under paragraph 98(3)(b) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 as if the part of the share that is attributable to a *capital gain of the trust estate that was reduced under step 3 of the method statement in subsection 102-5(1) were double the amount that it actually is.

115-222 Special rule for assessing trustee under subsection 98(4) of the *Income Tax Assessment Act 1936

Purpose

- (1) The purpose of this section is to ensure a trustee assessed under subsection 98(4) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (in respect of the share of the net income to which a beneficiary that is a foreign resident in the capacity of a trustee is entitled) does not get the benefit in that assessment of the *discount percentage.

Modification of subsection 98(4)

- (2) The trustee is to be assessed (and pay tax) under subsection 98(4) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 as if the part of the share that is attributable to a *capital gain of the trust that was reduced under step 3 of the method statement in subsection 102-5(1) were double the amount that it actually is.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

115-225 Special rule for assessing trustee under section 99A of the *Income Tax Assessment Act 1936

Purpose

- (1) The purpose of this section is to reverse the benefit of applying the *discount percentage or the small business 50% reduction under Subdivision 152-C in working out the trust estate's net income when the trustee is assessed under section 99A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 on an amount of the net income.

Modification of section 99A

- (2) The trustee is to be assessed (and pay tax) under section 99A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 as if:
  - (a) if a *capital gain of the trust was reduced under either step 3 of the method statement in subsection 102-5(1) (discount capital gains) or Subdivision 152-C (small business 50% reduction) but not both (even if it was further reduced by the other small business concessions in Subdivisions 152-D and 152-E)—the part of the amount that is attributable to the trust estate's capital gain were double the amount that it actually is; and
  - (b) if a capital gain was reduced under both step 3 of the method statement and Subdivision 152-C (even if it was further reduced by the other small business concessions)—the part of the amount that is attributable to the trust estate's gain were 4 times the amount that it actually is.

115-230 Assessing capital gains of resident testamentary trusts

Purpose

- (1) The purpose of this section is to allow a trustee of a resident testamentary trust to make a choice that has the effect that the trustee will be assessed on *capital gains of the trust in situations where:
  - (a) the gains would otherwise form part of a share of the net income of the trust estate that would be included in the

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 115-230

---

assessable income of a beneficiary who could not benefit from them; or

- (b) the trustee would otherwise be liable to tax on the gains on behalf of such a beneficiary under section 98 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Trusts for which choice can be made

- (2) A trustee can only make a choice under this section in relation to a trust estate:
  - (a) that results from:
    - (i) a will, a codicil or an order of a court that varied or modified the provisions of a will or a codicil; or
    - (ii) an intestacy or an order of a court that varied or modified the application, in relation to the estate of a deceased person, of the provisions of the law relating to the distribution of the estates of persons who die intestate; and
  - (b) that is, in the income year in respect of which the choice is made, a resident trust estate within the meaning of Division 6 of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Circumstances in which choice can be made

- (3) If:
  - (a) apart from this section:
    - (i) a share of the net income of a trust estate that is attributable to *capital gains would be included in the assessable income of a beneficiary for an income year under section 97 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; or
    - (ii) a trustee would, on behalf of a beneficiary, be assessed and liable to pay tax for an income year under section 98 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 in respect of a share of the net income of a trust estate that is attributable to capital gains; and
  - (b) the beneficiary does not have a vested and indefeasible interest in trust property representing that share; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

(c) trust property representing that share has not been paid to or applied for the benefit of the beneficiary; the trustee may, no later than the deadline in subsection (5), make a choice that subsection (4) applies in respect of the beneficiary's share.

Consequences if trustee makes choice

- (4) These are the consequences if the trustee makes a choice that this subsection applies in respect of a beneficiary's share:
- (a) for the purposes of sections 97, 98A and 100 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, the share is taken not to be included in the assessable income of the beneficiary;
  - (b) the trustee is not assessed, and is not liable to pay tax, in respect of the share under section 98 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Note 1: Because of these consequences in relation to sections 97 and 98 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, the trustee will be assessed on the beneficiary's share under section 99A or (at the Commissioner's discretion) 99 of that Act.

Note 2: Section 115-215 does not apply in relation to an amount to which this subsection applies.

Deadline for making choice

- (5) The deadline for the purposes of subsection (3) is:
- (a) the day 2 months after the last day of the income year; or
  - (b) a later day allowed by the Commissioner.

Note: This deadline is an exception to the general rule about choices in section 103-25.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 115-D—Tax relief for shareholders in listed investment companies

Guide to Subdivision 115-D

115-275 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision allows shareholders of certain listed companies to obtain benefits similar to those conferred by discount capital gains.

The benefits accrue where dividends paid by those companies represent capital gains that would be discount capital gains had they been made by an individual, a trust or a complying superannuation entity.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

115-280	Deduction for certain dividends
115-285	Meaning of LIC capital gain
115-290	Meaning of listed investment company
115-295	Maintaining records

Operative provisions

115-280 Deduction for certain dividends

- (1) You can deduct an amount for a *dividend paid to you by a company (the payment company) if:
  - (a) you are:
    - (i) an individual, a *complying superannuation entity, a trust or a partnership; or
    - (ia) an *FHSA trust; or
    - (ii) a *life insurance company where the dividend is in respect of *shares that are *complying superannuation/FHSA assets; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) when the dividend is paid, either you are an Australian resident or you are an individual who is a foreign resident and carries on business in Australia at or through your permanent establishment in Australia, being a permanent establishment within the meaning of:
  - (i) a double tax agreement (as defined in Part X of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) that relates to a foreign country and affects the individual; or
  - (ii) subsection 6(1) of that Act, if there is no such agreement; and
- (ba) if, when the dividend is paid, you are an individual who is a foreign resident and has in Australia such a permanent establishment—the dividend is attributable to the permanent establishment; and
- (c) all or some part of the dividend is reasonably attributable to a *LIC capital gain made by a *listed investment company; and
- (d) in a case where the LIC capital gain was made by a company other than the payment company—the payment company was a listed investment company when it received a dividend part of which is attributable to the LIC capital gain.

Note: The concession is available for LIC capital gains made directly by a listed investment company, and for LIC capital gains that company receives as a dividend through one or more other listed investment companies.

- (2) The amount you can deduct is:
  - (a) 50% of your share of the amount (the attributable part) worked out under subsection (3) if you are an individual, a trust (except a trust that is a *complying superannuation entity or an *FHSA trust) or a partnership; or
  - (b) 33<sup>1</sup>/<sub>3</sub>% of your share of the attributable part if you are a complying superannuation entity, an FHSA trust or a *life insurance company.

Note 1: The listed investment company will advise you of your share of the attributable part.

Note 2: If a shareholder in a listed investment company is a trust or partnership, a beneficiary of the trust or a partner in the partnership has no share of the attributable part.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(3) The attributable part is worked out using this formula:

$$\text{After tax gain} + \left[ \frac{\text{After tax gain} \times \begin{matrix} * \text{Corporate tax rate} \\ \text{(at the time of the *CGT event)} \end{matrix}}{1 - * \text{Corporate tax rate (at that time)}} \right]$$

where:

after tax gain is the after tax *LIC capital gain.

Example: A listed investment company disposes of a CGT asset for $30,000. The asset had a cost base of $10,000. The capital gain is therefore $20,000. The company applies a capital loss of $10,000 against the gain. Its net capital gain is $10,000.

The net capital gain is subject to tax at 30%. The after tax gain is therefore $7,000.

The company pays a fully franked dividend to Daryl, one of its shareholders. It advises Daryl that his share of the attributable part of the dividend is:

$$$7 + \left[ \left( $7 \times 0.3 \right) \div \left( 1 - 0.3 \right) \right] = $10$$

Daryl, being an individual, can deduct 50% of $10, which is $5.

(4) An amount is included in your assessable income if:

- (a) a deduction is allowed under subsection (1) to a trust or a partnership; and
- (b) you are a beneficiary of the trust or a partner in the partnership and you are not an individual; and
- (c) the income of the trust or partnership is reduced by an amount because of that deduction; and
- (d) a part of the deduction (the reduction amount) is reflected in your share of the net income of the trust or partnership.

(5) The amount included is:

- (a) the reduction amount if you are a company, a trust (except a trust that is a *complying superannuation entity or an *FHSA trust) or a partnership; or
- (b) one-third of the reduction amount if you are a complying superannuation entity, an FHSA trust or a *life insurance company.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Example: The Burnett Partnership received a dividend from a listed investment company. The dividend statement advised that the dividend included a $100 attributable part. The partnership deducted $50 under this section in calculating its net income.

The partnership has 2 equal partners, Amy Burnett and Burnett Consulting Pty Ltd.

Burnett Consulting's assessable income includes its share of the net income of the partnership plus $25 (being that part of the $50 deduction allowed to the partnership that is reflected in the company's share of the partnership net income).

Subsections (4) and (5) do not apply to Amy because she is an individual.

115-285 Meaning of *LIC capital gain

- (1) A LIC capital gain is a *capital gain:
- (a) from a *CGT event that happens on or after 1 July 2001; and
  - (b) that is made by a company that is a *listed investment company from a *CGT asset that is an investment to which paragraph 115-290(1)(c) applies; and
  - (c) that meets the requirements of sections 115-20 and 115-25; and
  - (d) that is not a capital gain that could not be a *discount capital gain had it been made by an individual because of section 115-40 or 115-45; and
  - (e) that is included in the *net capital gain of the company; and
  - (f) that is reflected in the taxable income of the company for the income year in which the company had the net capital gain.

Note 1: The listed investment company must be able to demonstrate that at least some part of the LIC capital gain, whether made by the company itself or by another listed investment company, remains after claiming deductions and losses against that income for the income year.

Note 2: Section 115-30 may affect the date of acquisition of a CGT asset for the purposes of sections 115-25, 115-40 and 115-45.

- (2) However, a *capital gain made by a company is not a LIC capital gain if the company:
- (a) became a *listed investment company after 1 July 2001; and
  - (b) *acquired the *CGT asset concerned before the day on which it became a listed investment company.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 115-290

---

- (3) In applying subsection (2), a *CGT asset is treated as if it had been *acquired by the company before it became a *listed investment company if the asset would otherwise be treated as being acquired after that time because of one of these provisions:
- (a) section 70-110 (about trading stock);
  - (b) Subdivision 124-E or 124-F (replacement asset roll-overs for exchange of *shares, units, rights or options);
  - (ba) Subdivision 124-Q (exchange of stapled ownership interests);
  - (c) Subdivision 126-B (same-asset roll-over for transfers within certain wholly-owned groups).

115-290 Meaning of *listed investment company

- (1) A listed investment company is a company:
- (a) that is an Australian resident; and
  - (b) *shares in which are listed for quotation on the official list of ASX Limited or of a body corporate that is approved as a stock exchange under section 769 of the Corporations Act 2001; and
  - (c) at least 90% of the *market value of whose *CGT assets consists of investments permitted by subsection (4).
- (2) A company is also a listed investment company if:
- (a) it is a 100% subsidiary of a company that is a *listed investment company because of subsection (1); and
  - (b) the subsidiary would be a listed investment company because of subsection (1) if it were able to comply with paragraph (1)(b).
- (3) This Subdivision applies to a company that does not comply with paragraph (1)(c) as if it did comply if the failure:
- (a) was of a temporary nature only; and
  - (b) was caused by circumstances outside its control.
- (4) The permitted investments are:
- (a) *shares, units, options, rights or similar interests to the extent permitted by subsections (5), (6), (7) and (8); or
  - (b) financial instruments (such as loans, debts, debentures, bonds, promissory notes, futures contracts, forward contracts,

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- currency swap contracts and a right or option in respect of a share, security, loan or contract); or
- (c) an asset whose main use by the company in the course of carrying on its *business is to *derive interest, an annuity, rent, royalties or foreign exchange gains unless:
    - (i) the asset is an intangible asset and has been substantially developed, altered or improved by the company so that its *market value has been substantially enhanced; or
    - (ii) its main use for deriving rent was only temporary; or
  - (d) goodwill.
- (5) The company can own a *100% subsidiary if the subsidiary is a listed investment company because of subsection (2).
  - (6) The company can own (directly or indirectly) any percentage of another *listed investment company that is not the company's *100% subsidiary.
  - (7) Otherwise, the company cannot own (directly or indirectly) more than 10% of another company or trust.
  - (8) In working out whether a company indirectly owns any part of another company or trust:
    - (a) disregard any ownership it has indirectly through a *listed public company or a *publicly traded unit trust; and
    - (b) if the company owns not more than 50% of another *listed investment company—disregard any ownership it has indirectly through the other company.

115-295 Maintaining records

A *listed investment company must maintain records showing the balance of its *LIC capital gains available for distribution.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 116—Capital proceeds

Guide to Division 116

116-1 What this Division is about

This Division tells you how to work out what the capital proceeds from a CGT event are. You need to know this to work out if you made a capital gain or loss from the event.

Table of sections

- 116-5 General rules
- 116-10 Modifications to general rules

General rules

- 116-20 General rules about capital proceeds

Modifications to general rules

- 116-25 Table of modifications to the general rules
- 116-30 Market value substitution rule: modification 1
- 116-35 Companies and trusts that are not widely held
- 116-40 Apportionment rule: modification 2
- 116-45 Non-receipt rule: modification 3
- 116-50 Repaid rule: modification 4
- 116-55 Assumption of liability rule: modification 5
- 116-60 Misappropriation rule: modification 6

Special rules

- 116-65 Disposal etc. of a CGT asset the subject of an option
- 116-70 Option requiring both acquisition and disposal etc.
- 116-75 Special rule for CGT event happening to a lease
- 116-80 Special rule if CGT asset is shares or an interest in a trust
- 116-85 Section 47A of 1936 Act applying to rolled-over asset
- 116-95 Company changes residence from an unlisted country
- 116-100 Gifts of property
- 116-105 Conservation covenants

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

116-5 General rules

Section 116-20 sets out the general rules about capital proceeds. They are relevant to each CGT event that is listed in the table in section 116-25.

116-10 Modifications to general rules

- (1) There are 6 modifications to the general rules that may be relevant. The table in section 116-25 lists which ones may be relevant to each CGT event listed in the table.

Explanation of modifications

- (2) The first is a market value substitution rule. It is relevant if:
  - you receive no capital proceeds from a CGT event; or
  - some or all of the capital proceeds cannot be valued; or
  - you did not deal at arm's length with another entity in connection with the event.
- (3) The second is an apportionment rule. It is relevant if a payment you receive in connection with a transaction relates in part only to a CGT event.

Example: You sell 3 CGT assets for a total of $100,000. The $100,000 needs to be apportioned between the 3 assets.
- (4) The third is a non-receipt rule. It is relevant if you do not receive, or are not likely to receive, some or all of the capital proceeds from a CGT event.
- (5) The fourth is a repaid rule. It is relevant if you are required to repay some or all of the capital proceeds from a CGT event.
- (6) The fifth is relevant only if another entity assumes a liability in connection with a CGT event.
- (7) The sixth relates to misappropriation by an employee or agent. It is relevant if your employee or agent misappropriates all or part of the capital proceeds from a CGT event.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 116-20

---

- Note 1: Also, these provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 modify capital proceeds:
- sections 159GZZZF and 159GZZZG (cancellation of shares in a holding company);
  - sections 159GZZZQ and 159GZZZS (buy-backs of shares);
  - sections 401, 422, 423 and 461 (CFC's);
  - section 613 (foreign investment funds).
- Note 2: Section 230-505 of this Act (Division 230 financial arrangement as consideration for provision or acquisition of a thing) also modifies capital proceeds.

General rules

116-20 General rules about *capital proceeds

- (1) The capital proceeds from a *CGT event are the total of:
- (a) the money you have received, or are entitled to receive, in respect of the event happening; and
  - (b) the *market value of any other property you have received, or are entitled to receive, in respect of the event happening (worked out as at the time of the event).

- Note 1: The timing rules for each event are in Division 104.
- Note 2: In some situations you are treated as having received money or other property, or being entitled to receive it: see section 103-10.
- Note 3: If you dispose of shares in a buy-back, the capital proceeds are worked out under Division 16K of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

- (2) This table sets out what the capital proceeds from *CGT events F1, F2, H2 and K9 are:

General rules about capital proceeds
Event number	Description of event:	The capital proceeds are:
F1	Granting, renewing or extending a lease	Any premium paid or payable to you for the grant, renewal or extension

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

General rules about capital proceeds

---

Event number	Description of event:	The capital proceeds are:
F2	Granting, renewing or extending a long-term lease	The greatest of: (a) the *market value of the estate in fee simple or head lease (worked out when you grant, renew or extend the lease); and (b) what would have been that market value if you had not granted, renewed or extended the lease; and (c) any premium paid or payable to you for the grant, renewal or extension
H2	Receipt for event relating to a CGT asset	The money or other consideration you received, or are entitled to receive, because of the act, transaction or event
K9	Entitlement to receive payment of a *carried interest	The amount of the payment, to the extent that it is a payment of the *carried interest

---

- (3) In working out the *market value of the property the subject of the grant, renewal or extension of a long-term lease:
- (a) include the market value of any building, part of a building, structure or improvement that is treated as a separate *CGT asset from the property; and
  - (b) disregard any *depreciating assets for whose decline in value the lessor has deducted or can deduct an amount under this Act.

Note: Subdivision 108-D sets out when a building, structure or improvement is treated as a separate CGT asset.

- (4) In working out the amount of any premium paid or payable to the lessor for the grant, renewal or extension of a long-term lease, disregard any part of it that is attributable to a *depreciating asset of that kind.

The payment of any premium can include giving property: see section 103-5.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 116-25

---

- (5) In working out the proceeds of a *CGT event that is a *supply, disregard the amount of your *net GST (if any) on the supply.

Modifications to general rules

116-25 Table of modifications to the general rules

There are 6 modifications to the general rules that may be relevant to a *CGT event. This table tells you:

- each *CGT event for which the general rules about *capital proceeds are relevant; and
- the modifications that can apply to that event; and
- any special rules that apply to that event.

Capital proceeds modifications
Event number	Description of event:	Only these modifications can apply:	Special rules:
A1	Disposal of a CGT asset	1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	If the disposal is because another entity exercises an option: see section 116-65 If the disposal is of *shares or an interest in a trust: see section 116-80 If the disposal is a gift for which a section 30-212 valuation is obtained: see section 116-100
B1	Use and enjoyment before title passes	1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	None
C1	Loss or destruction of a CGT asset	2, 3, 4, 6	None
C2	Cancellation, surrender and similar endings	1, 2, 3, 4, 6	See sections 116-75 and 116-80

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Capital proceeds modifications
Event number	Description of event:	Only these modifications can apply:	Special rules:
C3	End of option to acquire shares etc.	2, 3, 4, 6	None
D1	Creating contractual or other rights	1, 2, 3, 4, 6	None
D2	Granting an option	1, 2, 3, 4, 6	See section 116-70
D3	Granting a right to income from mining	1, 2, 3, 4, 6	None
D4	Entering into a conservation covenant	2, 3, 4, 5, 6	116-105
E1	Creating a trust over a CGT asset	1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	None
E2	Transferring a CGT asset to a trust	1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	None
E8	Disposal by beneficiary of capital interest	1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	See section 116-80
F1	Granting a lease	2, 3, 4, 6	None
F2	Granting a long-term lease	2, 3, 4, 6	None
F4	Lessee receives payment for changing lease	2, 3, 4, 6	None
F5	Lessor receives payment for changing lease	2, 3, 4, 6	None
H2	Receipt for event relating to a CGT asset	2, 3, 4, 6	None
K6	Pre-CGT shares or trust interest	1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	None
K9	Entitlement to receive payment of a *carried interest	2, 3, 4, 6	None

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

116-30 Market value substitution rule: modification 1

No capital proceeds

- (1) If you received no *capital proceeds from a *CGT event, you are taken to have received the *market value of the *CGT asset that is the subject of the event. (The market value is worked out as at the time of the event.)

Example: You give a CGT asset to another entity. You are taken to have received the market value of the CGT asset.

Note: The market value substitution rule is disregarded in working out capital proceeds in some cases: see sections 138-30 and 139-20.

There are capital proceeds

- (2) The *capital proceeds from a *CGT event are replaced with the *market value of the *CGT asset that is the subject of the event if:
- (a) some or all of those proceeds cannot be valued; or
  - (b) those capital proceeds are more or less than the market value of the asset and:
    - (i) you and the entity that *acquired the asset from you did not deal with each other at arm's length in connection with the event; or
    - (ii) the CGT event is CGT event C2 (about cancellation, surrender and similar endings).

(The market value is worked out as at the time of the event.)

- (2A) Subsection (2) does not apply if there is a partial roll-over for the *CGT event because of section 124-150.
- (2B) Subsection (2) does not apply to a situation that would otherwise be covered by paragraph (2)(b) if the *CGT event is *CGT event C2 (about cancellation, surrender and similar endings) and the *CGT asset that is the subject of the event is:
- (a) a *share in a company that has at least 300 *members and is not a company that is covered by section 116-35; or
  - (b) a unit in a unit trust that has at least 300 unit holders and is not a trust that is covered by section 116-35.

Note: So, for one of these assets, the capital proceeds for the cancellation will be what you actually received.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Market value for CGT events C2 and D1

- (3) Subsection (1) does not apply to:
- (a) these examples of *CGT event C2:
    - (i) the expiry of a *CGT asset you own;
    - (ii) the cancellation of your *statutory licence; or
  - (b) *CGT event D1 (about creating contractual or other rights).
- (3A) If you need to work out the *market value of a *CGT asset that is the subject of *CGT event C2, work it out as if the event had not occurred and was never proposed to occur.

Example: A company cancels shares you own in it. You work out the market value of the shares by disregarding the cancellation.

CGT assets the subject of certain events

- (4) To avoid doubt, the *CGT asset that is the subject of a *CGT event specified in this table is the asset so specified.

---

*CGT assets the subject of certain events

---

For this

*CGT event:      This asset is the subject of the event:

---

D1                      the right you created

---

D2                      the option you granted

---

D3                      the right you granted

---

E8                      your interest or part interest in the trust capital

---

K6                      the *share or interest you *acquired before 20 September 1985

---

Carried interests

- (5) This section does not apply to *CGT event A1 or C2 to the extent that the CGT event is constituted by ceasing to own:
- (a) the *carried interest of a *general partner in a *VCLP, an *ESVCLP or an *AFOF or a *limited partner in a *VCMP; or
  - (b) an entitlement to receive a payment of such a carried interest.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

116-35 Companies and trusts that are not widely held

Coverage

- (1) A company is covered by this section if subsection (3) or (5) applies to the company.
- (2) A unit trust is covered by this section if subsection (4) or (5) applies to the trust.

Concentrated ownership

- (3) This subsection applies to a company if an individual owns, or up to 20 individuals own between them, directly or indirectly (through one or more interposed entities) and for their own benefit, *shares in the company:
  - (a) carrying *fixed entitlements to at least 75% of the company's income or at least 75% of the company's capital; or
  - (b) carrying at least 75% of the voting power in the company.
- (4) This subsection applies to a trust if an individual owns, or up to 20 individuals own between them, directly or indirectly (through one or more interposed entities) and for their own benefit, units in the trust:
  - (a) carrying *fixed entitlements to at least 75% of the trust's income or at least 75% of the trust's capital; or
  - (b) if unit holders of the trust have a right to vote in respect of activities of the trust—carrying at least 75% of the voting power in the trust.

Possible variation of rights

- (5) This subsection applies to a company or trust if, because of:
  - (a) any provision in the entity's constituent document, or in any contract, agreement or instrument:
    - (i) authorising the variation or abrogation of rights attaching to any of the *shares or units in the entity; or
    - (ii) relating to the conversion, cancellation, extinguishment or redemption of any of those shares or units; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) any contract, *arrangement, option or instrument under which a person has power to acquire any of those shares or units; or
- (c) any power, authority or discretion in a person in relation to the rights attaching to any of those shares or units;

it is reasonable to conclude that the rights attaching to any of those shares or units are capable of being varied or abrogated in such a way (even if they are not in fact varied or abrogated in that way) that, directly or indirectly, subsection (3) or (4) would apply to the entity.

Single individual

- (6) For the purposes of subsections (3) and (4), all of the following are taken to be a single individual:
  - (a) an individual, whether or not the individual holds *shares or units in the entity concerned;
  - (b) the individual's *associates;
  - (c) for any shares or units in respect of which other individuals are nominees of the individual or of the individual's associates—those other individuals.

116-40 Apportionment rule: modification 2

- (1) If you receive a payment in connection with a transaction that relates to more than one *CGT event, the capital proceeds from each event are so much of the payment as is reasonably attributable to that event.

