Subdivision 820-K—Zero-capital amount*Guide to Subdivision 820-K*820-940 What this Subdivision is about

The zero-capital amount represents the value of certain assets that receive special treatment in working out the maximum allowable debt of a financial entity. This Subdivision sets out the rules about the calculation of this amount.

Table of sections

820-942 How to work out the zero-capital amount

820-942 How to work out the zero-capital amount

- (1) An entity's zero-capital amount at a particular time is the result of the method statement in this subsection.

Method statement

- Step 1. Work out the total value, as at that particular time, of all the assets of the entity that represent *debt interests that:
- (a) are of a kind commonly dealt in by entities that carry on a *business of dealing in securities; and
  - (b) the entity has sold under a reciprocal purchase agreement (otherwise known as a repurchase agreement), sell-buyback arrangement or securities loan arrangement; and
  - (c) the entity has not yet repurchased under the agreement or arrangement.

Step 2. Add to the result of step 1 the total value, as at that time, of all the *debt interests issued to the entity to which the following paragraphs apply at that time:

- (a) the debt interests remain *on issue;
- (b) each of the debt interests is a loan of money for which no fees, charges or other consideration for the purpose of enhancing the credit rating of the issuer of the interest has been paid or is payable to the entity, any of the entity's *associates or another entity that is a *foreign entity;
- (c) each of the entities issuing the interests has the required credit rating for the interests concerned in accordance with subsections (4) and (5).

Step 3. Add to the result of step 2 the total value, as at that time, of all the *debt interests that are assets of the entity (whether they are debt interests issued to the entity or not) and to which the following paragraphs apply at that time:

- (a) the risk weight of each of the debt interests is either 0% or 20% under the *prudential standards;
- (b) the debt interests do not satisfy all of the paragraphs in step 2.

Step 3A. Add to the result of step 3 the total value, as at that time, of all the assets of the entity, to the extent that they:

- (a) consist of rights to the return of assets covered by subsection (2A); and
- (b) are covered by none of steps 1, 2 and 3.

---

Step 4. Add to the result of step 3A the total value, as at that time, of all the *securitised assets that the entity has at that time if the entity is a *securitisation vehicle at that time (see subsections (2) and (3)). The result is the zero-capital amount.

(2A) This subsection covers an asset that:

- (a) the entity provided as security for the performance of its obligations in relation to securities it acquired under a reciprocal purchase agreement (otherwise known as a repurchase agreement), sell-buyback arrangement or securities loan arrangement; and
- (b) does not consist of *shares.

Securitisation vehicle

(2) An entity is a securitisation vehicle if:

- (a) it is an entity established for the purposes of acquiring, funding and holding *securitised assets (see subsection (3)); and
- (b) it has acquired the securitised assets from another entity (the originator); and
- (c) the acquisition of the securitised assets is wholly funded by the issuing of *debt interests by the entity; and
- (d) in issuing the debt interests, the entity does not receive any guarantee, security or other form of credit support from any of its *associate entities, the originator or any associate entity of the originator; and
- (e) the entity has not issued debt interests for any purpose other than for the purpose of funding the acquisition of the securitised assets; and
- (f) there are no debt interests issued to the entity by any of the entity's associate entities, the originator or any associate entity of the originator; and
- (g) any *arrangements the entity has with any of its associate entities, the originator or any associate entity of the originator are those that would reasonably be expected to have been entered into by parties dealing at arm's length with each other.

Note: An entity that does not qualify as a securitisation vehicle may be exempt from the thin capitalisation rules under section 820-39.

Securitised assets

- (3) An asset of an entity is a securitised asset if:
- (a) the entity is a *securitisation vehicle; and
  - (b) the asset consists of:
    - (i) *debt interests issued by an entity other than the originator in relation to the securitisation vehicle that is mentioned in paragraph (2)(b); or
    - (ii) a lease for the hire of goods that would be a lease covered by paragraph (b) of the definition of on-lent amount if a reference to an entity in that definition were a reference to that originator; or
    - (iii) a *scheme that, apart from the operation of paragraph 974-25(1)(b), would have given rise to a debt interest covered by subparagraph (i); and
  - (c) the asset provides security for the issuing of debt interests that funded the acquisition of the asset by the securitisation vehicle (see paragraph (2)(c)).

What is the required credit rating?

- (4) For the purposes of step 2 of the method statement in subsection (1), the required credit rating for an entity issuing a *debt interest is:
- (a) if the interest is a *subordinated debt interest—a long-term foreign currency corporate credit rating of at least A (or equivalent) given to the entity by an internationally recognised rating agency; or
  - (b) if the interest is a not a subordinated debt interest—a long-term foreign currency corporate credit rating of at least BBB (or equivalent) given to the entity by an internationally recognised rating agency.

When must an entity have the required credit rating

- (5) The entity must have the required credit rating as specified in any of the following paragraphs:
- (a) the entity had the required credit rating for the * debt interest when the interest was issued;
  - (b) the following subparagraphs apply:
    - (i) the entity did not have any long-term foreign currency corporate credit rating given to it by an internationally recognised rating agency when the debt interest was issued; but
    - (ii) the entity had the required credit rating for that interest at any time during the period of 6 months immediately before the interest was issued;
  - (c) the following subparagraphs apply:
    - (i) when the debt interest was issued, and throughout the period of 6 months immediately before the interest was issued, the entity did not have any long-term foreign currency corporate credit rating given to it by an internationally recognised rating agency; but
    - (ii) the entity has the required credit rating for that interest at any time during the period of 6 months immediately after the interest was issued.

Subdivision 820-KA—Cost-free debt capital and excluded equity interests*Guide to Subdivision 820-KA*820-945 What this Subdivision is about

Table of sections

820-946 *Cost-free debt capital and excluded equity interest

- (1) This subsection applies to an entity for a period (the relevant period) that is all or a part of an income year if the entity satisfies all of the following:
- (a) the entity is an *outward investing entity (non-ADI) or *inward investing entity (non-ADI) for that period;
  - (b) if the entity is a *foreign entity—the entity holds any of the following assets throughout that period:
    - (i) assets that are attributable to the entity’s *Australian permanent establishments;
    - (ii) other assets that are held for the purposes of producing the entity’s assessable income;
  - (c) neither section 820-35 ($250,000 debt deductions threshold) nor section 820-37 (exemption for entity with 90% Australian assets) prevents Subdivision 820-B, 820-C, 820-D or 820-E from disallowing any *debt deduction of the entity for the income year;
  - (da) for some or all of that period, the entity does not meet the conditions in subsection 820-39(3) (about exemption of certain special purpose entities);
  - (d) the entity is not an *exempt entity for the income year.
- Note: Paragraph (c) corresponds to the threshold tests for this Division set out in sections 820-35 and 820-37.
- (2) The cost-free debt capital of the entity at a particular time during the relevant period is the total value of all the *debt interests *issued by the entity that satisfy all of the following:
- (a) the interests are *on issue at that time;
  - (b) none of the interests gives rise to any cost, at any time, that is covered by paragraph 820-40(1)(a);
  - (c) each of the interests is covered by subsection (3) or (4) of this section at that time.
- (2A) An *equity interest in the entity is an excluded equity interest at a particular time during the relevant period if, and only if:
- (a) if subsection (1) does not apply to the holder of the interest for all or part of the relevant period:
    - (i) the entity is an *associate of the holder; and

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (ii) at that time, the interest has been *on issue for a period of less than 180 days; or
  - (b) if subsection (1) applies to the holder for all or part of the relevant period:
    - (i) the entity is an associate of the holder; and
    - (ii) at that time, the interest has been on issue for a period of less than 180 days; and
    - (iii) the interest is covered by subsection (3) at that time.
- However, the interest is taken not to have been an excluded equity interest at the time if the total period for which the interest remains on issue is 180 days or more.
- (3) This subsection covers a *debt interest or *equity interest held by an entity (the holder) at the particular time mentioned in subsection (2) or (2A) if:
    - (a) subsection (1) also applies to the holder for a period (the overlapped period) that is, or includes, all or a part of the relevant period; and
    - (b) for the purposes of applying this Division to both the holder and the issuer of the interest (the issuer), and in relation to only that part of the overlapped period that falls within the relevant period, either or both of the following apply:
      - (i) the *valuation days used to calculate the average value of the holder's assets are different from the valuation days used to calculate the issuer's *adjusted average debt;
      - (ii) the number of valuation days used to calculate the average value of the holder's assets are different from the number of valuation days used to calculate the issuer's adjusted average debt.
  - (4) This subsection covers a *debt interest held by an entity (the holder) at the particular time mentioned in subsection (2) if:
    - (a) subsection (1) does not apply to the holder for a period that is, or includes, all or a part of the relevant period; and
    - (b) at that time, the debt interest has been *on issue for a period of less than 180 days.

However, if the total period for which the interest remains on issue is 180 days or more, this subsection is taken not to have covered the interest at that time.

- (5) For the purposes of subsection (2), take into account the value of a *debt interest issued by a *foreign entity only to the extent that the interest is attributable to assets covered by subparagraph (1)(b)(i) or (ii) that are held by the foreign entity throughout the relevant period.

Item	If the following asset-based income tax regime is to apply:	The expression means that:
4	Division 16E of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936	the Division applies as if the interest or the asset were *acquired by the partner or the entity at the start of the hybrid year or the post-hybrid year for a payment equal to the partner's *tax cost setting amount for the interest, or the entity's tax cost setting amount for the asset, at that time in relation to the *asset-based income tax regime
5	Any other provision of this Act or the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936	the cost of the interest or asset at the start of the hybrid year or the post-hybrid year is varied so that it equals the partner's *tax cost setting amount for the interest, or the entity's tax cost setting amount for the asset, at that time in relation to the *asset-based income tax regime

830-95 What the expression tax cost setting amount means

- (1) A partner's tax cost setting amount for an interest of the partner in an asset at the start of the hybrid year, in relation to an *asset-based income tax regime, is worked out as follows:

Method statement

Step 1. Work out what would have been the entity's *tax cost of the asset for the purposes of applying the *asset-based income tax regime as at the start of the hybrid year if it were not a *foreign hybrid in relation to the hybrid year.

Step 2. Multiply the result of step 1 by:

- (a) if the entity is a *foreign hybrid company in relation to the hybrid year—the percentage applicable to the partner under subsection 830-35(2); or
- (b) if the entity is a *foreign hybrid limited partnership in relation to the hybrid year—the individual interest of the partner in the asset, expressed as a percentage of the interests of all of the partners in the asset.

Step 3. If the partner paid a premium in respect of the *acquisition of its interest in the asset (see subsection (2)), add the amount of the premium to the result of step 2. If the partner received a discount in respect of the acquisition (see subsection (2)), subtract the amount of the discount from the result of step 2, but not to the extent that this would result in a negative amount.

The result of step 3 is the partner's tax cost setting amount in respect of the asset.

- (2) Work out whether the partner paid a premium or received a discount for its interest in the asset using the following method statement:

Method Statement

Step 1. Add up all the amounts paid by the partner before the start of the hybrid year for its *shares in the entity (if the entity was a company), or for its interests in the assets of the entity and in the entity (if the entity was a *limited partnership), that it held at the start of the hybrid year, and subtract all amounts received by the partner in respect of those shares or interests by way of reduction in capital of the entity.

Step 2. Work out the amount that, if the capital of the entity had been distributed to its *shareholders on a winding-up or to its partners on a dissolution, at the end of the income year before the hybrid year, the partner could reasonably be expected to have received of the total distribution.

Step 3. If the result of step 1 exceeds the result of step 2, the partner paid a premium for its interest in the asset. If the result of step 2 exceeds the result of step 1, the partner received a discount for its interest in the asset.

Step 4. Work out the amount of the premium or discount using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{Result of step 1 in the method statement in subsection (1)}}{\text{Sum of results of step 1 in the method statement in subsection (1) for the partner for all of the *foreign hybrids assets in relation to the *asset-based income tax regime}} \times \text{Excess mentioned in step 3 in the method statement in this subsection}$$

- (3) The entity's tax cost setting amount for an asset at the start of the post-hybrid year in relation to an *asset-based income tax regime is equal to the sum of what the partners' *tax costs for their interests in the asset would be at that time for the purpose of applying the asset-based income tax regime if the entity had continued to be a *foreign hybrid in relation to that income year.

830-100 What the expression tax cost means

The tax cost of a partner's interest in an asset or of an asset of the entity for the purposes of applying an *asset-based income tax regime at the start of the post-hybrid year or the hybrid year is worked out using the following table:

Tax cost of an asset
Item	If the asset-based income tax regime is:	the tax cost of the interest or the asset is:
1	Subdivisions 40-A to 40-D, sections 40-425 to 40-445 and Subdivision 328-D	the *adjustable value of the interest or the asset at the start of the post-hybrid year or the hybrid year
2	Division 70	the value of the interest or the asset at the start of the post-hybrid year or the hybrid year under Division 70
3	Part 3-1 or 3-3	the *cost base or *reduced cost base of the interest or the asset at the start of the post-hybrid year or the hybrid year
4	Division 16E of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936	the amount that the partner or entity would need to receive if it were to dispose of the interest or asset at the start of the post-hybrid year or the hybrid year without an amount being assessable income of, or deductible to, the partner or entity under section 159GS of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
5	Any other provision of this Act or the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936	the cost of the interest or the asset at the start of the post-hybrid year or the hybrid year

830-105 What the expression asset-based income tax regime means

The provisions listed in the first column in relation to each item in the table in section 830-100 are an asset-based income tax regime.

830-110 No disposal of assets etc. on entity becoming or ceasing to be a foreign hybrid

To avoid doubt, the fact that an entity becomes or ceases to be a *foreign hybrid in relation to an income year does not cause:

- (a) a *CGT event to happen to any *CGT asset consisting of:
  - (i) any *share or interest in the entity; or
  - (ii) any interest in an asset of the entity; or
- (b) a disposal or any other event to happen to any other asset consisting of such a share or interest.

830-115 Tax losses cannot be transferred to a foreign hybrid

- (1) If an entity is a *foreign hybrid in relation to an income year, it cannot deduct in that income year a *tax loss for a *loss year in relation to which it was not a foreign hybrid.

Former foreign hybrid can deduct tax losses for income years before it became a foreign hybrid

- (2) This section does not prevent an entity that:
  - (a) is not a *foreign hybrid in relation to an income year (the post-hybrid year); and
  - (b) was a foreign hybrid in relation to a previous income year; and
  - (c) was not a foreign hybrid in relation to an income year (the pre-hybrid year) before the previous year;from deducting, in the post-hybrid year, a *tax loss for the pre-hybrid year.

830-120 End of CFC's last statutory accounting period

If:

- (a) a taxpayer is a partner in an entity that becomes a *foreign hybrid in relation to an income year; and
- (b) the entity was a *CFC at the end of the taxpayer's preceding income year; and
- (c) the last *statutory accounting period of the CFC did not end at the end of the taxpayer's preceding income year; and
- (d) if it had so ended, the taxpayer would have been an *attributable taxpayer in relation to the CFC;

for the purposes of working out the *attributable income of the CFC for the taxpayer in respect of the last statutory accounting period of the CFC, that statutory accounting period ends at the end of the taxpayer's preceding income year.

830-125 How long interest in asset, or asset, held

Partner's interest in asset when entity becomes a foreign hybrid

- (1) If an entity becomes a *foreign hybrid company in relation to an income year, the interest that a partner has in an asset as mentioned in section 830-35 is taken to have been held by the partner (except for the purposes of having the *tax cost of the interest set) from the later of the following times:
  - (a) when the entity *acquired the asset;
  - (b) when the partner acquired its *shares in the entity.

Entity's asset when it ceases to be a foreign hybrid company

- (2) If:
  - (a) an entity is not a *foreign hybrid company in relation to an income year (the post-hybrid year); and
  - (b) the entity was a *foreign hybrid company in relation to the preceding income year; and
  - (c) during:
    - (i) that preceding income year; or

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(ii) any earlier income year in relation to which the entity was also a foreign hybrid;

but not at the start of the first income year in relation to which the entity was a foreign hybrid company, the partners in the foreign hybrid company *acquired an interest in an asset that is an asset of the entity at the start of the post-hybrid year;

the asset is taken to have been held by the entity (except for the purposes of having the *tax cost of the asset set) from the time the partners acquired their interests in the asset.

Division 855—Capital gains and foreign residents

Table of Subdivisions

Guide to Division 855

855-A Disregarding a capital gain or loss by foreign residents

855-B Becoming an Australian resident

Guide to Division 855

855-1 What this Division is about

A foreign resident can disregard a capital gain or loss unless the relevant CGT asset is a direct or indirect interest in Australian real property, or relates to a business carried on by the foreign resident through a permanent establishment in Australia.

Special rules apply for individuals who were Australian residents but have become foreign residents (see also Subdivision 104-I) and for foreign resident beneficiaries of fixed trusts.

There are also rules dealing with what happens when a foreign resident becomes an Australian resident.

Subdivision 855-A—Disregarding a capital gain or loss by foreign residents

Table of sections

855-5	Objects of this Subdivision
855-10	Disregarding a capital gain or loss from CGT events
855-15	When an asset is taxable Australian property
855-20	Taxable Australian real property
855-25	Indirect Australian real property interests

855-40 Capital gains and losses of foreign residents through fixed trusts

855-5 Objects of this Subdivision

- (1) The objects of this Subdivision are to improve:
  - (a) Australia's status as an attractive place for business and investment; and
  - (b) the integrity of Australia's capital gains tax base.
- (2) This is achieved by:
  - (a) aligning Australia's tax laws with international practice; and
  - (b) ensuring interests in an entity remain subject to Australia's capital gains tax laws if the entity's underlying value is principally derived from Australian real property.

855-10 Disregarding a capital gain or loss from CGT events

- (1) Disregard a *capital gain or *capital loss from a *CGT event if:
  - (a) you are a foreign resident, or the trustee of a *foreign trust for CGT purposes, just before the CGT event happens; and
  - (b) the CGT event happens in relation to a *CGT asset that is not *taxable Australian property.

Note: A capital gain or capital loss from a CGT asset you have used at any time in carrying on a business through a permanent establishment in Australia may be reduced under section 855-35.

- (2) The *CGT asset in relation to which a *CGT event happens includes the following:
  - (a) for CGT event D1 (about creating contractual or other rights)—the CGT asset that is the subject of the creation of the contractual or other rights;

Example: You grant an easement over land in Australia. The land is the subject of the creation of the rights in the easement. Therefore, the CGT event happens in relation to the land.
  - (b) for CGT event D2 (about granting an option)—the CGT asset that is the subject of the option;
  - (c) for CGT event F1 (about granting a lease)—the CGT asset that is the subject of the lease;
  - (d) for CGT event J1 (about a company ceasing to be a member of wholly-owned group after roll-over)—the roll-over asset.

855-15 When an asset is taxable Australian property

There are 5 categories of *CGT assets that are taxable Australian property. They are set out in this table.

CGT assets that are taxable Australian property
Item	Description
1	*Taxable Australian real property (see section 855-20)
2	A *CGT asset that: (a) is an *indirect Australian real property interest (see section 855-25); and (b) is not covered by item 5 of this table
3	A *CGT asset that: (a) you have used at any time in carrying on a *business through a permanent establishment (within the meaning of section 23AH of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 ) in Australia; and (b) is not covered by item 1, 2 or 5 of this table
4	An option or right to *acquire a *CGT asset covered by item 1, 2 or 3 of this table
5	A *CGT asset that is covered by subsection 104-165(3) (choosing to disregard a gain or loss on ceasing to be an Australian resident)

Note: An asset is also taxable Australian property if it was acquired by a company after 28 January 1988 and before 26 May 1988 from a foreign resident as a result of a disposal for which there was a roll-over under section 160ZZN or 160ZZO of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936: see section 136-25 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

855-20 Taxable Australian real property

A *CGT asset is taxable Australian real property if it is:

- (a) real property situated in Australia; or
- (b) a *mining, quarrying or prospecting right (to the extent that the right is not real property), if the minerals, *petroleum or quarry materials are situated in Australia.

855-25 Indirect Australian real property interests

- (1) A *membership interest held by an entity (the holding entity) in another entity (the test entity) at a time is an indirect Australian real property interest at that time if:
  - (a) the interest passes the *non-portfolio interest test (see section 960-195):
    - (i) at that time; or
    - (ii) throughout a 12 month period that began no earlier than 24 months before that time and ended no later than that time; and
  - (b) the interest passes the principal asset test in section 855-30 at that time.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), in working out whether the interest passes the *non-portfolio interest test and the principal asset test in section 855-30:
  - (a) apply section 350 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 as if the words “, or is entitled to acquire,” (wherever occurring) were omitted; and
  - (b) apply section 351 of that Act as if:
    - (i) the words “, or that the beneficiary is entitled to acquire” (wherever occurring) were omitted; and
    - (ii) the words “, or that the entity is entitled to acquire” in paragraph 351(2)(d) were omitted.
- (3) The first element of the *cost base and *reduced cost base of a *CGT asset on 10 May 2005 is the *market value of the asset on that day if, on that day:
  - (a) the CGT asset was a *membership interest you held in another entity; and
  - (b) you were a foreign resident, or the trustee of a trust that was not a *resident trust for CGT purposes; and
  - (c) the CGT asset was a *post-CGT asset; and
  - (d) the CGT asset did not have the necessary connection with Australia (within the meaning of this Act as in force on that day) disregarding the operation of paragraph (b) of item 5 and paragraph (b) of item 6 of the table in section 136-25 (as in force on that day).

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (4) Also, Parts 3-1 and 3-3 apply to the asset as if you had *acquired it on that day.

855-30 Principal asset test

- (1) The purpose of this section is to define when an entity's underlying value is principally derived from Australian real property (see paragraph 855-5(2)(b)).
- (2) A *membership interest held by an entity (the holding entity) in another entity (the test entity) passes the principal asset test if the sum of the *market values of the test entity's assets that are *taxable Australian real property exceeds the sum of the *market values of its assets that are not taxable Australian real property.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2), treat an asset of an entity (the first entity) that is a *membership interest in another entity (the other entity) as if it were instead the following 2 assets:
- (a) an asset that is *taxable Australian real property (the TARP asset);
  - (b) an asset that is not taxable Australian real property (the non-TARP asset).
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (2), treat the *market value of the TARP asset and the non-TARP asset according to the following table.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 855-30

Market value of the TARP asset and the non-TARP asset
Item	If:	the market value of the TARP asset is:	the market value of the non-TARP asset is:
1	(a) the first entity's *direct participation interest in the other entity is less than 10%; or  (b) the holding entity's *total participation interest in the other entity is less than 10%	zero	the *market value of the *membership interest mentioned in subsection (3)
2	item 1 does not apply	the product of: (a) the sum of the *market values of all the assets of the other entity that are *taxable Australian real property; and (b) the first entity's *direct participation interest in the other entity	the product of: (a) the sum of the market values of all the assets of the other entity that are not taxable Australian real property; and (b) the first entity's direct participation interest in the other entity

Note: For the purposes of item 2 of the table, it is necessary to work out the market value of any TARP assets and non-TARP assets in relation to any membership interests held by the other entity before working out the value of the TARP asset and non-TARP asset held by the first entity.

- (5) For the purposes of this section, disregard the *market value of any asset acquired by the test entity, or by any other entity, if the *acquisition was done for a purpose (other than an incidental purpose) that included ensuring that a *membership interest in any entity would not pass the principal asset test in this section.

855-35 Reducing a capital gain or loss from a business asset—
Australian permanent establishments

- (1) This section applies to a *CGT asset that is *taxable Australian property under item 3 of the table in section 855-15 because you have used it at any time in carrying on a *business through a permanent establishment (within the meaning of section 23AH of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) in Australia.
- (2) The *capital gain or *capital loss you make from a *CGT event in relation to the asset is reduced if you used it in this way for only part of the period from when you *acquired it to when the CGT event happened.
- (3) The gain or loss is reduced by this fraction:

$$\frac{\text{Number of days the asset was not used in the way described in subsection (1)}}{\text{Number of days in that period}}$$

855-40 Capital gains and losses of foreign residents through fixed trusts

- (1) The purpose of this section is to provide comparable taxation treatment as between direct ownership, and indirect ownership through a *fixed trust, by foreign residents of *CGT assets that are not *taxable Australian property.
- (2) A *capital gain you make in respect of your interest in a *fixed trust is disregarded if:
  - (a) you are a foreign resident when you make the gain; and
  - (b) the gain is attributable to a *CGT event happening to a *CGT asset of a trust (the CGT event trust) that is:
    - (i) the fixed trust; or
    - (ii) another fixed trust in which that trust has an interest (directly, or indirectly through a *chain of fixed trusts); and

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(c) either:

- (i) the asset is not *taxable Australian property for the CGT event trust at the time of the CGT event; or
- (ii) the asset is an interest in a fixed trust and the conditions in subsections (5), (6), (7) and (8) are satisfied.

Note: Section 115-215 treats a portion of a trust's capital gain as a capital gain made by a beneficiary, and applies the CGT discount to that portion as if the gain were made directly by the beneficiary.

- (3) You are not liable to pay tax as a trustee of a *fixed trust in respect of an amount to the extent that the amount gives rise to a *capital gain that is disregarded for a beneficiary under subsection (2).
- (4) To avoid doubt, subsection (3) does not affect the operation of subsection 98A(1) or (3) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (about taxing beneficiaries who are foreign residents at the end of an income year).

Conditions

- (5) The conditions in subsections (6), (7) and (8) must be satisfied if the relevant *CGT event happens to an interest in a *fixed trust (the first trust) and the interest is *taxable Australian property at the time of the CGT event.
- (6) At least 90% (by *market value) of the *CGT assets of:
  - (a) the first trust; or
  - (b) a *fixed trust in which the first trust has an interest (directly, or indirectly through a *chain of fixed trusts);must not be *taxable Australian property at the time of the relevant *CGT event.
- (7) If the condition in subsection (6) is not satisfied for the first trust (but is satisfied for a trust covered by paragraph (6)(b)), the condition in subsection (8) must be satisfied for the first trust, and for each other trust in the *chain of trusts between the first trust and the trust that satisfied the condition in subsection (6).
- (8) The condition is that, assuming any interest in a *fixed trust in that *chain not to be *taxable Australian property, at least 90% (by *market value) of the *CGT assets of the trust must not be taxable Australian property.

Subdivision 855-B—Becoming an Australian resident

Table of sections

855-45	Individual or company becomes an Australian resident
855-50	Trust becomes a resident trust
855-55	CFC becomes an Australian resident

855-45 Individual or company becomes an Australian resident

- (1) If you become an Australian resident, there are rules relevant to each *CGT asset that you owned just before you became an Australian resident, except an asset:
    - (a) that is *taxable Australian property; or
    - (b) that you *acquired before 20 September 1985.
- Note: This section has effect subject to section 768-950 (individuals who become Australian residents and are temporary residents immediately after they become Australian residents).
- (2) The first element of the *cost base and *reduced cost base of the asset (at the time you become an Australian resident) is its *market value at that time.
  - (3) Also, Parts 3-1 and 3-3 apply to the asset as if you had *acquired it at the time you became an Australian resident.
  - (4) This section does not apply to a *share or right if:
    - (a) it is a *qualifying share or a *qualifying right; and
    - (b) you have not made an election under section 139E of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 covering the share or right; and
    - (c) the *cessation time for the share or right has not occurred.

855-50 Trust becomes a resident trust

- (1) If a trust becomes a *resident trust for CGT purposes, there are rules relevant to each *CGT asset that the trustee owned just before the trust became a resident trust for CGT purposes, except one:

Section 855-55

---

- (a) that is *taxable Australian property; or
  - (b) that the trustee *acquired before 20 September 1985.
- (2) The first element of the *cost base and *reduced cost base of the asset (at the time the trust becomes a *resident trust for CGT purposes) is its *market value at that time.
- (3) Also, Parts 3-1 and 3-3 apply to the asset as if the trustee had *acquired it at the time the trust became a *resident trust for CGT purposes.

Exception

- (4) This section does not apply to a trust if, just before it became a *resident trust for CGT purposes, it was a *CFT because of paragraph 342(a) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

Note: This section is disregarded in calculating the attributable income of a trust: see section 102AAZB of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

855-55 CFC becomes an Australian resident

- (1) This section applies to a *CFC that stops at a time (the residence change time) being a resident of a *listed country or an *unlisted country and becomes an Australian resident.
- (2) Section 855-45 does not apply to the *CFC.
- (3) The modifications of Parts 3-1 and 3-3 of this Act in sections 411 to 414 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 have the effect they would have, in relation to each *commencing day asset owned by the *CFC at the residence change time, if those modifications were used to work out the taxable income of the CFC rather than its *attributable income.
- (4) However, if a *capital gain on a *commencing day asset of the *CFC (for a period before the residence change time) was subject to tax (within the meaning of Part X of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) in a *listed country, the modifications of Parts 3-1 and 3-3 of this Act in sections 411 to 414 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 have the effect they would have in relation to the asset if:

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) those modifications were used to work out the taxable income of the CFC rather than its *attributable income; and
- (b) the *commencing day of the CFC were the residence change time.

Note: This section is disregarded in calculating the attributable income of a CFC: see section 410 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

900-5 Application of the requirements of Division 900

- (1) The requirements of this Division apply to an individual.
- (2) They also apply to a partnership that includes at least one individual, as if the partnership were an individual.
- (3) They do not apply to any other entity.

900-10 Substantiation requirement

To deduct certain types of losses or outgoings, you need to substantiate them under this Division.

Item	For this type of loss or outgoing:	see:
1.	Work expenses	Subdivision 900-B
2.	Car expenses	Subdivision 900-C
3.	Business travel expenses	Subdivision 900-D

Note: There are exceptions to these requirements:

- Subdivision 900-B has some specific exceptions about work expenses.
- Subdivision 900-H provides for relief from the effects of failing to substantiate.
- Subdivision 900-I has an exception about certain losses or outgoings related to award transport payments.

900-12 Application to recipients and payers of certain withholding payments

Application to recipients

- (1) If an individual receives, or is entitled to receive, *withholding payments covered by subsection (3), this Division applies to him or her:
  - (a) in the same way as it applies to an employee; and
  - (b) as if an entity that makes (or is liable to make) such payments to him or her were his or her employer; and

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 900-12

- (c) as if the withholding payments covered by subsection (3) that he or she receives (or is entitled to receive) were salary or wages.

Application to payers

- (2) This Division applies to an entity that makes, or is liable to make, *withholding payments covered by subsection (3):
- (a) in the same way as it applies to an employer; and
  - (b) as if an individual to whom the entity makes (or is liable to make) such payments were the entity's employee.

Withholding payments covered

- (3) This subsection covers a *withholding payment covered by any of the provisions in Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953 listed in the table.

- 900-40 Exception for laundry expenses below a certain limit
- 900-45 Exception for work expense related to award transport payment
- 900-50 Exception for domestic travel allowance expenses
- 900-55 Exception for overseas travel allowance expenses
- 900-60 Exception for reasonable overtime meal allowance
- 900-65 Crew members on international flights need not keep travel records

900-15 Getting written evidence

- (1) To deduct a *work expense:
- (a) it must qualify as a deduction under some provision of this Act outside this Division; and
  - (b) you need to substantiate it by getting written evidence.
- Subdivision 900-E tells you about the evidence you need.

To find out whether an expense qualifies as a deduction under this Act, see Division 8 (Deductions).

- (2) If your expense is for fuel or oil, you have a choice of either:
- (a) getting written evidence of it under Subdivision 900-E; or
  - (b) keeping odometer records for the period when you owned or leased the *car in the income year.

Subdivision 28-H tells you about odometer records.

Note: In certain circumstances (for example, under a hire purchase agreement) the notional buyer of property is taken to be its owner (see subsection 240-20(2)).

900-20 Keeping travel records

You need to keep travel records if your expense is for travel that involves you being away from your ordinary residence for 6 or more nights in a row.

The travel may be within or outside Australia. Subdivision 900-F tells you about travel records.

Note: Members of international flight crews may be exempt from keeping travel records for losses or outgoings covered by travel allowances: see section 900-65.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

900-25 Retaining the written evidence and travel records

- (1) Once you have the material required by section 900-15 or 900-20, you must retain it for 5 years. There is no need to lodge it with your *income tax return. The Commissioner may require you to produce it: see Subdivision 900-G. The period for which you must retain it is called the retention period.
- (2) The 5 years start on the due day for lodging your *income tax return for the income year. If you lodge your return later, the 5 years start on the day you lodge it.
- (3) However, the *retention period is extended if, when the 5 years end, you are involved in a dispute with the Commissioner that relates to the expense. See section 900-170.
- (4) If you do not retain the material for the *retention period, you cannot deduct the expense. If you have already deducted it, your assessment may be amended to disallow the deduction.
- (5) If you lose any of the material, there are rules that might help you in section 900-205.

900-30 Meaning of work expense

General

- (1) A work expense is a loss or outgoing you incur in producing your salary or wages.

Note: This Division also applies to withholding payments that are not salary or wages: see subsection 900-12(3).

Travel allowance expenses included

- (2) Travel allowance expenses count as *work expenses. A travel allowance expense is a loss or outgoing you incur for travel that is covered by a *travel allowance. The loss or outgoing must:
  - (a) be for accommodation or for food or drink; or
  - (b) be incidental to the travel.
- (3) A travel allowance is an allowance your employer pays or is to pay to you to cover losses or outgoings:

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) that you incur for travel away from your ordinary residence that you undertake in the course of your duties as an employee; and
- (b) that are losses or outgoings for accommodation or for food or drink, or are incidental to the travel.

The travel may be within or outside Australia.

Note: This Division also applies to individuals who are not employees: see section 900-12.

Meal allowance expenses included

- (4) Meal allowance expenses count as *work expenses. A meal allowance expense is a loss or outgoing that you incur for food or drink that is covered by a *meal allowance.
- (5) A meal allowance is an allowance that your employer pays or is to pay to you as an employee to enable you to buy food or drink. However, an allowance is not a meal allowance if it is a *travel allowance or part of one.

Note: This Division also applies to individuals who are not employees: see section 900-12.

Motor vehicle expenses excluded

- (6) A loss or outgoing to do with a *motor vehicle is not treated as a *work expense unless it is:
  - (a) a loss or outgoing incurred, or a payment made, in respect of travel outside Australia; or
  - (b) a taxi fare or similar loss or outgoing.

However, most losses or outgoings to do with a *motor vehicle are covered by the rules about *car expenses. See Division 28 and Subdivision 900-C.

Other types of losses or outgoings included

- (7) In addition to losses or outgoings within the general scope of subsection (1), any of the following is a *work expense:
  - (a) the decline in value of property you own and that is used, or is *installed ready for use, by you in order to produce your salary or wages;

---

Section 900-35

---

- (b) expenditure you incur that qualifies as a deduction under section 25-60 (Parliament election expenses) or section 25-65 (about local government election expenses);
- (c) expenditure you incur that entitles you to a deduction under section 25-100 (transport expenses incurred in your travel between workplaces), other than *car expenses.

- Note 1: This Division also applies to payments that are not salary or wages, but are PAYE earnings: see section 900-12.
- Note 2: In certain circumstances (for example, under a hire purchase agreement) the notional buyer of property is taken to be its owner (see subsection 240-20(2)).
- Note 3: See Subdivision 900-C for car expenses that are also transport expenses incurred in your travel between workplaces.

900-35 Exception for small total of expenses

- (1) If the total of all the *work expenses (including *laundry expenses, but excluding *travel allowance expenses and *meal allowance expenses) that you want to deduct is $300 or less, you can deduct them without getting written evidence or keeping travel records.

- Note 1: If the total is more than $300, you need to substantiate all the work expenses, not just the excess over $300.
- Note 2: Whether or not your work expenses total $300 or less, for certain expenses that are each $10 or less and total $200 or less you can get written evidence by making your own record, instead of getting a document from the supplier: see section 900-125.

- (2) This limit can be increased from time to time by regulations made under section 909-1.
- (3) A *transport expense that Subdivision 900-I (Award transport payments) lets you deduct without following the rules in this Division does not count towards this limit.

900-40 Exception for laundry expenses below a certain limit

- (1) Even if the *work expenses you claim total more than $300, you can still deduct up to $150 of *laundry expenses without getting written evidence of them.

---

- (2) However, this exception does not increase the $300 limit in section 900-35 to $450: your *laundry expenses still count toward that limit.

Example: You want to deduct laundry expenses of $140 and union dues of $200. These work expenses total more than $300, so the exception in section 900-35 doesn't apply. This means you must substantiate the union dues expense. However, because of the exception in this section, you don't need to get written evidence of the laundry expenses.

- (3) This limit can be increased from time to time by regulations made under section 909-1.
- (4) A laundry expense is a *work expense to do with washing, drying or ironing clothes (but not dry cleaning).

900-45 Exception for work expense related to award transport payment

You may be able to deduct, without getting written evidence or keeping travel records, a *transport expense you incurred that is related to an allowance or reimbursement paid or payable to you by your employer under an *industrial instrument that was in force on 29 October 1986. Subdivision 900-I tells you about this.

Note: This Division also applies to entities that are not employers, but pay (or are liable to pay) withholding payments covered by subsection 900-12(3).

900-50 Exception for domestic travel allowance expenses

- (1) You can deduct a *travel allowance expense for travel within Australia without getting written evidence or keeping travel records if the Commissioner considers reasonable the total of the losses or outgoings you claim for travel covered by the allowance.
- (2) In deciding whether the total of the losses or outgoings you claim is reasonable, the Commissioner must take into account the total of the losses or outgoings of the following kinds that it would be reasonable for you to incur for the travel:
- (a) accommodation;
  - (b) food or drink;

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

- (c) losses or outgoings incidental to the travel.

900-55 Exception for overseas travel allowance expenses

- (1) You can deduct a *travel allowance expense for travel outside Australia without getting written evidence under the same conditions as for domestic *travel allowances, except that you still have to get written evidence for losses or outgoings for accommodation.
- (2) Consequently, in deciding whether the total of the losses or outgoings you claim is reasonable, the Commissioner must disregard losses or outgoings for accommodation.
- (3) However, for overseas travel covered by a *travel allowance you must still keep travel records if the travel involves you being away from your ordinary residence for 6 or more nights in a row: Subdivision 900-F tells you about travel records.