Example: You sell a block of land and a boat for a total of $100,000. This transaction involves 2 CGT events.

The $100,000 must be divided among the 2 events. The capital proceeds from the disposal of the land are so much of the $100,000 as is reasonably attributable to it. The rest relates to the boat.

- (2) If you receive a payment in connection with a transaction that relates to one *CGT event and something else, the capital proceeds from the event are so much of the payment as is reasonably attributable to the event.

Example: You are an architect. You receive $70,000 for selling a block of land and giving advice to the new owner. This transaction involves one CGT event: the disposal of the land.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 116-45

---

The capital proceeds from the disposal of the land is so much of the $70,000 as is reasonably attributable to that disposal.

- (3) The payment can include giving property: see section 103-5.

116-45 Non-receipt rule: modification 3

- (1) The *capital proceeds from a *CGT event are reduced if:
- (a) you are not likely to receive some or all (the unpaid amount) of those proceeds; and
  - (b) this is not because of anything you (or your *associate) have done or omitted to do; and
  - (c) you took all reasonable steps to get the unpaid amount paid.

The capital proceeds are reduced by the unpaid amount.

Note: This rule exists because the general rules treat you as having received an amount when you are entitled to receive it.

Example You sell a painting to another entity for $5,000 (the capital proceeds). You agree to accept monthly instalments of $100.

You receive $2,000, but then the other entity stops making payments. It becomes clear that you are not likely to receive the remaining $3,000. The capital proceeds are reduced to $2,000.

- (2) There is a further consequence if:
- (a) those proceeds are reduced by the unpaid amount; but
  - (b) you later receive a part of that amount.

Those proceeds are increased by that part.

- (3) This Part and Part 3-3 apply to the debt owed to you (the unpaid amount) as if it were not a *CGT asset.

116-50 Repaid rule: modification 4

- (1) The *capital proceeds from a *CGT event are reduced by:
- (a) any part of them that you repay; or
  - (b) any compensation you pay that can reasonably be regarded as a repayment of part of them.

However, the capital proceeds are not reduced by any part of the payment that you can deduct.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Example: You sell a block of land for $50,000 (the capital proceeds). The purchaser later finds out that you misrepresented a term in the contract. The purchaser sues you and the court orders you to pay $10,000 in damages to the purchaser.

The capital proceeds are reduced by $10,000.

- (2) The payment can include giving property: see section 103-5.

116-55 Assumption of liability rule: modification 5

The *capital proceeds from a *CGT event are increased if another entity *acquires the *CGT asset (the subject of the event) subject to a liability by way of security over the asset.

They are increased by the amount of the liability the other entity assumes.

Example: You sell land for $150,000. You receive $50,000 (the capital proceeds) and the buyer becomes responsible for a $100,000 liability under an outstanding mortgage. The capital proceeds are increased by $100,000 to $150,000.

116-60 Misappropriation rule: modification 6

- (1) The *capital proceeds from a *CGT event are reduced if your employee or *agent misappropriates (whether by theft, embezzlement, larceny or otherwise) all or part of those proceeds.

Note: This rule exists because the general rules treat you as having received an amount when you are entitled to receive it.

- (2) The *capital proceeds are reduced by the amount misappropriated.
- (3) There is a further consequence if:
- (a) those proceeds are reduced by the amount misappropriated; and
  - (b) you later receive an amount as *recoupment of all or part of the amount misappropriated.

Those proceeds are increased by the amount received.

- (4) This Part and Part 3-3 apply to the debt owed to you (the amount misappropriated) as if it were not a *CGT asset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 116-65

---

- (5) Section 170 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 does not prevent the amendment of an assessment for the purposes of giving effect to this section for an income year if:
- (a) you discover the misappropriation, or you receive an amount as *recoupment of all or part of the amount misappropriated, after you lodged your *income tax return for the income year; and
  - (b) the amendment is made at any time during the period of 4 years starting immediately after you discover the misappropriation or receive the amount.

Special rules

116-65 Disposal etc. of a CGT asset the subject of an option

- (1) This section applies if:
- (a) you granted, renewed or extended an option to create (including grant or issue) or *dispose of a *CGT asset; and
  - (b) another entity exercises the option; and
  - (c) because of the exercise of the option, you create (including grant or issue) or dispose of the CGT asset.
- (2) The *capital proceeds from the creation (including grant or issue) or disposal include any payment you received for granting, renewing or extending the option.
- (3) The payment can include giving property: see section 103-5.

116-70 Option requiring both acquisition and disposal etc.

- (1) This section applies if:
- (a) you granted, renewed or extended an option; and
  - (b) the option requires you both to *acquire, and to create (including grant or issue) or *dispose of, a *CGT asset.
- (2) The option is treated as 2 separate options and half of the *capital proceeds from the grant, renewal or extension is attributed to each option.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

116-75 Special rule for CGT event happening to a lease

The *capital proceeds from the expiry, surrender or forfeiture of a lease include any payment (because of the lease ending) by the lessor to the lessee for expenditure of a capital nature incurred by the lessee in making improvements to the leased property.

The payment or expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5.

116-80 Special rule if CGT asset is shares or an interest in a trust

- (1) This section sets out what happens if:
  - (a) there is a fall in the *market value of a *personal use asset (other than a car, motor cycle or similar vehicle) or a *collectable of a company or trust; and
  - (b) *CGT event A1, C2 or E8 happens to:
    - (i) *shares you own in the company (or in a company that is a member of the same *wholly-owned group); or
    - (ii) an interest you have in the trust.

Note: The full list of CGT events is in section 104-5.

- (2) The *capital proceeds from the event are replaced with the *market value of the *shares, or the interest in the trust.

The market value is worked out as at the time of the event as if the fall in market value of the *personal use asset or *collectable had not occurred.

Note: You may also make a collectable loss: see CGT event K5.

116-85 Section 47A of 1936 Act applying to rolled-over asset

- (1) You reduce the *capital proceeds from a *CGT event that happens in relation to a *CGT asset you have if the conditions in this table are satisfied.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 116-95

---

---

Conditions for reduction

---

Item Condition

---

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| 1 | You must have *acquired the asset from a company or *CFC  |
| 2 | Either:(a) the company obtained a roll-over for the *CGT event that resulted in your *acquisition of the asset; or(b) the *CFC obtained a roll-over for that event in applying Division 7 of Part X of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 for the purpose of working out the *attributable income of a company in relation to any entity except a roll-over under Subdivision 124-J (about Crown leases), 124-K (about depreciating assets) or 124-L (about prospecting and mining entitlements) |
| 3 | The company or *CFC is taken, under section 47A of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 , to have paid you a dividend in relation to that event and some or all of the dividend is included in your assessable income under section 44 of that Act   |
-

Note: For roll-overs: see Divisions 122, 124 and 126.

- (2) The reduction is the lesser of:
- (a) the amount of the dividend; and
  - (b) the amount of any *capital gain that, apart from the roll-over, the company or *CFC would have made from the *CGT event if its *capital proceeds from the event had been the asset's *market value (at the time of the event).

Note: This section is disregarded in calculating the attributable income of a CFC: see section 410 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

116-95 Company changes residence from an unlisted country

- (1) This section sets out what happens if:
- (a) a *CFC ceases at a time (the residency change time) to be a resident of an *unlisted country and becomes a resident of a *listed country; and
  - (aa) subsection 457(3) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 does not apply to the change of residence; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (b) because of the change in its residency status, an amount is included in an entity's assessable income under section 457 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (including because of paragraph 58(1)(d) of the Taxation Laws Amendment (Foreign Income) Act 1990); and
  - (c) a *CGT event happens in relation to a *CGT asset (the CFC asset) that is *taxable Australian property and that the CFC owned since the residency change time.
- (2) If the conditions in subsection (3) are satisfied, the *capital proceeds from the *CGT event are reduced by the amount worked out under subsection (4). If the conditions in subsection (5) are satisfied, those capital proceeds are increased by the amount worked out under subsection (6).

Reduction of capital proceeds

- (3) If all the *CFC's assets were *disposed of at the residency change time for their *market values in the circumstances mentioned in subparagraph 457(2)(a)(ii) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936:
- (a) *distributable profits of the CFC of a particular amount (the distributable profit amount) would be created, or its distributable profits would be increased by an amount (also the distributable profit amount); and
  - (b) the CFC would have made a profit (the CFC asset profit) on the disposal of the CFC asset.
- (4) The *capital proceeds are reduced by:

$$\text{Distributable profit amount} \times \frac{\text{CFC asset profit}}{\text{Total asset profits}}$$

where:

total asset profits is the sum of the profits that the CFC would have made if all its assets were *disposed of at the residency change time for their *market values (ignoring disposals that would not result in a profit).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 116-100

---

Increase in capital proceeds

- (5) If all the *CFC's assets were *disposed of at the residency change time for their *market values in the circumstances mentioned in subparagraph 457(2)(a)(ii) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936:
- (a) the *distributable profits of the CFC would be reduced by an amount (the distributable profit reduction amount); and
  - (b) the CFC would have made a loss (the CFC asset loss) on the disposal of the CFC asset.
- (6) The *capital proceeds are increased by:

$$\text{Distributable profit reduction amount} \times \frac{\text{CFC asset loss}}{\text{Total asset losses}}$$

where:

total asset losses is the sum of the losses that the CFC would have made if all its assets were *disposed of at the residency change time for their *market values (ignoring disposals that would not result in a loss).

Note: This section is disregarded in calculating the attributable income of a CFC: see section 410 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

116-100 Gifts of property

- (1) If CGT event A1 is the giving of a gift of property by you for which a valuation under section 30-212 is obtained, you may choose that the *capital proceeds from the event are replaced with the value of the property as determined under the valuation.
- (2) You can only make this choice if the valuation was made no more than 90 days before or after the CGT event.

116-105 Conservation covenants

If *CGT event D4 happens because you enter into a *conservation covenant over land you own and you can deduct an amount under Division 31 because you enter into the covenant, the *capital proceeds from the event are the amount you can deduct.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Note: To get a deduction under Division 31, you must not receive money, property or other material benefit for entering into the covenant.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 118—Exemptions

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 118
118-A	General exemptions
118-B	Main residence
118-D	Insurance and superannuation
118-E	Units in pooled superannuation trusts
118-F	Venture capital investment
118-G	Venture capital: investment by superannuation funds for foreign residents
118-H	Demutualisation of Tower Corporation

Guide to Division 118

118-1 What this Division is about

This Division sets out various exemptions for many capital gains and losses.

There are other provisions that provide exemptions from CGT liability, for example, Division 104 (exceptions from CGT events), Division 152 (small business relief) and Division 50 (exempt entities).

Note 1: There are also these exemptions in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936:

- section 23AH (about foreign branch gains and losses of companies);
- section 24B (about External Territories);
- section 26BC (about securities lending arrangements);
- section 121AS (about demutualisation of insurance companies);
- sections 121EL, 121ELA and 121ELB (about offshore banking units);

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- section 159GZZZN (about buy-back and cancellation of shares);
- section 315 (about superannuation and related businesses);
- section 408 (about calculating the attributable income of a CFC).

Note 2: There are also exemptions in Division 54.

Note 3: There are also exemptions in Division 315 (about demutualisation of private health insurers).

Subdivision 118-A—General exemptions

Table of sections

Exempt assets

118-5	Cars, motor cycles and valour decorations
118-10	Collectables and personal use assets
118-12	Assets used to produce exempt income etc.
118-13	Shares in a PDF

Anti-overlap provisions

118-20	Reducing capital gains if amount otherwise assessable
118-21	Carried interests
118-22	Superannuation lump sums and employment termination payments
118-24	Depreciating assets and section 73BA depreciating assets
118-25	Trading stock
118-27	Division 230 financial arrangements
118-30	Film copyright
118-35	Research and development

Exempt or loss-denying transactions

118-37	Compensation, damages etc.
118-40	Expiry of a lease
118-42	Transfer of stratum units
118-45	Sale of rights to mine
118-55	Foreign currency hedging gains and losses
118-60	Certain gifts
118-65	Later distributions of personal services income
118-70	Transactions by exempt entities
118-75	Marriage or relationship breakdown settlements

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 118-5

---

Boat capital gains

118-80 Reduction of boat capital gain

Exempt assets

118-5 Cars, motor cycles and valour decorations

A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from any of these *CGT assets is disregarded:

- (a) a *car, motor cycle or similar vehicle;
- (b) a decoration awarded for valour or brave conduct (unless you paid money or gave any other property for it).

118-10 Collectables and personal use assets

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *collectable is disregarded if the first element of its *cost base, or the first element of its *cost if it is a *depreciating asset, is $500 or less.

Example: On 10 July 2001, Gayle buys a print for $450 and hangs it in her home. On 30 November 2001 she takes the print to her office and hangs it in the lobby. Gayle self assesses the effective life of the print to be 7 years.

Gayle sells the print to Anna for $700 on 2 January 2002.

How much can Gayle deduct for the 2001-02 income year?

The cost of the print is $450. Gayle chooses to use the prime cost method to calculate its decline in value.

The print's decline in value is:

$$$450 \times \frac{177}{365} \times \frac{100\%}{7 \text{ years}}$$

= $31

Gayle can deduct $6 as the taxable use portion of the decline in value under Division 40:

$$\frac{34}{177} \times 31$$

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Due to the balancing adjustment event that occurred on 2 January 2002, $54 is included in Gayle's assessable income for the 2001-02 income year under section 40-285. The amount is reduced for non-taxable use by section 40-290.

A capital gain of $202 is disregarded under this section because the asset is a collectable acquired for less than $500.

- (2) However, there is a special rule if the *collectable is an interest in one of these *CGT assets:
- (a) *artwork, jewellery, an antique, or a coin or medallion;
  - (b) a rare folio, manuscript or book;
  - (c) a postage stamp or first day cover.

A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from the interest is disregarded only if the *market value of the asset (when you *acquired the interest) is $500 or less.

Note: If you last acquired the interest before 16 December 1995, a capital gain or loss is disregarded if you acquired the interest for $500 or less: see section 118-10 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

- (3) A *capital gain you make from a *personal use asset, or part of the asset, is disregarded if the first element of the asset's *cost base, or the first element of its *cost if it is a *depreciating asset, is $10,000 or less.

Note: A capital loss you make from a personal use asset is disregarded: see subsection 108-20(1).

118-12 Assets used to produce exempt income etc.

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *CGT asset that you used solely to produce your *exempt income or *non-assessable non-exempt income is disregarded.
- (2) However, the exemption does not apply if the asset was used to gain or produce an amount that is *non-assessable non-exempt income because of:
- (a) any of these provisions of this Act:
    - (i) section 59-15 (mining payments);
    - (ia) section 59-35 (amounts that would be mutual receipts but for prohibition on distributions to members);

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 118-13

---

- (ii) subsection 70-90(2) (disposing of trading stock outside the ordinary course of business);
- (iii) section 86-30 (income of a personal services entity);
- (iv) subsection 86-35(1) (payment by a personal services entity);
- (v) subsection 86-35(2) (share of personal services entity's net income);
- (vi) section 240-40 (treatment of arrangement payments);
- (vii) section 802-15 (foreign residents—exempting CFI from Australian tax);
- (viii) section 840-815 (foreign residents—final withholding tax on managed investment trust income); or
- (b) any of these provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936:
  - (i) section 23AH (foreign branch profits of Australian companies);
  - (ii) section 23AI (amounts paid out of attributed income);
  - (iii) section 23AJ (foreign non-portfolio dividends);
  - (iv) section 23AK (attributed foreign investment fund income);
  - (v) subsection 23L(1) (fringe benefits);
  - (vi) subsection 99B(2A) (attributed trust income);
  - (vii) section 128D (dividends, royalties and interest subject to withholding tax);
  - (viii) section 42A-40 in Schedule 2E (luxury car lease payments);
  - (ix) subsection 271-105(3) in Schedule 2F (amounts subject to family trust distribution tax).

Note: These provisions make amounts non-assessable non-exempt income to prevent them being double taxed rather than to remove them entirely from the taxation system. Therefore, the policy reason for disregarding gains and losses does not apply to assets used to produce those amounts.

118-13 Shares in a PDF

A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *CGT event happening in relation to *shares in a *PDF is disregarded.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Anti-overlap provisions

118-20 Reducing capital gains if amount otherwise assessable

(1) A *capital gain you make from a *CGT event is reduced if, because of the event, a provision of this Act (outside of this Part) includes an amount (for any income year) in:

- (a) your assessable income or *exempt income; or
- (b) if you are a partner in a partnership, the assessable income or exempt income of the partnership.

(1A) Subsection (1) applies to an amount that, under a provision of this Act (outside of this Part), is included in:

- (a) your assessable income or *exempt income; or
- (b) if you are a partner in a partnership, the assessable income or exempt income of the partnership;

in relation to a *CGT asset as if it were so included because of the *CGT event referred to in that subsection if the amount would also be taken into account in working out the amount of a *capital gain you make.

Note: An example is an amount assessable under Division 16E of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, which deals with accruals taxation of certain securities.

(1B) The rule in subsection (1) does not apply to:

- (a) an amount that is taken to be a dividend under section 159GZZZZP of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (which relates to buy-backs of *shares); or
- (b) an amount included in assessable income under subsection 207-20(1), 207-35(1) or 207-35(3) of this Act (which relate to franked distributions).

(2) The gain is reduced to zero if it does not exceed:

- (a) the amount included; or
- (b) if you are a partner, your share (the partner's share) of the amount included in the assessable income or *exempt income of the partnership (calculated according to your entitlement to share in the partnership net income or loss).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 118-20

---

Example: Liz bought some land in 1990, as part of a profit-making scheme. In December 1998 she sells it.

Her profit from the sale is $40,000 and is included in her assessable income under section 6-5 (about ordinary income).

Suppose she made a capital gain from the sale of $30,000. It is reduced to zero because it does not exceed the amount included.

- (3) The gain is reduced by the amount included, or the amount of the partner's share, if the gain exceeds that amount.

Note: These rules are modified for complying superannuation funds that become non-complying and for foreign superannuation funds that become Australian superannuation funds: see Division 295.

- (4) A *capital gain you make from a *CGT event is reduced by the extent that a provision of this Act (except section 59-40) treats:
- (a) an amount of your *ordinary income or *statutory income from the event as being *non-assessable non-exempt income; or
  - (b) if you are a partner, your share of the ordinary income or *statutory income of the partnership from the event (calculated according to your entitlement to share in the partnership net income or loss) as being non-assessable non-exempt income of the partnership.

Note: An example of a provision of this kind is section 121EG (about offshore banking units) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

- (4A) A *capital gain the trustee of a *superannuation fund makes from a *CGT event happening in relation to a *CGT asset in an income year is reduced if the asset's *market value was taken into account in working out the fund's income from previous years under section 295-325 or 295-330.
- (4B) The gain is reduced to zero if it does not exceed the amount that would have been the *capital gain from the *CGT event if the *capital proceeds from the event were the asset's *market value that was taken into account in working out that net previous income. If the gain exceeds that amount, it is reduced by that amount.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Exceptions

- (5) The gain is not reduced if an amount is included in your assessable income, or the assessable income of the partnership, for any income year because of a balancing adjustment.
- (6) The gain is not reduced if an amount is included in your *non-assessable non-exempt income under section 23AJ (about exempting certain non-portfolio dividends paid by non-resident companies) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 because a company pays a *dividend to you that is:
  - (a) debited against a *share capital account of the company; or
  - (c) debited against an asset revaluation reserve of the company; or
  - (d) directly or indirectly attributable to amounts transferred from such an account or reserve of the company.

118-21 Carried interests

CGT events relating to carried interests not to be treated as income

- (1) The modifications in subsections (2) and (3) apply if *CGT event K9 happens in relation to your entitlement to receive a payment of the *carried interest of a *general partner in a *VCLP, an *ESVCLP or an *AFOF or a *limited partner in a *VCMP.
- (2) These provisions do not apply to the CGT event:
  - (a) sections 6-5 (about *ordinary income), 8-1 (about amounts you can deduct), 15-15 and 25-40 (about profit-making undertakings or plans) and 118-20 (reducing capital gains if amount otherwise assessable);
  - (b) sections 25A and 52 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (about profit-making undertakings or schemes).
- (3) Section 6-10 (about *statutory income) does not apply to the *CGT event except so far as that section applies in relation to section 102-5 (about net capital gains).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

118-22 Superannuation lump sums and employment termination payments

In applying section 118-20, treat a *superannuation lump sum or an *employment termination payment that you receive as being included in your assessable income.

118-24 Depreciating assets and section 73BA depreciating assets

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *CGT event (that is also a *balancing adjustment event) that happens to a *depreciating asset or a section 73BA depreciating asset (within the meaning of section 73BB of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) is disregarded if the asset was:

- (a) an asset you *held; or
- (b) if you are a partner, an asset of the partnership; or
- (c) if you are absolutely entitled to the asset as against the trustee of a trust (disregarding any legal disability), an asset of the trustee;

where the decline in value of the asset was worked out under Division 40, or the deduction for the asset was calculated under Division 328, or would have been if the asset had been used.

- (2) However, subsection (1) does not apply to:
- (a) a *capital gain or *capital loss you make from *CGT event J2 or *CGT event K7 happening; or
  - (b) a *depreciating asset for which you or another entity has deducted or can deduct amounts under Subdivision 40-F or 40-G.

118-25 Trading stock

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *CGT asset is disregarded if, at the time of the *CGT event, the asset is:
- (a) your *trading stock; or
  - (b) if you are a partner, trading stock of the partnership; or
  - (c) if you are absolutely entitled to the asset as against the trustee of a trust (disregarding any legal disability), trading stock of the trustee.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (2) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make in these circumstances is disregarded:
- (a) you start holding as *trading stock a *CGT asset you already own but do not hold as trading stock; and
  - (b) you elect under paragraph 70-30(1)(a) to be treated as having sold the asset for its cost (worked out under that section).

Note 1: Paragraph 70-30(1)(a) allows you to elect the cost of the asset, or its market value, just before it became trading stock.

Note 2: You may make a capital gain or loss if you elect its market value: see CGT event K4.

118-27 Division 230 financial arrangements

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make:
- (a) from a *CGT asset; or
  - (b) in creating a CGT asset; or
  - (c) from the discharge of a liability;
- is disregarded if, at the time of the *CGT event, the asset or liability is, or is part of, a *Division 230 financial arrangement.
- Note 1: Paragraph (b) is relevant for CGT event D1.
- Note 2: Paragraph (c) is relevant for CGT event L7.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to the following:
- (a) a gain or loss that subsection 230-310(4) (which deals with hedging financial arrangements) provides is to be treated as a *capital gain or *capital loss;
  - (b) a loss that is reduced under subsection 230-465(2), to the extent of that reduction (this is the extent to which the loss is of a capital nature).
- (3) Subsection (1) does not apply if the situation that gives rise to the *CGT event does not result in a gain from the arrangement being included in your assessable income under Division 230, or in a loss from the arrangement entitling you to a deduction under Division 230.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

118-30 Film copyright

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *CGT event relating to your interest in the copyright in a film is disregarded if an amount is included in your assessable income under section 26AG (about film proceeds) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 because of the event.
- (2) If you are a partner in a partnership, a *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *CGT event relating to the partnership's interest in the copyright in a film is disregarded if an amount is included in the assessable income of a partner (including you) under section 26AG of that Act because of the event.
- (3) If you are absolutely entitled to an interest in the copyright in a film as against the trustee of a trust (disregarding any legal disability), a *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *CGT event relating to the interest is disregarded if an amount is included in your assessable income or the net income of the trust under section 26AG of that Act because of the event.

118-35 Research and development

- (1) Disregard a *capital gain or *capital loss from a *CGT event if an amount is included in your assessable income in any income year under subsection 73B(27A), 73BF(4) or 73BM(4) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 because of that CGT event.
- (2) Disregard a *capital gain or *capital loss from a *CGT event if an amount is included in the assessable income of a partner (including you) in any income year under subsection 73B(27A), 73BF(4) or 73BM(4) of that Act because of that CGT event.
- (3) If you are absolutely entitled to a *CGT asset as against the trustee of a trust (disregarding any legal disability), disregard a *capital gain or *capital loss the trustee makes from a *CGT event if an amount is included in your assessable income or the net income of the trust under subsection 73B(27A), 73BF(4) or 73BM(4) of that Act because of that CGT event.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Exempt or loss-denying transactions

118-37 Compensation, damages etc.