900-60 Exception for reasonable overtime meal allowance

You can deduct a *meal allowance expense without getting written evidence if:

- (a) the allowance is to enable you to buy food or drink in connection with overtime that you work; and
- (b) the allowance is paid or payable to you under an *industrial instrument; and
- (c) the Commissioner considers reasonable the total of the losses or outgoings you claim that are covered by the allowance.

900-65 Crew members on international flights need not keep travel records

You can deduct a *travel allowance expense without keeping travel records if:

- (a) the allowance covers travel by you as a crew member of an aircraft; and
- (b) the travel is principally outside Australia; and

---

- (c) the total of the losses or outgoings you claim for the travel that are covered by the allowance does not exceed the allowance.

Subdivision 900-C—Substantiating car expenses

Table of sections

900-70	Getting written evidence
900-75	Retaining the written evidence and odometer records

900-70 Getting written evidence

- (1) For the “one-third of actual expenses” method or the “log book” method of deducting a *car expense, you need to substantiate the expense by getting written evidence. Subdivision 900-E tells you about the evidence you need.
- Subdivision 28-E tells you about the “one-third of actual expenses” method and Subdivision 28-F tells you about the “log book” method.
- (2) If you are using the “one-third of actual expenses” method and your expense is for fuel or oil, you have a choice of either:
- (a) getting written evidence of it under Subdivision 900-E; or
  - (b) keeping odometer records for the period when you owned or leased the *car in the income year.

Subdivision 28-H tells you about odometer records.

Note: In certain circumstances (for example, under a hire purchase agreement) the notional buyer of property is taken to be its owner (see subsection 240-20(2)).

- (3) If you are using the “log book” method and your expense is for fuel or oil, you do not need to get written evidence of it, because section 28-100 already requires you to keep odometer records for the period when you *held the *car in the income year.

900-75 Retaining the written evidence and odometer records

- (1) Once you have the material required by this Subdivision, you must retain it for 5 years. There is no need to lodge it with your *income tax return. The Commissioner may require you to produce it: see

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Section 900-80

Subdivision 900-G. The period for which you must retain it is called the retention period.

- (2) The 5 years start on the due day for lodging your *income tax return for the income year. If you lodge your return later, the 5 years start on the day you lodge it.
- (3) However, the *retention period is extended if, when the 5 years end, you are involved in a dispute with the Commissioner that relates to the expense. See section 900-170.
- (4) If you do not retain the material for the *retention period, you cannot deduct the expense. If you have already deducted it, your assessment may be amended to disallow the deduction.
- (5) If you lose any of the material, there are rules that might help you in section 900-205.

900-80	Getting written evidence
900-85	Keeping travel records
900-90	Retaining the written evidence and travel records
900-95	Meaning of business travel expense

900-80 Getting written evidence

- (1) To deduct a *business travel expense:
  - (a) it must qualify as a deduction under some provision of this Act outside this Division; and
  - (b) you need to substantiate it by getting written evidence.Subdivision 900-E tells you about the evidence you need.

To find out whether an expense qualifies as a deduction under this Act, see Division 8 (Deductions).

- (2) If your expense is for fuel or oil, you have a choice of either:
  - (a) getting written evidence of it under Subdivision 900-E; or

- (b) keeping odometer records for the period when you owned or leased the *car in the income year.

Subdivision 28-H tells you about odometer records.

Note: In certain circumstances (for example, under a hire purchase agreement) the notional buyer of property is taken to be its owner (see subsection 240-20(2)).

900-85 Keeping travel records

You need to keep travel records if your expense is for travel that involves you being away from your ordinary residence for 6 or more nights in a row. Subdivision 900-F tells you about travel records.

900-90 Retaining the written evidence and travel records

- (1) Once you have the material required by section 900-80 or 900-85, you must retain it for 5 years. There is no need to lodge it with your *income tax return. The Commissioner may require you to produce it: see Subdivision 900-G. The period for which you must retain it is called the retention period.
- (2) The 5 years start on the due day for lodging your *income tax return for the income year. If you lodge your return later, the 5 years start on the day you lodge it.
- (3) However, the *retention period is extended if, when the 5 years end, you are involved in a dispute with the Commissioner that relates to the expense. See section 900-170.
- (4) If you do not retain the material for the *retention period, you cannot deduct the expense. If you have already deducted it, your assessment may be amended to disallow the deduction.
- (5) If you lose any of the material, there are rules that might help you in section 900-205.

900-95 Meaning of business travel expense

General

- (1) A business travel expense is a *travel expense, in so far as you incur it in producing your assessable income other than salary or wages.

Travel expense

- (2) A loss or outgoing is a travel expense if you incur it for travel by you that involves you being away from your ordinary residence for at least one night. The travel may be within or outside Australia.

Salary and wages travel expenses excluded

- (3) In so far as you incur *travel expenses in producing your salary or wages, the expenses are not treated as *business travel expenses. Instead, they are dealt with as *work expenses in Subdivision 900-B.

Note: This Division also applies to withholding payments that are not salary or wages: see subsection 900-12(3).

Travel allowance expenses excluded

- (4) *Travel allowance expenses are not treated as *business travel expenses. They too are dealt with as *work expenses in Subdivision 900-B.

Motor vehicle expenses excluded

- (5) A loss or outgoing to do with a *motor vehicle is not treated as a *business travel expense unless it is:
- (a) a loss or outgoing incurred, or a payment made, in respect of travel outside Australia; or
  - (b) a taxi fare or similar loss or outgoing.

However, most *motor vehicle expenses are covered by the rules about *car expenses. See Division 28 and Subdivision 900-C.

Subdivision 900-E—Written evidence

Guide to Subdivision 900-E

900-100 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision tells you how you must get written evidence to support a claim for a deduction.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

900-105	Ways of getting written evidence
900-110	Time limits
900-115	Written evidence from supplier
900-120	Written evidence of depreciating asset expense
900-125	Evidence of small expenses
900-130	Evidence of expenses considered otherwise too hard to substantiate
900-135	Evidence on a payment summary

900-105 Ways of getting written evidence

Each of the following sections has a set of rules for a particular way of getting written evidence to substantiate a deduction. Which ones you can use depends on the type of expense. You only need to use one set of rules to support an expense.

900-110 Time limits

- (1) There is no time limit for getting written evidence of an expense (unless you want to record the expense yourself under section 900-125 or 900-130). But until you get written evidence of it, you are not entitled to a deduction for the expense.
- (2) If when you lodge your *income tax return for the income year you have good reason to expect to get written evidence of the expense within a reasonable time, you can deduct the expense without actually getting the evidence. But if you don't get the evidence within a reasonable time, your entitlement to the deduction ceases. If you have already deducted the expense, your assessment may be amended to disallow the deduction.

---

- (3) Even if you only get written evidence of the expense after the end of the income year, you deduct the expense for that income year, not the income year in which you get the evidence.

900-115 Written evidence from supplier

- (1) You may use this set of rules for any type of expense except the decline in value of a *depreciating asset.
- (2) You must get a document from the supplier of the goods or services the expense is for. The document must set out:
  - (a) the name or business name of the supplier; and
  - (b) the amount of the expense, expressed in the currency in which it was incurred; and
  - (c) the nature of the goods or services; and
  - (d) the day the expense was incurred; and
  - (e) the day it is made out.
- (3) There are 2 exceptions to these requirements:
  - (a) if the document does not show the day the expense was incurred, you may use a bank statement or other reasonable, independent evidence that shows when it was paid;
  - (b) if the document the supplier gave you does not specify the nature of the goods or services, you may write in the missing details yourself before you lodge your *income tax return for the income year.
- (4) The document must be in English. However, if the expense was incurred in a country outside Australia, the document can instead be in a language of that country.

900-120 Written evidence of depreciating asset expense

- (1) You may use this set of rules only for a *depreciating asset expense.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (2) You must get evidence of the original acquisition of the *depreciating asset. It must be a document that you get from the supplier of the asset and that specifies:
  - (a) the name or business name of the supplier; and
  - (b) the cost of the asset to you; and
  - (c) the nature of the asset; and
  - (d) the day you acquired the asset; and
  - (e) the day it is made out.
- (3) However, if the document the supplier gave you does not specify the nature of the asset, you may write in the missing details yourself before you lodge your *income tax return for the income year in which you first claim a deduction for the decline in value of the asset.
- (4) If you don't get the document in time, for example because you only decided to use the asset for income-producing purposes several years after you acquired it, there are rules that might help you in Subdivision 900-H (Relief from effects of failing to substantiate).
- (5) The document must be in English. However, if you *imported the asset into Australia, the document can instead be in a language of the country from which the asset was originally exported.

900-125 Evidence of small expenses

- (1) If your expense is small, and you have a small total of small expenses, you can make a record of the expenses instead of getting a document from the supplier.
- (2) Each expense must be $10 or less, and the total of all your expenses that:
  - (a) are each $10 or less; and
  - (b) you incurred in the income year and wish to deduct; and
  - (c) you must get written evidence for under this Division;must be $200 or less. These limits can be increased from time to time by regulations made under section 909-1.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

- (3) If the expense is not the decline in value of a *depreciating asset, you must get a document with the same information as required by section 900-115, except that you may create the document and record all the details yourself. You must do so as soon as possible after incurring the expense.
- (4) If the expense is the decline in value of a *depreciating asset, you must, as soon as possible after the last day of the income year, record in a document the following:
  - (a) the nature of the property;
  - (b) the amount of the decline in value;
  - (c) who made the record;
  - (d) the day the record is made.
- (5) A record must be in English.

900-130 Evidence of expenses considered otherwise too hard to substantiate

- (1) If the Commissioner considers it unreasonable to expect you to have got written evidence of an expense in any other way permitted by this Subdivision, you can use the method in section 900-125 to get written evidence of your claim.
- (2) The expense may be more than $10 and does not count towards the $200 limit in section 900-125.

900-135 Evidence on a payment summary

- (1) If the nature and amount of a *work expense are shown on your copy of a *payment summary given to you by your employer, you can use the copy as written evidence of the expense.

Note: This Division also applies to entities that are not employers, but pay (or are liable to pay) withholding payments covered by subsection 900-12(3).
- (2) Expenses of the same nature need not be separately itemised; it is acceptable if they are totalled together on the *payment summary.

Subdivision 900-F—Travel records

Guide to Subdivision 900-F

900-140 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision tells you how to keep travel records. A travel record is a record of activities you undertake during your travel.

Table of sections

900-145 Purpose of a travel record

Operative provisions

900-150 Recording activities in travel records

900-155 Showing which of your activities were income-producing activities

900-145 Purpose of a travel record

The purpose of a travel record is to show which of your activities were undertaken in the course of producing your assessable income, so that your losses or outgoings, or portions of them, can be attributed to income-producing purposes.

Operative provisions

900-150 Recording activities in travel records

- (1) You record an activity by specifying in a diary or similar document:
  - (a) the nature of the activity;
  - (b) the day and approximate time when it began;
  - (c) how long it lasted;
  - (d) where you engaged in it.
- (2) An activity must be recorded before it ends, or as soon as possible afterwards. Each entry must be in English.

900-155 Showing which of your activities were income-producing activities

- (1) You need not record an income-producing activity. But if you don't, the activity cannot be taken into account in working out the extent to which you can deduct an expense you incur for the travel.

Example: If you fly to Los Angeles for the sole purpose of attending a 7 day conference, but you don't record the conference in your travel record, you cannot deduct the cost of the air fare. This is so even if you have written evidence that you paid the fare (eg a receipt), as required by Subdivision 900-E.

- (2) You don't need to record any other kind of activity, although you may do so.

Subdivision 900-G—Retaining and producing records

Guide to Subdivision 900-G

900-160 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision tells you how long you need to retain records of an expense and when you have to produce those records.

900-165 The retention period

Operative provisions

900-170 Extending the retention period if an expense is disputed

900-175 Commissioner may tell you to produce your records

900-180 How to comply with a notice

900-185 What happens if you don't comply

900-165 The retention period

Whenever you are required to retain records of an expense under this Division or Division 28, you need to retain the records for 5 years.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Operative provisions

900-170 Extending the retention period if an expense is disputed

The *retention period is automatically extended if one of the following types of dispute relating to the expense is unresolved when the 5 years end:

- (a) an objection;
- (b) a review or appeal arising from an objection;
- (c) a request for amendment of an assessment.

The extension lasts until the dispute is resolved.

900-175 Commissioner may tell you to produce your records

- (1) The Commissioner may give you a written notice telling you to produce records of expenses specified in the notice. The records must be ones that you have to retain for the *retention period: you do not have to produce records if the retention period for those records is over.
- (2) The notice must give you 28 days or more to comply, starting on the day after the notice is given. The Commissioner may allow you more time to comply with the notice.

900-180 How to comply with a notice

- (1) To comply with the notice, you must produce to the Commissioner, for each of the expenses, the material that this Division or Division 28 requires you to retain during the *retention period.
- (2) You must also produce a summary that, for each expense for which you produce written evidence (see Subdivision 900-E):
  - (a) notes the expense; and
  - (b) has a cross-reference to the written evidence of the expense; and
  - (c) summarises the particulars set out in the written evidence; and

Section 900-185

---

- (d) if the expense was in a foreign currency—shows the amount of the expense in Australian currency.

The summary must be in English in a form approved by the Commissioner.

900-185 What happens if you don't comply

- (1) If you do not comply with a notice for a particular expense, you cannot deduct the expense. If you have already deducted it, your assessment may be amended to disallow the deduction.
- (2) You do not commit an offence merely by not complying with the notice, despite section 8C of the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

Subdivision 900-H—Relief from effects of failing to substantiate

Table of sections

900-195	Commissioner's discretion to review failure to substantiate
900-200	Reasonable expectation that substantiation would not be required
900-205	What if your documents are lost or destroyed?

900-195 Commissioner's discretion to review failure to substantiate

Not doing something necessary to follow the rules in this Division does not affect your right to a deduction if the nature and quality of the evidence you have to substantiate your claim satisfies the Commissioner:

- (a) that you incurred the expense; and
(b) that you are entitled to deduct the amount you claim.

900-200 Reasonable expectation that substantiation would not be required

Not doing something necessary to follow the rules in this Division does not affect your right to deduct an amount if the only reason was that you had a reasonable expectation that you would not need to do it in order to be able to deduct that amount.

900-205 What if your documents are lost or destroyed?

- (1) If you have a complete copy of a document that is lost or destroyed during the *retention period, it is treated as the original from the time of the loss or destruction.
- (2) If you don't have such a copy, but the Commissioner is satisfied that you took reasonable precautions to prevent the loss or destruction, the rest of this section explains what to do.
- (3) If the lost or destroyed document was a travel record, log book or other document that is not written evidence of an expense under Subdivision 900-E, you do not need to replace it; your deduction is not affected by your failing to retain or produce the document.
- (4) If the lost or destroyed document was written evidence, you must try to get a substitute document that meets all the original requirements (except the time limit for getting the original).
- (5) If you succeed, your deduction is not affected by your failing to retain or produce the original document. The substitute document is treated as the original from the time of the loss or destruction.
- (6) If it is not reasonably possible to succeed, your deduction is not affected by your failing to retain or produce the original document.
- (7) If it is reasonably possible for you to get a substitute document, but you don't get one, this section does not protect you from the consequences of failing to retain or produce the original.

Subdivision 900-I—Award transport payments

Guide to Subdivision 900-I

900-210 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision tells you when you can deduct an expense related to an award transport payment without getting written evidence or keeping travel records.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Table of sections

Operative provisions

900-215	Deducting an expense related to an award transport payment
900-220	Definition of award transport payment
900-225	Substituted industrial instruments
900-230	Changes to industrial instruments applied for before 29 October 1986
900-235	Changes to industrial instruments solely referable to matters in the instrument
900-240	Deducting in anticipation of receiving award transport payment
900-245	Effect of exception in this Subdivision on exception for small total of expenses
900-250	Effect of exception in this Subdivision on methods of calculating car expense deductions

Operative provisions

900-215 Deducting an expense related to an award transport payment

The exception

(1) If:

- (a) you are paid one or more *award transport payments in the income year; and
- (b) the total of the *transport expenses, to the extent that they relate to the award transport payments, that you incur during any income year and claim as deductions for any income year is no more than the total amount of the payments; and
- (c) those transport expenses qualify as a deduction under some provision of this Act outside this Division;

then you can deduct those transport expenses without getting written evidence or keeping travel records.

To find out whether an expense qualifies as a deduction under this Act, see Division 8 (Deductions).

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Increases to amounts payable under industrial instrument must be ignored

- (2) For each *award transport payment, you can deduct no more than the amount you could have deducted if the *industrial instrument the payment is under were still in force as it was on 29 October 1986. If your claim exceeds this amount, you cannot use the exception for the expenses.

900-220 Definition of *award transport payment

Award transport payment

- (1) An award transport payment is a *transport payment covering particular travel that was paid under an *industrial instrument that was in force on 29 October 1986.

Transport payment

- (2) A transport payment is an amount your employer pays you, or is to pay you, for travel by you in the course of working for the employer that is:
- (a) an allowance (or part of an allowance) for the sole or main purpose of covering your *transport expenses; or
  - (b) a reimbursement to which section 15-70 applies that is for the whole or a part of a *car expense. However, an amount is not a transport payment if it is, or is part of, a *travel allowance.

Note: This Division also applies to entities that are not employers, but pay (or are liable to pay) withholding payments covered by subsection 900-12(3).

Transport expense

- (3) A transport expense is a loss or outgoing to do with transport, including the decline in value of a *depreciating asset used in connection with transport, but not including a loss or outgoing for accommodation or for food or drink, or expenditure incidental to transport.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

900-225 Substituted industrial instruments

An *industrial instrument that comes into force in substitution for another industrial instrument is taken to be a continuation of the original instrument.

900-230 Changes to industrial instruments applied for before 29 October 1986

- (1) Changes made to an *industrial instrument after 29 October 1986 are taken to have been made on 29 October 1986 if they were made in response to an application made on or before 29 October 1986 that sought increases in *transport payments.
- (2) If the application was amended after 29 October 1986, the alterations made to the *industrial instrument count as being made on 29 October 1986 only if they did not result in increases in *transport payments that were greater than increases in those payments sought by the application as at 29 October 1986.

900-235 Changes to industrial instruments solely referable to matters in the instrument

Changes made to an *industrial instrument after 29 October 1986 are taken to have been made on 29 October 1986 if the whole amount of the change is determined solely by reference to matters that were contained in the industrial instrument on 29 October 1986.

900-240 Deducting in anticipation of receiving award transport payment

- (1) If:
  - (a) you have incurred a *transport expense during an income year; and
  - (b) when you lodge your *income tax return for the income year, you reasonably believe that you will later receive an *award transport payment to cover the expense;you may deduct the expense without getting written evidence or keeping travel records.

---

- (2) However, if the Commissioner becomes satisfied that you will not receive the *award transport payment after all, then, despite section 170 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, he or she may at any time disallow the deduction and amend your assessment accordingly.

900-245 Effect of exception in this Subdivision on exception for small total of expenses

A *transport expense that section 900-215 lets you deduct without getting written evidence or keeping travel records does not count towards the $300 limit in section 900-35.

Note: Section 900-35 tells you that if the total of all the work expenses that you want to deduct is $300 or less, you can deduct them without getting written evidence or keeping travel records.

900-250 Effect of exception in this Subdivision on methods of calculating car expense deductions

- (1) If the exception in this Subdivision lets you deduct, without getting written evidence or keeping travel records, losses or outgoings (exempt losses or outgoings) that are or include *car expenses, or parts of *car expenses, your use of the 4 methods for calculating deductions for car expenses for the *car is affected.

You may elect not to use the exception

- (2) However, if you do not want your use of the 4 methods to be affected, you may elect not to use the exception in this Subdivision for the *award transport payments you are paid in the income year. If you so elect, the rest of this section does not affect you.

“Cents per kilometre” method

- (3) You can still use the “cents per kilometre” method (see Subdivision 28-C) of deducting *car expenses you incurred for the *car in the income year. However, the kilometres the car travelled during the income year in the course of travel covered by the *award transport payment or payments are not counted as *business kilometres.

“12% of original value” and “one-third of actual expenses” methods

- (4) You cannot use the “12% of original value” method (see Subdivision 28-D) or the “one-third of actual expenses” method (see Subdivision 28-E) of deducting *car expenses you incurred for the *car in the income year.

“Log book” method

- (5) You can still use the “log book” method (see Subdivision 28-F) of deducting *car expenses you incurred for the *car in the income year. If you do:
- (a) the kilometres the car travelled during the income year in the course of travel covered by the *award transport payment or payments are not counted as *business kilometres; and
  - (b) in working out the amount (if any) you can deduct for such a car expense that consists partly of an exempt loss or outgoing, Subdivision 28-F is applied to the whole of the car expense, without excluding the part that consists of an exempt loss or outgoing.

  - (b) a Subdivision, Division or Part that is identified as a Guide by a provision in the Subdivision, Division or Part.
- (2) Guides form part of this Act, but they are kept separate from the operative provisions. In interpreting an operative provision, a Guide may only be considered:
  - (a) in determining the purpose or object underlying the provision; or
  - (b) to confirm that the provision's meaning is the ordinary meaning conveyed by its text, taking into account its context in the Act and the purpose or object underlying the provision; or
  - (c) in determining the provision's meaning if the provision is ambiguous or obscure; or
  - (d) in determining the provision's meaning if the ordinary meaning conveyed by its text, taking into account its context in the Act and the purpose or object underlying the provision, leads to a result that is manifestly absurd or is unreasonable.

Subdivision 960-E—Entities

Table of sections

960-100	Entities
960-105	Certain entities treated as agents

960-100 Entities

(1) Entity means any of the following:

- (a) an individual;
- (b) a body corporate;
- (c) a body politic;
- (d) a partnership;
- (e) any other unincorporated association or body of persons;
- (f) a trust;
- (g) a *superannuation fund;
- (h) an *approved deposit fund.

Note: The term entity is used in a number of different but related senses. It covers all kinds of legal person. It also covers groups of legal persons, and other things, that in practice are treated as having a separate identity in the same way as a legal person does.

(1A) Paragraph (1)(e) does not include a *non-entity joint venture.

(2) The trustee of a trust, of a *superannuation fund or of an *approved deposit fund is taken to be an entity consisting of the person who is the trustee, or the persons who are the trustees, at any given time.

Note: This is because a right or obligation cannot be conferred or imposed on an entity that is not a legal person.

(3) A legal person can have a number of different capacities in which the person does things. In each of those capacities, the person is taken to be a different entity.

Example: In addition to his or her personal capacity, an individual may be:

- sole trustee of one or more trusts; and
- one of a number of trustees of a further trust.

In his or her personal capacity, he or she is one entity. As trustee of each trust, he or she is a different entity. The trustees of the further trust are a different entity again, of which the individual is a member.

---

- (4) If a provision refers to an entity of a particular kind, it refers to the entity in its capacity as that kind of entity, not to that entity in any other capacity.

Example: A provision that refers to a company does not cover a company in a capacity as trustee, unless it also refers to a trustee.

Note: Under section 87-35, certain parts of Australian governments and authorities are treated as separate entities for the purposes of ascertaining whether another entity is conducting a personal services business.

960-105 Certain entities treated as agents

- (1) This Act applies to an entity as if the entity were an agent of another entity (the principal) if:
- (a) the principal is outside Australia; and
  - (b) the entity is in Australia and, on behalf of the principal, holds money of the principal or has control, receipt or disposal of money of the principal.
- (2) This Act, or a provision of this Act, applies to an entity as if the entity were an agent of another entity if the Commissioner determines in writing that the entity is the agent or sole agent of the other entity for the purposes of this Act or of that provision.
- (3) A determination under subsection (2) is not a legislative instrument.

Subdivision 960-F—Distribution by corporate tax entities

Table of sections

960-115	Meaning of corporate tax entity
960-120	Meaning of distribution

960-115 Meaning of *corporate tax entity

An entity is a corporate tax entity at a particular time if:

- (a) the entity is a company at that time; or
- (b) the entity is a *corporate limited partnership in relation to the income year in which that time occurs; or

Section 960-120

- (c) the entity is a *corporate unit trust in relation to the income year in which that time occurs; or
- (d) the entity is a *public trading trust in relation to the income year in which that time occurs.

960-120 Meaning of *distribution

- (1) What constitutes a distribution by various *corporate tax entities is set out in the following table:

Distribution
Item	Corporate tax entity	Distribution
1	company	a dividend, or something that is taken to be a dividend, under this Act
2	*corporate limited partnership	(a) a distribution made by the partnership, whether in money or in other property, to a partner in the partnership, other than a distribution, or so much of a distribution, as is attributable to profits or gains arising during an income year in relation to which the partnership was not a corporate limited partnership  (b) something that is taken to be a dividend by the partnership under this Act
3	*corporate unit trust	a unit trust dividend, as defined in subsection 102D(1) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936
4	*public trading trust	a unit trust dividend, as defined in section 102M of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936

- (2) A *corporate tax entity makes a distribution in the form of a dividend on the day on which the dividend is paid, or taken to have been paid.

Subdivision 960-G—Membership of entities

Table of sections

960-130	Members of entities
960-135	Membership interest in an entity
960-140	Ordinary membership interest

960-130 Members of entities

- (1) The following table sets out who is a member of various entities.

---

Members
Item	Entity	Member
1	company	a member of the company or a stockholder in the company
2	partnership	a partner in the partnership
3	trust (except a *corporate unit trust or a *public trading trust)	a beneficiary, unitholder or object of the trust
4	*corporate unit trust	a unitholder of the trust
5	*public trading trust	a unitholder of the trust

- (2) If 2 or more entities jointly hold interests or rights that give rise to membership of another entity, each of them is a member of the other entity.
- (3) An entity is not a member of another entity just because the entity holds one or more interests or rights relating to the other entity that are *debt interests. This subsection has effect despite subsections (1) and (2) of this section.

Example: An entity is not a member of a company as defined in this section merely because it is a member of the company in the ordinary sense of the term because it holds a finance share in the company, if the finance share is a debt interest. However, if the entity holds other shares in the company that are not debt interests, it will be a member because of those other shares.

---

960-135 Membership interest in an entity

If you are a *member of an entity:

- (a) each interest, or set of interests, in the entity; or
- (b) each right, or set of rights, in relation to the entity;

by virtue of which you are a member of the entity is a membership interest of yours in the entity.

Note: In conjunction with subsection 960-130(3), this means that a debt interest is not a membership interest.

Example: A member of a company holds a finance share in a company that is a debt interest and some other shares in the company that are not debt interests. Only the other shares are membership interests in the company. The finance share is not, because the member is not a member of the company because of that share (see subsection 960-130(3)).

960-140 Ordinary membership interest

A *membership interest in a *corporate tax entity is an ordinary membership interest if:

- (a) in the case of a membership interest in a company—it is an ordinary share; and
- (b) in the case of a membership interest in a *corporate limited partnership—it is an interest in the income of the partnership; and
- (c) in the case of a membership interest in a *corporate unit trust or *public trading trust—it is a unit in the trust.

Subdivision 960-GP—Participation interests in entities

Table of sections

960-180	Total participation interest
960-185	Indirect participation interest
960-190	Direct participation interest
960-195	Non-portfolio interest test

960-180 Total participation interest

An entity's total participation interest at a particular time in another entity is the sum of:

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (a) the entity's *direct participation interest in the other entity at that time; and
- (b) the entity's *indirect participation interest in the other entity at that time.

960-185 Indirect participation interest

- (1) Work out the indirect participation interest that an entity (the holding entity) holds at a particular time in another entity (the test entity) by multiplying:
  - (a) the holding entity's *direct participation interest (if any) in another entity (the intermediate entity) at that time;by:
  - (b) the sum of:
    - (i) the intermediate entity's direct participation interest (if any) in the test entity at that time; and
    - (ii) the intermediate entity's indirect participation interest (if any) in the test entity at that time (as worked out under one or more other applications of this section).
- (2) If there is more than one intermediate entity to which paragraph (1)(a) applies at that time, the holding entity's indirect participation interest is the sum of the percentages worked out under subsection (1) in relation to each of those intermediate entities.

960-190 Direct participation interest

- (1) Use the following table to work out the direct participation interest that one entity holds in another entity.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Direct participation interest

	If the other entity is this kind of entity:	the direct participation interest that the first entity holds in the other entity is:
1	A company (within the meaning of Part X of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 )	the direct control interest (within the meaning of section 350 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 ) that the first entity holds in the other entity
2	A trust (within the meaning of Part X of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 )	the direct control interest (within the meaning of section 351 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 ) that the first entity holds in the other entity
3	A *partnership	the direct control interest (within the meaning of section 350 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 ) that the first entity would hold in the other entity, if the assumptions in subsection (3) of this section were made

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1):

- (a) apply sections 350 and 351 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 as if those sections apply for the purposes of this Division rather than only for the purposes of Part X of that Act; and
- (b) do not apply subsections 350(6) and (7) and 351(3) and (4) of that Act.

(3) For the purposes of item 3 of the table in subsection (1), assume that:

- (a) the *partnership is a company; and
- (b) the partners in the partnership are shareholders in the company; and
- (c) the total amount of assets or capital contributed to the partnership is the total paid-up share capital of the company; and

- (d) a partner's right of distribution of capital, assets or profits on the dissolution of the partnership is a shareholder's right to distribution of capital or profits of the company on winding-up; and
- (e) a partner's right of distribution of capital, assets or profits otherwise than on the dissolution of the partnership is a shareholder's right to distribution of capital or profits of the company otherwise than on winding-up.

960-195 Non-portfolio interest test

An interest held by an entity (the holding entity) in another entity (the test entity) passes the non-portfolio interest test at a time if the sum of the *direct participation interests held by the holding entity and its *associates in the test entity at that time is 10% or more.

Subdivision 960-H—Abnormal trading in shares or units

Table of sections

960-220	Meaning of trading
960-225	Abnormal trading
960-230	Abnormal trading—5% of shares or units in one transaction
960-235	Abnormal trading—suspected 5% of shares or units in a series of transactions
960-240	Abnormal trading—suspected acquisition or merger

960-220 Meaning of *trading

Shares in a listed public company

- (1) There is a trading in *shares in a company if there is an issue, redemption or transfer of those shares, or any other dealing in those shares, but only if it changes the respective proportions in which all the registered holders of shares in the company:
  - (a) can exercise the voting power in the company; or
  - (b) have the right to receive, as registered holders (whether or not for their own benefit) any dividends that the company may pay; or

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (c) have the right to receive, as registered holders (whether or not for their own benefit) any distribution of capital of the company.

Note: A special rule applies in working out whether an asset has stopped being a pre-CGT asset: see section 149-10.

Units in a unit trust

- (2) There is a trading in units in a unit trust if there is an issue, redemption or transfer of those units, or any other dealing in those units, but only if it changes the respective proportions in which all the registered holders of units in the trust hold (whether beneficially or not) interests in the trust income or trust capital.

Note: A special rule applies in working out whether an asset has stopped being a pre-CGT asset: see section 149-10.

960-225 Abnormal trading

- (1) There is an abnormal trading in *shares in a company, or in units in a unit trust, if a *trading in the shares or units is abnormal having regard to all relevant factors, including these:
  - (a) the timing of the trading, when compared with the normal timing for trading in the company's shares or in the trust's units;
  - (b) the number of shares or units traded, when compared with the normal number of the company's shares, or the trust's units, traded;
  - (c) any connection between the trading and any other trading in the company's shares or in the trust's units;
  - (d) any connection between the trading and a *tax loss or other deduction of the company or trust.
- (2) There may also be an abnormal trading under any of the following provisions.

960-235 Abnormal trading—suspected 5% of shares or units in a series of transactions

- (1) There is an abnormal trading in *shares in a company, or in units in a unit trust, if the company or trustee knows or reasonably suspects that an entity (or an entity and one or more of the entity's *associates) has acquired (or redeemed) 5% or more of the shares or units in 2 or more transactions and would not have done so if the company or trust did not have a *tax loss or other deduction.

Time when abnormal trading happens

- (2) The *abnormal trading happens at the time of the particular transaction that causes the 5% figure to be exceeded.

960-240 Abnormal trading—suspected acquisition or merger

There is an abnormal trading in *shares in a company, or in units in a unit trust, if a *trading in those shares or units happens which the company or trustee knows or reasonably suspects is part of an acquisition or merger of the company with another company, or of the trust with another trust.

960-245 Abnormal trading—20% of shares or units traded over 60 day period

- (1) There is an abnormal trading in *shares in a company or units in a unit trust if more than 20% of the shares or units are *traded during a 60 day period.

Subdivision 960-J—Family relationships

Guide to Subdivision 960-J

960-250 What this Subdivision is about

This Subdivision has 2 principles for defining family relationships.

The first principle is to treat an unmarried couple (whether of the same sex or different sexes) in the same way as a married couple if:

- (a) their relationship is registered under particular State or Territory laws; or
- (b) they live together on a genuine domestic basis.

The second principle is to treat anyone who is defined to be an individual's child in the same way as the individual's natural child would be treated.

Both principles extend to tracing other family relationships, including beyond couples and children and their parents.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

960-252	Object of this Subdivision
960-255	Family relationships

960-252 Object of this Subdivision

- (1) The first object of this Subdivision is to ensure that the same consequences flow under this Act and the other Acts to which this Subdivision applies from the relationship between 2 people who are an unmarried couple (whether of the same sex or different sexes) as from a marriage, if:

- (a) the relationship is registered under a *State law or *Territory law (as mentioned in paragraph (a) of the definition of spouse in subsection 995-1(1)); or
  - (b) they live together on a genuine domestic basis.
- (2) The second object of this Subdivision is to ensure that under this Act and the other Acts to which this Subdivision applies, anyone who is defined to be an individual's *child is treated in the same way as if he or she were the individual's natural child.

Relationships between couples

- (1) If one individual is the *spouse of another individual because of the definition of spouse in subsection 995-1(1), relationships traced to, from or through the individual, and family groups of which either individual is a member, are to be determined in the same way as if the individual were legally married to the other individual.

Example: George and Angelika are not legally married but live together on a genuine domestic basis in a relationship as a couple. This Act treats them as part of each other's family.

Relationships involving children

- (2) If one individual is the *child of another individual because of the definition of child in subsection 995-1(1), relationships traced to, from or through the individual, and family groups of which either individual is a member, are to be determined in the same way as if the individual were the natural child of the other individual.

Example: Clare's stepfather Frank has a sister Angela. This Act applies as if Angela were Clare's aunt because Clare is defined to be Frank's child. That is, Clare's relationship to Angela is determined on the basis that Clare is Frank's natural child.

Application

- (3) Subsections (1) and (2) apply for the purposes of this Act. They also apply for the purposes of a provision of another Act if one or more of the following applies for the purposes of that provision (or would apply if it were used in the provision):

- (a) the definition of child in subsection 995-1(1);
- (b) the definition of parent in subsection 995-1(1);
- (c) the definition of relative in subsection 995-1(1);
- (d) the definition of spouse in subsection 995-1(1).

Operative provisions

960-270 Indexing amounts

- (1) Some provisions of this Act require amounts to be indexed. You index an amount by multiplying it by its *indexation factor.
- (2) You do not index the amount if its *indexation factor is 1 or less.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 960-275

---

- (3) This section does not apply in relation to amounts mentioned in the provisions listed at items 8 to 12 in section 960-265.

Note: For the indexation of those amounts, see section 960-285.

960-275 Indexation factor

- (1) For indexation of amounts on an annual basis, the indexation factor is:

$$\frac{\text{Sum of the index numbers for the quarters in the year ending on 31 March just before the start of the relevant financial year}}{\text{Sum of the index numbers for the quarters in the year ending on the previous 31 March}}$$

- (1A) However, for indexation of the amounts mentioned in the provisions listed at items 5, 6 and 7 in section 960-265, the indexation factor is:

$$\frac{\text{*Index number for the quarter ending on 31 March just before the start of the relevant income year}}{\text{*Index number for the quarter ending on the previous 31 March}}$$

- (2) For indexation of the *cost base of a *CGT asset (except the first element of the cost base of an asset covered by subsection (3)), the indexation factor for expenditure in an element of the cost base is:

$$\frac{\text{*Index number for the quarter ending on 30 September 1999}}{\text{*Index number for the quarter in which the expenditure was incurred}}$$

The expenditure can include giving property: see section 103-5.

Note 1: This rule does not apply to expenditure incurred after 11.45 am on 21 September 1999 or any expenditure relating to a CGT asset acquired after that time: see section 114-1.

Note 2: This rule applies even if you do not actually pay some of the expenditure until a later time (for example, under a contract to purchase an asset by instalments).

Note 3: There are rules affecting when the expenditure was incurred: see sections 114-15 and 114-20.

- (3) For indexation of the first element of the *cost base of a *CGT asset that is:

- (a) a *share in a company; or
(b) a unit in a unit trust;

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

the indexation factor for an amount in the first element of the *cost base of the asset that was paid to the company or trust at a time after it was *acquired is:

*Index number for the quarter ending on 30 September 1999

*Index number for the quarter in which the amount was paid

The payment can include giving property: see section 103-5.

Example: Peter acquires shares in a company. The shares are partly-paid, and the company makes a call on the shares. Peter sells the shares to Narina before he is liable to pay the call.

The amount Narina paid to Peter for the shares is indexed under subsection 960-275(2) from the quarter in which she incurred the expenditure to acquire the shares.

The amount Narina later pays for the call on the shares is indexed in accordance with subsection 960-275(3) from the quarter in which she made that later payment.

Note 1: This subsection does not apply to shares or units you acquired before 16 August 1989: see section 960-275 of the Income Tax (Transitional Provisions) Act 1997.

Note 2: This subsection does not apply to an amount paid after 11.45 am on 21 September 1999 or an amount paid in relation to a CGT asset acquired after that time: see section 114-1.

- (4) However, you cannot index expenditure in the third element of the *cost base of a CGT asset (costs of ownership).
- (5) You work out the *indexation factor to 3 decimal places (rounding up if the fourth decimal place is 5 or more).

Example: If the factor is 1.102795, it would be rounded up to 1.103.

- (6) This section does not apply in relation to amounts mentioned in the provisions listed at items 8 to 12 in section 960-265.

Note: For the indexation of those amounts, see section 960-285.

960-280 *Index number

- (1) In most cases, the index number for a quarter is the All Groups Consumer Price Index number (being the weighted average of the 8 capital cities) first published by the Australian Statistician for the quarter.