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *CGT event relating directly to any of these is disregarded:
- (a) compensation or damages you receive for any wrong or injury you suffer in your occupation;
  - (b) compensation or damages you receive for any wrong, injury or illness you or your *relative suffers personally;
  - (c) gambling, a game or a competition with prizes;
  - (d) a re-establishment grant under section 52A of the Farm Household Support Act 1992;
  - (f) a sugar industry exit grant that you receive under the program known as the Sugar Industry Reform Program;
  - (g) a tobacco industry exit grant that you receive under the program known as the Tobacco Growers Adjustment Assistance Programme 2006 if, as a condition of receiving the grant, you entered into an undertaking not to become the owner or operator of any agricultural *enterprise within 5 years after receiving the grant;
  - (h) a right or entitlement to a *tax offset, a *deduction, or a similar benefit under an *Australian law, a *foreign law or a law of part of a foreign country;
  - (i) a variation, transfer or revocation of an allocation (within the meaning of the National Rental Affordability Scheme Act 2008);
  - (j) anything of economic value provided to you by:
    - (i) a Department of a State or Territory; or
    - (ii) a body (whether incorporated or not) established for a public purpose by or under a law of a State or Territory;in relation to your participation in the National Rental Affordability Scheme.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 118-37

---

- (2) A *capital gain or *capital loss is disregarded if you make it as a result of receiving a payment or property as reimbursement or payment of your expenses, or receiving or using a voucher or certificate, under:
- (a) a scheme established by an *Australian government agency, a *local governing body or a *foreign government agency under an enactment or an instrument of a legislative character; or
  - (b) the General Practice Rural Incentives Program or the Rural and Remote General Practice Program; or
  - (c) the Sydney Aircraft Noise Insulation Project; or
  - (d) the M4/M5 Cashback Scheme; or
  - (e) the Unlawful Termination Assistance Scheme or the Alternative Dispute Resolution Assistance Scheme.
- (3) A *capital gain you make from compensation you receive under the *firearms surrender arrangements is disregarded.
- (4) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a payment you receive is disregarded if:
- (a) you are an Australian resident; and
  - (b) you receive the payment:
    - (i) under the program known as the “German Forced Labour Compensation Programme”; and
    - (ii) from the Foundation known as “Remembrance, Responsibility and Future” or any of the Foundation’s partner organisations; and
  - (c) the payment is in the nature of compensation for:
    - (i) any wrong or injury; or
    - (ii) any loss of, or damage to, property;that you, or another person, suffered as a result of injustices committed during the National Socialist period.
- (5) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make as a result of receiving a payment or property is disregarded if:
- (a) you are an individual who is an Australian resident; and
  - (b) you receive the payment or property from a source in a foreign country; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (c) you do not receive the payment or property directly or indirectly from an *associate of yours; and
- (d) the payment or property you receive is in connection with:
  - (i) any wrong or injury; or
  - (ii) any loss of, or damage to, property; or
  - (iii) any other detriment;that you, or another individual, suffered as a result of:
  - (iv) persecution by the National Socialist regime of Germany during the National Socialist period; or
  - (v) persecution by any other enemy of the Commonwealth during the Second World War; or
  - (vi) persecution by an enemy-associated regime during the Second World War; or
  - (vii) flight from persecution mentioned in subparagraph (iv), (v) or (vi); or
  - (viii) participation in a resistance movement during the Second World War against forces of the National Socialist regime of Germany; or
  - (ix) participation in a resistance movement during the Second World War against forces of any other enemy of the Commonwealth.
- (6) For the purposes of subsection (5), the duration of the Second World War includes:
  - (a) the period immediately before the Second World War; and
  - (b) the period immediately after the Second World War.
- (7) For the purposes of subsection (5), a regime is an enemy-associated regime if, and only if, it was:
  - (a) in alliance with; or
  - (b) occupied by; or
  - (c) effectively controlled by; or
  - (d) under duress from; or
  - (e) surrounded by;either or both of the following:
  - (f) the National Socialist regime of Germany;
  - (g) any other enemy of the Commonwealth.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 118-40

---

- (8) Subsection (5) applies to a payment or property received by the *legal personal representative of an individual in a corresponding way to the way in which that subsection would have applied if the payment or property had been received by the individual.
- (9) Subsection (5) applies to a payment or property received by:
- (a) the *legal personal representative of a deceased individual; or
  - (b) the trustee of a trust established by the will of a deceased individual;
- in a corresponding way to the way in which that subsection would have applied if:
- (c) the individual had not died; and
  - (d) the payment or property had been received by the individual.

118-40 Expiry of a lease

A *capital loss a lessee makes from the expiry, surrender, forfeiture or assignment of a lease (except one granted for 99 years or more) is disregarded if the lessee did not use the lease solely or mainly for the *purpose of producing assessable income.

118-42 Transfer of stratum units

If:

- (a) you own land on which there is a building; and
- (b) you subdivide the building into *stratum units; and
- (c) you transfer each unit to the entity who had the right to occupy it just before the subdivision;

a *capital gain or *capital loss you make from transferring the unit is disregarded.

118-45 Sale of rights to mine

A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from the sale, transfer or assignment of your rights to mine in a particular area in Australia is disregarded if you have *exempt income for the income year (because of the former section 330-60) from the sale, transfer or assignment.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

118-55 Foreign currency hedging gains and losses

A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a contract you entered into solely to reduce the risk of financial loss you may suffer from currency exchange rate fluctuations is disregarded if the contract relates to:

- (a) a liability you have to make a payment under another contract; or
- (b) a *CGT asset that is a right you *acquired before 20 September 1985 to receive money under another contract.

118-60 Certain gifts

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss made from a testamentary gift of property under the Cultural Bequests Program or that would have been deductible under section 30-15 if it had not been a testamentary gift is disregarded.
- (1A) If the only reason the gain or loss is not disregarded under subsection (1) is because the property has not been valued by the Commissioner at more than $5,000, then, for the purposes of that subsection, it is taken to have been so valued.
- (2) A *capital gain or *capital loss made from a gift of property that is deductible under section 30-15 because of item 4 or 5 in the table in that section is disregarded.
- (3) However, subsection (2) does not apply if the gift was not a testamentary gift and the property is later *acquired for less than *market value by the person who made the gift or an *associate of that person.
- (4) If the gift was a testamentary gift and the property is later *acquired for less than *market value by the deceased person's estate or a person (the deceased's associate) who:
  - (a) is an *associate of the deceased person's estate; or
  - (b) was an associate of the deceased person immediately before the deceased person's death;the *cost base and the *reduced cost base of the property in the hands of the estate or the deceased's associate is worked out under

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 118-65

---

section 128-15 as if the property had passed in the estate to the estate or the deceased's associate.

118-65 Later distributions of personal services income

A *capital loss you make from a payment is disregarded if it is a payment to any entity of:

- (a) *personal services income included in an individual's assessable income under section 86-15; or
- (b) any other amount that is attributable to that income.

118-70 Transactions by exempt entities

A *capital loss made by an entity is disregarded if it was an *exempt entity at the time it made the loss.

118-75 Marriage or relationship breakdown settlements

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make as a result of *CGT event C2 happening is disregarded if:
  - (a) you make the gain or loss in relation to a right that directly relates to the breakdown of a relationship between *spouses; and
  - (b) at the time of the CGT event:
    - (i) you and your spouse or former spouse are separated; and
    - (ii) there is no reasonable likelihood of cohabitation being resumed.

Example: Maude receives an amount from Claude by way of a settlement directly related to the breakdown of their marriage. CGT event C2 would happen to Maude on satisfaction of her legally enforceable right to the amount. Any capital gain or loss that Maude makes in these circumstances is disregarded.

- (2) For the purposes of this section, the question whether *spouses or former spouses have separated is to be determined in the same way as it is for the purposes of section 48 of the Family Law Act 1975 (as affected by sections 49 and 50 of that Act).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Boat capital gains

118-80 Reduction of boat capital gain

A *capital gain you make from a *CGT event happening in relation to a boat for an income year is reduced by an amount that is a quarantined amount for you for the income year under subsection 26-47(2).

Note: Section 26-47 denies deductions for the excess of boat expenditure over boat income.

Subdivision 118-B—Main residence

Guide to Subdivision 118-B

118-100 What this Subdivision is about

You can ignore a capital gain or capital loss you make from a CGT event that happens to a dwelling that is your main residence.

However, this exemption may not apply in full if:

- it was your main residence during part only of your ownership period; or
- it was used for the purpose of producing assessable income.

There are special rules for dwellings passed from, or owned by a trustee of, a deceased estate.

Table of sections

118-105 Map of this Subdivision

Basic case and concepts

118-110 Basic case

118-115 Meaning of dwelling

118-120 Extension to adjacent land

118-125 Meaning of ownership period

118-130 Meaning of ownership interest in land or a dwelling

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 118-100

---

Rules that may extend the exemption

- 118-135 Moving into a dwelling
- 118-140 Changing main residences
- 118-145 Absences
- 118-150 If you build, repair or renovate a dwelling
- 118-155 Where individual referred to in section 118-150 dies
- 118-160 Destruction of dwelling and sale of land

Rules that may limit the exemption

- 118-165 Separate CGT event for adjacent land or other structures
- 118-170 Spouse having different main residence
- 118-175 Dependent child having different main residence

Roll-overs under Subdivision 126-A

- 118-178 Previous roll-over under Subdivision 126-A
- 118-180 Acquisition of dwelling from company or trust on marriage or relationship breakdown—roll-over provision applying

Partial exemption rules

- 118-185 Partial exemption where dwelling was your main residence during part only of ownership period
- 118-190 Use of dwelling for producing assessable income
- 118-192 Special rule for first use to produce income

Dwellings acquired from deceased estates

- 118-195 Dwelling acquired from a deceased estate
- 118-197 Special rule for surviving joint tenant
- 118-200 Partial exemption for deceased estate dwellings
- 118-205 Adjustment if dwelling inherited from deceased individual
- 118-210 Trustee acquiring dwelling under will

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

118-105 Map of this Subdivision

Event that may attract exemption

The 2 different cases

Extent of exemption depends on whether dwelling is your main residence throughout ownership period (and on other factors for deceased estates)

Other rules that apply to both cases

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Basic case and concepts

118-110 Basic case

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *CGT event that happens in relation to a *CGT asset that is a *dwelling or your *ownership interest in it is disregarded if:
- (a) you are an individual; and
  - (b) the dwelling was your main residence throughout your *ownership period; and
  - (c) the interest did not *pass to you as a beneficiary in, and you did not *acquire it as a trustee of, the estate of a deceased person.

Note 1: You may make a capital gain or capital loss even though you comply with this section if the dwelling was used for the purpose of producing assessable income: see section 118-190.

Note 2: There is a separate rule for beneficiaries and trustees of deceased estates: see section 118-195.

- (2) Only these *CGT events are relevant:
- (a) CGT events A1, B1, C1, C2, E1, E2, F2, I1, I2, K3, K4 and K6 (except one involving the forfeiting of a deposit); and
  - (b) a CGT event that involves the forfeiting of a deposit as part of an uninterrupted sequence of transactions ending in one of the events specified in paragraph (a) subsequently happening.

Note: The full list of CGT events is in section 104-5.

118-115 Meaning of *dwelling

- (1) A dwelling includes:
- (a) a unit of accommodation that:
    - (i) is a building or is contained in a building; and
    - (ii) consists wholly or mainly of residential accommodation; and
  - (b) a unit of accommodation that is a caravan, houseboat or other mobile home; and
  - (c) any land immediately under the unit of accommodation.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (2) However, except as provided in section 118-120, a dwelling does not include any land adjacent to a building.

118-120 Extension to adjacent land

- (1) This Subdivision applies to land that is adjacent to a *dwelling (if the same *CGT event happens to the land or your *ownership interest in it) to the extent that you used the land primarily for private or domestic purposes in association with the dwelling as if it were a dwelling.
- (2) The maximum area of land covered by the exemption (including the area of the land on which the *dwelling is built) is 2 hectares.
- (3) For a flat or home unit, this Subdivision also applies to a garage, storeroom or other structure that is associated with it (if the same *CGT event happens to the structure or your *ownership interest in it) as if it were a dwelling. However, it so applies only to the extent that you used the structure primarily for private or domestic purposes in association with the flat or home unit.

118-125 Meaning of *ownership period

Your ownership period of a *dwelling is the period on or after 20 September 1985 when you had an *ownership interest in:

- (a) the dwelling; or
(b) land (*acquired on or after 20 September 1985) on which the dwelling is later built.

118-130 Meaning of *ownership interest in land or a dwelling

- (1) You have an ownership interest in land or a *dwelling if:
- (a) for land—you have a legal or equitable interest in it or a right to occupy it; or
(b) for a dwelling that is not a flat or home unit—you have a legal or equitable interest in the land on which it is erected, or a licence or right to occupy it; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 118-135

---

- (c) for a flat or home unit—you have:
  - (i) a legal or equitable interest in a *stratum unit in it; or
  - (ii) a licence or right to occupy it; or
  - (iii) a *share in a company that owns a legal or equitable interest in the land on which the flat or home unit is erected and that gives you to a right to occupy it.
- (2) For land or a *dwelling that you *acquire under a contract, you have an ownership interest in it from:
  - (a) the time when you obtain legal ownership of it; or
  - (b) if the contract or a related contract gives you a right to occupy it at an earlier time—the earlier time.
- (3) For land or a *dwelling where you have a contract for the happening of the *CGT event, you have an ownership interest in it until your legal ownership of it ends.

Rules that may extend the exemption

118-135 Moving into a dwelling

If a *dwelling becomes your main residence by the time it was first practicable for you to move into it after you *acquired your *ownership interest in it, the dwelling is treated as your main residence from when you acquired the interest until it actually became your main residence.

118-140 Changing main residences

- (1) If you *acquire an *ownership interest in a *dwelling that is to become your main residence and you still have your ownership interest in your existing main residence, both dwellings are treated as your main residence for the shorter of:
  - (a) 6 months ending when your ownership interest in your existing main residence ends; or
  - (b) the period between the acquisition of the new ownership interest and the time when the ownership interest referred to in paragraph (a) ends.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (2) Subsection (1) only applies if:
- (a) your existing main residence was your main residence for a continuous period of at least 3 months in the 12 months ending when your ownership interest in it ends; and
  - (b) your existing main residence was not used for the *purpose of producing assessable income in any part of that 12 month period when it was not your main residence.

118-145 Absences

- (1) If a *dwelling that was your main residence ceases to be your main residence, you may choose to continue to treat it as your main residence.
- (2) If you use the part of the *dwelling that was your main residence for the *purpose of producing assessable income, the maximum period that you can treat it as your main residence under this section while you use it for that purpose is 6 years. You are entitled to another maximum period of 6 years each time the dwelling again becomes and ceases to be your main residence.
- (3) If you do not use the *dwelling for that purpose, you can treat it as your main residence under this section indefinitely.
- (4) If you make the choice, you cannot treat any other *dwelling as your main residence while you apply this section, except if section 118-140 (about changing main residences) applies.

Example: You live in a house for 3 years. You are posted overseas for 5 years and you rent it out during your absence. On your return you move back into it for 2 years. You are then posted overseas again for 4 years (again renting it out), at the end of which you sell the house.

You have not treated any other dwelling as your main residence during your absences.

You may choose to continue to treat the house as your main residence during both absences because each absence is less than 6 years.

You can make this choice when preparing your income tax return for the income year in which you sold the house.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

118-150 If you build, repair or renovate a dwelling

- (1) This section applies to land in which you have an *ownership interest (except a life interest) if you build a *dwelling on the land, or repair, renovate or finish building a dwelling on the land.
- (2) You can choose to apply this Subdivision as if the *dwelling that you are building, repairing or renovating on the land were your main residence from the time you *acquired the *ownership interest.
- (3) You can make the choice only if:
  - (a) a *dwelling on the land that you construct, repair or renovate becomes your main residence as soon as practicable after the work is finished; and
  - (b) it continues to be your main residence for at least 3 months.
- (4) There is a time limit during which the choice can operate. This is the shorter of:
  - (a) 4 years before the *dwelling becomes your main residence; or
  - (b) the period starting when you *acquired your *ownership interest in the land and ending when the dwelling becomes your main residence.
- (5) If there was already a *dwelling on the land when you *acquired your *ownership interest and you or someone else occupied it after that time, the period in subsection (2) and paragraph (4)(b) starts when the dwelling ceased to be occupied.
- (6) Once you make the choice, no other *dwelling can be treated as your main residence during the period referred to in subsection (4), except if section 118-140 (about changing main residences) applies.

118-155 Where individual referred to in section 118-150 dies

- (1) This section applies if the individual referred to in subsection 118-150(1) dies:
  - (a) after the work began, or the individual entered into a contract for it to be done, but before it was finished; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (b) after the work was finished but before it was practicable for the *dwelling to become the individual's main residence; or
  - (c) during the period of 3 months referred to in paragraph 118-150(3)(b).
- (2) If the individual owned the interest in the land as a joint tenant, the surviving joint tenant or, if none, the trustee of the individual's estate, can choose to apply this Subdivision as if the *dwelling were the main residence of the individual:
- (a) when the individual died; and
  - (b) for the shorter of:
    - (i) 4 years before the individual's death; or
    - (ii) the period starting when the individual *acquired the interest in the land and ending when the individual died.
- (3) If there was already a *dwelling on the land when the individual *acquired the interest in the land and someone occupied it after that time, the period in subparagraph (2)(b)(ii) starts when the dwelling ceased to be occupied so that it could be repaired or renovated.
- (4) If the *dwelling is treated as the deceased's main residence under this section, no other dwelling can be treated as the deceased's main residence at the same time.

118-160 Destruction of dwelling and sale of land

- (1) This section applies if a *dwelling that is your main residence is accidentally destroyed and a *CGT event happens in relation to the land on which it was built without you erecting another dwelling on the land.
- (2) You can choose to apply this Subdivision to the land as if, from the time of the destruction until your *ownership interest in the land ends, the *dwelling had not been destroyed and were your main residence.
- (3) If you do so, you cannot treat any other *dwelling as your main residence during that period, except under section 118-140 (about changing main residences).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Rules that may limit the exemption

118-165 Separate CGT event for adjacent land or other structures

The exemption does not apply to a *CGT event that happens in relation to land, or a garage, storeroom or other structure, to which the exemption can extend under section 118-120 (about adjacent land) if that event does not also happen in relation to the *dwelling or your *ownership interest in it.

118-170 Spouse having different main residence

- (1) If, during a period, a *dwelling is your main residence and another *dwelling is the main residence of your *spouse (except a spouse living permanently separately and apart from you), you and your spouse must either:
  - (a) choose one of the dwellings as the main residence of both of you for the period; or
  - (b) nominate the different dwellings as your main residences for the period.
- (2) If you nominate the different *dwellings as your main residences for the period, you split the exemption in accordance with subsections (3) and (4).
- (3) If your interest in the *dwelling you chose was not, during the period, more than half of the total interests in the dwelling, the dwelling is taken to have been your main residence during the period. Otherwise, the dwelling is taken to have been your main residence for half of the period.
- (4) If your *spouse's interest in the *dwelling your spouse chose was not, during the period, more than half of the total interests in the dwelling, the dwelling is taken to have been your spouse's main residence during the period. Otherwise, the dwelling is taken to have been your spouse's main residence for half of the period.

Example: You and your spouse own a town house as tenants in common in equal shares. You and your spouse also own a beach house as tenants in common, with your interest being 30% and your spouse's 70%. From 1 July 1999, you live mainly in the town house and your spouse lives mainly in the beach house. On 1 July 2000 you and your spouse dispose of both dwellings.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

For the period 1 July 1999-30 June 2000 you nominate the town house as your main residence and your spouse nominates the beach house. The town house is taken to be your main residence during the period. The beach house is taken to be your spouse's main residence during half the period.

118-175 Dependent child having different main residence

If, at a particular time, a *dwelling is your main residence and another *dwelling is the main residence of a *child of yours who is under 18 and is dependent on you for economic support, you must choose one of them as the main residence of both of you.

Roll-overs under Subdivision 126-A

118-178 Previous roll-over under Subdivision 126-A

- (1) This section applies to you if:
  - (a) you *acquired an *ownership interest in a *dwelling from another person (your former partner) as a result of a *CGT event (the earlier event); and
  - (b) your former partner acquired the ownership interest on or after 20 September 1985; and
  - (c) there was a roll-over under Subdivision 126-A (marriage or relationship breakdown roll-over) for the earlier event; and
  - (d) a CGT event (the later event) happens in relation to the ownership interest.
- (2) This Subdivision applies to the later event in the way that it would if:
  - (a) your *ownership interest had commenced when your former partner's ownership interest commenced (the acquisition time); and
  - (b) from the acquisition time until the time your former partner's ownership interest ended:
    - (i) you had used the *dwelling in the same way that your former partner used it; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 118-180

---

- (ii) the dwelling had been your main residence for the same number of days as it was your former partner's main residence.

Example 1: Peter (the transferor spouse) is the 100% owner of a dwelling that he uses only as a main residence before transferring it to Susan (the transferee spouse). Susan uses the dwelling only as a rental property.

Susan will be eligible for a partial main residence exemption having regard to how both Peter and Susan used the dwelling.

Example 2: Caroline (the transferor spouse) is the 100% owner of a dwelling that she uses only as a rental property before transferring it to David (the transferee spouse). David uses the dwelling only as a main residence.

David will be eligible for only a partial main residence exemption having regard to how both Caroline and David used the dwelling.

118-180 Acquisition of dwelling from company or trust on marriage or relationship breakdown—roll-over provision applying

- (1) This Subdivision applies to you as if you owned an *ownership interest in land or a dwelling during a period when it was actually owned by a company or trustee if:
  - (a) you *acquired the interest from the company or trustee; and
  - (b) it was acquired by the company or trustee on or after 20 September 1985; and
  - (c) a roll-over was available to the company or trustee under Subdivision 126-A.
- (2) If subsection (1) applies to a *dwelling, it cannot be treated as your main residence during the period, despite other provisions of this Subdivision that would allow you to treat it as your main residence during the period.

Partial exemption rules

118-185 Partial exemption where dwelling was your main residence during part only of ownership period

- (1) You get only a partial exemption for a *CGT event that happens in relation to a *dwelling or your *ownership interest in it if:
  - (a) you are an individual; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) the dwelling was your main residence for part only of your *ownership period; and
  - (c) the interest did not *pass to you as a beneficiary in, and you did not *acquire it as a trustee of, the estate of a deceased person.
- (2) You calculate your *capital gain or *capital loss using the formula:

$$\text{CG or CL amount} \times \frac{\text{Non-main residence days}}{\text{Days in your *ownership period}}$$

where:

CG or CL amount is the *capital gain or *capital loss you would have made from the *CGT event apart from this Subdivision.

non-main residence days is the number of days in your *ownership period when the *dwelling was not your main residence.

Note: The capital gain or loss may be further adjusted if the dwelling was used to produce assessable income: see section 118-190.

Example: You bought a house in July 1990 and moved in immediately. In July 1993, you moved out and began to rent it. You sold it in July 2000, making (apart from this Subdivision) a capital gain of $10,000.

You choose to continue to treat the dwelling as your main residence under section 118-145 (about absences) for the first 6 of the 7 years during which you rented the house out.

Under this section, you will be taken to have made a capital gain of:

$$$10,000 \times \frac{365}{3,650} = $1,000$$

118-190 Use of dwelling for producing assessable income

- (1) You get only a partial exemption for a *CGT event that happens in relation to a *dwelling or your *ownership interest in it if:
  - (a) apart from this section, because the dwelling was your main residence or someone else's during a period:
    - (i) you would not make a *capital gain or *capital loss from the event; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 118-190

---

- (ii) you would make a lesser capital gain or loss than if this Subdivision had not applied; and
- (b) the dwelling was used for the *purpose of producing assessable income during all or a part of that period; and
- (c) if you had incurred interest on money borrowed to *acquire the dwelling, or your ownership interest in it, you could have deducted some or all of that interest.

Example: You acquire a house as a beneficiary in a deceased estate, rent it out for 12 months and sell it within 2 years of the deceased's death. You can ignore the rental because the exemption does not require the house to be your main residence during the 2 years after the death.

- (2) The *capital gain or *capital loss that you would have made apart from this section from the *CGT event is increased by an amount that is reasonable having regard to the extent to which you would have been able to deduct that interest.
- (3) However, you ignore any use of the *dwelling for the *purpose of producing assessable income during any period that you continue to treat it as your main residence under section 118-145 (about absences) to the extent that any part of it was not used for that purpose just before it last ceased to be your main residence.

Example: To continue the example from section 118-185, assume that, when you moved in, you used 1/4 of the house as a doctor's surgery.

Under section 118-185, your capital gain was $1,000.

Under this section, it would be reasonable to add an amount of:

$$$10,000 \times \frac{9}{10} \times \frac{1}{4} = $2,250$$

You have a total capital gain of $3,250 on the sale of the house.