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

Car limit

- (2) For calculating the *car limit, the index number for a quarter is the index number for the motor vehicle purchase sub-group of the Consumer Price Index, being the weighted average of the 8 capital cities, first published by the Australian Statistician for the quarter.
- (3) If the Australian Statistician changes the reference base for an *index number, only index numbers published in terms of the new base are to be used after the change.

Genuine redundancy, early retirement schemes, pre-1 July 88 funding credits

- (4) For calculating the amounts mentioned in the provisions listed at items 5, 6 and 7 in section 960-265, the index number for a quarter is the estimate of full-time adult average weekly ordinary time earnings for the middle month of the quarter first published by the Australian Statistician in respect of that month.
- (5) Subsection (3) does not apply to the index numbers mentioned in subsection (4).

Exception—superannuation and employment termination

- (6) This section does not apply in relation to amounts mentioned in the provisions listed at items 8 to 12 in section 960-265.

Note: For the indexation of those amounts, see section 960-285.

960-285 Indexation—superannuation and employment termination

- (1) This section applies in relation to an amount mentioned in a provision listed at items 8 to 12 in section 960-265.

Indexing amounts

- (2) You index the amount by:
  - (a) firstly:
    - (i) if the amount is mentioned in item 9 in section 960-265 (concessional contributions cap)—multiplying the

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- amount for the 2009-2010 financial year by its *indexation factor mentioned in subsection (3A); or
- (ii) otherwise—multiplying the amount for the 2007-2008 income year or financial year by its indexation factor mentioned in subsection (4); and
- (b) next, rounding the result in paragraph (a) down to the nearest multiple of $5,000.

Example 1: If the amount to be indexed is $140,000 and the indexation factor increases this to an indexed amount of $143,000, the indexed amount is rounded back down to $140,000.

Example 2: If the amount to be indexed is $140,000 and the indexation factor increases this to an indexed amount of $146,000, the indexed amount is rounded down to $145,000.

- (3) You do not index the amount if its indexation factor mentioned in subsection (3A) or (4) is 1 or less.

Indexation factor

- (3A) For indexation of the amount on an annual basis in accordance with subparagraph (2)(a)(i), the indexation factor is:

*Index number mentioned in subsection (6) for the quarter ending
on 31 December just before the start of the relevant income year or financial year

*Index number mentioned in subsection (6)
for the quarter ending on 31 December 2008

- (4) For indexation of the amount on an annual basis in accordance with subparagraph (2)(a)(ii), the indexation factor is:

*Index number mentioned in subsection (6) for the quarter ending
on 31 December just before the start of the relevant income year or financial year

*Index number mentioned in subsection (6)
for the quarter ending on 31 December 2006

- (5) You work out the *indexation factor mentioned in subsection (3A) or (4) to 3 decimal places (rounding up if the fourth decimal place is 5 or more).

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Index number

- (6) For calculating the amounts, the index number for a quarter is the estimate of full-time adult average weekly ordinary time earnings for the middle month of the quarter first published by the Australian Statistician in respect of that month.

Subdivision 960-S—Market value

Guide to Subdivision 960-S

960-400 What this Subdivision is about

The expression “market value” is often used in this Act with its ordinary meaning.

However, in some cases that expression has a meaning affected by this Subdivision.

Table of sections

Operative provisions

- 960-405 Effect of GST on market value of an asset
960-410 Market value of non-cash benefits

Operative provisions

960-405 Effect of GST on market value of an asset

- (1) The market value of an asset at a particular time is reduced by the amount of the *input tax credit (if any) to which you would be entitled assuming that:
- (a) you had *acquired the asset at that time; and
  - (b) the acquisition had been solely for a *creditable purpose.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply:
- (a) to an asset the *supply of which cannot be a *taxable supply;
  - or

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (b) in working out the *market value of economic benefits, or of *equity or loan interests, for the purposes of Part 3-95 (about value shifting).

Note: Some assets, such as shares, cannot be the subject of a taxable supply.

960-410 Market value of non-cash benefits

In working out the market value of a *non-cash benefit, disregard anything that would prevent or restrict conversion of the benefit to money.

Division 974—Debt and equity interests

Table of Subdivisions

974-B	Debt interests
974-C	Equity interests
974-D	Common provisions

974-F	Related concepts

Subdivision 974-A—General

Guide to Division 974

974-1 What this Division is about

This Division tells you whether an interest is a debt interest, or an equity interest, for tax purposes. An interest that could be characterised as both a debt interest and an equity interest will be treated as a debt interest for tax purposes (except for certain interests that fund returns on equity interests).

Whether an interest is a debt interest or an equity interest matters because returns on debt interests are not frankable but may be deductible while returns on equity interests are not deductible but may be frankable.

This Division extends beyond shares the range of interests that are recognised as equity in a company. An interest that is an equity interest in a company but is not a share will be treated in the same way as a share for some tax purposes (particularly in relation to the determination of the tax treatment of returns on the interest).

This Division also tells you how to work out which distributions made in respect of a non-share equity interest in a company will be non-share dividends and which will be non-share capital returns. Those that are non-share dividends will be treated, for most tax purposes, in the same way as dividends.

Table of sections

974-5 Overview of Division

Operative provisions

974-10 Object

974-5 Overview of Division

Test for distinguishing debt and equity interests

- (1) The test for distinguishing between debt interests and equity interests focuses on economic substance rather than mere legal form (see subsection 974-10(2)). The test is designed to assess the economic substance of an interest in terms of its impact on the issuer's position.

Debt interests

- (2) Subdivision 974-B tells you when an interest is a debt interest in an entity. The basic test is in section 974-20.

Equity interests

- (3) Subdivision 974-C tells you when an interest is an equity interest in a company. The basic test is in section 974-75.

Tie breaker between debt and equity

- (4) If an interest satisfies both the debt test and the equity test, it is treated as a debt interest and not an equity interest.

Distributions in relation to equity interests that are not shares

- (5) If you have an equity interest in a company that is not a share, Subdivision 974-E tells you what will count as a non-share distribution, a non-share dividend and a non-share capital return in relation to the interest.

Concepts used in the debt and equity tests

- (6) Subdivision 974-F defines a number of concepts that are used in the debt and equity tests (financing arrangement, effectively non-contingent obligation, benchmark rate of return and converting interest).

Operative provisions

974-10 Object

- (1) An object of this Division is to establish a test for determining for particular tax purposes whether a *scheme, or the combined operation of a number of schemes:
- (a) gives rise to a *debt interest; or
  - (b) gives rise to an *equity interest.

Note: The test is used, for example, for:

- (a) identifying distributions that may be frankable and which may be subject to dividend withholding tax; and
  - (b) identifying returns that may be deductible to the company making the return; and
  - (c) resolving uncertainty as to the proper tax treatment for debt/equity hybrid interests (interests that have some debt qualities and some equity qualities); and
  - (d) identifying debt capital for the purposes of Division 820 (thin capitalisation rules).
- (2) Another object of this Division is that the test referred to in subsection (1) is to operate on the basis of the economic substance of the rights and obligations arising under the *scheme or schemes rather than merely on the basis of the legal form of the scheme or schemes.

---

Note 1: The basic indicator of the economic character of a debt interest is the non-contingent nature of the returns. The basic indicator of the economic character of an equity interest, on the other hand, is the contingent nature of the returns (or convertibility into an interest of that nature).

Note 2: The test is intended to operate, for example, to:

- (a) deny deductibility (but allow franking) for “interest” in relation to a scheme that has the legal form of a loan if the economic substance of the rights and obligations arising under the relevant scheme gives the interest characteristics that are the same as or similar to those of a dividend on an ordinary share (and thereby prevent deductible returns on equity); and
- (b) allow a deduction (but not franking) for a “dividend” in relation to a scheme that has the legal form of an ordinary share if the economic substance of the rights and obligations arising under the relevant scheme gives the dividend characteristics that are the same as or similar to those of deductible interest on an ordinary loan (and thereby prevent frankable returns on debt).

This will not happen if a provision in this Act specifically provides for a different treatment for the interest or dividend.

- (3) Another object of this Division is that the combined effect of *related schemes be taken into account in appropriate cases:
  - (a) to ensure that the test operates effectively on the basis of the economic substance of the rights and obligations arising under the schemes rather than merely on the basis of the legal form of the schemes; and
  - (b) to prevent the test being circumvented by entities merely entering into a number of separate schemes instead of a single scheme.
- (4) Another object of this Division is to identify the distributions and credits made in respect of *non-share equity interests in a company that are to be treated as *dividends (non-share dividends) and those that are to be treated as returns of capital (non-share capital returns).

Note: Non-share dividends will generally be included in the recipient’s assessable income and may be frankable.

- (5) The Commissioner must have regard to the objects stated in subsections (1) to (3) in exercising the power to make a determination under any of the following provisions:
  - (a) subsection 974-15(4);

---

Section 974-10

---

- (b) subsection 974-60(3), (4) or (5);
- (c) section 974-65;
- (d) subsection 974-70(4);
- (e) subsection 974-150(1).

Note: An entity can apply to the Commissioner to have a determination made and can object under Part IVC of the Taxation Administration Act 1953 if it is dissatisfied with a determination (see section 974-112).

- (6) Regulations may also be made under the provisions of this Division:
- (a) to clarify the meaning of certain words and phrases in the light of emerging commercial practices, conditions and products; and
  - (b) to give guidance on the detailed operation of particular provisions.

The regulations must be consistent with the objects stated in subsections (1) to (3).

- (7) Without limiting subsection 13(3) of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003, the regulations made for the purposes of this Division may specify different rules for different classes of circumstances.

974-15 Meaning of *debt interest

Single scheme giving rise to debt interest

- (1) A *scheme gives rise to a debt interest in an entity if the scheme, when it comes into existence, satisfies the debt test in subsection 974-20(1) in relation to the entity.

Note 1: A debt interest can also arise under subsection (2) (related schemes) or section 974-65 (Commissioner's discretion).

Note 2: Section 974-55 defines various aspects of the debt interest that arises.

Related schemes giving rise to debt interest

- (2) Two or more *related schemes (the constituent schemes) together give rise to a debt interest in an entity if:
- (a) the entity enters into, participates in or causes another entity to enter into or participate in the constituent schemes; and
  - (b) a scheme with the combined effect or operation of the constituent schemes (the notional scheme) would satisfy the debt test in subsection 974-20(1) in relation to the entity if the notional scheme came into existence when the last of the constituent schemes came into existence; and
  - (c) it is reasonable to conclude that the entity intended, or knew that a party to the scheme or one of the schemes intended, the combined economic effects of the constituent schemes to be the same as, or similar to, the economic effects of a debt interest.

This is so whether or not the constituent schemes come into existence at the same time and even if none of the constituent schemes would individually give rise to that or any other *debt interest.

Note: Section 974-105 explains the effect, for tax purposes, of actions taken under the schemes.

- (3) Subsection (2) does not apply if each of the *schemes individually gives rise to a *debt interest in the entity.
- (4) Two or more *related schemes do not give rise to a debt interest in an entity under subsection (2) if the Commissioner determines that it would be unreasonable to apply that subsection to those schemes.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

Section 974-15

---

- (5) Without limiting subsection 974-10(5), the Commissioner must, in exercising the power to make a determination under subsection (4), have regard to the following:
- (a) the purpose of the *schemes (considered both individually and in combination);
  - (b) the effects of the schemes (considered both individually and in combination);
  - (c) the rights and obligations of the parties to the schemes (considered both individually and in combination);
  - (d) whether the schemes (when considered either individually or in combination) provide the basis for, or underpin, an interest issued to investors with the expectation that the interest can be assigned to other investors;
  - (e) whether the schemes (when considered either individually or in combination) comprise a set of rights and obligations issued to investors with the expectation that it can be assigned to other investors;
  - (f) any other relevant circumstances.
- (6) If:
- (a) 2 or more *related schemes give rise to a *debt interest in an entity; and
  - (b) one or more of those schemes (the hedging scheme or schemes) are schemes for hedging or managing financial risk; and
  - (c) the other scheme or schemes give rise to a debt interest in the entity even if the hedging scheme or schemes are disregarded;

the debt interest that arises from the schemes is taken, for the purposes of Division 820 (the thin capitalisation rules), not to include the hedging scheme or schemes.

Note: This means that in these circumstances the losses associated with the hedging scheme or schemes are not debt deductions under section 820-40.

974-20 The test for a debt interest

Satisfying the debt test

- (1) A *scheme satisfies the debt test in this subsection in relation to an entity if:
- (a) the scheme is a *financing arrangement for the entity; and
  - (b) the entity, or a *connected entity of the entity, receives, or will receive, a *financial benefit or benefits under the scheme; and
  - (c) the entity has, or the entity and a connected entity of the entity each has, an *effectively non-contingent obligation under the scheme to provide a financial benefit or benefits to one or more entities after the time when:
    - (i) the financial benefit referred to in paragraph (b) is received if there is only one; or
    - (ii) the first of the financial benefits referred to in paragraph (b) is received if there are more than one; and
  - (d) it is substantially more likely than not that the value provided (worked out under subsection (2)) will be at least equal to the value received (worked out under subsection (3)); and
  - (e) the value provided (worked out under subsection (2)) and the value received (worked out under subsection (3)) are not both nil.

The scheme does not need to satisfy paragraph (a) if the entity is a company and the interest arising from the scheme is an interest covered by item 1 of the table in subsection 974-75(1) (interest as a member or stockholder of the company).

Note: Section 974-30 tells you when a financial benefit is taken to be provided to an entity.

- (2) The value provided is:
- (a) the value of the *financial benefit to be provided under the *scheme by the entity or a *connected entity if there is only one; or
  - (b) the sum of the values of all the financial benefits provided or to be provided under the scheme by the entity or a connected entity of the entity if there are 2 or more.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

---

Note: Section 974-35 tells you how to value financial benefits.

- (3) The value received is:
- (a) the value of the *financial benefit received, or to be received, under the *scheme by the entity or a *connected entity of the entity if there is only one; or
  - (b) the sum of the values of all the financial benefits received, or to be received, under the scheme by the entity or a connected entity if there are 2 or more.
- (4) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(b) and subsections (2) and (3):
- (a) a *financial benefit to be provided under the *scheme by the entity or a *connected entity is taken into account only if it is one that the entity or connected entity has an *effectively non-contingent obligation to provide; and
  - (b) a financial benefit to be received under the scheme by the entity or a connected entity is taken into account only if it is one that another entity has an effectively non-contingent obligation to provide.

Multiple financial benefits

- (5) Paragraphs (1)(b) and (c) apply to 2 or more *financial benefits whether they are provided at the same time or over a period of time.

Regulations

- (6) The regulations:
- (a) may specify circumstances in which paragraph (1)(d) is satisfied or not satisfied; and
  - (b) may otherwise specify rules to be applied in determining whether or not paragraph (1)(d) is satisfied.

974-25 Exceptions to the debt test

Short term schemes

- (1) A *scheme does not satisfy the debt test in subsection 974-20(1) in relation to an entity if:

---

---

- (a) at least a substantial part of a *financial benefit mentioned in that subsection does not consist of either of the following or a combination of either of the following:
  - (i) a liquid or monetary asset;
  - (ii) an amount of money; and
- (b) the scheme requires the financial benefit mentioned in paragraph 974-20(1)(c) to be provided within a period of no more than 100 days of the receipt of the first financial benefit mentioned in paragraph 974-20(1)(b); and
- (c) the financial benefit mentioned in paragraph 974-20(1)(c):
  - (i) is in fact provided within that period; or
  - (ii) is not provided within that period because the entity required to provide the benefit neglects to provide the benefit within that period (although willing to do so); or
  - (iii) is not provided within that period because the entity required to provide the benefit is unable to provide the benefit within that period (although willing to do so); and
- (d) the scheme is not one of a number of *related schemes that together are taken to give rise to a *debt interest under subsection 974-15(2).

Regulations

- (2) The regulations may make provision in relation to the application or operation of subsection (1). Without limiting this, the regulations may:
  - (a) specify what constitutes a substantial part of a *financial benefit for the purposes of paragraph (1)(a); or
  - (b) specify a period to be substituted for the period referred to in paragraph (1)(b).

974-30 Providing a financial benefit

Issue of equity interest

- (1) The following do not constitute the provision of a *financial benefit by an entity or a *connected entity of the entity:

- (a) the issue of an *equity interest in the entity or a connected entity of the entity; or
- (b) an amount that is to be applied in respect of the issue of an equity interest in the entity or a connected entity of the entity.

Providing a financial benefit to an entity

- (2) A *financial benefit is taken to be provided to an entity if it is provided:
  - (a) to the entity; or
  - (b) on the entity's behalf; or
  - (c) for the entity's benefit.

Obligation to provide future financial benefit

- (3) For the avoidance of doubt, if you have a present obligation to provide a *financial benefit to an entity at some time in the future:
  - (a) the financial benefit is taken to be a financial benefit to be provided in the future; and
  - (b) the obligation to provide the financial benefit is taken not to be a financial benefit being provided at the present.

974-35 Valuation of financial benefits—general rules

Value in nominal terms or present value terms

- (1) For the purposes of this Subdivision:
  - (a) the value of a *financial benefit received or provided under a *scheme is its value calculated:
    - (i) in nominal terms if the performance period (see subsection (3)) must end no later than 10 years after the interest arising from the scheme is issued; or
    - (ii) in present value terms (see section 974-50) if the performance period must or may end more than 10 years after the interest arising from the scheme is issued; and
  - (b) the regulations may make provisions relating to the valuation of a financial benefit.

Assume scheme runs its full term

- (2) The value of a *financial benefit received or provided under a *scheme is calculated assuming that the interest arising from the scheme will continue to be held for the rest of its life.

Note 1: Section 974-40 makes specific provision for cases in which there is a right or option to terminate the interest early.

Note 2: Section 974-45 makes specific provision for cases involving convertible interests.

Performance period

- (3) The performance period is the period within which, under the terms on which the interest is issued, the *effectively non-contingent obligations of the issuer, and any *connected entity of the issuer, to provide a *financial benefit in relation to the interest have to be met.

- (4) An obligation is treated as having to be met within 10 years after the interest is issued if:

- (a) the issuer; or
- (b) the *connected entity of the issuer;

has an *effectively non-contingent obligation to terminate the interest within that 10 year period even if the terms on which the interest is issued formally allow the obligation to continue after the end of that 10 year period.

Benefit dependent on variable factor

- (5) If:
- (a) a *financial benefit received or provided in respect of an interest depends on a factor that may vary over time (such as a variable interest rate); and
  - (b) that factor is one commonly used in commercial arrangements; and
  - (c) it would be unreasonable to expect any of the parties to the *scheme to know, or to anticipate accurately, the future value of that factor; and
  - (d) that factor has a particular value (the starting value) when the scheme is entered into;

---

Section 974-40

---

the value of the financial benefit is calculated assuming that the factor's value will retain the starting value for the whole of the life of the scheme.

Note: For example, the value of a return based on a floating interest rate is calculated on the basis that the interest rate remains the interest rate that is applicable when the scheme is entered into.

Scheme wholly in foreign currency etc.

- (6) If all the *financial benefits provided and received under a *scheme are denominated in a particular foreign currency or in terms of quantities of a particular commodity or other unit of account, they are not to be converted into Australian currency for the purpose of comparing their relative values for the purposes of this Subdivision.