- (4) If a *dwelling or your *ownership interest in a dwelling *passed to you as a beneficiary in a deceased estate, or you owned it as the trustee of a deceased estate, you ignore any use of the *dwelling for the *purpose of producing assessable income before the deceased's death if:
  - (a) the dwelling was the deceased's main residence just before the death; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) it was not being used for that purpose just before the death, or any use for that purpose just before the death was ignored because of subsection (3).

118-192 Special rule for first use to produce income

- (1) There is a special rule if:
  - (a) you would get only a partial exemption under this Subdivision for a *CGT event happening in relation to a *dwelling or your *ownership interest in it because the dwelling was used for the *purpose of producing assessable income during your *ownership period; and
  - (aa) that use occurred for the first time after 7.30 pm, by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory, on 20 August 1996; and
  - (b) you would have got a full exemption under this Subdivision if the CGT event had happened just before the first time (the income time) it was used for that purpose during your ownership period.
- (2) You are taken to have *acquired the *dwelling or your *ownership interest at the income time for its *market value at that time.
- (3) If your *ownership interest in the *dwelling *passed to you as a beneficiary in a deceased estate, or you owned it as the trustee of a deceased estate and the *CGT event did not happen within 2 years of the deceased's death, you apply this Subdivision as if:
  - (a) you had *acquired the interest as an individual and not as a beneficiary or trustee of a deceased estate; and
  - (b) for applying the formula in section 118-185, your non-main residence days were the number of days in your *ownership period when the dwelling was not the main residence of an individual referred to in item 2, column 3 of the table in section 118-195.

Note: There are special rules for dwellings acquired before 7.30 pm on 20 August 1996: see section 118-195 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Dwellings acquired from deceased estates

118-195 Dwelling acquired from a deceased estate

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *CGT event that happens in relation to a *dwelling or your *ownership interest in it is disregarded if:
- (a) you are an individual and the interest *passed to you as a beneficiary in a deceased estate, or you owned it as the trustee of a deceased estate; and
  - (b) at least one of the items in column 2 and at least one of the items in column 3 of the table are satisfied.

---

Beneficiary or trustee of deceased estate acquiring interest

---

Item	One of these items is satisfied	And also one of these items
1	the deceased *acquired the *ownership interest on or after 20 September 1985 and the *dwelling was the deceased's main residence just before the deceased's death and was not then being used for the *purpose of producing assessable income	your *ownership interest ends within 2 years of the deceased's death

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Beneficiary or trustee of deceased estate acquiring interest

---

Item	One of these items is satisfied	And also one of these items
2	the deceased *acquired the *ownership interest before 20 September 1985	the *dwelling was, from the deceased's death until your *ownership interest ends, the main residence of one or more of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) the spouse of the deceased immediately before the death (except a spouse who was living permanently separately and apart from the deceased); or</li> <li>(b) an individual who had a right to occupy the dwelling under the deceased's will; or</li> <li>(c) if the *CGT event was brought about by the individual to whom the *ownership interest *passed as a beneficiary—that individual</li> </ul>

Note 1: You may make a capital gain or capital loss if the dwelling was used for the purpose of producing assessable income: see section 118-190.

Note 2: In some cases the use of a dwelling to produce assessable income can be disregarded: see sections 118-145 and 118-190.

Note 3: There are special rules for dwellings acquired before 7.30 pm on 20 August 1996. These rules also affect the operation of section 118-192 and subsections 118-190(4) and 118-200(4): see section 118-195 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

(2) Only these *CGT events are relevant:

- (a) CGT events A1, B1, C1, C2, E1, E2, F2, I1, I2, K3, K4 and K6 (except one involving the forfeiting of a deposit); and
- (b) a CGT event that involves the forfeiting of a deposit as part of an uninterrupted sequence of transactions ending in one of the events specified in paragraph (a) subsequently happening.

Note: The full list of CGT events is in section 104-5.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

118-197 Special rule for surviving joint tenant

This Subdivision applies to you as if the *ownership interest of another individual in a *dwelling had *passed to you as a beneficiary in a deceased estate if:

- (a) you and the other individual owned ownership interests in the dwelling as joint tenants; and
- (b) the other individual dies.

118-200 Partial exemption for deceased estate dwellings

- (1) You get only a partial exemption (or no exemption) if:
  - (a) you are an individual and your *ownership interest in a *dwelling *passed to you as a beneficiary in a deceased estate, or you owned it as the trustee of a deceased estate; and
  - (b) section 118-195 does not apply.
- (2) You calculate your *capital gain or *capital loss using the formula:

$$\text{CG or CL amount} \times \frac{\text{Non-main residence days}}{\text{Total days}}$$

where:

CG or CL amount is the *capital gain or *capital loss you would have made from the *CGT event apart from this Subdivision.

non-main residence days is the sum of:

- (a) if the deceased *acquired the *ownership interest on or after 20 September 1985—the number of days in the deceased's *ownership period when the *dwelling was not the deceased's main residence; and
- (b) the number of days in the period from the death until your ownership interest ends when the dwelling was not the main residence of an individual referred to in item 2, column 3 of the table in section 118-195.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

total days is:

- (a) if the deceased *acquired the *ownership interest before 20 September 1985—the number of days in the period from the death until your ownership interest ends; or
  - (b) if the deceased acquired the ownership interest on or after that day—the number of days in the period from the acquisition of the dwelling by the deceased until your ownership interest ends.
- (3) However, if the deceased *acquired the *ownership interest on or after 20 September 1985 and your ownership interest ends within 2 years of the deceased's death and you get a more favourable result by doing so, you can adjust the formula by ignoring any non-main residence days and total days in the period from the deceased's death until your ownership interest ended.
- Note 1: The formula in this section will be adjusted (or further adjusted) under section 118-205 if the deceased acquired the dwelling through a deceased estate.
- Note 2: There may be a further adjustment if the dwelling was used for the purpose of producing assessable income: see section 118-190.
- (4) You ignore any non-main residence days before the deceased's death if:
- (a) the *dwelling was the deceased's main residence just before the death; and
  - (b) the dwelling was not being used for the *purpose of producing assessable income just before the death, or any use for that purpose just before the death was ignored because of subsection 118-190(3).

118-205 Adjustment if dwelling inherited from deceased individual

- (1) You must adjust the formula in subsection 118-200(2) if the *ownership interest of the deceased individual referred to in section 118-200 (the most recently deceased) *passed to the individual on or after 20 September 1985 as a beneficiary in, or the individual owned it as trustee of, a deceased estate.

Note: Any gains or losses of individuals earlier in the inheritance chain are included in the gain or loss you would have made apart from this

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 118-210

---

Subdivision. This section adjusts the formula to take account of times when the dwelling was the main residence of the individuals.

- (2) Add to the component total days in the formula the fewer of:
  - (a) the number of days between 20 September 1985 and the day when the interest *passed to or was *acquired as trustee by the most recently deceased; and
  - (b) the number of days between the time when an *ownership interest in the *dwelling was last acquired on or after 20 September 1985 by an individual except as a beneficiary in a deceased estate or as trustee of a deceased estate and the day when the interest passed to or was acquired as trustee by the most recently deceased.
- (3) Add to the component non-main residence days in the formula the number of days in the period applicable under subsection (2) that the *dwelling was not the main residence of one or more of:
  - (a) an individual who owned the dwelling at the time of the individual's death; or
  - (b) an individual who, immediately before the death of an individual referred to in paragraph (a), was the spouse of that individual (except a spouse who was living permanently separately and apart from the individual); or
  - (c) an individual who had a right to occupy the dwelling under a will; or
  - (d) an individual to whom an *ownership interest in the dwelling *passed as a beneficiary in, or who *acquired an ownership interest in the dwelling as trustee of, a deceased estate.

118-210 Trustee acquiring dwelling under will

- (1) This section applies if you are the trustee of a deceased estate and, under the deceased's will, you *acquire an *ownership interest in a *dwelling for occupation by an individual.
- (2) If a *CGT event happens to the interest in relation to the individual and you receive no money or property for it:
  - (a) a *capital gain or *capital loss you make from the event is disregarded; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) the first element of the *dwelling's *cost base and *reduced cost base in the hands of the individual is its cost base and reduced cost base in your hands at the time of the event; and
  - (c) the individual is taken to have *acquired it when you did.
- (3) If:
- (a) you receive money or property for the *CGT event happening or the event happens in relation to another entity; and
  - (b) the dwelling was the main residence of the individual from the time you *acquired the interest until the time of the event; you do not make a *capital gain or *capital loss from the CGT event.
- (4) However, if the *dwelling was the main residence of the individual during part only of that period, you make a *capital gain or *capital loss worked out using the formula:

$$\text{CG or CL amount} \times \frac{\text{Non-main residence days}}{\text{Days in that period}}$$

where:

CG or CL amount is the *capital gain or *capital loss you would have made from the *CGT event apart from this Subdivision.

non-main residence days is the number of days in that period when the *dwelling was not the individual's main residence.

- (5) Only these *CGT events are relevant:
- (a) CGT events A1, B1, C1, C2, E1, E2, E5, F2, I1, I2, K3, K4 and K6 (except one involving the forfeiting of a deposit); and
  - (b) a CGT event that involves the forfeiting of a deposit as part of an uninterrupted sequence of transactions ending in one of the events specified in paragraph (a) subsequently happening.

Note: The full list of CGT events is in section 104-5.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 118-D—Insurance and superannuation

Table of sections

118-300	Insurance policies
118-305	Superannuation
118-310	RSA's
118-313	Superannuation agreements under the Family Law Act
118-315	Segregated exempt assets of life insurance companies
118-320	Segregated current pension assets of a complying superannuation entity

118-300 Insurance policies

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *CGT event happening in relation to a *CGT asset that is your interest in rights under a *general insurance policy, a *life insurance policy or an *annuity instrument is disregarded in the situations set out in this table.

Insurance policies
Item	The *CGT event happens to this type of policy:	... and you are
1	Any insurance policy or *annuity instrument	the insurer or the entity that issued the instrument
2	A *general insurance policy for property where, if a *CGT event happened in relation to the property, any *capital gain or *capital loss would be disregarded	the insured
3	A policy of insurance on the life of an individual or an *annuity instrument	the original beneficial owner of the policy or instrument
4	A policy of insurance on the life of an individual or an *annuity instrument	an entity that *acquired the interest in the policy or instrument for no consideration
5	A policy of insurance on the life of an individual or an *annuity instrument	the trustee of a *complying superannuation entity for the income year in which the *CGT event happened

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Insurance policies

---

Item	The *CGT event happens to this type of policy:	... and you are
6	A policy of insurance on the life of an individual or an *annuity instrument, where the *life insurance company's liabilities under the policy or instrument are to be discharged out of *complying superannuation/FHSA assets or *segregated exempt assets	the life insurance company

Example 1: Brian (as the insured) receives an insurance payment from his insurer for the destruction of a building he owned as an investment. The payment constitutes capital proceeds on the destruction (CGT event C1). The discharge of the insurance policy (CGT event C2) has no CGT consequences.

Example 2: Peter is the original beneficial owner of the rights under a policy of insurance on the life of an individual. He transfers the rights to his spouse for nothing. There are no CGT consequences for him, and none for his spouse if he dies.

- (2) Only these *CGT events are relevant: CGT events A1, B1, C2, E1, E2, E3, E5, E6, E7, E8, I1, I2, K3 and K4.

Note: The full list of CGT events is in section 104-5.

118-305 Superannuation

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss is disregarded if you make it from a *CGT event happening in relation to any of the following:
- (a) a right to an allowance, annuity or capital amount payable out of a *superannuation fund or *approved deposit fund;
  - (b) a right to an asset of such a fund;
  - (c) a right to any part of such an allowance, annuity, capital amount or asset.

Example: Angela retires from her employment and receives a lump sum payment from her superannuation fund. This is an example of CGT event C2 (her rights to receive the payment ending). There are no CGT consequences for Angela.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 118-310

---

- (2) However, this exemption is not available if:
- (a) you are the trustee of the fund and a *CGT event happens in relation to a *CGT asset of the fund; or
  - (b) an entity receives a payment or property where:
    - (i) the entity was not a member of the fund; and
    - (ii) the entity *acquired the right to the payment or property for consideration.
- (3) Subsection (2) does not apply if:
- (a) a *payment split applies to a *splittable payment; and
  - (b) as a result, a payment is made to the *non-member spouse (or to his or her *legal personal representative if the non-member spouse has died).

118-310 RSA's

A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *CGT event happening in relation to a right to, or any part of, an *RSA is disregarded.

118-313 Superannuation agreements under the Family Law Act

A *capital gain or *capital loss you make from *CGT event C2 or D1 relating directly to any of the following is disregarded:

- (a) the making of a superannuation agreement (within the meaning of Part VIIIIB of the Family Law Act 1975);
- (b) the termination, or setting aside, of such an agreement;
- (c) such an agreement otherwise coming to an end.

118-315 Segregated exempt assets of life insurance companies

A *capital gain or *capital loss that a *life insurance company makes from a *CGT event happening in relation to a *segregated exempt asset is disregarded.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

118-320 Segregated current pension assets of a complying superannuation entity

A *capital gain or *capital loss that a *complying superannuation entity makes from a *CGT event happening in relation to a *segregated current pension asset is disregarded.

Subdivision 118-E—Units in pooled superannuation trusts

118-350 Units in pooled superannuation trusts

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss an entity makes from a *CGT event happening in relation to a unit in a unit trust is disregarded if:
  - (a) the trust is a *pooled superannuation trust for the income year in which the event happened; and
  - (b) one of the conditions in subsection (2) is satisfied.
- (2) The entity must be:
  - (a) the trustee of a *complying superannuation entity for the income year in which the *CGT event happened; or
  - (b) a *life insurance company and, just before the event happened, the unit must have been a *complying superannuation/FHSA asset or a *segregated exempt asset of the company.

Subdivision 118-F—Venture capital investment

Guide to Subdivision 118-F

118-400 What this Subdivision is about

You can ignore capital gains and capital losses from CGT events that relate to investments, in Australian companies and unit trusts (and in some cases foreign holding companies), that meet the requirements of this Subdivision.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

These investments are made:

- (a) through limited partnerships, known as venture capital limited partnerships or early stage venture capital limited partnerships, that are unconditionally registered under Part 2 of the Venture Capital Act 2002; or
- (b) through limited partnerships, known as Australian venture capital funds of funds, that are unconditionally registered under that Part; or
- (c) directly by foreign residents who are registered under Part 3 of that Act.

However, unless investments are made through early stage venture capital limited partnerships, you must be a foreign resident for this Subdivision to apply.

Note: Registration of a limited partnership under Part 2 of that Act also leads to its income and losses being assessed under Division 5 of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 on the basis that it is a partnership.

This is an exception to the general rule, under Division 5A of that Part, that limited partnerships are assessed as companies.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

118-405	Exemption for certain foreign venture capital investments through venture capital limited partnerships
118-407	Exemption for certain venture capital investments through early stage venture capital limited partnerships
118-410	Exemption for certain foreign venture capital investments through Australian venture capital funds of funds
118-415	Exemption for certain venture capital investments by foreign residents
118-420	Meaning of eligible venture capital partner etc.
118-425	Meaning of eligible venture capital investment —investments in companies
118-427	Meaning of eligible venture capital investment —investments in unit trusts
118-428	Additional investment requirements for ESVCLPs

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- 118-430 Meaning of at risk
- 118-435 Special rule relating to investment in foreign resident holding companies
- 118-440 Meaning of permitted entity value
- 118-445 Meaning of committed capital

Operative provisions

118-405 Exemption for certain foreign venture capital investments through venture capital limited partnerships

General

- (1) All of your share in a *capital gain or a *capital loss from a *CGT event is disregarded if:
- (a) you are an *eligible venture capital partner in a *limited partnership; and
  - (b) the CGT event relates to an investment that the partnership made that is an *eligible venture capital investment; and
  - (c) when the partnership made the investment, the partnership was a *venture capital limited partnership that was *unconditionally registered; and
  - (d) at the time of the CGT event, the partnership:
    - (i) owned the investment; and
    - (ii) had owned the investment for at least 12 months; and
    - (iii) was a venture capital limited partnership that was unconditionally registered; and
    - (iv) in the case of a capital gain—met all of the *registration requirements of a VCLP that are not *investment registration requirements.

Note: The registration requirements of a VCLP are set out in section 9-1 of the Venture Capital Act 2002. It is important to understand that this is a separate requirement from registration under Part 2 of that Act (which effectively determines whether an entity is a VCLP).

It is technically possible to be registered under Part 2 of that Act without meeting the registration requirements of a VCLP, but you might still not be entitled to exemption under this section.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Meaning of venture capital limited partnership

- (2) A *limited partnership is a venture capital limited partnership at a particular time if, at that time, the partnership's registration as a venture capital limited partnership under Part 2 of the Venture Capital Act 2002 is, or is taken to have been, in force.

For when the registration is, or is taken to have been, in force, see section 13-10 of the Venture Capital Act 2002.

Note: In this Act and the Venture Capital Act 2002, the term "venture capital limited partnership" is usually abbreviated to "VCLP".

Effect of converting convertible notes etc.

- (3) A partnership that acquired a *share in a company by converting a *convertible note, or a convertible preference share, issued by the company is treated, for the purposes of subparagraph (1)(d)(ii), as having owned the share from the time when it last acquired the convertible note or convertible preference share.
- (4) A partnership that acquired a unit in a unit trust by converting a *convertible note issued by or on behalf of the trustee of the unit trust is treated, for the purposes of subparagraph (1)(d)(ii), as having owned the unit from the time when it last acquired the convertible note.
- (5) Subsection (3) or (4) applies whether or not the acquisition of the *convertible note, or convertible preference share, was an *eligible venture capital investment.
- (6) A partnership that converts a *convertible note into a share or a unit is treated, for the purposes of subparagraph (1)(d)(ii), as continuing to own the convertible note until the partnership no longer owns the share or unit.

118-407 Exemption for certain venture capital investments through early stage venture capital limited partnerships

General

- (1) All of your share in a *capital gain or a *capital loss from a *CGT event is disregarded if:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) you are a partner in a *limited partnership; and
- (b) the CGT event relates to an investment that the partnership made that:
  - (i) is an *eligible venture capital investment; and
  - (ii) meets all of the *additional investment requirements for ESVCLPs for the investment; and
- (c) when the partnership made the investment, the partnership was an *early stage venture capital limited partnership that was *unconditionally registered; and
- (d) at the time of the CGT event, the partnership:
  - (i) owned the investment; and
  - (ii) had owned the investment for at least 12 months; and
  - (iii) was an early stage venture capital limited partnership that was unconditionally registered; and
  - (iv) in the case of a capital gain—met all of the *registration requirements of an ESVCLP that are not *investment registration requirements, and met the *divestiture registration requirement.

Note: The registration requirements of an ESVCLP are set out in section 9-3 of the Venture Capital Act 2002. It is important to understand that this is a separate requirement from registration under Part 2 of that Act (which effectively determines whether an entity is an ESVCLP).

It is technically possible to be registered under Part 2 of that Act without meeting the registration requirements of an ESVCLP, but you might still not be entitled to exemption under this section.

Residency requirements for general partners

- (2) However, if you are a *general partner in the partnership, subsection (1) does not apply to you unless you are:
  - (a) an Australian resident; or
  - (b) a resident of a foreign country in respect of which a double tax agreement (as defined in Part X of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) is in force that is an agreement of a kind referred to in subparagraph (b)(i), (ia), (ii), (iii), (iv) or (v) of that definition.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (3) For the purposes of this section, the place of residence of a *general partner in a *limited partnership:
- (a) that is a company or limited partnership; and
  - (b) that is not an Australian resident;
- is the place in which the general partner has its central management and control.

Meaning of early stage venture capital limited partnership

- (4) A *limited partnership is an early stage venture capital limited partnership at a particular time if, at that time, the partnership's registration as an early stage venture capital limited partnership under Part 2 of the Venture Capital Act 2002 is, or is taken to have been, in force.

Note 1: For when the registration is, or is taken to have been, in force, see section 13-10 of the Venture Capital Act 2002.

Note 2: In this Act and the Venture Capital Act 2002, the term "early stage venture capital limited partnership" is usually abbreviated to "ESVCLP".

Temporary exemption from meeting the divestiture registration requirement

- (5) A partnership is treated, for the purposes of subsection (1), as never having failed, during a particular income year of the partnership, to meet the *divestiture registration requirement in relation to a particular investment that the partnership holds, if:
- (a) at the start of the income year, the partnership fails to meet the divestiture registration requirement in relation to that investment; and
  - (b) the partnership meets the divestiture registration requirement in relation to that investment:
    - (i) within the period of 6 months after the start of that income year; or
    - (ii) if that period is extended under subsection 17-3(3) of the Venture Capital Act 2002—within that period as so extended.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Effect of converting convertible notes etc.

- (6) A partnership that acquired a *share in a company by converting a *convertible note, or a convertible preference share, issued by the company is treated, for the purposes of subparagraph (1)(d)(ii), as having owned the share from the time when it last acquired the convertible note or convertible preference share.
- (7) A partnership that acquired a unit in a unit trust by converting a *convertible note issued by the trustee of the unit trust is treated, for the purposes of subparagraph (1)(d)(ii), as having owned the unit from the time when it last acquired the convertible note.
- (8) Subsection (6) or (7) applies whether or not the acquisition of the *convertible note, or convertible preference share, was an *eligible venture capital investment.
- (9) A partnership that converts a *convertible note into a share or a unit is treated, for the purposes of subparagraph (1)(d)(ii), as continuing to own the convertible note until the partnership no longer owns the share or unit.

118-410 Exemption for certain foreign venture capital investments through Australian venture capital funds of funds

Gains or losses as a partner in a VCLP or an ESVCLP

- (1) All of your share in a *capital gain or a *capital loss from a *CGT event is disregarded if:
  - (a) you are an *eligible venture capital partner in a *limited partnership; and
  - (b) the CGT event relates to an *eligible venture capital investment made by a *VCLP, or an *ESVCLP, in which the partnership is a partner; and
  - (c) when the investment was made, the partnership was an *Australian venture capital fund of funds that was *unconditionally registered; and
  - (d) when the investment was made, the VCLP or ESVCLP was unconditionally registered; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (e) at the time of the CGT event, the partnership:
  - (i) was an Australian venture capital fund of funds that was unconditionally registered; and
  - (ii) in the case of a capital gain—met all of the *registration requirements of an AFOF that are not *investment registration requirements; and
- (f) at the time of the CGT event, the VCLP or ESVCLP:
  - (i) owned the investment; and
  - (ii) had owned the investment for at least 12 months; and
  - (iii) was unconditionally registered; and
  - (iv) in the case of a capital gain—met all of the *registration requirements of a VCLP, or all of the *registration requirements of an ESVCLP, (as the case requires) that are not investment registration requirements.

Note: The registration requirements of an AFOF are set out in section 9-5 of the Venture Capital Act 2002. It is important to understand that this is a separate requirement from registration under Part 2 of that Act (which effectively determines whether an entity is an AFOF).

It is technically possible to be registered under Part 2 of that Act without meeting the registration requirements of an AFOF, but you might still not be entitled to exemption under this section.

Gains or losses from direct investments

- (2) All of your share in a *capital gain or a *capital loss from a *CGT event is disregarded if:
  - (a) you are an *eligible venture capital partner in a *limited partnership; and
  - (b) in the case of a capital gain—the CGT event relates to an *eligible venture capital investment that the partnership made in a company, or a unit trust, in which a *VCLP, or an *ESVCLP, of which the partnership is a partner, owns one or more eligible venture capital investments; and
  - (c) when the investment was made, the partnership was an *Australian venture capital fund of funds that was *unconditionally registered; and
  - (d) when the investment was made, the VCLP or ESVCLP owned one or more eligible venture capital investments in the company referred to in paragraph (b); and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (e) at the time of the CGT event, the partnership:
- (i) owned the investment; and
  - (ii) had owned the investment for at least 12 months; and
  - (iii) was an Australian venture capital fund of funds that was unconditionally registered; and
  - (iv) in the case of a capital gain—met all of the *registration requirements of an AFOF that are not *investment registration requirements.

Note: The registration requirements of an AFOF are set out in section 9-5 of the Venture Capital Act 2002. It is important to understand that this is a separate requirement from registration under Part 2 of that Act (which effectively determines whether an entity is an AFOF).

It is technically possible to be registered under Part 2 of that Act without meeting the registration requirements of an AFOF, but you might still not be entitled to exemption under this section.

Meaning of Australian venture capital fund of funds

- (3) A *limited partnership is an Australian venture capital fund of funds at a particular time if, at that time, the partnership's registration as an Australian venture capital fund of funds under Part 2 of the Venture Capital Act 2002 is, or is taken to have been, in force.