974-40 Valuation of financial benefits—rights and options to terminate early

- (1) This section deals with the situation in which a party to a *scheme has a right or option to terminate the scheme early (whether by discharging an obligation early, converting the interest arising from the scheme into another interest or otherwise).

Note 1: An example of terminating a scheme early by discharging an obligation early is terminating a loan by discharging the obligation to repay the principal (and any outstanding interest) early.

Note 2: In certain circumstances, conversion of an interest into another interest can terminate its life (see section 974-45).

- (2) The existence of the right or option is to be disregarded in working out the length of the life of the interest arising from the *scheme for the purposes of this Subdivision if the party does not have an *effectively non-contingent obligation to exercise the right or option.
- (3) If the party does have an *effectively non-contingent obligation to exercise the right or option, the life of the interest ends at the earliest time at which the party will have to exercise the right or option.
- (4) This section does not limit subsection 974-35(2).

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

---

974-45 Valuation of financial benefits—convertible interests

- (1) This section deals with the situation in which a *scheme gives rise to an *interest that will or may convert into an *equity interest in a company.
- (2) The life of the interest ends no later than the time when it converts into that *equity interest.
- (3) The possibility of the conversion is to be disregarded in working out the length of the life of the interest arising from the *scheme for the purposes of section 974-35 if it is uncertain:
  - (a) whether the interest will ever convert; or
  - (b) when the interest will convert.

Note: Section 974-40 deals with the situation in which a party to the scheme may exercise a right or option to convert the interest.

- (4) This section does not limit subsection 974-35(2).

974-50 Valuation of financial benefits—value in present value terms

- (1) Subject to the regulations made for the purposes of subsection (5), the value in present value terms of a *financial benefit to be provided or received in respect of an interest (the test interest) is calculated under subsection (4).
- (2) If you need to calculate the values in present value terms of a number of *financial benefits, the value of each financial benefit is to be calculated separately.
- (3) The value of a *financial benefit is to be calculated assuming that all amounts to be paid by an entity in respect of the test interest are paid at the earliest time when the entity becomes liable to pay them.
- (4) The value of a *financial benefit in present value terms is:

$$\frac{\text{Amount or value of *financial benefit in nominal terms}}{[1 + \text{Adjusted benchmark rate of return}]^n}$$ where:

---

adjusted benchmark rate of return is 75% of the *benchmark rate of return on the test interest.

n is the number of years in the period starting on the day on which the test interest is issued and ending on the day on which the *financial benefit is to be provided. If the period includes a part of a year, that part is to be expressed as the fraction:

$$\frac{\text{Number of days in that period}}{\text{Number of days in the year}}$$ year means a period of 12 calendar months.

- (5) The regulations may provide for the method of calculating the value in present value terms of a *financial benefit.
- (6) Without limiting subsection (5), the regulations may:
  - (a) provide for an entirely different method of calculating the present value of the *financial benefit; or
  - (b) specify the adjusted *benchmark rate of return; or
  - (c) provide for a different method of determining the adjusted benchmark rate of return; or
  - (d) specify rules for determining whether a *debt interest is an *ordinary debt interest.

974-55 The debt interest and its issue

- (1) If a *scheme, or 2 or more *related schemes, give rise to a *debt interest in an entity, the debt interest:
  - (a) consists of the interest that carries the right to receive a *financial benefit that the entity or a *connected entity has an *effectively non-contingent obligation to provide under the scheme or any of the schemes; and
  - (b) is taken, subject to section 974-60, to be a debt interest in the entity; and
  - (c) is taken to be issued by the entity; and
  - (d) is issued when the entity (or a connected entity of the entity) first receives a *financial benefit under the scheme or any of the schemes; and

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (e) is on issue while an effectively non-contingent obligation of the entity (or a connected entity of the entity) to provide a financial benefit under the scheme or any of the schemes remains unfulfilled.
- (2) The interest referred to in paragraph (1)(a) may take the form of a proprietary right, a chose in action or any other form.

974-60 Debt interest arising out of obligations owed by a number of entities

- (1) This section deals with the situation in which a *scheme, or a number of *related schemes together, would, apart from this section, give rise to the same *debt interest in 2 or more entities.

Note: A scheme may give rise to the same debt interest in 2 or more entities if each of those entities has non-contingent obligations to provide financial benefits under the scheme.

- (2) The *debt interest:
- (a) is a debt interest in the entity identified under subsection (3) or (4); and
- (b) is not a debt interest in the other entity or entities.
- (3) The *debt interest is a debt interest in the entity identified using the following method statement:

Method statement

- Step 1. Work out, for each of the entities, the total value of the *financial benefits that the entity is under an *effectively non-contingent obligation to provide under the *scheme or schemes: this is the entity's obligation value.
- Step 2. The *debt interest is taken to be a debt interest in the entity with the greatest obligation value.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- Step 3. If it is not possible to determine which entity has the greatest obligation value (whether because of an equality of, or uncertainty as to, obligation values or otherwise), the *debt interest is taken to be a debt interest in the entity agreed on by all the entities.
- Step 4. If the entities do not agree, the interest is taken to be a *debt interest in the entity determined by the Commissioner.

- (4) Despite subsection (3), the Commissioner may determine that the *debt interest is a debt interest in the entity specified in the determination.
- (5) The Commissioner may make the determination only if satisfied, having regard to the economic substance of the relevant transactions, that the *debt interest is properly considered from a commercial point of view to be an interest in the entity specified in the determination.

974-65 Commissioner's power

- (1) Despite subsection 974-20(1) (the debt test), the Commissioner may determine that a *scheme gives rise to a debt interest in an entity if the Commissioner considers that:
- (a) the scheme would satisfy paragraphs 974-20(1)(a), (b), (c) and (e); but
  - (b) instead of satisfying paragraph 974-20(1)(d), the scheme would satisfy all the following subparagraphs:
    - (i) it is substantially more likely than not that the value of the *financial benefit to be provided by the entity (or a *connected entity of the entity) under the *effectively non-contingent obligation will be at least equal to the substantial part of the value of the financial benefit received or to be received by the entity (or its connected entity) under the scheme;
    - (ii) it is substantially more likely than not that other financial benefits will be provided by the entity (or its

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- connected entity) to one or more entities under the scheme;
- (iii) it is substantially more likely than not that the sum of the values of the financial benefits mentioned in subparagraphs (i) and (ii) will be at least equal to the value of the financial benefit received by the entity (or its connected entity) under the scheme.
- (2) In making the determination, the Commissioner must have regard to the following:
- (a) the difference between the value of the *financial benefit received and the value of the financial benefit to be provided under the *effectively non-contingent obligation;
  - (b) the degree of likelihood of other financial benefits being provided under the *scheme;
  - (c) the degree of likelihood of the sum of the value of the financial benefits mentioned in subparagraphs (1)(b)(i) and (ii) being equal to or greater than the value of the financial benefit received under the scheme;
  - (d) the particular circumstances surrounding the scheme (including circumstances of the parties to the scheme and their purposes for entering into the scheme).
- (3) If the Commissioner determines under this section that a *scheme gives rise to a *debt interest, the scheme has that effect for all purposes of this Division.

974-70 Meaning of equity interest in a company

Scheme giving rise to equity interest

- (1) A *scheme gives rise to an equity interest in a company if, when the scheme comes into existence:
- (a) the scheme satisfies the equity test in subsection 974-75(1) in relation to the company because of the existence of an interest; and
  - (b) the interest is not characterised as, and does not form part of a larger interest that is characterised as, a *debt interest in the company, or a *connected entity of the company, under Subdivision 974-B.

Note 1: An equity interest can also arise under subsection (2) if a notional scheme with the combined effect of a number of related schemes would give rise to an equity interest under this subsection. To do this, the notional scheme would need to satisfy paragraph (b). This means that the related schemes will not give rise to an equity interest if the notional scheme would be characterised as (or form part of a larger interest that would be characterised as) a debt interest in the company or a connected entity.

Note 2: An equity interest can also arise under section 974-80 (arrangements for funding return through connected entities).

Note 3: Section 974-95 defines various aspects of the equity interest that arises.

Related schemes giving rise to equity interest

- (2) Two or more *related schemes (the constituent schemes) are taken together to give rise to an equity interest in a company if:
- (a) the company enters into, participates in or causes another entity to enter into or participate in the constituent schemes; and
  - (b) a scheme with the combined effect or operation of the constituent schemes (the notional scheme) would give rise to an *equity interest in the company under subsection (1) if the notional scheme came into existence when the last of the constituent schemes came into existence; and
  - (c) it is reasonable to conclude that the company intended, or knew that a party to the scheme or one of the schemes intended, the combined economic effects of the constituent schemes to be the same as, or similar to, the economic effects of an equity interest.

This is so whether or not the constituent schemes come into existence at the same time and even if none of the constituent schemes would individually give rise to that or any other equity interest.

Note: Section 974-105 explains the effect, for tax purposes, of actions taken under the schemes.

- (3) Subsection (2) does not apply if each of the constituent *schemes individually gives rise to an *equity interest in the company.
- (4) Two or more related *schemes do not give rise to an *equity interest in a company under subsection (2) if the Commissioner determines that it would be unreasonable to apply that subsection to those schemes.
- (5) Without limiting subsection 974-10(5), the Commissioner must, in exercising the power to make a determination under subsection (4), have regard to the following:
  - (a) the purpose of the *schemes (considered both individually and in combination);
  - (b) the effects of the schemes (considered both individually and in combination);
  - (c) the rights and obligations of the parties to the schemes (considered both individually and in combination);
  - (d) whether the schemes (when considered either individually or in combination) provide the basis for, or underpin, an interest issued to investors with the expectation that the interest can be assigned to other investors;
  - (e) whether the schemes (when considered either individually or in combination) comprise a set of rights and obligations issued to investors with the expectation that it can be assigned to other investors;
  - (f) any other relevant circumstances.

974-75 The test for an equity interest

Basic test for equity interest

- (1) A *scheme satisfies the equity test in this subsection in relation to a company if it gives rise to an interest set out in the following table:

Equity interests
Item	Interest
1	An interest in the company as a member or stockholder of the company.
2	An interest that carries a right to a variable or fixed return from the company if either the right itself, or the amount of the return, is in substance or effect *contingent on the economic performance (whether past, current or future) of: (a) the company; or (b) a part of the company's activities; or (c) a *connected entity of the company or a part of the activities of a connected entity of the company. The return may be a return of an amount invested in the interest.
3	An interest that carries a right to a variable or fixed return from the company if either the right itself, or the amount of the return, is at the discretion of: (a) the company; or (b) a *connected entity of the company. The return may be a return of an amount invested in the interest.
4	An interest issued by the company that: (a) gives its holder (or a *connected entity of the holder) a right to be issued with an *equity interest in the company or a *connected entity of the company; or (b) is an *interest that will, or may, convert into an equity interest in the company or a connected entity of the company.

This subsection has effect subject to subsection (2) (requirement for financing arrangement).

Note: Section 974-90 allows regulations to be made clarifying when a right or return is taken to be at discretion of a company or connected entity.

Financing arrangement

- (2) A *scheme that would otherwise give rise to an *equity interest in a company because of an item in the table in subsection (1) (other than item 1) does not give rise to an equity interest in the company unless the scheme is a *financing arrangement for the company.

Form interest may take

- (3) The interest referred to in item 2, 3 or 4 in the table in subsection (1) may take the form of a proprietary right, a chose in action or any other form.

Exception for certain at call loans—until 30 June 2005

- (4) If:
- (a) a *financing arrangement takes the form of a loan to a company by a *connected entity; and
  - (b) the loan does not have a fixed term; and
  - (c) either:
    - (i) the loan is repayable on demand made by the connected entity, and repayment is required immediately on the making of the demand, or is required at the end of a particular period after the demand is made (being a period that is not longer than is reasonably necessary to arrange repayment); or
    - (ii) the loan is repayable on the death of the connected entity (if the connected entity is an individual); and
  - (d) the arrangement was entered into on or before 30 June 2005; the arrangement does not give rise to an equity interest in the company. Instead, the arrangement is taken, despite anything in Subdivision 974-B, to give rise to a debt interest in the company. This subsection ceases to have effect on 1 July 2005.

Note: If this subsection ceases to have effect in relation to an interest that is, according to the other provisions of this Division, an equity interest immediately after the cessation, an adjustment to the company's non-share capital account will occur at that time (see subsection 164-15(2)).

- (5) If, while subsection (4) applies to a *financing arrangement, a circumstance occurs that would otherwise have attracted the operation of subsection 974-110(1) or (2) in relation to the arrangement:
- (a) that subsection of section 974-110 does not apply to change the result that subsection (4) of this section produces in relation to the arrangement; but
  - (b) for the purpose of applying this Division in relation to the arrangement after subsection (4) of this section has ceased to have effect, that subsection of section 974-110 is taken to have produced the result that it would have produced if subsection (4) of this section had not applied to the arrangement.

Further exception for certain related party at call loans

- (6) In applying this Division in relation to a particular *scheme and a particular income year (which may be the income year in which the scheme is entered into or a later income year), the scheme is taken not to give rise to an equity interest in a company, and instead to give rise to a debt interest in the company, if:
- (a) the scheme takes the form of a loan to the company that satisfies paragraphs (4)(a), (b) and (c); and
  - (b) the company's *GST turnover (worked out at the end of the income year) is less than $20,000,000.

Note: If this subsection does not apply in relation to the previous income year or the next income year, and the scheme gives rise to an equity interest according to the other provisions of this Division, an adjustment to the company's non-share capital account will occur at the end of the previous income year or the start of the next income year (see subsections 164-15(2) and 164-20(3)).

- (7) For the purpose of paragraph (6)(b), the question whether a company's *GST turnover (worked out at the end of an income year) is less than $20,000,000 is to be determined in accordance with subsection 188-10(2) of the *GST Act, as if that amount of $20,000,000 were a turnover threshold for the purposes of that subsection of the GST Act.

974-80 Equity interest arising from arrangement funding return through connected entities

- (1) This section deals with the situation in which:
- (a) an interest carries a right to a variable or fixed return from a company; and
  - (b) the interest is held by a *connected entity of the company; and
  - (c) apart from this section, the interest would not be an *equity interest in the company; and
  - (ca) the *scheme that gives rise to the interest is a *financing arrangement for the company; and
  - (d) there is a scheme, or a series of schemes, designed to operate so that the return to the connected entity is to be used to fund (directly or indirectly) a return to another person (the ultimate recipient).
- (2) The interest is an equity interest in the company if:
- (a) the amount of the return to the ultimate recipient is in substance or effect *contingent on the economic performance (whether past, current or future) of:
    - (i) the company; or
    - (ii) a part of the company's activities; or
    - (iii) a *connected entity of the company or a part of the activities of a connected entity of the company; or
  - (b) either the right itself, or the amount of the return to the ultimate recipient, is at the discretion of:
    - (i) the company; or
    - (ii) a connected entity of the company; or
  - (c) the interest in respect of which the return to the ultimate recipient is made or another interest that arises from the scheme, or any of the schemes, referred to in paragraph (1)(d):
    - (i) gives the ultimate recipient (or a connected entity of the ultimate recipient) a right to be issued with an *equity interest in the company or a connected entity of the company; or

Section 974-80

---

- (ii) is an *interest that will, or may, convert into an equity interest in the company or a connected entity of the company; and if the interest does not form part of a larger interest that is characterised as a *debt interest in the entity in which it is held, or a *connected entity, under Subdivision 974-B. The return may be a return of an amount invested in the interest.

Note 1: Section 974-90 allows regulations to be made clarifying when a right or return is taken to be at the discretion of a company or connected entity.

Note 2: Paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) parallel items 2, 3 and 4 of the table in subsection 974-75(1).

Example: Company A, Company B1, Company B2 and Company B3 are connected entities.

Company B1 operates Trust Fund C. An interest in Trust Fund C is issued to person H and the return on that interest is contingent on the economic performance of Company A.

Trust Fund C lends the money paid by H for the purchase of the interest to Company B1 which lends the money to Company B2 which lends the money to Company B3 which lends the money to Company A.

Under the arrangements under which the interest is issued and the loans made, payments of interest by Company A on the loan that Company B3 makes to Company A are intended to pass back through Company B2 and Company B1 to fund the return on H's interest in Trust Fund C.

Under subsection (2), Company B3 will have an equity interest in Company A. If the return to Company B3 were itself contingent on Company A's performance, Company B3's interest would be an equity interest in Company A under item 2 of the table in subsection 974-75(1) (and not under subsection (2) of this section).

Company B2 has an equity interest in Company B3 and Company B1 has an equity interest in Company B2. This is because the returns they get are intended to fund the return on H's interest in Trust Fund C and that return is contingent on the economic performance of Company A (which is related to both Company B3 and Company B2).

- (3) The interest referred to in paragraph (1)(a) or (2)(c) may take the form of a proprietary right, a chose in action or any other form.

974-85 Right or return contingent on economic performance

- (1) A right, or the amount of a return, is not contingent on the economic performance of an entity, or a part of the entity's activities, merely because the right or return is contingent on:
  - (a) the ability or willingness of an entity to meet the obligation to satisfy the right to the return; or
  - (b) the receipts or turnover of the entity or the turnover generated by those activities.
- (2) The regulations may specify circumstances in which a right or return is to be taken to be contingent, or not contingent, on the economic performance of an entity or a part of an entity's activities.
- (3) The regulations may provide that paragraph (1)(b) does not apply in the circumstances specified in the regulations.
- (4) The regulations may provide that an interest that:
  - (a) is covered by item 2 in the table in subsection 974-75(1) or paragraph 974-80(2)(a); and
  - (b) arises in the circumstances specified in the regulations;is not an equity interest because of:
  - (c) the limited extent to which the right or return that the interest carries is *contingent on the economic performance of an entity or a part of the entity's activities; or
  - (d) the practical insignificance of the right or return that the interest carries being contingent on that performance.

974-90 Right or return at discretion of company or connected entity

The regulations may specify circumstances in which a right, or the amount of a return, is to be taken to be at the discretion of a company or a *connected entity of the company.

974-95 The equity interest

- (1) If a *scheme gives rise to an *equity interest in a company because of an item of the table in subsection 974-75(1), the equity interest consists of the interest referred to in that item.

---

Section 974-100

---

- (2) If 2 or more *related schemes give rise to an *equity interest in a company because of an item of the table in subsection 974-75(1), the equity interest consists of the combination of interests under the schemes that satisfy the requirements of that item.
- (3) Subsection 974-80(2) also provides that certain interests are *equity interests in a company.
- (4) If the returns on a *non-share equity interest in a company are payable to 2 or more entities:
  - (a) each entity is taken to be the holder of a non-share equity interest in the company; and
  - (b) each entity's non-share equity interest consists of the interests that:
    - (i) constitute the non-share equity interest; and
    - (ii) are held by that entity.
- (5) The company in which an *equity interest exists is taken to be the issuer of the interest.

- (1) If a *debt interest is an *interest that will or may convert into an *equity interest, the conversion is taken, for the purposes of this Division to give rise to a new interest (and is not treated merely as a continuation of the debt interest).
- (2) If an *equity interest is an *interest that will or may convert into a *debt interest, the conversion is taken, for the purposes of this Division to give rise to a new interest (and is not treated merely as a continuation of the equity interest).