For when the registration is, or is taken to have been, in force, see section 13-10 of the Venture Capital Act 2002.

Note: In this Act and the Venture Capital Act 2002, the term "Australian venture capital fund of funds" is usually abbreviated to "AFOF".

Effect of converting convertible notes etc.

- (4) A partnership that acquired a *share in a company by converting a *convertible note, or a convertible preference share, issued by the company is treated, for the purposes of subparagraphs (1)(f)(ii) and (2)(e)(ii), as having owned the share from the time when it last acquired the convertible note or convertible preference share.
- (5) A partnership that acquired a unit in a unit trust by converting a *convertible note issued by or on behalf of the trustee of the unit trust is treated, for the purposes of subparagraphs (1)(f)(ii) and (2)(e)(ii), as having owned the unit from the time when it last acquired the convertible note.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 118-415

---

- (6) Subsection (4) or (5) applies whether or not the acquisition of the *convertible note, or convertible preference share, was an *eligible venture capital investment.
- (7) A partnership that converts a *convertible note into a share or a unit is treated, for the purposes of subparagraphs (1)(f)(ii) and (2)(e)(ii), as continuing to own the convertible note until the partnership no longer owns the share or unit.

118-415 Exemption for certain venture capital investments by foreign residents

General

- (1) A *capital gain or a *capital loss from a *CGT event is disregarded if:
  - (a) the CGT event relates to an investment that you made that is an *eligible venture capital investment; and
  - (b) you were an *eligible venture capital investor when you made the investment; and
  - (c) at the time of the CGT event:
    - (i) you owned the investment; and
    - (ii) you had owned the investment for at least 12 months; and
    - (iii) you were an eligible venture capital investor.

Meaning of eligible venture capital investor

- (2) An entity is an eligible venture capital investor at a particular time if, at that time, the entity:
  - (a) is a *tax-exempt foreign resident; and
  - (b) is registered under Part 3 of the Venture Capital Act 2002.

Effect of converting convertible notes etc.

- (3) An entity that acquired a *share in a company by converting a *convertible note, or a convertible preference share, issued by the company is treated, for the purposes of subparagraph (1)(c)(ii), as having owned the share from the time when it last acquired the convertible note or convertible preference share.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (4) An entity that acquired a unit in a unit trust by converting a *convertible note issued by or on behalf of the trustee of the unit trust is treated, for the purposes of subparagraph (1)(c)(ii), as having owned the unit from the time when it last acquired the convertible note.
- (5) Subsection (3) or (4) applies whether or not the acquisition of the *convertible note, or convertible preference share, was an *eligible venture capital investment.
- (6) An entity that converts a *convertible note into a share or a unit is treated, for the purposes of subparagraph (1)(c)(ii), as continuing to own the convertible note until the entity no longer owns the share or unit.

118-420 Meaning of eligible venture capital partner etc.

- (1) A partner in a *limited partnership is an eligible venture capital partner if:
  - (a) the partner is a *tax-exempt foreign resident; or
  - (b) the partner is a *foreign venture capital fund of funds, and the sum of:
    - (i) the partner's *committed capital in the partnership; and
    - (ii) the sum of the amounts of committed capital in the partnership of any entities that are *connected entities of the partner;does not exceed 30% of the partnership's committed capital; or
  - (c) the partner is a foreign resident who is not a *general partner of a *VCLP or an *ESVCLP and is neither a *tax-exempt foreign resident nor a *foreign venture capital fund of funds, and the sum of:
    - (i) the partner's committed capital in the partnership; and
    - (ii) the sum of the amounts of committed capital in the partnership of any entities that are connected entities of the partner;is less than 10% of the partnership's committed capital.

Note: Subsection (7) prevents some trusts from being eligible venture capital partners.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (2) An entity that is an *associate of the partner only because the entity is a partner in the partnership in question is taken not to be a *connected entity of the partner for the purposes of subparagraphs (1)(b)(ii) and (c)(ii).
- (3) An entity is a tax-exempt foreign resident if:
  - (a) the entity is a foreign resident; and
  - (b) the entity is not a *general partner of a *VCLP or an *ESVCLP; and
  - (c) the entity's income is exempt, or effectively exempt, from taxation in the entity's country of residence.
- (4) An entity that is a *limited partnership is a foreign venture capital fund of funds if:
  - (a) the partnership was established in a foreign country; and
  - (b) every partner who is a *general partner is a foreign resident; and
  - (c) the partnership is not a general partner of a *VCLP or an *ESVCLP.
- (5) An entity that is not a *limited partnership is a foreign venture capital fund of funds if:
  - (a) whether by operation of law or by election, the entity is not taxed as an entity in its country of residence, but the entity's income is taxed to its members according to their interests in the entity; and
  - (b) the entity was established in a foreign country; and
  - (c) the entity is a foreign resident; and
  - (d) the entity is not a *general partner of a *VCLP or an *ESVCLP.
- (7) A trust is not an eligible venture capital partner if an Australian resident:
  - (a) is or is likely to become presently entitled, for the purposes of Division 6 of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, to; or
  - (b) has or is likely to have an individual interest, for the purposes of Division 5 of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, in; a share of income of the trust, either directly or indirectly through one or more interposed partnerships or trusts.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (8) For the purposes of this section, the place of residence of a *general partner of a *limited partnership:
- (a) that is a company or a limited partnership; and
  - (b) that is a foreign resident;
- is the place in which the general partner has its central management and control.
- (9) For the purposes of this section, the place of residence of an entity referred to in paragraph (5)(a) is the place in which the entity has its central management and control.

118-425 Meaning of eligible venture capital investment—investments in companies

Requirements for an eligible venture capital investment

- (1) An investment is an eligible venture capital investment if:
- (a) it is *at risk; and
  - (b) it is:
    - (i) an acquisition of *shares in a company; or
    - (ii) an acquisition of options (including warrants) originally issued by a company to acquire shares in the company; or
    - (iii) an acquisition of *convertible notes (other than convertible notes that are *debt interests) issued by a company; and
  - (c) the company meets the requirements of subsections (2) to (7); and
  - (d) the sum of:
    - (i) the total amount that the partnership has invested in all the *equity interests and *debt interests that the partnership owns in the company; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (ii) the total amount that the partnership has invested in all the equity interests and debt interests that the partnership owns in any entities that are *connected entities of the company;
does not exceed 30% of the partnership's *committed capital.

Certain entities not treated as connected entities

- (1A) In applying subparagraph (1)(d)(ii), ignore an entity that is a *connected entity of the company only because it is an *associate of the company because of an investment made in the entity by the partnership.

Location within Australia

- (2) The company:
- (a) must, at the time the investment is made, be an Australian resident; and
  - (b) if at that time the entity making the investment does not own any other investments in the company—must meet the following requirements:
    - (i) more than 50% of the people who are currently engaged by the company to perform services must perform those services primarily in Australia;
    - (ii) more than 50% of its assets (determined by value) must be situated in Australia;during the whole of the period of 12 months, or such shorter period as *Innovation Australia determines under section 25-5 of the Venture Capital Act 2002, starting from the time the investment is made.

However, subparagraph (b)(i) or (ii) does not apply to the company if Innovation Australia so determines under section 25-10 of the Venture Capital Act 2002.

See subsection (10) for the value of assets.

Note: A company that fails to meet the requirements of this subsection can still be eligible in certain circumstances: see subsection (12A).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Predominant activity

- (3) The company must satisfy at least 2 of these requirements:
- (a) more than 75% of the company's assets (determined by value) must be used primarily in activities that are not ineligible activities mentioned in subsection (13);
  - (b) more than 75% of the company's employees must be engaged primarily in activities that are not ineligible activities mentioned in subsection (13);
  - (c) more than 75% of the company's total assessable income, *exempt income and *non-assessable non-exempt income must come from activities that are not ineligible activities mentioned in subsection (13).

Note 1: This requirement is ongoing. It is not limited to the circumstances at the time the investment was made.

Note 2: See subsection (10) for the value of assets.

Note 3: A company that fails to meet at least 2 of the requirements can still be eligible if Innovation Australia determines that the company's primary activity is not ineligible and the failure is temporary: see subsection (14).

Investment in other entities etc.

- (4) The company must not:
- (a) invest, in another entity, any part of the amount invested, unless the other entity:
    - (i) is *connected with the company (except another entity that is an *associate of the company because of an investment made in the entity by the partnership); and
    - (ii) meets the requirements of subsections (3) to (7); or
  - (b) in the capacity of a trustee, use any part of the amount invested.

However, this subsection does not prevent the company from depositing money with an *ADI, or with a body authorised by or under a law of a foreign country to carry on banking business in that country.

Note: This requirement is ongoing. It is not limited to the circumstances at the time the investment was made.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 118-425

---

Registered auditor

- (5) The company must, at the end of, and at all times after the end of, the income year in which the investment is made, have as its auditor:
- (a) a person registered as an auditor under a law in force in a State or a Territory; or
  - (b) if the company is no longer an Australian resident—a person registered as an auditor under a law in force in the country of which the company is a resident.

Note: This requirement is ongoing.

Permitted entity value

- (6) The company must not, immediately before the investment is made, exceed the *permitted entity value.

Listing

- (7) The company must be a company whose *shares:
- (a) are, at the time the investment is made, not listed for quotation in the official list of a stock exchange in Australia or a foreign country; or
  - (b) are so listed at that time, but cease to be so listed at any time during the 12 months after the investment is made.

However, the company is taken to meet the requirements of this subsection in relation to any investment made by an *ESVCLP (whether or not shares in the company are so listed).

Note: The additional requirements for ESVCLPs deal with listing in relation to initial investments by ESVCLPs in companies: see paragraph 118-428(1)(a).

Scrip for scrip investments

- (8) However, a company is taken to meet the requirements of subsections (2) to (7) if:
- (a) the investment is an acquisition of *shares in that company in exchange for shares in another company; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) at the time that the *VCLP, *ESVCLP, *AFOF or *eligible venture capital investor in question acquired the shares being exchanged, the other company meets the requirements of subsections (2) to (7), but not only because this subsection applies to the other company; and
- (c) the shares in the other company that are being exchanged are all of the shares in the other company that the entity making the investment owned at the time of the exchange.

Debt interests

- (9) To avoid doubt, a *debt interest cannot be an eligible venture capital investment.

The value of an asset or investment

- (10) The value of an asset, or an investment, of an entity at a particular time for the purposes of this section is the value of the asset or investment as shown in:
  - (a) the last audited accounts prepared for the entity for the purposes of the Corporations Act 2001 that relates to a period ending less than 18 months before that time; or
  - (b) if there are no such audited accounts—a statement, prepared in accordance with the *accounting standards and audited by the entity's auditor, showing that value as at a time no longer than 12 months before that time.

Investment in holding companies

- (11) A company is taken to meet the requirements of subsections (3) and (4) if:
  - (a) a *VCLP, an *ESVCLP, an *AFOF or an *eligible venture capital investor acquires *shares or options in, or *convertible notes issued by, the company; and
  - (b) the company was formed solely for the purpose of investing in another company or a unit trust; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 118-425

---

- (c) within 6 months after the investment referred to in paragraph (a) was made, the company uses the money from that investment:
  - (i) in acquiring shares or options in, or convertible notes issued by, the other company, or in acquiring units or options in, or convertible notes issued by or on behalf of the trustee of, the unit trust; or
  - (ia) in meeting incidental costs of any such acquisition; or
  - (ii) on administrative expenses associated with the investment; or
  - (iii) making loans to the other company or unit trust; and
- (d) within that period of 6 months and after the end of that period:
  - (i) the other company meets the requirements of subsections (2) to (7); or
  - (ii) the unit trust meets the requirements of subsections 118-427(3) to (8);as the case requires.

Note: The requirement in paragraph (11)(d) is ongoing (unless the company becomes the head company of a consolidated group or consolidatable group: see subsection (16)).

Application to consolidated or consolidatable groups

- (12) This section applies to a *consolidated group or *consolidatable group as if:
  - (a) the *head company of the group carried on all of the activities that are carried on by *subsidiary members of the group; and
  - (b) the assets, employees and income of the subsidiary members of the group were assets, employees and income of the head company; and
  - (c) each subsidiary member of the group were parts of the head company rather than separate entities.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Exception to requirements relating to location within Australia

- (12A) A company is taken to meet the requirements of subsection (2) in relation to an investment made by an entity if the sum of:
- (a) the value of the investment at the time the entity makes it; and
  - (b) the total value of all the other investments that the entity owns at that time that do not, or apart from this subsection would not, meet those requirements;
- does not exceed 20% of the partnership's *committed capital.

Note: See subsection (10) for the value of investments.

Ineligible activities

- (13) These activities are ineligible activities:
- (a) property development or land ownership;
  - (b) finance, to the extent that it is any of the following:
    - (i) banking;
    - (ii) providing capital to others;
    - (iii) leasing;
    - (iv) factoring;
    - (v) securitisation;
  - (c) insurance;
  - (d) construction (including extension, improvement or up-grading) or acquisition of infrastructure facilities (within the meaning of section 93L of the Development Allowance Authority Act 1992) or related facilities (within the meaning of section 93M of that Act), or both;
  - (e) making investments, whether made directly or indirectly, that are directed to deriving income in the nature of interest, rents, dividends, royalties or lease payments.

For the purposes of this subsection, activities that are ancillary or incidental to a particular activity are taken to form part of that activity.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Innovation Australia discretion

- (14) A company is taken to meet the requirements of subsection (3) even if it fails to satisfy at least 2 of the requirements in that subsection if *Innovation Australia determines under section 25-15 of the Venture Capital Act 2002 that:
- (a) the company's primary activity is not an ineligible activity mentioned in subsection (13); and
  - (b) the failure is temporary and did not exist at the time the investment referred to in subsection (1) was made and, if it has been disposed of, when it was disposed of.

Convertible notes and convertible preference shares

- (15) To the extent that an investment by an entity consists of the acquisition of a *share in a company by converting a *convertible note, or a convertible preference share, issued by the company, the investment is, for the purpose of determining whether the company meets the requirements of subsections (2) to (7), taken to have been made at the time when the entity last acquired the convertible note or convertible preference share.

Subsection (11) stops applying

- (16) Subsection (11) stops applying to the company first referred to in that subsection if the company becomes the *head company of a *consolidated group or *consolidatable group.

118-427 Meaning of eligible venture capital investment—investments in unit trusts

Requirements for an eligible venture capital investment

- (1) An investment is an eligible venture capital investment if:
- (a) it is *at risk; and
  - (b) it is either:
    - (i) an acquisition of units in a unit trust; or
    - (ii) an acquisition of options (including warrants) originally issued by or on behalf of the trustee of a unit trust to acquire units in the unit trust; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (iii) an acquisition of *convertible notes (other than convertible notes that are *debt interests) issued by or on behalf of the trustee of a unit trust; and
- (c) the unit trust meets the requirements of subsections (3) to (8); and
- (d) the sum of:
  - (i) the total amount that the partnership has invested in all the *equity interests and *debt interests that the partnership owns in the unit trust; and
  - (ii) the total amount that the partnership has invested in all the equity interests and debt interests that the partnership owns in any entities that are *connected entities of the unit trust;does not exceed 30% of the partnership's *committed capital.

Certain entities not treated as connected entities

- (2) In applying subparagraph (1)(d)(ii), ignore an entity that is a *connected entity of the unit trust only because it is an *associate of the unit trust because of an investment made in the entity by the partnership.

Location within Australia

- (3) The unit trust:
  - (a) must, at the time the investment is made, carry on *business in Australia; and
  - (b) must, at that time, meet at least one of the following requirements:
    - (i) the central management and control of the unit trust is in Australia;
    - (ii) more than 50% of the beneficial interests in the income of the unit trust are held by Australian residents;
    - (iii) more than 50% of the beneficial interests in the property of the unit trust are held by Australian residents; and
  - (c) if at that time the entity making the investment does not own any other investments in the unit trust—must meet the following requirements:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (i) more than 50% of the people who are currently engaged by the trustee of the unit trust to perform services must perform those services primarily in Australia;
- (ii) more than 50% of its assets (determined by value) must be situated in Australia;

during the whole of the period of 12 months, or such shorter period as *Innovation Australia determines under section 25-5 of the Venture Capital Act 2002, starting from the time the investment is made.

However, subparagraph (c)(i) or (ii) does not apply to the unit trust if Innovation Australia so determines under section 25-10 of the Venture Capital Act 2002.

Note: A company that fails to meet the requirements of this subsection can still be eligible in certain circumstances: see subsection (13).

Predominant activity

- (4) The unit trust must satisfy at least 2 of these requirements:
  - (a) more than 75% of the unit trust's assets (determined by value) must be used primarily in activities that are not ineligible activities mentioned in subsection (14);
  - (b) more than 75% of the employees of the trustee of the unit trust must be engaged primarily in activities that are not ineligible activities mentioned in subsection (14);
  - (c) more than 75% of the unit trust's total assessable income, *exempt income and *non-assessable non-exempt income must come from activities that are not ineligible activities mentioned in subsection (14).

Note 1: This requirement is ongoing. It is not limited to the circumstances at the time the investment was made.

Note 2: See subsection (11) for the value of assets.

Note 3: A unit trust that fails to meet at least 2 of the requirements can still be eligible if Innovation Australia determines that the unit trust's primary activity is not ineligible and the failure is temporary: see subsection (15).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Investment in other entities etc.

- (5) The unit trust must not:
- (a) invest, in another entity, any part of the amount invested, unless the other entity:
    - (i) is *connected with the unit trust (except another entity that is an *associate of the unit trust because of an investment made in the entity by the partnership); and
    - (ii) meets the requirements of subsections (4) to (8); or
  - (b) in the capacity of a trustee, use any part of the amount invested.

However, this subsection does not prevent the unit trust from depositing money with an *ADI, or with a body authorised by or under a law of a foreign country to carry on banking business in that country.

Note: This requirement is ongoing. It is not limited to the circumstances at the time the investment was made.

Registered auditor

- (6) The unit trust must, at the end of, and at all times after the end of, the income year in which the investment is made, have as its auditor:
- (a) a person registered as an auditor under a law in force in a State or a Territory; or
  - (b) if the unit trust is no longer an Australian resident—a person registered as an auditor under a law in force in the country of which the unit trust is a resident.

Note: This requirement is ongoing.

Permitted entity value

- (7) The unit trust must not, immediately before the investment is made, exceed the *permitted entity value.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Listing

- (8) The unit trust must be a unit trust whose units:
- (a) are, at the time the investment is made, not listed for quotation in the official list of a stock exchange in Australia or a foreign country; or
  - (b) are so listed at that time, but cease to be so listed at any time during the 12 months after the investment is made.

However, the unit trust is taken to meet the requirements of this subsection in relation to any investment made by an *ESVCLP (whether or not units in the unit trust are so listed).

Note: The additional requirements for ESVCLPs deal with listing in relation to initial investments by ESVCLPs in unit trusts: see paragraph 118-428(1)(a).

Scrip for scrip investments

- (9) However, a unit trust is taken to meet the requirements of subsections (3) to (8) if:
- (a) the investment is an acquisition of units in that unit trust in exchange for units in another unit trust; and
  - (b) at the time that the *VCLP, *ESVCLP, *AFOF or *eligible venture capital investor in question acquired the units being exchanged, the other unit trust meets the requirements of subsections (3) to (8), but not only because this subsection applies to the other unit trust; and
  - (c) the units in the other unit trust that are being exchanged are all of the units in the other unit trust that the entity making the investment owned at the time of the exchange.

Debt interests

- (10) To avoid doubt, a *debt interest cannot be an *eligible venture capital investment.

The value of an asset or investment

- (11) The value of an asset or investment of an entity at a particular time for the purposes of this section is the value of the asset or investment as shown in a statement, prepared in accordance with the *accounting standards and audited by the entity's auditor, showing that value as at a time no longer than 12 months before that time.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Application to groups

- (12) If a group of entities:
- (a) is treated as a *consolidated group because of a choice that a unit trust has made under section 713-130; or
  - (b) would be treated as a consolidated group because of such a choice:
    - (i) if a unit trust were to make such a choice; or
    - (ii) if a unit trust that is not a *corporate unit trust or a *public trading trust were such a trust and were to make such a choice;

this section applies in relation to the entities as if:

- (c) the unit trust carried on, as the *head company of the consolidated group or consolidatable group, all of the activities that are carried on by the other members of the group; and
- (d) the assets, employees and income of the other members of the group were assets, employees and income of the unit trust; and
- (e) each of the other members of the group were parts of the unit trust rather than separate entities.

Exception to requirements relating to location within Australia

- (13) A unit trust is taken to meet the requirements of subsection (3) in relation to an investment made by an entity if the sum of:
- (a) the value of the investment at the time the entity makes it; and
  - (b) the total value of all the other investments that the entity owns at that time that do not, or apart from this subsection would not, meet those requirements;
- does not exceed 20% of the partnership's *committed capital.

Note: See subsection (11) for the value of investments.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Ineligible activities

- (14) These activities are ineligible activities:
- (a) property development or land ownership;
  - (b) finance, to the extent that it is any of the following:
    - (i) banking;
    - (ii) providing capital to others;
    - (iii) leasing;
    - (iv) factoring;
    - (v) securitisation;
  - (c) insurance;
  - (d) construction (including extension, improvement or up-grading) or acquisition of infrastructure facilities (within the meaning of section 93L of the Development Allowance Authority Act 1992) or related facilities (within the meaning of section 93M of that Act), or both;
  - (e) making investments, whether made directly or indirectly, that are directed to deriving income in the nature of interest, rents, dividends, royalties or lease payments.

For the purposes of this subsection, activities that are ancillary or incidental to a particular activity are taken to form part of that activity.

Innovation Australia discretion

- (15) A unit trust is taken to meet the requirements of subsection (4) even if it fails to satisfy at least 2 of the requirements in that subsection if *Innovation Australia determines under section 25-15 of the Venture Capital Act 2002 that:
- (a) the unit trust's primary activity is not an ineligible activity mentioned in subsection (14); and
  - (b) the failure is temporary and did not exist at the time the investment referred to in subsection (1) was made and, if it has been disposed of, when it was disposed of.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Convertible notes

- (16) To the extent that an investment by an entity consists of the acquisition of a unit in a unit trust by converting a *convertible note issued by or on behalf of the trustee of the unit trust, the investment is, for the purpose of determining whether the unit trust meets the requirements of subsections (3) to (8), taken to have been made at the time when the entity last acquired the convertible note.
- (17) Subsection (16) applies whether or not the acquisition of the *convertible note was an *eligible venture capital investment.

118-428 Additional investment requirements for ESVCLPs

- (1) The additional investment requirements for ESVCLPs, for an investment in a company or in a unit trust, are:
  - (a) if the entity making the investment does not, when the investment is made, own any other investment in the company or unit trust:
    - (i) *shares in the company; or
    - (ii) units in the unit trust;are not, when the investment is made, listed for quotation in the official list of a stock exchange in Australia or a foreign country; and
  - (b) if the investment is *pre-owned when the investment is made:
    - (i) the entity already owns investments in the company or unit trust; or
    - (ii) the entity will, in connection with making the investment, make other investments in the company or unit trust, some or all of which are not pre-owned; and
  - (c) if the investment is pre-owned when the investment is made—the sum of:
    - (i) the value of the investment when the entity makes it; and
    - (ii) the total value of all the other investments that the entity owns at that time;does not exceed 20% of the partnership's *committed capital.

Note: See subsection (3) for the value of investments.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 118-430

---

- (2) An investment is pre-owned if it was issued or allotted to an entity other than the entity that owns the investment. However, the investment is not pre-owned if it:
  - (a) was issued:
    - (i) to an underwriter or sub-underwriter of the issue of the investment; or
    - (ii) to a person for the purpose of being offered for sale; and
  - (b) was still held by the underwriter, sub-underwriter or person immediately before being acquired by the entity that now owns the investment.
- (3) The value of an investment of an entity at a particular time for the purposes of this section is the value of the investment as shown in:
  - (a) the last audited accounts prepared for the entity for the purposes of the Corporations Act 2001 that relates to a period ending less than 18 months before that time; or
  - (b) a statement, prepared in accordance with the *accounting standards and audited by the entity's auditor, showing that value as at a time no longer than 12 months before that time.

118-430 Meaning of *at risk

An *eligible venture capital investment is at risk if the entity that owns the investment had no *arrangement as to:

- (a) the maintenance of the value of the investment; or
- (b) the maintenance of any earnings or other return that might be made from owning the investment, including (if the investment relates to a unit trust) the maintenance of any conferrals of present entitlement to income or capital of the unit trust or to any distributions of income or capital of the unit trust.

118-435 Special rule relating to investment in foreign resident holding companies

- (1) A company that meets the requirements of subsections 118-425(6) and (7) is treated as also meeting the requirements of subsections 118-425(2), (3), (4) and (5) if:
  - (a) it is a resident of:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (i) Canada; or
  - (ii) France; or
  - (iii) Germany; or
  - (iv) Japan; or
  - (v) the United Kingdom; or
  - (vi) the United States of America; or
  - (vii) any other foreign country prescribed by the regulations;
and
  - (b) it beneficially owns all the *shares in another company or all the units in a unit trust; and
  - (c) it does not carry on any *business other than to support the primary activity of the other company or unit trust; and
  - (d) the other company meets the requirements of subsections 118-425(2) to (7), or the unit trust meets the requirements of subsections 118-427(3) to (8), as the case requires.
- (2) However, if:
- (a) the company is so treated as meeting those requirements; and
  - (b) at any time within the period of 12 months after the day on which the first *eligible venture capital investment was made in the company:
    - (i) the other company ceases to be an Australian resident;
or
    - (ii) the unit trust ceases to carry on *business in Australia;
as the case requires;
- then:
- (c) any eligible venture capital investments already made in the company or unit trust cease to be eligible venture capital investments; and
  - (d) any further investments made in the company or unit trust are not eligible venture capital investments.

118-440 Meaning of *permitted entity value

- (1) An entity exceeds the permitted entity value immediately before a proposed investment is made in the entity if, at that time, the sum of the following exceeds the amount provided for under subsection (9):

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) the total value of the entity's assets;
- (b) the total value of the assets of any other entity *connected with the entity to the extent that they are not reflected in the value of any assets referred to in paragraph (a).

Note: The time the entity makes the investment is, for a share acquired by converting a convertible note or convertible preference share or for a unit in a unit trust acquired by converting a convertible note, the time when the entity last acquired the convertible note or convertible preference share: see subsections 118-425(15) and 118-427(16).

- (2) The total value of the assets of an entity is the total value of its assets (both current and non-current) as shown in:
  - (a) the last audited accounts prepared for the entity for the purposes of the Corporations Act 2001 that relates to a period ending less than 18 months before that time; or
  - (b) if there are no such audited accounts—a statement, prepared in accordance with the *accounting standards and audited by the entity's auditor, showing that value as at a time no longer than 12 months before that time.
- (3) In applying paragraphs (1)(b), (5)(b) and (7)(c), ignore the total value of the assets of an entity that is *connected with the entity first-mentioned in subsection (1) (the target entity) either immediately before or immediately after the investment referred to in that subsection if it is so connected only because of *eligible venture capital investments made in both of those entities by the same *VCLP, *ESVCLP, *AFOF or *eligible venture capital investor.
- (4) In applying paragraphs (1)(b), (5)(b) and (7)(c), ignore the total value of the assets of an entity that, immediately after the investment is made, is not *connected with the target entity.
- (5) Despite the previous provisions of this section, the target entity exceeds the permitted entity value immediately before the time (the investment time) when the *VCLP, *ESVCLP, *AFOF or *eligible venture capital investor made the investment in the target entity if:
  - (a) the target entity was *connected with an entity (the linked entity) in which the VCLP, ESVCLP, AFOF or eligible venture capital investor had made an *eligible venture capital

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- investment at some time in the period of 12 months before the investment time; and
- (b) the sum of the total value of the assets of the target entity and of any entity *connected with the target entity (at the investment time) and the linked entity and of any entity connected with the linked entity (at the time that the entity making the investment made its investment in the linked entity) exceeds the amount provided for under subsection (9).
- (6) The Commissioner may determine that subsection (5) does not apply if the Commissioner is satisfied that:
- (a) the activities of the target entity are not the same as, not an integral part of and not a necessary support for the activities of the linked entity; and
- (b) the making of the investment in the target entity is not part of a *scheme to acquire interests in all or a substantial part of a group of companies that are *connected with each other.
- (7) Despite the previous provisions of this section, the target entity exceeds the permitted entity value immediately before the investment time if:
- (a) the target entity was *connected with an entity (also the linked entity) in which the *VCLP, *ESVCLP, *AFOF or *eligible venture capital investor had made an *eligible venture capital investment more than 12 months before the investment time; and
- (b) the activities of the target entity are the same as, are an integral part of or are a necessary support for the activities of the linked entity; and
- (c) the sum of the total value of the assets of the target entity and of any entity *connected with the target entity (at the investment time) and the linked entity and of any entity connected with the linked entity (at the time that the entity making the investment made its investment in the linked entity) exceeds the amount provided for under subsection (9).
- (8) In applying paragraphs (5)(b) and (7)(c), ignore the total value of the assets of an entity that is *connected with the linked entity either immediately before or immediately after the investment in the linked entity if it is so connected only because of *eligible

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 118-445

---

venture capital investments made in both of those entities by the same *VCLP, *ESVCLP, *AFOF or *eligible venture capital investor.

- (9) The amount in relation to a proposed investment is:
- (a) if an *ESVCLP is to make the proposed investment—$50 million; or
  - (b) in any other case—$250 million.

118-445 Meaning of *committed capital

- (1) A partner's committed capital in a partnership is the sum of the amounts that the partner may, under the partnership agreement establishing the partnership, become obliged to contribute to the partnership.
- (2) It does not matter whether:
- (a) the partner contributes all of those amounts; or
  - (b) any amounts contributed are subsequently returned to the partner; or
  - (c) the contributions give rise to *equity interests or *debt interests in the partnership, or both.
- (3) A partnership's committed capital is the sum of the committed capital of all of the partnership's partners.

Subdivision 118-G—Venture capital: investment by superannuation funds for foreign residents

Guide to Subdivision 118-G

118-500 What this Subdivision is about

A foreign resident tax exempt pension fund that invests in venture capital equity in an Australian company or fixed trust (a resident investment vehicle) can disregard a capital gain or capital loss it makes from a CGT event that happens to that equity if:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (a) the entity is registered under the Pooled Development Funds Act 1992; and
- (b) the entity owned the equity for at least 12 months.

Table of sections

118-505	Exemption for certain foreign venture capital
118-510	Meaning of resident investment vehicle
118-515	Meaning of venture capital entity
118-520	Meaning of superannuation fund for foreign residents
118-525	Meaning of venture capital equity

118-505 Exemption for certain foreign venture capital

- (1) A *capital gain or *capital loss is disregarded if it is made from a *CGT event happening in relation to a *CGT asset that is *venture capital equity where the asset:
  - (a) was *acquired by a *venture capital entity; and
  - (b) at the time of the CGT event:
    - (i) was owned by that entity; and
    - (ii) had been owned by that entity for at least 12 months.
- (2) The *venture capital entity must be registered under Part 7A of the Pooled Development Funds Act 1992 at the time of the *CGT event.

118-510 Meaning of resident investment vehicle

- (1) A resident investment vehicle is a company that is an Australian resident, or a trust that is a *resident trust for CGT purposes, if:
  - (a) the sum of:
    - (i) the total value of the assets of the company or trust, and
    - (ii) the total value of the assets of any company or trust *connected with the first company or trust; and
    - (iii) the amount of the investment proposed to be made in venture capital equity in the company or trust by the relevant *venture capital entity;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 118-515

---

- is not more than $50,000,000 just before the time (the acquisition time) when the relevant venture capital entity acquires venture capital equity in the company or trust; and
- (b) the primary activity of the company or trust is not, at any time, property development or land ownership.
- (2) However, a trust is not a resident investment vehicle unless entities have *fixed entitlements to all of the income and capital of the trust.
- (3) The total value of the assets of a company or trust is the total value of its assets (both current and non-current) as shown in:
- (a) the last audited accounts prepared for the company or trust for the purposes of the Corporations Act 2001 that relates to a period ending less than 18 months before the acquisition time; or
- (b) if there are no such audited accounts—a statement audited by the company’s or trust’s auditor showing that value as at a time no longer than 12 months before the acquisition time.

118-515 Meaning of *venture capital entity

- (1) An entity (except a partner in a partnership) is a venture capital entity if:
- (a) it is a foreign resident; and
- (b) it is a *superannuation fund for foreign residents; and
- (c) it is not a *prescribed dual resident; and
- (d) it is a resident of:
- (i) Canada; or
- (ii) France; or
- (iii) Germany; or
- (iv) Japan; or
- (v) the United Kingdom; or
- (vi) the United States of America; or
- (vii) some other foreign country prescribed by the regulations; and
- (e) its income is exempt, or effectively exempt, from taxation in its country of residence.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (2) A partner in a partnership is a venture capital entity if:
- (a) all of the partners in it are entities that are *venture capital entities under subsection (1); or
  - (b) the partnership is a *limited partnership and:
    - (i) all of the partners in it (except its general partner or managing partner) are venture capital entities under subsection (1); and
    - (ii) its general partner or managing partner has interests in less than 10% of the total value of the assets of the partnership.

118-520 Meaning of *superannuation fund for foreign residents

- (1) A fund is a superannuation fund for foreign residents at a time if:
- (a) at that time, it is:
    - (i) an indefinitely continuing fund; and
    - (ii) a provident, benefit, superannuation or retirement fund; and
  - (b) it was established in a foreign country; and
  - (c) it was established, and is maintained at that time, only to provide benefits for individuals who are not Australian residents; and
  - (d) at that time, its central management and control is carried on outside Australia by entities none of whom is an Australian resident.
- (2) However, a fund is not a superannuation fund for foreign residents if:
- (a) an amount paid to the fund or set aside for the fund has been or can be deducted under this Act; or
  - (b) a *tax offset has been allowed or is allowable for such an amount.

118-525 Meaning of *venture capital equity

- (1) A *CGT asset is venture capital equity for a *venture capital entity if it is a *share in a company or an interest in a trust where:
- (a) the company or trust is a *resident investment vehicle; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 118-525

---

- (b) the share or interest was issued or allotted to the entity by the company or trust; and
- (c) the entity was at risk in owning the share or interest in that it had no *arrangement (either before or after the share or interest was issued or allotted) as to:
  - (i) the maintenance of the value of the share or interest; or
  - (ii) any earnings or other return that might be made from owning it; or
  - (iii) protection from commercial loss because of owning it.

Example: A company borrows money to purchase some shares. The terms of the loan include a term that, if the value of the shares falls below the amount of the loan, the company can repay the loan by transferring the shares to the lender.

The company's ownership of the shares is not at risk, because there is no possibility that it can lose money under the transaction.

- (2) However, *shares or interests in the *resident investment vehicle issued or allotted to a *venture capital entity are not venture capital equity for the entity if:

- (a) one or more of these events happens:
  - (i) a share or interest in the resident investment vehicle that was *acquired by some other entity before that issue or allotment is cancelled or redeemed; or
  - (ii) there is a return of some of the capital of the resident investment vehicle that was acquired before that issue or allotment; or
  - (iii) value is shifted out of a share or interest in that vehicle that was acquired before that issue or allotment; and
- (b) it is reasonable to conclude that the happening of the event referred to in paragraph (a) is connected to that issue or allotment, or to some *arrangement between the entities concerned.

Example: The capital of an Australian company is 100,000 shares, with a market value of $1 per share. The shares have full voting and dividend rights.

The Australian company issues another 100,000 shares to a foreign company. The new shares are issued at one cent each, but have very limited voting and dividend rights.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

The Australian company then changes the rights attaching to its shares so that the new shares have full voting and dividend rights, and the original shares have none.

Value has been shifted out of the original shares, effectively converting “old equity” to “new equity”.

- (3) In deciding whether it is reasonable to reach the conclusion referred to in paragraph (2)(b), these matters are relevant:
- (a) whether the amount of the decrease in the *net value of the *resident investment vehicle because of the happening of the event referred to in paragraph (2)(a) is the same as, or is calculated by reference to, the value of the issue or allotment of *shares or interests to the *venture capital entity; and
  - (b) the time lapse between the happening of that event and that issue or allotment.

Subdivision 118-H—Demutualisation of Tower Corporation

118-550 Demutualisation of Tower Corporation

- (1) This section applies if, just before the mutual entity known in New Zealand as Tower Corporation ceased to be a mutual entity, you had membership rights in that entity.

Note: Tower Corporation demutualised on 1 October 1999.

No capital gain or capital loss from end of membership rights

- (2) Disregard any *capital gain or *capital loss that resulted from any of your membership rights in Tower Corporation ceasing to exist when that entity ceased to be a mutual entity.

Note: Subsection (2) applies to you even if, because you could not be located at the time of demutualisation, you were not immediately issued with shares in the demutualised entity in substitution for your old membership rights, and rights to shares were instead put aside in a trust.

Cost base of replacement assets

- (3) The *cost base and the *reduced cost base of any *shares or other *CGT assets that you *acquire in substitution for the membership

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 118-550

---

rights that have ceased to exist do not include any amounts that you paid in acquiring or maintaining those old rights.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Division 121—Record keeping

Guide to Division 121

121-10 What this Division is about

You must keep records of matters that affect the capital gains and losses you make. You must retain them for 5 years after the last relevant CGT event.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

121-20	What records you must keep
121-25	How long you must retain the records
121-30	Exceptions
121-35	Asset register entries

Operative provisions

121-20 What records you must keep

- (1) You must keep records of every act, transaction, event or circumstance that can reasonably be expected to be relevant to working out whether you have made a *capital gain or *capital loss from a *CGT event. (It does not matter whether the CGT event has already happened or may happen in the future.)

Note 1: There are exceptions: see section 121-30.

Example 1: You dispose of a CGT asset. The records that are relevant to working out your capital gain or loss are records of:

- the date you acquired the asset;
- the date you disposed of it;
- each element of its cost base and reduced cost base and the effect of indexation on those elements;
- what you sold it for (the capital proceeds).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-1 Capital gains and losses: general topics

Division 121 Record keeping

Section 121-20

---

Example 2: Company A disposes of a CGT asset it acquired from company B (a member of the same wholly-owned group and a foreign resident) where company B obtained a roll-over under Subdivision 126-B. In addition to the records mentioned in example 1, company A needs records showing:

- the status of the 2 companies as members of the group;
- which company is the ultimate holding company in the group;
- the cost base and reduced cost base of the asset in the hands of company B just before the roll-over (because these become company A's cost base and reduced cost base).

Example 3: CGT event G2 (about shifts in share values) happens involving company X and Greg (a controller (for CGT purposes) of company X). Z Nominees Pty Ltd (an associate of Greg's) suffers a material decrease in the value of its shares in company X as a result of the shift. Z Nominees needs records showing:

- the essential elements of the relevant scheme;
- the date when the share value shift occurred;
- the amounts of the decreases and increases in the market values of all shares involved in the scheme;
- if shares are issued at a discount under the scheme, the amount of the discount;
- the cost bases and market values of the shares that decreased in value.

Note 2: There is an administrative penalty if you do not keep records as required by this Division: see section 288-25 in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

- (2) The records must be in English, or be readily accessible and convertible into English. They must show what is described in this section. (They show something if they include whatever material is necessary for that thing to be easily identified or worked out.)
- (3) They must show the nature of the act, transaction, event or circumstance, the day when it happened or arose and:
  - (a) in the case of an act—who did it; and
  - (b) in the case of a transaction—who were the parties to it.
- (4) They must show details (including relevant amounts) of how the act, transaction, event or circumstance is relevant (or can reasonably be expected to be relevant) to working out whether you have made a *capital gain or *capital loss from a *CGT event.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (5) If the necessary records of an act, transaction, event or circumstance do not already exist, you must reconstruct them or have someone else reconstruct them.

Example: Your capital gain or capital loss from a CGT event may depend on the market value of property at a particular time. To record that market value properly, you may need to get a valuation done.

Penalty: 30 penalty units.

Note: See section 4AA of the Crimes Act 1914 for the current value of a penalty unit.

- (6) An offence under this section is an offence of strict liability.

Note: For strict liability, see section 6.1 of the Criminal Code.

121-25 How long you must retain the records

- (1) You must retain records that section 121-20 requires you to keep.
- (2) You must retain them until the end of 5 years after it becomes certain that no *CGT event (or no further *CGT event) can happen such that the records could reasonably be expected to be relevant to working out whether you have made a *capital gain or *capital loss from the event.

- (2A) An offence under this section is an offence of strict liability.

Note: For strict liability, see section 6.1 of the Criminal Code.

- (3) This section has effect despite subsection 262A(4) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (which requires records to be retained for a different period).

- (4) However, it is not necessary to retain records:

- (a) if the Commissioner notifies you that you do not need to retain them; or
- (b) for a company that has finally ceased to exist.

Note 1: There are special record keeping rules where there has been a roll-over for a merger between superannuation funds under former section 160ZZPI of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936: see section 121-25 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

Penalty: 30 penalty units.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 121-30

---

Note 2: See section 4AA of the Crimes Act 1914 for the current value of a penalty unit.

121-30 Exceptions

- (1) You do not need to keep records under section 121-20 if:
  - (a) for each *CGT event (if any) that has happened such that the records are relevant (or could reasonably be expected to be relevant) to working out whether you have made a *capital gain or *capital loss from the event; and
  - (b) for each *CGT event that may happen in the future such that the records could reasonably be expected to be relevant to working out whether you might make a *capital gain or *capital loss from the event;any capital gain or capital loss you made (or might make) from it is to be (or would be) disregarded, except because of a roll-over.
- (2) However, the exceptions in this section do not apply to a *CGT event as a result of which a *capital gain or *capital loss is disregarded under section 855-40 (about capital gains and losses of foreign residents through fixed trusts).

121-35 Asset register entries

- (1) You satisfy a requirement under this Division to retain records for a period if you:
  - (a) retain for that period an entry in a register for the records that satisfies the requirements in subsection (2), or a combination of the records and such an entry for them, containing all the information required to be contained in the records; and
  - (b) retain those of the records that contain the information entered in the register for at least 5 years after the requirement in paragraph (2)(b) is satisfied.
- (2) The requirements are:
  - (a) you must make an entry in a register, in English, setting out some or all of the information contained in the records; and
  - (b) another entity who is a *registered tax agent or some other person approved by the Commissioner must certify in the register that the information entered is information from those records.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Part 3-3—Capital gains and losses: special topics

Division 122—Roll-over for the disposal of assets to, or the creation of assets in, a wholly-owned company

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 122
122-A	Disposal or creation of assets by an individual or trustee to a wholly-owned company
122-B	Disposal or creation of assets by partners to a wholly-owned company

Guide to Division 122

122-1 What this Division is about

A roll-over can delay the making of a capital gain or loss if:

- you dispose of a CGT asset, or all the assets of a business, to a company in which you own all the shares; or
- you create a CGT asset in such a company; or
- all the partners in a partnership dispose of partnership property to a company in which they own all the shares; or
- the partners create a CGT asset in such a company.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Subdivision 122-A—Disposal or creation of assets by an individual or trustee to a wholly-owned company

Guide to Subdivision 122-A

122-5 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision sets out when you can obtain a roll-over if you transfer a CGT asset, or all the assets of a business, to a company. It also deals with the creation of a CGT asset in a company. There are consequences for the company also.

Table of sections

When is a roll-over available

- 122-15 Disposal or creation of assets—wholly-owned company
- 122-20 What you receive for the trigger event
- 122-25 Other requirements to be satisfied
- 122-35 What if the company undertakes to discharge a liability (disposal case)
- 122-37 Rules for working out what a liability in respect of an asset is

Replacement-asset roll-over if you dispose of a CGT asset

- 122-40 Disposal of a CGT asset

Replacement-asset roll-over if you dispose of all the assets of a business

- 122-45 Disposal of all the assets of a business
- 122-50 All assets acquired on or after 20 September 1985
- 122-55 All assets acquired before 20 September 1985
- 122-60 Assets acquired before and after 20 September 1985

Replacement-asset roll-over for a creation case

- 122-65 Creation of asset

Same-asset roll-over consequences for the company (disposal case)

- 122-70 Consequences for the company (disposal case)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-3 Capital gains and losses: special topics

Division 122 Roll-over for the disposal of assets to, or the creation of assets in, a wholly-owned company

Section 122-15

---

Same-asset roll-over consequences for the company (creation case)

122-75 Consequences for the company (creation case)

When is a roll-over available

122-15 Disposal or creation of assets—wholly-owned company

If you are an individual or a trustee, you can choose to obtain a roll-over if one of the *CGT events (the trigger event) specified in this table happens involving you and a company in the circumstances set out in sections 122-20 to 122-35.

---

Relevant *CGT events
Event No.	What you do
A1	*Dispose of a CGT asset, or all the assets of a business, to the company
D1	Create contractual or other rights in the company
D2	Grant an option to the company
D3	Grant the company a right to income from mining
F1	Grant a lease to the company, or renew or extend a lease

---

Note 1: The roll-over starts at section 122-40.

Note 2: Section 103-25 tells you when you have to make the choice.

Example: Gavin runs a plumbing business. He wants to incorporate it so he disposes of all its assets to a company. He becomes the sole shareholder of the company.

122-20 What you receive for the trigger event

- (1) The consideration you receive for the trigger event happening must be only:
  - (a) *shares in the company; or
  - (b) for a *disposal of a *CGT asset, or all the assets of a business, to the company (a disposal case)—shares in the company and the company undertaking to discharge one or more liabilities in respect of the asset or assets of the *business (as appropriate).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Note: There are rules for working out what are the liabilities in respect of an asset: see section 122-37.

- (2) The *shares cannot be *redeemable shares.
- (3) The *market value of the *shares you receive for the trigger event happening must be substantially the same as:
  - (a) for a disposal case—the market value of the asset or assets you disposed of, less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of the asset or assets (as appropriate); or
  - (b) for another trigger event (a creation case)—the market value of the CGT asset created in the company (the created asset).
- (4) In working out if the requirement in paragraph (3)(a) is satisfied, if the *market value of the *shares is different to what it would otherwise be only because of the possibility of liabilities attaching to the asset or assets, disregard the difference.

Note: The company may have to pay income tax if an amount is included in its assessable income because of a CGT event happening to an asset you disposed of, or it may have a liability because of accrued leave entitlements of employees. The market value of the shares will reflect these contingent liabilities.

122-25 Other requirements to be satisfied

- (1) You must own all the *shares in the company just after the time of the trigger event.

Note: You must own the shares in the same capacity as you owned or created the assets that the company now owns.

- (2) This Subdivision does not apply to the *disposal or creation of any of the assets specified in this table:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-3 Capital gains and losses: special topics

Division 122 Roll-over for the disposal of assets to, or the creation of assets in, a wholly-owned company

Section 122-25

---

---

Assets to which Subdivision does not apply

---

Item	In this situation:	This Subdivision does not apply to:
1	You *dispose of a *CGT asset to the company or create a CGT asset in the company	(a) a *collectable or a *personal use asset; or (b) a decoration awarded for valour or brave conduct (except if you paid money or gave any other property for it); or (c) a *precluded asset; or (d) an asset that becomes *trading stock of the company just after the *disposal or creation
2	You *dispose of all the assets of a *business to the company	(a) a *collectable or a *personal use asset; or (b) a decoration awarded for valour or brave conduct (except if you paid money or gave any other property for it); or (c) an asset that becomes *trading stock of the company just after the disposal or creation (unless it was your trading stock when you disposed of it)

---

(3) A precluded asset is:

- (a) a *depreciating asset; or
- (b) *trading stock; or
- (c) an interest in the copyright in a *film referred to in section 118-30.

(4) If:

- (a) the *CGT asset or any of the assets of the *business is a right, option, *convertible interest or *exchangeable interest; and
- (b) the company *acquires another CGT asset by exercising the right or option or by converting the convertible interest or in exchange for the disposal or redemption of the exchangeable interest;

the other asset cannot become *trading stock of the company just after the company acquired it.

(5) The *ordinary income and *statutory income of the company must not be exempt from income tax because it is an *exempt entity for the income year of the trigger event.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (6) If you are an individual at the time of the trigger event, either:
- (a) you and the company must both be Australian residents at that time; or
  - (b) both of the following requirements must be satisfied:
    - (i) each asset must be *taxable Australian property at that time;
    - (ii) the shares in the company mentioned in subsection 122-20(1) must be taxable Australian property just after that time.
- (7) If you are a trustee of a trust at the time of the trigger event, either:
- (a) at that time, the trust must be a *resident trust for CGT purposes and the company must be an Australian resident; or
  - (b) both of the following requirements must be satisfied:
    - (i) each *CGT asset must be a CGT asset of the trust that is *taxable Australian property at that time; and
    - (ii) the shares in the company mentioned in subsection 122-20(1) must be taxable Australian property just after that time.

122-35 What if the company undertakes to discharge a liability (disposal case)

Disposal of a CGT asset

- (1) One of the requirements in this table must be satisfied if:
- (a) you *dispose of a *CGT asset; and
  - (b) the company undertakes to discharge one or more liabilities in respect of it.