974-105 Effect of action taken in relation to interest arising from related schemes

- (1) If:
- (a) a *scheme, or schemes, give rise to a *debt interest in an entity or an *equity interest in a company; and
  - (b) the entity or company pays a return, or undertakes any other transaction, in respect of any of the following (the component element):
    - (i) the scheme; or
    - (ii) a part of the scheme; or
    - (iii) one of those schemes; or
    - (iv) a part of one of those schemes;

then, for the purposes of the provisions that subsection (2) covers, the return is taken to be paid, or the transaction to have been undertaken, in respect of the debt interest or equity interest and not in respect of the component element.

Example: Company A issues a convertible note to Company B. Company C, a connected entity of Company B, provides a binding collateral undertaking to Company A that Company B will exercise the option to convert the note into shares in Company A. The convertible note and the undertaking are related schemes that may give rise to an equity interest in Company A if their combined effect satisfies section 974-70. If so, the returns on the note are taken to be returns in respect of the equity interest.

- (2) This subsection covers:
- (a) the provisions of this Division (other than this section); and
  - (b) any other provision of this Act whose operation depends on an expression whose meaning is given by this Division.

974-110 Effect of material change

Change to existing scheme—general rule

- (1) If:
- (a) a *scheme or schemes give rise to a *debt interest (or an *equity interest) in a company; and
  - (b) the scheme, or one or more of the schemes, are subsequently changed; and

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(c) the scheme or schemes as they exist immediately after the change would give rise to an equity interest (or a debt interest) in the company if they came into existence when the change occurred; and this Division applies after the change as if the scheme or schemes as they exist immediately after the change came into existence when the change occurred.

(d) subsection (1A) does not apply to the change;

Note 1: This will mean that the characterisation of the interest will change at that time.

Note 2: This section can apply to an interest a number of times so that, for example, an interest that is equity when issued may change to debt because of one subsequent change and then back to equity because of a later change.

Note 3: There will be an adjustment to the company's non-share capital account when the change occurs (see subsections 164-15(2) and 164-20(3)).

Change to existing scheme—special rule for changing a related party at call etc. loan to a private company from equity to debt

(1A) If:

- (a) a *scheme takes the form of a loan that satisfies paragraphs 974-75(4)(a), (b) and (c); and
- (b) the scheme gives rise to an *equity interest (disregarding the effect this subsection has on the characterisation of the interest because of the change referred to in paragraph (c) of this subsection); and
- (c) the scheme is subsequently changed; and
- (d) the change occurs in the period starting immediately after the end of a particular income year (the year of effect) and ending at the end of the earlier of the following days:
  - (i) the due date for lodgment of the company's *income tax return for the year of effect;
  - (ii) the date of lodgment of the company's income tax return for the year of effect; and
- (e) the scheme, as it exists immediately after the change, would give rise to a *debt interest in the company if the interest came into existence when the change occurred; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (f) the company is a *private company in relation to the year of effect; and
- (g) subsection 974-75(6) does not apply in relation to the loan and the year of effect; and
- (h) the company elects that this subsection is to apply to the change;

this Division applies as if the scheme, as it exists immediately after the change, had come into existence at the start of the year of effect, and as if no other change of a kind referred to in subsection (1) had occurred in relation to the interest in the period commencing at the start of the year of effect and ending when the first-mentioned change was made.

Note 1: This will mean that:

- (a) the characterisation of the interest will change, with effect back to the start of the year of effect; and
- (b) that characterisation will not be affected by other changes that occurred after the start of the year of effect and before the change to which this subsection applies.

Note 2: This section can apply to an interest a number of times so that, for example, an interest that is an equity interest when issued may change to debt because of one subsequent change and then back to equity because of a later change.

Note 3: An adjustment to the company's non-share capital account will be taken to have occurred at the start of the year of effect (see subsection 164-20(3)).

(1B) An election for the purposes of paragraph (1A)(h):

- (a) must be in writing; and
- (b) can only be made in the period referred to in paragraph (1A)(d); and
- (c) cannot be revoked.

Entering into a new related scheme

(2) If:

- (a) a *scheme or schemes give rise to a *debt interest (or an *equity interest) in a company; and
- (b) the company subsequently enters into, participates in or causes another entity to enter into or participate in a new *related scheme; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (c) the scheme or schemes, together with:
  - (i) the new related scheme; and
  - (ii) any other related scheme that the entity (or company) enters into, participates in or causes another entity to enter into or participate in before the new related scheme is entered into;would give rise to an equity interest (or a debt interest) in the company if they all came into existence when the new related scheme is entered into;

this Division applies after the new related scheme is entered into as if all the schemes referred to in paragraph (c) had come into existence when the new related scheme is entered into.

- Note 1: This will mean that the characterisation of the interest will change at that time.
- Note 2: This section can apply to an interest a number of times so that, for example, an interest that is equity when issued may change to debt because of one subsequent change and then back to equity because of a later change.
- Note 3: There will be an adjustment to the company's non-share capital account when the change occurs (see subsections 164-15(2) and 164-20(3)).

All prior changes to be taken into account

- (3) In applying paragraphs (1)(c), (1A)(e) and (2)(c) to the *scheme or schemes, take into account:
  - (a) all changes to the scheme or schemes that occur before the change or before the new related scheme is entered into; and
  - (b) all *related schemes entered into before the change or before the new related scheme is entered into; and
  - (c) all changes to related schemes referred to in paragraph (b) that occur before the change or before the new related scheme is entered into.

974-112 Determinations by Commissioner

Determinations covered by this section

- (1) This section covers a determination by the Commissioner under any of the following provisions:

---

- (a) subsection 974-15(4);
- (b) subsection 974-60(3), (4) or (5);
- (c) section 974-65;
- (d) subsection 974-70(4);
- (e) subsection 974-150(1).

Determination on own initiative or on application

- (2) The Commissioner may make a determination covered by this section:
  - (a) on his or her own initiative; or
  - (b) on an application made under subsection (3).

Application for determination

- (3) An entity may apply to the Commissioner for a determination covered by this section in relation to:
  - (a) an interest of which the entity is the issuer; or
  - (b) an interest of which the entity would be the issuer:
    - (i) if the determination were made; or
    - (ii) if the determination were not made.

Note: Paragraph (b) may apply, for example, if the effect of the determination applied for would be to allow, or to prevent, a number of related schemes giving rise to a debt interest or an equity interest.

- (4) The application:
  - (a) must be in writing; and
  - (b) must set out the grounds on which the applicant thinks the determination should be made; and
  - (c) must set out any information relevant to deciding whether to make the determination.

Review of determinations

- (5) A taxpayer who is dissatisfied with a determination covered by this section may object against the determination in the manner set out in Part IVC of the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

974-130 Financing arrangement

- (1) A *scheme is a financing arrangement for an entity if it is entered into or undertaken:
  - (a) to raise finance for the entity (or a *connected entity of the entity); or
  - (b) to fund another scheme, or a part of another scheme, that is a *financing arrangement under paragraph (a); or
  - (c) to fund a return, or a part of a return, payable under or provided by or under another scheme, or a part of another scheme, that is a financing arrangement under paragraph (a).
- (2) The following are examples of *schemes that are generally entered into or undertaken to raise finance:
  - (a) a bill of exchange;
  - (b) income securities;
  - (c) a *convertible interest that will convert into an *equity interest.

Note: Paragraph (a) is likely to be relevant for debt interests, paragraph (b) for equity interests and paragraph (c) for both.
- (3) The following are examples of *schemes that are generally not entered into or undertaken to raise finance:
  - (a) a derivative that is used solely for managing financial risk;
  - (b) a contract for personal services entered into in the ordinary course of a business.

Note: These may be relevant for both debt interests and equity interests.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (1), the following *schemes are taken not to be entered into or undertaken to raise finance:
  - (a) a lease or bailment that satisfies all of the following:
    - (i) the property leased or bailed is not property to which Division 16D of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment

---

Act 1936 (arrangements relating to the use of property) applies;

- (ii) the lease or bailment is not a relevant agreement for the purposes of section 128AC of that Act (deemed interest in respect of hire-purchase and certain other arrangements);
  - (iii) the lease or bailment is not an arrangement to which Division 42A in Schedule 2E to that Act (leasing of luxury cars) applies;
  - (iv) the lease or bailment is not an arrangement to which Division 240 of Part 3-10 of this Act (hire-purchase arrangements treated as a sale and loan) applies;
  - (v) the lessee or bailee, or a *connected entity of the lessee or bailee, is not to, and does not have an obligation (whether contingent or not) or a right to, acquire the leased or bailed property;
  - (vi) Division 250 of this Act does not apply to a person and the property leased or bailed;
- (b) a securities lending arrangement under section 26BC of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936;
  - (c) a life insurance or general insurance contract undertaken as part of the issuer's ordinary course of business;
  - (d) a scheme for the payment of royalties (within the meaning of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) other than:
    - (i) a qualifying arrangement for the purposes of Division 16D of Part III of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; or
    - (ii) a relevant agreement for the purposes of section 128AC of that Act; or
    - (iii) a scheme or arrangement for the payment of royalties in relation to an asset if Division 250 of this Act applies to a person and the asset.

(5) The regulations may:

- (a) specify that particular *schemes are not financing arrangements; and
- (b) specify circumstances in which a scheme will not be a financing arrangement.

974-135 Effectively non-contingent obligation

- (1) There is an effectively non-contingent obligation to take an action under a *scheme if, having regard to the pricing, terms and conditions of the scheme, there is in substance or effect a non-contingent obligation (see subsections (3), (4) and (6)) to take that action.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), that subsection applies to:
  - (a) providing a *financial benefit under the *scheme; or
  - (b) terminating the scheme.
- (3) An obligation is non-contingent if it is not contingent on any event, condition or situation (including the economic performance of the entity having the obligation or a *connected entity of that entity), other than the ability or willingness of that entity or connected entity to meet the obligation.
- (4) The existence of the right of the holder of an *interest that will or may convert into an *equity interest in a company to convert the interest does not of itself make the issuer's obligation to repay the investment not non-contingent.
- (5) An obligation to redeem a preference share is not contingent merely because there is a legislative requirement for the redemption amount to be met out of profits or a fresh issue of *equity interests.
- (6) In determining whether there is in substance or effect a non-contingent obligation to take the action, have regard to the artificiality, or the contrived nature, of any contingency on which the obligation to take the action depends.

Note: The artificiality, or the contrived nature, of a contingency would tend to indicate that there is, in substance or effect, a non-contingent obligation to take that action.

- (7) An obligation of yours is not effectively non-contingent merely because you will suffer some detrimental practical or commercial consequences if you do not fulfil the obligation.

Note: For example, a contingent obligation to make payments in respect of an income security issued by an approved deposit-taking institution

Section 974-140

---

(ADI) is not effectively non-contingent merely because of the detrimental effect non-payment would have on the ADI's business.

- (8) The regulations may make further provisions relating to the following:
- (a) what constitutes a non-contingent obligation;
  - (b) what does not constitute a non-contingent obligation;
  - (c) what constitutes an *effectively non-contingent obligation;
  - (d) what does not constitute an effectively non-contingent obligation.

974-140 Ordinary debt interest

- (1) A *debt interest arising from a scheme is an ordinary debt interest if none of the obligations under the scheme is in substance or effect *contingent on the economic performance of:
- (a) the issuer of the interest; or
  - (b) a *connected entity; or
  - (c) a part of the operations of the issuer or a connected entity.
- (2) The regulations may specify rules for determining whether a *debt interest is an *ordinary debt interest.

974-145 Benchmark rate of return

- (1) The benchmark rate of return for an interest (the test interest) in an entity is the annually compounded internal rate of return on an *ordinary debt interest that:
- (a) is issued, immediately before the test interest is issued, by the entity, or an equivalent entity, to an entity that is not a *connected entity; and
  - (b) has a comparable maturity date; and
  - (c) is in the same currency; and
  - (d) is issued in the same market; and
  - (e) has the same credit status; and
  - (f) has the same degree of subordination to debts owed to the ordinary creditors of the issuer.

---

---

- (2) If there is no interest that satisfies subsection (1), the benchmark rate of return for the test interest is the annually compounded internal rate of return on an interest that is closest to the test interest in the respects referred to in that subsection (adjusted appropriately to take account of the differences between that interest and the test interest).
- (3) The regulations may:
  - (a) specify the meaning to be given to an expression used in this section; or
  - (b) provide for a different method of determining the *benchmark rate of return.

974-150 Schemes

- (1) The Commissioner:
  - (a) may determine that what would otherwise be a single *scheme is to be treated for the purposes of this Division as 2 or more separate schemes; and
  - (b) may determine that the schemes are to be taken for the purposes of this Division to not be *related schemes.
- (2) Without limiting subsection 974-10(5), the Commissioner must, in exercising the power to make a determination under subsection (2), have regard to the following:
  - (a) the purpose of the *scheme (considered both as a whole and in terms of its individual components);
  - (b) the effects of the scheme and each of its components (considered both as a whole and in terms of its individual components);
  - (c) the rights and obligations of the parties to the scheme (considered both as a whole and in relation to its individual components);
  - (d) whether the scheme (when considered as a whole or in terms of its individual components) provides the basis for, or underpins, an interest issued to investors with the expectation that the interest can be assigned to other investors;
  - (e) whether the scheme (when considered as a whole or in terms of its individual components) comprises a set of rights and

- obligations issued to investors with the expectation that it can be assigned to other investors;
- (f) any other relevant circumstances.
- (3) The regulations:
- (a) may provide that, in the circumstances specified in the regulations, what would otherwise be a single *scheme is to be treated for the purposes of this Division as 2 or more separate schemes; and
- (b) may provide that the schemes are to be taken for the purposes of this Division to not be *related schemes.

974-155 Related schemes

- (1) Subject to subsection (3), 2 *schemes are related to one another if they are related to one another in any way.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), 2 *schemes are related to each other if:
- (a) the schemes are based on stapled instruments; or
- (b) one of the schemes would, from a commercial point of view, be unlikely to be entered into unless the other scheme was entered into; or
- (c) one of the schemes depends for its effect on the operation of the other scheme; or
- (d) one scheme complements or supplements the other; or
- (e) there is another scheme to which both the schemes are related because of a previous application or applications of this subsection.
- (3) Two *schemes are not related to one another merely because:
- (a) one refers to the other; or
- (b) they have a common party.
- (4) The regulations may specify circumstances in which 2 *schemes:
- (a) are taken to be related to one another; or
- (b) are taken not to be related to one another.

974-160 Financial benefit

(1) In this Act:

financial benefit:

- (a) means anything of economic value; and
  - (b) includes property and services; and
  - (c) includes anything that regulations made for the purposes of subsection (3) provide is a financial benefit; even if the transaction that confers the benefit on an entity also imposes an obligation on the entity.
- (2) In applying subsection (1), benefits and obligations are to be looked at separately and not set off against each other.
- (3) The regulations may provide that a thing specified in the regulations is a financial benefit for the purposes of this Act.

974-165 Convertible and converting interests

An interest (the first interest) is an interest that will or may convert into another interest (the second interest) if:

- (a) the first interest, or a part of the first interest, must be or may be converted into the second interest; or
- (b) the first interest, or a part of the first interest, must be or may be redeemed, repaid or satisfied by:
  - (i) the issue or transfer of the second interest (whether to the holder of the first interest or to some other person); or
  - (ii) the acquisition of the second interest (whether by the holder of the first interest or by some other person); or
  - (iii) the application in or towards paying-up (in whole or in part) the balance unpaid on the second interest (whether the second interest is to be issued to the holder of the first interest or to some other person); or
- (c) the holder of the first interest has, or is to have, a right or option to have allotted or transferred to the holder or to some other person, or for the holder or some other person otherwise to acquire:

- 975-155 When is an entity a controller (for CGT purposes) of a company?
- 975-160 When an entity has an associate-inclusive control interest

975-150 *Position to affect rights in relation to a company

- (1) A person is in a position to affect rights of a company in relation to another company if the person has a right, power or option:
  - (a) to acquire those rights from one or other of those companies;
or
  - (b) to do something that would prevent one or other of those companies from exercising its rights for its own benefit, or from receiving any benefit arising from having those rights.
- (2) It does not matter whether the person has the right, power or option because of the *constitution of one or other of those companies, any agreement or otherwise.
- (3) However, the right, power or option of an owner of *ownership interests in the *head entity of a *demerger group to *acquire, under a *demerger, ownership interests in the *demerged entity is not a right, power or option covered by subsection (1).

---

975-155 When is an entity a controller (for CGT purposes) of a company?

An entity (the first entity) is a controller (for CGT purposes) of a company if:

- (a) the first entity has an *associate-inclusive control interest in the company of at least 50%; or
- (b) the first entity has an associate-inclusive control interest in the company of at least 40% and entities other than the first entity or associates of the first entity do not control the company; or
- (c) the first entity controls the company (alone or with an *associate).

975-160 When an entity has an associate-inclusive control interest

- (1) An entity has an associate-inclusive control interest in a company in the circumstances set out in Subdivision A of Division 3 of Part X of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936.
- (2) However, in working out whether an entity has an associate-inclusive control interest of a particular percentage for the purposes of section 975-155, there are these modifications to the way Part X of that Act operates:
  - (a) that Part is applied to any company, including one acting as a trustee; and
  - (b) subsection 349(4) applies in all cases in working out which entity holds a direct control interest or a control tracing interest equal to 100%; and
  - (c) subsections 350(6) and (7) and 355(1) are ignored; and
  - (d) despite subsection 352(2), an interposed entity may be taken into account in calculating an indirect control interest if the interposed entity is:
    - (i) a company of which the first entity or an *associate is a controller; or
    - (ii) a partnership or a trust; and
  - (e) section 354 applies as if it referred to partnerships rather than CFP's; and

---

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

(f) section 355 applies as if it referred to trusts rather than CFT's.

- Note 1: Part X of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 defines company to exclude a company in the capacity of a trustee.
- Note 2: The terms direct control interest and control tracing interest are relevant to working out associate-inclusive control interests in a company: see sections 350, 351, 353, 354 and 355 of that Act.
- Note 3: Under subsection 349(4) of that Act, if 2 or more entities would have a direct control interest or a control tracing interest in a company or trust equal to 100%, only one of them holds the interest.
- Note 4: Subsections 350(6) and (7) of that Act deal with direct control interests in a company. They deal with interests held by Australian entities. Under subsection 355(1), certain entities are taken to hold a control tracing interest in a trust equal to 100%.
- Note 5: Paragraphs (2)(d), (e) and (f) of this section are necessary because Part X of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 applies only to CFE's (which comprise CFC's, CFP's and CFT's).

Subdivision 975-G—What is a company's share capital account?

Table of sections

975-300 Meaning of share capital account

975-300 Meaning of *share capital account

- (1) A company's share capital account is:
- (a) an account that the company keeps of its share capital; or
  - (b) any other account (whether or not called a share capital account) that satisfies the following conditions:
    - (i) the account was created on or after 1 July 1998;
    - (ii) the first amount credited to the account was an amount of share capital.
- (2) If a company has more than one account covered by subsection (1), the accounts are taken, for the purposes of this Act, to be a single account.

Note: Because the accounts are taken to be a single account (the combined share capital account), tainting of any of the accounts has the effect of tainting the combined share capital account.

*To find definitions of asterisked terms, see the Dictionary, starting at section 995-1.