(The *market value, or the *cost base, of an asset is worked out when you disposed of it.)

---

*What amount the liabilities cannot exceed

Item	In this situation:	the liabilities cannot exceed:
1	You *acquired the asset on or after 20 September 1985	The *cost base of the asset

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-3 Capital gains and losses: special topics

Division 122 Roll-over for the disposal of assets to, or the creation of assets in, a wholly-owned company

Section 122-37

---

---

*What amount the liabilities cannot exceed

---

Item	In this situation:	the liabilities cannot exceed:
2	You *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985	The *market value of the asset

---

Note: There are rules for working out what are the liabilities in respect of an asset: see section 122-37.

Disposal of all the assets of a business

- (2) One of the requirements in this table must be satisfied if:
- (a) you *dispose of all the assets of a *business; and
  - (b) the company undertakes to discharge one or more liabilities in respect of the assets of the business.

(The *market value, or the *cost base, of an asset is worked out when you disposed of it.)

---

---

What amount the liabilities cannot exceed

---

Item	In this situation:	The liabilities cannot exceed:
1	You *acquired all the assets on or after 20 September 1985	The sum of the *market values of the *precluded assets and the *cost bases of the other assets
2	You *acquired all the assets before 20 September 1985	The sum of the *market values of the assets
3	You *acquired at least one asset on or after 20 September 1985 and at least one before that day	For liabilities in respect of assets you *acquired on or after that day—the sum of the *market values of the *precluded assets and the *cost bases of the other assets; For liabilities in respect of assets you *acquired before that day—the sum of the market values of those assets

---

122-37 Rules for working out what a liability in respect of an asset is

- (1) These rules are relevant to working out what are the liabilities in respect of an asset.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (2) A liability incurred for the purposes of a *business that is not a liability in respect of a specific asset or assets of the business is taken to be a liability in respect of all the assets of the business.

Note: An example is a bank overdraft.

- (3) If a liability is in respect of 2 or more assets, the proportion of the liability that is in respect of any one of those assets is equal to:

$$\frac{\text{The *market value of the asset}}{\text{The total of the market values of all the assets that the liability is in respect of}}$$

Replacement-asset roll-over if you dispose of a CGT asset

122-40 Disposal of a CGT asset

- (1) If you choose a roll-over, a *capital gain or *capital loss you make from the trigger event is disregarded.
- (2) If you *acquired the asset on or after 20 September 1985:
- (a) the first element of each *share's *cost base is the asset's cost base when you *disposed of it (less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of it) divided by the number of shares; and
  - (b) the first element of each share's *reduced cost base is worked out similarly.
- Note 1: There are rules for working out what are the liabilities in respect of an asset: see section 122-37.
- Note 2: There are special indexation rules for roll-overs: see Division 114.
- (3) If you *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985, you are taken to have acquired the *shares before that day.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Replacement-asset roll-over if you dispose of all the assets of a business

122-45 Disposal of all the assets of a business

- (1) If you choose a roll-over for *disposing of all the assets of a *business to the company, a *capital gain or *capital loss you make from each of the assets of the business is disregarded.
- (2) The other consequences relate to the *shares you receive and depend on when you *acquired the assets of the *business.

Note 1: There are 3 possible cases:

- you acquired all the assets on or after 20 September 1985: see section 122-50;
- you acquired all the assets before that day: see section 122-55;
- you acquired some of the assets on or after that day: see section 122-60.

Note 2: There are special indexation rules for roll-overs: see Division 114.

Note 3: There are other consequences for you and the company if you dispose of trading stock: see Division 70.

122-50 All assets acquired on or after 20 September 1985

- (1) If you *acquired all of the assets of the *business on or after 20 September 1985:
  - (a) the first element of each *share's *cost base is the sum of the *market values of the *precluded assets and the cost bases of the other assets (less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of all of those assets) divided by the number of shares; and
  - (b) the first element of each share's *reduced cost base is worked out similarly.

Note 1: There are rules for working out what are the liabilities in respect of an asset: see section 122-37.

Note 2: There are special indexation rules for roll-overs: see Division 114.

Example: Nick is a small trader. He wants to incorporate his business. He disposes of all its assets to a company and receives 10 shares in return. Nick acquired all the assets of the business after 20 September 1985.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 122-55

---

Trading stock, plant and equipment and office furniture are precluded assets.

The market value of Nick's trading stock when he disposed of it is $20,000. The market value of his plant and equipment at that time is $50,000 and the market value of his office furniture at that time is $10,000.

The cost bases of Nick's land and buildings at that time total $120,000.

Nick has a business overdraft of $15,000. It is taken to be a liability in respect of all the assets of his business.

The first element of the cost base of the 10 shares is:

$$\left( $20,000 + $50,000 + $10,000 + $120,000 \right) - $15,000 = $185,000$$

The first element of the reduced cost base of the 10 shares is worked out similarly.

- (2) The *market value of an asset is worked out when you *disposed of it. The *cost base or *reduced cost base of an asset is worked out at the same time.

122-55 All assets acquired before 20 September 1985

- (1) You are taken to have *acquired all of the *shares before 20 September 1985 if you acquired all the assets of the *business before that day and none of the assets is a *precluded asset.
- (2) However, if at least one of the assets is a *precluded asset, you are taken to have *acquired a whole number of the *shares (but not all of them) before that day. The number is the greatest possible that (when expressed as a percentage of all the shares) does not exceed:
- the total of the *market values of the assets that are not *precluded assets, less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of those assets;
expressed as a percentage of:
  - the total of the market values of all the assets, less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of those assets.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-3 Capital gains and losses: special topics

Division 122 Roll-over for the disposal of assets to, or the creation of assets in, a wholly-owned company

Section 122-60

---

Note: There are rules for working out what are the liabilities in respect of an asset: see section 122-37.

- (3) The first element of each other *share's *cost base and *reduced cost base is the total of the *market values of the *precluded assets (less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of those assets) divided by the number of those other shares.
- (4) The *market value of an asset is worked out when you *disposed of it. The *cost base or *reduced cost base of an asset is worked out at the same time.

122-60 Assets acquired before and after 20 September 1985

- (1) If you *acquired some of the assets on or after 20 September 1985, you are taken to have acquired a whole number of the *shares (but not all of them) before that day. The number is the greatest possible that (when expressed as a percentage of all the shares) does not exceed:

- the total of the *market values of the assets (except any *precluded assets) that you acquired before that day, less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of those assets;

expressed as a percentage of:

- the total of the market values of all the assets, less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of those assets.

- (2) The first element of each other *share's *cost base is the sum of the *market values of the *precluded assets and the cost bases of the other assets that you *acquired on or after that day (less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of all of those assets) divided by the number of those other shares.

Note: There are special indexation rules for roll-overs: see Division 114.

- (3) The first element of each other *share's *reduced cost base is worked out similarly.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (4) The *market value of an asset is worked out when you *disposed of it. The *cost base or *reduced cost base of an asset is worked out at the same time.

Replacement-asset roll-over for a creation case

122-65 Creation of asset

- (1) If you choose a roll-over, a *capital gain or *capital loss you make from the trigger event is disregarded.
- (2) The first element of each *share's *cost base is the amount applicable under this table divided by the number of shares. The first element of each share's *reduced cost base is worked out similarly.

Creation case
Event No.	Applicable amount
D1	the *incidental costs you incurred that relate to the trigger event
D2	the expenditure you incurred to grant the option
D3	the expenditure you incurred to grant the right
F1	the expenditure you incurred on the grant, renewal or extension of the lease

The expenditure can include a transfer of property: see section 103-5.

Example: Bill grants a licence (CGT event D1) to Tiffin Pty Ltd (a company he owns). The company issues him with 2 additional shares. He incurs legal expenses of $1,000 to grant the licence.

Bill's cost base for each of the shares is $500.

Same-asset roll-over consequences for the company (disposal case)

122-70 Consequences for the company (disposal case)

- (1) There are these consequences for the company in a disposal case if you choose to obtain a roll-over. They are relevant for each *CGT

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-3 Capital gains and losses: special topics

Division 122 Roll-over for the disposal of assets to, or the creation of assets in, a wholly-owned company

Section 122-75

---

asset (except a *precluded asset) that you *disposed of to the company.

Note: A capital gain or loss from a precluded asset can be disregarded: see Subdivision 118-A.

Asset acquired on or after 20 September 1985

- (2) If you *acquired the asset on or after 20 September 1985:
- (a) the first element of the asset's *cost base (in the hands of the company) is the asset's cost base when you disposed of it; and
  - (b) the first element of the asset's *reduced cost base (in the hands of the company) is the asset's reduced cost base when you disposed of it.

Note 1: There are special indexation rules for roll-overs: see Division 114.

Note 2: The reduced cost base may be modified for a roll-over happening after a demerger: see section 125-170.

Asset acquired before 20 September 1985

- (3) If you *acquired the asset before 20 September 1985, the company is taken to have acquired it before that day.

Note: A capital gain or loss from a CGT asset acquired before 20 September 1985 is generally disregarded: see Division 104. This exemption is removed in some situations: see Division 149.

Same-asset roll-over consequences for the company (creation case)

122-75 Consequences for the company (creation case)

- (1) There are these consequences for the company in a creation case if you choose to obtain a roll-over.
- (2) The first element of the created asset's *cost base (in the hands of the company) is the applicable amount from the table in subsection 122-65(2).

Example: To continue the example in section 122-65, the cost base of the licence in Tiffin Pty Ltd's hands is $1,000.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (3) The first element of the created asset's *reduced cost base (in the hands of the company) is worked out similarly.

Subdivision 122-B—Disposal or creation of assets by partners to a wholly-owned company

Guide to Subdivision 122-B

122-120 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision sets out when the partners in a partnership can obtain a roll-over on transferring a CGT asset, or all the assets of a business, to a company. It also deals with the creation of a CGT asset in a company. There are consequences for the company also.

Table of sections

When is a roll-over available

- 122-125 Disposal or creation of assets—wholly-owned company
- 122-130 What the partners receive for the trigger event
- 122-135 Other requirements to be satisfied
- 122-140 What if the company undertakes to discharge a liability (disposal case)
- 122-145 Rules for working out what a liability in respect of an interest in an asset is

Replacement-asset roll-over if partners dispose of a CGT asset

- 122-150 Capital gain or loss disregarded
- 122-155 Disposal of post-CGT or pre-CGT interests
- 122-160 Disposal of both post-CGT and pre-CGT interests

Replacement-asset roll-over if the partners dispose of all the assets of a business

- 122-170 Capital gain or loss disregarded
- 122-175 Other consequences
- 122-180 All interests acquired on or after 20 September 1985
- 122-185 All interests acquired before 20 September 1985
- 122-190 Interests acquired before and after 20 September 1985

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-3 Capital gains and losses: special topics

Division 122 Roll-over for the disposal of assets to, or the creation of assets in, a wholly-owned company

Section 122-125

---

Replacement-asset roll-over for a creation case

122-195 Creation of asset

Same-asset roll-over consequences for the company (disposal case)

122-200 Consequences for the company (disposal case)

Same-asset roll-over consequences for the company (creation case)

122-205 Consequences for the company (creation case)

When is a roll-over available

122-125 Disposal or creation of assets—wholly-owned company

All of the partners in a partnership can choose to obtain a roll-over if one of the *CGT events (the trigger event) specified in this table happens involving the partners and a company in the circumstances set out in sections 122-130 to 122-140.

---

Relevant *CGT events
Event No.	What the partners do
A1	*Dispose of their interests in a *CGT asset of the partnership, or all the assets of a business carried on by the partnership, to the company
D1	Create contractual or other rights in the company
D2	Grant an option to the company
D3	Grant the company a right to income from mining
F1	Grant a lease to the company, or renew or extend a lease

---

Note 1: The roll-over starts at section 122-150.

Note 2: Section 103-25 tells you when you have to make the choice.

Example: Michael and Sandra operate a fish shop in partnership. They agree to incorporate the business so they dispose of their interests in all its assets to a company. They are the only shareholders of the company.

122-130 What the partners receive for the trigger event

- (1) The consideration the partners receive must be only:

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (a) *shares in the company; or
- (b) for a *disposal of their interests in a *CGT asset, or in all the assets of a business, to the company (a disposal case)—shares in the company and the company undertaking to discharge one or more liabilities in respect of their interests.

Note: There are rules for working out what are the liabilities in respect of an interest in an asset: see section 122-145.

- (2) The *shares cannot be *redeemable shares.
- (3) The *market value of the *shares each partner receives for the trigger event happening must be substantially the same as:
  - (a) for a disposal case—the market value of the interests in the asset or assets the partner disposed of, less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of the interests in the asset or assets (as appropriate); or
  - (b) for another trigger event (a creation case)—the market value of what would have been the partner's interest in the *CGT asset created in the company (the created asset) if it were an asset of the partnership.
- (4) In working out if the requirement in paragraph (3)(a) is satisfied, if the *market value of the *shares is different to what it would otherwise be only because of the possibility of liabilities attaching to the asset or assets, disregard the difference.

Note: The company may have to pay income tax if an amount is included in its assessable income because of a CGT event happening to an asset a partner disposed of, or it may have a liability because of accrued leave entitlements of employees. The market value of the shares will reflect these contingent liabilities.

122-135 Other requirements to be satisfied

- (1) The partners must own all the *shares in the company just after the time of the trigger event.
- (2) Each partner must own the *shares the partner received for the trigger event happening in the same capacity that the partner:
  - (a) owned the partner's interests in the assets that the company now owns; or

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-3 Capital gains and losses: special topics

Division 122 Roll-over for the disposal of assets to, or the creation of assets in, a wholly-owned company

Section 122-135

---

(b) participated in the creation of the asset in the company.

Note: If a partner's interests were owned as trustee, the partner must receive shares as trustee.

(3) This Subdivision does not apply to the *disposal or creation of any of the assets specified in this table:

---

Assets to which Subdivision does not apply

---

Item	In this situation:	This Subdivision does not apply to:
1	The partners *dispose of their interests in a *CGT asset to, or create a CGT asset in, the company	(a) a *collectable or a *personal use asset; or (b) a decoration awarded for valour or brave conduct (except if a partner paid money or gave any other property for it); or (c) a *precluded asset; or (d) an asset that becomes *trading stock of the company just after the *disposal or creation
2	The partners *dispose of their interests in all the assets of a business	(a) a *collectable or a *personal use asset; or (b) a decoration awarded for valour or brave conduct (except if a partner paid money or gave any other property for it); or (c) an asset that becomes *trading stock of the company just after the disposal or creation (unless it was trading stock of the partnership when it was disposed of)

---

(4) If:

- (a) the *CGT asset or any of the assets of the *business is a right, option, *convertible interest or *exchangeable interest; and
- (b) the company *acquires another CGT asset by exercising the right or option or by converting the convertible interest or in exchange for the disposal or redemption of the exchangeable interest;

the other asset cannot become *trading stock of the company just after the company acquired it.

(5) The *ordinary income and *statutory income of the company must not be exempt from income tax because it is an *exempt entity for the income year of the trigger event.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (6) For a partner who is not a trustee of a trust at the time of the trigger event, either:
- (a) the partner and the company must both be Australian residents at that time; or
  - (b) both of the following requirements must be satisfied:
    - (i) each asset must be *taxable Australian property at that time; and
    - (ii) the shares in the company mentioned in subsection 122-130(1) must be taxable Australian property just after that time.
- (7) For a partner who is a trustee of a trust at the time of the trigger event, either:
- (a) at that time, the trust must be a *resident trust for CGT purposes and the company must be an Australian resident; or
  - (b) both of the following requirements must be satisfied:
    - (i) each *CGT asset must be a CGT asset of the trust that is *taxable Australian property at that time; and
    - (ii) the shares in the company mentioned in subsection 122-130(1) must be taxable Australian property just after that time.

122-140 What if the company undertakes to discharge a liability (disposal case)

Disposal of a CGT asset

- (1) One of these requirements must be satisfied (for each partner) if:
- (a) the partners *dispose of their interests in a *CGT asset; and
  - (b) the company undertakes to discharge one or more liabilities in respect of the interests in the asset.

(The *market value, or the *cost base, of an interest is worked out at the time of the disposal.)

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-3 Capital gains and losses: special topics

Division 122 Roll-over for the disposal of assets to, or the creation of assets in, a wholly-owned company

Section 122-140

---

---

What amount the liabilities cannot exceed

---

Item	In this situation:	the liabilities cannot exceed:
1	A partner *acquired the interest on or after 20 September 1985	The *cost base of the interest
2	A partner *acquired the interest before 20 September 1985	The *market value of the interest

---

Note: There are rules for working out what are the liabilities in respect of an interest in an asset: see section 122-145.

Disposal of all the assets of a business

- (2) One of these requirements must be satisfied (for each partner) if:
- (a) the partners *dispose of their interests in all the assets of a *business; and
  - (b) the company undertakes to discharge one or more liabilities in respect of the interests in the assets.

(The *market value, or the *cost base, of an interest is worked out at the time of the disposal.)

---

What amount the liabilities cannot exceed

---

Item	In this situation:	the liabilities cannot exceed:
1	A partner *acquired all the interests on or after 20 September 1985	The sum of the *market values of the partner's interests in *precluded assets and the *cost bases of the partner's interests in other assets
2	A partner *acquired all the interests before 20 September 1985	The sum of the *market values of the interests

---

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

What amount the liabilities cannot exceed

---

Item	In this situation:	the liabilities cannot exceed:
3	A partner *acquired at least one interest on or after 20 September 1985 and at least one before that day	For liabilities in respect of interests *acquired on or after that day—the sum of the *market values of the partner’s interests in *precluded assets and the *cost bases of the partner’s interests in other assets  For liabilities in respect of interests *acquired before that day—the sum of the market values of those interests

---

122-145 Rules for working out what a liability in respect of an interest in an asset is

- (1) These rules are relevant to working out what are the liabilities in respect of a partner’s interests in an asset.
- (2) A liability incurred for the purposes of a *business that is not a liability in respect of interests in a specific asset or assets of the business is taken to be a liability in respect of the partner’s interests in all the assets of the business.

Note: An example is a bank overdraft.

- (3) If a liability is in respect of both:
  - (a) the partner’s interests in one or more assets that the partner *acquired on or after 20 September 1985; and
  - (b) the partner’s interests in one or more assets that the partner acquired before that day;

the proportion of the liability that is in respect of the partner’s interests that the partner acquired on or after that day is equal to:

$$\frac{\text{The *market value of the partner’s interest that the partner *acquired on or after that day}}{\text{The total of the market values of all the partner’s interest in assets that the liability is in respect of}}$$

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Replacement-asset roll-over if partners dispose of a CGT asset

122-150 Capital gain or loss disregarded

If the partners choose a roll-over for *disposing of their interests in a CGT asset to the company, a *capital gain or *capital loss any partner makes from the disposal is disregarded.

122-155 Disposal of post-CGT or pre-CGT interests

- (1) If a partner *acquired all the partner's interests in the asset on or after 20 September 1985:
  - (a) the first element of each *share's *cost base is the sum of the cost bases of the interests when the partner *disposed of them (less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of them) divided by the number of the partner's shares; and
  - (b) the first element of each share's *reduced cost base is worked out similarly.
- Note 1: There are rules for working out what are the liabilities in respect of an interest in an asset: see section 122-145.
- Note 2: There are special indexation rules for roll-overs: see Division 114.
- (2) If a partner *acquired all the partner's interests in the asset before 20 September 1985, the partner is taken to have acquired the *shares before that day.

122-160 Disposal of both post-CGT and pre-CGT interests

- (1) If a partner *acquired some of the partner's interests in the asset on or after 20 September 1985 and some before that day, the partner is taken to have acquired a whole number of the *shares (but not all of them) before that day. The number is the greatest possible that (when expressed as a percentage of all the shares the partner acquires) does not exceed:
  - the *market value of the interests in the asset that the partner acquired before that day;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

expressed as a percentage of:

- the total of the market values of all the partner's interests in the asset.
- (2) The first element of each other *share's *cost base is the sum of the cost bases of the partner's interests that the partner *acquired on or after that day (less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of all of those interests) divided by the number of the other shares.
- Note: There are special indexation rules for roll-overs: see Division 114.
- (3) The first element of each other *share's *reduced cost base is worked out similarly.
- (4) The *market value of an interest in an asset is worked out when the partner *disposed of it. The *cost base or *reduced cost base of an interest in an asset is worked out at the same time.

Replacement-asset roll-over if the partners dispose of all the assets of a business

122-170 Capital gain or loss disregarded

If the partners choose a roll-over for *disposing of their interests in all the assets of a *business to the company, a *capital gain or *capital loss any partner makes from the disposal is disregarded.

122-175 Other consequences

The other consequences relate to the *shares the partners receive and depend on when they *acquired their interests in the assets of the *business.

Note 1: There are 3 possible cases:

- a partner acquired all the interests on or after 20 September 1985: see section 122-180;
- a partner acquired all the interests before that day: see section 122-185;
- a partner acquired some of the interests on or after that day: see section 122-190.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-3 Capital gains and losses: special topics

Division 122 Roll-over for the disposal of assets to, or the creation of assets in, a wholly-owned company

Section 122-180

---

Note 2: There are other consequences for the partnership and the company if the partners dispose of their interests in trading stock of the partnership: see Division 70.

122-180 All interests acquired on or after 20 September 1985

- (1) If a partner *acquired all of the partner's interests in the assets of the *business on or after 20 September 1985:
  - (a) the first element of the partner's *cost base of each *share is the sum of the *market values of the partner's interests in the *precluded assets and the cost bases of the partner's interests in the other assets (less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of all of those interests) divided by the number of the partner's shares; and
  - (b) the first element of the partner's *reduced cost base of each *share is worked out similarly.

Note 1: There are rules for working out what are the liabilities in respect of interests: see section 122-145.

Note 2: There are special indexation rules for roll-overs: see Division 114.

- (2) The *market value of an interest in an asset is worked out when the partner *disposed of it. The *cost base or *reduced cost base of an interest is worked out at the same time.

122-185 All interests acquired before 20 September 1985

- (1) A partner is taken to have *acquired all of the *shares before 20 September 1985 if the partner acquired all the partner's interests in the assets of the *business before that day and none of the assets is a *precluded asset.
- (2) However, if at least one of the assets is a *precluded asset, the partner is taken to have *acquired a whole number of the *shares (but not all of them) before that day. The number is the greatest possible that (when expressed as a percentage of all the shares) does not exceed:
  - the total of the *market values of the partner's interests in the assets that are not *precluded assets, less any liabilities

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

the company undertakes to discharge in respect of those interests;

expressed as a percentage of:

- the total of the market values of the partner's interests in all the assets, less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of those interests.

Note: There are rules for working out what are the liabilities in respect of an interest: see section 122-145.

- (3) The first element of the partner's *cost base and *reduced cost base of each other *share is the total of the *market values of the partner's interests in the *precluded assets (less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of those interests) divided by the number of the other shares.
- (4) The *market value of an interest in an asset is worked out when the partner *disposed of it. The *cost base or *reduced cost base of an interest is worked out at the same time.

122-190 Interests acquired before and after 20 September 1985

- (1) If a partner *acquired some of the interests in the assets on or after 20 September 1985, the partner is taken to have acquired a whole number of the *shares (but not all of them) before that day. The number is the greatest possible that (when expressed as a percentage of all the shares) does not exceed:
  - the total of the *market values of the partner's interests in the assets (except any *precluded assets) that the partner acquired before that day, less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of those interests;expressed as a percentage of:
  - the total of the market values of all the partner's interests in the assets, less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of those interests.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-3 Capital gains and losses: special topics

Division 122 Roll-over for the disposal of assets to, or the creation of assets in, a wholly-owned company

Section 122-195

---

- (2) The first element of the partner's *cost base of each other *share is the sum of the *market values of the partner's interests in the *precluded assets and the cost bases of the partner's interests in the other assets that the partner *acquired on or after that day (less any liabilities the company undertakes to discharge in respect of all of those interests) divided by the number of the other shares.

Note: There are special indexation rules for roll-overs: see Division 114.

- (3) The first element of the partner's *reduced cost base of each other *share is worked out similarly.
- (4) The *market value of an interest in an asset is worked out when the partner *disposed of it. The *cost base or *reduced cost base of an interest in an asset is worked out at the same time.

Replacement-asset roll-over for a creation case

122-195 Creation of asset

- (1) If the partners choose a roll-over, a *capital gain or *capital loss any partner makes from the trigger event is disregarded.
- (2) The first element of the partner's *cost base of each *share is the amount applicable under this table divided by the number of shares. The first element of each share's *reduced cost base is worked out similarly.