- (3) However, if a company's *share capital account is *tainted, that account is taken not to be a share capital account for the purposes this Act, other than:
- (a) subsection 118-20(6); and
  - (b) Division 197; and
  - (ba) paragraph 202-45(e); and
  - (c) the definition of paid-up share capital in subsection 6(1) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; and
  - (d) subsection 44(1B) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936; and

4 Amendment of assessments

Section 170 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 does not prevent the amendment of an assessment made before the commencement of this section for the purposes of giving effect to this Act.

Schedule 1

21 Application

The amendments made by this Schedule apply to expenditure on software after 10 am by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory on 11 May 1998.

22 Transitional—projects commenced before 11 May 1998

You can deduct expenditure on software that you incur before 1 July 1999 and that you could otherwise deduct under Subdivision 46-B or 46-D of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 if, at or before 10 am by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory on 11 May 1998:

- (a) you entered into a contract to acquire the software; or
- (b) you commenced the development of the software for your own use; or
- (c) you commissioned another entity to develop the software for your own use; to the extent that you use, or intend to use, the software for the purpose of producing assessable income.

Note: Under this item you can deduct the expenditure for the year in which you incur it, instead of having to write it off gradually under Subdivision 46-B or 46-D.

Table A*23 Transitional—backdating software pool to 11 May 1998

When making a choice under section 46-80 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 for the first income year beginning after 11 May 1998, you may elect that the choice be treated as also applying to any expenditure on software incurred after 10 am by legal time in the Australian Capital Territory on 11 May 1998 but before that income year begins.

Note 1: You will get section 46-90 deductions for that expenditure one year earlier than any deductions you will get for expenditure incurred in that later income year. This is because the timing of section 46-90 deductions depends on the income year in which you incurred the expenditure (not on when you made the choice).

Note 2: If it were not for this item, the choice could not apply to expenditure incurred before the beginning of the income year in which the choice is made: see paragraph 46-85(b).

24 Transitional—revoking software pool choice

- (1) When lodging your return for the second income year beginning after 11 May 1998, you may revoke a previous choice that you made to create a software pool under section 46-80 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.
- (2) You may do so whether or not you also made an election under item 23 of this Schedule when you made that choice.
- (3) If you revoke the choice, no expenditure on software for that second income year or any later income year goes into your software pool. But any expenditure from before that second income year remains in your software pool unaffected by the revocation.
- (4) You can never revoke the revocation, or make a fresh choice under section 46-80.

- (1) The amendments of Division 170 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 made by this Schedule apply in relation to a company for each of its:
- (a) income years starting after 30 June 2003; and
  - (b) non-membership periods (if any) under section 701-30 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 starting after 30 June 2003.
- (2) This item does not apply in relation to a company to which item 38 applies.

38 Different application for members of certain groups

- (1) This item applies to a company if:
- (a) the company becomes a member of a consolidated group or MEC group on the day (the consolidation day) the group comes into existence; and
  - (b) the consolidation day either is before 1 July 2003 or is both:

- (a) income years starting on or after the consolidation day; and
  - (b) non-membership periods (if any) under section 701-30 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 starting on or after the consolidation day.

39 Transfer for final income year before amendments apply

- (1) In this item:
- apportioning day* of a company means:
- (a) if item 37 applies to the company—1 July 2003; or
  - (b) if item 38 applies to the company—the consolidation day.

Application

- (2) This item applies to these transfers under Subdivision 170-A or 170-B of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 involving a company:
- (a) a transfer by the company of a loss it made for the income year (the final year) just before the first income year for which the amendments of those Subdivisions by this Schedule apply to the company;
  - (b) a transfer to the company for the final year of a loss made for that income year or an earlier income year.

However, this item does not apply to a transfer involving companies that would satisfy either subsections 170-30(3) and (4) or 170-130(3) and (4) of that Act (as amended by this Schedule) if those subsections applied for the final year.

Object

- (3) The main object of this item is to ensure that the company can either:
- (a) transfer a loss it makes for the final year only so far as the loss is attributable to so much of the final year as occurs before its apportioning day; or
  - (b) utilise a loss transferred to it to reduce income or gains for the final year only so far as the income or gains are attributable to so much of the final year as occurs before its apportioning day.

Apportioning limit on transferring company's loss for final year

- (4) Despite section 170-45 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, the amount of a tax loss made for the final year by the company that can be transferred cannot exceed the amount worked out using the formula:

Table A

$$\text{Limit on transferring the tax loss set by subsection 170-45(1) of that Act} \times \frac{\text{Number of days in the company's final year before its apportioning day}}{\text{Number of days in the company's final year}}$$

Note: If the company's final year ends just before its apportioning day, this subitem does not reduce the amount of the tax loss the company can transfer.

(5) Despite section 170-145 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, a net capital loss made for the final year by the company:

- (a) can be transferred only if the sum of the capital losses made by the company during the final year before its apportioning day exceeds the sum of the capital gains made by the company during the final year before its apportioning day; and
- (b) cannot be transferred to an extent greater than that excess.

Note: If the company's final year ends just before its apportioning day, this subitem does not reduce the amount of the net capital loss the company can transfer.

Apportioning limit based on transferee company's income or gains for final year

(6) Despite section 170-45 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, the amount of a tax loss (for the final year or an earlier income year) that can be transferred to the company for the final year cannot exceed the amount worked out using the formula:

$$\text{Limit on transferring the loss set by whichever of subsections 170-45(2) and (3) of that Act applies} \times \frac{\text{Number of days in the company's final year before its apportioning day}}{\text{Number of days in the company's final year}}$$

Note: If the company's final year ends just before its apportioning day, this subitem does not reduce the amount of the tax loss that can be transferred to the company.

(7) Despite section 170-145 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, a net capital loss (for the final year or an earlier income year) can be transferred to the company for the final year:

- (a) only if the company would have had a net capital gain for the final year apart from that section had the final year ended on the day before the company's apportioning day; and
- (b) only to the extent to which it could have been transferred consistently with subsection 170-145(6) of that Act if the result of step 1 of the method statement had been the amount of the company's net capital gain worked out on the basis described in paragraph (a) of this subitem.

Note: If the company's final year ends just before its apportioning day, this subitem does not reduce the amount of the net capital loss that can be transferred to the company.

Transfer not prevented by transferor joining consolidated group

- (8) Subsections 170-45(1) and 170-145(1) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 apply in relation to a transfer from a company (whether or not it is the company mentioned in subitem (4) or (5)) that becomes a member of a consolidated group or MEC group as if the fact that the company becomes such a member does not affect its ability to carry forward losses for the final year or an earlier income year.

Application to non-membership periods less than a year

- (9) If, under section 701-30 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, the company has a non-membership period that ends just before the company first becomes a subsidiary member of a consolidated group or MEC group, Subdivisions 170-A and 170-B of that Act and subitems (3) to (8) (inclusive) apply in relation to the period as if it were the final year.
- (10) To avoid doubt, section 701-30 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 does not prevent a company from transferring under Subdivision 170-A or 170-B of that Act (applying as described in subitem (9)) a non-membership period loss described in that section for the non-membership period mentioned in that subitem.

Except as mentioned in items 2 and 3, the repeals and amendments made by Schedules 1 and 2 apply:

- (a) so far as they affect assessments—to assessments for the 2006-07 income year and all later income years; and
- (b) otherwise—to acts done or omitted to be done, or states of affairs existing, after the commencement of the repeals and amendments.

4 Application of Schedule 3 and 4 amendments

The repeals and amendments made by Schedules 3 and 4 apply:

- (a) so far as they affect assessments—to assessments for the 2007-08 income year and all later income years; and
- (b) otherwise—to acts done or omitted to be done, or states of affairs existing, after the commencement of the amendments.

---

5 Application of Schedule 5 amendments

The repeals and amendments made by Schedule 5 apply to acts done or omitted to be done, or states of affairs existing, after the commencement of the amendments.

6 Object

The object of this Part is to ensure that, despite the repeals and amendments made by this Act, the full legal and administrative consequences of:

- (a) any act done or omitted to be done; or
- (b) any state of affairs existing; or
- (c) any period ending;

before such a repeal or amendment applies, can continue to arise and be carried out, directly or indirectly through an indefinite number of steps, even if some or all of those steps are taken after the repeal or amendment applies.

7 Making and amending assessments, and doing other things, in relation to past matters

Even though an Act is repealed or amended by this Act, the repeal or amendment is disregarded for the purpose of doing any of the following under any Act or legislative instrument (within the meaning of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003):

- (a) making or amending an assessment (including under a provision that is itself repealed or amended);
- (b) exercising any right or power, performing any obligation or duty or doing any other thing (including under a provision that is itself repealed or amended);

in relation to any act done or omitted to be done, any state of affairs existing, or any period ending, before the repeal or amendment applies.

Example 1: On 31 July 1999, Greg Ltd lodged its annual return under former section 160ARE of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936. The return stated that the company had a credit on its franking account and that no franking deficit tax was payable for the 1998-99 franking year. Under former section 160ARH of that Act, the Commissioner was taken to have made an assessment consistent with the return.

Following an audit undertaken after the repeal of Part IIIAA of that Act, the Commissioner concludes that Greg Ltd fraudulently overfranked dividends it paid during the 1998-99 franking year, and had a franking account deficit for that franking year. As a result, the

Commissioner considers that franking deficit tax and a penalty by way of additional tax are payable.

The Commissioner can amend the assessment under former section 160ARN of that Act, because item 7 of this Schedule disregards the repeal of that section for the purposes of making an assessment in relation to the 1998-99 franking year. Item 7 will also disregard the repeal of Division 11 of former Part IIIAA to the extent necessary for the Commissioner to assess Greg Ltd's liability to a penalty by way of additional tax.

Despite the repeal of sections 160ARU and 160ARV, item 9 will ensure that the general interest charge will accrue on the unpaid franking deficit tax and penalty until they are paid.

Item 7 will also preserve Greg Ltd's right, under former section 160ART of that Act, to object against the Commissioner's amended assessment (including the penalty), since the objection is the exercise of a right in relation to a franking year that ended before the repeal of Part IIIAA.

Example 2: During the 1997-98 income year, Duffy Property Ltd withheld amounts from its employees' wages as required by former Divisions 1AAA and 2 of Part VI of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936. The company failed to notify the Commissioner of those amounts, and failed to remit them to the Commissioner.

Following an audit undertaken after the repeal of those Divisions, the Commissioner discovers that the withheld amounts have not been remitted. The company's records are incomplete and the Commissioner is unable to completely ascertain the extent of its liability for the withheld amounts. Under section 222AGA of that Act, the Commissioner makes an estimate of the liability.

Item 7 will disregard the repeal of section 220AAZA of that Act (which empowered the Commissioner to recover the amount of the estimate). Even though the estimate is made after the repeal, it relates to amounts withheld before the repeal.

8 Saving of provisions about effect of assessments

If a provision or part of a provision that is repealed or amended by this Act deals with the effect of an assessment, the repeal or amendment is disregarded in relation to assessments made, before or after the repeal or amendment applies, in relation to any act done or omitted to be done, any state of affairs existing, or any period ending, before the repeal or amendment applies.

---

9 Saving of provisions about general interest charge, failure to notify penalty or late reconciliation statement penalty

If:

- (a) a provision or part of a provision that is repealed or amended by this Act provides for the payment of:
  - (i) general interest charge, failure to notify penalty or late reconciliation statement penalty (all within the meaning of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936); or
  - (ii) interest under the Taxation (Interest on Overpayments and Early Payments) Act 1983; and
- (b) in a particular case, the period in respect of which the charge, penalty or interest is payable (whether under the provision or under the Taxation Administration Act 1953) has not begun, or has begun but not ended, when the provision is repealed or amended;

then, despite the repeal or amendment, the provision or part continues to apply in the particular case until the end of the period.

10 Repeals disregarded for the purposes of dependent provisions

If the operation of a provision (the subject provision) of any Act or legislative instrument (within the meaning of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003) made under any Act depends to any extent on an Act, or a provision of an Act, that is repealed by this Act, the repeal is disregarded so far as it affects the operation of the subject provision.

- (1) The amendments made by items 179 to 181 apply in relation to income years starting one year later than the first income year (the transitional year) covered by item 222.

Table A

- (2) Section 802-40 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 has effect in relation to the transitional year as if section 160AF of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 had not been repealed.

225 Object

The object of this Part is to ensure that, despite the repeals and amendments made by this Act, the full legal and administrative consequences of:

- (a) any act done or omitted to be done; or
- (b) any state of affairs existing; or
- (c) any period ending;

before such a repeal or amendment applies, can continue to arise and be carried out, directly or indirectly through an indefinite number of steps, even if some or all of those steps are taken after the repeal or amendment applies.

226 Making and amending assessments, and doing other things, in relation to past matters

Even though an Act is repealed or amended by this Act, the repeal or amendment is disregarded for the purpose of doing any of the following under any Act or legislative instrument (within the meaning of the Legislative Instruments Act 2003):

- (a) making or amending an assessment (including under a provision that is itself repealed or amended);
- (b) exercising any right or power, performing any obligation or duty or doing any other thing (including under a provision that is itself repealed or amended);

in relation to any act done or omitted to be done, any state of affairs existing, or any period ending, before the repeal or amendment applies.

Example: For the 2006-07 income year, Smart Investor Pty Ltd, an Australian resident private investment company, has assessable foreign income in the passive income class on which it has paid foreign tax for which it wishes to claim a foreign tax credit. The company also has a tax loss for the year from its Australian investments. When it lodges its tax return for the year it does not elect to claim a deduction for any of the tax loss under section 79DA of the ITAA 1936, because the Australian tax payable on its passive foreign income equals the foreign tax it has paid.

In 2009 the amount of foreign tax payable in respect of some foreign rental income it had included in its return for the 2006-07 year is reduced and Smart Investor receives a refund of the difference in foreign tax. Smart Investor Pty Ltd then applies to be able to make an election under section 79DA, that is, after the Tax Laws Amendment (2007 Measures No. 4) Act 2007 (which repeals section 79DA) receives Royal Assent. The Commissioner allows Smart Investor to submit an election to claim a deduction for so much of its 2006-07 tax loss as to reduce the amount of Australian tax payable on its 2006-07 assessable foreign income to the revised foreign tax paid, by the end of 2009.

Despite the repeal of section 79DA, item 226 allows the Commissioner to permit an election to be lodged after the return for 2006-07 has been lodged, and to amend Smart Investor's assessment for that year, because these actions relate to a thing done, and periods ending, before the repeal of section 79DA applies.

    - (a) in any case—all of the financial arrangements that you start to have in the income year in which the election is made or a later income year; or
    - (b) if you make the election at the same time as you make the election under subitem (2)—all of your financial arrangements to which the financial arrangements amendments apply.
  - (7) If you make an election under subitem (2), treat section 230-150 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 as allowing you to make an election under that section that, despite paragraph 230-160(1)(b), applies to a financial arrangement that:

- (11) To avoid doubt, the election referred to in subitem (8) or (9) applies to the financial arrangements referred to in subitem (2) even though you started to have the arrangements before the election is made.
- (12) If you make an election under subitem (2), balancing adjustments must be made under subitem (13).
- (13) Use the following method statement to make the balancing adjustments under this subitem:

Balancing adjustment method statement

Step 1. Work out the total of all the amounts that relate to the financial arrangements and that would have been included in your assessable income if Division 230 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 had applied to gains and losses from the arrangements from the time when you started to have them: the result is the notional assessable amount.

Table A

Step 2.	Work out the total of all the amounts that relate to the financial arrangements and that would have been allowable to you as deductions if that Division had applied to gains and losses from the arrangements from the time when you started to have them: the result is the notional deductible amount .
Step 3.	Work out the total of all the amounts that relate to the financial arrangements and have been included in your assessable income from the time when you started to have them: the result is the actual assessed amount .
Step 4.	Work out the total of all the amounts that relate to the financial arrangements and that have been allowable as deductions for you from the time when you started to have them: the result is the actual deducted amount .
Step 5.	Add the notional assessable amount to the actual deducted amount: the result is the step 5 amount .
Step 6.	Add the actual assessed amount to the notional deductible amount: the result is the step 6 amount .
Step 7.	Compare the step 5 amount with the step 6 amount. If the step 5 amount exceeds the step 6 amount, the excess is included in your assessable income as a balancing adjustment. If the step 6 amount exceeds the step 5 amount, the excess is allowable as a deduction as a balancing adjustment. If the step 5 amount and the step 6 amount are equal there is no balancing adjustment.

(14) If:

- (a) an amount is recorded in a deferred tax asset account in accordance with:
  - (i) accounting standard AASB 112 (or another accounting standard prescribed by the regulations for the purposes of this paragraph); or
  - (ii) if that standard does not apply to the preparation of your financial reports—a comparable accounting standard that applies to the preparation of your financial reports under a foreign law;

immediately before the start of the first applicable income year; and

- (b) the whole or a part of that amount (the attributable assessable amount) is attributable to a financial arrangement referred to in subitem (2); and the following provisions have effect:
- (c) the method of relying on financial reports provided for in Subdivision 230-F applies to take account of a gain or loss you make from the financial arrangement;

- (d) the financial arrangement is to be disregarded for the purposes of steps 1 to 4 of the method statement in subitem (13); and
- (e) the attributable assessable amount is to be reduced to the extent to which it represents unused tax credits and then grossed up under subitem (16); and
- (f) the step 6 amount is to be increased by the amount obtained under paragraph (e).

(15) If:

- (a) an amount is recorded in a deferred tax liability account in accordance with:
  - (i) accounting standard AASB 112 (or another accounting standard prescribed by the regulations for the purposes of this paragraph); or
  - (ii) if that standard does not apply to the preparation of your financial reports—a comparable accounting standard that applies to the preparation of your financial reports under a foreign law;

immediately before the start of the first applicable income year; and

- (b) the whole or a part of that amount (the attributable deductible amount) is attributable to a financial arrangement referred to in subitem (2); and the following provisions have effect:
- (c) the method of relying on financial reports provided for in Subdivision 230-F applies to take account of a gain or loss you make from the financial arrangement;

- (d) the financial arrangement is to be disregarded for the purposes of steps 1 to 4 of the method statement in subitem (13);

Table A

- (e) the attributable deductible amount is to be reduced to the extent to which it represents unused tax credits and then grossed up under subitem (16);
- (f) the step 5 amount is to be increased by the amount obtained under paragraph (e).
- (16) An amount is to be grossed up for the purposes of subitems (14) and (15) by multiplying the amount by:

$$\frac{1}{\text{Tax rate taken into account in working out the attributable assessable amount or attributable deductible amount}}$$

- (17) A balancing adjustment under subitem (13) is to be spread evenly over the first applicable income year and the next 3 income years.
- (18) In applying steps 1 and 2 in the method statement in subitem (13) to financial arrangements, assume that any election that extends to the arrangements under subitem (6) had applied to those financial arrangements from the time when you started to have them.
- (19) In applying section 121EH of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, disregard any balancing adjustment under subitem (13).

105 Application of financial arrangement amendments (arrangements that are not financial arrangements)

- (1) Subject to this item, item 104 applies to arrangements that are not financial arrangements in the same way that it applies to financial arrangements.
- (2) However, the method statement in subitem 104(13) applies to arrangements that are not financial arrangements in accordance with subitem (1) of this item as if:
- (a) the reference in step 1 of that method statement to “Division 230 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997” were a reference to “Subdivision 775-F of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997”; and