---

Creation case
Event No.	Applicable amount
D1	the partner's share of the *incidental costs incurred that relate to the trigger event
D2	the partner's share of the expenditure incurred to grant the option
D3	the partner's share of the expenditure incurred to grant the right
F1	the partner's share of the expenditure incurred on the grant, renewal or extension of the lease

---

The expenditure can include a transfer of property: see section 103-5.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Same-asset roll-over consequences for the company (disposal case)

122-200 Consequences for the company (disposal case)

- (1) There are these consequences for the company in a disposal case if the partners choose to obtain a roll-over. They are relevant for interests in each *CGT asset (except a *precluded asset) that the partners *disposed of to the company.

Note 1: A capital gain or loss from a precluded asset can be disregarded: see Subdivision 118-A.

Note 2: The reduced cost base (as determined under this section) may be modified for a roll-over happening after a demerger: see section 125-170.

Interests acquired on or after 20 September 1985

- (2) If all of the partners' interests in an asset were *acquired on or after 20 September 1985:
- (a) the first element of the asset's *cost base (in the hands of the company) is the sum of the cost bases of the partners' interests in the asset when it was disposed of; and
  - (b) the first element of the asset's *reduced cost base (in the hands of the company) is the sum of the reduced cost bases of the partners' interests in the asset when it was disposed of.

Note: There are special indexation rules for roll-overs: see Division 114.

Interests acquired before 20 September 1985

- (3) If all of the partners' interests in an asset were *acquired before 20 September 1985, the company is taken to have acquired it before that day.

Note: A capital gain or loss from a CGT asset acquired before 20 September 1985 is generally disregarded: see Division 104. This exemption is removed in some situations: see Division 149.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Chapter 3 Specialist liability rules

Part 3-3 Capital gains and losses: special topics

Division 122 Roll-over for the disposal of assets to, or the creation of assets in, a wholly-owned company

Section 122-205

---

Interests acquired on or after and before 20 September 1985

- (4) If some of the partners' interests in an asset (the original asset) were *acquired on or after 20 September 1985 and some before that day, the company is taken to have acquired 2 separate *CGT assets:
- (a) one (which the company is taken to have acquired on or after 20 September 1985) representing the extent to which the partners' interests in the original asset were acquired by the partners on or after that day; and
  - (b) another (which the company is taken to have acquired before that day) representing the extent to which the partners' interests in the original asset were acquired by the partners before that day.
- (5) The first element of the *cost base of the separate asset that the company is taken to have *acquired on or after 20 September 1985 is the sum of the cost bases of the partners' interests in the original asset that they acquired on or after that day.

Note: There are special indexation rules for roll-overs: see Division 114.

- (6) The first element of its *reduced cost base is worked out similarly.

Same-asset roll-over consequences for the company (creation case)

122-205 Consequences for the company (creation case)

- (1) There are these consequences for the company in a creation case if the partners choose to obtain a roll-over.
- (2) The first element of the created asset's *cost base (in the hands of the company) is the applicable amount from this table.

---

Creation case
Event No.	Applicable amount
D1	the total *incidental costs incurred that relate to the trigger event
D2	the total expenditure incurred to grant the option
D3	the total expenditure incurred to grant the right

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Creation case
Event No.	Applicable amount
F1	the total expenditure incurred on the grant, renewal or extension of the lease

---

The expenditure can include a transfer of property: see section 103-5.

- (3) The first element of the created asset's *reduced cost base (in the hands of the company) is worked out similarly.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Income Tax Assessment Act 1997

Act No. 38 of 1997 as amended

This compilation was prepared on 2 July 2009
taking into account amendments up to Act No. 62 of 2009

Volume 4 includes: Table of Contents
Sections 124-1 to 152-430

The text of any of those amendments not in force
on that date is appended in the Notes section

The operation of amendments that have been incorporated may be affected by application provisions that are set out in the Notes section

Chapter 3—Specialist liability rules

Part 3-3—Capital gains and losses: special topics

---

Contents

Chapter 3—Specialist liability rules	i
Part 3-3—Capital gains and losses: special topics	i
Division 124—Replacement-asset roll-overs	1
Guide to Division 124	2
124-1 What this Division is about .....	2
124-5 How to find your way around this Division.....	2
Subdivision 124-A—General rules	2
124-10 Your ownership of one CGT asset ends .....	3
124-15 Your ownership of more than one CGT asset ends.....	4
Subdivision 124-B—Asset compulsorily acquired, lost or destroyed	6
When a roll-over is available	6
124-70 Events giving rise to a roll-over.....	6
124-75 Other requirements if you receive money.....	8
124-80 Other requirements if you receive an asset.....	9
The consequences of a roll-over being available	10
124-85 Consequences for receiving money .....	10
124-90 Consequences for receiving an asset .....	12
124-95 You receive both money and an asset.....	12
Subdivision 124-C—Statutory licences	15
124-140 New statutory licences.....	15
124-145 Rollover consequences—capital gain or loss disregarded .....	16
124-150 Rollover consequences—partial roll-over .....	16
124-155 Roll-over consequences—all original licences were post-CGT .....	17
124-160 Roll-over consequences—all original licences were pre-CGT .....	18
124-165 Roll-over consequences—some original licences were pre-CGT, others were post-CGT .....	18
Subdivision 124-D—Strata title conversion	19
124-190 Strata title conversion .....	19
Subdivision 124-E—Exchange of shares or units	19
124-240 Exchange of shares in the same company.....	20
124-245 Exchange of units in the same unit trust .....	20
Subdivision 124-F—Exchange of rights or options	21
124-295 Exchange of rights or option to acquire shares in a company.....	21
124-300 Exchange of rights or option to acquire units in a unit trust .....	22

---

Subdivision 124-G—Exchange of shares in one company for shares in another company	23
Guide to Subdivision 124-G	23
124-350 What this Subdivision is about .....	23
124-355 Summary of rules .....	24
Disposal case	25
124-360 Disposal of shares in one company for shares in another one.....	25
124-365 Other requirements to be satisfied .....	25
Redemption or cancellation case	27
124-370 Redemption or cancellation of shares in one company for shares in another one .....	27
124-375 Other requirements to be satisfied .....	28
Rules applying to both cases	29
124-380 Requirements to be satisfied in both cases .....	29
124-382 Special rules for ADI restructures .....	30
Consequences for the interposed company unless consolidated group continues	31
124-385 Consequences for the interposed company .....	31
Additional consequences for member if shares are trading stock or revenue assets	32
124-390 Deferral of profit or loss on shares .....	32
Subdivision 124-H—Exchange of units in a unit trust for shares in a company	34
Guide to Subdivision 124-H	34
124-435 What this Subdivision is about .....	34
124-440 Summary of rules .....	35
Disposal case	35
124-445 Disposal of units in a unit trust for shares in a company .....	35
124-450 Other requirements to be satisfied .....	35
Redemption or cancellation case	37
124-455 Redemption or cancellation of units in a unit trust for shares in a company .....	37
124-460 Other requirements to be satisfied .....	37
Rules applying to both cases	38
124-465 Requirements to be satisfied in both cases .....	38
Consequences for the company	39
124-470 Consequences for the company .....	39
Subdivision 124-I—Conversion of a body to an incorporated company	40
124-520 Conversion of a body to an incorporated company .....	40

---

---

Subdivision 124-J—Crown leases	41
Guide to Subdivision 124-J	41
124-570 What this Subdivision is about .....	41
Operative provisions	42
124-575 Extension or renewal of Crown lease .....	42
124-580 Meaning of Crown lease .....	43
124-585 Original right differs in area from new right .....	43
124-590 Part of original right excised .....	43
124-595 Treating parts of new right as separate assets .....	44
124-600 What is the roll-over? .....	44
124-605 Change of lessor .....	45
Subdivision 124-K—Depreciating assets	46
124-655 Roll-over for depreciating assets .....	46
124-660 Right granted to associate.....	46
Subdivision 124-L—Prospecting and mining entitlements	47
Guide to Subdivision 124-L	47
124-700 What this Subdivision is about .....	47
Operative provisions	47
124-705 Extension or renewal of prospecting or mining entitlement .....	47
124-710 Meaning of prospecting entitlement and mining entitlement.....	48
124-715 Original entitlement differs in area from new entitlement .....	49
124-720 Part of original entitlement excised .....	49
124-725 Treating parts of new entitlement as separate assets.....	50
124-730 What is the roll-over? .....	50
Subdivision 124-M—Scrip for scrip roll-over	51
Guide to Subdivision 124-M	51
124-775 What this Subdivision is about .....	51
Operative provisions	52
124-780 Replacement of shares.....	52
124-781 Replacement of trust interests.....	55
124-782 Transfer or allocation of cost base of shares acquired by acquiring entity etc. ....	57
124-783 Meaning of significant stakeholder , common stakeholder , significant stake and common stake .....	59
124-784 Cost base of equity or debt given by acquiring entity to ultimate holding company .....	61
124-784AWhen arrangement is a restructure .....	62
124-784BWhat is the cost base and reduced cost base when arrangement is a restructure? .....	65
124-784CCost base of equity or debt given by acquiring entity to ultimate holding company .....	68

---

---

124-785 What is the roll-over? .....	69
124-790 Partial roll-over.....	69
124-795 Exceptions .....	70
124-800 Interest received for pre-CGT interest .....	70
124-810 Certain companies and trusts not regarded as having 300 members or beneficiaries.....	71
Subdivision 124-N—Disposal of assets by a trust to a company	73
Guide to Subdivision 124-N	73
124-850 What this Subdivision is about .....	73
Operative provisions	73
124-855 What this Subdivision deals with .....	73
124-860 Requirements for roll-over .....	74
124-865 Entities both choose the roll-over .....	75
124-870 Roll-over for owner of units or interests in a trust.....	76
124-875 Effect on the transferor and transferee.....	77
Subdivision 124-O—FSR (financial services reform) transitions	78
Same owner roll-overs	78
124-880 Old licence roll-over (same owner) .....	78
124-885 Qualified licence roll-over (same owner) .....	79
124-890 Rights roll-over (same owner) .....	80
124-895 Consequences of a same owner roll-over .....	80
New owner roll-overs	82
124-900 Old licence roll-over (new owner).....	82
124-905 Qualified licence roll-over (new owner).....	84
124-910 Rights roll-over (new owner).....	85
124-915 Consequences of a new owner roll-over (where one CGT asset comes to an end) .....	86
124-920 Consequences of a new owner roll-over (where more than one CGT asset comes to an end).....	87
Extension of FSR transition period	89
124-925 Special extension of the 10 March 2004 cut-off date (same owner roll-overs) .....	89
124-930 Special extension of the 10 March 2004 cut-off date (new owner roll-overs) .....	90
Subdivision 124-P—Exchange of a membership interest in an MDO for a membership interest in another MDO	90
Guide to Subdivision 124-P	90
124-975 What this Subdivision is about .....	90
Operative provisions	91
124-980 Exchange of membership interests in an MDO .....	91
124-985 What the roll-over is for post-CGT interests .....	92

---

---

124-990 Partial roll-over.....	92
124-995 Pre-CGT interests.....	93
Subdivision 124-Q—Exchange of stapled ownership interests for ownership interests in a unit trust	93
Guide to Subdivision 124-Q	93
124-1040 What this Subdivision is about.....	93
Operative provisions	94
124-1045 Exchange of stapled securities.....	94
124-1050 Conditions.....	95
124-1055 Consequences of the roll-over for exchanging members.....	96
124-1060 Consequences of the roll-over for interposed trust.....	97
124-1065 Certain foreign holders disregarded.....	98
Division 125—Demerger relief	100
Guide to Division 125	100
125-1 What this Division is about.....	100
Subdivision 125-A—Object of this Division	101
125-5 Object of this Division.....	101
Subdivision 125-B—Consequences for owners of interests	101
Guide to Subdivision 125-B	101
125-50 Guide to Subdivision 125-B.....	101
Operative provisions	102
125-55 When a roll-over is available for a demerger.....	102
125-60 Meaning of ownership interest and related terms.....	102
125-65 Meanings of demerger group , head entity and demerger subsidiary .....	104
125-70 Meanings of demerger , demerged entity and demerging entity .....	105
125-75 Exceptions to subsection 125-70(2).....	109
125-80 What is the roll-over?.....	111
125-85 Cost base adjustments where CGT event happens but no roll-over chosen.....	113
125-90 Cost base adjustments where no CGT event.....	114
125-95 No other cost base adjustment after demerger.....	114
125-100 No further demerger relief in some cases.....	114
Subdivision 125-C—Consequences for members of demerger group	115
Guide to Subdivision 125-C	115
125-150 Guide to Subdivision 125-C.....	115
Operative provisions	115
125-155 Certain capital gains or losses disregarded for demerging entity.....	115

---

---

125-160	No CGT event J1 .....	115
125-165	Adjusted capital loss for value shift under a demerger .....	116
125-170	Reduced cost base reduction if demerger asset subject to roll-over .....	116
Subdivision 125-D—Corporate unit trusts and public trading trusts		117
Guide to Subdivision 125-D		117
125-225	Guide to Subdivision 125-D .....	117
Operative provisions		117
125-230	Application of Division to corporate unit trusts and public trading trusts .....	117
Division 126—Same-asset roll-overs		118
Guide to Division 126		118
126-1	What this Division is about .....	118
Subdivision 126-A—Marriage or relationship breakdowns		118
126-5	CGT event involving spouses .....	119
126-15	CGT event involving company or trustee .....	121
126-20	Subsequent CGT event happening to roll-over asset where transferor was a CFC or a non-resident trust .....	124
126-25	Conditions for the purposes of subsections 126-5(3A) and 126-15(5) .....	124
Subdivision 126-B—Companies in the same wholly-owned group		125
Guide to Subdivision 126-B		125
126-40	What this Subdivision is about .....	125
Operative provisions		126
126-45	Roll-over for members of wholly-owned group .....	126
126-50	Requirements for roll-over .....	126
126-55	When there is a roll-over .....	128
126-60	Consequences of roll-over .....	129
126-75	Originating company is a CFC .....	130
126-85	Effect of roll-over on certain liquidations .....	131
Subdivision 126-C—Changes to trust deeds		133
Guide to Subdivision 126-C		133
126-125	What this Subdivision is about .....	133
126-130	Changes to trust deeds .....	133
126-135	Consequences of roll-over .....	134
Subdivision 126-D—Small superannuation funds		134
126-140	CGT event involving small superannuation funds .....	135

---

---

Subdivision 126-E—Entitlement to shares after demutualisation and scrip roll-over	138
Guide to Subdivision 126-E	138
126-185 What this Subdivision is about .....	138
Operative provisions	139
126-190 When there is a roll-over .....	139
126-195 Consequences of roll-over .....	139
Subdivision 126-F—Transfer of assets of superannuation funds to meet licensing requirements	140
Guide to Subdivision 126-F	140
126-200 What this Subdivision is about .....	140
Operative provisions	140
126-205 Object of this Subdivision .....	140
126-210 When there is a roll-over and what its effects are .....	141
Division 128—Effect of death	144
Guide to Division 128	144
128-1 What this Division is about .....	144
General rules	144
128-10 Capital gain or loss when you die is disregarded .....	144
128-15 Effect on the legal personal representative or beneficiary .....	145
128-20 When does an asset pass to a beneficiary? .....	147
128-25 The beneficiary is a trustee of a superannuation fund etc. ....	148
Special rules for joint tenants	148
128-50 Joint tenants .....	148
Division 130—Investments	150
Guide to Division 130	150
130-1 What this Division is about .....	150
Subdivision 130-A—Bonus shares and units	151
Guide to Subdivision 130-A	151
130-15 Acquisition time and cost base of bonus equities .....	151
Operative provisions	152
130-20 Issue of bonus shares or units .....	152
Subdivision 130-B—Rights	155
130-40 Exercise of rights .....	155
130-45 Timing rules .....	159
130-50 Application to options .....	159
Subdivision 130-C—Convertible interests	159
130-60 Shares or units acquired by converting a convertible interest .....	159

---

---

Subdivision 130-D—Employee share schemes	162
130-80 Share or right acquired under employee share scheme .....	162
130-83 Qualifying shares and qualifying rights .....	163
130-85 Share or right acquired under employee share scheme involving your associate .....	165
130-90 Share or right acquired under an employee share trust— beneficiary absolutely entitled .....	166
130-95 Share or right acquired under an employee share trust— 100% takeover or restructure .....	168
130-97 Stapled securities .....	168
Subdivision 130-E—Exchangeable interests	170
130-100 Exchangeable interest .....	170
130-105 Shares acquired in exchange for the disposal or redemption of an exchangeable interest .....	170
Division 132—Leases	173
132-1 Lessee incurs expenditure to get lease term varied or waived .....	173
132-5 Lessor pays lessee for improvements .....	173
132-10 Grant of a long-term lease .....	173
132-15 Lessee of land acquires reversionary interest of lessor .....	174
Division 134—Options	176
134-1 Exercise of options .....	176
Division 149—When an asset stops being a pre-CGT asset	179
Subdivision 149-A—Key concepts	179
149-10 What is a pre-CGT asset? .....	179
149-15 Majority underlying interests in a CGT asset .....	180
Subdivision 149-B—When asset of non-public entity stops being a pre-CGT asset	181
149-25 Which entities are affected .....	181
149-30 Effects if asset no longer has same majority underlying ownership .....	181
149-35 Cost base elements of asset that stops being a pre-CGT asset .....	182
Subdivision 149-C—When asset of public entity stops being a pre-CGT asset	182
149-50 Which entities are affected .....	183
149-55 Entity to give the Commissioner evidence periodically as to whether asset still has same majority underlying ownership .....	184
149-60 What the evidence must show .....	185
149-70 Effects if asset no longer has same majority underlying ownership .....	187
149-75 Cost base elements of asset that stops being a pre-CGT asset .....	187
149-80 No more evidence needed after asset stops being a pre-CGT asset .....	187

---

---

Subdivision 149-F—How to treat a “demutualised” public entity	188
149-162 Subdivision applies only if entity gives sufficient evidence .....	188
149-165 Members treated as having underlying interests in assets until demutualisation .....	188
149-170 Effect of demutualisation of interposed company .....	189
Division 152—Small business relief	190
Guide to Division 152	190
152-1 What this Division is about .....	190
Subdivision 152-A—Basic conditions for relief under this Division	191
Guide to Subdivision 152-A	191
152-5 What this Subdivision is about .....	191
Basic conditions for relief	193
152-10 Basic conditions for relief.....	193
152-12 Special conditions for CGT event D1 .....	196
Maximum net asset value test	196
152-15 Maximum net asset value test.....	196
152-20 Meaning of net value of the CGT assets .....	196
Active asset test	198
152-35 Active asset test .....	198
152-40 Meaning of active asset .....	199
152-42 Trustee of discretionary trust may nominate beneficiaries to be controllers of trust .....	202
152-45 Continuing time periods for involuntary disposals .....	203
Treatment of passively held CGT assets	205
152-47 Spouses or children taken to be affiliates for certain passively held CGT assets .....	205
152-48 Working out an entity’s aggregated turnover for passively held CGT assets.....	206
152-49 Businesses that are winding up.....	206
Significant individual test	207
152-50 Significant individual test.....	207
152-55 Meaning of significant individual .....	207
CGT concession stakeholder	208
152-60 Meaning of CGT concession stakeholder .....	208
Small business participation percentage	208
152-65 Small business participation percentage .....	208
152-70 Direct small business participation percentage.....	208
152-75 Indirect small business participation percentage .....	209

---

---

CGT event happens to asset or interest within 2 years of an individual's death	211
152-80 CGT event happens to an asset or interest within 2 years of individual's death .....	211
Subdivision 152-B—Small business 15-year exemption	212
Guide to Subdivision 152-B	212
152-100 What this Subdivision is about .....	212
152-105 15-year exemption for individuals .....	213
152-110 15-year exemption for companies and trusts .....	214
152-115 Continuing time periods for involuntary disposals .....	215
152-120 Discretionary trusts need not have a significant individual in a loss year or nil income year .....	216
152-125 Payments to company's or trust's CGT concession stakeholders are exempt.....	216
Subdivision 152-C—Small business 50% reduction	217
Guide to Subdivision 152-C	217
152-200 What this Subdivision is about .....	217
152-205 You get the small business 50% reduction .....	218
152-210 You may also get the small business retirement exemption and small business roll-over relief .....	219
152-215 15-year rule has priority .....	219
152-220 You may choose not to apply this Subdivision.....	219
Subdivision 152-D—Small business retirement exemption	219
Guide to Subdivision 152-D	219
152-300 What this Subdivision is about .....	219
152-305 Choosing the exemption .....	220
152-310 Consequences of choice.....	221
152-315 Choosing the amount to disregard .....	222
152-320 Meaning of CGT retirement exemption limit .....	223
152-325 Company or trust conditions.....	223
152-330 15-year rule has priority .....	226
Subdivision 152-E—Small business roll-over	226
Guide to Subdivision 152-E	226
152-400 What this Subdivision is about .....	226
Operative provisions	226
152-410 When you can obtain the roll-over .....	226
152-415 What the roll-over consists of.....	227
152-420 Rules where an individual who has obtained a roll-over dies .....	227
152-430 15-year rule has priority .....	228

---

Division 124—Replacement-asset roll-overs

Table of Subdivisions

	Guide to Division 124
124-A	General rules
124-B	Asset compulsorily acquired, lost or destroyed
124-C	Statutory licences
124-D	Strata title conversion
124-E	Exchange of shares or units
124-F	Exchange of rights or options
124-G	Exchange of shares in one company for shares in another company
124-H	Exchange of units in a unit trust for shares in a company
124-I	Conversion of a body to an incorporated company
124-J	Crown leases
124-K	Depreciating assets
124-L	Prospecting and mining entitlements
124-M	Scrip for scrip roll-over
124-N	Disposal of assets by a trust to a company
124-O	FSR (financial services reform) transitions
124-P	Exchange of a membership interest in an MDO for a membership interest in another MDO
124-Q	Exchange of stapled ownership interests for ownership interests in a unit trust

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Guide to Division 124

124-1 What this Division is about

A replacement-asset roll-over allows you, in special cases, to defer the making of a capital gain or loss from one CGT event until a later CGT event happens. It involves your ownership of one CGT asset ending and you acquiring another one.

124-5 How to find your way around this Division

- (1) First, find out if you can obtain a roll-over when your ownership of one or more CGT assets ends and you acquire one or more CGT assets: see Subdivisions 124-B to 124-Q.

Note 1: If you carry on a small business, you may also be able to obtain a roll-over under Subdivision 152-E.

Note 2: Subdivision 124-O (about FSR transitions) also provides for roll-overs in situations where a replacement CGT asset is acquired by a new owner.

- (2) Second, find out what the consequences are for being able to obtain a roll-over: see Subdivision 124-A.

Note: The consequences of a scrip for scrip roll-over are set out in Subdivision 124-M. The consequences of replacing a statutory licence by a new statutory licence are set out in Subdivision 124-C. The consequences of the new owner roll-overs in Subdivision 124-O (about FSR transitions) are set out in that Subdivision. The consequences of an exchange of a membership interest in an MDO are set out in Subdivision 124-P. The consequences of an exchange of stapled ownership interests are set out in Subdivision 124-Q.

- (3) Third, find out if there are any special rules relevant to your situation: see the Subdivision under which you can get the roll-over.

Subdivision 124-A—General rules

Table of sections

124-10 Your ownership of one CGT asset ends

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

124-15 Your ownership of more than one CGT asset ends

124-10 Your ownership of one CGT asset ends

- (1) There are these consequences (in most cases) if you can obtain a roll-over when your ownership of a *CGT asset (the original asset) ends and you *acquire one or more CGT assets (the new assets) in a situation covered by this Division.
  - (1A) A *car, motor cycle or similar vehicle must not be one of the new assets.
  - (2) A *capital gain or a *capital loss you make from the original asset is disregarded.
  - (3) If you *acquired the original asset on or after 20 September 1985, the first element of each new asset's *cost base is:

$$\frac{\text{The original asset's cost base} \\ \text{(worked out when your ownership of it ended)}}{\text{Number of new assets}}$$

The first element of each new asset's *reduced cost base is worked out similarly.

- Note 1: In some cases the amount you paid to acquire the new asset also forms part of the first element: see Subdivision 124-D (about strata title conversion) and Subdivision 124-O (about FSR transitions).
- Note 2: There are modifications to the consequences in Subdivision 124-B (about compulsory acquisition, loss or destruction), Subdivision 124-J (about Crown leases), Subdivision 124-L (about prospecting and mining) and Subdivision 124-O (about FSR transitions).
- Note 3: No other elements of the cost base of the new asset are affected by the roll-over.
- Note 4: There are special indexation rules for roll-overs: see Division 114.
